WASHINGTON, April 2.—One hundred and fifty women suffragists assembled in the ladies' reception room of the Senate at 10 o'clock this morning, where they were given audience by the Senate Committee on Woman Suffrage. Miss Anthony, Mrs. Stanton, Mrs. Shattuck, Mrs. Grote of Norway, Miss Trigg of Finland, Mrs. Chant of England, Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, Mrs. Merrick of Louisiana, Mrs. Keeler of Toronto and Miss Willard in turn addressed the committee in favor of woman suffrage. The remarks were stenographically reported and will probably be presented as a public document for distribution.

HAMILTON'S LABOR TROUBLE.

Little Change in the Situation—The Hilton Liquor Case—Reception of Fame.

HAMILTON, April 2.—The Exchange does not meet until Tuesday to take into consideration the resolution passed at the meeting on Saturday, in reference to the lockout of union men. In the meantime there is little change in the situation. A number of union bricklayers commenced work on two or three jobs this morning. They propose doing the work themselves and employing union laborers. There may be some difficulty in securing material, but the men think they will have no trouble about that. A notice has been forwarded to some of the dealers in builders' material that if they supply these men they will lose the patronage of the members of the Builders' Association. A prominent contractor said to-day: "We do not want to keep the union carpenters, plasterers, tinsmiths, painters and glaziers out of work. When we suspended them we believed that they were federated and bound to support the laborers if the Trades Council so ordered it. Now, as soon as the members of these unions prove to us that they will not support the laborers, they will be allowed to return to work."

The charge against James Miller for a breach of the Liquor Licenses Act was investigated at the Police Court this morning. Miller had a contract to supply the hospital with liquor and it is claimed by the prosecution that he has delivered whisky since his license expired, while he asserts that another firm has been doing the business and he has simply been acting as their agent. The Magistrate took the case under advisement until Thursday.

At St. Joseph's Convent this morning three sisters, having completed their novitiate, made their final vows: Sister Mary Anna (Miss Hartel, Sister Mary Cuthbert (Miss E. Foster), Sister Mary Louise (Miss M. Malone). Sister Mary Bride (Miss E. Cleary) of Hamilton, and Sister Mary St. Thomas (Miss E. Flanigan), Dundas.

John Brass was at the Police Court this morning charged with stealing, about six weeks ago, a number of carpenter's tools belonging to John Mills. After the tools, which were found in Wright's shop, had been identified, and Wright had sworn that Brass sold them to him, Feb. 15, for 60 cents, the case was adjourned.

During March there were 207 births, 56 marriages and 55 deaths in the city, as against 117 births, 19 marriages and 62 deaths in March, 1887.

The ball and supper of the employes of The Times Printing Company took place in the new building this evening, and was largely attended.

Fire in The New York Tribune Building.

NEW YORK, April 2.—At 5 o'clock Sunday morning fire was discovered in the city editor's room of The New York Tribune. Not ten minutes before the night city editor and his assistants had left the room without being conscious of a fire beneath them. In less than half an hour after they had gone the room was a ruin, together with half of the reporters' room, which adjoined it. Every combustible was burned up, including the desks of the city editor and his assistants, the desks of several reporters, the letter boxes in which was standing the mail of the whole city staff, and an oil portrait of Horace Greeley. The financial loss was not, of course, heavy, but the inconvenience caused by the destruction of property of no value except in a newspaper office can hardly be estimated. This property included the "blotters," "assignment books," records and library of the city editor, numberless blue pencils, pens, paper, letters from a "Constant Reader," "Subscriber," and other cranks; free passes over the railroads; invitations to banquets and balls; poems on Spring; bottles of ink and mucilage; scissors, revolvers and the manuscripts of an exclusive story giving the original and only solution of the Keely motor.

Immigrants For the Northwest.

MONTREAL, April 2.—The tide of immigration to Manitoba, the Northwest and British Columbia is heavy this spring, and promises to surpass all previous records. The boom is on now. Last Tuesday 500 immigrants arrived by the Parisian. Of these 300 went straight through to the Northwest, the balance going to Ontario. Of the whole 500, only forty were destined for American points. On Thursday night there arrived at Boston, via Beaver line, 120 Belgian farmers, all destined for the Canadian Northwest. These immigrants are all of very industrious habits and desirable in every way. Four hundred and fifty immigrants arrive to-morrow via steamship Sarnia, and of these perhaps one-half will take up farms in Ontario, the balance going through to Manitoba. It is estimated that fully 3000 farmers are leaving Ontario this spring for the Northwest, and a large number are going through to British Columbia. The vacancies caused by this minor begins from Ontario are at once filled by new comers.

Sorry He Went.

HAMILTON, April 2.—Quite a little colony of Hamilton people, including a number of young mechanics, are now in Los Angeles, Cal., waiting to get rich in that glorious climate. When they went out last fall they wrote back glowing letters about the plentitude of work, gloriousness of the aforesaid glorious climate and other things. A gentleman in the city got another letter from one of them to-day. The writer has been down for five weeks with fever and ague, which dropped in while the glorious climate was off on its winter vacation. He now finds himself, in company with a number of other Hamilton mechanics, out of work, wages away down, land been busted and the city full of smallpox, thirty-two cases being in the pest house. He says 1200 tradesmen left last week, and the exodus appears to be setting backward.

An Ottawa Elopement.

OTTAWA, April 2.—Ottawa has a small-sized Easter elopement. Detective Montgomery was around early to-day looking for a young girl named Josephine O'Farrell, aged 15, daughter of the keeper of the Geographical Museum. The father says that this morning about 3 o'clock his daughter eloped with a young man named John Shea, and he is almost distracted over the affair. Shea is about 23, and is employed as proofreader on a daily paper. He had been fired by the old man from around the house. The girl left a letter for her father stating that she felt Shea had been badly treated. She loved him, and had decided to go and stay at a friend's house in Lower Town. At all events the pair are not to be found, and the police say they went to Prescott. It is rumored, however, that they have gone to Toronto.

Murdered His Wife.

NEW YORK, March 30.—Cobden Robinson, a negro 30 years old, murdered his wife Sarah at their home on Grove-street early this morning. He cut her throat with a razor in a fit of frenzy and tried to murder his wife's sister, Lizzie Whitehurst. Robinson is jailed.

THE RALEIGH BOODLERS.

FOUR OFFICIALS COME TO TORONTO AFTER THEM.

Crem and White were Prominent in Social and Church Circles—The Teenager Led the Elder Astray—Papers Ready for Extradition—The Extent of the Swindle.

TORONTO, April 3.

Mr. F. H. Busbee, United States District Attorney for the Eastern District of North Carolina; Chief of Police C. D. Heartt; Ex Deputy Sheriff J. A. Rogers, and Mr. D. H. Greaves, all of Raleigh, arrived in Toronto last evening on the 7.45 train, taking up their quarters at the Queen's. Mr. Busbee not only represents the United States Government in the extradition proceedings, but also is special receiver of the defrauded bank for the fund of $90,114, found on President Cross and Cashier White. Chief Heartt and Deputy Sheriff Rogers have come to take the prisoners back, and Mr. Greaves is a witness to the forgery charged against them.

The World had a long talk with Chief Heartt, and learned considerable about the two men under arrest. Cross, the Chief said, was one of the best liked men in Raleigh, and was particularly prominent in Baptist Church circles. He married a niece of Cashier White. Before her marriage Mrs. Cross was president of the bank. The feeling in Raleigh is intense against Cross, who, though the younger man, is generally regarded as having led White astray. White was high up in social circles, a class leader in the Methodist Church and one of the last men, according to the Chief, who would have been suspected of wrongdoing.

The bursting up of the National did not particularly affect the other Raleigh banks. The collapse did not hurt the business interests of the town so much as it did small depositors and capitalists not in business. He thought the depositors would get back 75 per cent. of their claims. The flight of Cross and White was a complete surprise, and until the day of their departure the community would have sworn by them. They evidently left in a big hurry, and in the light of recent developments, Chief Heartt thought that what was found upon them in Toronto was about the extent of their pile.

District Attorney Busbee was in close confab with County Crown Attorney Badgerow when The World sought an interview. He had little to say about the case except that he was desirous of bringing proceedings to as speedy a close as possible. He was armed with all the necessary papers from Washington, and expressed a holy horror of remaining any length of time in Canada.

It now transpires that the Norfolk National Bank has put in a claim for $10,000 of the amount found on the prisoners. Its contention is that the $10,000 was obtained from it by fraud, White and Cross, the day before their flight, having telegraphed for that sum to the Norfolk Bank, giving as security a consignment of cotton and tobacco in New York, which had no existence. The money was sent, and now Mr. Caldwell Hardy of Norfolk, representing the Norfolk National Bank, is here to try to get it back, even if he has to lay a charge of bringing stolen money into Canada.

The Raleigh people laugh at this threat for several reasons. One of them is that the money, having passed into the possession of the First National Bank, became its property to have and to hold for the benefit of its swindlers. The second reason is that on extradition for forgery will override any minor charge.

The prisoners themselves are anxious to get back to Raleigh.

Bismarck's Birthday.

BERLIN, April 2.—Yesterday was the seventy-third anniversary of Prince Bismarck's birth. By noon the Chancellor had received fully 300 congratulatory telegrams, and notes of congratulation and gifts of flowers poured in to the palace the whole day. The band of the Magdeburg regiment which had been especially sent in honor of the occasion, serenaded the Chancellor. Emperor Frederick sent Colonel Brosigke personally and Count Von Seckindorff on behalf of himself and the Empress conjointly to congratulate Prince Bismarck.

To Test Balfour's Assertion.

DUBLIN, April 2.—The Parnellites have decided to hold six meetings next Sunday in proclaimed districts, in order to test Mr. Balfour's assertion that in these districts the National League is a thing of the past. Wm. O'Brien will speak at Loughrea, Michael Davitt and John O'Connor at Kanis. J. Redmond at Kilrush. J. M. Healy at Kanturk, and W. Redmond at Rane Grange.

Fire in Forest.

FOREST, April 2.—A fire broke out in a building owned by Mrs. A. Scott, and unoccupied, about 2 o'clock on Sunday morning. The building was valued at $1000; insured for $1000 in the Gore District. The roof of Lambert's Hotel, to the west, soon caught fire and it was also totally destroyed. Most of the contents were saved. The loss on the building is about $2000. No insurance, unless by mortgage; $600 on the contents in the Mercantile. Cause of the fire unknown.

The Elora Museum Robbed.

ELORA, April 2.—The Elora School Museum was broken into on the night of March 31, and the collection of coins, medals and bills counterfeit or out of date) taken. The loss to the Museum is heavy, although the intrinsic value is only a few dollars. The teachers' desks were broken open, but nothing was taken or destroyed. The burglars were novices, having had no professional tools. They have no trace of the robbers as yet.

Death of an Ontario County Pioneer.

OSHAWA, April 2.—One of our oldest inhabitants, Aikens Farewell, father of Capt. Farewell of the Lakes and brother of the late A. Farewell, ex-M.P.P. for South Ontario, died this morning in his 77th year. Deceased saw the first tree felled where the town of Oshawa now stands, and took pride in relating the hardships of the early settlers and the troubles of '37.

Contesting an Aldermanic Seat.

MONTREAL, April 2.—Proceedings have just been entered to annul the election of Ald. Germain, in St. Jean Baptiste Ward, by Gustave Rose, furniture dealer of this city. The petition alleges fraud, undue influence, threats and bribery on the part of Dr. Germain and his agents.

Wrecks in a Montreal Saloon.

MONTREAL, April 2.—Three brothers named Albert, Samuel and Robert Wernes assaulted John R. Shea in a St. Gabriel-street saloon last week, beating him brutally. It is now doubtful whether Shea will recover, the illness caused by his injuries having taken a serious turn.

TUESDAY, APRIL 3, 1888.

STILL A VEXED QUESTION.

The Town Council Has Another Brush With the Police.

A Number of Petitions and Applications Re the Chiefship of Police—The Question of Appointment Brought up and Smothered—How About Police Commissioners?—Mr. McNaughton Denies the Charge.

Standing room was at a premium at the Council Chamber Monday evening, when the civic legislature met for the transaction of business. The spectators filled all the aisles and seats and blocked up the doorway. Again the police question was the topic of interest, but there was not much discussion on the matter.

The Mayor and all the councillors except Mr. Kendry, who is out of town on business, were in attendance. The meeting adjourned before ten o'clock.

ORDER OF BUSINESS.

Communications and petitions were first taken up. One from Mr. John McNaughton, asking an opportunity to publicly refute the charge that he had, when in the council, used the charity funds at his disposal for electioneering purposes. He was given a hearing later on. Petitions were presented respecting the condition of the railway crossing on Harvey street, street improvements on Sherbrooke street and the extension of the water service on Brock street. These were referred to their respective committees. Patrick Heffernan's application for remission of taxes, Thomas York's for remission of poll tax and James H. Irving's for remission of income tax for 1887, were referred to the Court of Revision, except the latter, which was granted.

The petitions that excited most interest were those regarding the appointment of a chief of police. An extensively signed petition from some 700 ratepayers, and another from the local Knights of Labor, prayed for the appointment of Acting-Chief Adams, who also sent in a personal application. Mr. T. M. Garland, of Ottawa, applied for the position of chief in case Mr. Adams was not appointed. A numerously signed petition asked for the appointment of John Trombley to a position on the police force. All these were referred to the Committee on Appointments.

The account of R. H. Adams was ordered to be paid, and the remainder was referred to the Finance Committee.

PLENTY OF APPLICANTS.

Mr. Moore laid on the table a budget of applications and communications regarding the chiefship of police, some 29 in all. They had been handed to him to give to Mr. Kendry, chairman of the committee, who was still away from home. They were handed to the clerk, who managed to find room for the budget on his desk. Mr. Kendry and his committee will have something to do when they tackle the chief of police business again.

DENIED THE CHARGE.

Mr. JOHN MCNAUGHTON then took the floor amidst a round of applause that brought a look of surprise to the usually placid face of the Mayor and a call to order from his lips. Mr. McNaughton referred to the charge circulated behind his back that he had used the charity money in his charge for the purpose of buying votes. He emphatically denied the charge, and went back over his past record to show that he was incapable of such an act. He took special pride to himself for the stand he had taken on this police question. His speech was vigorous and cutting, and was at times interrupted by loud bursts of applause or laughter from the spectators.

The Mayor afterwards absolved Mr. McNaughton from all probability of dishonesty in the matter.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. DAVIDSON, of the Finance Committee, presented his report recommending payment of all the accounts referred to them as follows:—E. C. Hill, $1.25; the Rathbun Co., $1.75; P. Connal & Co., $111; Jas. Edgecombe, $27; T. H. Deane, $4.80; J. Delaney, $2; Mrs. Squiers, $7; Chas. Brown, $3; W. J. Mason, $42.50; Times Printing Co., $7; W. H. Roberts, $2.25; The Peterborough Gas Co., three accounts of $60.80, $10, and $22.50; Bessie Cumming, $100.

Mr. A. HALL, of the Charity Committee, reported disbursements during March of $197.65, as follows:—No. 1 ward, $76.65; No. 2 ward, $62; No. 3 ward, $30; No. 4 ward, $29.

The reports were both adopted.

THE LICENSE BY-LAW.

Mr. YELLAND presented for approval a by-law fixing the license of billiard tables in accordance with the motion to that effect passed at the last meeting. Under the new by-law, which received its three readings and was finally passed, the license of billiard tables is $40 a year, with no allowance for rebate or regard for the date at which a license was taken out.

POLICE COMMISSIONERS.

Mr. MOORE introduced a motion providing for the establishment of police commissioners and spoke at some length upon the benefits to be derived from having the appointment and management of our police removed from the political areas to the shoulders of a board of responsible and independent men, appointed by statute, namely the Mayor and police magistrate of the town and the county judge.

The motion read as follows:

Moved by Mr. Moore, seconded by Mr. Deugless, that this council is of opinion that it will be in the best interests of the town to constitute a Board of Commissioners of Police under the provisions of the Municipal Act; and the clerk is hereby directed to have prepared the proper by-law in this behalf for the next meeting of the council.

The opposition to the motion was almost unanimous. Mr. Langford said the thing had been sprung on the council and they should have more time to consider it. Messrs. McNeil and Hartley thought the commissioners would have too much power in having control of the salaries, and each took exception to Mr. Moore's remark that it would avoid much button-holing of councillors to have the police business transferred to others. They were not afraid of button-holing and were always ready to stand up to their convictions. Mr. Cahill took the ground that passing the motion would in reality be a vote of want of confidence in themselves, that they should desire to shirk their duty.

Mr. MOORE said the statute compelled any town becoming a city to have a board of commissioners, and as Peterborough was on the verge of incorporation it was not presumptuous to bring the matter up. There was, besides, a saving clause which admitted of the council taking the power out of the hands of the commissioners in case they were not satisfied.

Mr. KELLY thought there was as much brains in the Council as in the board of commissioners. He felt certain he had as much brains as any one of the commissioners. (Laughter).

Mr. CAHILL objected to Mr. Moore's statement that his remarks did not pay a very high compliment to the gentlemen named as the police commissioners, and introduced a motion against the appointment.

Mr. DAVIDSON moved in amendment that both motions be referred to the Committee on Appointments, which was carried.

THE POLICE QUESTION.

Mr. MCNEIL introduced a motion to appoint R. H. Adams chief of police at a salary of $550 per annum.

This led up to a considerable discussion. Mr. Moore moved in amendment that it be referred to the committee, and Messrs. Davidson and Langford asked Mr. McNeil to withdraw the motion, which was done.

MOTIONS.

Moved by Mr. MOORE, seconded by Mr. Yelland, that the Clerk obtain the necessary dog tags for the year.—Carried.

Mr. MCNEIL moved, seconded by Mr. Hall, that Mr. R. Pope be appointed street and building inspector at a salary of $600.—Carried.

Mr. MCNEIL moved a vote of thanks to the Mayor for his gift of the royal coat of arms, which was carried unanimously.

The Council adjourned for two weeks.

LATEST MARKET REVIEW.

TORONTO, April 2.—The total transactions on the Toronto Stock Exchange last week were 1004 shares, of which 300 were bank stock, as compared with a total of 1415 shares the corresponding week of last year.

To-day being a bank holiday the local stock exchange is closed.

The New York bank statement for the ensuing week is again unfavorable. The reserve decreased $267,650 during the past week, and the surplus is now $9,055,575. Loans decreased $845,800, specie decreased $1,196,100, legal tenders increased $482,900, deposits decreased $1,756,200, and circulation decreased $112,600.

Money unchanged at 5 to 6 per cent. on call, and 5 to 7 per cent. on commercial paper.

Business livened up considerably on St. Lawrence market this morning. There was a good supply of vegetables and meat at the prices be low quoted. Spring lamb was a little lower, and sold for $3 to $7 per carcase. Spring chickens are bringing 80 cents to $1 per pair. There is a remarkable scarcity of good butter, while the market is flooded with inferior qualities. Vegetables are offered in liberal quantities, and are bringing good prices. Business was quiet on the grain market, prices remaining unchanged. Hay is a little easier.

THE RAILROAD STRIKE.

President Depew Interviewed—A Proposition to the "G"—Status of the Fray.

CHICAGO, April 2.—There was a row in the Northwestern yards this morning on account of the appearance of a Fort Wayne engine manned by Master Mechanic Ormsby as engineer and a "wiper" from the Fort Wayne shops as fireman. They hauled a Pullman car over to the Northwestern, but upon their arrival a lot of Northwestern switchmen jumped on the engine and threw Ormsby and his helper off and after subjecting them to considerable ill-treatment drove them out of the yards. The engine was then blown off and the fire dumped.

It is stated here that unless the St. Paul switchmen are at their posts to-morrow morning ready for work they can never obtain employment on the road again. The suburban service of the St. Paul was resumed this morning. A number of the old passenger engineers here decided not to join the strikers.

This afternoon an attempt was made to get a train of twenty freight cars from the Q road to the Chicago and Alton. As the trains passed the viaduct at Sixteenth-street the engineers of other roads refused to allow the train to go by. They stopped its progress by crossing and re-crossing the tracks which intersect the road at this point. These tactics were kept up for two hours, and the Q train was finally taken back to the Western-ave yards.

The Rock Island managers declined once more to-day to fight the men of their road by attempting to receive freight from the Burlington.

An effort towards a compromise of the strike on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy was made this evening by the Brotherhood of Engineers and Firemen. A card embodying a concise statement of the situation from the men's standpoint but giving no new facts was issued by them. The most of the document is the concluding paragraph which involves a fresh offer of arbitration, this time on an entirely new basis. The idea is that the arbitrators instead of coming partly or wholly from outside roads or other professions be selected from among the Burlington's own employes. An offer is also made to submit the trouble to three railroad presidents or general managers. Marvin Hughitt, President of the Chicago and North-western Railroad, is named as a man who would be an acceptable arbitrator to the Brotherhood, the Burlington Company to name a second arbitrator, who, in common with Mr. Hughitt, should choose the third.

St. Paul Men Laid Off.

MILWAUKEE, April 2.—The St. Paul Company has laid off 3000 yardmen and switchmen along its lines until the present trouble is over. The yards in this city are deserted and no business is being done.

Recruiting for the Burlington.

PHILADELPHIA, April 2.—Capt. Dougherty of the Pinkerton Detective Agency of this city, who is recruiting for the Burlington Road, to-day engaged fifty men and will send them west at once. He says he can get all the men he wants. Those hired to-day are chiefly Reading strikers and are experienced men.

The Boycott at Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, April 2.—The boycott on Burlington freight went into effect in the yards here promptly at noon. A Fort Scott switch engine had just backed up to some Burlington cars, but 12 o'clock struck and the men left the cab and refused to haul it. Orders were issued by the Fort Scott road this afternoon that Burlington freight must be treated the same as any other freight. This will probably precipitate a strike of switch engineers and firemen and switchmen on that road.

Notes of the Fray.

CHICAGO, April 2.—A westbound Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul passenger train was derailed between Western and Oakley avenues shortly before midnight. The wreck is believed to have been caused by strikers.

Last evening a special policeman patrolling his beat at the Wood-street crossing of the Burlington tracks was assaulted and severely beaten by three men who he says were strikers.

Chas. Green arrived in Chicago yesterday with twenty-four new switchmen for the Burlington. At Lima they were set upon by the emissaries of the strikers. The contingent showed up at Chicago in pretty bad shape, some of the men having their eyes blackened.

All the freight brakemen on the Kansas City, St. Joseph and Council Bluffs Road struck yesterday. They assign as a reason, danger to their lives in working with "scab" engineers.

General Passenger Agent Carpenter of the St. Paul Road has sent this despatch:

MILWAUKEE, April 3.—No passenger trains on our line have been discontinued on account of any strike. Nor do we anticipate any trouble with our through trains. A. V. H. CARPENTER, G.P.A.

Sympathy from Canadian Brethren.

Representative locomotive engineers and firemen met at Occident Hall on Sunday, and declared themselves as follows:

Whereas, at a union meeting held in the City of Toronto, all the Brotherhoods of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen of all the roads in Canada deem it advisable at the present time that, owing to the numerous rumors at present published in the public press of dissatisfaction with reference to the course pursued between the orders we represent and the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad of Chicago; therefore, be it

Resolved, that we express to F. M. Arthur and Grand Master F. P. Sargent that we have implicit confidence in them as our chief officers.

Resolved, that we express the sentiments of our constituents when we say that we have implicit confidence in their honor and integrity, and that the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Firemen have attained their present standing by the manly course they have always pursued.

Resolved, that we inform our Grand Chief Arthur, and Grand Master Sargent, that we endorse the stand taken by them in all matters pertaining to a settlement of the trouble on the C.B. & Q.R.R., and that we stand ready and willing to assist them in their efforts to maintain the dignity of our brothers, and also the brotherhood at large against the action of management of C.B. & Q.

How to Select A Wife.

Good health, good morals, good sense and good temper, are the four essentials for a good wife. These are the indispensables. After these come the minor advantages of good looks, accomplishments, family position, etc. With the first four, married life will be comfortable and happy. Lacking either, it will be in more or less degree a failure. Upon good health depends largely good temper and good looks, and to some extent good sense also, as the best mind must be affected more or less by the weaknesses and whims attendant on frail health. Young man, if your wife is failing into a state of invalidism, first of all things try to restore her to health. If she is troubled with debilitating female weaknesses, buy Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It will cure her. b

LOCAL NEWS.

The Weather.

Moderate winds; fine, and milder weather.

Postponed.

Owing to the detention by rail of a large consignment of millinery and mantle goods direct from the centre of fashion on this continent, New York, the millinery opening and mantle display of the Golden Lion is postponed till next week. The postponement is a sore disappointment to the ladies, but they will be well rewarded for the wait, for the finest display of stylish and beautiful millinery and mantles ever made in town will be on view at the Golden Lion next week.

Sartorial Terpsichoreans.

The Water street roller rink was Monday night the scene of a gay assembly of young people, under the auspices of Peterborough Tailors' Assembly, K. of L., who had come together to enjoy a dance and the social intercourse there afforded. Supper was spread in the K. of L. hall, just alongside. There were about 60 couples present, to whom the merry strains of Prof. Doucet's orchestra were an irresistible incentive to tripping the light fantastic. Mr. Jas. Coughlin acted efficiently as floor manager.

Seldom Have we Offered

so fine a selection of mantles and mantle clothes as this season. Our imported mantles are particularly stylish and very cheap, while our mantle clothes and trimmings are the newest lines offered for city trade. We give careful attention to making up, and can confidently state that we can rival the best city work in every particular. We offer our stock for inspection on the opening days, Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

Yum! Yum!

LITTLE BOY—Mama, what is a Yum Yum?

MAMA—My dear, a Yum Yum is something imported from Japan, or China or the Cannibal Islands.

LITTLE BOY—There are to be two at Mrs. Dumble's festival to-night.

MAMA—Yes, my dear, she imported them specially for the occasion, and we are all going to see them. You shall go with us, and you shall see all the beautiful flowers, and see the pantomime and drink the fragrant tea.

LITTLE BOY—And can't we see the Chamber of Horrors?

MAMA—Hush, my dear, that is only for grown up people who don't have the nightmare, but you shall see the doctors saw the poor man's leg off at the pantomime.

LITTLE BOY—Thanks, mama, ever so much. 1d

The Spring Cattle Show.

At a meeting of the West Riding Agricultural Society on Saturday, the following were present:—President Rutherford; Vice-Presidents Garbutt and Vance; and Messrs. J. Stevenson, Wm. Fair, Jno. Mounsey, Wm. Collins, Jos. Tully, Geo. Fitzgerald, Jas. Baptie and J. W. Moore. It was decided to hold the spring cattle show on the grounds on Saturday, 28th of April. Some amendments were made to the prize list for horses. Class 1 will be for thoroughbred Clydesdales, Shires and Suffolks, prizes, $8 and $5; class 2, Canadian bred Clydesdales, Shires and Suffolks, prizes, $6 and $4; class 3, Percherons, prizes $6 and $4; class 4, coach and carriage horses with registered pedigrees, prizes $6 and $4; class 5, roadsters, standard bred, prizes $6 and $4. The prizes for bulls were made $5 and $3, the prize list being left the same as last year. This year there will be only one judge, and Mr. John Kennedy of Markham will be asked to officiate; or in case he cannot, Mr. John Clendenning.

A Night of Meetings.

To-night there is a big list of meetings and entertainments for the ubiquitous reporter to attend to. A special meeting of the town council is called by the Mayor, who has matters of importance regarding the dredging of Little Lake to lay before the board. A regular meeting of the Board of Education is also billed for to-night, at the regular hour. The Otonabee Canoe Club holds its annual meeting to-night; there is an opera, a church entertainment, a concert and a social to look after. The religious and sporting editors will have to make a new departure to-night and launch out upon a new field of action on this occasion; and perhaps the fighting man may be detailed for some of the work.

Important Horse Sale.

To-day Mr. W. W. Shearer, of Otonabee, sold his well known heavy-draught stallion, "Hepburn Clyde." Dr. J. L. McMullen, V.S., of Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, is the purchaser, and the figure was $850. Dr. McMullen met Mr. John Lang, M.P., in Ottawa, and the latter recommended him to Mr. Shearer. The horse was weighed on the market, and though not in high condition turned the scales at 1,870.

Got Her Feet Wet.

A young lady coming down street yesterday got her feet wet, and it will cost her more for cough drops than it would to have got a pair of water-tight boots or rubbers at the Griffin Shoe Co's store, Hunter street, where a splendid stock of boots and shoes of all kinds are given away, or sold at such low prices as amount to almost the same thing.

People who enjoy a hearty laugh should not fail to hear Simon Pure next Friday evening, with the Beethoven Quartette, at the Opera House. 1d

—Mr. James Falls, of Smith, has purchased the Dunbar property in Verulam, and is moving this week to his new home. Mr. Edward Maheod, of Smith, has purchased Mr. Falls' farm.

Easter Observances.

Continuation of Monday's Report of Easter Church Services.

St. Luke's church, Ashburnham, was well attended at all the services Easter Sunday. There was early communion at 8 a.m., matins at 11, a song service at 3.30, evening service again at 7. At the morning service there were about 180 communicants. The sermons of the day were preached by the pastor, Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, upon the death and resurrection of Christ. At the song service in the afternoon the school children sang Easter carols which they had been industriously rehearsing for a number of weeks back. There was a large congregation who were delighted with the service. At the evening service the music was specially good. The choir was large and rendered the Magnificat, Calkin, in D, and the Nunc Dimittis, Bridge, in G, in excellent form, Mr. J. E. Jaques presiding at the organ.

GOSPEL TEMPERANCE.

At the Gospel Temperance service Sunday, Rev. I. Tovell gave a very interesting and instructive Bible reading with running comments under the following heads:—Legislation and Franchise—I Tim., 5, 22; treating system—Prov., 1, 10-14; liquor dealers—Isaiah, 5, 22; are there righteous men in the traffic?—Isaiah, 5, 25; temporal prospects of the slaves to strong drink—Prov., 21, 17; law breakers, those who bring disgrace and sorrow to parents—Prov., 28, 7; this curse a serpent in the home—Prov., 23, 29-31; reasons why we should neither use the poison nor tempt others—I Cor., 6, 10; comforting assurance that eventually the right will prevail—Josh., 1, 5 and 9. Mr. Cumming delivered a short address from the 1st Psalm. Miss Munro read "He Careth for Us;" Miss Ada Miller sang "Calvary" and Miss Galley sang "Where is My Wandering Boy?". Mr. Tovell closed with prayer.

THE GEORGE STREET CHURCH.

At the George street Methodist church Sunday morning there was a children's service. The children of the Sunday School occupied the middle seats of the church, and repeated in unison the ten commandments and the creed, and alternate verses with the pastor in a couple of lesson readings. Rev. S. J. Thompson also delivered a brief address to the children. In the evening the usual services were merged at the close into an evangelistic service. The choir had anthems especially prepared for the Easter day. In the evening Miss Dingle, of Oshawa, sang a solo with taste and expression.

ST. PAUL'S PRESBYTERIAN.

The sermons preached by the pastor, Rev. E. F. Torrance, had reference to the resurrection of Christ. The choir rendered Easter anthems morning and evening, Miss Vair and Mr. Beasley each taking solo parts. The choir of St. Paul's is a leading musical organization in Peterborough, and under the directorship of Mr. Parker is steadily improving. It comprises some of the best solo singers in town.

CHARLOTTE STREET.

Rev. I. Tovell's sermons were upon the Resurrection both morning and evening. In the forenoon six baptisms were celebrated, and at the close of the evening service and evangelistic service.

ST. ANDREW'S.

The pastor, Rev. A. Bell, preached upon Easter topics. Only the ordinary services were held.

Easter Vestries.

St. John's Church.

The annual Easter vestry meeting of St. John's was held in the school room on Monday evening. There was an unusually large attendance. The Rector presided. After routine the financial statement was read by the clerk, Mr. F. E. Bell, as well as the statement of church debt, and both were fairly satisfactory.

The following appointments were made:

AUDITORS—Messrs. H. A. Hammond and W. H. Budden.

CHURCH WARDENS—Mr. C. H. Sheffield was elected the people's church warden for the current year, and the Rector nominated Dr. Burnham as his church warden.

FINANCE COMMITTEE—Judge Weller, Messrs. H. A. Hammond, Edg. Pearse, R. Fair, Wm. English and Dr. Halliday.

MUSICAL COMMITTEE—Messrs. A. P. Poussette, H. A. Hammond and W. H. Budden.

SIDESMEN—Messrs. Harry Everett, Jas. English, Jos. Mills, W. E. Sherwood, H. A. Hammond, F. J. Jameson, F. Foote, F. E. Bell and H. Long.

LAY DELEGATES TO SYNOD—Dr. Halliday, Judge Weller and Mr. Hammond.

THANKS.

Moved by Mr. Pearse, seconded by Mr. Poussette, that the thanks of this vestry be tendered to Mr. Seward, the efficient organist and choirmaster of St. John's, for the excellent music which the congregation has enjoyed since his taking charge of the musical services; and resolved that the thanks of this vestry be tendered to the members of the choir for the very acceptable music which they have furnished under the direction of Mr. Seward, often at a considerable personal sacrifice, and that the vestry clerk be requested to forward a copy of the resolution to the choirmaster.—Carried unanimously amidst applause.

St. Luke's Church.

The attendance at the vestry meeting was very large. Rev. W. C. Bradshaw occupied the chair. The different reports were read, all showing a satisfactory state of affairs, that dealing with the finances being particularly so. There was a considerable balance of money on hand, and it was shown that the church debt had been largely decreased during the past year. The following officers were elected:—

CHURCH WARDENS—Messrs. H. T. Strickland and Jno. Burnham, re-elected.

ASSISTANT WARDENS—Messrs. H. C. Rogers and R. Mead, re-elected.

AUDITORS—Messrs. W. G. Bain and R. Mead.

SIDESMEN—Messrs. A. Ingram, F. Adams, N. Lush, W. Manlece and B. Everett.

FINANCE COMMITTEE—Messrs. E. A. Peck, R. Mead, R. B. Rogers, F. Adams, J. J. Rooney, R. Manlece, —, Burt and W. G. Bain.

Votes of thanks were passed to the Rector and church wardens; to the Misses Mills for the gift of a memorial window; to the Kilburn Sisters for the gift of an altar cloth; the choir and organist for their services, and the C.E.T.S., the Ladies' Auxiliary and the Sunday School for their offerings to the building fund.

A resolution was also passed approving of the action of the special vestry meeting in deciding to purchase a new organ for the church.

Oyster Rooms Open.

J. C. Craig has opened out his two comfortable oyster parlors on George street, where the delicious bivalves will be served up at all hours, in any style desired. Drop in and try Johnny's stews. Steaks, mutton chops and tea and coffee served until 12 o'clock at night. d

Personal.

Bombadier Hutchinson, and Gunners Montgomery, Webster and Belcher, of Peterborough, members of the Durham Field Battery, are home from Kingston where they went about the first of January for a three months' course in battery work.

Messrs. J. J. Sheehy, P. Corkery and Geo. Hamilton, and Miss McFadden, of Peterborough, assisted at the Roman Catholic services in Norwood on Easter Sunday. They were highly complimented for their singing by the pastor, Rev. Father Conway.

The Boatmen's Grievance.

The members of the Peterborough Boating Club are rather indignant at what they consider an attempt of the C.P.R. company to curtail their privileges. The cause of the grievance arises this way. As is well known, the club's boathouse is situated at the foot of King street. The C.P.R. company propose to run a switch line from the present terminus at the iron works to the factories along the Dickson race. The route of the spur, which has already been fully outlined in the EXAMINER, will practically cut off the water privileges of the club. After leaving the shore at the iron works, trestle work will be built out to the islands in the middle of the river. The track will run the length of the islands and again touch the shore in rear of the new woolen mill on Hunter street. The river at this point is not to be bridged but a solid embankment of earth made which will cut off the course of the river and compel it to flow on the other side. Thus the head on the Peterborough side of the river will be practically only a pond, with an outlet at the trestle work in the lower end. Here is where the nuisance lies. The town sewer empties into the stream right alongside the boathouse, but at present no trouble is experienced from that cause. If, however, the current is shut off the pond will soon become a filthy, stagnant pool and effectually muff out all attempts at boating. The plans of the proposed spur show no sluiceway in the northern embankment to admit a current to carry away the sewerage, and the boatmen are very properly indignant over the disregard of their rights. A meeting of the club was called for Monday evening, but there was no quorum of members. However, Mr. Edwards, solicitor, is to go to Ottawa on Friday in behalf of the club, to have the bill now before the house amended to suit their claims. It is to be hoped he will succeed, as both the Otonabee Canoe Club and Mr. Wm. English, whose boathouses are also situated on the "pond," would be inconvenienced from the same cause. In fact the place would be another Spaulding's Bay were the present plans of the company adhered to. Another meeting of the club will be called for two weeks hence.

Street Numbering.

Pretty soon it will be "Mr. Smith, 137 George street," or "Mr. Jones, 459 Hunter street." The old way of finding a man by getting directions to the effect that his house is on such a street, west of such a crossing, just across the road from Mrs. Blank's or next door to Mrs. Featherly's or three houses around the corner from old Misserduffer's, will soon be obsolete in Peterborough, and any house may be found by its number. The plans for the street numbering system are about completed by Engineer Belcher, and will be on exhibition in the town clerk's office in a few days. Every householder can learn his number by calling there. Already a few of our merchants have taken time by the forelock as it were and have had their numbers put up before the plans are out. The business houses of Messrs. Fortye & Phelan and Jno. Hackett are now known by their numbers and others are following suit in quick succession. Mr. Langford is meeting with unanimous support and approval in his street numbering scheme, which is now almost an accomplished fact.

Particularly Attractive and Dressy

The chief will likely give the matter his attention.

Mission Band Entertainment.

The school room of St. Paul's Church was filled to the doors last night. The little folks of the Mission Band had prepared a bazaar and entertainment that brought out the adults in great numbers. No Longer a Celibate.

"Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Clark" is the signature on the register of the Grand Central hotel that notified the boarders to-day that the genial and jolly "Gil" had forsaken his bachelor estate and taken unto himself a wife. Mr. Clark and his bosom companion, the Doctor, took a trip west yesterday and to-day returned with a third party added, a handsome and accomplished young lady, who formerly lived in Acton, and was known as Miss Campbell. She was the party of the second part, now Mrs. G. C. Clark, whose name adorned the register to-day. "Another good man gone" was the mournful comment of the boys as they remembered how many of the bachelor boarders of the hotel have lately became benedicts. But though sorry to lose him as a tea-table chum and general associate, they will with one accord give "Gil" a hearty hand-shake and wish him and his young bride a heaped-up measure full of happiness in their new relations.

The Dominion Bell ORGANS.

WE wish to call your attention to the benefit derived from the New Automatic Pedal Cover ATTACHMENT,
that has lately been added to the above Organs. This improvement has been a long felt necessity, and one which has never been successfully solved before by any Organ Companies until the patent was secured for the above Companies directly from the Inventor.

Other Organ Companies advertise their organs mouse and dust proof, because they employ the usual method of blocking around the bellows, as we have done heretofore, but it is eminently unsatisfactory, and the only sure and efficient plan is that which we adopt, of covering the PEDALS and BOTTOM of our Organs. This attachment has iron throughout (with the exception of the Covers) having no cords, springs, or delicate mechanism to get out of order or repair, and works AUTOMATICALLY with the Full Board of the Organ. The one simple act of opening or closing the Organ, simultaneously operates the Pedal Covers.

This improvement has been placed on all the different styles of Organs, and the aim is now, as in the past, to produce an instrument that HAS NO EQUAL.

All information and inquiries cheerfully answered. Catalogues sent free upon application.

Examine the Mouse and Dust Proof Organ before purchasing, and be satisfied that you have the best in the World.

M.C. MEN RETURN TO WORK
IT IS SAID THAT THE SURRENDER WAS UNCONDITIONAL.

The Burlington Replies to the Charges of the Rock Island Road and Says That the Story About a Railway Trust is Absolutely False.

CHICAGO, April 3.—At 2 p.m. the Michigan Central yard employees returned to work. Upon what terms the strike was declared off they would not say. An officer of the road said that the strikers went back unconditionally. It was stated at the company's offices that the train of Burlington freight which has caused all the commotion would be forwarded.

When the Burlington Railway asked Judge Gresham for an order to compel the Rock Island to handle "Q" freight the Rock Island answered by charging that the present strike was simply a part of the Burlington program to force the other lines into joining a railway "trust" which the Burlington was said to desire. H. B. Stone, General Manager of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, makes answer to these charges in an affidavit which was filed this afternoon. The affidavit denies in detail all the charges of the Rock Island, which it pronounces as scandalous and false. It says the rate war was initiated by the Rock Island and other lines against the most earnest efforts of the Burlington. The "trust" story is pronounced utterly false.

A Congressional Enquiry.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—The House Commerce Committee has ordered a favorable report on the resolution to provide for a Congressional enquiry into the engineers' strike in the West.

Took their Places Again.

KANSAS CITY, April 3.—At a meeting of the switchmen here last night it was stated that the Santa Fe company would not force the men to handle "Q" freight. The meeting thereupon ordered the yardmen on that road, who went out last evening, to resume work to-day. In accordance with this the men all took their places again this morning.

THEY WILL NOT COMPROMISE.

The Laborers' Union Holding Out Against the Masters' Association.

TORONTO, April 4.

The action taken by the Builders' and Contractors' Association Monday night was officially communicated to the Laborers' Union yesterday morning. It was carefully put away for the time being and submitted to the Union's meeting in Temperance Hall in the evening.

No overtures of any kind were made by either of the factions. In fact they don't speak as they pass by, though Mr. John Lucas was heard to say that he had been hissed by a laborer as he was on his way down to his office in the morning.

Both appeared to be resting on their oars, confident that the other fellows would give in. Neither side, however, would acknowledge that it was disposed to weaken or compromise except upon the terms already given. A few of the men are working for the 15 cent rate.

"The laborers, I see by the papers, claim that our action is a lockout. This is not so. You might call it a go-as-you-please or a tie-up. We want the men to work and will give them 19 cents," said a member of the Bosses' Association yesterday.

There was a big meeting of the laborers in Temperance Hall last night. The resolution adopted by the bosses was read. No attention, it is said, was paid to it. The Executive Committee which has been acting for the union in the negotiations was given full power to take whatever action it may see fit. The union took no stand in regard to the men who are working for the 15-cent rate. The men can work or not, as they may wish.

It is probable a conference will be held this morning by the bosses and the men with a view of making a last effort to settle the difficulty.

Lathers and Plasterers.

The regular monthly meeting of the Lathers Union was held last night in Simcoe Hall, President David Adams in the chair. The lathers' agreement with the bosses extends till April, 1889; the plasterers' agreement till June, 1889, and the plasterers' laborers' till the same date. There can therefore be no strike in these unions this year.

An Insane Act.

NEW YORK, April 3.—Mrs. Tillie Sipp, aged 25, while in a fit of insanity, at 5.30 this morning threw her 12-year-old son, George, out of a window of the fourth story of No. 169 East 122nd-street. She jumped after the child. Mother and son were both seriously injured, and will probably die.

To Be Parcelled Out.

VIENNA, April 3.—The decree of the Russian Court depriving Prince Von Hohenlohe of the Wittgenstein estates has been confirmed on appeal. The estates will be parcelled out among the Russian proprietors. Thousands of Germans employed on the estates have been dismissed.

Her Niece Missing, Too.

DETROIT, April 3.—It is now stated that in the case of Mrs. Elizabeth Wellstead of Montreal, whose disappearance was noted yesterday, her niece, Miss Flossie Clark, aged 14 years, also of Montreal, was with her at the time of her visit to Detroit, and is also missing.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.
THE DEBATE ON SIR RICHARD'S MOTION RESUMED.

The Usual Tory Arguments Brought Forward by Mr. Freeman—Mr. Brien Loudly Cheered on the Announcement of the Liberal Victory in L'Assomption.

OTTAWA, April 3.—The House of Commons resumed business this evening at 8 o'clock after about a week of Easter recess. The benches were fairly well filled, but it is evident that a majority of the members expect to do their traveling to-night, to arrive here some time to-morrow. Sir Charles Tupper was in his place, looking fairly well, but weak.

Mr. Freeman resumed the debate on Sir Richard Cartwright's resolution in favor of Unrestricted Reciprocity. Mr. Freeman's style is decidedly flowery, and he held himself spellbound with brilliant oratory for about two hours. He dealt in the standard arguments on his side of the House to the effect that Canada was more prosperous now than ever, and that to retain that prosperity the maintenance of the tariff was absolutely essential. In this connection he did a good deal in the way of strong denunciation and lofty ridicule of those who supposed that the taking off of duties would lead to increased trade, or if it did, that trade would be of any benefit to the people. He urged the loss of revenue which would follow the importation of goods without duty from the United States, and contended that this itself was enough to condemn the proposition for Reciprocity. He wound up with a brilliant peroration, which drew forth cheers from those who remained in the House. Mr. Brien, the South Essex man who replaced the redoutable Lew Wigle, who was deemed unconquerable in that riding, followed. It was not until near 11 o'clock that he had the opportunity to speak, and he wisely confined his remarks within a short space of time. He had a good point to start with in reference to the Liberal victory in L'Assomption, of which definite and authoritative news had just been received. His spirited remarks upon this and other late Liberal successes called forth loud cheers. He dealt with the question first from the standpoint of his own county, showing how closely the interest of the farmers there were bound up with better facilities for trade with their neighbors in the United States. He quoted also letters from manufacturers in the country strongly favoring Unrestricted Reciprocity. Turning to a general discussion of the subject, he took up the various objections urged to reciprocity during the debate and answered them squarely and concisely by argument or reference to acknowledged facts as found in the common experience of the people or set forth in the public documents. Mr. Wilson of Leanox followed in the shortest speech of the debate, occupying less than twenty-five minutes. This was his maiden speech, and had there been nothing to commend it but brevity it would have been good. Mr. Wilson, however, is a clear and pleasant, if not a forcible speaker, and he placed his views before the House in attractive form. He advanced nothing new, but in refraining from the gush of other speakers on the Ministerial side he gave an example which it is to be hoped his friends will follow. Lt.-Col. O'Brien of Muskoka moved the adjournment of the debate and will make the next speech. The House adjourned soon after midnight.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

The Disallowance Settlement—The Harbor Dues at Quebec.

OTTAWA, April 3.—Early next week, Sir Charles Tupper being now able to take his seat in the House, he will move the first reading of the bill ratifying the fisheries treaty.

It is stated that the disallowance settlement will be submitted and discussed before the budget is presented. Sir Charles has been for three weeks arranging his financial statement, and will be quite ready by next week, so that the postponement of the budget means that it will be affected by a financial settlement with the C.P.R., which does not hinge with the statement that with a guarantee of $14,000,000 bonds is the only compensation to be demanded and conceded.

The telegraph office will be the chief centre of interest after recess, as L'Assomption's verdict will represent public opinion in another Quebec constituency on the Reciprocity issue. Both sides are making a good fight. Courteau (Tory) held the constituency in the last Parliament, and the riding has never been wrested from the Tories until Gauthier (Liberal) won it last general election by 21 majority. He is opposed by Rocher, whom he defeated in February last. A good authority here gives Gauthier 100 majority.

The three McKellar Bros., Lake Superior miners, have contributed through Prof. Bell, of the Geological Survey, $500 to the Queen's University Jubilee fund.

A deputation from Quebec will be here in a few days to urge the Government to abolish harbor dues at that port.

To-day, before the Special Committee of the Senate appointed to inquire into the resources of the Mackenzie basin district of the Northwest Territories, Capt. Craig, one of the Prince Albert delegates, gave evidence. The burden of his evidence was that lack of railway facilities alone prevented this district from exporting hundreds of thousands of bushels of wheat.

As a Scott Act detective, Harry Head, was standing on Main-street to-day a spent bullet struck his foot. He thinks it was fired from an air gun, but does not think it was an attempt on his life.

The united counties of Prescott and Russell are to have a French Canadian judge. Mr. L. A. Olivier, barrister of this city, has received the appointment, which will probably be gazetted on Saturday. The judgeship has been vacant for over a year past. The two favorites from the start were Mr. Peter O'Brien, barrister of L'Orignal, and Mr. Olivier. The claims of both were represented by various deputations. The French element predominates in the district.

The writ for a new election in the County of Kent has been issued. Nomination is fixed for April 25, and polling on May 2.

There is to be a reduction in the number of licenses issued this year. Several dealers who held licenses last year have gone out of the liquor business through the influence of the recent revival services.

W. D. Sidney, alias Sibley, who was charged with obtaining goods under false pretences, has been sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. He was working on the dollar gold watch racket.

The sitting of the Exchequer Court at Quebec to hear claims in connection with the St. Charles branch of the Intercolonial Railway, has been postponed until April 17.

Putnam's Reward.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—It is reported that William L. Putnam of Maine, one of the Fisheries Commissioners, will be appointed a notice of the United States Supreme Court.

Promised a Grant.

MONTREAL, April 3.—The governors of the Protestant Insane Asylum waited upon Premier Mercier this morning and were promised a Government grant of $15,000.

Rev. H. E. Mott of Dubuque, Ia., has been deposed by the Presbytery for having said that a professor of the Universalist faith could gain Heaven.

The race for Earl Spencer's Plate for 3-year-olds and upwards was won by Gen. Owen Williams' filly Shilmer from a field of seven, Felix finishing second and April Fool third. The summaries follow:

The Torontos Win Again.

LONDON, April 3.—The lacrosse match between the Canadian and Yorkshire and Cheshire teams was played at Bradford to-day, the Canadians winning 3 goals to 2.

Broken Up Pools.

NIAGARA FALLS, April 3.—All of the pools put in an appearance on the track here at 2 p.m. with the exception of M. Hager. Green fell out with a pain in his side after covering five miles more to his score and Sullivan left the track at 5 p.m. with sore legs after going 11 miles. Garlow, the Indian, after covering two laps, withdrew from the contest. Zimmermaker's big score of 50 miles yesterday told on him, and from 2 till 6 p.m. he added 20 miles to his score and was five miles in the lead of all competitors when he finally had to withdraw from the race. The betting is about even on Potter, Fowler and Johnson. At the close to-night the score was as follows:

	Miles.		Miles
W. Potter	50	Kil Zimalmaker	70
Ike Pawley	50	J. Sullivan	51
Wm. Galley	51	R. Green	47
John Johnson	50	H. Garlow (Indian)	45
C. D. Graham (unknown)	78	M. Hager	27

At the finish of the "go-as-you-please" to-night a 3-mile heel and toe walking match took place between M. Breen of St. Catharines, Charles Moore of Drumsnondville and a stonecutter by the name of Dennis from Markham. The Markham lad was an easy winner by 24 laps. Time 23 minutes, Breen second and Moore third.

TORONTO TOPICS.

A dramatic incident startled the calm which usually pervades the City Clerk's office yesterday. A well-dressed, handsome lady, applied for information relative to a supposed marriage of James Agnew in this city. The records were turned up and it was discovered that there was an entry of a marriage between one James Agnew and Eliza Jane Irvine on Oct. 10th, 1872, Rev. A. H. Baldwin being the officiating clergyman. On being informed of this fact, she gave a loud scream, and fell on the floor in a fit. City Clerk Blevins and his staff succeeded in restoring the lady to her senses, when she told her story. Nine years ago she married James Agnew in this city, and until recently lived with him as his wife. He never introduced her to his parents although both were residents of Toronto. Two months ago, Agnew was arrested on a charge of embezzlement carried on under the names of Grafton and Page, and is now in jail awaiting trial. On his arrest she went to his parents, and then first learned that he had been previously married. It was to confirm this story that she had visited the City Hall. Later she sought an interview with County Crown Attorney Badgerow, who will inquire into the facts.

Ald. Dodds asked Chairman Boustead of the Waterworks Committee in the course of the Council meeting yesterday, if the department had advertised for coal tenders outside the city or only in the local papers. In view of the recent disclosures about putting up coal contracts for sale he thought some effort should be made to protect the city against such proceedings in future. Ald. Gillespie suggested that the city combine with the public institutions and buy their coal in the States at headquarters, and the Mayor remarked that efforts in this direction were being made by the Public School Board and the Corporation. Ald. Boustead in reply to Ald. Dodds said that negotiations were in progress with Montreal people to secure the waterworks coal from there. Anyhow they would have no more contracts like last year.

It had been expected that the first dividend to the depositors in the Central Bank would be paid this week, but Hope's flattering tale will not be realized. Two or three weeks will probably pass before the welcome instalment is paid. The claims which have to be investigated are very large and occupy much of the time of the Master and liquidators. Until these are disposed of the signing of the dividend warrants will not be commenced.

Yesterday Master Hodgins, Solicitor Foster and Accountant Orde proceeded to Guelph and were occupied in the consideration of disputed claims from that district.

Mrs. Airey, widow of a bricklayer, residing on Bloor-street, took Paris green Monday, dying shortly afterwards in intense agony. There will be no inquest. Mrs. Airey leaves three small children, and it is thought that grief at the recent death of her husband prompted the rash act.

THE SITUATION IN FRANCE
M. FLOQUET MAKES AN APPEAL TO THE REPUBLICAN GROUPS.

Three Members Retire From the Cabinet—Violent Newspaper Attacks Against the New Ministry—The Feeling in England—A Big Breach.

PARIS, April 3.—MM. Ricard, Loubet and Legrand have retired from the new Cabinet, being unable to agree with the Government program. It is announced that Senator Fauvellat and M. Delaunay-Mentand, a member of the Chamber of Deputies, will become Minister of Justice and Minister of Public Works respectively.

The Cabinet met at the palace to-day to discuss the address to be presented to the Chamber of Deputies by Premier Floquet. President Carnot presided.

The Chamber of Deputies this afternoon M. Floquet read a statement setting forth the policy that would be pursued by his Cabinet. He appealed to the united Republican sections for their support, and asked them to leave to the Government the question of revising the constitution. The Ministry, he said, sincerely desired the adoption of well considered reforms and the maintenance of peace.

The Journal des Debats and Republic Francaise violently attack the new Cabinet.

A Big Breach.

NEW YORK, April 3.—The Times' London correspondent says: M. Floquet has consented to step into the breach, but thus far his presence only serves to help people to realize how big the breach is. It is no exaggeration to say that the present crisis is attracting deeper attention in Europe than even the retirement of President Grevy and the election of his successor. That, like every Ministerial upheaval since 1877, was a personal crisis; this is parliamentary. The others affected politicians; this, it is felt, is likely to affect the structure of the Republic itself. Nobody seems to believe that Floquet can command a working majority in the present Chamber. He will have the Right against him. He will have as opponents, too, the several moderate groups, of which Ferry is the natural leader. He has apparently chosen to combat Boulangerism, for the Boulangist papers are attacking him, and it is even held that he is uncertain if he can rely on the support of his whilom ally, Clemenceau, who is regarded as likely to gravitate now toward the Extreme Left, and if Floquet falls the Chamber must fall too. Already one hears rumors of dissolution.

The reports of the composition of the Ministry which reach London are not considered to augur strength or success. One of the weakest acts of the Cabinet will be the dismissal of Flourens from the Foreign Office, in which under three Ministries he has admittedly done admirable service. But he committed the error of opposing his candidature to that of a Radical at the recent Hanton Alpes election, and to punish him this Radical throws him out now and tosses the Foreign portfolio along with the others into a grab bag of factious politics. Neither Lockroy nor Goblet will lend popularity to the Ministry, while DeFreycinet will be a positive embarrassment. It seems probable that Floquet will make a bold bid for Ministerial life by pushing forward a plan for the revision of the constitution with the avowed aim of limiting the powers of the executive and Senate and providing for the election of the latter by a direct vote of the people and universal suffrage. But between the Right, who want no Republic of any kind, and the Extreme Left, who demand the abolition of the Senate, this seems doomed to fall to the ground. There is also a possibility that Floquet may strive to catch the popular fancy by an obvious effort to bring about a Russian alliance.

Debating Church Union.

CHICAGO, April 3.—The debate upon the organic union of the Methodist Episcopal Church and the Methodist Episcopal Church South at the meeting of Methodist ministers yesterday, called forth extreme differences of opinion. A committee appointed at a former meeting reported a resolution declaring for organic union, and after three hours' discussion it was adopted. A supplementary resolution declaring for the preservation of the rights of the negro was also adopted.

Again the Train Despatcher.

WATERLOO, Ia., April 3.—Two freight trains on the Chicago and Northwestern Railway collided near Inarry yesterday and both engines and ten cars containing stock were demolished, many of the animals being killed. Four men were injured. The train despatcher was responsible for the accident.

Big Sugar Refinery.

PHILADELPHIA, April 3.—It is stated that Claus Spreckels, the California sugar king, has decided to build a refinery in Philadelphia. Five million dollars capital will be put into the enterprise. The capacity is put at 7000 barrels per day. The cost of the plant will be $3,000,000, and the annual output $30,000,000.

Death of a Wealthy Montrealer.

MONTREAL, April 3.—Hon. John Hamilton, who died to-day, leaves a large family, having been thrice married. He was very wealthy, holding stock in the Bank of Montreal and Bank of Toronto to the extent of $200,000. His estate is valued at over $300,000. The deceased was a member of the Hamilton family of Hamwood, County Meath, Ireland. He was called to the Senate in May, 1867, and was a member of the extensive lumber firm of Hamilton Bros., proprietors of the Hawkesbury Mills, Ont., and director of the Bank of Montreal.

Grant Assigns.

BRANTFORD, April 3.—Guilliard v. Phoenix and London Insurance Company was settled out of court, the insurance companies paying the plaintiff $1000 without costs. In Queen v. Gilbert, seriously wounding with intent to kill E. Blake in February last, the jury returned a verdict of guilty. Gilbert attacked Blake and after seriously wounding him, supposing him dead, covered him up with hay and skipped to the States where he was tracked and brought back.

The Bridge Question.

To the Editor of the Examiner :—

SIR,—The Beaufort correspondent of the Review is very much exercised because somebody has dared to question the correctness of his report of the bridge meeting held on the 15th of February, and published in the Review of the 24th of the same month. Our correspondent does not try to answer the objections squarely, but resorts to abuse and bad language, which we do not wish to imitate. We charged that report with omissions and misrepresentations, but he fails to see the misrepresentations, and the omissions he considers of no interest to the reading public. We repeat the charge, and by way of assisting his mental vision, we would say it misrepresented Mr. T. M. Willan, by making what he said and did to appear so ridiculously great, when it was only very small potatoes. It also misrepresented others by dragging their names into print, and placing them in a false light before the public. We charged the report with omitting the first and the best part of Mr. Willan's speech, which was an unfair attack on a predecessor in office who was miles away, but this he considers of no interest to the reading public. We beg to differ with him, however, and possibly the reading public may have a word to say on this; for the foregoing and other reasons, we pronounce the meeting a complete failure; and while he doggedly maintains the vote was unanimous, yet in the next sentence he admits that a number had left the meeting. The most amusing part of the discussion, is the challenge to prove our manliness by giving our name to Mr. Willan, and for this we will be entitled to the choice of three things, namely, a private hearing, a public, or through the press; well certainly a private interview with Mr. W. just now is something that ought not to be sniffed at, but from a platform whipping, or a flaying through the press, the fates deliver us; we prefer to follow the example of our brother correspondent, who not only conceals his name, but vainly tries to conceal his identity. We say vainly, for we would know him anywhere in a crowd, but perhaps the concealment on his part is consistent with his ideas of manliness. Then he winds up with a pious admonition to be more truthful in the future. We are always thankful for good advice, yet we fancy we have given him enough truth in the past to make him feel a wee bit uncomfortable, and if he will give his best attention to all the truth contained in this rather lengthy article he will not have much room left for the prevarications.

DICTATOR.

The Bridge Must Stay.

To the Editor of the Examiner :—

SIR,—If the people of South Monaghan think they can do away with the Wallace Point Bridge, they are greatly mistaken. It has been there over twenty years and it will continue there and be repaired and rebuilt when it so needs. The county of Peterborough proposed to do away with it in January of 1885. Then mark the warden's address in June following. Then the east end of South Monoghan got up a petition the same year to do away with it. The result was a stone pier and iron swing. A bridge will be there in years to come, as it has been "in the brave days of old."

ONE WHO KNOWS.

Benafort.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

From the harsh way reluctant nature is dealing with fall crops, and the portentious silence of spring poets, the farmers' hopes of an early spring are not the highest.

The small boy made the usual discovery, "sap's runnin'" last week. The result has been so inspiring that some of them manifest fears of a flood.

LACROSSE.—The Silver Star Lacrosse Club at its recent meeting re-appointed their genial captain, Thos. Clark, and their efficient secretary and treasurer, Jos. Kerr, for the coming season. From the unusual improvement our club has made since its organization we expect a prosperous season. They already indulge their friends in the anticipation of their annual excursion, when we expect an unique day of social indulgence, merry society and good cheer.

LITERARY.—The last public meeting of the Benafort Society was held on Thursday evening last, the attendance being large as usual. On account of this being the final meeting the debate was dispensed with, the programme rendered being entirely musical and literary. The following took part in the entertainment:—Messrs. Amos Wood, E. Stirton, W. McAllister, C. Stirton, Abner Wood, R. Emberson, I. Kerr, J. C. Finlay, Mrs. Geo. Wood, Misses A. and E. McLellan, Galloway, McAllister. The Society has been in existence only a little over three months, and considering the many drawbacks it has had, it must be acknowledged, has made wonderful progress. It is to be hoped the promoters will make an earlier start next season.

STREETS.—The streets are very sloppy and the chairman of the committee on streets and bridges should see that they are immediately scraped. The eastern and western extremities of Upper Fifteenth street are almost impassable on account of snow drifts.

PERSONAL.—Mrs. J. Kerr has been indisposed for some time and is now undergoing treatment from Dr. Turner, of Millbrook.

The many friends of Mrs. A. Finnie, who has been seriously ill for some time, will be glad to learn that she has had a change for the better. We hope she may continue to improve and that she will, before long, have recovered her wonted strength.

If the present rate of increase in population continues long, our local member will be intrusted by our citizens with the management of a bill for our incorporation, at the next session; the lastest arrivals being an assistant cheesemaker and an attache for the new Rossin House.

The parties who went to Gore's Landing seem to have profited by the experience of the Indian village party and had the advantage of being enabled to turn the journey back into a wedding trip.

Harvey.

Council Meeting.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Council met at the Clerk's office March 12th, all present. Communications read from the Barnardo Home, from the County Clerk, re conditional grants from the Government and county council for the north Harvey road.

A by-law was passed appointing James Hicks, reeve, and the clerk and Thomas Flynn, Robert Renwick, James Ingram, Jas. Purdy, and Chas. Mollmoyle, Esquires, as health officers for the current year, and one appointing pathmasters, pound-keepers, fence-viewers and deputy-returning officers for the current year.

The treasurer was instructed to deposit the sum of $200 in the Bank of Toronto at Peterborough, to the credit of the Commissioner of Crown Lands, in compliance with the conditions of a resolution passed by the county council granting $200 for the north Harvey road.

The auditors' report was received and adopted, and the Clerk instructed to procure one hundred printed copies of the same for distribution.

A deputation from Bobcaygeon was heard, consisting of Reeve Crabtree, Davey, Lancaster and Garlick, requesting a donation to assist in laying iron pipes from the spring to the fountain on the market square.—no grant.

The council adjourned to meet on Monday, 28th of May, for court of revision and general road session.

THE ELECTION IN L'ASSOMPTION.

A Brilliant Victory for Commercial Union After a Most Stubborn Fight.

MONTREAL, April 3.—The Liberals are jubilant to-night over the result of the election in L'Assomption County for the House of Commons. When the news of Mr. Gauthier's re-election by nearly 100 majority, was confirmed, there was great rejoicing. The election is regarded as another signal victory for the cause of Unrestricted Reciprocity, which was made the prominent issue of the contest. At a meeting at L'Epiphanie the day before the election, Mr. Wilfred Laurier, the Liberal leader, made a strong speech in favor of closer trade relations with the United States, and his remarks were received with loud applause by the large assemblage of habitants. Taking this fact into consideration, and also that the Liberal candidate's majority is greatly increased, the event is a most significant one, and tends to show the trend of public opinion in favor of Commercial Union, even amongst the habitants of this province, whom the Conservatives have been in the habit of claiming would oppose the movement to the last ditch. The fight in L'Assomption was a most stubborn one. The county has been one of those close Conservative strongholds which the Liberals have always despaired of capturing.

Abyssinian Troops Disband.

LONDON, April 3.—Massowah advices say the Abyssinian troops have disbanded with the exception of 10,000 men who are watching the frontier. The Abyssinians neither expect that the Italians will attack them nor intend to attack the Italians.

The annual smallpox epidemic in Shoa, a state of Abyssinia, has begun. RAS MUHECA, the heir to the throne of Shoa, and three other members of the royal family have died of the disease.

FOR THREE WEEKS I was suffering from a severe cold in my head, accompanied by a pain in the temples. I tried some of the many catarrh remedies without any relief. TAKE

NASAL BALM FOR

COLD IN HEAD

—AND—

CATARRH.

There is no disease to which Canadians are more subject than Catarrh—all ages and sex alike are numbered among the sufferers. It is impossible in the limit of a short newspaper article to describe the symptoms fully, but they may be briefly summarized: Cold in the head, difficulty in breathing, hawking and spitting, headache, pains in the region over the eye, stoppage of nasal passages, foul breath, droppings into the throat causing nausea and sometimes vomiting, poisonous secretions accumulating in the lungs leading to consumption. These are but a few of the many symptoms of Catarrh, a disease which affects 7-10 of our Canadian population. NASAL BALM is the only CERTAIN and POSITIVE CURE for this loathsome disease in all its forms and stages. NASAL BALM is the result of years of careful study, and is prepared with a view to radically cure those cases of catarrh, to which Canadians are most subject. It is not a liquid snuff or cauterizing powder, but a pleasant, never failing remedy, requiring no instrument or douche for its use. Easy to use, instantaneous in its effects, permanent in its cures. Ask for Nasal Balm and take no substitute of whatever name. For Cold in the Head there is no better remedy on earth to equal Nasal Balm. Do not neglect a cold in the head for in nine cases out of ten it will lead to Catarrh. Use Nasal Balm upon the first symptoms. This wonderful remedy affords instant relief and cures within a few hours. It can be used for the youngest child as well as for adults, and as a precautionary measure should be kept in every household. For sale by all druggists or sent in receipt of price (50c. and $1.00 per bottle) by addressing FULFORD & CO., Brockville.

PROOF OF ITS MARVELLOUS EFFICACY.

An Unequalled Remedy.

J. McKee, druggist, Peterborough, says:—Nasal Balm gives the most general satisfaction to consumers of any preparation I ever handled. My sales are large and the reports from those who use it, fully substantiate your claims for the medicine as an unequalled remedy for catarrh in the head.

Worth Ten Times its Cost.

T. W. Hunt Port Hope says: I was a sufferer from a long standing case of catarrh and being well up in years (73) hardly expected to ever obtain anything that would give me material or permanent relief. At the time of receiving Nasal Balm I was very bad with catarrh, but take great pleasure in stating that on the second application I obtained wonderful relief and its effect was pleasant, soothing and healing. It acted like magic and is worth ten times its cost for the immediate relief it gives. I feel confident the second bottle will effect a permanent cure. I have recommended Nasal Balm for cold in the head and in every case it acts like a charm.

Acts Like a Charm.

John Foster Raymond says:—Nasal Balm acts like a charm for my catarrh. I have only used it a short time and I now feel better than at any period during the last seven years. In fact I am sure of a cure and at a very small expense.

wa4w

Feels Like a New Man.

A. E. Fish, merchant, Belleville, states: I take great pleasure in recommending your Nasal Balm to any one troubled with that dreadful disease, catarrh. I have been troubled with it for the past fifteen years, and can say candidly that I never had anything that gave me half so much relief as your Nasal Balm. I have only used two bottles and I feel like a new man.

Beats the World.

D. Derbyshire, president Ontario Creamery Association, Brockville, says: Nasal Balm beats the world for catarrh and cold in the head. In my own case it effected relief from the first application.

$1.00 for 50 cents.

Capt. D. H. Lyon, manager and proprietor of the C. P. R. and R. W. & O. R. car ferry Prescott, and Ogdensburg N. Y. says: I used Nasal Balm for a prolonged case of cold in the head. Two applications effected a complete and thorough cure in less than 24 hours. I would not take $100 for my bottle of Nasal Balm if I could not replace it.

It Never Fails.

Ex-Mayor Bowie, Brockville, Ont., says: I used Nasal Balm for a bad case of catarrh, and it cured me after having ineffectually tried many other remedies. It never fails to give immediate relief for cold in the head.

RIDDLEBERGER'S RESOLUTIONS.

Discussed in Secret Session—Referred to the Foreign Relations Committee.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—In the Senate to-day the resolution offered by Mr. Riddleberger to suspend so much of the rules as to provide for executive sessions during the consideration of the fisheries treaty was taken up. Mr. Edmonds (Rep. Vt.), said that as the question was on agreeing to the resolutions, he desired to submit some observations to the Senate which he did not care to submit to Her Majesty's ministers just at present. He therefore moved that the galleries be cleared and the doors closed. The motion was agreed to and the order was executed.

The Senate at 3.10 after two hours spent in secret legislative session, opened its doors. During the secret session Senator Riddleberger's resolution to consider the Fisheries Treaty in open session was the only subject of debate, but several Senators ventured to discuss briefly the merits of the treaty itself, being, however, called to order for so doing. Senators Edmunds and Hoar (Rep. Mass.) made a strong fight against the resolution.

Upon motion of Senator Butler (Dem. S.C.) the resolution was ordered to be referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations by a vote of 41 to 2.

FIRES OF A DAY.

The Prince Edward Hotel at Concession Burnt—A $10,000 Mine at Belle River.

CONCESSION, April 3.—The Prince Edward Hotel of this place, R. G. Clark, owner and proprietor, was totally destroyed by fire between 1 and 2 o'clock this morning, only a small portion of the contents being saved. Loss about $6000. Insurance $3000 on the building in the British American, and $1460 on the contents in the Western of Toronto.

Burnt to the Ground.

BELLE RIVER, April 3.—The Belle River grist mill, owned by W. & J. G. Grecy & Co., Toronto, was burned to the ground at 4 o'clock this morning. Loss $10,000; insurance about $3,000. Cause supposed to be incendiary.

Thirty-three Horses Cremated.

CHICAGO, April 3.—Fire broke out in the stables adjoining Adams' house at the corner of Lake-street and Michigan-avenue early this morning. The hotel adjoining fortunately had but few guests. Most of these and the servants were stupefied by the smoke, and it was only by the greatest exertion on the part of the firemen and police that all were saved. Thirty-three horses were cremated.

A Church Destroyed.

HARTFORD, Conn., April 3.—The Congregational Church and Fisher's block were destroyed by fire last night; total loss $110,000.

A CLOSED MEETING.

Hamilton Builders' and Contractors' Exchange Held a Secret Session.

HAMILTON, April 3.—The Builders' and Contractors' Exchange held a closed meeting this afternoon. So far as could be learned the resolution passed on Saturday was ignored on the ground that the irresponsible body then in session failed to take any vote on it. The voice of the meeting was in favor of allowing things to remain in abeyance for the present. The union quarrymen have leased the Russell quarry, leading up the James-street mountain, and propose to work it on the co-operative principle. The master masons held a meeting yesterday afternoon to discuss the labor difficulty, but no definite action was decided on.

Montreal Law Suits

MONTREAL, April 3.—The case of Stevenson v. Ronald was heard before Judge Jette in the Superior Court this morning. This is an action taken by Ald. Stevenson, chairman of the Fire Committee, against Mr. Ronald, manufacturer of the Chatham steam fire engine, on the alleged ground that defendant stated that the chairman of the Fire Committee "had his hands greased," or in other words received a bribe, for giving advantage to the Merryweather engine. A number of journalists, aldermen and civic employees were examined.

The case of Price v. La Minerve, which is a petition to put defendant into liquidation for non-payment of certain notes held by plaintiff, came up before Judge Loranger in the Practice Court this morning. Mr. Auge, advocate, by whom the notes were delivered to Mr. Price, was examined for defendant, who alleges that plaintiff was merely a mere nom, and has no claim against the paper. Being asked from whom he received these notes Mr. Auge refused to answer on the ground that it was a professional secret. The court ordered witness to answer, but Mr. Auge at once appealed from this decision, and the case was then continued to Thursday next.

Grand Lodge of Good Templars.

LONDON, April 3.—The annual meeting of the Grand Lodge of Good Templars was begun today. The report of the delegates to the International Court at Saratoga was read and discussed. Rev. Mr. Boyd protested against the action of the court in adopting as a condition for the basis of reunion a provision granting the second Grand Lodge a charter enabling it to prosecute the work of the order in jurisdictions where it might become necessary to overcome differences of race or language. The protest was entered in the minutes. After the meeting a reception was accorded Mr. Turnbull, an officer of the International Court.

Escalation Proposed.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—The minority report of the Ways and Means Committee recites that the Mills' bill is vicious in that it discriminates against the American farmer. The report says that the Canadian farmer may import produce into the States, while duty is put upon that of the American farmer when sent to Canada.

Representative Flood of New York has introduced in the House a bill reciting that the Dominion of Canada Customs Act of 1879, providing for the admission free of duty into Canada of certain articles which may be admitted free into the United States, has not been carried out. He then provides a schedule of duties on a retaliation.

LATEST MARKET REVIEW.

TORONTO, April 3.—The local sterling exchange market was steady yesterday. Sixty-day bills between banks are quoted at 108½ to 109, and across the counter at 109½ to 109¾. Demand bills, 109½ between banks, and 110 to 110 across the counter.

Business was lively on St. Lawrence market this morning. The fine weather attracted a number of farmers to the city, and operated in a similar manner upon city purchasers. There was no special feature in the produce offered or the prices. On the hay market business was fair, $16 being highest price paid for good timothy. The grain market was also inactive, a couple of loads of good barley sold for 77c per bushel and two loads of oats brought 40c per bushel.

THE WONDERS OF MAGIC.

When you find that beauty is falling away,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
To the elderly man with his locks in decay,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
A rich head of hair
Is as precious as rare,
So I tell you
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
The lady's misfortune, when losing her hair,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
She can quickly, easily, cheaply repair,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
It imparts strength and beauty,
And it's the lady's plain duty,
So I tell you
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
Take time by the forelock and still keep your own,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
This tonic, a failure has never yet known,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
Try this motto to heed,
Try till you succeed,
So I tell you
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."

This now famous preparation for invigorating and stimulating the growth of the hair is universally accepted as the most valuable specific on the market. All diseases of the scalp are either relieved or permanently cured. A rich and rapid growth of hair will follow after judicious and regular treatment. Newspapers in 1888.

From the edition of Geo. P. Rowell & Co's "American Newspaper Directory," published April 2nd (its twentieth year), it appears that the newspapers and periodicals of all kinds issued in the United States and Canada, now number 16,310, showing a gain of 990 during the last 12 months and of 7,136 in 10 years. The publishers of the Directory assert that the impression that when the proprietor of a newspaper undertakes to state what has been his exact circulation, he does not generally tell the truth is an erroneous one; and they conspicuously offer a reward of $100 for every instance in their book for this year, where it can be shown that the detailed report received from a publisher was untrue.

A Big Sawdust Scoop.

$24,000 Lying Supply of Sawdust Needs Scooping, and a Deputation Will Ask the Government to Undertake the Job.

For many years back, day after day during the summer season, the Otonabee river has been the dumping-ground for saw mills all along its shores. As a government inspector who visited the mills last summer stated, not only was it run in through the pitmen hole, but it was wheeled in in cart-loads. The sawdust sediment has been swept downward by the strong current of the river into the calmer water of Little Lake and there it has settled into spongy, noxious, gas-producing formations that in low water appear above the surface and are being constantly increased. These saw dust islands have seriously impeded navigation also, and on this account and because of their unhealthy effect, it is necessary that they should be removed. A couple of years ago a movement of this kind was inaugurated, and a government official made a complete survey of the lake. But as the practice of throwing saw dust into the lake was not discontinued the Government did not do any more, and thus the matter stands at present. At a meeting of the town council Tuesday evening, called for the purpose of dealing with this question, there were present Mayor Stevenson and Messrs. Langford, Douglass, Moore, Hall, McNeil, Davidson, Cahill. The Mayor said that if the government were asked to make an appropriation for dredging out the lake he was assured it would be granted on the usual conditions that the town bear part of the expense. However, as the town intended expending several thousand dollars in cribbing the south shore, probably that could be made to answer for the corporation's share of the work, as the material dredged from the lake could be used for filling-in purposes there and at Spaulding's Bay. But the government would only undertake the work on condition that the practice of throwing sawdust into the river as far up as Lakefield was discontinued.

The question arose as to how millowners could dispose of their sawdust in any other way, and was effectually answered by reference to burning machines, with which each mill could be provided at a small expense. Then, though the town had not jurisdiction over the mills at Lakefield, the government could see that the law against dumping sawdust in the river was carried out there.

A memorial prepared by the town solicitor in accordance with the above views and praying for an appropriation, was read and passed, and a motion authorizing such members of the council as could conveniently do so to go as a delegation to Ottawa and interview the government in behalf of the memorial, was carried. It is probable the estimates will be brought down next week, and it was decided that the delegation should go down Thursday night and make known their wants to the Minister on Friday. They will especially urge upon the government the importance of the work in its connection with the Trent Valley canal route. The professional opinion of Dr. Clarke, medical health officer, as to its deleterious effects upon the health of the inhabitants of the town, will also be taken along and probably made use of.

It is sincerely to be hoped that the deputation may meet with success and that this summer will be the last of an ever-growing nuisance that has for years been a drawback to the town.

The Sewerage Scheme.

It is a gigantic enterprise and one that will take a number of years to bring to a focus, but Councillor McNeil is making a start and will soon have definite proposals to submit to the town council. He is in correspondence with about fifty of the best engineering firms in America, all of whom are anxious to secure the job, which, by the way, will run up into the hundred thousands at the least calculation. If the thing is left open to competition by tender, the town will have to supply a carload of information regarding the grades of all the streets, nature of the soil and rock formation, etc., etc., ad infinitum almost. The best engineers consider the safest plan for the town to follow would be to give the work into the hands of a competent firm, one whose reputation is already established, and one that could be relied upon to do the job well without any exorbitant charges. For each competing firm to send an engineer here to spend months and hundreds of dollars in taking surveys, etc., in order to be able to make any reliable estimate and all on the mere chance of their tender being accepted over, perhaps, a score of others, would be a demand what none of the best firms would comply with, and they would, of course, drop out of the competition. Mr. McNeil and his committee are considering the best means of getting the scheme under way, and will soon, doubtless, report to the council.

The "Apple Blossom."

The Examiner is now looking at the second number of the Apple Blossom, a monthly journal published in manuscript by the Y. W. C. T. U. Miss K. B. Annesley is the editor and engrosser, and her handiwork is exceedingly neat and artistic. It has a beautifully illuminated heading—a spray of apple blossom well done in water colors. It isn't every society which can boast the publication of a hand painted journal. The contents consist of the reports of the Association meetings and original and selected matter, and the journal altogether a very creditable production.

Sunday School Anniversary.

Festival and Entertainment of the Murray Street Baptist Church School.

On Tuesday evening the Murray street Baptist Sunday school held its anniversary celebration, with great success. The earlier part of the evening was devoted to feasting the children first and the adults afterwards, in the basement of the church, and the enjoyment was great to both. After refreshments, adjournment was made to the body of the church, where there assembled a fair audience, a larger attendance being, doubtless, prevented by the numerous other entertainments the same evening. But those who were present were regaled with a choice musical and literary programme, which was prefaced with a few remarks by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Parker, who pointed out that the progress of the school was very satisfactory. A year ago the average attendance was 100, now it was 150 and he had no doubt that on the next anniversary it would be 200. He enlarged upon the general benefits of the Sunday School and its importance in elevating the moral tone of society. He urged upon parents the duty of assisting the teachers in their work. He closed his address by rather humorously contrasting the Sunday Schools of the past with those of the present day. Then followed the programme; first, a chorus by the little children, then a selection by the Y.M.C.A. band, and a pianoforte solo by Miss M. Stratton. The dialogue "Beware the Dog," was sustained by Misses G. Robinson, S. Kelly and A. Aldridge and Masters H. Kidd, J. Duncan and E. Hall. Miss N. Wrighton's recitation, "Little Mabel," was given with great feeling and expression, and her pianoforte solo later on was another brilliant contribution to the programme. Master Charlie McKee, accompanied by Master A. Duff, gave a very good violin solo; his stopping was correct and his tones very sweet. A very pleasing tableau vivant, "Morning, Noon and Night," was presented by Misses E. Stratton, A. Aldridge and G. Robinson. In the instrumental duet by Mrs. and Miss K. Duff, the latter a little ten-year-old miss, played a long and difficult selection, with wonderful precision and power for so young a performer. The dialogue, a school scene, brought out Masters S. Matthews, M. Mowry, R. Anderson, A. Plummet, J. Duncan, and the school boys. The children's chorus "Twinkle, Little Star," was very well done, and the song of the superintendent, Mr. E. Duff, gave great pleasure. Altogether the Y. M. C. A. band gave three selections and all were admirably rendered. The programme closed with the Lord's prayer, by little Maudie Wallace, assisted by a hidden chorus, and the doxology and the benediction by the pastor brought a very pleasant entertainment to a close.

A Japanese Social.

A la Japanese were the beautiful decorations that adorned Mr. D. W. Dumble's residence Tuesday evening, and a la Japanese were the Yum Yums who catered to the material wants of the guests in the dining room. The house was filled with people who had assembled to spend a pleasant evening of social recreation amongst old friends and with each other. The host and hostess had prepared, with the assistance of the young people, an excellent three-ply entertainment for their guests — musical, humorous and gastronomical. The musical portion was supplied by the amateur orchestra, comprising ten pieces, who played several selections during the evening; Mr. J. E. Jaques sang "The Outpost," in good voice; and a trio, flute, piccolo and piano, was rendered by Messrs. V. Halliday, J. Butcher and W. Loch. Ample refreshments were served in the elegantly decorated dining room by a couple of pretty Yum Yums, whose kind hearts and pleasant faces added much to the enjoyment of the occasion. The Chamber of Horrors might generally be regarded as anything but humorous in name, but the shouts of laughter issuing from the room indicated that amusement of some sort was going on. The pantomime was conducted behind a curtain in a darkened room by a number of young people, whose every action was depicted in black on the curtain by means of lamps behind. The "horrible" part of the entertainment was the amputation of a man's leg by a surgeon and his staff of sawbones. The victim enlivened the otherwise gloomy proceedings by singing softly to himself the well known common metre refrain:—"Saw my leg off, saw my leg off, saw my leg off—short!"

The Masonic Concert.

Considering the many counter attractions Tuesday night the attendance at the Masonic concert was most gratifying, and the programme was one of rare excellence, needing no comment whatever to convey that idea to the intelligent reader who glances at the names of the artists who took part. The programme as rendered is as follows:—

Vocal Solo..."Anchored," Mr. Davis.

Piano Duet..."I Duo Foscari," Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Dunsford.

Vocal Solo..."Ready," Lohr Mr. Mulligan.

Vocal Solo..."Only once More," Meir Miss Vair.

INTERMISSION.

Piano Duet..."Attila," Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Dunsford.

Vocal solo..."Man the Life-Boat"... Russell Mr. Bagnley.

Vocal duet..."How Sweet the Hunter's Song" Miss Cottingham and Miss Vair.

The Growth of the Hair.

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic the scalp will be kept in a clean and healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

A very enjoyable evening was spent on Thursday, the 29th inst., at the residence of Mr. W. THE BOYCOTT IS RAISED.
THE MEN ALLOWED TO DO AS THEY MAY DEEM PROPER.

The Contest to be Henceforth Strictly Confined to the Burlington System Which is to be Overwhelmed with Business—Violence to be Discontinued.

CHICAGO, April 4.—Five thousand delegates, representing the engineers, firemen and switchmen of all the roads leading to Chicago, held a meeting yesterday, and resolved that the men of each road be allowed to use their own judgment in all questions growing out of the strike.

The final result of the meetings of the employes of the various roads in this city which began yesterday afternoon, and lasted until a late hour last night, was announced this morning in the declaration that the boycott of "Q" cars has been permanently raised, and that henceforth the contest will be confined strictly to the "Q" system. This raising of the boycott means that all strikes now on except on the "Q" are to stop forthwith, and that all those which were imminent are to be averted. The business of Chicago is to be restored and maintained by the strikers with strict decorum. Other roads are absolved from the requirement of neutrality and violence is to be discontinued according to the well-known policy of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. The arrangement agreed upon, it is stated, is directly due to the exertions of Chief Arthur of the Brotherhood of Engineers, Grand Master Sargent of the Firemen, Grand Master Monaghan of the Switchmen's Association, Mayor Roche and Mark Crawford, who also represents the switchmen. The final decision was hastened by a mass meeting held with closed doors last evening which was addressed by General Manager Jaffrey of the Illinois Central Road.

The engineers will afford every aid in interchanging all the freight possible with the Burlington. By thus overwhelming the Burlington with business the men argue the fact will soon be demonstrated that it is by no means prepared to handle it with the new hands now in its employ. The plea of the Burlington that the places of the strikers have all been filled, and consequently that it has nothing to arbitrate, the engineers think will be demolished and that company be compelled to arbitrate the question at issue.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

Trouble Brewing in the French Tory Camp Over the Lake St. Peter Debt.

OTTAWA, April 4.—The Government has decided to back down on their refusal to reciprocate with the United States people on certain articles, such as fruit trees, etc., and a proclamation will likely be issued forthwith proclaiming these articles free. The backdown is regarded as most significant, considering the stand recently taken by the Government on the question.

Dr. Bain (Prince Albert) was examined today by Mr. Schultz in the Mackenzie River Basin Committee. He had travelled in the district. It was a good grazing country and suitable for agriculture. The Indians in that region were more prosperous than any others in the country. They raise cattle, sheep and swine, and grow wheat, oats, barley, turnips, carrots, peas, beets, parsnips and Indian corn. There were indications of coal. The lakes abounded in fish. Wheat ripens north of the Saskatchewan in ninety days.

The Prince Albert delegates leave for home shortly. They are satisfied their mission will result in speedy railway communication to Prince Albert.

The decision of the Government to assume the Lake St. Peter debt has stirred the French Tory camp to its depths, and the Quebec district and Montreal district are arrayed in two hostile camps, each ready to take advantage of the Canadian Pacific Railway proposals, to throttle the Ministry and demand satisfaction. It is charged by the Langevin and Caron wings that the decision of the Government is a base yielding to the threats of Montreal and Chapleau, for the purpose of buying their support to the new gift to the Canadian Pacific Railway, as the Government has resisted Montreal and its Board of Trade and its Tory members of Parliament in this matter for years.

It is learned privately that the Government has decided upon certain offers to Newfoundland. They have decided to assume all the public debts, but will claim the privilege of substituting Dominion bonds for the existing securities. The power to tax will be transferred to the Dominion Parliament. The principal difference between the present proposal and those of 1869 lies in the clause regulating the subsidies. The old offer was for an annual grant for the support of the Provincial Government of $35,000 and a per capita allowance of 80 cents. It is understood the offer about to be made will provide for an annual grant of $50,000, with a per capita grant equal to 80 cents. The Legislature will be given the choice of retaining control of her mines or surrendering them to the Dominion in consideration of an increased allowance. The Dominion Government also will offer to provide and maintain the necessary lighthouses and buoys, and afford the same measure of encouragement and protection of fisheries of Newfoundland as is enjoyed by the other Maritime Provinces. It is proposed to incorporate the existing militia as a distinct district. An efficient steamship service will be established between the main land. The island will be given ten representatives.

The Liberal victory in L'Assomption absorbed the attention of the Opposition last evening to the exclusion of the speeches. Mr. Laurier was elated, having personally taken part in the contest, and he moved from one seat to the other the entire evening. The prediction of yesterday as to the majority of 100 has been verified within four. The only issue in the campaign was Reciprocity, and this hitherto steadfastly Tory county has told the Government that it agrees with Mississquoi by increasing the Liberal majority from 21 to 36. The tide in the bye-election seems to have turned in favor of the Liberals on the new issue, and they look confidently to Kent on May 3 and Russell, about the same day, for a further confirmation of Reciprocity by the popular vote.

TANGIER, April 4.—The American consul has received a reply from the Moorish Government declining to accede to the demands of the United States with reference to the persons under consular protection imprisoned at Rabot.

A BOY'S TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

Little Georgie Farr, of Hamilton, Probably Fatally Injured—On Short Hours.

HAMILTON, April 4.—Georgie, the 6-year-old son of G.T.R. Constable David Farr, was coming home from school at noon to-day when he thought to get a ride on one of Murton & Reid's coal delivery wagons. Without saying anything to the driver he commenced to climb up on the back of the wagon. His foot must have slipped into the wheel, drawn him up and crushed him between the wheel and the box. The driver, John Wilson, felt the jar, and looking around saw the little boy lying bleeding on the ground, where he had been thrown after he had probably been drawn over the wheel. It was found that three or four ribs had been broken, one or two of them in two places, and that the broken beam had been forced into the lad's left lung. He bled profusely and suffered terrible agony. He did not lose consciousness, but was in too much pain to tell how the accident happened. There are little hopes of his recovery.

The men in the Grand Trunk shops have been put on short hours. Instead of working from 7 a.m. till 5.30 p.m. and having half holiday on Saturday the hours will be from 7 a.m. till 4.30 p.m. and all day off on Saturday. This will seriously reduce the wages of the employes.

The annual report of the Chief of the Fire Department, presented last night, shows that there were twenty-eight fires in this city during the year, the losses being $35,277, or $17,148 less than the previous year.

At a special meeting of the Board of Education last night a resolution to reconsider the request to the City Council for $100,000 for building purposes, and to ask for only $80,000, was lost, 12 to 5.

An elderly man, who gave his name as Peter Dickey, was arrested this afternoon. He appeared to be deranged, and was going along striking out in all directions. He said he had not eaten anything for three days, but when a lot of bread was handed into his cell at the station he laid it contemptuously aside while he made himself comfortable before eating it. It is suspected that he is the same man who was going to commit suicide in Deak's blacksmith shop on Monday.

An Oil Well Blown at Potsdam, N.Y.

WATERTOWN, N.Y., April 4.—A special from Potsdam, St. Lawrence County, this morning says an extensive fire devastated a large portion of the manufacturing industries of the town. It was first discovered in a sash and blind factory owned by Thomas S. Clarkson. Owing to the inflammable nature of the contents the building was soon in flames that were beyond control and not even a book was saved from the office. Clarkson's organ factory, H. B. Manley's undertaking warerooms, Batchelor & Sons' furniture store and the electric light works followed in quick succession. Total loss about $50,000.

Found Dead.

ST. THOMAS, April 4.—Samuel Freeman, a farmer aged 75, one of the oldest and most respected residents of the county, was found this morning lying dead at his residence about two miles north of this city. Deceased lived in the house alone within a short distance of his son's residence. He was seen last night apparently in his usual health. The cause of his death has not yet been ascertained.

The trial of Alfred E. Ridley on the charge of forgery has been set down for to-morrow. Six indictments were laid against him by Crown Counsel Wells and the Grand Jury have found true bills in all cases.

Belligerent London Officials.

LONDON, Ont., April 4.—During the reading of the minutes at the meeting of the Water Commissioners last night the Mayor named Commissioner Emery till the latter told His Worship that he was "a thing." The Mayor then called Emery a "pettifogger," and the latter retorted that Cowan was "the drunken Mayor of 1886." His Worship became very angry and threatened to chastise Emery if he repeated the epithet. Emery repeated it whereupon His Worship arose and seized Emery by the arms. The latter, though much the smaller man, managed to back his burly opponent over a chair, and down they went on the floor, the little fellow on top. City Engineer Tracy interfered and separated the belligerents.

BELLEVILLE, April 4.—The ice "shove" that came down the Moira River last night created a feeling of anxiety in the minds of property holders and those living below high water mark. The greatest damage was done to the piers under the upper bridge. They were both damaged considerably, and the north side of the superstructure was likewise battered. The damage to the bridge is estimated at $400. One of the guard piers at the lower bridge was swept away, and the boat houses in the harbor were badly shaken up.

Incendiarism at Belleville.

BELLEVILLE, April 4.—Another attempt was made last night to burn Mr. Trunisch's block on Bridge-street. This time the incendiary applied his torch to the stable in the rear of his saloon, and the alarm was given about 6 o'clock this morning. A few pails of water extinguished the blaze. It was noticed that the fire had been started in two places in the stable. A bale of hay was first ignited, but when that failed to burn another fire was kindled in the manger. There was no insurance on the barn, and the damage was very slight.

A Scott Act Witness Skips.

GUELPH, April 4.—James Welsh skipped from the city Monday night. Besides the conviction recorded on Tuesday there is a charge of assault and attempted highway robbery, preferred by James Fitzgerald, hanging over his head. Fitzgerald had $70 on his person; Welsh knocked him down and endeavored to secure the money. Welsh, it is learned, is Inspector Cowan's chief witness in the Hogan Scott Act case that comes up for hearing to-morrow. It is not likely he will be present.

To Prevent Lead Smuggling.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—In the Senate to-day Mr. Stewart offered a resolution which was agreed to, directing the Secretary of the Treasury to report what precautions have been taken to prevent the importation of lead and lead ores from Mexico and Canada in violation of the revenue laws, and what legislation is necessary to prevent the smuggling of lead and lead ores.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.
A SQUARE BACK-DOWN BY THE GOVERNMENT.

The Opposition Elated at the Change in the State of Affairs—Mr. Laurier to Resume the Debate To-Morrow—The Victory in L'Assomption.

OTTAWA, April 4.—The amount of the debate in the House of Commons shows that the Government has made a square back-down in regard to the admission free into Canada of articles put on the free list in the United States. This has often been demanded by representatives of the Liberal party in both Parliament and press, and until recently was treated with utter silence and indifference by the Government. On Tuesday last Dr. Landerkin, in his able and telling speech, called attention to the proposed retaliatory legislation in the United States, and urged that the Government should make fair concessions in time. The following day there was the short and sharp debate provoked by the questions put by Hon. Peter Mitchell to the Government on this subject, in which the idea of putting articles on the free list as the Americans did so was strongly combatted by the Government. It was known that the Ministry was in consultation over the question, and there was a very general impression that pressure was being brought to bear by the American Government through the Imperial authorities to compel the Canadian Government to carry out the offer made in the bill which first established the Protective tariff in 1879. It was a general surprise, however, when it became known that the Government had semi officially announced its back-down. Even then it was not supposed that the official announcement would be made so soon. Sir John Macdonald was absent when Sir Charles Tupper made his first statement, but he made his appearance before the debate was over. Hon. Peter Mitchell naturally claims the victory as one for the third party, and is jubilant accordingly. The Opposition are elated at the change in the state of affairs, and many look forward to still further concessions in the direction of Reciprocity.

Under the depressing influence of the Government's back down, Mr. O'Brien of Muskoka resumed the debate on Unrestricted Reciprocity, his contention being that England is a better market than the United States for Canadian products. Mr. Haggart, another Conservative, challenged the advocates of Reciprocity to produce a financial basis for their scheme. He spoke before and after recess. Mr. Amyot spoke in French, declaring himself strongly in favor of Unrestricted Reciprocity, and saying that a love for Imperial Federation was at the bottom of the Government's opposition to it. Their cry, he said, was not Canada for the Canadians, but Canada for the English. In the midst of his speech Mr. Amyot broke into English and demolished a Government member who was mimicking the tones of his voice, and reminded him that the French members always listened courteously to the speeches of their English friends. Mr. Masson, the Conservative member for North Grey, thought that Unrestricted Reciprocity would be ruinous to Canada and beneficial to the United States. Mr. Bowman, member for the German constituency of North Waterloo, made a business-like speech in support of Unrestricted Reciprocity. He said that both parties were agreed as to the benefit of freer trade relations with the United States, differing only as to the means to be adopted. The resolution before the House, he said, did not involve Commercial Union. The adoption of Unrestricted Reciprocity would remove discontent and would prevent agitation for annexation. The experience of Europe, he said, showed that it was possible for countries to trade profitably, although their products were similar. He produced several instances to show that Canadian manufacturers would be fully able to hold their own in the American market under reciprocity. He mentioned that one Canadian firm sold $120,000 worth of buttons in the United States last year. He argued that the resources of Canada were immense and said that they would be best developed by the adoption of Unrestricted Reciprocity.

Mr. Laurier moved the adjournment of the debate.

Sir John Macdonald said he took it from the hon. gentleman moving the adjournment they were to have the pleasure of hearing him. He was glad of that. The Premier then remarked that it was about time the debate was wound up. The House had given fifteen days to it. These days, no doubt, were well spent, but as the busy season was at hand he hoped an arrangement could be arrived at to close the debate to-morrow night.

Mr. Laurier said he could give no pledge to that effect, but would do all he could to have the debate closed this week.

Sir John said it would be necessary then to sit very late to-morrow night.

Mr. Laurier expressed his gratitude for the assistance the Government had offered. He would consult with the First Minister to-morrow on the subject.

Messrs. Royal, Girouard and other Tory members of Parliament who were sent into L'Assomption to work for the Tory candidate, returned to Ottawa last night greatly crestfallen. It is now stated on the authority of telegrams received to-day, which, however, do not completely agree, that the majority for the Liberal candidate is 112, not 96, as at first published.

66 P.C. FOR THE CREDITORS
THE CENTRAL BANK LIQUIDATORS FILE AN IMPORTANT AFFIDAVIT.

Statement as to the Bank's Present Condition—Statement of Claims, Liabilities and Assets—Proceedings Before the Master.

Yesterday an important affidavit was filed in the Master's court by the liquidators of the Central Bank. It consists of thirteen paragraphs, and shows the present position of the bank, what the liquidators have done, and a gratifying prospect for the depositors. It states:

We have ascertained as nearly as possible the amount of the notes of the bank intended for circulation and outstanding and unredeemed, and find that they amount to $27,488.

The amount of money now lying to the credit of the liquidators in the Canadian Bank of Commerce is $492,719.

Assets to the amount of about one and a half million dollars, taken at their face value, are in the possession of the liquidators, which are being examined from day to day with a view to their realization. Of this amount about $200,000 are so secured as to warrant the opinion that they will be realized in full, but the remainder have not been sufficiently examined to enable the liquidators to arrive at their value.

The double liability of the shareholders, yet to be called in, appears by the books to amount to $500,000.

Claims against the bank to the amount of $1,555,000 have been made by creditors and adjudicated upon in favor of such creditors by the Master-in-Ordinary to the said amount.

Claims against the bank to the amount of $98,000 are not admitted, because it is contended that though in part good, they are objectionable on the score of excess charges.

Claims to the extent of $22,000 relate to reclamations sought in respect of shares the ownership of which is disputed.

Claims to the amount of $20,000 have been filed on deposit receipts in respect of which the liability is not admitted.

Claims to the amount of $7000 have been filed which are duplicated claims, and in respect of which liability to the extent of $5000 is not admitted.

The books of the bank show apparent credit balances to the amount of about $50,000 in respect of which no claim has been sent in to the liquidators or filed, and in respect to a large proportion of which counter-claims exist in the shape of direct or indirect indebtedness to the bank.

A petition has been presented to the court for the repayment in full of $30,000, being a deposit made in the bank on Nov. 15 last, which petition has been argued and stands for judgment.

We believe from an examination of the assets of the bank that a dividend of 25½ per cent. on the approved claims may be safely declared and ordered, and that the assets in the possession of the liquidators, after payment of such dividend, will be sufficient to pay a like dividend on all claims which may be approved, as well as the costs, charges and expenses of the winding-up.

Some of the claims proved and admitted are made by shareholders or alleged shareholders and contributories to the assets, and some others are by persons apparently liable to the bank as makers or endorsers of bills payable to the bank.

Cases Before the Master.

A number of claims for set-off were heard by Master Hodgins yesterday. These were principally from Toronto and Sault Ste Marie. No special points arose, the interest in the cases being generally confined to the individual applicants. Most were adjourned, notably those of the Ville de Marie Bank; Robbins Bros., Toronto, in order that the Toronto Roller Coaster Company may give evidence, and the case of the Canada Shipping Company.

TORONTO TOPICS.

At 10.30 a.m. to-day Coroner Duncan will hold an inquest in the Toronto jail on the body of Margaret Miner, who died there yesterday afternoon, while in confinement as a lunatic. She was 70 years of age, and the jail authorities state that her death was the result of senile decay.

At 4 p.m. to-morrow Coroner Duncan will commence an inquest in the Morgue on the body of Walter Frederick Ewing, an infant whose parents reside at 69 Arthur-street.

Burglars broke into Matthew's vinegar works, 69 Jarvis-street, on Tuesday night and abstracted $75 in money and $20 worth of promissory notes from the safe. The entrance was made by a rear window.

The difficulty between the Builders' and Contractors' Association and the Builders' Laborers' Union has been amicably settled. The employers offered to pay 19 cents an hour, and the offer has been accepted by the laborers, the agreement to last until March 31, 1889, inclusive.

The Executive Committee of the Creameries' Association yesterday afternoon met in the Rossin House to plan their season's work. It was decided to employ the services of two instructors to inspect the creameries and give systematic instruction to the patrons and butter-makers of Eastern and Western Ontario, under the control and direction of the President, Mr. Derbyshire, and Prof. Robertson. The arrangements for promoting creamery interests at the forthcoming fall exhibitions, include the erection of tents for public meetings, to be addressed by agriculturists, breeders of dairy stock and creamery men from various parts of the province. The Provincial and the Toronto Industrial Exhibitions were voted $100 each to augment the list of creamery butter prizes to be given in September.

During the year bulletins will be issued by the Experimental Dairy department of the Ontario Agricultural College, for the instruction of patrons and creamery butter makers.

He was picked up unconscious and carried to his home where it was ascertained that his spine had been injured.

COUNCIL MEETING.

A special meeting of the village council was held in the council chamber Monday evening, April 2nd. Present, the Reeve in the chair; Councillors Hall, Nelson, Henderson and Moore. Moved by Coun. Henderson, seconded by Coun. Nelson, that the reading of the minutes be dispensed with this evening.—Carried. A petition signed by 71 freeholders was presented asking the council to submit a by-law to loan Messrs. Booth & Co. $6,000, village debentures, to aid them to buy the machinery required for the new woolen mill. A petition signed by 62 freeholders was presented by Mr. C. J. Bicomfield, asking the council to borrow the sum of $6,000 and construct a system of water works for fire protection. Moved by Coun. Hall, seconded by Coun. Henderson, that the petitions to grant Messrs. Booth & Co. the loan required, and the petition concerning the contemplated water works be received and considered separately.—Carried.

The Finance Committee presented their report as follows:—

To the Reeve and Council of the Village of Lakefield:—

GENTLEMEN,—We, your Committee on Finance, having carefully taken into consideration the sum submitted to them by Messrs. Booth & Co., for the purpose of assisting them in starting a flannel mill in the village of Lakefield, beg leave to submit the following report:—

While we would be very much pleased to have such an industry in our village and would also be pleased to assist them in some tangible way in their endeavor to make it a success, as we believe such an industry would prove a boon to our village, yet we cannot recommend the council to pledge the credit of the village to the amount of $6,000 for the purpose of supplying the funds to be used as requested.

While looking at the security offered if after examination it proves all right we think they should have no trouble in securing the loan from some private individual or loan company to enable them to carry out their intention of putting in the machinery, etc., which if so secured the village should grant them the privilege of running it say forgiven years free of taxes.

As we are informed there is in circulation a petition requesting the council to submit a by-law to the people with a view of granting to Messrs. Booth & Co. their request, we believe that before doing so Messrs. Booth & Co. should deposit with the village treasurer a sufficient sum of money to investigate the title to the property they propose to give the village as security, and also sufficient to cover the expense of submitting the by-law to a vote.

While we are anxious to see the industry started and will pledge ourselves individually to do all we can to make the business a success, as we think it would prove a good thing for the village, yet we cannot see our way clear to recommend the council to borrow money to lend to any business, as we are of opinion that they would be exceeding their authority. All of which is respectfully submitted.

JOHN HULL.
F. J. MOORE.

Moved by Coun. Henderson, seconded by Coun. Nelson, that the Finance Committee's report on the proposition of Messrs. Booth & Co., be received.—Carried. Moved by Coun. Henderson, seconded by Coun. Hull, that the clerk be instructed to have a by-law prepared to be submitted to the freeholders to vote upon the Booth & Co. scheme for the issuing of debentures of $6,000 for the purchase of machinery for the new flannel mill, and that the clerk employ Messrs. Dumble & Leonard to prepare said by-law, inspect titles, and see that everything will be made secure to the village, providing that Messrs. Booth & Co. deposit a sufficient sum with the village treasurer to cover the cost, in case the by-law is rejected.—Carried. Moved by Coun. Nelson, seconded by Coun. Henderson, that the petition of A. I. Wright and others, re the water works by-law, be referred to the Finance Committee with power to add the names of three more freeholders and that they submit a detailed statement of plans, cost, etc., at the next regular council meeting.—Carried.

The council then adjourned until the next regular meeting.

RIFLE MATCH AND DINNER.

On Good Friday the Warsaw and Lakefield rifle clubs shot off a match at the Lakefield rifle ranges, ten men on each side, one and two hundred yards, three shots at each range. The day was very stormy, most of the match being shot in a heavy snowstorm, rendering both target and sights at times almost invisible, so that the shooting was anything but good. The following is the score:—Lakefield—73; Warsaw, 66.

After the match was over, the two teams and several invited guests sat down to a dinner in the Purser House, which was a credit to the hotel, and to which full justice was done, the three hours in the sharp cold air at the butts having proved a tonic of the first quality. W. H. Casement, President of the Lakefield club, occupied the chair and Dr. Bell, vice-president, the vice-chair. After all had satisfied the inner man, which proved no light task, the chairman proposed the usual loyal toasts, and the vice-chairman, after a few words of welcome to the visitors, proposed the Warsaw Rifle Club, which was replied to by Mr. Jacob White. Other toasts followed in rapid succession until the close, when "God Save the Queen," sung by all present, closed a pleasant dinner. The visitors then adjourned to the band room, where they were treated to a number of selections by the Foresters' Band. A return match will, in all probability, soon take place.

FIRE.

Last Thursday at the noon hour the sharp quick ringing of the mill and church bells gave notice that a fire was in progress. Dense black clouds of smoke in the direction of the Presbyterian church at once pointed out the locality, which proved to be a frame house, owned and occupied by John Davis, sr. A couple of passing teams were pressed into service and in a short time the engine, ladders, pails, etc., were on the ground. Willing hands soon put them to work, but soon that the fire, which at first sight looked to be beyond any power at command, was subdued and the building saved though in a wrecked condition. Some of our young men deserve credit for the way they work at our fires, as it is in a great measure due to them that the village has escaped with so little loss.

FISHING.

The following reply has been received to the large petition forwarded to the Fishery Department, Ottawa, requesting that licenses be issued to permit net fishing for sport in the waters of our back lakes:—

OTTAWA, March 27th, 1888.

GENTLEMEN,—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your petition asking to be allowed to fish with nets in Stony Lake and adjoining waters of the county of Peterborough, and to state that this department issues no permits for the privilege of fishing with nets or angling in these waters.

I would suggest you applying to the Department of Crown Lands at Toronto for such permission.

I have the honor to be &c.,
JOHN FILTON,
Deputy Minister of Fisheries.

HOME FOR THE HOLIDAYS.—Messrs. Percy Strickland, Fred Lefevre and E. Tate, of Upper Canada College; D'Eyncourt Strickland, of the Quebec Bank, Toronto, and Allen Bell, of Evans, Sea & Mason, Toronto, are spending their Easter holidays at home in the village.

LOST PAPERS.—A package of the weekly EXAMINER went astray in the mail last week and has not turned up yet, so a number of your subscribers are minus their papers.

DRUNK AND GAMBLING.—On Good Friday one or two fast town youths visited the village to spend their holiday, having a good supply of "Scott Act bitters" with them. They soon got into a row, but Constable Cochrane happened along and gave them five minutes to leave Lakefield or take up quarters in the lockup. They chose the former and the village was well rid of their presence. A couple of blacklegs a little later on filed their appearance, and succeeded in finding a few "greenies," who fell victims to the "little pea in the shells" to the tune of $30 or $40. They also got out of the village in double quick time to escape the wrath of their victims when they discovered they were duped, but as they are well known in town, the end may not be yet as we hear that a complaint will be laid before one of our police magistrates.

"Brightly the star was shining,
As over the snow we sped."

It is provoking at any time to have a break-down occur while out driving, but it is doubly so just as you have started out with a pretty girl nestling close up to your side, as she listens to the soft nothings whispered in her ear. Yet such was the fate of one of our village bachelors a few evenings since. He had only got about a mile from the village when he broke the pole of his sleigh in one of the numerous pitch holes. Determined not to be cheated out of his anticipated drive and happy time with his fair enslaver, he hied to the nearest house in quest of assistance. No one seemed to be at home, but he secured a piece of rope off a boy's toboggan and with its aid and some pieces of kindling wood, spliced the broken pole, and once more sped on his way happy as a star of the first magnitude. Young's Point was visited ere a turn was made for home and all went well until he again arrived at a bad part of the road, when the pole showed signs of again giving way, and to make matters worse he found he would meet the people on their return from evening service and he would not dare to turn out in the deep drifts with the pole in such a shape. So he quietly drew up by the side of the road and waited until all had passed, and as sleigh after sleigh went by the occupants wondered to see the youthful couple taking it so quietly and happily among the snow drifts.

LAKEFIELD GUN CLUB.

A meeting of the members of the Lakefield Gun Club was held in the council chamber on Tuesday evening, the 3rd inst., and the following officers elected:—Wm. Ash, president; J. C. Baldon, vice-president, Wm. Eastland, secretary-treasurer; committee of management, W. H. Casement, Fred Lillicrap, Dr. Bell, John Richardson, jr., and R. Q. Dench. As soon as a ground is secured practice will begin, as traps and birds are expected every day. The club starts with a membership of 30.

THE NEW FRENCH CABINET.

Strong in Names But Weak in Arrangement—Floquet Spokesperson's Friend.

London, April 4.—The formation of a new French Cabinet in a couple of days augurs well for its duration, but only on the condition that you do not look beneath the surface. M. Floquet, the new Prime Minister, is certainly able man, distinguishedby his deportment as presiding officer of the Chamber of Deputies. He is a Radical, and enjoys M. Clemenceau's friendship. He is even on good terms with the Municipal Council of Paris. He has collected a Cabinet strong in names, but M. de Freycinet, the strongest of all, is likely to be a source of weakness, because he the wrong [illegible] Minister of War. [illegible] does not like a civilian as [illegible] ruler. M. Goblet, as Foreign Minister, [illegible] to choose, as it were, to make [illegible] departure all more regretted. There is nothing of the diplomatist in M. Goblet. He is hot-tempered, and devoid of experience in foreign affairs:

M. Floquet will have against him the strongest and most compact of the Republican sections—the Opportunists—who are a majority of the whole, with M. Ferry, the ablest of parliamentary leaders, at their head. Moderates of every kind will go against him, and the Conservatives to a man. He has been the friend of General Boulanger, and he will now have to chose between the support and the enmity of the Boulangist party. Each, at the moment, is equally dangerous. He will have to attempt to carry on the Government in the presence of a Chamber completely disagreeing with the country, and under a President who has won nobody's confidence. There are not eight Ministers which seem to promise long life to the new Ministry.

Elected by Dexterity.

Paris, April 4.—M. Meline, member of the Chamber of Deputies from the Vosges, was today elected President of the Chamber. He received 165 votes. M. Clemenceau received the same number of votes, but M. Meline was declared elected owing to the fact that he had served a longer time in the Chamber. The Senate passed a resolution that in view of the situation a ten lengthy prorogation of the Chamber would be attended with great inconvenience. The Chamber will re-assemble on May 16, after the session of the Conseils-Generaux.

Boulanger Interviewed.

London, April 4.—A correspondent of The Pall Mall Gazette had an interview with Gen. Boulanger at the Hotel Louvre in Paris last evening. There was a long string of visitors in the corridor waiting for an audience with the General. The interviewer found General Boulanger to be a slightly beat, full-bodied man of medium height, with iron grey hair which is turning silvery. He has a kindly, honest face of the bourgeois type. His countenance shows no evidence of keenness or cuteness, on the contrary it has a weakly, dreamy and overburdened appearance.

In regard to his candidacy for the Chamber of Deputies for the Department of the Nord and his reasons for not going there to candidate his own canvass, he said that he was not like an ordinary candidate, he did not appeal to the electors on petty departmental questions, but as the representative of a great principle, therefore his presence in the department was not needed, victory being certain. The principle he represented, he said, was the revision of the constitution. The Chamber of Deputies had been elected with impotence and no power to change the people. In dissolution of the Chamber the real division of the dissolution was [illegible] Boulanger for the evil.

He declined to explain the basis of his plan of revolutionizing [illegible]: "That is my secret, which I shall keep to myself. That is my policy." He refused to explain his plans because he feared they would be criticised and thwarted before there was a chance to put them into execution. He said he would wait until the time was ripe and then reveal them. He declared decisively that no ministry formed now could last long. Three months would be the utmost limit of its life. In the meantime he intended to reserve his plans and wait.

GREENWAY IN WINNIPEG.

His Appointment the Complete Success of His Election—The Delegates Banqueted.

Winnipeg, April 5.—Premier Greenway and Attorney General Martin returned to-night and earlier pelting rain were escorted with brass bands to the centre of the city where they addressed a large crowd.

Mr. Greenway announced that his mission was completely successful, and that three independent railway lines were endeavoring to reach Manitoba by Dominion Day. The Red River road would be completed and direct competition had with the Canadian Pacific before that time. A general election would be held, and he asked if the Government redeemed its pledges that it should be sustained.

Mr. Martin also spoke.

The delegates were banqueted at Emerson and presented with an address at Dominion City.

An Embarrassing Gift.

London, April 4.—The King of Dahomey has considerably embarrassed the invalid King of Portugal by sending him a present of a consignment of half a dozen negro girls, with a message that they had been selected from the prettiest and plumpest damsels in his dominions. On reaching Lisbon these nymphs were stared much after the fashion of the garden of Eden, but they have since been decorously dressed by order of King Louis. They were first sent to the mentor barracks, where they were kept for few days in a carefully guarded wing. But this arrangement caused both scandal and inconvenience, so they were relegated to a house in the botanical gardens, where they still remain.

The Hamilton Lock Out.

Hamilton, April 4.—The Builders' Contractors' and Dealers' Exchange met last night and took into consideration the resolution passed at the meeting held in St. George's Hall on Saturday. It was decided not to rescind the resolution passed a week ago suspending all union employes. There was a meeting this afternoon of the members of the exchange and brickmakers, for the purpose of inducing all the latter to come into the exchange, and thereby shut off the supply of bricks to the union men. The latter, however, claim that they have all the brick they need for months to come, and that some of the work has already been commenced by the union men on their own account.

Making Sure.

There are many people who adopt health and diet rules when attacked by disease of the stomach, liver or bowels, this is quite right, but those who add to this treatment the use of B. B. B. according to directions, make sure of being quickly and easily cured. 2w14d

Thankful.

Some time ago being very greatly troubled with colds and coughing, I went to the drug store and got Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. In a short time I was well. I have found it a safe cure and am thankful that I did it, and now would not be without it. E. A. Schaefer, Berlin, Ont. 2w14d

A Lively Dispute.

Councillor Langford's street numbering scheme may bring on serious troubles, and it has already originated a lively dispute between two George street firms, which have already come to blows—that is, each one is "blowing" that he is the first to mount a number on his shop. There is, however, no dispute about the fact that the golden lion has the finest spread of carpets in the Midland district, consisting of brussels, tapestry, ingrain, etc., etc., together with floor oil cloths, mats, rugs, etc., ad infinitum. All for sale at importers' prices.

Gardiner had a carload of stock, farming implements and household goods, which went with the special excursion, composed of five trains, that left Toronto on the 21st inst. We wish them a speedy journey, and prosperity in their prairie homes. Following are the names of the persons who left: Mr. H. Ewing, Mrs. H. Ewing, Miss Florence Ewing, Mr. J. Gardiner and wife, Miss Jennie Gardiner, R. Gardiner, E. Gardiner, Mrs. Robert Thurston and daughter, Mr. and Miss Black, Mr J. Bell."

Otonabee Canoe Club.

Manhood Suffrage was debated at the meeting of the Otonabee Canoe Club Tuesday evening, the leaders being Messrs. J. Willis and A. Clegg for the affirmative, and Messrs. Thos. Barrie and W. H. Hill for the negative. It was a most interesting debate, the negative winning by a single point only. Mr. G. J. Smith was chairman. The election of officers was deferred till next Monday evening, when a debate will also be held on the question, "Resolved: that morality is advancing with civilisation."

The Black Valley Railway.

At Belleville the other night the evangelist, Mr. Hunter, made some observations about the drinking habit, and read the time-table of the Black Valley Railway, in which the train started from Tipplestonville station at 6 a.m., passing Toperstown, Drunkville, Quarrel Town, Delirumville, Demon's Land, etc., at various stated times and reaching its destination, across Dead River, Destruction and Damnation, at midnight—A L Cohol, agent; T O Bacco, assistant.

Shorter Hours and Co-Operation.

Three are the Two Great Planks in the Labor Platform—An Address on the Subject—Capitalists and Monopolists Denounced.

The Knights of Labor Hall was well filled by representative workingmen of the town, brought together by the announcement that Mr. A. F. Jury, of Toronto, was to deliver an address. Mr. Jury is a prominent Knights of Labor man, and was the Labor candidate at the recent elections to the Legislature in the city of Toronto. He is also one of the delegation representing the Canadian labor interests during the session of the Dominion Parliament at Ottawa.

Mr. Robt. Weir was called to the chair.

Mr. JURY began his address by referring to the work of the delegation at Ottawa, where they had been the means of securing some important advantages for the workingmen during the last session. Dealing with the aims and objects of the Knights of Labor organization, he pointed out first that it was a political one—not political in the narrow sense of party politics, but rather in the sense of organized labor as a great political party in itself, as illustrated by the recent elections in Hamilton, where the contest was fought out independent of party issues and entirely on those of labor.

A PRIMARY OBJECT

of the Association was to increase the wages of the workingmen, and that it had a good effect was proven by the fact that in districts where labor was organized wages were highest and labor was in a much better condition. The labor question depended altogether upon the law of supply and demand, and it was the objects of the Knights to gain their ends rather by this means than by strikes. Explaining how the law of supply and demand worked, he pointed out that if a man's hours of labor were decreased one hour out of ten the demand would be increased 10 per cent.; two hours, 20 per cent. Where the labor market was overcrowded, wages went down, and if the hours were shortened and the labor divided the result would be a greater demand for labor. All experience had proved the truth of this, and the Knights of Labor arrived at their ends by this peaceable method, rather than by strikes. The lawyers, bankers and commercial men thoroughly understood the fact that the less work they do the better pay they get; they drive down to work about ten o'clock and quit at three or four, and accumulate wealth. The hours of labor 25 or 30 years ago, were much longer than now, and the speaker pointed out that owing to the labor-saving machinery of to-day such constant labor was not now necessary. Another important reason why the hours should be shortened was because the reports of labor organizations showed conclusively that where the short-hour system had been adopted the average life of the workingman had been prolonged from 3 to 5 years. It had been proven too that where the hours of labor had been shortened the employes did much better work and nearly as much. Passing from this subject the speaker next touched upon which, he said, had a direct bearing upon the labor question. He roundly denounced the present system of land tenure whereby settlers coming in from other countries were given grants of land to the exclusion of the children of the present inhabitants. No government had the right to give away the land of the people in that way. For instance a man gets hold of a piece of ground in a growing city. The price of that property goes up, and a manufacturer desires to erect a factory on it. But he can't buy the lot, the price is so exorbitant. Thus an industry that might have been started is nipped in the bud, and a great loss to labor results. If the Henry George system was adopted, by which all land would be taxed according to its value, not of the buildings on it, the man owning that property could not afford to stick out for his high price. The taxes would soon eat up the land and it would revert to the municipality. The speaker also condemned the principal of paying high rents, by which many a poor struggling workingman was kept down and his wages swallowed up by the enormous rents. Capitalists, he said, were trying to scare workingmen and farmers out of the Henry George system by pointing out that if all land was equally taxed according to its value, they would have to pay still higher taxes, but the fact was that the farmers and workingmen were paying more taxes to-day than they should. The speaker said that he knew for a fact in Toronto the poor man's property, worth $900 or $1,000, was assessed for its full value, while the rich man's magnificent property was assessed for perhaps only half its value.

THE LAND QUESTION,

A VOICE—It's the same way here.

Mr. Jury, continuing, condemned the system of land monopoly as injurious to the production and character of the country. Outside of these two questions,

SHORT HOURS AND LAND MONOPOLY,

there were, he said, other great social and economic questions that working men should study and thoroughly understand. If this industrial problem was to be solved the working men must rise to the situation, study the social, political and economic phases of the question and act for themselves. He pointed out the fact that in the parliaments of the country very little attention was paid to the interests of the working classes—farmers, mechanics, fishermen, etc.,—who represented 75 per cent of the population. The doctors, lawyers and others of the so-called professional classes had labor organizations that were ten times as close and tyrannical as the trades' unions, and yet a great howl was raised if the Knights of Labor sought their rights. This world was a great anomoly. The poor workingman produced the luxuries and necessities of life for the rich man to enjoy. And why was it? Because of the imperfect social and political laws of the country that allowed monopolies to exist. The unequal distribution of wealth was referred to and the remedy for it proposed by the Knights of Labor, namely, the co-operative system, which had proved itself beneficial in England and could be made so here. The speaker dwelt at length upon the in England, and showed conclusively how it had benefitted the poorer classes. Recurring again to the base of monopolies, he pointed to the coal fields of Pennsylvania as an example. The coal barons combined and got out only a limited supply, thereby robbing the public by charging a high price for a scarce article and robbing the miner of his wages by decreasing his labor. In conclusion he urged the workingmen to read and think over these questions, to act as their conscience directed, and then they would be able to occupy the social positions they deserved.

SUCCESS OF THE SYSTEM

Mr. GEO. BALL, in moving a vote of thanks, endorsed Mr. Jury's sentiments and made some setting remarks about the professional men, who he said were highly educated and luxuriously fed at the expense of the workingmen.

The motion was seconded and carried, as well as one of thanks to the chairman, after which the meeting adjourned.

The Calico Charity Ball.

The Sums of the Town Proceeds the Charity Ball in aid of the Protestant Home—Partial List of the Guests.

The calico ball Wednesday night was a brilliant success, and the promoters must feel highly gratified at the manner in which their worthy efforts in behalf of charity have been supported by the people of the town. The inmates of the Protestant Home will certainly have good cause to thank the ladies and gentlemen who inaugurated the movement for many a long day. It was held in Chamberlain's new hotel building on Charlotte street, which had been handsomely decorated by the committee. The spacious dining-room was used as the ball-room, while in a room across the refreshments were served. The front office was treated with quite neat shelter for the accommodation of the guests. A quadrille band was that provided by the lady patronesses and so admirably served by caterer Hall. The ball-room was, of course, the chief attraction during the evening, and its polished floor was constantly occupied by a whirling throng of gay dancers. Prof. Donnelly orchestra supplied excellent music. The toilettes of some of the ladies were superb, and though confined to calico, were artistic combinations, that illustrated the possibilities of that poor, despised dress material, calico.

To Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Lewis, particularly the latter, must be ascribed a great measure of credit for the success of the ball. Both entered heartily into the project and carried it out, with the assistance of some friends, to a brilliant success.

Following is a list of the guests as nearly complete as it was possible to obtain. There are, no doubt, a great many inadvertant omissions:—

The Field of Sport.

Lacrosse and Baseball to Boom in Peterborough This Year—Meetings of the Clubs.

At the annual meeting of the Riverside Lacrosse Club at the Hub Wednesday evening, there was a large and enthusiastic attendance. President Ed. Brown took the chair. The first business was the reading of the following report by the secretary, Mr. C. J. Phelan:—

To the officers and members of the Riverside Lacrosse Club:—

GENTLEMEN,—The season of 1887 was a very successful one as far as matches were concerned, but not financially. The number of matches played was eight; of these, five were won, two drawn and one lost. The most important of the competing clubs were the "Young Torontos" and "Orillias"; however, our boys succeeded in defeating them. It is to be hoped that a greater number of games will be played this year, and that the members will begin practice as soon as possible. It is also expected that those who are lovers of the national game will contribute more generously than formerly to aid in purchasing new suits for the team. The club joined the Canadian Lacrosse Association last year, and it is for the members to consider would the same be done this year. Some foreign players and several of the old Peterboroughs have signified their intention of becoming members, therefore Peterborough may look for a first-class lacrosse team during 1888.

The receipts for 1887 were $102.95, expenditure the same.

OFFICERS FOR 1888.

The election of officers resulted in the following appointments:—

HON. PRES.—H. Calcutt.
PRES.—E. Brown.
VICE-PRES.—H. Neil.
SEC-TREAS.—C. J. Phelan.
CAPTAIN—A. Rose.
FIELD CAPTAIN—M. Tierney.
COMMITTEE—Messrs. E. Brown, C. J. Phelan and F. Pakenham.

Mr. W. A. Sanderson was appointed delegate to the lacrosse convention, which meets at Paris on April 17th.

It was decided to remain in the Canadian Lacrosse Association, after which the meeting adjourned.

There was some talk over the season's prospects, and the ardor of those present in the national game if properly developed will be the means of placing the Riversides in the front ranks of lacrosse this season. As soon as possible the club will begin practice on the Riverside Park.

Baseball.

A meeting of the Peterborough Baseball Club was held in Dr. Brennan's office Wednesday evening, at which nearly all the known ball-tossers of the town were present. The season's operations were canvassed, and it was decided to place Dr. Brennan in a position of authority as captain, with Mr. G. C. Clarke as financial manager.

The club this year will include all but two of last year's players and a number of new ones. Under the control of Dr. Brennan, who is an enthusiastic baseballist and will make a first-class captain, the club should win laurels for itself. Last year the team was managed in a rather slip-shod manner, with a most disappointing result, but, under the absolute control of such a capable leader as Dr. Brennan, the game will, without doubt, flourish like "a green bay tree" during the coming season.

Sawtelle Comedy Company.

This company will appear in Bradburn's Opera House on Monday evening next. Speaking of their performance the Burlington, Vt, Daily Free Press, Dec. 28, 1887 says:—The Sawtelle Comedy Company last evening opened a five nights engagement to a house crowded to the doors. We had previously read excellent reports of this company from the press of surrounding cities, and we are free to say that they merit every good word that has been said of them. It is seldom we have a company among whom there are no incompetent people, but this organization is entirely free from them. Mr. Sawtelle, the leading man, is an actor of more than ordinary merit, and Miss Elma Cornell, the leading lady, is a young and handsome actress, who by her earnest endeavors and natural ability is sure to be a favorite wherever she appears. The balance of the company gave them excellent support and in all things pleased the audience. The drama of "A Tangled Life" is a new one in this city and is replete with sensation and comedy, and to sum up the entire entertainment in a few words, it was an evening of unalloyed enjoyment.

Change of Business.

Mr. R. R. Kidd in a New Role.

As was announced in the latest issue of the EXAMINER, Mr. R. R. Kidd has purchased the grocery stock known as "The Pantry," established by Mr. J. Braden and recently conducted by Mr. J. W. McCabe. Mr. Kidd is well known to the public. He has had a good business training, having been for some time past in the position of manager of the dry goods business of Mr. J. C. Turnbull. Mr. Kidd assumes proprietorship and control of the Pantry with the full confidence that the business will, with the energy and enterprise the efficient service of the public with first-class grocery goods demands. It will be his practice to keep only the best and freshest goods, frequently assorted and kept up to the mark of a first-class grocery establishment. He will make "The Pantry" an emporium of household supplies, where all articles required for domestic consumption can be procured of the best quality and at the most reasonable prices. He therefore can confidentially assert his claim to a liberal share of the public patronage, certain that in the matter of quality and prices he can give the highest satisfaction.

TO THE PUBLIC:

In reference to the above announcement, I would beg to take this opportunity of extending my thanks for the liberal patronage bestowed upon "The Pantry" during my term of possession. I have great pleasure in commending Mr. Kidd to all my old customers as a gentleman of good business ability and square dealing, who will meet their wants with promptitude and satisfaction.

Late proprietor of "The Pantry."

Personal.

Mr. Robert Edwards, formerly of Dummer, has returned to Peterborough, having completed a trip around the world. He went to Australia by San Francisco and returned via London. While in Australia, where he lived the past three years, he was travelling for the Australian Atlas Company. We had the pleasure this morning of examining a large number of very fine photographs of Australia, Egypt, Malta, Gibraltar and Ceylon, views of all the principal points of interest and illustrations of the natives and their customs, taken from life. He has also a native catskin, of a beautiful spotted black and white, and the skin of an opossum, an animal similar to our raccoon. He is now on a visit to his parents here, but will return to the west in a few days.

Councillor Davidson has been confined to his house for the last few days from illness.

The Queen's Birthday.

A meeting of the officers of the 57th Battalion was held the other day to arrange a plan of preparation for a celebration of the Queen's birthday. After discussion it was decided that the demonstration should take the form of an athletic tournament and general holiday rejoicing after the good old fashion. A committee consisting of Major Bell, Quartermaster Millar, Captains Langford, Edwards and Brennan and Lieut. Hammond was appointed to prepare a programme of sports. The 43rd regiment and band, of Ottawa, have promised to visit Peterborough on the 24th, and it is possible the Victoria Rifles Band, of Montreal, may be here too. The object of the demonstration is to secure funds to purchase a set of reed instruments for the battalion band.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

THE OPPOSITION LEADER DELIVERS A BRILLIANT SPEECH.

A Great Day in the Commons—Mr. Chapleau Follows Mr. Lauzier—The Supporters of the Ministry Left in the Lurch by the Government's Surrender

OTTAWA, April 5.—Very little was done today in the House before the debate on Reciprocity was resumed, and the discussion proved, almost without exception, the most interesting of the whole. It was a strange feature of the day that the two principal speeches were delivered by French Canadians and in English, and never is better English heard in the House than when Mr. Laurier and Mr. Chapleau speak. Not merely are the ordinary grammatical rules better observed by them than by the vast majority of those to the manner born, but the style is more ornate than but the style is more ornate than is usually called into use in Parliamentary speeches, and while the strength of the language is well illustrated, its graces and beauties are brought out better than by almost any other speakers. Mr. Laurier, on rising, was received with the enthusiastic plaudits of his friends. He was suffering from a severe cold, which interfered with his utterance and made it difficult for some words to be clearly heard, but as he proceeded his voice grew clearer and the great orator appeared to the best advantage. Mr. Laurier has that indefinable power which comes of deep conviction and lofty patriotism, the knowledge that his record is without a blemish and his motives such as need not fear the most searching examination. He spoke for about two hours, making as effective a speech as even he has ever delivered.

Mr. Laurier began by twitting the Conservatives on their professions of extreme loyalty and imputed them to fear rather than sincerity. Whatever of proud position the country held to-day he claimed was due to the unceasing efforts of the Reformers of former days. There was good reason to be proud of our country, her position and achievements, yet there is one wound. There must be something wrong somewhere. When we see our population moving away there is something that demands the attention of every patriot.

The Conservatives asserted that the country was highly prosperous. If prosperity is to be gauged by comparison with other countries it may be said we are prosperous, there is not the physical want and misery here that is seen in others, but more than this is needed: We must not live wholly within ourselves, communication and trade must be extended beyond our borders or the country cannot increase in prosperity.

There is to-day a sentiment of irritation and discontent which must be checked. He quoted from Sir John's Parkdale speech in '78 in which the Premier spoke of the crying shame that owing to the policy of the Government then in power, 500,000 people left Canada for the States. He (Laurier) wanted to know if it were not far more of a crying shame that under the present Administration 1,000,000 had been compelled to leave Canada. The cause of the present discontent is that we have not a proper economic condition in labor and manufactures. All classes of people will say that the remedy is a wider range of market. The barrier between this country and the States must be removed.

Mr. Laurier then reviewed the circumstances in our own country which led up to the treaty of 1854, which had proved most advantageous to this country, but which had been repealed by the United States owing to the irritation caused by the attitude of England and Canada.

Subsequently the National Policy was taken up and advocated by the Conservatives under the contention that it would drive the United States into reciprocity of trade. That contention and the present position of the Government were inconsistent because the Government now desired to keep that policy in its entirety.

"The only remedy for the condition of affairs now existing in Canada," said Mr. Laurier, "is to adopt the resolution introduced by Sir Richard Cartwright. It would open wide to us the trade of the 60,000,000 to the south, yet the Government refuse to do this. They offer to go a certain extent and no further. They stand on their dignity and will not budge an inch. They had, however, failed in their effort to secure limited reciprocity; the United States failed to be coerced by Canada. The offer made by Canada was regarded as a threat and the threat had been unsuccessful."

Sentiments had been expressed in the States, however, in favor of Unrestricted Reciprocity. During the recent fishery negotiations trade proposals had been made by the American plenipotentiaries and though those proposals are not made known to this House, yet it is impossible to imagine them to have been other than for the complete removal of the trade restrictions existing between the two countries. The present time was eminently well fitted for sending a commissioner to Washington to negotiate for freer trade relations. Unrestricted Reciprocity would include reciprocity in natural products and the latter was advocated by gentlemen opposite, but they contended that it would injure our manufacturing industries. He disputed this idea.

"The judge of the people of Canada to-day," said the speaker, "in a mere union on paper, the heart of the people of Nova Scotia is not in the union." (Loud cries of dissent.) Mr. Laurier repeated his assertion and stated that it was the policy of the Reformers to win the heart of Nova Scotians to the Canadian flag by giving to them their natural market.

The time is coming when Canada and England must become closer friends or sundrate altogether, and if it comes to separation, he felt sure it would be peaceful, but without following out that idea he wished to say that he only desired that we could make the same proposition to England that he was now advocating for the States. The situation, however, was greatly different.

He closed with an eloquent appeal for support of the motion made by Sir Richard Cartwright and of the principle involved in it.

Mr. Chapleau rose as the champion of the other side. He is the founder and one of the best representatives of a good school of declamation, and, though somewhat broken in health and a trifle hackneyed in his style of speaking, he has still a great deal of the oratorical power which made him for years leading of Quebec. His English is not so good as that of Mr. Laurier—that is, it has not the same scholarly finish—but he is fluent and at times brilliant, especially in the expression of derision or contempt. He spoke for about half an hour before recess and an hour or more after, starting exceedingly well, but showing want of preparation before he finished. There was a patent effort to make up, in declamation what he lacked in ideas, an effort which was in a way perfectly successful, for his friends cheered him to the echo. He began with a fitting compliment to Mr. Laurier, and at once proceeded to quote a number of documents to prove that the Liberal leaders, or some of its leading members, including Mr. Laurier, had favored Protection. The best he was able to do with Mr. Laurier's record was to show that he had favored a National Policy in 1871, and that some years later he had spoken in favor of seeking to establish manufactures in Quebec. He raised a storm of applause when, after a eulogy of Sir John Macdonald and a condemnation of the Reform Government, he spoke of Sir John as snatching power from the hands of "these children," and starting the country upon an era of prosperity. After recess he continued, taking up the position of the manufacturers. He thought that the advantage to Canadian manufacturers of having the American market thrown open to them would be more than counterbalanced by the increased competition to which they would be subjected. He spent some time in protesting that the Canadian people were opposed to Annexation, and said that they were also opposed to Commercial Union, and that the former advocates of that scheme were now ashamed of it. He wanted to apply to Sir Richard Cartwright's resolution the Reform doctrines that no great constitutional change shall be made by Parliament before being passed upon by the people, and he asked with an air of triumph the familiar Parliamentary question, Where are the petitions in favor of the measure? The speech was vigorously delivered, and appeared to satisfy the expectations of Mr. Chapleau's friends.

After Mr. Chapleau concluded his speech at 9.30 the House rapidly emptied itself, several of the members going to the theatricals at Government House and others to the various nooks and corridors of the building. The debate for the balance of the night was very dreary and the speakers did their talking to empty benches.

Sir John came back from Rideau Hall about 11 o'clock, and it began to look at that hour as if a division would take place. The Government was perfectly willing to divide but the Opposition would not consent, their play being to keep the debate open until they forced Sir John and Sir Charles Tupper to place themselves on record on Sir Richard Cartwright's motion.

The speakers after Mr. Chapleau were Mr. Flynn, Mr. Wilson (Albert), Mr. Semple, Mr. Henson and Dr. Wilson, who tried to force an adjournment at 11.42. Dr. Wilson was still talking at 2 o'clock, with no prospect of a division or an adjournment.

THE COMBINES COMMITTEE.

More Evidence Taken Respecting Undertakers, Coal Dealers and Stove Manufacturers.

OTTAWA, April 5.—The Commons Committee resumed this morning, Mr. Clarke Wallace, M.P., in the chair. A communication was received from a Toronto undertaker, who desired his name withheld, complaining that his profession was overcrowded, and that though he was endowed with both brains and experience he had been frozen out by the combine. He offered practical demonstration of his ability as an undertaker, and lamented the injustice done him. Information was also read by letter of the existence of a combine among the stove manufacturers, an advance of 5 per cent. in prices having just been ordered by Toronto Stove manufacturing Company, Copp Bros., Hamilton, and Gurney Bros., Toronto. A Stratford man wrote complaining of an attempt to corner the egg market in that vicinity. Messrs. Thos. McConnell and Ald. Wm. Bell, coal dealers of Toronto, were the witnesses examined, and added further corroboration to the mass of evidence already amassed relating to the alleged Toronto coal combine. The former witness described how he had been fined and shut off from supplies with orders for 26,000 tons to fill. C. C. Ray of Ottawa Coal Cartage Company was next examined. He had been summoned as one of the founders and promoters, and was now an active controlling member, to give certain information which it had been impossible to get from the company's books or otherwise. Mr. Ray's memory, however, proved a singular blank. After a prolonged and unsatisfactory examination, he was asked by Clarke Wallace whether the coal combine at Toronto was more scientific in its workings than the one in Ottawa or not. He considered the Ottawa combine was decidedly superior. The committee sits again to-morrow.

SOMETHING MORE CHEERING.

The Central Bank Liquidators Say the Dividend to Depositors will be 75 Per Cent.

TORONTO, April 6.

The announcement made yesterday that 66 per cent. dividend would be paid to Central Bank depositors was the theme of conversation in business circles yesterday.

But there is still better news. The liquidators were interviewed yesterday, and they said that the prospects were really more encouraging than their affidavits filed before the Master showed. After the payment of the first dividend of 33½ per cent. and a second one to the same amount, the liquidators think that the balance left in hand will be more than sufficient to pay all the winding-up expenses, and that a balance will be left in hand sufficient to pay another 9 per cent. dividend.

This would bring the total amount up to 75 per cent., which the liquidators think will be realized. Expenses are being kept to a minimum, and depositors will think that their interests have been well considered when they receive three-fourths of their amounts.

This is what many people are anxious to know. The fact is that the routine work is heavier than anyone outside the bank would expect. All claims have to be examined in detail, changes made by the liquidators have to be registered, also set-off allowed by the Master. Every check has to be signed by the liquidators, which is a work of considerable magnitude and will probably occupy a couple of weeks yet. Until this is done no notice can under the Winding-Up Act be given of the date of the payment of the dividend.

RAILROAD CATASTROPHE.

A PASSENGER TRAIN PLUNGES INTO A CREEK IN IOWA.

Twelve Persons Lose Their Lives and Fifteen or Twenty Others Injured, a Number so Seriously that it is Feared they Cannot Recover.

ST. PAUL, April 5.—A special to The Despatch from New Hampton, Ia., says: A terrible accident occurred about four miles west of this town on the Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway by which at least a dozen persons lost their lives and from fifteen to twenty were injured. The train, which left Chicago at 11.30 yesterday forenoon and was due here at 2.31 this morning, passed nearly on time and when about four miles west plunged into a creek, the bridge over which had been washed away. The creek was swollen by the immense amount of water which has been running off the past few days and in addition a gorge of ice was formed which previous to the arrival of the train carried away a portion of the bridge. There was nothing to show that there was danger ahead and the train plunged into the swollen stream while running at full speed. The engine and three coaches went into the creek and were immediately submerged in the torrent of water which overflowed the banks.

A scene of the wildest confusion followed, and those of the train crew and passengers who escaped death or injury were immediately called into service to relieve the drowning or pinioned passengers. It was with great difficulty that the passengers could be reached owing to the rushing of the waters through the car windows. Those who were rescued from the smoking car, which was almost entirely submerged, were taken from the windows, some maimed to such an extent that they were powerless to help themselves, while others were nearly drowned before they could reach them. At 11 a.m. six dead bodies had been taken out from the wreck and three more are known to be underneath the debris through which the water is madly pouring, and it is difficult to reach them. It is also stated that the engineer and fireman were instantly killed or were caught in the cab and drowned before aid could reach them, but the confusion and excitement is so great that it is difficult to secure reliable information.

In addition to the passengers known to be killed, fifteen or twenty have been rescued that are more or less seriously injured. A number are so seriously hurt that it is feared they cannot possibly recover.

A relief train was telegraphed for from Mason City and telegrams for relief were also sent to Charles City and other near-by places, but it was not until several hours after the accident that a train arrived with physicians to care for the injured and additional helping hands to aid in rescuing those confined in the wreck.

AGAIN UNSETTLED.

Another Crisis Predicted in Eastern Europe—The Press Said to be in Russian Pay.

NEW YORK, April 5.—The Times' London special correspondent says he understands despatches have been received at the Foreign Office which are regarded as again completely unsettling the condition of Eastern Europe. Evidently something big is happening underneath the surface of diplomacy, which is expected to bear results very soon. Apparently, too, it is expected that this sensation will come from the East and without reference to happenings in France. There is some ground for the assumption that the recent upheavals in Bucharest are connected with this looked-for crisis. Within the past few days the complete responsibility of the Russian legation there for the whole disturbance has been made clear by the police, and proof is now said to have been obtained that all five Opposition papers in Bucharest, whose violent and scurrilous attacks upon King Charles and Premier Bratiano stirred up the riots, have been all along in direct Russian pay.

The death of the old Kaiser has made one curious difference in the whole mechanism of the Eastern question by leaving the coast clear for the return in triumph of the Battenbergs to Berlin. The old martinet was so enraged at the Queen of England for marrying her daughter to one of these Princes who, from a strict royal point of view, are not born to the purple, that he refused to recognize or tolerate any of them near him. Even Prince Alexander of Bulgaria fell under this ban, and it was more than anything else the consciousness that he fell out of favor at Berlin that prompted him to make submission to Russia and get out of sight. There was also a personal reason for the old Kaiser's wrath, because Alexander, in his elation over his brother's wonderful English marriage, was incautious enough to disclose the fact that he himself aspired to the hand of Victoria, the second daughter of the Crown Prince. This in itself would have been enough to settle the Battenbergs so far as the late Emperor went. How vastly things are changed may be gathered from the fact that a suite of apartments in the palace at Charlottenburg are now being fitted up for Prince Alexander, who is expected on a visit to the Kaiser the first of next week, and who will be received with all the distinction of an honored guest. Out of this naturally springs the rumor that his suit for Princess Victoria's hand will now be revived with the consent of Kaiser Frederick and the Empress Victoria. What truth there is in it is of course impossible to surmise, but the episode will afford a good deal of interesting speculation.

A Niagara Central Deputation.

OTTAWA, April 5.—Dr. L. Olile, president; Capt. S. Neelon, vice-president; E. A. Smith, W. W. Greenwood and John Shields, directors of the Niagara Central Railway, had a lengthy interview with Sir John Macdonald this afternoon and asked for aid for the road from St. Catharines to Toronto, a distance of sixty miles. The gentlemen were accompanied at the interview by Mr. Carpenter, M.P., Mr. Henderson, M.P., Dr. Ferguson (Welland), M.P., and Mr. Rykert, M.P.

The whole history of the Niagara Central was gone over carefully and the fullest information about its prospective operations were laid before the Premier. The directors asked for the upset aid now granted by Government to railways—$3200 per mile.

The deputation think that they influenced the Premier very favorably with their scheme and left for home this evening. All of them but John Shields live in St. Catharines. Mr. Shields came on this morning from Boston, where he has a large contract, to be present at the interview.

THE MAN OF IRON WEARY.

PRINCE BISMARCK'S SPEEDY RESIGNATION EXPECTED.

The Proposed Marriage of Prince Alexander of Battenberg and Princess Victoria of Prussia the Cause of the Chancellor's Retirement—Excitement in Berlin.

BERLIN, April 5.—The Cologne Gazette to-day publishes the following: "Great excitement prevails in diplomatic circles in Berlin over the possibility of the speedy resignation of Prince Bismarck because of the proposed marriage of Prince Alexander of Battenberg and Princess Victoria of Prussia. Prince Alexander wishes to accompany Queen Victoria to Berlin as a suitor for the hand of the Princess. The bearing of the reports is so serious that they cannot be passed over. Until the Bulgarian question shall have been settled by all the powers, the projected marriage can only be judged from a political point of view, and on that account the marriage is an impossibility.

The German policy has its root in the endeavor to avoid anything that would be likely to arouse the slightest inducement for suspicion, and in the Bulgarian question Germany must, in accordance with the declaration made by Prince Bismarck in the Reichstag, remain a wholly uninterested party. As long as Bulgaria is in question this course of action affords the only means of retaining the full confidence of the opposing government. That confidence would be disturbed in an instant if the Czar's most detested antagonist were to become the son-in-law of Emperor Frederick. As a German patriot, Prince Alexander cannot take a step which can only be the reverse of beneficial to the fatherland. The intelligence of the Prince is so highly esteemed that it is impossible for him to attempt a suit which would assuredly cost the German people their chancellor."

Public opinion in Berlin is emphatically in favor of Prince Bismarck. It is rumored that if the Chancellor resigns Count Herbert Bismarck will also resign.

The Report Confirmed.

LONDON April 5.—A despatch received here to-night confirms the report that Prince Bismarck is about to retire from the German Chancellorship.

COMMERCIAL UNION NOT DEAD.

An Elaborate Essay on the True Policy of Greater Britain.

TORONTO, April 6.

The Commercial Union Club met last night, about thirty in number, Mr. G. M. Jones presided. He said the movement was going along swimmingly. The people were talking to it with great unanimity. He had attended three meetings in the County of Oxford last week and it was surprising to find so many in favor of and so few against Unrestricted Reciprocity.

Mr. J. N. Blake read an essay entitled "The True Commercial Policy for Greater Britain." The essay was an elaborate statement of generalities on the benefits to be had from Commercial Union. He denounced the Canadian banking system as an octopus that cramped the industries of the country. He said the parties were dividing on new lines and suggested the names of Rights for the one in favor of commercial freedom, and of Lefts for the pullbacks. In regard to the Liberal party the speaker said the body still moves, but where is the head? Has it gone forever, or will it appear some day in more effulgent splendor? Time will tell. Continental freedom of trade is a sure guarantee against the necessity of direct taxation. Mr. Blake suggested the combined tariff might be regulated by representatives from both countries with the Governor-General and President of the United States acting alternately as chairman.

Mr. Mills argued that Commercial Union would increase the wealth of this country, would give us money to pay the interest due British capitalists and bondholders, and in this way it would be a benefit to the British public and acceptable to them. If freedom of trade prevailed the speaker assured the audience that three blast furnaces, to his knowledge, would be set up in Canada within three months and rolling mills also.

Mr. Steele (of Steele Bros.) agreed with the last speaker that under Commercial Union Canada would get money to pay not only her overdue interest, but her principal as well. Not only would Commercial Union benefit agriculturalists, but manufacturers would reap great benefit by reason of the extended market. Canada had great natural resources and a frugal industrious population, just what was needed to carry on successful manufactures. All our talk about Commercial Union has not been in vain. We are battering against intrenchments that have been very solid, but we are breaking them down and making breaches in the ramparts. The activity which the Americans are displaying in regard to building railway lines to the Manitoba frontier, now the monopoly has been lifted, gives a good idea of how American capital would seek Canadian industries under a free trade regime.

Mr. Lockhart Gordon addressed the meeting briefly, pointing out that Commercial Union would be readily accepted by British manufacturers, investors, and the British public at large.

The Inter-Provincial Resolutions.

Brilliant Speech of Mr. R. Harcourt, M. P. P., Upon the Subject.

We give below the speech of Mr. Richard Harcourt, M.P.P. for Monk, during the debate on the Inter-provincial resolutions. We have not been able to give space to it before, but as Mr. Harcourt is one of the ablest debaters and one of the most finished orators of the Legislative Assembly, the speech will be read with interest, even at this somewhat late day.

Mr. Harcourt said:—The subject now engaging the attention of the House, is of the gravest possible importance. It is not to be wondered at that the representatives of the Province, recently assembled in conference in the city of Quebec, should have assigned to this first resolution a foremost place in their deliberations. Those who have watched the course of public events in this Dominion during, let us say, the last 20 years, must notice, as they read these resolutions, the close truthfulness, the nice accuracy of every statement contained in the preamble to them. For example, sir, how true is it that during the time to which I have just alluded, there has arisen over and anon from one cause or another, friction, irritation, and conflict of authority between the Provinces on the one hand and the Dominion on the other. These conflicts have been necessarily attended by circumstances baneful in the extreme and prejudicial to the highest interests of all concerned. This truth, plain to even the careless observer of public events, has been most forcibly brought home over and over again to the attention of Honorable members in the House. Equally true is it, sir, that as important provisions of our Act of Union have from time to time come up for judicial interpretation, decisions have been given contrary to the well understood meaning and intent of the Act, and also contrary to what we all believe was the intention in the minds of those who framed it. No less true is it that even now in the face of the fact, that these intervening years have furnished us with almost endless discussions, arguments, and decisions bearing upon this Act, not a few of its most important provisions are difficult, if not impossible, of clear and satisfactory interpretation. Further, as our history has unfolded itself, and as in the process of unfolding fresh crises, and new junctures of events have arisen, there have been disclosed, as this preamble states, grave omissions and serious defects in the Act. On this side of the House, then, ANXIOUS and its attendant baneful circumstances, desiring to remove the doubts now existing in the interpretation of our Act of Union, and to remove from it those grave defects which recent years have disclosed, we believe that this conference met not one hour too soon in the city of Quebec. Upon the revision of our constitution depends, as has been said, not only the autonomy of the Provinces, but also the well being and growth of the whole Dominion. We contend that if the Provinces are to enjoy safe, rapid, and uninterrupted prosperity, and this Dominion is to reach, even measurably, that high destiny which we earnestly hope is in store for her, then we must secure a revision of our constitution on lines similar to those laid down in these resolutions. Believing this revision to be all important, and that Provincial autonomy, local self government and safe federal growth go hand in hand, we are assured that we have in these resolutions as important state documents as our Province ever had in its possession. The hour is so late, and so much has been already said, that I will promise to confine myself almost wholly to this one resolution. As is the case with all of them, it is temperate in tone, moderate in language, and leads to just and logical conclusions. After reminding us that the 92nd section of the B. N. A. Act assigns to the Provinces a certain class of subjects as to which they enjoy the right of exclusive legislation, it asserts that a preceding section reserves to the Federal authority the right to disallow at will any act of Provincial Legislature, and that this right of disallowance so vested in the Federal authority may be arbitrarily exercised, even to the extent of controlling the legislation of the Provinces as regards subjects plainly within their own spheres. This brings us face to face with issues of the most vital importance. They deeply concern the status and the prestige of this Legislature. If we are not to enjoy the right to legislate exclusively and finally on the subjects assigned to us, if our statutes relating to subjects of merely local concern are to be arbitrarily disallowed, then we have not that local self-government of which we boast, than our legislation is little better than pretence and sham. These subjects allotted to us for exclusive legislation, though they may not be as wide in their scope as those reserved for the Federal Parliament, are of great moment to us, since they concern our people in their every relation in life, and most closely affect their dearest interests. We cannot afford to allow the least important of the rights we possess to be arbitrarily infringed upon. Our first duty, as representatives of the Province, is, as best we can sedulously, to guard its every right and prerogative. The right of disallowance, as recently interpreted, may be so exercised as to dwarf and minimise the powers of the Legislatures, and losing sight of the federal character of our constitution, step by step to destroy our local self-government.

FEDERAL AGGRESSION.

Has this right been harshly exercised? Has the Federal authority arbitrarily abused its powers? Have attempts been made at Ottawa against the true spirit of Confederation, against the general interest, and in pursuance of a dangerous centralizing policy, unduly to minimize the rights and powers of the Legislatures? If so, then the power of disallowance cannot be safely allowed to remain in the hands of the Federal authority. This abuse of power has been most marked, this centralizing policy fraught with danger at every point, has been persevered in, these attacks upon Provincial rights have been oft repeated, else this conference at Quebec would not have been held, these resolutions would not have been passed, Manitoba would not now be in a ferment, disquiet would not now overcloud Nova Scotia, and the problems growing out of Confederation would have solved themselves smoothly and without a jar. Will any one seriously contend that the rights of disallowance and subsidy remain in the hands of those who are solely responsible for all the expense, irritation and conflict of authority growing out of the disputes concerning jurisdiction in regard to the control of liquor licenses?

Ever since Confederation the local legislatures had passed laws regulating the sale of liquor. In this Province our legislation in this direction had been, in the opinion of all classes—the licensed victuallers even concurring—timely, prudent, and productive in a marked degree of good results. The Conservative leader at Ottawa was the first to question this provincial right. In 1882 he declared—staking in the matter his great reputation as a constitutional lawyer—the license laws of this Province to be invalid, that anyone could openly sell liquor, and bidding for the votes of a particular class he promised to pass a Dominion Act dealing with licenses.

THERE WAS NO LACK OF PROTEST

on the part of this Province. Indeed, in this license conflict the federal authority found itself arrayed against nearly all the Provinces. Yet in the face of persistent protests, although urged to wait until the courts would settle the question of jurisdiction, Sir John Macdonald, anxious to take this right, so long enjoyed, from the provinces, passed his Dominion law. The Liberal party, inside of this house and out of it, resented, as best they could, this interference with the rights of the Legislature. The licensed victuallers, acting on Sir John's suggestion, took steps to test the validity of our license laws, and the Privy Council declared them to be good and valid. In the face of this decision even, Sir John refused to repeal his Dominion law, and further confusion, conflict and collision resulted. We all know the result of this long-continued struggle. The Privy Council has sustained the rights of the provinces to legislate as to liquor licenses, and has pronounced Sir John's Dominion law to be bad and invalid. And yet we are told that we can safely leave the high right of disallowance in the hands of the Dominion Premier. His record in this one matter of itself warrants us in asking for the revision of our constitution as suggested by this Resolution. For a moment, Sir, I will be allowed to allude to the Streams Bill, so often referred to in the course of this long debate.

THE STREAMS BILL.

This Act referred solely to streams in this Province; it concerned local interests only, and had not even the remotest relation to any Dominion interest. It therefore came clearly, in the light of any fair interpretation of the Act of Confederation, within the competency of our Legislature. Its object was to settle the meaning of an old statute relating to the same subject, and to provide compensation to the owners of improvements on streams, when others wished to take advantage of these improvements. Yet the Ottawa Government disallowed the Act and once more attempted to curtail the legislative rights of the Province. We passed the Bill a second and a third time, and it was a second and a third time disallowed. As happened in the matter of the license conflict, so in this case the Privy Council has decided that our interpretation of the old law to which I have referred was right, and that the contention of the Government at Ottawa was wrong. The Streams Bill, as passed the fourth time in this House, has not been disallowed, and we no longer hear any complaints concerning its provisions. And yet our friends opposite will still contend that it is all right that the federal government should have the power arbitrarily and at will to disallow every Act of this Legislature.

THE HISTORY OF THIS STREAMS BILL

calls upon all those who value our legislative rights and who wish to preserve them intact to support this resolution. Had the federal authority succeeded in these two conflicts concerning liquor licenses and the Streams Bill, the result would have been disastrous to the provinces, the local legislatures would have lost valuable rights, and local control over local affairs would have been a thing of the past. We contend on this side of the House that it is utterly unsafe and indefensible, having regard to all past experience, to allow the Federal Government to review our legislation. As has been so clearly pointed out by my friend from South Wellington, it is against all reason and equity to allow one party to a suit to select the judge to whom the appeal is to be made; much less will anyone suggest that a party plaintiff should himself be the judge in appeal as to an issue tried between him and the party defendant. The repeated acts of aggression on the part of the federal authority, its hostile attitude in this and that matter affecting provincial rights, disqualify it from any fair exercise of the right of disallowing Provincial statutes. If we pass unwise Acts in this House, the people are our judges and they will quickly condemn us. The safest appeal possible is to the voters who, each few years, review our work. In this way they share the responsibility connected with our legislation, and we thus secure their watchful interest in public concerns. We may well ask who are more likely, wisely and prudently to decide as to our local concerns, four or five members of the Ottawa Cabinet, or ninety honorable members in this House? Let us not forget that that the wants and interests and circumstances of the different localities are varied, that our population is scattered, and that a policy of excessive centralization, dangerous under any circumstances, is particularly so when applied to us. The old-time union of the two Canadas resulted in failure, because it was found that a joint control over purely local concerns was altogether impossible. Are we not to profit from the past experience? The principle of fullest local self-government is gaining ground everywhere; it is in accord with the tendencies of the age; are we now to surrender that measure of it which we have enjoyed so long? A retrospective glance at our position will shew that we have occasion to be alarmed, and that it is our duty to cry a halt. While we have successfully resisted federal aggression in different quarters, we have lost ground in more than one direction. For example, the Federal Government now interprets the right of disallowance quite differently from the generally accepted interpretation of fifteen or twenty years ago. Had disallowance been always exercised on the principles laid down immediately after confederation, there would have been no friction and no cause of complaint. In an increasing degree, year by year, the right has been strained against the Provinces.

OUR DOMINION EMBRACES A VAST AREA,

PROVINCIAL RAILWAYS.

We cannot afford to overlook the grasping policy of the federal authority always aiming at centralization, as illustrated in the matter of Provincial railways, and in the matter of the franchise. We had chartered railways and liberally subsidized them, and for long years the Province controlled them. We viewed them as local lines coming clearly within our jurisdiction. By an arbitrary exercise of power a Dominion Act was recently passed under which the Ottawa Cabinet takes control over these local railways. For nearly twenty years the Provincial voters' lists, prepared under the direction of the people in each municipality, were used in the elections for the House of Commons. The system had worked excellently, and this right of local control had not been abused. In no other way could the views of the electors be so fairly ascertained. The same system has worked admirably in the United States; it is in fullest harmony with the Federal principle. A Dominion Act, all uncalled for, has swept away this system, and the Federal authority now controls the franchise. The old system was simple, cheap and satisfactory; that which has replaced it is unjust, complicated, exceedingly expensive and productive of endless complaints. The resolution asks that the Legislature should freely exercise its exclusive right of legislation on the subjects assigned to it, subject only to disallowance by Her Majesty in Council, and that the power of disallowance should be exercised as to Provincial Acts upon the same principles as it is now exercised in the case of Federal Acts. The only change resulting from Confederation in this matter of disallowance was the substitution of the words "Governor General in Council" for the words "Queen in Council." I cannot think that it was ever contemplated that Confederation should in any way impair our rights of self-government, or that we should lose any of that liberty of action which was ours when we were directly under the control of the Imperial Government. It would be strange if it were deliberately understood that constitutional usage after Confederation should afford us less protection than it did prior to Confederation. No one can object if our Acts and Federal Acts are to be subject to disallowance at the same hands and on the same principles. This is what we ask and I claim that for the following reasons. The royal veto has always been exercised within certain prescribed and easily ascertained limits. Search the records of the Colonial Office, as we will, and we will find not a single instance in which an act of a colonial legislature, enjoying responsible government has been disallowed on grounds of mere political expediency. Has political expediency not been a factor at Ottawa in cases of Federal interference with our legislative rights? Nor will the records of the Colonial office furnish a single case in which a colonial enactment was disallowed because of a difference of opinion as to the policy of the enactment. The rule clearly laid down is, that no enactment will be disallowed if it is within the competency of the colony, and if it does not injuriously affect other parts of the empire. Had these rules and tests prevailed since Confederation, there would have been no conflict between the Provincial and the Federal authorities. The hon. member for London frequently quoted from the speeches of Liberal leaders. These speeches were delivered long years ago, and circumstances since then have greatly changed. Has he forgotten that his leader, at Ottawa, shortly after Confederation, declared that the course of local legislation should be interfered with as little as possible, that the power of disallowance should be exercised with great caution and only in cases where the law and the general interests of the Dominion imperatively demand it. Why has he not brought his leader to task for ruthlessly breaking through these excellent rules? Or will he now point to the law, or specify the general interest which imperatively demanded the disallowance of the Streams Bill? The same hon. member, in imploring tones, begged us to cease from agitation. Why not remove the cause of the agitation? Why did he not make this request of his leaders at Ottawa and bid them cease from their attempts to harass the provinces? We are not now, nor have we ever been, the attacking party.

OUR POSITION WILL BE IMPROVED,

OPPOSITION THUNDERBOLTS.

The hon. member for Toronto reads from the report of the proceedings of the Quebec Conference, and, referring especially to the views of the Nova Scotia delegates, he styles the Conference a conspiracy. Further, he expressed his opinion that this report would furnish his friends with deadly thunderbolts, which, when the elections came on, they would hurl into the ranks of the Reform party. As he uttered these ominous words, I half expected that the air would at once grow hot, that the sky would become lurid, and that lightning would flash above the ministerial benches. Fortunately, however, his thunderbolts did not materialize, and when the elections come on, we will find that they will degenerate into petty squibs, fizzing themselves away all harmlessly round the unbroken ranks of this stable government. The same honourable member treated us, as is his wont, with some moralizing on the question of loyalty. I recently read in an old English writer the sentence "There are those who think that they have discharged every obligation which they owe to virtue when they praise it." It would seem, sir, that there are those in this House who think that they may have discharged every obligation which they owe to loyalty, when they profess it. Who in this House have been loyal to Ontario? Those who year after year have struggled to maintain her rights of territory, and her legislative rights, or those who, in obedience to a mandate from Ottawa, have viewed all those vexed questions from an anti-provincial stand point? I wish, sir, to keep my promise to be brief, and I close by expressing the hope—in the face, I admit, of very plain indications to the contrary—that when the vote comes to be taken, we will for once forget party considerations and "march all one way."

How to Select A Wife.

Good health, good morals, good sense and good temper, are the four essentials for a good wife. These are the indispensables. After them come the minor advantages of good looks, accomplishments, family position, etc. With the first four, married life will be comfortable and happy. Lacking either, it will be in more or less degree a failure. Upon good health depends largely good temper and good looks, and to some extent good sense also, as the best mind must be affected more or less by the weaknesses and whims attendant on frail health. Young man, if your wife is failing into a state of invalidism, first of all things try to restore her to health. If she is troubled with debilitating female weaknesses, buy Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It will cure her. b

The Growth of the Hair.

SUICIDE AT HAMILTON.

An 18-Year-Old Girl Takes a Fatal Dose of Rough on Rats.

HAMILTON, April 8.—Ellen Elizabeth Milmine, an 18-year-old girl, died at 8 o'clock this morning from the effects of a dose of "rough on rats," administered late last night by her own hand. Ellen was, according to her mother's story, hard to keep in at nights, and was in service on East-avenue south up to Sunday night last. That night she went home, and a dispute having arisen between her and her mother, the daughter was arrested on a charge of assault. The magistrate dismissed the case on Monday, on the ground that the mother had provoked the daughter, and the latter was fined merely in court. She remained home on Monday, and the next morning was sent to her place when she informed the mistress she got chastised any time for having failed to spread bush on Monday. Yesterday evening she went out, and did not return till about 12 o'clock. She went to the back door, it appears, and after swallowing a dose of "rough on rats," then applied for admission. Soon she began to vomit, and about an hour afterwards she informed her mother that she had poisoned herself. The father of the dead girl is an invalid, and his name is Charles Milmine. The mother goes out washing, and the three daughters go to service. The eldest daughter is a good girl, and has been in one family for a number of years. There had been a son, but he was drowned at the Beach sixteen years ago.

The Police Magistrate this morning gave judgment in the case of James Miller, grocer, charged by License Inspector Mackenzie with a breach of the act in selling liquor to the City Hospital without having licensed. He found Miller guilty, and fined him $40 and 60 cents. The defendant gave notice of appeal.

The directors of the Bank of Hamilton have received a communication from Edward A. Colquhoun, the well known cashier of the bank, who is at present in England, informing them of his resignation of his position. Mr. Colquhoun had a severe attack of typhoid fever last fall, and about the middle of January went to England for his health. He writes now that the doctors there have informed him that he must take complete rest, both of body and mind and he has concluded to resign.

The police have been notified that a professional beat has been doing up a lot of boarding houses about the city. He gives a different name at every place he goes and manages to disguise himself very successfully.

A 15-days' old male child was left by some parties on the door-mat in front of John M. Lester's residence, 32 Victoria-avenue south, about 8 o'clock last evening. The babe was warmly wrapped up, but there was nothing by which its identity or that of its parents could be discovered. It was sent to the Home of the Friendless to be cared for.

COURT HOUSE STONE.

The Committee on a Still Hunt—The Ideal Found.

OTTAWA, April 5.—The subcommittee of the Court House Committee of the Toronto City Council delegated to visit the various stone quarries in Ontario to examine stone for the new city and county buildings, reached Ottawa this morning. The committee is composed of Chairman Jones, Ald. Pells, Ald. Hill, Architect Lennox and Expert J. Isaacs. The object of the committee in visiting the Capital was to examine the new departmental building, which is constructed of stone from the Miramichi (N. B.) quarries. This stone the visitors found satisfactory in color, but too expensive for the Toronto buildings.

Since the committee left Toronto, last Tuesday evening, they have visited the quarries thirty miles back of Peterboro, where they found plenty of stone but of an unadaptable nature. Seven miles north of Belleville they found a stone well suited for foundations which could be delivered in Toronto at a cheaper rate than that now being used in the Parliament buildings. At Madoc they found a good stone but too expensive. "At Bridgewater, in the County of Hastings," said Architect Lennox to The World, "we found the ideal stone. The only question is one of cost. It is a pure white marble studded with crystals. There are also blue and pink marbles at Bridgewater, but the white met the endorsation of the entire committee."

The committee will make a report to the Council on their visit. It is understood the Bridgewater white marble will be recommended and contracts called for for buildings of this stone. Of course the other stones, including Credid Valley, will be included in the bylaw empowering the committee to ask for bids. The visitors contemplated a trip to the Portland (Me.) quarries, but it was abandoned.

The Cobourg College Rebellion.

COBOURG, April 5.—The recent disturbance at Victoria College is likely to involve some of the Faculty. For some years past it has been patent to those acquainted with the college's affairs that Dr. Hannel was the leading spirit in any discussion of student discipline, and was always able by his perseniveness and oratory to have enforced whatever he cared to ask for from the board of regents. A man of no mean parts, possessed of unusual ability, apart from his intimate knowledge with his own particular subjects, he has in the past, whether for evil or for good wielded more influence than probably any man in the college. But he has always been too desirous of power and too fond of discipline, rigid discipline such as one might expect in an army, but not in an educational institution such as we have here at Cobourg. This desire for glory has caused the doctor to overreach himself lately and to endeavor to have students suspended who dared to question his authority. The whole row seems to have arisen simply because the students complained through their paper that it was unjust to ask a pass man to obtain 100 per cent. in philosophy when some of the work was of a nature impossible to remember. This seems on the face of it a foolish and unreasonable percentage, and if it be true that it was required of pass men, then they were only doing what was right in rebelling.

Successive Planting of Peas.

Peas should be planted as early as the ground will admit, in a rich, deep soil. The dwarf or bush varieties, of which there are many excellent sorts, should be sown in successive plantings through the season. The same result can be obtained to some degree by planting at the same time varieties that have earlier and later periods for ripening. From the many excellent kinds offered by seedsmen choose the ones most to your liking, and follow the directions as to planting and cultivation that are given on the packets. The wrinkled peas are more delicate in flavor and remain longer in edible state than the smooth sorts, and they are easy to select from those that are not ripened to perfection.

Petroleum as a Wood Preservative.

As a preservative of wood, hardly anything better than petroleum is known, as many persons have satisfied, and every day finding out every day, and its cheapness makes it available for purposes for which no substitute of the same cost can be found. It can be applied to advantage on corrugated posts, gates, shingles, etc., greatly increasing their durability, but should not be used with oil-base paint, for it does not dry and harden well, but wood, where it has been applied, can afterward be painted more easily than if it had not been used.

The Capacity of a Barn for Hay.

The exact weight of a body of hay cannot be ascertained by measurement, any more than if it will according to the kind of hay and the length of time it has been packed away. The rule is to measure the spaces to be filled with hay and multiply the length by the width and that by the depth, all in feet, then divide by 500, which is the number of cubic feet commonly taken to represent a ton of average hay. Sometimes, owing to quality and condition, 400 cubic feet will weight a ton, when in other cases 600 may be required.

A Sad Prospect.

How many weary broken down invalids there are to whom life is burdensome and whose prospect is sad indeed. The nervous debility and general weakness of those afflicted with lingering disease is best remedied by the invigorating and restoring properties of B.B.B. 2w14d

Making Sure.

There are many people who adopt health and diet rules when attacked by disease of the stomach, liver or bowels, this is quite right, but those who add to this treatment the use of B. B. B. according to directions, make sure of being quickly and easily cured. 2w14d

Thankful.

Some time ago being very greatly troubled with colds and coughing, I went to the drug store and got Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. In a short time I was well. I have found it a sure cure and am thankful that I used it, and now would not be without it. E. A. Schaefer, Berlin, Ont. 2w14d

How to Save Money.

Always buy the best because it is the cheapest in the end, and not only is Burdock Blood Bitters the best medicine known for all chronic diseases of the stomach, Kidneys, Liver and blood, but is really the cheapest as is needs less to cure and cures more quickly than any other remedy. 2w14d

LOCAL NEWS.

The House-cleaning Season.

In anticipation of the renewal of house hold decorations, the Golden Lion has laid in a magnificent stock of carpets, lace curtains, Gunnon art curtains, Turcoman portieres, window shades, Lancaster blinds, floor oil cloths, crumb cloths, stair pads, etc., etc. Imported goods—immense variety—reasonable prices.

A Deserving Company.

Referring to the Sawtelle Company, which appears at Bradburn's opera house Monday evening, the Youngstown Telegram, May 10th, says:—"The Sawtelle Comedy Company opened a week's engagement at the opera house last evening in "A Celebrated Case," with J. Al. Sawtelle as Jean Renaud. The play was finely staged, costumes very attractive, and the company secured deserved applause. The company is one deserving of large houses through the week."

JIM FAX

A Proper Recognition.

A Plainville correspondent sends the following item to the Cobourg World:—"Mr. R. Thompson made his last trip across Rice Lake this season on Wednesday of last week with a sleigh-load of apples for the Peterborough market." This is a most pleasing commentary and acknowledgement of the superiority of the Peterborough market, which is twice the distance from Plainville to Cobourg—with a risky trip across the lake in addition.

BEETHOVEN

The Town Well.

Round and round tramps the horse that moves the power that lifts the drill that bores the hole that is to supply water for the town; and "thud, thud" drops the heavy steel shaft that grinds the rock to powder and will soon, it is expected, reach water. Day after day this monotonous process has been continued on the market square for a couple of weeks until a depth of about 90 feet has been reached, with good prospects of water being soon discovered. The rock so-day became shelly, a sure indication of the presence of water in the immediate vicinity. Messrs. Leary & Co. expect to strike water every hour.

QUARTETTE

Complimentary.

Norwood Register:—"The Peterborough singers who came to Norwood to sing high mass at Father Conway's church acquitted themselves with honors to the town and credit to themselves. Miss Maggie McFadden rendered the soprano solos in a sweet and admirable manner. Mr. Hamilton's rendition of the "Crucifixus" was most acceptable, and Mr. Jas. Sheehy was also much appreciated in the baritone solo "Pro Peccatis." The latter's voice was a little rough-edged, owing to a severe cold and incidental exigencies. Rev. Father Conway thanked the the Peterborough contingent in a most flattering manner and made several appropriate and kindly references to his old friends in town."

OPERA HOUSE

The Telephone System.

Mr. T. H. Waddell, of Hamilton, Superintendent of the Bell Telephone Co., was in town yesterday inspecting the office here. Mr. Waddel was much pleased with the way the local branch has been managed by Mr. Keat, under whose supervision the business has grown to large proportions. To meet the pressing demands of the growing business of the company, it has been found necessary to thoroughly overhaul the branch lines here. The whole system of wires in town will be re-strung this summer in such a way as to secure better accommodation, and the central office will also undergo a re-arrangement. This was the chief object of the Superintendant's visit—to make the necessary arrangements and report to head-quarters.

TO-NIGHT.

The Queen's Birthday.

As soon as the drill shed is dry the 57th Batt. will begin drilling three times a week, in order to bring the regiment up to its highest standard by May 24th. Recruiting for the different companies is now going on.

The Toronto Empire says:—"The chief topic of conversation among the members of the Royal Grenadiers is the 24th of May trip. Invitations have been received from Barrie and Woodstock and others are expected from Guelph and Peterborough. The majority seem to favor one of the two latter places and it is likely that one of them will be accepted. The object is to have as short a rail journey as possible. The Canadian Pacific promise to make the run to Peterborough in a couple of hours."

A Reported Purchase.

The Hespeler correspondent of the Galt Reformer writes:—"It is reported here that a company, composed of Mr. A. Swan, of Hamilton, and Mr. Brodie, of Peterborough, has been formed to purchase and carry on the large mills. We trust that the report may be verified."

Everybody is suited with the quality and more than satisfied with the prices of the Boots and Shoes, now going off like hot cakes, at J. T. Stenson's store George street. There are still big bargains for the public.

The Furniture Ring in a New Role.

Mr. D. Belleghem, furniture dealer, was summoned to appear before the police magistrate, charged with breach of the carter's by-law. It appears that he had been moving furniture manufactured and handled by him in the regular way of business; this seems to have roused the jealousy of some of the carters, and he was proceeded against. In the meantime Mr. Beilegham had taken out a license, and he is now a full-fledged carter, number 16. He has not the slightest desire to interfere with the carters, but when he gets an order to pack and remove furniture—that being a part of his regular business—he has to do it. Persons having furniture to remove will not in many cases trust it to an ordinary carter—they give the order to Bellegham, knowing that, as the handling of furniture is his business, their goods will be properly packed and safely shifted, he being responsible for all damages. It is only in the regular course of his business that he does carting—the people demand his services and he is compelled to give them. 1d1w

A Case of Charity.

The charity committee of the town were the other day called upon to act in a west ward case that, when the circumstances came to their observation, brought expressions of pity from the bottom of their hearts and a desire to promptly relieve the distress of the unfortunate ones. It was the old story, a young mother dying and leaving a family of young children to get along as best they could without the maternal care and love. The father could not get work, and becoming despondent took to drink to drown his sorrows. The children, five in all, ranging from eleven to two years of age, were left almost to their fate, and but for the kind sympathy of the neighbors that fate would have been starvation or death from neglect. A number of the neighbors during the whole winter helped to sustain the family, and the other day the chairman of the charity committee was notified that better support was needed than they could afford. The committee visited the house, and a scene of desolation and poverty met their gaze. Imagine a little old house on a by-street, desolate without and cheerless within, five little children huddled together, in their rags and misery, about the oldest child, a girl, to whom these orphaned young ones (for they were practically orphans) clung and looked up to as a mother; a bare, bleak room, with scarcely any furniture but a large and scantily draped bed, in which they all slept together; only the remnant of a cook stove, in which a few chips burned drearily as if oppressed by the misery everywhere depicted; the little ones crying for a morsel to eat, and not a crust in the house, nor had there been since the day before—the hearts of the committeemen throbbed with pity at all these evidences of misery. The urgent needs of the children were at once attended to, and now they are in better circumstances. Three have been placed in the Protestant Home and the other two otherwise taken care of. Such extreme cases as this are a rarity in Peterborough.

The Dawn of Eden.

A New Craft for the Northern Lakes—How Captain Eden and Friend Wintered—The Result of his Labours. a Beautiful Craft.

Every season witnesses increased resort to our beautiful lake lakes, and every conceivable thing is devised for greater and better summer accommodation. And Captain Eden has done his share in the latest novel. On Monday next he will launch a beautiful, tidy, trim and tight little screw steamer "The Dawn," which he has built during the past winter at Lakefield.

"The Dawn" is a craft of beautiful lines, length, 45 feet over all; 9ad beam, 10 feet 6 inches. She will draw, with an ordinary passenger list, 18 inches feet of water, and her light draft will enable her to dart in and out among the islands, penetrate little bays and land tourists at islands and points where an ordinary steamer cannot touch. She will therefore who will require to be dropped at any point their fancy may suggest. To enable "The Dawn" to encounter the rocky bottoms of shoal places, her keel is sheathed with heavy iron from stem to stern. "The Dawn" has two cabins, one fore and one aft. Of course these cabins are not very large, but they are neat and finely finished. The forward cabin is well lighted with eight sliding windows; these can all be opened at once, thus converting the cabin practically into a shaded deck; but if one of the sudden storms of summer should come on, this, as well as the after cabin, can be made as close and storm-proof as a dwelling. The after cabin is furnished with similar windows, and has at the after part a well arranged lavatory and separate commode closet. The stairs to the promenade deck, which is of the whole size of the steamer, ascend from this cabin and the companionway has a sliding hatch, which, being closed, casts out all wind and rain. The promenade deck is surrounded with an iron railing and at the front part is built an octagonal wheel house, surmounted with a flagstaff for the pennant, and at the prow and stern are other flagstaffs—for the UNION JACK AND THE ENSIGN.

Between the two cabins, amidships, is the engine room, 10x12 ft., containing the boiler and marine engine with 8x10 cylinder, giving power to a 2½ steel shaft to which is attached a three foot screw. The boiler tested up to 155 lbs to the square inch, and engine occupy, of course, the middle of the room. On the starboard side is a passage leading from one cabin to the other and opening on to the gangway. This passage is separated by a partition from the machinery, and the passengers cannot have access to it, thus insuring safety and from this source. Underneath this passage, in the hold, is a coal bunker, and there is a similar one on the opposite side, the two capable of holding a week's supply of steam coal. The advantages of using coal for fuel are—the heat is more concentrated, the coal occupies less space and there are no scraggy piles of slabs and edgings filling up space and furnishing sawdust to be blown into passengers' eyes. Besides the coal gives out no sparks whatever, and there is not the slightest danger of parasols or cotton dresses being burned.

OBVIATING EVERY POSSIBILITY OF ACCIDENT

The cabins are grained in imitation of cherry and the engine room of oak; the ceilings of the cabin are PAINTED A DELICATE PEACH BLOOM COLOR.

The outside of the hull is painted—the bottom and six inches above the water line—vermillion; above a dark bottle green, relieved by a line of gilding. The upper works are of a lighter green picked out at the window frames by the color of the hull.

Captain Eden is designer, builder and captain, and he has put the knowledge he has gained by four years navigation of the back lakes to excellent advantage. He knows exactly what kind of a craft is needed for the northern waters, and "The Dawn" is a tight, well-built, snug embodiment of that knowledge, and doubtless she will win an enviable popularity with the travelling public. Next Monday "The Dawn" will be launched into her "native element" and shortly after a trial trip will be made. As she stands on her ways she looks everything a steamer for her use should be, and the EXAMINER has great pleasure in wishing that the launching of "The Dawn" will prove the dawn of a prosperous career for Capt. Eden and of many a pleasant day's journeying for the public.

Alum Baking Powders.

Their Use Injurious to Health and their Sale Contrary to Law.

Two men were recently convicted in St. Lawrence County, New York, for violating the food adulteration laws of that State by selling alum baking powders in imitation of pure cream of tartar baking powders. The law of New York is similar to that of this province in forbidding the sale of adulterated and injurious articles of food, but the courts had not before construed it in so far as it related to the sale of alum baking powders.

The baking powder sold by the accused was proved to be made of alum, by Gillett, of Chicago, and expert testimony was taken to show the unwholesomeness of alum in baking powders, bread or other food.

The Court, in inflicting the extreme penalty of the law upon the accused, expressed regret at not being able to impose a punishment more nearly in accordance with the seriousness of the offence.

The sale of alum baking powders is prohibited by direct statute in England. It should be the same here; yet our laws, if not so specific, are probably sufficient to put a stop to the business were they rigidly enforced. It is said that many brands of alum powders are being introduced into the Dominion, and we bespeak the attention of our public analysts of the matter.

A Street Improvement.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

It would oblige a good many people if the Street Inspector would cause the portion of the sidewalk on Reid street, near Charlotte, which was taken up early last fall, to be replaced.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

SPRING LIKE.—Earth has enrobed herself of her snowy fleece and in a few days will be waiting for the farmer to scatter the seed. Fall wheat looks to be in splendid condition.

PERSONAL.—Mr. William Storey intended going west this spring but he has just informed your correspondent that he purposes remaining in Monaghan for another season; no doubt some of the fair sex will be pleased to hear of his change of mind, as Mr. Storey possesses some rare social qualities.

POLITICS.—Commercial Union is stirring the people's minds. Farmers of both shades of politics look upon unrestricted reciprocity as the only legislation that will restore to the Ontario farmer his former prosperity.

SICKNESS.—Quite a number of children have been prostrated with the measles through this section.

Emerald Beneficial Association

A Promising Branch Established in Peterborough.

A branch, numbered 21, of the Emerald Beneficial Association of Canada, was organized Thursday night by the Grand President, Mr. C. Barns, of Toronto. He briefly explained the aims and objects of the Association, which are purely beneficiary, the members receiving in case of illness the sum of $4 and free medical attendance, also in the case of the death of a member, $50, funeral expenses, or in case of the death of his wife, $25. The initiation fee is graded according to age and the dues are 40 cents per month. The charter members number thirty-two, and there are several others who express a desire to join the Association later on. The officers were elected and installed as follows:—

Chaplain	Rev. P. Redfern
President	A. R. Lee
Vice President	Wm. Rudkins
Recording Secretary	C. [illegible]

Physician	Dr. Collins
Treasurer	J. P. Hurley

Assist. Marshall	M. McDonald

After business was over an oyster supper, in honor of the Grand President, was given at the American House. Mr. W. Bowman was caterer for the occasion. After supper there were toasts songs and speeches. The first toast was the Peterborough branch, responded to by Messrs. A. R. Lee and Wm. Rudkins. The grand president, Mr. Barns, replied to the toast of the Grand Association in a brief speech, detailing the history of the movement. This was followed by a song by Mr. R. Begley. Mr. C. McHugh responded to the toast "Ireland as a Nation" in a very good speech. "The Medical Profession" brought out Dr. Collins in response. Mr. G. H. Gireaux did honor to the toast "La Belle France." W. J. Devlin replied to the toast "The Merchants of Peterborough" and Mr. W. H. Bowman gave a song. "The Host and Hostess" was acknowledged by Mr. Halpin, preceded by the song "For They are Jolly Good Fellows." The singing of the National Anthem brought the pleasant proceedings to a close.

News Nuggets.

The thanks of the EXAMINER are given to Mr. T. Bradburn, now in California, for a pleasant remembrancer. He has sent by mail from Los Angeles a sample of Pacific Coast barley, the stalk in full head measuring fully five feet in length; as well as some beautiful samples of open air flowers in full bloom.

Arbor Day.

In the report of the Ontario Minister of Education it is stated the efforts of the department to secure the planting of shade trees and the cultivation of flowers in the school grounds have been heartily supported by teachers and trustees. Arbor Day has now become one of the most interesting and profitable holidays of the year. In 1883, 34,940, and in 1885 34,088 trees were planted. In a very few years, it is said, every rural school in the province will have its pleasant shady bower where the pupils can find shelter from the scorching sun during the summer months, and where their taste for the beautiful in nature will find some gratificaitons

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

LAST HOURS OF THE DEBATE ON SIR RICHARD'S MOTION.

A Dreary Day in the House—A Display of Fashion and Beauty—The Loyalty Cry Sounded Throughout the Chamber—Review of the Debate.

OTTAWA, April 6.—The was about as dreary a day as could be well imagined in the House of Commons. The House adjourned at 3.30 this morning without coming to a division on Sir Richard Cartwright's Unrestricted Reciprocity motion although the Government attempted several times to force one. The fact that there were as many Government as Opposition members who wanted to speak on the motion precluded the possibility of this. Mr. Laurier absolutely refused to treat with Sir John with a view of drawing the debate to a close until everyone who wanted to talk was given an opportunity to do so, and so when the House reassembled at 3.15 this afternoon, after a little routine had been transacted, the lonesome talk was resumed and was continued throughout the long, weary hours of the night.

Very little else was done in the House. Col. Amyot, the member for Bellechasse, speaking to a question of privilege, gave himself a paean of loyalty to the British Crown because, he said, some people had endeavored to extract treasonable sentiments out of the speech which he delivered on Wednesday. He assured the House that he was truly loyal to Her Majesty and would continue to be.

Sir Chas. Tupper was not in his seat in the afternoon, but in the evening he came in and laid upon the table a copy of the letter from Sir Lascel Wast to the Governor-General, together with the order-in-council placing certain natural products on the free list which the United States Government had placed on theirs. Sir Charles then left the chamber.

But the debate—how wearily it dragged along! It was the seventeenth day. The same old ground was gone over and over again. Occasionally a speaker would make a point which would temporarily arouse the two-thirds empty House from its lethargy. Figures upon figures were piled up. The tariff was torn to shreds by the Opposition, and as ravidly woven again by the Government supporters. Besides the trade affairs of the country the loyalty cry was sounded and resounded throughout the chamber.

It is midnight, and the great debate on Reciprocity is near its close. A division is expected between 3 and 4 o'clock in the morning. The House all night has been fuller than usual, in expectation of the vote, and the galleries are crowded with a deeply-interested audience and the best display of the beauty and fashion of the Capital they have known this season. The debate began on March 14, and has occupied fifteen working days of Parliament. Throughout it has been one of the grandest fights the Liberal contingent in Parliament have ever made. Nor will it be denied that the Ministerialists have made a bold and courageous defence, and that the whole debate is creditable to the Parliament of Canada, and would do honor to any deliberative body in the world. Up to this hour sixty-eight speeches have been made since the beginning of the debate. The speeches in support of the resolution have been made by Sir Richard Cartwright, Messrs. Davies, McMillan, of Huron; Dessaint, Charlton, Lavergne, Jones, of Halifax; Rinfret, Macdonald, of Huron; Chequette, Barron, Welsh, Ellis, Skinner, Borden, Robertson, of Prince Edward Island; Beausoleil, Paterson, of Brant; McMullen, Bechard, Landerkin, McIntyre, Brien, Amyot, Bowman, Laurier, Semple, Wilson, of Elgin; Kirk, Platt, Mills of Bothwell and Somerville of Brant. The opposing speakers have been White of Cardwell, Foster, Porter, Davis, McNeill, Tupper of Pictou, Girault, Rowan, Wood of Westmoreland, Curran, Cockburn, Mills of Annapolis, Baird, Sproule, Laurie, Kenny, Dupont, Rykert, Ferguson of Welland, Hudspeth, Freeman, Wilson of Lennox, O'Brien, Haggart, Masson, McKeen, Chapleau, Weldon of Albert, Hesson, Jones of Digby, Cameron of Inverness, Wilson of Argenteuil and White of Renfrew. Messrs. Dessaint, Rinfret, Beausoleil, Dupont, Amyot and Fleet spoke in French. The literature of the debate will cover over 600 pages of Hansard. The majority on the division so near at hand will be from 50 to 55 in favor of the Government. There will be quite a few pairs, but not so many as supporters of the Government would like. Very many of them are anxious to avoid a square vote on the question. The Liberals, however, are anxious to get their opponents on record, and have only consented to pair in the case of the members who for business or other pressing reasons cannot be present at the division.

THE GLADSTONIAN POLICY.

A VIGOROUS ONSLAUGHT TO BE MADE ON GOSCHEN'S BUDGET.

The Local Government Bill to be Accepted in Principle and Attacked in Detail—Words of Sense and Soberness from Mr. Chamberlain.

LONDON, April 6.—John Morley, speaking in Newcastle last evening, said the country was engaged in a process of transformation the full scope and purpose of which few could yet pretend to realize. He criticised the defects and deficiences of the Local Government Bill and Budget. Goschen's new taxes, he said, were frightening. The petty tax on champagne would tend to offend France for little profit.

Referring to Ireland he said Balfourism might be described in a nutshell as deliberate and arrogant disregard of every opinion and wish of Ireland. He asked if the consciences of his dissident friends could square that with liberal and popular principles. "If not," he concluded, "let them accept the majority of the party in doing justice to Ireland."

The speech pretty well indicates the line the Gladstonians mean to take toward the chief ministerial measures. The Local Government Bill is to be accepted in principle and attacked in detail. But the most vigorous onslaught will be made on Mr. Goschen's budget. Mr. Ritchie's bill is welcomed as an instalment of that democratic revolution which advances apace. Mr. Goschen's ideas of finance, however, are not according to Liberal principles, or, at any rate, to present Liberal tastes. His grant in aid of local taxation is, to Mr. Morley's mind, a long stride toward a state of socialism.

Mr. Chamberlain has been congratulated by the Midland peace and arbitration union on his recent mission to America, and he has addressed to them in reply some words of sense and soberness, probably unpalatable. Civilly but plainly he told his delegates that his errand had nothing to do with arbitration; that it did, in fact, constitute a precedent not for arbitration but for friendly negotiation. Such negotiation he thinks a more effectual mode of settling disputes than leaving them to a third person, perhaps prejudiced or ignorant. Mr. Chamberlain, I suppose, like almost everybody here—sundry amiable enthusiasts excepted—is all for peace with honor, but has little faith in arbitration as a means of preventing war.

The Duke of Norfolk arrived from Rome to-day and called on Cardinal Manning. It is confidently said by the knowing ones in Catholic circles that the so-called Norfolk mission may be regarded as terminated and as having failed. The Pope—seemingly willing to advise the Irish leaders and people to exercise moderation—has refused to give any positive undertaking to oppose the Nationalist movement.

TO SUPPORT THE ARCHITECTS.

The Hamilton Bricklayers' and Masons' Union Decide Against the Boycott.

HAMILTON, April 6.—A meeting of the Bricklayers' and Masons' Union was held last night, when this resolution, to be sent to the architects, contractors and building owners, was passed:

We, on behalf of the Bricklayers' and Masons' Union, are instructed to notify you of the following resolution unanimously adopted at our meeting held last evening: "Resolved, That this Union pledges itself to support and sustain any of our members, architects, contractors, proprietors and others against any boycotting or blacklisting by the so-called Builders' Exchange after this present difficulty is settled. We further beg to assure you that all material necessary for the construction of any building is at our disposal.

A written contract for 200,000 bricks at $6.50 per thousand has been closed by the union members with the brick-makers, and a verbal contract for 300,000 has also been made and secured by a cash deposit. The Brick-makers' Association yesterday asked the Union to rescind the contract, but the latter refused.

Three or four new jobs were commenced to-day by union men.

A St. Catharines painter was here in search of men a few days ago. He represented that everything was all right in St. Catharines, and thus secured seven men. He treated them like princes and got them as far as the station. A telegram was then sent to St. Catharines asking if all was right there. The reply was that there was trouble, so the union men did not go from here.

The masters state that a number of tinsmiths have withdrawn from the union and gone to work as non-union men.

The Bricklayers' Union to-day received a check for $500 from the American International Union to help them carry on the battle, and the preparations being made look like a long siege.

Wan't Condemn Henry George's Writings.

LONDON, April 6.—The Chronicle's correspondent at Rome says that in consequence of a recent letter from Cardinal Gibbons, the congregation of the Index Expurgatorius has decided not to condemn Henry George's writings.

Wanted the Insurance.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Gersen Segur, a Pole, last night attempted to burn the big tenement house in Delaney-street for the purpose of getting the insurance on his furniture. He was arrested.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Honorah Doyle, relict of the late Timothy Doyle, died at Dundas yesterday at the great age of 107. Mrs. Doyle has been more than half her lifetime a resident of Wentworth County. Almost up to the hour of her death she was in possession of all her faculties.

The Master-in-Ordinary has fixed May 1 as the date for payment of the first dividend to creditors of the Central Bank. This will be 20½ per cent. A second dividend of a similar rate will shortly be announced, and a third one of lesser amount is well nigh a certainty.

LATEST MARKET REVIEW.

TORONTO, April 6.—Money on call is quoted at 5 and 5½ on debentures, and at 5½ to 6 per cent. on stocks, and for discount the price is 6½ and 7 per cent.

Another dull day was experienced on St. Lawrence Market. There were no special changes in prices. Hay was a little easier, $15 being the highest paid for the best timothy. On the grain market two loads of oats sold for 50c per bushel and one load for 50½c. One load of goose wheat brought 73c per bushel.

LIVERPOOL GRAIN MARKET.

Liverpool—Spring wheat 6s 6d to 6s 6d, red winter 6s 7d to 6s 8d, No. 1 6s 6d to 6s 8d, corn 4s 9½d, peas 6s 5d, pork 67s 6d, lard 36s 0d, bacon 36s 3d to 40s 6d, cheese 60s

The French Chamber Adjourns.

PARIS, April 5.—In the Chamber of Deputies, M. Mellne thanked the House for the honor of his election. He accepted the task in the interests of the country. He requested the support of all, including those who had voted for M. Clemenceau, in order that he might surmount the universal difficulties attending his new duties. The Chamber then adjourned till April 19.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

The Railway Committee—Hon. J. A. Chapleau to be Made Postmaster-General.

OTTAWA, April 6.—In the House of Commons this morning, Mr. Kirk of Nova Scotia followed Dr. Wilson, and expressed the great dissatisfaction in his province over the existing public policy and the desire for the repeal of Confederation. He favored Reciprocity as a remedy.

It being now after 3, the Tories began to sing "Auld Lang Syne," and were rebuked by Messrs. Mulock and Davies for their disorderly behavior.

Dr. Platt rose at 3.30 to move the adjournment, but the Government evidently had determined to give the House out and force a division.

Mr. Laurier, however, agreeing that the division should be taken at the next sitting, Sir John consented to an adjournment at 3.39.

Dr. Platt will resume the debate to-night.

Considerable business was done in the Railway Committee to-day. The application of the Calmook Belt and Peace River Railway Company for a charter was considered. The Northwest members opposed it on the ground that it was being sought for speculative purposes. The Government promised to cancel the charter if substantial progress in construction was not made by next August. The Canadian Pacific Railway's application for a charter to construct lines from Lachine to connect with the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg system was allowed to stand till next Friday. The application of the G. N. W. Central Railway Company for confirmation of their charter came up again.

A rumor is current to-day that Hon. J. A. Chaplean is to be made Postmaster-General, succeeding Hon. A. W. McLelan, who will return to the Finance Department. Sir Charles Tupper, so the story goes, will be appointed Lieut.-Governor of Nova Scotia in July, owing to ill health.

The Quebec Central Railway wants half a million from the Government to assist in extendingits line via Maine and connecting with the Canadian Pacific Railway at Moose River Junction.

The Marine Department has been advised of a capture of 4000 seals at Bird Rocks yesterday. The slaughter was terrific.

THE YANKEE AND THE MOOR.

Indemnities and Apologies Demanded by the United States Government.

LONDON, April 6.—A despatch to The Independent Belge from Madrid says the United States Government refuses to accept the proposed mediation of Germany in the dispute with Morocco, and demands suitable indemnities and apologies. It is feared that the United States steamer Enterprise will bombard Tangiers.

In the House of Commons yesterday Mr. Fergusson, Parliamentary Secretary of Foreign Offices, stated that Her Majesty's Government had not offered to mediate in the differences between the American Consul at Tangier and the Moorish Government. The English Minister had done what he could do with propriety to bring about an understanding without success.

A Satisfactory Settlement Expected.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—It is generally expected that a satisfactory settlement of the differences between the American and Moorish Governments will be effected through the mediation of the British, French and Italian Ministers.

The Judge Wants No Firearms in Court.

BRANDON, Miss., April 6.—This is the sixth week of the trial of Col. Hamilton for the murder of the young Prohibition editor Gambrell. The sensation of to-day was caused by the court ordering the Sheriff to search every person applying to be admitted into the courtroom to-morrow, saying that if any pistols or other deadly weapons were found that he would visit the severest punishment in his power. Since the trial began it has been a notorious fact that the partisans of both sides had pistols in their pockets, and since the little trouble between the opposing lawyers, two days ago, in which the Sheriff prevented blows, a row has been imminent.

THE BUCKET SHOP MUST GO.

Senator Abbott's Bill Read a Third Time—Crime in Toronto.

OTTAWA, April 6.—The Senate sat till 5 o'clock this evening and adjourned till Monday. Several bills were advanced a stage.

In answer to Mr. Alexander, Mr. Abbott said all the licenses of the chartered banks would expire in 1891. Before that time it was the intention of the Government to inaugurate an exhaustive enquiry into the banking system of the country.

Mr. Alexander took occasion to make his usual tirade against dishonest bank officials and other offenders. He said a good thing would be to have a public execution in the market square in Toronto of the man who threw the vitriol into young Sievert's eyes, and of several alleged bank defaulters whom he vaguely hinted at. Mr. Alexander having made the further statement that crimes of violence were very prevalent in Toronto, Hon. John Macdonald said this was not so to any further extent than prevailed in all centres of population.

The Senate went into committee of the whole on Mr. Abbot's bucket shop bill and considered it clause by clause. Little or no exception was taken to the bill as it progressed and it was reported back to the House without amendment. The bill was then read a third time without a dissenting voice and ordered to be reported to the House of Commons.

To Vote on a Scheme.

ST. MARYS, April 6.—A bylaw will be submitted to the ratepayers of this place on April 23, for the granting of a bonus of $30,000 to the Maxwell Company of Paris, manufacturers of agricultural implements, on condition that they will remove their works to the former town. It is believed that the bylaw will carry.

GERMANY'S CROWN PRINCE

VIVID WORD PORTRAIT OF THE HEIR APPARENT.

The Kaiser Dead, the Kaiser Dying and the Kaiser To Be—A Thorough Prussian—What Will the Firebrand do When He Comes to the Throne.

NEW YORK, April 6.—The Times' Berlin letter says: Picture to yourself a young man in his thirtieth year, 6 feet in height, straight as an ash sapling, with finely-formed, slender limbs, narrow hips, swelling chest and square, broad shoulders, with a smallish head on a long, full-throated neck, held proudly upright, and an oval face, with an aquiline effect of profile, clear-cut, strong chin, bended nose, prominent though not high cheek bones, and good open forehead—all as regular in ensemble as a Greek triumphal arch, with clear, sharp, cold gray-blue eyes, light brown hair, close-cut behind, but longer on the crown, and rising from the temples to form a sort of ridge from the parting across the brow, and a yellowish moustache heavily curled up at the ends—and you have such a portrait as words can paint of William Crown Prince of Prussia and coming German Emperor.

All Europe, with its thousand sons of royal houses, does not present another such regal figure. The Kaiser who is dead and the Kaiser who is dying have, by their photographs, familiarized all the civilized world with two striking and splendid physical ideas of a soldier who looked every inch a king, but each gained much by the effects of beard, of lines of care in the face, and of impending corporeal bulk. They were impressive, in the sense of a noble old mastiff, or of a huge, honest, shaggy, deep-chested bear hound. This young man suggests instead the notion of a perfectly-bred sleuth-hound, under whose smooth, delicately-soft coat lie muscles of steel, and in whose mouth—sinister legacy of nature—is the inherent taste of human blood. Not that his face is sullen or savage in its expression. Its habitual cast in repose is calm, self-possessed, somewhat meditative, without wrinkles either on the brow or at the ends of the mouth. The eyes, too, are grave, intent, without being severe. And I saw this face light up the other night when William, after bidding the English Princess goodbye at the station, turned and walked down the space cleared through the cheering crowds to his carriage—with a very sweet and winning smile. Nothing could have been more gracious or kindly than his blonde countenance, as William glanced along the rows of faces as he walked and lifted his finger to his cap in easy, pleased recognition of the cheers.

William is very deeply and thoroughly Prussian. He is a living, breathing embodiment of all the qualities and lack of qualities which, through precisely two centuries, have brought the little mark of Brandenburg up from a puny fief, with a poor, scattered population of a million and a half, to the state of a great kingdom, ruling nearly fifty millions of people and giving the law to all Europe. He is saturated with all the instincts and ideas which have raised this parvenu Prussia to her present eminence, and his character is the crown and flower of these two centuries of might and ruthlessness and spoliation exalted into a creed.

When a young man stands upon the very threshold of an imperial career, and we all know that it is a mere matter of months before he will be the autocratic master of 2,000,000 armed men, it isn't of much importance whether he is nice or not. The real question is, What will he do?

The most common answer is that he will overrun Europe. One of the really great essays of the decade, Taine's recent study of Napoleon, has its basis in the idea that the Corsican marvel was a freak of heredity—a strange, posthumous brother of the mediæval mercenary soldiers of Italy. It seems very probable that some future Taine, a century hence, perhaps, will write to show that William II of Prussia and the German Empire was a mysterious, isolated survival of the ante-mediæval Goths and Vandals—an Attila born a thousand and more years after his time. Prince William is, in truth, as purely North German by heredity, as wholly a product of Wend and Saxon and Goth and Hornessian intermixture, as can be found. One may call him, indeed, a culmination of the Hohenzollern type of soldier-statesman, reached curiously enough by the same crossing of blood which produced Frederick the Great.

Nobody with eyes in his head could have passed the week just ended in Berlin without recognizing that if a firebrand comes to the throne the materials are close-crowded upon him for a terrible conflagration. Although the great bulk of the military visitors who thronged to the funeral have gone home again or back to their posts, I still have the sensation of being a lonesome civilian in the centre of a gigantic armed camp. Even now, when I go down stairs in this hotel to eat my dinner, one half the men at the tables are officers in uniform. The elevator boy touches his cap to me with a military salute. The waiters when they receive my order turn on their heels like fusiliers under the eye of a drill-sergeant. The military spirit pervades everything and everybody.

What this means is that the army here in Germany will utterly swamp what organized pacific instincts there are in the Empire the moment a young fighting Kaiser draws his sword and cries out: "Who will follow me?" The fact of the existence of Bismarck's colossal army will magnify itself in the popular mind; the spirit in which he built it up, the peaceful intent, the patriotic aim—will all vanish like steam on a lamp chimney. Kaiser William II, in the glamour of his youthful distinction of face and figure, of his deep Teutonic prejudices, of his all-controlling belief in himself and his race and his destiny—could hurl a practically united Germany in warfare east, west or south a month after he had ascended the Hohenzollern throne. The whole German nation from Basle to Konigsberg would rise to his enthusiastic support. Every young man from Thorn to Coblenz would burn to ride with him for conquest and glory.

This is not a pleasant or humane conclusion, but it is a necessary one. The lesson taught by Prussia's success—by the rise of the Hohenzollern dynasty—is an object lesson in blood and iron which has not been lost on any German mind. Every youth, from the humblest field laborer in Thuringia to the Crown Prince who waits upon the very doorsill of imperial power, has that lesson ingrained in every fibre of his being. That is why this young heir to the German imperial dignity has seemed to me better worth studying than anything else in Berlin.

The hotelkeepers of Burlington and Oakville are getting their premises ready for opening up as soon as licenses can be procured.

CHRISTIAN PLEASURES AND AMUSEMENTS.

SERMON BY LAYMAN.

(Written for the Examiner.)

My definition of a true Christian is that he is a man of God. That he lives to the honor and glory of God. That he lives for God alone. That he realizes that this earth is not his home. That it is a mere way station leading to a better and higher world. This being, so the pleasures and amusements of the world are not for him. His thoughts are made up of other things. And as he does, so he believes the church should do also. The minister of the church should lead the way and should set an example of duty and right. It is expected that when a man is what he ought to be, his heart is with the Lord. And being with the Lord his thoughts are with the Lord also. And thus his acts follow his thoughts and they must partake of such things as belong to the follower of the Lord. Now the Lord himself set us an example of what his people are to do. He showed the people that religion and the world run in opposition to each other, and that where the world and its pleasures were, there he was not. Neither he nor his apostles ever shared in any amusements which were of a secular character, or in amusements which were intended for pleasure or profit. Their mission was for the one purpose of religion alone and they have never been charged with any act which could in the remotest degree be said to partake of levity or frivolous conduct or which could tend in any way to withdraw their minds from the serious and solemn duties before them. Christians, therefore, who desire to follow Christ must do as He did. Their work in this life being to prepare for the life to come, they can have no time to waste in pleasures which can give them no assistance in making ready for the great future of eternity before them. Their pleasures consist of those things which affect the soul's welfare and which will, in a religious sense, make them wiser and better. They feel that their lives here are too short to suffer even the loss of a moment upon objects unworthy of their Christian character. And as consistent Christians they feel that they owe a duty to others in setting them a good example and thus to lead them in the way of truth and righteousness. It may be said by those professing, but nominal, Christians, that this standard of religious life is too harsh and too strict, that Christians must have recreation and amusements. But this is a mistake, for the real, earnest, sincere Christian has no pleasure but what befits his character as such, and his great aim and desire will always be to honor his Lord and Master, and to secure for himself those eternal blessings which alone can compensate for all he has done and all he can do to honor his Lord and Master, who alone can bring him happiness and peace. If this world is, as it is said to be, a mere temporary stopping place for the purpose of fitting man for a higher and a nobler sphere in the world to come, then man should realize this important fact, and should live accordingly. Live so as to secure the joys of Heaven when this earthly career is over. Man cannot put on and put off at his own will the duties and the obligations, the observance of which are so necessary to his eternal salvation. God will not be dealt with in this way. If man gives himself to the Lord he must serve the Lord alone. He may be in the world but he is not of the world. He must not only lead a consistent life himself, but he must so live as to lead others to see and to follow his example. He should have nothing to do with the mere empty pleasures of the world, pleasures that only tend to draw away the heart from more serious things. And if he is what he professes to be, a real, sincere, true Christian, with his heart wholly given to God, his pleasure and his comfort will consist of serving the Lord, and so save his own soul. Many persons no doubt will say that if all this be true it is hard to be a Christian. So it is, to the mere devotees of the world, but not so to the real Christian. The seeker after pleasure wants excitement and amusement, but the seeker after God is at peace with the world and is satisfied to serve his Lord alone, knowing that his Lord alone can give him that peace which passeth understanding. And knowing also that the loss of this world's pleasure is as nothing compared to an eternity of pleasure and happiness in the world to come. He therefore freely gives up the world here, with all its allurements, because they are mere fleeting things and without substance, and because he is laying up his treasures where moth and rust do not corrupt and where thieves do not break in and steal. All those who think and act otherwise, think and act as free agents and are themselves alone responsible for the consequences. And if they imagine that they can take hold of the pleasures and amusements of the world and at the same time become Christians after the life of their Divine Master, they deceive themselves and some day will find it out with a terrible awakening. A Christian cannot divide his time in this life and give one part of it to the world and the other part of it to the Lord. He must either serve Him with all his might and all his power or he serves Him not at all. There are plenty of professing Christians who are willing to give God part of their time, and very few indeed who serve Him day and night without ceasing. The former cannot afford to live to Christ alone, they find pleasures in the world and they want to enjoy them, and henceforth when there is a more favorable time they will serve the Lord. But every minute, to a Christian of God, represents the life of an individual, who must work while it is day, for the night cometh when no man can work.

The Sewerage Scheme.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

Some of our wise councillors appear to be possessed with the idea that they must immortalize themselves by doing great things and plunging the town into debt. They are ambitious, but their ambition takes the form of spending other people's money. And they seem to think that they can manage other men's business better than they can manage their own. Just now they have in contemplation a great scheme of sewerage for the town, which will cost hundreds of thousands of dollars which no one has asked for and which no one wants. It is a mighty pleasant thing for some men to swagger about and spend other people's money. They think that war is not for them the world would fall back into chaos again. Some of the people of Peterborough have seen just such wonderful individuals as these before. They believed that they had a high destiny to fulfil, and so they strutted about for a time and then they were gone. And so I suppose it will be again. But the town will survive and all that will be left of them will be their foolish hopes and an ambition which will display itself in some other country. If these councillors imagine for one minute that they are going to ruin this town for the sake of making great men of themselves they will find themselves most woefully mistaken. They must not think that because they happen to be in the town council they have any additional wisdom conferred upon them which they did not possess before. They were plain A.B.C. before and they are nothing more now. If they really want to signalize themselves let them do it by practising economy in the council and saving the money of those who sent them there. Many a greater man than they has failed to do impossibilities and they will fail also. And if they want to do something let it be something that is needful and something that the people require. They will never succeed in making the public believe that they do not know what they want and when the ratepayers ask them to do a thing it is quite time enough for them to do it. They will never succeed in this great costly scheme of sewerage, and the sooner they realize this the better.

PLACED ON THE FREE LIST.

Full Text of the Proclamation Referred to by Sir Charles Last Wednesday.

OTTAWA, April 6.—The proclamation bringing into force the Order-in-Council placing certain articles on the free list, referred to by Sir Charles Tupper on Wednesday last, reads:

Whereas, in and of the Revised Statute of Canada, Cap. 33, intituled, "An Act Respecting the Duties of Customs," it is amongst other things in effect enacted that any or all of the following things, that is to say, animals of all kinds, green fruit, hay, straw, bran seeds of all kinds, vegetables, (including potatoes and roots) plants, trees and shrubs, coal and coke, salt, hops, wheat, peas and beans, barley, rye, oats, Indian corn, buckwheat, and all other grain, flour of wheat, and flour of rye, Indian meal and oatmeal and flour or meal of any other grain, butter, cheese, fish (salted or smoked), lard tallow, meats (fresh, salted or smoked), and lumber may be imported into Canada free of duty, or at a less rate of duty than is provided by this act, upon proclamation of the Governor-General-in-Council, which may be issued whenever it appears to his satisfaction that similar articles from Canada may be imported into the United States free of duty, or at a rate of duty not exceeding that payable on the same under such proclamation when imported into Canada;—

And whereas it has been shown to the satisfaction of our Governor-in-Council that the articles hereinafter specified may now be imported from Canada into the United States free of duty,—

And whereas in the opinion of our Governor-in-Council it is expedient that the said articles should be admitted into Canada from, the United States free of duty,—

Now know ye that under and by virtue of the powers vested in us by the said act, and by and with the advice of our Privy Council for Canada, we do by these presents proclaim and declare that the following articles are admitted free of duty:

Seeds—Anise, aniseatar, canary, caraway, coriander (crude), cardamon (crude), chia, cinnamon (crude), fenugreek (crude), fennel (crude), jute, mustard (brown and white), sugarbeet, seeds of fruit trees, sesame.

Plants, trees and shrubs—Apple, peach, pear, plum, cherry, quince and all other fruit trees; gooseberry, raspberry, blackberry, currant and rose bushes, grape vines; shade, lawn and ornamental trees, shrubs and plants.

Many telegrams were received in the Capital to-day from seedsmen in various parts of the country who do not seem to exactly understand the position of affairs. It will be noticed that the proclamation says that all seeds may be placed on the free list, but the only ones that have been placed there are those mentioned above, principally used by confectioners. Garden seeds are not included

An ugly complexion made Nelli e a fright,
Her face was all dimpled and red.
Though her features were good, and her blue eyes were bright,
"What a plain girl is Nellie"! they said.

But now, as by magic plain Nellie has grown
As fair as an artist's bright dream;
Her face is as sweet as a flower new-blown
Her cheeks are like peaches and cream.

As Nellie walks out in the fair morning light,
Her beauty attracts every eye,
And as for the people who called her a fright,
"Why, Nellie is handsome"; they cry.

And the reason of the change is that Nellie took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which regulated her liver, cleared her complection, made her blood pure, her breath sweet, her face fair and rosy, and removed the defects that had obscured her beauty. Sold by druggists. o

FOR THREE WEEKS I was suffering from a severe cold in my head, accompanied by a pain in the temples. I tried some of the many catarrh remedies without any relief. Ely's Cream Balm was recommended to me. After only six applications of the Balm every trace of my cold was removed.—Henry C. Clark, 1st Division New York Appraisers' Office.

I WAS TROUBLED with catarrh in my head to an annoying extent for three years. After using one bottle of Ely's Cream Balm I was entirely cured.—Wm. J. Cline, Victor, N Y. eodw14

The Growth of the Hair.

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic the scalp will be kept in a clean and healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

Baseball Games Yesterday.

At Indianapolis the league representatives of the League suffered defeat at the hands of the Cleveland Association team by a score of 10 to 4.

At Cincinnati, the Red Stockings downed the Pittsburgs by a score of 8 to 4.

At Washington the league team played an exhibition game with the Athletics of Philadelphia, defeating the latter by a score of 5 to 4.

At Birmingham, Ala., the world's champions, the Detroits, were beaten by a score of 9 to 6.

Sweet Scent from the Diamond.

Kilroy, who has served as pitcher for the Baltimore Baseball Club, left after having refused to sign for $2300. He demanded $2500, which the management would not agree to, as they state, in justice to other members of the club. Manager Barnie says he could not agree with any other club.

The clerks in the municipal departments of the city hall at Hamilton will shortly organize their baseball team for the season.

No gymnasium practice will be indulged in by the Rochesters this spring. It proved of more harm than benefit last year.

A Hamilton exchange says: There is one Gentleman in the International Association this year. He is with the Albanys.

Wood and Moore will be the battery for the Hamiltons to-day at the Ambitious City with McPherson's team.

It is claimed that Elmer Foster of the New Yorks ran around the bases at Charleston in 14 4-5 seconds. This beats the records made last fall on the Brooklyn grounds.

Manager Leonard of the Rochesters says that the Calihan brothers will prove a great battery this season.

Con Murphy, the windy pitcher of the Syracuse Stars, thinks that there is no team in the International Association to compare with the Stars except Buffalo, and that they can beat that team.

The Milton Baseball Club has been reorganized for the coming season with the following officers: Hon. Pres., W. L. P. Eager; Pres., Dr. Stuart; Vice-Pres., John Wallace; Sec.-Treas., John Deyer; Directors, A. Duff, J. Wallace, J. J. Chisholm; Manager, Jos. Mont.

A WHOLESALE SACK.

Sunday Recording the Men in the Grand Trunk Railway Shops at Hamilton.

HAMILTON, April 6.—Among the employes in the Grand Trunk shops a rumor is current that on or before April 11, 25 per cent. of the 660 men employed in the shops are to be discharged to reduce expenses in view of the loss of business due to the Chicago strike. A reporter saw Mr. Stiff this morning. In answer to a question as to the correctness of the rumor, Mr. Stiff neither denied nor admitted its truth. "I don't know anything about it," he said. "You had better see Mr. Donnville. I do not really think there is anything in it." Mr. Donnville was also seen. He refused either to deny or admit the truth of the rumor.

James Enright, a young man in charge of the parcel office at the Grand Trunk Station, developed symptoms of insanity this morning about 9 o'clock. He was noticed to be acting and talking very strangely, and shortly afterwards he went over to a passenger train standing on the siding. He took hold of the bell rope, and exceedingly strong and tightly-woven cord about half an inch in diameter, and broke it like a thread. He then pulled half a dozen yards out of the cars and took it back to his office, where he removed his coat and hat and was looking for a suitable place to fasten the rope, with the evident intention of hanging himself, when some of the other employes discovered him and took him to his home in a hack. Enright is subject to attacks of insanity, and at times it takes six or eight men to control him.

It is expected that in a few days a contract will be closed for the erection of a meat canning factory on a large scale. The negotiations are now pending.

THE VENEZUELA BOUNDARY.

Brought up in the U. S. Senate—Dr. Mary Walker Gets a Pension.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—In the Senate today Mr. Riddleberger (Va.) offered a resolution on the subject of the territory reported as recently acquired by Great Britain from Venezuela, and calling on the President for correspondence in any way appertaining thereto, or requesting him to take such other and further action as may be compatible with the public interests. The resolution was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations.

A number of pension bills were passed including one giving a pension of $25 a month to Dr. Mary E. Walker as a late assistant surgeon of the United States Army."

Land Companies' Dividends.

LONDON, April 6.—At the annual meeting of the Scottish Ontario and Manitoba Land Company, in Glasgow, it was stated that the company had sold £50,000 worth of property and realized a surplus over cost of £6000, which, with rents, made an actual profit of nearly £8000. The report was adopted and a dividend of 3 per cent. declared. At the meeting of the North British and Canadian Investment Company, at Glasgow, the formation of an assets company was urged to take over property represented by a large amount of mortgages issued through the non-payment of interest. The report was adopted and an 8 per cent. dividend declared. Coates, Son & Co. offer £44,000 of 4½ per cent. debentures of the City of Quebec at 107 per cent.

Protection Against Birds.

Every season insurmountable contrivances are invented and employed to frighten birds away from cherry trees, grain and other fruits. The one represented in the cuts was originally suggested in Popular Gardening, and, it is claimed, has been found effectual.

MONSTER OF THE AIR.

As will be seen on examining the cut, this is an improvement over the potato stuck with feathers, to which the birds soon become accustomed, finding it not possessed of life. For the body of the monster take a long mangel wurtzel, a large parsnip, or a mammoth beet. Into this thrust feathers along what is to be the back and sides, with two set in the head for horns. For the tail, the feathers are mounted on light twigs, the object of this being to keep the suspended monster living by turning with the wind. The eyes are important parts for giving a fish-like appearance. These consist of two bits of broken porcelain, thrust into the root from the top downward, and with eye holes gouged out of the sides to these.

Two small spin wheels are projected forward of the eyes, to add horror to the look. They are made of circular pieces of tin, about four inches across. These are cut from the edge to near the center into about ten or more radiations, and the parts given a slight twist, windmill like. A wire nail through the center attaches each wheel to the end of a stick, and on this it should revolve in every slight breeze.

For suspending it, a cord which encircles the body is carried up to one end of a half hoop shaped iron rod, the other end of which is bolted to a pole that is raised slightly above one of the trees to be protected. Then the monster bobs about and turns with the wind, the spin wheels fly and clatter, and altogether there is a dreadful look to strike terror to avil doing birds, even those disposed to boldness.

A Sad Prospect

How many weary broken down invalids there are to whom life is burdensome and whose prospect is sad indeed. The nervous debility and general weakness of those afflicted with lingering disease is best remedied by the invigorating and restoring properties of B.B.B. 2w14d

Making Sure.

There are many people who adopt health and diet rules when attacked by disease of the stomach, liver or bowels, this is quite right, but those who add to this treatment the use of B. B. B. according to directions, make sure of being quickly and easily cured. 2w14d

Truthful.

Some time ago being very greatly troubled with colds and coughing, I went to the drug store and got Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. In a short time I was well. I have found it a sure cure and am thankful that I used it, and now would not be without it. E. A. Schaefer, Berlin, Ont. 2w14d

How to Save Money

Always buy the best because it is the cheapest in the end, and not only is Burdock Blood Bitters the best medicine known for all chronic diseases of the stomach, Kidneys, Liver and blood, but is really the cheapest as it needs less to cure and cures more quickly than any other remedy. 2w14d

SATURDAY, APRIL 7, 1888.

LOCAL NEWS.

The Weather.

West to northwest winds; fair weather; not much change in temperature.

Sun Spots and Cold Weather.

The blizzard—minus the snow—of yesterday and to-day is caused by spots on the sun—producing atmospherical disturbances. It is a rather stiff sort of spring zephyr. But it's an ill wind which blows nobody good; it has brought with it, for the golden lion, she delayed carload of millinery and mantle goods from new york. r. fair's grand millinery reception will take place next week, Tuesday, April 10th, to which every lady in town is invited. A magnificent display of millinery and mantles.

Of the Very Best.

The Sawtelle Comedy Company appears in Bradburn's Opera House next week, and the Bradford, Pa., Era has this to say about it: "The Sawtelle Comedy Company gave an excellent rendition of "The Orange Girl" last night at Wagner's Opera House to a large and delighted audience. This excellent organization has steadily pleased a succession of large audiences during their stay in our city. They came here strangers in our midst, and some of our citizens hardly realized that a first-class entertainment could be given for so small a price of admission. The first performance convinced them to the contrary and since then their entertainments have steadily grown in favor and on several occasions, at eight o'clock, the sidewalk has been rendered impassible on account of the crowd waiting at the box office for tickets. The manager, the leading man, Mr. J. Al. Sawtelle, has proven beyond a doubt that he stands among the foremost in his profession, as does the leading lady, Miss Emma Cornell, in fact the whole company deserves a great deal of credit for their work during the engagement, for there are few companies who could stand the test of playing a new piece every night. Their entertainments are of the best and we cheerfully recommend them to our neighbors.

A Glaring Grievance.

The editor of the Millbrook Reporter is the victim of an overwhelming wrong. In an editorial note he bewails the fact that the EXAMINER reproduced a few of his local items without considering it necessary to give credit for second-hand productions, and takes serious objection thereto. Why, dear fellow, if the EXAMINER was to raise a hullabaloo every time one of the sublime and brilliant paragraphs that adorn its columns was plagiarised, there would be no end to our troubles. But life is too short to waste in vain regrets and selfish complaints, and in stirring up strife with our neighbors. It is one of the petty annoyances all newspaper men have to put up with, and though no doubt vexed at not receiving credit for the precious paragraphs that cost him many an agony of thought and much sweaty labor, the quicker our rural friend learns to "grin and bear it" the better for him. In half the cases the crediting would have been bigger than the item itself. In the words of a popular phrase, he shouldn't let a little thing like that bother him. But is the Reporter man positive that he is himself without taint in the matter. History repeats itself, and this incident looks very much like a repetition of the old "mote in the neighbor's eye" episode of Biblical renown.

The Beethoven Quartette Concert.

One of the most pleasing and generally excellent concerts of the season was given in the Opera House Friday evening by the above organization, assisted by Funny Fax. The house was not as large as it should have been—it has been packed on occasions of far inferior concerts. The programme was well balanced, and judiciously adapted to the capacity of the performers; consequently there was no musical murder committed. The grand basso, Charles Kelly, was unfortunately troubled with a slight cold, but he sang that most difficult of selections, "The Roamer," excellently, as well as the other numbers consigned him, except the last, when the soprano, Miss Morell, supplied his place, and who sang what was to many the song of the evening. "Daddy and I," a simple, pathetic home song. She sang it with exquisite taste and feeling and with a most charming simplicity of style and lack of affectation. In truth her modest bearing, pleasing and natural manner, and sweet singing are charms which at once bring her into the good graces of her auditors. The same may be said of Miss Ethel Woods, the young contralto. She has a sweet voice of considerable power in the lower register, and she had the modesty and good sense to select songs she could sing, and she sang them well. Mr. Sims Richards, the tenor, possesses a good voice of rather wide compass, which he uses to good advantage. He sings well, and if he himself would condescend to forget that fact, he would, perhaps, please the public better. The accompanist, Miss Martin, understood her business, and occupied with good effect the subordinate position a good accompanist should take. Mr. James Fax—Funny Fax—was irresistibly funny, and kept the audience in a roar. He scored a great success, his last number provoking a double recall. It speaks well for the performers that every number was encored, and generally acknowledged. Most complimentary mention must not be omitted of the brilliant guitar solo by Mr. Kelly. His rendering of "Sebastopol" richly earned for him the hearty encore, to which he responded with another equally well played selection. The concert was a slightfol success, which points the moral that when performers sing well what they can sing they will meet with decided public approval. Everybody was delighted with the concert, and the Beethoven Quartette and Funny Fax will get a bumper house if they should visit Peterborough again.

The Report Denied.

Mr. A. W. Brodie called at the EXAMINER office this morning and requested us to emphatically deny the report that he was about to purchase, with another gentleman, the Hespeler woolen mills, as published in a Galt paper. Mr. Brodie has no intention whatever of going to Hespeler or leaving Peterborough.

At the Fire Hall.

The new double harness for the hose wagon has been fitted at last and is now swinging in position at the firehall. Terry Smith has his team of grays practiced to take their places upon the sounding of the alarm, and by the present arrangement of things the hose cart can be ran to a fire "in no time." The harness was made by Mr. W. J. Devlin, which is in itself a guarantee that there will be no vexatious delays from breaks in future.

A Salvation Army Funeral.

The funeral of the late Wm. Payton, a deceased member of the Salvation Army took place at three o'clock Friday afternoon. The procession was headed by the Army colors and band, followed by the coffin borne on the shoulders of four soldiers, about fifty members of the Army walking behind, each with a white band around the right arm. The funeral procession passed down George street to the Little Lake Cemetery, where the interment took place according to Salvation Army ritual.

Coal Oil.

China Hall will deliver to any part of the Town, Ashburnham and Auburn, best Canadian Oil for 20c., and American water-white at 30c. per imperial gallon.

Market Items.

Maple syrup and sugar made their first appearance on the market to-day, and were there in abundance, syrup selling at 35c. a quart or $1.30 and $1.35 per gallon; sugar, 15c. per pound. Potatoes, meat, etc., sold at the regular prices. Butter, eggs and fowl were rather scarce. At 11 o'clock there wasn't a pound of butter to be had for love nor money, what had been brought on early in the day having been sold rapidly at 25c. a pound, though as low as 22c. was taken. Eggs commanded a high price, 15c. a dozen. There were only a few chickens and turkeys offered.

Railway Notes.

Surveyors are at work laying out the connecting link between the Chemong railway and the main line. Ties are also being distributed along the route of the new railway.

The Campbellford Herald says:—"Travellers are in expectation of seeing the through train from Belleville to Peterborough. Nothing has been said with reference to it of late." To relieve the anxiety of the travellers and the Herald we might say that on the first of May a new time-table will come in force that, it is almost certain, will deal with the through route question. It is not definitely known whether there will be a through train to Toronto or the connections made close to answer just as effectively as a through route. Probably the latter course will be adopted.

The Trophy Arrives.

The silver tankard and medal won by the Peterborough curlers at Ottawa last February against Truro, N. S., club, have arrived and are on exhibition at P. Connal & Co's store. The tankard is of silver, gold lined, with three handles, and mounted on an ebony pedestal, the whole about ten inches in height. It is inscribed as follows:—"Presented by His Excellency the Governor-General, for competition among the stone curling clubs of the Dominion. Won by Peterborough curling club, at Government House, February 24th, 1888. Score: Peterborough 42, Truro, N.S., 25 points." The medal came in a handsome case and is of silver, bearing royal designs in raised letters. The Peterborough curlers are justly proud of their trophy.

Clean Up!

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Allow me to again give a few extracts from the Health Act relating to sanitary work necessary at this season of the year.

Section 13 states that all wells shall be cleaned out before the 1st day of July in each year.

As to disposal of sewage and refuse, Rule 3 says that all reservoirs, cesspools and privy-vaults shall be cleansed out at least once a year on or before the 15th of May, and from the fifteenth day of May, to 1st Nov., they shall be thoroughly disinfected by adding once a month not less than 2 lbs. of sulphate of copper (blue-stone) dissolved in two pailfuls of water or other suitable disinfectant.

Rule 5.—All putrid and decaying animal or vegetable matter must be removed from all cellars, buildings and yards on or before 15th May in each year.

Rule 6—All garbage shall be burned or placed in a proper covered receptacle for ashes and house offal, the contents of which shall, between the 15th May and 1st Nov., be regularly removed as often as twice a week.

Particular attention is directed to the clause relating to the disinfection of cesspools &c. From the nature of many complaints in former years it is feared this has not been properly attended to. It is earnestly requested that no time be lost and that spring cleaning be proceeded with as soon as possible. The more thoroughly this work is done, and the more persistently it is followed up during the summer, the less probability there will of diptheria and autumnal fever.

Yours &c.,
J. CLARKE, M. D.,
Medical Health Officer.

Change of Business.

Mr. H. R. Kidd in a New Role.

As was announced in the latest issue of the EXAMINER, Mr. H. R. Kidd has purchased the grocery store known as "The Pantry," established by Mr. J. Reuben and recently conducted by Mr. J. W. McCabe. Mr. Kidd is well known to the public. He has had a good business training, having been for some time past in the position of manager of the dry goods business of Mr. J. C. Turnbull. Mr. Kidd assumes proprietorship and control of the Pantry with the object of conducting the business with all the energy and enterprise the efficient worthy of the public with first-class grocery goods demands. It will be his practice to keep only the best and freshest goods, frequently assorted and kept up to the mark of a first-class grocery establishment. He will make "The Pantry" an emporium of household supplies, where all articles required for domestic consumption can be procured of the best quality and at the most reasonable prices. He therefore can confidentially assert his claim to a liberal share of the public patronage, certain that in the matter of quality and prices he can give the highest satisfaction.

TO THE PUBLIC:

In reference to the above announcement, I would beg to take this opportunity of extending my thanks for the liberal patronage bestowed upon "The Pantry" during my term of possession. I have great pleasure in commending Mr. Kidd to all my old customers as a gentleman of good business ability and square dealing, who will meet their wants with promptitude and satisfaction.

J. W. McCABE,
Late proprietor of "The Pantry."

THE IRON CHANCELLOR.

DOING HIS BEST TO BLIGHT LOVERS' HOPES.

Princess Victoria of Germany Passionately Attached to the Gallant ex-Prussian Guardsman—Little Sympathy Felt for the Match in Berlin.

BERLIN, April 7.—Prince Bismarck is doing his best to blight the royal romance, and has again tendered his letter of resignation, well worn from frequent production. Prince Alexander of Battenberg and Princess Victoria of Germany may in the end win, notwithstanding the fact that the wood merchant of Friedrichsruhe has put his foot down very heavily on the long and secretly cherished alliance. I have verified both the rumor of the resignation and the cause. Since the battle of Slivnitza, which proved Alexander to be a hero, and King Milan of Servia to be the undeniable grandson of the Swinesherd, Princess Victoria of Germany has been passionately attached to the handsome and gallant ex-Prussian guardsman.

Last summer while at Copenhagen the Prince of Wales interceded in vain with the Czar on behalf of his niece Victoria and of Prince Alexander, whom he would admire were he not a Battenberg. The genial matchmaker, however, was completely unsuccessful. "What have you against him now?" he inquired of the Russian autocrat. "Alexander is merely a youth, without position or pay, and never broods over his fancied wrongs in connection with Bulgaria." "Cet homme me depait," was the only answer, however, which the Prince of Wales could draw from his brother-in-law, the Czar.

Very little sympathy is felt here for the projected match. It seems to be universally admitted that the logical result of the marriage will be a revolutionary explosion in the Balkan peninsula, and perhaps a European war. Touched by their daughter's love and constancy, the Emperor and the Empress Victoria have given their consent to the match, which Prince Bismarck now insists that they should withdraw. The Iron Chancellor is said to have been scarcely brusque in nipping it in the bud. "Either I or the English woman will have to rule," he is reported to have said, not to the Emperor of course, but to the familiars of his palace in the Wilhelm strasse, and it remains to be seen if the Chancellor or the Empress wins the day.

The coming visit of Queen Victoria here to support her granddaughter is viewed with alarm, as some demonstration of the undoubted popular dislike towards the Empress and the English queen-mother is apprehended, while her British Majesty's ardent advocacy of Prince Battenberg's suit is considered to be liable to cool the existing ostensible politique between England and Germany. An unsympathetic editorial in The London Star, which has been wired over here, demands that the Queen should leave Berlin and the Battenberg alone. If she accepts this advice the grimsly lovers will not have a chance to see one another until the marriage on May 1 between Princess Irene of Hesse-Darmstadt, and Prince Heinrich of Prussia, the second son of the Emperor.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The two Raleigh forgers, Samuel C. White and Charles E. Cross, were brought before the Magistrate for the last time on Saturday, charged with bringing $94,115 stolen money into Canada. Mr. Worrell, on behalf of the Norfolk (N.C.) Bank, the prosecutors, stated that they had no evidence to offer, and that the prisoners had agreed to go back to Raleigh voluntarily for trial on three specific charges of forgery. Mr. Bigelow explained that both parties interested in the case had agreed that the money taken from the prisoners shall be sent to a North Carolina bank to be held in trust until the case is finally disposed of, and that the injunction restraining Inspector Stark from paying the money over to Chief of Police Hearst would be removed on Monday. The two prisoners and their guards left the Union Station at noon for Raleigh.

James Cullinan of Globe, Ill., who has been boarding at 160 Adelaide-street west, was arrested on Saturday by Detective Cuddy in the Arcade billiard-room for the alleged theft of $18,000 belonging to the Chicago, St. Louis and Pittsburg Railway. Cullinan was the company's agent and skipped out some months ago. A reward of $300 was offered by a Chicago detective agency for his arrest in the United States. The agency, however, claims to be able to accomplish his extradition and has sent on its representative, who is suspected here to-day. Cullinan was known at his boarding house as George Read.

Premier Greenway has declined a banquet at Pilot Mound owing to the pressure of public business. He was presented with an address at Gretna City yesterday.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

THE DEBATE ON UNRESTRICTED RECIPROCITY ENDED.

A Straight Party Vote Given a Majority to the Government—Sir John Announces That the Debate on the Fisheries Treaty Will be Opened on Tuesday.

OTTAWA, April 8.—The vote in the Commons on the Reciprocity issue will long be memorable in Parliamentary annals, not alone for the importance of the question involved, but of the circumstances attending the vote itself. The last speaker of whom mention could be made in the report for Saturday morning's paper (owing to the lateness of the hour) was Mr. Perley of Ontario. Following him came Mr. Gillmor of Charlotte, N.B., a veteran Liberal and one [illegible] Commons sense. He spoke strongly in favor of Reciprocity. It was expected that after his speech the vote would be taken, but Mr. Fre[illegible] Chamberlain, notwithstanding the arrangement, claimed the attention of the House and spoke for almost an hour [illegible]. Mr. Fleming is the [illegible] who ousted Chamberlain from the Dominion, in the bye-election of 1886 and again in the general election. He is a strong debater in his own language and made an able speech in support of Reciprocity.

There was Sir Richard Cartwright's original motion, Mr. Foster's amendment and Mr. Jones' (Halifax) amendment to the amendment. They are as follows:

Sir Richard's motion—

That it is highly desirable that the largest possible freedom of commercial intercourse should obtain between the Dominion of Canada and the United States, and that it is expedient that all articles manufactured in, or the natural products or either of the said countries should be admitted free of duty into the ports of the other, (articles subject to duties of excise or of internal revenue alone excepted).

That it is further expedient that the Government of the Dominion should take steps at an early date to ascertain on what terms and conditions arrangements can be entered into with the United States for the purpose of insuring full and unrestricted reciprocity of trade therewith.

Mr. Foster's amendment—

That all the words after "that" be struck out in order to add the following: Canada in the future as in the past is desirous of cultivating and extending trade relations with the United States in so far as they may not conflict with the policy of fostering the various industries and interests of the Dominion, which has obtained in 1879 and has since received in its modified shape the sanction and approval of the people.

Mr. Jones' amendment—

That in any arrangement between Canada and the United States providing for the free importation into each country of the natural and manufactured productions of the other, it is highly desirable that it should be provided that during the continuance of any such arrangement the coasting trade of Canada and of the United States should be thrown open to vessels of both countries on a footing of complete reciprocal equality and that vessels of all kinds built in the United States or Canada may be owned and sailed by the citizens of the other, and be entitled to registry in either territory and to all the benefits thereto appertaining.

The vote on Mr. Jones' amendment was taken first and was as follows:

The only actual absentee was Mr. Blake, but Mr. Meigs of Missisquoi and Mr. Gauthier of L'Assomption have not yet taken their seats, and thus practically three votes were lost to the Opposition. Russell and Kent, which are vacant, and Laval, represented by the Speaker of the Commons, make the full complement of constituencies. In a full House, excluding Russell and Kent, the Government would have had a majority of 54. An attempt is to be made by the Ministerial organs to show that Mr. Skinner was not paired. This is simply part of a desperate Tory intrigue to get Mr. Skinner to provide [illegible] his pledge to the electorate of St. John. Mr. Skinner in his speech on the question stated plainly that he would give his vote for Reciprocity, and he stands on the Liberal whip's book properly paired with Mr. Baird. The effort to destroy his vote is a piece of characteristic Toryism that is perfectly understood by the Opposition.

Some of the Tories are fearful of the consequences of their vote and are inclined to blame the Ministry for seducing them into defending a position they had not the courage to face themselves. The majority was big against the Opposition, but the blue funk is all in the ranks of the Ministerialists.

If the Government could have foreseen where it would land them they would not have so hastily placed fruits, shrubs and seeds on the free list. The withdrawal of protection from the hundreds engaged in the various enterprises connected with these products will, it is freely stated here, raise a hornet's nest about the Government, and they are in such a compromising position that they can make no defence. Already the fruit men of the Niagara district have poured in their remonstrances on the devoted head of Dr. Montague, which instantly disgusted at the position the action of the Government has placed him in—so much so that he declares that if it has become a question of Unrestricted Reciprocity or partial Protection he will vote against the Government. This is the first convert since the decision this morning, and more are to follow. This fulfils Sir Richard Cartwright's prediction, as he heard the triumph and cheers of the Ministerialists as the result of the vote on his resolution. "Before twelve months you will [illegible] vote," he declaimed.

No surprise is expressed among the members over the Canadian Pacific Railway terms, as intimated in the Government paper this morning. It will be seen that they are pretty much on the line indicated in The Financial News of London. The calling of a meeting of the Canadian Pacific Railway for the purpose of issuing bonds confirms the basis on which aid is to be given. It is believed that the bonus will not meet with that opposition which was expected when it became known that an arrangement was to be made, and when the impression was that it would mean a heavy raid on the treasury.

Sir John Macdonald told the House last night that Tupper would deliver a speech on the fishery question next Tuesday when he gives the second reading of the Fishery Bill.

The Government are engaged in restoring the annual raid for railway subsidies. There is a disinclination to grant any extensive aid to railways this year, and it seems the railway promoters have got wind of the fact and are coming forward with doubled zeal to force concessions to their various projects. The likelihood is, however, that few subsidies will be granted this session unless the pressure is very heavy. The usual expenditure will be large, and it will require heroic treatment to keep the expenditure down even to the level of the enormous expenditures of recent years. Besides, there is an expectation that the Liberals will squarely attack the whole system of subsidizing local political railways, and just now the Government are burdened with all the hostile public opinion they can carry and keep at all firm at the knees.

It is said evidence has come into the possession of Mr. Mercier, Premier of Quebec, which shows gross corruption practised by the late Tory Ministers for that province. A well-known Quebec contractor is involved, and there may be some very startling revelations before many days have passed. The cry of danger to Mr. Mercier, which is raised by Quebec Tory organs, does not alarm his friends here. The local Liberal premier has now a safe majority of twelve, and it is quite confidently predicted that it will be increased to twenty before the meeting of the Assembly. It is reported Mr. Mercier will take proceedings for libel against The Toronto Empire for recent gross attacks upon him in that journal. He will submit no longer to the slanderous and ruffianly treatment he has received from the Tory press ever since his accession to office in Quebec.

THE SPORTING WORLD.

Baseball's Baseball Record—The Pools at Niagara—Sports of Sport.

CINCINNATI, O., April 7.—The Toronto club played the first game of a series with the Cincinnatis this afternoon in the presence of some 600 people. The weather was mild and very favorable for the game. The visitors played rather loosely in the field, which can chiefly be attributed to their lack of practice, but at the bat they showed considerable strength, batting Mullane's curves, the star pitcher of the Cincinnati club, about the field in the most approved style. Burke, the left fielder, made a very favorable impression here by his daring base running, brilliant fielding and fine batting. Harriott also played a creditable game and led at the bat with a triple and a single. Atkinson and Casey pitched for the visitors, the latter doing very creditable work. The score:

THE LEAGUE'S MEETINGS.

SUNDAY SCENES OF VIOLENCE IN THE EMERALD ISLE.

Military and Police Disperse the Crowds Which Assemble to Attend the Proclaimed Gatherings—O'Brien Makes a 20-Minute Speech at Loughrea.

KILRUSH, April 8.—Mr. Turner, M.P., held a meeting outside Macrorean at 5 o'clock this morning. He there burned a copy of the Government proclamation. At 2 p.m., the advertised hour, he attempted to hold another meeting, when the police removed him from the grounds. There was only slight excitement. About 6000 persons belonging to the various league branches of Kilrush assembled at 2.30 p.m. There was a large contingent on horseback. The police, led by Magistrates Welch and Irwin, charged the crowd injuring many. A number of triumphal arches were torn down. Father Glynn of Kilmahill was attacked by two policemen with rifles. A farmer felled one policeman to the ground with a blackthorn stick. A riot being imminent, the Berkshire Regiment with fixed bayonets, led by Captain Lynch, charged the crowd and many persons were badly wounded. Order was somewhat restored, the crowd being appealed to by the priests and Messrs. Redmond and Ceilly, M.P.'s. Mr. Redmond then attempted to organize the meeting which had been heretofore announced but was prevented by Magistrate Irwin. Mr. Redmond protested that the Government's action in proclaiming the meetings was illegal, and together with the priests advised the multitude to disperse. Ten persons were seriously wounded with batons and bayonets, and two mounted policemen were injured with stones.

An Unsuccessful Scheme.

BELFAST, April 8.—Messrs. Davitt, O'Connor, Rev. Mr. Cerry and other league leaders left Carmody's Hotel in Ennis at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and drove ten miles into the country, followed by eighty Hussars under Col. Turner. By a preconcerted arrangement Mr. Condon, M. P., remained in the town to hold the proposed meeting in an emcompied corn store. This program leaked out and a cordon of soldiers was placed around the building. The doors of the building had been barricaded, but soon gave way to sledge hammers in the hands of the police. This aroused desperate resistance on the part of the people, and many were injured, including a reporter of The Irish Times. Fifty persons were arrested, among them Mr. Dunleary, editor of The Clare Independent; Mr. Halpin, a Poor Law guardian, and Patrick Carmody, relieving officer. Cavalry and infantry are patrolling the town.

A Lively Time at Loughrea.

LOUGHREA, April 8.—Mr. O'Brien had his meeting while the police were dispersing the people. Mr. O'Brien spoke ten minutes. He called the police cowards for not arresting him instead of ill-treating the people. Mr. O'Brien left the Bishop's residence at 2 p.m., followed by a crowd numbering 4000 persons, and took his way to a field outside the town where a platform had been erected. He was met by an imposing force of police and military which barred the way.

Mr. O'Brien then called to the people to halt and addressed the magistrate to the following effect: "I wish to hold a meeting to tell the people the truth about English rule in Ireland, but no meeting will be held if it has been resolved to disperse the people forcibly."

The magistrate replied that he could not allow the meeting to be held.

Mr. O'Brien then insisted upon his right to hold the meeting, saying that he took all responsibility upon himself, and asked the magistrate that if force be used to use it upon him and not upon the people. A long colloquy between the two then ensued, Mr. O'Brien insisting that his arrest would end the meeting, and that if any other action was taken the responsibility would rest on the police.

The crowd then advanced toward the platform and the police immediately attacked them, knocking down those who resisted. Only O'Brien and two clergymen were left in the reporters' stand. Stones now began to fly and the police brought their batons into requisition. At this critical moment Father Meagher, in a few words, begged the crowd to desist from violence, but his efforts were only partially successful. The police then pressed upon the people and cleared the field. Several civilians received scalp wounds. At 4.30 Mr. O'Brien addressed a meeting at Temperance Hall, a few clergymen and about twenty of the leading Nationalists being present. The police arrived on the ground after the meeting had closed.

The Attempt Foiled

KAN TURK, April 8.—Several hundred men, with National League cards displayed in caps, paraded here to-day. In accordance with the announcement of a league meeting, Healy and Flynn, after considerable trouble in evading the police, attempted to address a crowd of people that had assembled in the town. They failed, as the crowd was immediately dispersed by the police. In the meantime a successful meeting had been held two miles outside the town.

Bursting of a Waterspout.

PESTH, April 7.—A waterspout passed over this city yesterday, causing sewers to burst and flooding fully 1000 basements. The damage is enormous. The dykes between Csongrad and Csany burst, flooding 2500 acres of land belonging to the Karolyi and Pallavicini estates.

SPRING CLEANING.

In the absence of sewerage in town the necessity of cleanliness is the more imperative. During the domestic processes of a winter lasting almost six months, there has accumulated a vast amount of refuse and offal, and as there have been no proper means of disposing of it, its removal on the opening of spring becomes urgently necessary. With the warm weather putrescence and decay rapidly ensue, and the rains of spring will wash out finely divided organic matter, which, if allowed, will speedily find its way to wells and thus contaminate the domestic water supply These circumstances indicate that this offal and refuse should be removed at the erliest possible moment. One thing which prevents general compliance with the statutory law in regard to the removal of garbage is the lack of means and the expense. The latter may seem a slight excuse to a well paid medical health officer, or a well-to-do member of the Board of Health, but to a poor man, whose every exertion hardly suffices to make ends meet, every additional expense is a more or less serious matter. If any member of the Board of Health had to go without meat for a week or two for the sake of obeying the mandate, "clean up your premises," he would then be able to sympathise with many a poor man's position. In view of the fact that the corporate authorities have to meet no expense for the construction and maintenance of a system of sewerage, it seems that it would not be unreasonable to suggest that the town should bear the chief part of the expense of operations which are to take the place of sewers. There is not what might properly be called a professional scavenger in town, and no regular carter or teamster will undertake the work at the rates paid for ordinary work. The town keeps the sidewalks clear of snow in winter, and it may be asked why the town should not organize and direct some system of doing a much more important work. In view of the convenience and benefit of such a system, it is not probable that a single ratepayer would object to the expense. If the town gave out a contract for all the scavenging required or maintained a staff of scavengers, the work would be cheaply and efficiently done, and the expense would be less to each individual householder than if he made a special contract for a single job. The result would be, in case the town undertook the work, that it would be done thoroughly, and the people in the aggregate would pay less than if they employed the work done. We would then have the town clean throughout and not, as at present, with an occasional premises in good cleanly condition, while those adjoining may be reeking with filth. Sanitary operations cost the town considerably at present, and it must be admitted that it is slightly open to question whether value is got for the outlay, and it is perhaps worthy of consideration, whether we shall continue to spend money on sanitary matters in a half-hearted ineffective way, or spend more money and get better value for it. If the health laws are not thoroughly carried out the effect will not be of much account, if they are generally carried out by individual action the individual expense will be great. If they are to be carried out through the medium of some properly organized system the expense will be great lessened per caput, and the work will be better done.

Warsaw Cheese Factory.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The Business of the Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Warsaw cheese factory was held in the factory, Warsaw, on the 26th inst., for the purpose of appointing officers for the current year and transaction of other business. The meeting was not as well attended as anticipated, no doubt on account of the wet day on which it was held. However, the best of feeling was shown to exist between the patrons and manufacturer, Mr. Alex. Smith, and amongst the patrons themselves, who are all looking forward to a prosperous season, each willing to lend a helping hand to sustain the good reputation the Warsaw factory now has for the manufacture of first quality cheese.

On the meeting being called to order, Mr. John Clements was re-elected President, and Mr. E. Hawthorne, Secretary, for the current year.

Minutes of last annual meeting were read and confirmed.

The manufacturer, Mr. Smith, agrees to manufacture and box the cheese for 1½c. per lb., guaranteeing a first class article. Manufacturer to retain whey for boxing cheese.

Moved by John Rose, seconded by Sidney Payne, that this factory shall not receive anything but first-class milk.—Carried unanimously.

Moved by David Forsythe, seconded by H. Bell, that Sidney Payne be cheeseman and treasurer for the current year.—Carried.

Moved by Alex. Smith, seconded by H. Bell, that the patrons receive cheese at wholesale prices, cheese to be cut when cheese-maker thinks a cheese can be cut without loss, and outsiders shall not receive any cheese at retail from factory.—Carried.

Moved by Alex. Smith, seconded by H. Bell, that David Forsythe, A. E. Kidd and E. Hawthorne be a committee to act in conjunction with the cheesemaker, as an advisory committee, or on any matter concerning the factory.—Carried.

Mr. Smith appointed on his behalf as auditor, Mr. A. F. Choate. The patrons appointed as their auditor, E. Hawthorne.

Warsaw, March 26th, 1886.

MR. GOSCHEN'S BUDGET.

The G. O. M. Will Be in the House of Commons To-day Primed for a Speech.

LONDON, April 7.—Mr. Gladstone, who is much improved in health since his journey to Italy, which, strange to say, had rather an injurious effect, will be in his place in the House of Commons Monday to speak upon Mr. Goschen's budget proposals. The Liberals will endeavor to insure certain alterations, and in particular will recommend the equalization of duties on real and personal property. Meanwhile the business of Parliament makes uninterrupted progress. There is no question now that if the Government are in earnest with the local government measure they may carry it with an overwhelming majority.

The question of the extension of the operation of the Local Government Bill to Ireland will be raised on the occasion of the second reading of the measure in the House of Commons. Sir E. W. Watkin, member for Hythe, who sits as a Unionist, has placed a motion declaring that the principles of the bills should be made to apply to Ireland as well as to England and Scotland. Mr. Gladstone and Mr. Parnell both approve the raising of an issue on this point as such. They regard it as a test of the honesty of the declarations of the Liberal-Unionists that the right way to treat the Irish difficulty is to extend to Ireland the principle of local government by representative bodies chosen by the people.

Britain and America.

LONDON, April 7.—Joseph Chamberlain, replying to a letter addressed to him by a gentleman who questioned him on the subject of American institutions, says that no intelligent American would challenge the fact that the power of the democracy in Great Britain is now more direct than it is in America. Practically, the suffrage here is nearly as wide as it is in America; but the checks upon the American democracy exceed anything in existence here. The parliament of England is all powerful, and is directly influenced by popular opinion. The House of Lords is powerless upon any great question. In America, on the other hand, there are many co-ordinate authorities. If the people should require some great constitutional change, a much more lengthy and difficult process would be necessary to accomplish it in America than here. The letter has created a sensation here.

Parnell's Supporters Summoned.

LONDON, April 8.—Mr. Parnell has summoned his supporters to be present in Parliament on Wednesday next, so as to vote for the Farm Laborers' Relief Bill.

ICE SHOVE AT HAMILTON.

The New Club House of the Yacht Club Wrecked—The Blocking Bridge.

HAMILTON, April 7.—His Honor Judge Senkler and Captains Fairgrieve and Sylvester, the arbitrators to whom was referred the matter of determining the value of the real estate of the late Æ. D. Mackay and of the propellers Celtic, Lake Michigan and Lake Ontario, made their award yesterday. Under the will of the late Mr. Mackay he authorized his business to be continued and when his youngest child came of age the sons were to have the first chance of purchasing the business; and by agreement between the daughters, Mrs. Newton of this city and Mrs. Turner of Gananoque, the values were to be determined by arbitration. The award finds the real estate worth $30,600 and the other assets $34,750, the total being $2350 more than originally offered by R. O. Mackay and brother.

The wind that set in yesterday morning had the effect of shoving the ice down the bay, causing considerable injury to property along the front. The most serious damage was done to the new club house of the Hamilton Yacht Club. During the night the club house was tilted up so that one corner was eight feet deep in the water and the other sixteen feet in the air. The place is a complete loss. This morning workmen began operations with a view to blowing the building off the spiles entirely. It will have to be pulled to pieces and rebuilt. The loss will be between $900 and $1000.

Mr. Wm. Olmstead, an Ancaster farmer, was driving down James-street near the corner of King at about 9 o'clock this morning when his span of horses took fright and ran away. In swinging around MacNab-street the wagon upset, and Mr. Olmstead was thrown to the ground. He was painfully bruised but not seriously hurt.

A man giving his name as William Shaw and claiming to be a shoemaker of Dundas, was found guilty in the Police Court to-day of stealing a purse from the pocket of Mrs. Choate in the market. The police have some doubt as to the correctness of his story about himself. The magistrate, after pronouncing him guilty, remanded him until Tuesday in order that some inquiries might be made respecting him. Several other purses and pocket books, also supposed to have been stolen, were found upon him.

Frederick Hackbush and Robert Davis, two 15-year-old boys, were arraigned in the Police Court this morning on several charges of larceny. Hackbush pleaded guilty of stealing fifteen pairs of woolen mitts from the store of Robert Spera. He and Davis pleaded not guilty of stealing a moulder's ladle belonging to John Chadwick, and to a charge of stealing a number of iron mouldings belonging to Mrs. Samuel Alford. The case was adjourned until Tuesday next.

Farmers are often puzzled as to the style of arbor or trellis best suited to vines of rapid growth. The trellis shown in the cut is of simple construction, and is advised by Farm, Field and Stockman for grape vines, along with other sorts.

TRELLIS AND ARBOR.

The journal quoted from says that grape vines planted at intervals of twelve feet, alternating on each side so that plants may not come opposite, will completely cover the trellis and arbor overhead and at the same time bear full loads of fruit if annually shortened in to prevent too great elongation of the main vines. The leading shoots should be cut back annually to about six feet, and the spurs to two buds each. If grapes are not desired any good climber may be substituted, and in this case, after the trellis is fully covered, all that will be necessary will be to keep down too rampant growth.

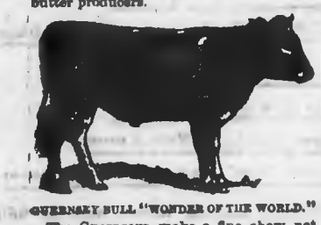
The posts rest on stones sunk a little into the ground. The posts may be of any desired size of timber. Cap pieces connect them along each side, and cross pieces join the opposite posts. Wire is used for the lattice work.

The Production of Apples.

No farmer who has the land to spare should be deterred from setting out an apple orchard of good fruit by the fear of no market, or, in other words, overproduction. The population is constantly increasing, and the apple is the king of American fruits, sought for everywhere, and only in exceptional cases and limited districts is there in any year such an excess over the demand as to render an orchard of good fruit unprofitable. As many as 50,000 barrels of American apples have been sold in London in a single week, and the demand for them is steadily increasing. And England is only one of the many countries to which they are sent. The manufacturers of pure vinegar in this country also make a market for an immense amount of the more common varieties. The fear of apple growing being overdone has been entertained by some people, from time to time, for as many as forty years back; nevertheless a good orchard has continued to be a good thing to have, and it is quite safe to predict that it will be the same hereafter for first class apples of good keeping qualities. The amount exported to other countries has grown to such an extent that it is stated that the value of it is almost equal to one-seventh of the estimated merchandise value of the whole amount produced.

The Guernseys.

The Guernseys, one of the several types of dairy cattle represented in the herds of this country, are nearly allied to the more popular Jerseys, and like them are great butter producers.



GUERNSEY BULL "WONDER OF THE WORLD."

The Guernseys make a fine show not only in the herd, but in the exhibition ring, being beautiful animals, somewhat larger than the Jerseys and more uniform in color.

Numbered with remarkable specimens of this breed is the famous cow Jolie 2d, imported by Mr. J. W. Fuller, of Catasoqua, Pa., who won first prize as the best cow in the island of Guernsey in 1884. She is considered one of the best among milk cows of this breed in this country. A noticeable characteristic is the extreme yellowness of her skin.

In the annexed illustration is given a true likeness of another prominent Guernsey, the bull "Wonder of the World," imported by E. N. Howell, Ponghkeepsie, N. Y. At the last New York dairy and cattle show this animal was awarded the first prize for the best bull over 1 and under 2 years old. He is pale fawn and white with a rich colored skin.

Things Farmers Tell One Another.

Mr. M. B. Faxton advises that parsnip seed be planted early, and when well up thinned to six inches apart.

Never allow potatoes to throw off sprouts in an over warm cellar; it weakens vigor, says Mr. Alfred Rose, the veteran potato grower.

Mr. J. H. Hale, Connecticut, says that peach trees that have been annually and heavily banked with wood ashes to keep out the borers have been more free from yellows than those not so protected.

To have sweet corn for a succession Mr. E. S. Carmon advises, first, either Cory or Northern Pedigree, then Shoker's Early or Perry's Hybrid, then Moore's Concord, Triumph or Hickory, then Stowell's Evergreen, Monmouth or Egyptian.

Medical Note of Value.

Pain banished as if by magic. Poison's Nerviline is a positive and almost instantaneous remedy for external, internal, or local pains. The most active remedy hitherto known falls far short of Nerviline for potent power in the relief of nerve pain. Good for external or internal use. Buy a 10 cent sample bottle. Large bottles 25 cents, at all druggists. 6dw15

Prevailing Sickness.

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sore Throat, inflammations and Congestions are most prevalent at this season of the year. Hagyard's Yellow Oil is the best external and internal remedy for all these and other troubles. 2w14d

THE "O" STRIKE ABOUT OVER.

Indications Point to a Complete Victory for the Company.

CHICAGO, April 7.—The Burlington strike, from all present indications and prospects, is dead. The road is running all its trains without the least trouble, and to-day did a large freight business. Above fifty of the old engineers and firemen have already returned to work, and it is believed that many more will return next week. Chiefs Arthur and Sargent have left the city. It is stated that the brotherhood headquarters here will soon be closed.

Outbreak Often Expected.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 7.—A large meeting of the employes of the Edgar Thomson Steel Works was held at Braddock's to-day and, after a lengthy discussion, the proposition of Andrew Carnegie was rejected. The result of the meeting was a surprise, as it was known that several members of the District Executive Board of the Knights of Labor had unofficially advised the men to return to work as the company's terms. The replies were given until to-day to accept the offer, and it is probable that the workers will now be placed down for an indefinite period.

First Skirmish Lost by the Men.

CHICAGO, April 7.—The strike of the brewers at Ernst Bros.' brewery was in the nature of a preliminary skirmish between the bosses and the journeymen in the battle for the recognition of the union. It ended disastrously for the union. Ernst Bros. to-day have a full force of men at work. They are not experienced brewers, but the bosses say that none but the foreman need be skilled brewers and that anybody can do the washing of barrels and other work necessary in brewing under their directions.

I Was troubled with catarrh for thirty years. Have suffered a great deal. My eyes, ears and throat were greatly affected. Mr. Kinney, the druggist, induced me to try Ely's Cream Balm and for the past two years have had very little trouble. I have lived in Webster, Mass., and Rockville, Conn. Very respectfully, J. W. Pratt, Monson, Mass.

I have improved greatly since using Ely's Cream Balm for catarrh. I feel like a new man. It is a blessing to humanity.—John D. Farrell, Hartford, Conn. eodw15

A Sad Prospect.

How many weary broken down invalids there are to whom life is burdensome and whose prospect is sad indeed. The nervous debility and general weakness of those afflicted with lingering disease is best remedied by the invigorating and restoring properties of B.B.B. 2w14d

Making Sure.

There are many people who adopt health and diet rules when attacked by disease of the stomach, liver or bowels, this is quite right, but those who add to this treatment the use of B. B. B. according to directions, make sure of being quickly and easily cured. 2w14d

Thankful.

Some time ago being very greatly troubled with colds and coughing, I went to the drug store and got Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. In a short time I was well. I have found it a sure cure and am thankful that I used it, and now would not be without it. E. A. Schaefer, Berlin, Ont. 2w14d

How to Save Money.

Always buy the best because it is the cheapest in the end, and not only is Burdock Blood Bitters the best medicine known for all chronic diseases of the stomach, Kidneys, Liver and blood, but is really the cheapest as it needs less to cure and cures more quickly than any other remedy. 2w14d

LOCAL NEWS.

The Weather.

West to northwest winds; fair weather; not much change in temperature.

Sun Spots and Cold Weather.

The blizzard—minus the snow—of yesterday and to-day is caused by spots on the sun—producing atmospherical disturbances. It is a rather stiff sort of spring zephyr. But it's an ill wind which blows nobody good; it has brought with it, for the golden lion, the delayed carload of millinery and mantle goods from new york. r. fair's grand millinery reception will take place next week, Tuesday, April 10th, to which every lady in town is invited. A magnificent display of millinery and mantles.

The First Banks in Ontario.

Mr. Jas. Edwards, one of the oldest residents of the town, who has always taken a deep interest in commercial matters, sends the EXAMINER the following dates of the establishment of the first banks in Ontario:—Bank of Upper Canada, 1st July, 1822; Commercial Bank, 21st March, 1832; Farmers' Joint Stock, 3rd September, 1835; Niagara Suspension Bank, 20th December, 1836; Gore Bank, 2nd May, 1836.

Spencer vs. Young.

This case is one concerning a disputed timber contract between T. Spencer, a jobber of Burleigh, and C. Young, mill owner, of Young's Point. It was to have been tried at the present assizes, but an order has been obtained from the Master in Chambers, Toronto, referring all matters in dispute between the parties to the arbitrament of Judge Weller. Messrs. Hatton & Wood are solicitors for the plaintiff, and Mr. O'Meara for the defendant.

Sudden Death.

On Saturday last the wife of Mr. Wm. Job, sr., died suddenly at her residence, Smith, just outside the town. It appears that on Thursday Mrs. Job was stooping to put a stick of wood into the stove and that the exertion caused the bursting of a blood vessel. She was removed to her bed and never spoke after her seizure, and died on Saturday night. The deceased lady was quiet, industrious and was respected by all who knew her.

A Broken Stick.

Saturday afternoon Mr. Elias Thompson was loading a big stick of timber on three flat cars at the Grand Trunk station, when it rolled off the opposite side and was cracked. The stick was to be shipped to Halifax and was intended for a vessel mast. It was a fine piece of timber and was valued at about $200. It is not worth more than half that now. Mr. Thompson has shipped a number of these sticks this spring without any previous accident.

A Painful Accident.

Saturday evening Mrs. Weir was a passenger on the Grand Junction train, which is due here at 7.20 o'clock. The train stopped for a moment as usual at the diamond crossing of the C.P.R., and at the same time the brakesman announced "Peterborough" in a loud voice. Mrs. Weir thought the train had stopped at the station, and was getting off when the train started to move on. She was nearly off, but her foot that was resting on the ground caught in a frog, the motion of the train carried her body forward, and the result was a broken leg. She was conveyed to the Hospital and Dr. Pidgeon attended to the sufferer.

The Gay Wheelman.

The whirr of the bike is heard in the land, and very soon now clouds of aerial fliers will be speeding over the roads on their glittering wheels and frightening farmers' horses by their uncanny appearance. The roads are becoming dry and hard every day, and wheelmen are joyously preparing for the season's sport. The irrepressible Mac. has been the first to wing his flight this year. He took a "burl" out this morning and reports wheeling to be very good. Mac, like the rest of the bicyclers, will lay in his annual supply of splints, bandages and arnica in a few days, and then everything will be prepared for active service.

Bailliebero Boys Abroad.

Last week three boys, who are reaching into manhood, left the homes of their childhood, situated in Bailliebero, and fired with bright word-pictures of life in the west, struck out for the land of the trembling prairies. Their names were Kent, Byers and Montgomery. The first one is the son of the hotel-keeper at Bailliebero, and by him the finances were supplied. Kent gathered together all the money he could from around the house, and with his fellow fortune-hunters began his travels. On Saturday mine host Kent and a neighbor named Carr came into Port Hope and went west after the runaways. At Point Edward the boys were overtaken in a demoralised plight. Some man had spotted them at the hotel, and pretending to be a constable had arrested and took from them their money. So that when the pursuers found them the boys were chewing the bitter cud of disappointment, and the setting sun had no further enchantment for them. The constable who had relieved the boys of their money was found, and all but ten dollars of the money, which he had spent, was restored. The quintette returned home, arriving in Port Hope on Tuesday. After the vicissitudes of travel and adventure, the quiet village life of Bailliebero will cloy on their taste.—Port Hope Times.

Gospel Temperance.

The Gospel Temperance meeting yesterday in the W.C.T.U. Hall, George street, was one of unusual interest. Mr. W. J. Mason conducted the service in his happiest style. Mr. A. Clegg read "Coming" with marked expression. Several short addresses were delivered which voiced the convictions of all present. The Misses Smart and Rutherford sang a very pretty duet.

An Accident.

On Saturday Mr. J. J. Turner, tent, awning and sail maker, undertook to split a block of wood, which, being more than ordinarily obstinate, caused Mr. Turner to give his axe an extra strong swing. The axe caught in a clothes line overhead and diverted the blow to the head instead of the block causing a severe but not serious cut. Mr. Turner is, however, able to attend to business and take an order for an awning or tent.

St. Andrew's Organist.

The Globe says:—"It is believed that Prof. Frank B. Fenwick, of Owen Sound, is to be offered the position of choir master and organist of St. Andrew's, Peterborough." Where did the Globe get its information? The people of St. Andrew's are quite unaware of the fact that Prof. Fenwick is to be offered the position. He is simply one of the applicants amongst some twenty or thirty others. He was in town last Friday and gave a short recital upon the organ, but further than that the matter has not gone. The committee appointed to select an organist, of which Mr. Brodie is secretary, have not yet made any selection, so that the Globe's statement is altogether premature.

A Constable's Trials.

Constable Ullyott, of Cobourg, had a most unpleasant experience, as related by the gentleman himself, last Saturday. He was sent to Fraserville to serve some papers in a Scott Act case, but came on to Peterborough on the 8:15 a.m. train. He remained in town till noon, when he took the down train and stopped off at Fraserville to perform his duty. Before he had been in the village half an hour every man woman and child in the place had been secretly informed that there was a Scott Act detective about, and each and every one took the cue immediately and united in making things decidedly unpleasant for the constable. He was hunted about and could find no place to rest himself. He served some of his papers, but not all. Every place he went he was ordered to leave without ceremony, accompanied by jeers and insults, and even the post-office was refused him. Every door was closed against him, and the only place of accommodation the despised "detective" could find was the church shed. He stood the persecution until patience ceased to be a virtue, and then, in order to escape, he offered a villager $5 cash to drive him to Millbrook, three miles away. His request was denied; the people hadn't yet tired of badgering the object of their loathing. But when the evening train came along his troubles and trials came to an end; he boarded it and came up to Peterborough, and related his experiences to the local force. He went home on the night train, which he had intended taking at Fraserville, and will doubtless in future prefer to stay at home when it comes to serving Scott Act summons. Constable Ullyott thinks the idea that he was a detective and informer was started by his own unguarded action in calling up the men in the first bar-room he visited to drink, and immediately afterwards beginning to serve his papers. It certainly was not a prudent course.

High Court of Justice.

Spring Sittings of the Chancery Division—A Small Docket as Usual.

The spring assizes were opened at the court house at one o'clock to-day, Mr. Justice Falconbridge presiding.

The bar was represented by Mr. Elliott, of Perth; T. McVeity, Ottawa; W. R. Riddel, Cobourg; A. P. Poussette, Q.C., Jno. Burnham, D. W. Dumble, J. H. Burnham, H. B. Stone, J. O'Meara, E. A. Peck, G. M. Roger, W. A. Stratton, C. Leonard and J. Green.

GRAND JURY.

The Grand Jury was impannelled as follows:—

WILLIAM YELLAND, Foreman.

Peter Rapple,	W. G. Bain,
P. Connel,	D. Campbell,
John Doyell,	Geo. Emon,
Geo. Forsythe,	G. J. Galvin,
Thos. Howson,	Wm. J. Langford,
Wm. Miller,	John MePherson.
Wm. Martin,	Porter Preston,
Jas. Peterie,	H. J. Lefevre,
R. Shortly,	Alex. Smith,
Wm. Webster,	Thos. Webster.
Thos. Young.

The Judge, in his charge, congratulated the jury upon the small docket presented for trial at the present sport. He explained to the jury what constituted the crimes of forgery, larceny and shooting with intent, and dismissed them to investigate and find bills upon the criminal cases and also to inspect the gaol.

THE FIRST CASE.

The first case called for trial was Gervais vs. Goodwin, in which the complainant sought for compensation for injuries sustained while working for the defendant at Barleigh last summer, alleging carelessness and neglect on the part of the defendant to provide against accident to his men. The plaintiff, it seems, was unloading stone at a derrick, when the derrick supports gave way and the heavy mast fell on his shoulder, disabling him, it is thought, for life. Mr. Stone for plaintiff, Mr. McVeity for defendant.

The case regarding the Chamberlen estate was referred to the local Master for trial. Mr. Peck for plaintiff, Mr. O'Meara for defendant.

The trial of the Gervais vs. Goodwin case is in progress this afternoon.

Police Court.

MONDAY, April 4.

"Jim" Regan was before the Magistrate this morning, charged with being drunk and disorderly. Jim looked as if the whiskey he had drunk had used him very badly. When captured by Acting Chief Adam Saturday night he was exceedingly noisy and profane.

Jim pleaded guilty to the charge and said he had no excuse to offer.

"Are you ready to pay your fine, then?"

"How much is it?"

"Two dollars and costs."

"But I've only got a dollar and a half."

"A dollar and a half! That's bad. Well, as this is your first offence I'll let you off with $2. Perhaps some of your friends will land you half a dollar."

One of Jim's friends came forward from the crowd of spectators and offered to make up the amount, and Jim was discharged.

Personal.

Mr. F. C. Spillsbury, at one time an apprentice with Mr. John McKee, has passed his first year's examination in medicine at Trinity College, Toronto, taking honors. Mr. Spillsbury is to be congratulated on his success.

Mr. Tom Jones, who has for many years been the able road representative of the Peterborough Stove Company, has severed his connection with the firm and engaged with R. H. Ives & Co, Montreal. He will have charge of the western branch of the firm's business, and will make Peterborough his headquarters. Everyone who knows Tom will be glad of this, as his genial ways and pleasant countenance are everywhere welcome. Mr. Jones has scores of friends in Peterborough who will wish him unlimited success in his new sphere of action.

The Mounted Police.

Inspector Saunders, of the Northwest Mounted Police, has been in Port Hope the past week enlisting recruits, but, the Times says, has not been very successful. He had expected to gather up fifteen or so, but only four have taken the oath, with a possible two more who have promised to join him, at Peterborough, George Wimbles, of Cobourg, and A. Hume, of Bethany. The Inspector is now at the Stewart House, Peterborough, looking for recruits. The men must be five feet eight inches in height, with a chest measurement of thirty-five inches. Men who wish to enter the service because they can do nothing else are not wanted, as the service requires more individual intelligence, independence and trustworthiness than other military forces. The force has in its ranks many representatives of the old families of England, and many privates can place after their names letters significant of degrees obtained at Cambridge, Oxford and the Canadian seats of learning. One of those who took the oath in Port Hope this week the Times says, is a nephew of the late Sheriff Jarvis of Toronto. The men who enlisted there went west to report for duty Saturday and were under pay from the time they signed the half-dozen papers and went through the other formalities. After leaving Peterborough Inspector Sanders goes to Ottawa and from there to Hamilton. Between fifty and seventy-five recruits are required.

Reasons

WHY EVERY FARMER SHOULD EXTEND HIS STRONGEST INFLUENCE TO MAKE THIS INSTITUTE A COMPLETE SUCCESS.

[Read by Mr. Wm. Telford at the Centreville meeting of the West Riding Farmers' Institute.]

Does one ask here that will rise and dispute
Frul's that will flow from your good Institute?
If such there be, I tell you plain, but kind,
To your own interests you are acting blind.
Lawyers and doctors, you and printers too,
Through associations take a business view;
While bankers, merchants and mechanics meet
Guarding their interests strictly and compl'ete,
Masons and bricklayers in their union cling,
Shoemakers and tailors hold their union rings;
Even the day-laborer standeth not alone,
As Knight of Labor he can hold his own.
Farmers, I ask you, will you silent stand,
Like speechless statues scattered o'er the land?
Your long kept silence, dormant thoughts make known
Your neighbor's views, compare them with your own.
Union is strength, then gather in its cell.
United stand as tillers of the soil.
Meet here in friendship both to speak and hear,
Experience teaches if not boastful too dear.
Some farm—by books—proceed as they are told.
Expecting fields to yield like mines of gold.
Some good old farmer, could he speak his mind,
Could tell you more than you in books can find.
As one great effort, you keep too much apart:
Meetings like this will bind you heart to heart.
Explain your theories, give your knowledge free
And learn from others what they tell to thee.
Unite like men, watch your own interests true,
No other class will them protect for you;
Maintain your rights, and boldly show your face,
Prove by each unions, you can hold your place.
Placed wide apart, you ready are to fall,
Like single targets for the sharper's ball;
Clinc to each other friendship's bonds enlarge.
You will resist each enemy's fiercest charge.
Display more judgment than in years gone by,
On loss and profit keep a watchful eye;
Turn a deaf ear when schemers you applaud,
In hay fork swindles or in seed wheat frauds.
You have one barrier, hard to over-reach—
In general, farmers hate to make a speech—
Not want of talent, but he lacks the cheek;
Before such gatherings he declines to speak.
Think, read and speak, though you much trembling show,
Practice it; your self-confidence will grow.
Explain your views, both give and gather knowledge.
More you will learn than from our costly college.
I often thought, and I will state it now—
Many bright men have walked behind the plough;
Heads full of wit, where Nature's true lights burn,
Have followed ploughs and watched the furrows turn.

TO THE FARMERS' SONS.

Sons, my advice, receive it with good grace:
You may soon fill your fathers vacant place.
You have both means and privileges, I say,
Denied your fathers in their early days.
In youth and vigor do not slumber vast,
Improve your talents, read, think and debate:
Show by your hands your skill, your tongue or pen,
Farmers are not know-nothings—shallow men.
Attend your farm, make your improvements show;
Study soils, nature, likewise the seeds you sow.
Try to accomplish, how it can be done.
To make two blades grow for your father's one.
Attend these gatherings, you may something learn,
Your cares may teach you things you can't discern
When you have learned, by your work, means and ways,
Instruct your neighbor how your farming pays
Make this your object when you gather here,
To raise the farmer to his proper sphere;
Show to the world, although you till the ground,
Within your ranks bright, noble men abound.
Successful farming make your steady aim,
Bringing both wealth and honor to your name;
Unite like brothers, shoulder to shoulder stand
Until your name and honor fill the land.

ADVICE.

Come to the Institute come,
All you single sons of the farmer,
You may learn to farm and how
You may capture the heart of your charmer.
Not one with a soft velvet hand,
Not in satin or silk with a flutter,
But one that will calico don
And attend to the dairy and butter.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

Sir John Changes His Views Regarding the Monopoly and Unrestricted Reciprocity—Discriminating Against Great Britain—A Sad Day for the Minister of Justice.

OTTAWA, April 9.—Sir John Macdonald has become the chief of backsliders. After years spent in preaching the saving virtue of monopoly, he turned round the other day and by pledging the credit of the country to secure its abolition declared substantially that it was a big thing for the country. Slide No. 1. He allowed Mr. Rykert and Mr. Ferguson of Welland and other of his loyal supporters on trust to argue against reciprocity in natural products. He refused for years to carry out the terms of the Tariff Act offering to put upon the free list such natural products as were freed from taxation by the United States and other countries. Only two short weeks ago he professed his entire devotion to this narrow creed, and declared that he would not meet the United States half way on the line of reciprocal duties. But the faith was not genuine. A few more days passed and his Finance Minister announced that an order-in-council had been issued putting on the free list products similarly treated by the United States. Slide No. 2. Then for three weeks past his whole followers in Parliament have been declaiming on the sin of discrimination against Great Britain. Before their eloquence is cold the shocking fact comes to light that an official proclamation of the Government frees from duty green fruits, shrubs, plants and other products coming from the United States into Canada, but maintains the old protective duties against Great Britain and all other countries—discrimination against England. Slide No. 3. Yet a little while, as the country goes from him, and who shall say that there will not be another slide, down the great steep of monopoly, to the just and common ground of Unrestricted Reciprocity. What a slide will be there, my countrymen! The Tory faculty for surrender has become positively monotonous. The Government seem to blunder with malice aforethought. As Mr. Mulock, Mr. Edgar and Sir Richard Cartwright pointed out to-day, they had no authority under the statute to discriminate in favor of the United States in the recent order putting on the free list products relieved from taxation by the United States, but they did it. They discriminated against their beloved England and other countries. They committed an illegal act to favor the United States, and nothing could be more awkward than their attempt to escape from the dilemma. The Premier at first shuffled through a lame explanation, but he was not to escape. The Opposition pinned him to the point. There was a hurried and anxious consultation of Ministers. Sir John worked his face and jerked his head and looked vicious, but at last he was forced to rise and say that another proclamation would be issued putting other countries on the same footing as the United States in respect of the articles put on the free list under the recent Order-in-Council. These are humiliations for the Grand Old Party.

The Minister of Justice has had a bad day. Mr. Mulock and Mr. Edgar showed that he had blundered in the terms of his proclamation putting on the free list the articles enumerated in the recent Order-in-Council, and Mr. Edgar showed again that he had blundered in the charter granted to the Northwest Central Railway in 1886, so that construction has been delayed for two years and they now have to ask for an Act to confirm the charter. The promoters of the road refused to go on until the Act was confirmed. The trouble all came of Mr. Thompson's failure to follow the terms of the Railway Act, and the consequence is that a railway line 450 miles in length, with a land grant of 2,800,000 acres, was tied up when it was of the first importance to hundreds of struggling settlers in the Northwest that construction should be pushed with all possible speed. This whole Northwest Central trouble is a melancholy example of the evil of putting a great enterprise into the hands of mere political speculators.

Mr. Mills asked whether the Government would obtain Imperial legislation to confirm the boundary between Ontario and Quebec. Sir John suggested that he had better move a resolution.

At 9.30 to-night Mr. David B. Meigs, the member-elect for Missisquoi, presented himself at the eastern entrance to the chamber and Mr. Laurier and Mr. Fisher went out and took him in charge. Then Mr. Meigs was run into the House between these two gentlemen, presented to the Speaker and took his seat, being cheered, of course, by the Liberals.

When the questions were reached the Minister of the Interior told Dr. Landerkin that the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. McKinnon, late physician on the Indian reserve of Brant and Haldimand, had not been filled.

Sir Hector Langevin told Mr. Rinfret that the matter of letting the water power on the new canal near Thorold was being considered by the Government.

Mr. Mulock made a pathetic appeal for pension for the widow of Private Thomas Neely, late of "C" Company School of Infantry, who died in the asylum at Toronto after coming back from the Northwest rebellion. Private Neely's death was of peculiarly sad circumstances. The Minister of Militia agreed as to this and said he intended to report to his colleagues for a pension to Mrs. Neely.

Mr. Flint, after a twenty-minute speech, moved for a special committee to inquire into the quarantine service of Canada. The Premier asked him to withdraw the motion, promising that the Government would make any investigations that were necessary.

Mr. Laurier withdrew his motion for copies of the correspondence between the Governments of Canada and Newfoundland concerning the admission of the latter into the Confederation, as the correspondence is not yet concluded.

There was considerable of a talk on a motion of Mr. Edgar's asking for papers with reference to the wrecking laws of the United States and Canada, during which it was stated by Sir John Macdonald that the Canadian Government never prevented American wreckers from obtaining in our waters in cases of actual danger or distress.

Mr. Kirkpatrick has a bill before the House which is likely to pass, dealing with this subject, and so has the American Congress.

The wind-up of the session was a debate on a resolution of Mr. Casgrain:

That it is expedient to provide for a better supervision by the Government of all the banks of the Dominion.

The mover, Mr. Innes, and Mr. Foster addressed the House in support of the motion. Mr. Casey moved the adjournment of the debate. All of the speakers condemned the present banking supervision as very faulty and defective.

The House adjourned at 11 o'clock.

A SWEEPING CLAIM.

The United States' Position Regarding Sealing in Behring Sea.

NEW YORK, April 9.—A Washington despatch to The Tribune says: The fact that the question of damages was not considered by the Fisheries Commissioners indicates that a new convention will have to be called to settle these claims and those of Great Britain arising out of the seizure of British poachers in Behring Sea. There has been a good deal of bluster lately indulged in by the Canadian press as to the action their Government proposed to take this summer in regard to the killing of fur seals in Behring Sea. British whalers, it is understood, propose to resist capture by force of arms. It is hardly to be believed that any serious intention exists of carrying such threats into effect.

The United States Government has taken but one position on the subject of killing seals in Behring Sea ever since the territory was purchased in 1867. That position has been the assertion of the unquestioned right to control entirely the killing of fur seals in these waters. Year after year the Treasury Department, which is charged by law with the duty of regulating the business, has issued its orders that no one should without its sanction venture to kill any fur seals in the waters of the Territory of Alaska, and when that department was asked in 1871 to define what was meant by the term "waters of the territory," it said that the phrase included all the waters described within the limits mentioned in the treaty of cession, which covers practically the whole easterly half of Behring Sea, the westerly half being continued under the dominion of Russia. Secretary Manning supported this construction and recently orders were given by Secretary Fairchild to the same effect and sent to the collectors of customs on the Pacific coast with special instructions to give them wide publicity, so that all parties concerned might have full knowledge of what this Government considered its rights in the premises, and of the action which would be taken to enforce these rights should parties persist in their freebooting enterprises.

Neither the British Government nor any other Government has at any time entered a protest against the issuance of such orders, nor has the British Government taken a position against that taken by our Government on the question. The most that the Government has done was to inquire the reasons for our seizing British vessels in those waters and what position our Government intended to take in the future on the subject. To these enquiries it is understood the United States has not yet officially responded, but the key to the situation is found in the nature of the warnings recently issued by the Treasury against illicit sealing. It is apprehended that neither the Secretary nor the President will be deterred from doing their duty by any bluster of the kind mentioned.

BISMARCK BEATEN.

The Chancellor's Opposition to the Marriage Withdrawn.

BERLIN, April 9.—It is stated to-day that Prince Bismarck has abandoned his opposition to the marriage of Prince Alexander of Battenberg and the Princess Victoria, having gained certain other concessions and that all the differences between the Emperor and Prince Bismarck are now settled.

The Chancellor and the Empress.

BERLIN, April 9.—A story is circulated here to the effect that at the first conference of Prince Bismarck with the new Emperor the Empress was present, at which Prince Bismarck seemed surprised, although he said nothing about the matter. But at his second conference with the Emperor, at which the Empress was also present, he hesitated about commencing his report. The Emperor asked the cause of his hesitation, whereupon he replied that he was not accustomed to confer with the monarch in the presence of a third person, and felt that his attention was diverted thereby. The Empress instantly left the room, and it is said has never since appeared at the conferences of the Chancellor with the Emperor.

Bismarck Seriously Ill.

NEW YORK, April 9.—The Sun's Berlin correspondent says Bismarck is seriously ill. When he announced a few days after his difference with the Emperor that his health would force him to resign, it was looked upon as a pretext. Undoubtedly it was only half true at the time, but since then the Chancellor's illness has grown into an accomplished fact. He was more affected by the death of his idol, the late Kaiser, than the public, which believes him a man of iron insensibility, imagines. Concerning the details of his illness the most profound secrecy is enjoined.

"A British Plot."

ST. PETERSBURG, April 9.—An inspired article in The Grajdanine says that the Battenberg marriage plot is a British plot to secure Prince Alexander's return to Bulgaria, to which Russia ought to reply in the mountains of Afghanistan.

The Empress at Posen.

BERLIN, April 9.—On the arrival of the Empress at Landsberg she was received by the municipal authorities and other officials. She thanked them for their devotion and their work in rescuing those imperilled by the floods. The Empress arrived at Posen this afternoon. She stopped at other places besides Landsberg and was everywhere greeted with enthusiasm. The Polish leaders have issued a manifesto asking the inhabitants of Posen to sink their national disputes and unite in welcoming the Empress.

TO-DAY'S SPORTING NEWS.

RACING EVENTS ON THE ENGLISH TURF FIELD.

The Epsom Spring Meeting and the Sandown Park Spring Meeting—The Sandhill Record—Rain Stops the Toronto-Cincinnati Game—Spots of Sport.

Those who take an interest in racing in England will have ample opportunity during the current week to indulge in that inclination. The Epsom Spring Meeting is the fixture for to-day and to-morrow, with the Sandown Park Spring Meeting to follow on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The event of the week is the City and Suburban to-morrow. Of a little less degree, there is the Great Metropolitan to-day, the Esher Stakes and Mammoth Hunters' Steeplechase on Thursday, the Great Sandown Hurdle Race on Friday, the Grand International Steeplechase and Princess of Wales Handicap on Saturday. The City and Suburban is at a mile and a quarter, and the interest up to last mail advices—April 7—made the race an issue between Merry Hampton, the winner of the Derby last year; Hirsleped, the winner of the Epsom Grand Prize, and Reve d'Or, the winner of the Epsom Oaks, all run over the same course as the City and Suburban with the difference that the Derby and Oaks were at a mile and a half. The betting in London on Saturday, as received by cable, shows Galore a better favorite than Reve d'Or while Hirlsepord had gone back several points. The same despatch also says that "very disquieting rumors are in circulation about the condition of Merry Hampton, but that the odds had not been affected."

The Great Metropolitan is at two miles and a quarter, with Lord Rodney's Humewood, the winner of the Cesarewitch last October, the top weight at 124 lb. The Great Surrey Handicap, at five furlongs, will also be run on Tuesday, for which Mr. Abingdon's Gailmail is the top weight at 129 lb. The 3-year-old fixtures of the Epsom meeting are the Westminister Stakes, the Holmwood Stakes and the Hyde Park Plate. At Sandown, on Thursday, the attendance will no doubt be large, for the Mammoth Hunters Steeplechase is worth £1,520 to the winner, £200 to the second and £100 to the third, with the distance at three miles. Two starters will excite much interest, as six-year-olds and upward that have won a race of £200 will have to carry 167 lbs. The chances are it will be won by something "dark," that has been hunted during the winter and kept for the race, the entries (numbering 102) having been made in 1886. The race is, however, one of those events that The London Truth styles a "whited sepulchre," for although it is announced at £2000, the Sandown authorities have already a guarantee of £1765 in forfeit, with £50 to receive from each of the starters.

There is a prospect of the formation of an athletic association in Buffalo. BRITAIN'S PARLIAMENT.

A New Egyptian Loan—King-Harman's Salary—The Budget.

LONDON, April 9.—In the House of Commons this evening Sir James Ferguson, Parliamentary Secretary for the Foreign Office, stated that a new loan, amounting to $10,000,000, had been made by the Egyptian Government.

The House authorized, 124 to 102, the payment of a salary to Right Hon. E. R. King-Harman, Parliamentary Under Secretary for Ireland. A motion by Mr. Justin McCarthy to adjourn debate on the question was defeated by 169 to 104. Mr. T. P. O'Connor declared that the Nationalists were resolved to oppose the bill at every stage.

The House then went into committee on the budget resolutions. Mr. Gladstone wanted to know what course the Chancellor of the Exchequer would take in the event of the House not adopting the new taxes. He commended the budget as a whole, but said that the proposed new taxation demanded close scrutiny.

Mr. Goschen thanked Mr. Gladstone for the complimentary part of his criticism. He upheld the budget scheme as a whole, and said he trusted the House would accept it.

TORONTO'S FAIR NAME.

INDIGNANT PROTESTS AGAINST BASE INSINUATIONS.

Senator Macdonald Repudiates the Published Statements of The Mail—Its Ottawa Correspondent Says His Report was Garbled.

TORONTO, April 10.—The following despatch appeared in The Mail on Saturday:

Senator Alexander drew the new Senator from Toronto to his feet to-day in defence of the fair name of his city. The Senator from Woodstock had a motion on the order paper questioning the Government whether it was their intention to make the laws more stringent to punish assaults with intent to rob. In his remarks he seemed to infer that Toronto was in an exceptionally bad moral state and attributed a portion of the blame to the administration of the late Mayor.

Senator Macdonald denied that there existed in Toronto any set of circumstances that called for special legislation for the crime of offenders mentioned by Senator Alexander. He also repelled the indignation that the administration of Mr. Howland had tended to lessen the city's reputation as the home of a law-abiding population. It is quite open, he said, however, to say, inferentially at least, that the affairs of the city are now in the hands of a gentleman under whom all these matters will obtain an amount of license they have not had hitherto. His remarks were very brief, but they cannot be said to have lacked point.—Ottawa correspondence of The Mail.

The remarks attributed to Senator Macdonald in The Mail on Saturday were the talk of the street yesterday. It was generally held that, if the speech of Toronto's representative in the Senate had been correctly reported, he had gone far out of his way to injure Mayor Clarke by asserting what was groundless.

Yesterday morning, as Mayor Clarke was in the act of preparing a dispatch to the Hon. Senator, he received one from him to the effect that The Mail had incorrectly reported him, and that far from inferring that His Worship would suffer the city to be under the control of the disreputable, he had expressed the utmost confidence in his ability and good will to enforce the laws.

Following close upon the Senator's telegram was one from the Ottawa correspondent of The Mail acknowledging the error, and expressing the greatest regret that such a garbled report should have been allowed to have crept into The Mail's columns. He further added that the official report of the remarks of Senator Macdonald would be published.

In reply to the Senator the Mayor telegraphed that he was fully satisfied with the hon. gentleman's explanation, at the same time assuring him that as long as he held the Mayor's chair the moral wellbeing of Toronto would be in good hands. To the correspondent of The Mail he telegraphed "All right."

MONTREAL'S MUDDY STREETS.

The Star's Cleaning Movement Inaugurated—M.P.'s With Picks.

MONTREAL, April 9.—The men and carts for which The Star advertised on Saturday were set to work at 9.30 this forenoon, and about 300 laborers and 100 carts had before 6 p.m. cleaned the greater part of the business portion of St. James-street. At 2 p.m. about 100 of the wealthiest and most prominent citizens, commanded by Lieut.-Col. Strathcona, D.A.G., and counting among its members such men as Hon. Henry Starnes, ex-Minister of Public Works, and at present Legislative Councillor; Hon. Peter Mitchell, M.P., J. J. Curran, M.P., Lt.-Col. Oswald, J. S. Hall, M.P.P., ex-Mayor Beaubrand, and others equally well known, assembled in The Star office and marched armed with picks to the corner of McGill and St. James-street, where at the call of the bugle and amid the cheers of the assembled multitude they began to break the ice in the street for the purpose of showing their sympathy with the movement inaugurated in the morning.

The Ocean Mail Contract.

OTTAWA, April 9.—It is reported that the Government will extend the present contract of the Allan and Dominion lines of steamers for carrying the British mails for one year, it being decided advisable to wait a few months to see how the new class of fast vessels now building turn out. The Government is desirous of procuring the very best service that can be obtained. It is thought that this can be accomplished, and at the same time be able to have a class of high speed boats which will make a specialty of carrying mails, passengers and the lighter class of express freight, leaving the carrying of general freight to the regular freight steamers. No doubt the Government will be able in the course of the year to make such a contract as will meet the views of the traveling public, and at the same time to have a service equal to the fast lines now running between Liverpool and New York.

A Sault Ste. Marie Deputation.

OTTAWA, April 9.—To-day a deputation from Sault Ste. Marie, composed of Mayor Biggins, John Cousins of the Michipicoten mines, George Marks of the Bruce mines, and W. F. Davidson of Port Arthur, accompanied by Mr. Lawson, Adam Brown and Mr. Masson, M.P.'s., had an interview with the Minister of the Interior. The object of the visit was to urge upon the Government to rescind the recent mineral regulations in respect to Indian lands in Algoma. They pointed out that these regulations would drive miners out of the district. Similar regulations had not been successful in any country where they had been tried, and merely revived an obsolete and impracticable order of things.

Of Interest to Gun Clubs.

OTTAWA, April 9.—Col. Tisdale is going to oppose Adam Brown's bill for the prevention of cruelty to animals as far as it refers to trap-shooting. The Colonel considers himself a thorough humanitarian but holds that there is absolutely no cruelty about trap-shooting any more than there is about fishing. The birds did an easy death and those that escape or are wounded by the original marksmen are invariably killed by the outposts. This bill is of considerable interest to the several gun clubs of Toronto.

MONTREAL, April 9.—A meeting of the cotton manufacturers of the Dominion is to be held in this city on Wednesday next to make arrangements for the coming season. The Nova Scotia and New Brunswick mills are to be represented.

Jews to be Expelled from Odessa.

ODESSA, April 9.—It is officially announced that all foreign Jews in this city, numbering 10,000 families, chiefly natives of Austria and Roumania, will be expelled shortly.

Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada.

At the annual meeting of the Sun Life Assurance Company, held at its offices, St. James street, Montreal, on the 16th March, the president, Mr. Thomas Workman, occupied the chair, and Mr. Macaulay, the managing director, acted as secretary. The report was read as follows:—

REPORT.

It is with much gratification that the directors present their report of the transactions of the company during the past year. Both in magnitude and profitableness, the business has been almost everything they could desire.

The applications for new life assurances were 2,436 for $3,591,926.44, of which 2,247 for $3,250,100.06 were accepted and policies issued therefor.

The life policies now in force are 7,128 for $10,873,777.69, on 6,741 lives. We have moreover, $3,207,600.00 insured under 1,846 accident policies, so that the total current contracts of the company are 8 969 for $14,081,377.69.

The income for the year shows the very large increase of $122,331.23 over the figures of 1886, the total being $495,631.54. The magnitude of this sum may be better understood by pointing out that it is equal to $1,600 for every working day in the year, and this, too, without including the large repayments which the company is constantly receiving on account of previous investments. This increase for the one year is, moreover, now as large as the total income was only few years ago.

The assets have also been largely augmented, and now amount, including capital, to over $1,756,000.

As may be seen from the accounts, nearly $600,000 was returned to policy holders during the year in death claims, matured endowments, profits, etc. This is by far the largest sum the company has ever yet so distributed, and shows that we are each year fulfilling more completely and satisfactorily our mission in protecting the widows and orphans of the land, and also providing for the necessities of the old age of our policy-holders themselves. At the same time it must be remembered that as the greater part of the accumulated surplus of the preceding five years, as it stood at the end of 1886, has been paid away to policy-holders during the year, the sum now to our credit as surplus is almost entirely the result of the one year's transactions, and that this should amount to over $75,000 is exceedingly encouraging, and leads us to expect very large profits at the next division.

Although the amount paid in death claims shows an increase, this is only the natural result of the increasing business of the company, and the advancing age of its members. The total has been well within the predictions of our mortality tables, and this is the best evidence possible of the great care taken in the selection of the risks.

In all the details of its business as above, new assurances, amount now in force, income, assets, and surplus earned, the past year stands out as the best that the company has had, and we believe that we are yet only at the beginning of its prosperity.

The company has during the past year realized on a large amount of the real estate held by it, and after providing abundantly for all possible losses on the remaining properties, has been able to take credit for $8,500 surplus from this source. The total profit made on real estate and debentures sold was $11,472. This of itself is high testimony to the character of the investments, and the directors do not hesitate to state their belief that nearly every asset on the company's books could be disposed of at a profit. The mortgage account could certainly be transferred en bloc at a premium.

The books and accounts have as usual been carefully audited by Messrs. P. S. Ross & Sons, who have not only checked the entries and vouchers, but by communicating personally with every borrower, have ascertained absolutely that the amounts stated to be due are correct. A committee of directors have, moreover, personally scrutinized every bond, mortgage, or other security held by the company, and certify everything to be in perfect order.

The three directors who retire this year are:—Messrs. Thomas Workman, Hon. A. W. Ogilvie and Robert Anderson, all of whom are eligible for re-election.

THOMAS WORKMAN,
President.

R. MACAULEY,
Managing Director.

STATEMENT OF ACCOUNTS FOR 1887.

Total income for 1887	$ 495,631 54
Total assets	1,756,094 46
Total liabilities	1,174,469 32
Cash surplus to policy-holders	128,005 17
Including uncalled capital the surplus to policy-holders is	575,905 17

In moving the adoption of the report, the president expressed the great satisfaction he felt in doing so, and said that although it had been his privilege as president of the company since its inception to present many gratifying statements, yet none of the past ones approached the present one in all the elements of sound progress and financial prosperity. The statements presented are so clear and so minute comment, is almost unnecessary. The new business was the largest received in any one year, and was surpassed by that of only one regular Canadian life company, which is, however, many years our senior. The income and assets have made marked advances and the year's surplus is most encouraging. The company continues the plan of paying claims immediately after the receipt of proper proof of death and title. He might mention as an illustration one case among a great many, where the widow of the policy-holder handed in the proof of papers on Tuesday afternoon and on Wednesday morning a cheque was handed her for the full amount of the policy and accumulated profits. "He pays twice who pays promptly." With regard to the assets, he could testify to their high character, and as he and his fellow directors on the auditing committee checked over the mortgages and examined deed after deed in the company's favor, apparently without end, he had frequently expressed his surprise where all the money had come from to accumulate such a handsome total.

The Hon. A. W. Ogilvie, Vice-President, seconded the adoption of the report. He had always taken a deep interest in the Company and by this the greatest pleasure in witnessing the rapid and solid progress made, especially of late years. Although he never had any doubt that it would in the course of years take a first position among our financial institutions, he did not expect to see it so very far forward in 1888. It took the first ten years of its existence to have an income equal to the gain, or overplus, alone, of last year, over the total of the previous year. The revenue is now half a million dollars per annum, or as mentioned in the report, over $1,600 for every working day in the year, and even this he believed was but a mere introduction to what it will be a few years hence. The gains from time to time were well illustrated by the following table:—

Period.	Gain in income.	Gain in assets.
1873 to 1876, four years	$ 44,651 21	$249,891 65
1877 to 1880, four years	1,650 27	156,165 23
1881 to 1884, four years	134,976 94	398,284 31
1884 to 1887, four years	217,151 89	675,397 34
Present totals	$398,931 54	$1,730,994 53

Period.	Gain in assurance in force.
1873 to 1876, four years	$1,542,742 09
1877 to 1880, four years	1,167,288 14
1881 to 1884, four years	2,993,254 56
1884 to 1887, four years	4,082,273 65
Present total	$10,575,177 69

It is very pleasing to notice that the gains for the last three years only are 60 per cent. more than those of the preceding four years. Another very gratifying feature is the high character of the assets in which the funds are invested, as may be inferred from the profits made on several of its investments. He could testify to the very great care exercised in the selection of loans, and that they are much above the average in quality, the smallness of the overdue interest being an additional proof of that, and but for the extreme promptness in closing the books on the morning of the first business day of the year that amount, small though it is, would be much less. The members were to be congratulated on the rate of interest which the investments yield. Without including the handsome profit on sales, but simply taking the ordinary interest received, it netted 6.12 per cent. on the average realized assets of the year. That was a remarkably satisfactory interest earning. It must also be remembered that the rate of interest is a very important factor in the profit earning power of a life company. The members should be much gratified to know that their funds are invested so safely and profitably. The Sun Life is to-day one of the most prosperous financial institutions of the country, with a magnificent future before it.

Mr. Chas. Cushing remarked that in round numbers the business had increased during last year by $1,000 policies covering $1,500,000, while the expense account has been proportionately considerably reduced. This was very satisfactory. As the Company's notary, he was in a position to judge as to the Company's investments, and he could testify that amongst his clients there was no financial institution which exercised more care and prudence in the selection of loans than the Sun Life.

Mr. Chas. Alexander moved a hearty vote of thanks to the president and directors for their efficient conduct of the Company's business during the past year, which had produced such a remarkably satisfactory report as that now before them. He expressed himself as much pleased with the exhibit. Mr. Nolan Delisle seconded this motion with great pleasure, as he considered it well earned. He made a number of comparisons with the business of previous years, showing how rapid the progress of the Company is now compared with previous years, and that that progress was characterized also by an increasing profitableness.

Mr. James Tasker then moved a vote of thanks to the managing director, staff, medical referee and agents. As a new member of the Board he had observed with much interest the operations of the Company for the year just closed. He had specially watched the inflow of business week by week; he had noted particularly the sources from which it came, the care bestowed on the examinations, and the careful oversight of all by Dr. Wilkins the medical director, and the Board generally, and was thus in a position to move this resolution, with the full knowledge that the thanks were well earned and deservedly due. In view of the keen competition amongst companies, the volume of business did infinite credit to the intelligence and zeal of the agents, and he wished to assure them that their services are highly appreciated by the Board. A paragraph in the report alluded to the favorable results as to death claims, and this bore testimony to the efficiency of the medical examinations. It is satisfactory to know from our actuary that the actual amount required year by year has invariably been less than the estimate. He could corroborate every word said by the vice-president as to the excellent quality of the assets, as he had taken an active part as a member of the committee who examined them. The directors had, during the year, added several new features to their accident branch, and now gave one-third of the sum insured in case of the loss of hand or foot, and the whole sum insured in case of loss of both hands or both feet, or one hand and one foot, or both eyes. This made the accident contract a very desirable one.

Mr. W. J. Withall seconded the motion. When a vessel is at sea it is necessary to have both first-class officers and first-class men if they were to have a successful voyage. They were fortunate in having both, for the president, whom he might call the father of the company, and the indefatigable managing director, made excellent officers, and they had certainly an excellent staff of agents.

Mr. Selkirk Cross could testify with sorrow as the Company's lawyer, but with pleasure as a policy holder, that the Company was exceedingly opposed to litigation in fact, could hardly be forced into a lawsuit.

Mr. Macaulay, the managing director, said the report was a true exhibit of the year's transactions and of the financial position of the company. The directors were as much pleased with it as he. He returned thanks on behalf of himself, the actuary and office staff, for the reference to them in the resolution of thanks. The Company is fortunate in having such a medical referee as Dr. Wilkins and such a painstaking legal adviser as Mr. Selkirk Cross. As for the army of agency workers, he wished them to know that those at the head office are fully alive to the difficulties of their position and appreciate the zeal and devotion displayed by them. An honest, truthful life agent has an amount of worry which few know of. He can meet fair competition, but untrue or distorted criticism, or exorbitant estimates are often hard to face. The Toronto branch is fast assuming splendid proportions under the management of Mr. Gilbert. Mr. Hurst, the Western inspector, and many others also deserve praise for their energy and success. The Messrs. Junkin, of Brockville, and Hill, of Peterborough, have done good service. Belleville, under Mr. Mackintyre, British Columbia, under Mr. Crane, Manitoba, under Messrs. Gilroy and Anderson, the Northwest, under Mr. Boyd, and the Maritime provinces, under Mr. Henderson, are all becoming more important each year. Mr. Bédard, of Sherbrooke, devotes himself chiefly to accident business and deserves special mention as a most efficient and reliable agent. The insurance department at Ottawa requires annually a detailed list of all the mortgages of the company and the particulars of the properties covered by them. Some of the totals are interesting. The valuations placed by the company's own appraisers on the properties mortgaged are:—

Lands only	$ 973,675
Buildings only	1,252,253
Making a total security of	$2,225,928

on which has been loaned $891,908.43. The security is therefore about two and a half times the amount loaned. This shows the quality of the mortgage account. It is pity to see Canadians sending their premiums out of the country and thus impoverishing Canada and helping to build up foreign cities, when by investing with our home institutions they can help in building up our own country and receive at the same time as great advantages as they can possibly get by going abroad.

Mr. T. B. Macaulay explained some items in the report. The reserves or liabilities, for instance, are calculated on a very strict basis—the H m table of the Institute of Actuaries of Great Britain, which is the legal standard of the Dominion, and provides for a heavier mortality than any other table in use in modern times. He referred also to a new rule which had been adopted by the Board with regard to all policies issued since the last division of surplus. The profits are to be divided every five years from the year of the issue of the policy, and not every five years from the Company's foundation, as at present. The new plan was much the more equitable of the two, and would ensure much larger profits to be divided to policy-holders, since it is well known that the great majority of the policies cancelled are less than five years old, and as no profits will now be given until a policy is five years old, there will be the same amount of profit to divide among a smaller number of members, and each one will therefore get more than under the old rule. The change is a very desirable one for all those who keep their policies in force, and will, no doubt, help to make the Company still more popular even than now.

A number of other gentlemen spoke, all expressing unqualified pleasure at the position of the Company.

The retiring directors were re-elected unanimously.

UNDEVELOPED RESOURCES.

The Vast Saskatoonie Basin—Projected Navigation of the Saskatchewan.

OTTAWA, April 9.—At the meeting of Sebastian Schwitt's Mackenzie River Committee this morning letters were read from Bishop Isidore Clut of Ariandale who has spent thirty years in that country, Bishop Lafleche of Three Rivers, Hon. Wm. Christie and W. J. MacLean of Lower Fort Garry, offering to give evidence about the great expanse of country in the basin of the Mackenzie River at future dates. The remarkable statement was made by Senator Schultz that His Lordship of Three Rivers could not speak English, and a series of questions in French will be sent to the bishop who will write his replies opposite them. Ex-Judge Malcolm McLeod of Ottawa, who was born between the Saskatchewan and Mackenzie Rivers, will also give evidence. His father built Norway House and Fort Carlton, destroyed by the rebels during the recent North west insurrection.

The Secretary of the Winnipeg Board of Trade and Mayor L. N. Jones of the same city will probably be summoned to give evidence as to the possibility of commencing navigation of the Saskatchewan, with trunk lines of railways at Winnipeg, as Edmonton is connected by land carriage of ninety miles with the navigating of the Athabasca, Peace, Great Slave and Mackenzie Rivers.

John Anderson, Reeve of Georgiana in York County, gave additional evidence and will be recalled to-morrow. He read extracts from a diary kept by his father in 1825 while in search of the remains of Sir John Franklin and his ill-fated expedition. On the way from Fort Simpson to Great Slave Lake he saw strawberries in flower on June 7, and a few days later, on the south side of Great Slave Lake, he found grass [illegible] long, in latitude 61°. In the same [illegible] plovers were in [illegible] at this date. Great Fish River, latitude 67°, was an immense feeding and breeding ground for geese of various species and the summer home of the musk-ox and caribou. This river has been visited but twice, once by Anderson and once by Henry Rock. The Mackenzie River opens at Fort Norman and at Fort Good Hope, latitude 66°, on May 5.

He mentioned a new river that was discovered by his father, lying between Great Bear Lake and the Arctic Sea, tributary from its source at latitude 67° north to the outlet of the Arctic Sea, called the Incomau or Unknown River. This river, strange to say, opens in spring before the Mackenzie and had near its source sulphur and petroleum springs in abundance. Its width was equal to the Mackenzie at Fort Simpson. The barren grounds are about 180,000 square miles less in extent than has been heretofore supposed, and consequently that area may be added to the pasturage area of the Mackenzie.

TORONTO, April 9.—In the local money market there is no particular change. Call loans on debentures can be easily obtained at 5 per cent. On stocks loans are made at 5½ to 6 per cent. A fair sized amount of commercial paper is offering, and is discounted on first-class accounts at 6 per cent., the general price being 7 to 7½ per cent.

The total transactions on the local Stock Exchange last week were 12894 shares, of which 526 were bank stock, as compared with a total of 661 shares the corresponding week of last year.

Grass butter is also very scarce and high. Eggs are a trifle higher. Hay remained unchanged. On the grain market three loads of barley sold at 74c, 75c and 76c per bushel respectively. One load of oats sold at 50c a bushel.

The continued steady increase of the Company's business, NOW EXCEEDING THE AGGREGATE OF ALL THE OTHER CANADIAN COMPANIES, and being more than a fourth of the entire Life Assurance business of the Dominion; its favorable mortality; its moderate expenses, and the high character of its investments, afford good grounds for highly favorable and satisfactory profits to its assurers and, EXPLAINS THE CAUSE OF THE UNPARALLELED SUCCESS OF THE COMPANY FOR THE LAST 41 YEARS.

Intending Assurers should, in their own interests, examine the rates and profits of this OLD RELIABLE and Successful Institution, before insuring elsewhere.

TO DEPOSITORS—Deposits are received by this Company both on current account and for periods of one year or longer. The rate of interest paid on amount deposited on current account and which may be withdrawn by check in such sums as the depositor may from time to time require, is four per cent., either paid or compounded half yearly, and the rate on yearly deposits is five per cent.

TO INVESTORS—The five and ten years five per cent. debentures of this Company which are issued in denominations of $100, $200, $500 and $1,000 each, transferable by endorsement, with half-yearly interest coupons attached, payable at the Head Office of the Company in Peterborough, or at any Branch of the Bank of Toronto in Canada, afford a safe and convenient mode of investment.

The funds of the Company being invested with the utmost care and precaution, no better security can be offered to depositors or debenture-holders, they having a first claim or mortgage on the whole Assets of the Company, the Shareholders having the second. The last audit shows that the amount so invested was over $1,310,223.69, and on securities of at least double that value.

By the Laws of Ontario, Trustees, Executors and Administrators may deposit Trust Funds of the estates which they control in this Company, and are free from all further liability, a privilege of which many have largely availed themselves.

TO BORROWERS—Money is obtainable from this Company on approved Real Estate Security at the Lowest Current Rates of Interest. The Mortgage may be repaid by yearly instalments or otherwise, as may be agreed upon, the interest ceasing at once on all amounts paid on account of the sum borrowed. LOCAL NEWS.

The Weather.

East shifting to southwest winds; cloudy with rain and local thunder storms, followed by clearing weather and considerably higher temperature.

Fashionable Reception.

It is not considered tone to call it a tea-party any longer, it is "reception." And receptions are now very popular in society. Such, at least, is the grand, fashionable reception at the millinery and mantle rooms of the golden lion. These rooms are now open and the public are cordially invited to inspect the finest assortment of fashionable millinery and millinery novelties ever gathered together under one roof in Peterborough.

"Triple A" Topics.

The directors of the P.A.A.A. met Monday afternoon and appointed the standing committees for the year. Arrangements were furthered for the holding of the annual spring sports, probably on the 24th May. The Y.M.C.A. lacrosse club applied for permission to practice upon the grounds of the Association, which was granted upon terms to be settled later. The new professional coach, Mr. Day, will be in town this week, and the grounds will then be at once placed in good condition.

Mr. Sawtelle's Hard Luck.

The Intelligencer says:—"Mr. Sawtelle, who had such up hill work in Belleville during his week's engagement, on account of the revival services, was floored again in Cornwall. He reached that town the same day the Salvation Army opened fire, and had to play second fiddle there as he did here." Evidently the charm is broken, judging by the crowded house that greeted the first performance of the Sawtelle Company at the Opera House Monday night in "A Tangled Life." The hall was simply jammed, and the play gave every satisfaction. It is a romance of old Virginia, and the characters were all well taken. The Sawtelle Company are a good all round combination and deserve the excellent patronage they received. To-night the play will be "The Orange Girl."

Is the World Retrograding?

A discussion among members of the Otonabee Canoe Club Monday evening resulted in the decision that such was the case. The debate was led on the affirmative side by Messrs. A. Tebb and T. Barrie, the latter taking the place of Mr. W. B. Stevens, who was too ill to attend; and the negative was shouldered mainly by Messrs. G. J. Smith, B.A., and W. H. Hill. It was one of the most close, spirited and interesting discussions the club has held this winter. Each side figured up an imposing array of argumentative talent, and the question was about as thoroughly canvassed as it possibly could be. The technical wording of the subject was:—"Resolved, that morality advances with civilization." A decision was given by the chairman, Mr. J. E. Wills, in favor of the negative by a majority of 2 points only. Mr. W. H. Hill also performed the duties of critic in a competent manner. The subject of the debate next Tuesday night will be upon the resolution: "That a party press is detrimental to the best interests of the country." The affirmative will be conducted by Messrs. Carmichael and W. A. Mason; the negative by Messrs. L. W. Allingham and W. H. Dayman. Mr. C. H. Allison will officiate as chairman, and Mr. John Millar, B.A., as critic.

SATISFACTORY INSURANCE.

In these days life insurance is considered one of the legitimate heads of investment in regard to providing a future income, and also in regard to provision for dependents after death has closed the career of the bread-winner. Therefore, the public always seek with avidity intelligence bearing upon this important subject. No more interesting nor profitable reading under this head can be adduced than the annual report of the "Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada," to be found elsewhere in this issue. A glance at the report furnishes most gratifying information of the progress and flourishing condition of this company. During the past year 2,247 applications for insurance, amounting to over $3,250,000, have been entertained. The total of the policies in force is now 6,741, thus showing nearly 7,000—or counting accident policies, nearly 9,000—persons over whom the company extends financial protection. The income of the Company amounted last year to the large sum of near half a million, or about $1,600 for every working day in the year. In spite of the fact that during the year the sum of nearly $200,000 has been returned to policy-holders in the shape of death claims, matured endowments and profits, the assets have been augmented by the huge sum of $1,750,000. In all respects the "Sun" is in a most flourishing condition, and in no part of its jurisdiction more so than in the district of Peterborough agency. Mr. W. H. Hill, general agent for Central Ontario, has so successfully managed the affairs of the company that himself came up for special commendation at the annual meeting. With his new and commodious offices on Water street, with his own extensive practical experience and knowledge of the business, and with a capable staff of assistants, such encomiums are not only natural but very richly deserved.

Literary Notes.

THE ENGINEERING SOCIETY.—The EXAMINER has received from Mr. R. S. Latimer, C. E., a copy of "Papers read before the Engineering Society of the School of Practical Society, Toronto." The excellence and practical value of the papers is highly creditable to the members of the Society, whose deep interest in promoting the study of practical science is by no means confined to the preparation of papers on scientific subjects. One of the laudable objects of the Society is to procure the enlargement of the buildings occupied by the School of Science, Toronto. This institution, though only a short time in existence has shown itself to be a most efficient institution whose value to the cause of applied science will be much increased by the attainment of the object sought by the Engineering Society, that is the enlargement of the buildings. It is to be hoped that the friends of practical scientific education will extend the Society both moral and substantial aid towards the attainment of its laudable object.

The annual meeting of the Otonabee Canoe Club was held last evening. The chief business was, of course, the election of officers for another year. All the appointments, with the exception of the committee, who were elected by ballot, were made unanimously, and the cheerful, good feeling characterized the proceedings. The officers for the coming year are:—

COMMODORE—Mr. John Miller, B.A.
VICE-COMMODORE—Mr. H. W. Stock.
SECRETARY—Mr. A. E. Dixon.
ASSISTANT-SECRETARY—Mr. Thos. Barrie.
TREASURER—Mr. M. E. Scott.
EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE—Messrs. C. H. Allison, W. B. Hill, W. A. Mason and A. Clegg.

Commodore Miller does not expect to be in town this summer, but in his absence Mr. Stock will make an excellent "vice." The prospects for this the second season of the Otonabee Canoe Club's existence, are bright and promising. It has now a large membership of young and active men, who are practical and enthusiastic canoeists, and "jolly good fellows" besides. The course of debates during the winter has been an instructive means of keeping the members together and adding to the spirit of sociability that in the summer is kept alive by club intercourse on the water.

A few minor changes were made in the constitution, the principal one being that henceforth every new applicant must send in the membership fee, $1.50, with his application.

The club will retain its lease of the boat-house at the foot of Sherbrooke street, and the committee will at once proceed to place it in a first-class state of repair.

High Court of Justice.

First Day—Monday.

In the case of Gervais vs. Goodwin the plaintiff was non-suited. The case did not go to the jury, His Honor withdrawing it from their hands on the ground that there had been no evidence worth considering. He accordingly rendered judgment as above.

THE CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

The Grand Jury returned "no bill" in the case against Hicks (larceny) who was at once discharged, and "true bills" in the cases against Youmans and Kennedy.

The case against Youmans was then proceeded with. The evidence as to the shooting was taken and a plea of insanity entered, accompanied by the certificate of Dr. Kincaid to that effect. The prisoner was not convicted of any crime but returned to jail as a lunatic. Youmans is quite an old man, and in court appeared to view things with the stolid indifference of an insane person.

Second Day—Tuesday.

Wm. Keany's trial for forgery, the indictment for which was made out in three separate forms, was begun; Mr. Riddell, Q.C., for prosecution; Mr. W. A. Stratton for the prisoner.

The evidence was taken corroborating the facts of the case as published in the EXAMINER at the time of the prisoner's arrest. His Honor in his charge spoke very leniently, and the jury brought in a verdict of guilty of one of the counts, uttering a forged note, with a strong recommendation for mercy. The other charges, obtaining goods under false pretences and forgery, were not pushed.

The prisoner was sentenced to 23 months in the Central Prison, which, with the month he has already spent in gaol, will make his punishment just two years' imprisonment.

RITCHIE VS. FLOOD was decided in favor of the plaintiff, who was awarded $5 damages.

In SWEENEY VS. SWEENEY, a suit for non-support, the plaintiff won.

Particulars of these cases, as well as a copy of the Grand Jury presentment, will be given to-morrow.

This closed the business of the court and an adjournment was made.

The Plain Truth.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

DEAR SIR,—Will you allow me a little space in your journal in the interests of truth. In the issue of the EXAMINER of Oct. 26th the following letter signed by myself appears:—

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

DEAR SIR,—I have been asked by a great many people how I liked Hamilton's Sulky Plough. Now as I have tried it in all kinds of ground I like it well and think it a better plough than the plough Mr. Bowie is selling, although as I am informed, Mr. Bowie has been telling around that I took Mr. Hamilton's back and got one of his, but it is not so. I have been using my plough all summer and would not take one of Bowie's new ploughs and $20 for it now.

DAVID STOREY.

In a subsequent issue Mr. E. E. Bowie, in denial of the truth of my statements, published the following letter:—

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

DEAR SIR,—I see a letter in your paper written by David Storey, of Emily, stating that he got a sulky plough from Mr. Peter Hamilton, and thinks it a better plough than I am selling; and also stating that I have been telling around that David Storey returned one of Mr. Peter Hamilton's ploughs. This I most emphatically deny, and dare him to come forward or bring anyone and state in my presence what he has written in his letter. I never knew David Storey had a sulky plough until I saw his letter in the paper.

Yours truly,
E. E. BOWIE.

Peterborough, Oct. 26th.

I have delayed responding to Mr. Bowie's extraordinary statements till I had an opportunity of getting from the parties able to give it, a written corroboration of the correctness of the statements in my original letter. I now produce them below. The public will now have an opportunity of forming their own judgment in the matter. The following letters speak for themselves:

TO MR. D. STOREY:

DEAR SIR,—I was present when Mr. E. Bowie was speaking about David Storey returning a sulky plough he had bought from Peter Hamilton, and did hear him say that David Storey had returned the plough and had bought one from him, and am very much surprised to see him denying that he said so.

D'ARCY DUELOP,
North Monaghan.

TO DAVID STOREY:

DEAR SIR,—Having seen in the EXAMINER your letter and Mr. Bowie's denial regarding the sulky plough; we think he must have forgot, as he certainly mentioned to us that Storey had returned Peter Hamilton's sulky plough and bought one of his. We are quite certain on that point.

Yours,
A. F. PATTERSON,
Con. 2, lot 26, Otonabee.
JOHN HARPER,
North Monaghan.

Thanking you for giving me an opportunity of vindicating my character for truthfulness, I remain,

Yours truly,
DAVID STOREY.

Cavan.

Death of Mr. Joseph Armstrong.

Mr. Joseph Armstrong, of Cavan, died on Sunday at his home, at the venerable age of 83 years. The deceased gentleman was one of the very earliest settlers of Cavan and has been for years and years associated with its growth and progress. He had of course a very wide circle of acquaintances who held him in high respect for his many excellent qualities of character and who will hear with regret of his decease. He leaves behind him a large circle of relatives, among them a niece, Mrs. James Stratton, town. The funeral takes place to-morrow at 2 o'clock, and the interment will take place at the English church cemetery, Cavan.

Personal.

Mr. W. H. Wright, formerly a student in Mr. E. B. Stone's office, but now of Meaford, is in town for a few days attending the assizes.

—The Port Hope Times says:—"On Saturday night the body of the late J. Morgan Hawkins, from Peterborough, arrived and was driven to his friends several miles in the country. It was two o'clock before Mr. Walker got back after his drive. A day or two ago deceased's mother was buried."

—Lindsay Warder:—"Mr. Geo. Matthews shipped 2000 hams to Toronto on Tuesday. The hams average about 18 lbs. each, making a total of about 34,000 lbs. This equals well for Lindsay." Yes; Lindsay always does the largest share of the "hog" business. We expect our Port Hope contemporaries to endorse this sentiment.

—A contemporary says:—"There was a sharp frost last night and this morning early wraps were found necessary. The average young wife finds early raps, and hard ones too, necessary nearly every morning to arouse her sleepy husband and make him get up and light the fire. And its a very frosty morning when she gets left.

Tea and Nervous Disorders.

Tea has a powerful action on the nervous system of some individuals. Dr. Ballard of Boston believes that it may produce a chronic poisoning of the nervous centres, shown in increased excitability, due partly to direct action of the alkaloid on nervous matter, and also indirectly by the production of gastric derangement. Taken therefore too frequently, even in moderate doses, it places the nervous system in a condition of greater vulnerability to slight external influences, and favors the development of functional neuroses, or helps to render them permanent. Whilst there is no evidence to show that tea causes organic changes in the nervous tissues, yet, if such exist, tea may readily aggravate some of the symptoms. Tea may act as an important factor in the causation of neuralgia, hysteria, and allied affections. When taken constantly in large doses, dyspepsia usually supervenes before irreparable harm is done to the nervous system.

Shot by a "Q" Engineer.

CHICAGO, April 9.—At 7 to-night a "Q" engine manned by scabs was approaching the Western Indiana tracks from the southwest. At Forty-seventh-street a crowd threw stones through the cab window, when Charles Sommers, one of the crew, drew a revolver and firing it at the crowd struck James Boylan, a foundryman, in the knee. At Fortieth-street the engine met the same reception from another crowd. Sommers again brought his pistol into use. He shot Mike Welsh, a Wabash engineer, in the groin, wounding him fatally. An alarm having been given to the police the engine was intercepted and Sommers arrested.

Not Aware of Any Lead Smuggling.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—In answer to a resolution of the Senate calling for a statement of what precautions have been taken to prevent the unlawful importation of lead and lead ores from Mexico and Canada into the United States and what legislation is necessary to prevent the same, the Secretary of the Treasury says that as a precaution against smuggling of merchandize from Canada and Mexico officers have been appointed to constantly patrol the frontier and he was not aware that any additional legislation was necessary.

THE EMPIRE'S LIBEL CASE.

MANAGER CREIGHTON IN CHARGE OF HIGH CONSTABLE GALE.

The Objectionable Words—Premier Mercier Said to Have "Been Proved Guilty of Gross Personal Corruption"—Mr. Creighton Out on Bail.

Toronto, April 11.

High Constable Gale of Quebec yesterday arrested Mr. David Creighton, M.P.P. for South Grey and managing director of The Empire, on a warrant charging him with having criminally libelled Hon. Honore Mercier, Premier of Quebec. Detective Cuddy piloted the Quebec man to The Empire office, where he found Mr. Creighton awaiting his arrival, having been previously advised of the officer's presence in the city and his errand.

Mr. Gale and Mr. Creighton drove at once to Police Headquarters, where the arrest was formally entered, and thence to the office of Mr. Dalton McCarthy, where an hour's consultation was held. Mr. Creighton determined to dispute all rights to fight the validity of the warrant, and consented to proceed to Quebec with Mr. Gale.

The article on which the charge for criminal libel is based appeared in The Empire on April 6, and is as follows:

Each of the orgies of Mr. Mercier he venture to give any reason for the dismissal of Mr. McShane from the Quebec Cabinet alleges as its cause the electoral irregularities of the sacrificed minister. The hollowness of this plea is shown by the facts that Mr. Mercier has been proved guilty of gross personal corruption, and that Mr. Tarte'ro, the acting successor of Mr. McShane in his department, is a venal politician of most unenviable notoriety. Men of that stamp do not depose a colleague for "electoral irregularities." There has evidently been a little tussle in the happy family.

"Yes," said Mr. Creighton last night, "this thing has certainly taken me by surprise, but of course as manager, my shoulders have to bear everything. The going down to Quebec, or the action, troubles me but little. It is only the unfortunate time it has happened that annoys me. You see there is all my furniture packed and ready to be shipped to Toronto, and it is lying in the Owen Sound depot. I was right in the muddle of a family moving when I got the despatch from Toronto, saying that I was wanted. Of course I came right down here and met Mr. Gale. I could have avoided him if I had chosen, but I had no such intention. I will go down to Quebec and give bail, and come right back."

"What if they copies you down there on a civil suit?"

"Oh, no, I do not think they will do that. That would not be fair or gentlemanly."

"Will you fight the case?"

"That is a question for the lawyers to decide upon," was the reply.

There is a possibility that matters can be so arranged that Mr. Creighton can give bail here to appear in Quebec when the case comes up. Yesterday Mr. Gale telegraphed down to Quebec to see whether such a course would meet with the approval of the authorities there. Before the C.P.R. train for the east started from Union Depot at 5.45 an answer was received consenting to an arrangement of this nature, and Mr. Creighton hopes that he will not be compelled to appear in Quebec until the case comes up for trial.

DUTIES ON MELTONS.

Important Circular from the Customs Department—Decisions for March.

OTTAWA, April 10—The Customs Department has issued this circular re duties on Melton cloths:

Applications having been made to the Minister of Customs for the purpose of having certain woolen cloths, called Melton, relied for duty under item 510, 511 and 512 of the tariff, instruction has been given by the Minister of Customs, with the concurrence of the Minister of Finance, that it is not in the power of the Customs Department so to rule, as the reading of the tariff is directly contrary thereto. In item 509 of the said act "cloths and flannels" are distinctly named, and dutiable thereunder at the rate of 35 cents per lb. and 20 per cent. ad valorem, and consequently no cloth or flannel, whatever qualifying word or words may be used as a disguise, can be legally entered at any other rate, and the practice of entering such under the name of "dress goods," "tweeds or other fabricated names, cannot be permitted, and whenever done at any port has been contrary to oft-repeated instructions, and has created great unpleasantness, and operated very injuriously to the interests of importers.

Customs Decisions.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

SIR CHARLES GIVES THE HISTORY OF THE FISHERIES TREATY.

Report of the Proceedings at Washington—Nothing to Obtain Unrestricted Trade with, Having Answers the Minister of Finance—A Spirited Debate.

OTTAWA, April 10.—Sir Charles had the floor to-day and he held it for over five hours, telling the Hansard about the fisheries treaty and the negotiations which preceded its consummation. The latter he pronounced regretful, which is to give effect to the "Treaty of Washington of 1871."

Sir Charles was in good form after his recent illness and he spoke strongly and at times quite eloquently. There was a great deal that was historical, a great deal that was technical and a great deal that was interesting. The speech will be published in pamphlet form by the House. If Sir Charles' health continues as good as it appears at present the Budget may be looked for in a few days. Sir Richard Cartwright is at Montreal to-night attending the Nationalist banquet and there is no doubt he will learn with regret that Sir Charles made his treaty speech during the Kingston Knight's absence.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER.

Sir Charles devoted over an hour to reviewing the Treaty of Paris of 1763 which was abrogated by the war of 1812, the Treaty of 1818, the Treaty of 1854 and lastly the Treaty of 1871, all of which ended in rupture. Although all these treaties had been given effect at various times, yet for over 100 years the matter of the international fisheries had been a bone of irritation between the Governments of Great Britain and the United States and the people of North America, "and with all this irritation," said Sir Charles, "there was no part of Her Majesty's domains that was so deeply interested in the settlement of this fish question as Canada and Newfoundland."

Sir Charles next had a good deal to say about the Treaty of Halifax, with its award of $5,500,000 to Canada by the Commissioners. The speaker rung in this point to show that all through these years of irritation Canada managed to hold its own, that she was holding her own now and that she would continue to hold her own under the terms of the new treaty if it were adopted by the United States Senate, the Legislature of Newfoundland and the Parliament of Canada. The speaker then went on to describe the conference at Washington, the personnel of the commission and the efforts that were made by the English plenipotentiaries to see how far the American envoys would go in opening out the trade relations of Canada and the United States. He told the House, as he told it on a previous occasion, that all the overtures of the English commissioners were met by a categorical refusal to discuss the tariff, the American commissioners putting in the contention that Congress alone had the power to deal with the tariff.

During the course of his remarks Sir Charles made the statement that it was at the suggestion of Erastus Wiman that he visited Washington at the Easter of 1887 and had a long talk with Secretary Bayard about the commercial relations between Canada and the United States.

Sir Charles speech, while in very able one, was somewhat of a puzzle to many supporters of the Government. Had already the Liberals. Especially were his references to international trade outside of the treaty altogether.

The bill which he introduced to give effect to the treaty had fourteen clauses which are in the main worded similarly to the clauses of the treaty itself.

Mr. Davies said he was rather amused at the admission of the Finance Minister that the only concession Canada was going to receive as a result of this treaty was the relief from the payment of over one million dollars duty that we had been accustomed to pay on natural products exported to the States. If the Finance Minister had been in this House during the debate of the last few weeks he would have heard many of his supporters say that that duty was not paid by us, but by the people of the United States, and if their contention was correct the Mills bill would simply relieve the United States consumer of the payment of so much duty. He denied that there was any analogy between the United States Chairman of Ways and Means and our Financial Minister. The Chairman of Ways and Means might be entirely opposed to the Administration. The Mills bill was the outcome of the treaty, but in pursuance of the policy laid down by the President before the treaty was entered into at all. He hoped the bill would pass and that it would be greatly enlarged so that it would include all the natural and manufactured products of the two countries. If the free admission of our products into the United States would produce such great results, why had the first Minister opposed it in the past and advocated restriction rather than conciliation? A year ago Sir Charles Tupper had said the Non-Intercourse Bill would not be an unmixed evil, as it would develop better intercourse among ourselves. To-day, he said, it would have been the greatest commercial disaster that could have happened to Canada. Who was the confidential envoy entrusted to invite the Canadian Government to a conference on the matter? No less a person than Mr. Erastus Wiman. That gentleman, who had but a few days ago been denounced as a renegade Canadian, had been received by the Government and commended by Sir Charles Tupper. He hoped there would be no more sneering at Mr. Wiman. If Sir Charles Tupper would map out his policy on the lines of his letter to Secretary Bayard, and come out from the ranks of those who held him back, he would not only draw a larger support from the Conservatives, but would be received cordially by the Reformers. (Applause.)

The treaty was an unconditional surrender of the position taken by Canada. Our fisheries were given up, and our fishermen had to pay a duty of $2 a barrel for entering the American markets. He thought the Government should decline to make concessions which they declared a year ago to be unjust, and that they should step out of office. That would be the course English statesmen would adopt. If the Finance Minister made an offer of Unrestricted Reciprocity, as he had said he had, he should have been present a week ago in the House, and have heard his followers declare such a proposition to be disloyal. The Opposition had been forestalled in their traitorous designs by Sir Charles Tupper; but the Premier took him back to his bosom, and was prudently enabled as long as he remained in retaining the present Government in power.

Mr. Jones of Halifax moved the adjournment of the debate.

An Illicit Still Seized.

THE LATEST MARKET REVIEW.

TORONTO, April 10.—Call loans are quoted at 5 and 6½ per cent. on debentures and 6½ to 6½ per cent. on stocks, and for discount the price is 6½ to 7 per cent.

The local stock market to-day was inactive, the quotations were easy and the only transactions reported were in Commerce, they were 120, 75, 26 at 117.

The rain storm spoiled business entirely on St. Lawrence market to-day. Trade was stagnant. Beef still holds a good figure, while small meats are growing easier. Hay is also growing easier; the highest price paid this morning for timothy was $14. On the grain market one load of spring wheat sold for 77c per bushel and one load of barley for 77c per bushel. In produce and vegetables there is no change.

HAMILTON'S LABOR TROUBLES.

Prospects of a Settlement Brighter—General Black Monday at American Establishments.

HAMILTON, April 10.—The prospects of a settlement of the labor troubles are a little brighter to-day. The carpenters and bosses will have another meeting to-morrow afternoon to try to arrange a scale of wages, and it is said that if a satisfactory agreement is arrived at the lock-out against that union will be rescinded.

At the meeting of the City Council last night the application of the Board of Education for the issue of $200,000 building debentures was refused. The estimates were passed and the rate of taxation fixed at 18½ mills.

A number of petitions from various temperance societies were presented to the License Commissioners at their meeting to-day, asking that the number of licensed groceries be reduced to twenty, taverns to seventy-five and saloons cut off altogether.

The annual session of the Most Worshipful Grand Black Chapter of America, the highest organization of the Orange order, opened in the Orange Hall at 2.30 this afternoon. All the delegates have not arrived yet, and it is expected that about 150 will be present from all parts of Canada.

The Inter-Management Committee of the Board of Education have decided to recommend to the board that the salaries of teachers be advanced $50.

Eight more deserters from Fort Niagara have arrived in the city.

Chas. Johnston, a professional thief, and one of the slickest pickpockets in the business, was arrested last night on a charge of vagrancy.

At the Police Court this morning Frank McCusker was fined $50 for attempting to "mash" a Mrs. Sayers yesterday. Wm. Shaw, who was found guilty of picking a purse from the pocket of Mrs. Margaret Choate in the market, was sent to the Central Prison for six months.

THE SALOON-KEEPER ITS PASTOR.

A Queer Case which the Chicago Police are Puzzling Over.

CHICAGO, April 10.—Two officers of the Chicago-avenue police station went out in the afternoon to measure the distance of saloons from churches and school houses, and to order all within the 200-feet limit to close. They say that they found the saloon of Fred. Yunger, corner of Garfield and Lincoln streets, within the "dead line," so it is called, and ordered the proprietor to close. Mr. Yunger acted with some asperity what that was for.

"Well, that's orders," said the officer. "No saloons go now if they are within 200 feet of a church, and here's the Lutheran Platt-Deutsche Church just upstairs."

"Well," said the astonished saloon-keeper, "I am the pastor of that church and I would like to see you close me up for any such reason."

The officers took this perplexing phase of the case before Supt. Schaack, but he has not yet been able to unravel it.

THE DOYLE MURDER TRIAL.

Prosper Found Guilty—Mrs. Doyle Acquitted but Still in Custody.

HALIFAX, N.S., April 10.—The jury in the Doyle murder trial rendered their verdict at 10.30 o'clock to-night, finding the youth William Prosper guilty and Mrs. Doyle not guilty. Prosper was recommended to mercy. The jury took five hours to arrive at the verdict. Prosper received it with wonderful coolness and while conversing with his counsel was seen to smile once or twice. Mrs. Doyle remains in custody under an indictment of being an accessory after the act, the trial of which commences to-morrow.

NEWFOUNDLAND'S NO.

The Assembly Negatives the Resolution to Send a Delegation to Ottawa.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., April 10.—In the House of Assembly at 3 o'clock this morning, after an all night sitting, a vote was taken relative to Confederation, on Mr. Bond's resolution favoring a delegation leaving here for Ottawa, April 15. The resolution was defeated, 20 to 7.

An Unconditional Surrender.

MONTREAL, April 10.—The corporation made an unconditional surrender to-day and ordered out 600 men on the streets. The Star's pick and shovel brigade were consequently paid off to-night after having cleared St. James-street. Subscriptions are pouring in from banks and insurance companies to cover the expenditure. The surrender of the corporation is viewed as a great victory for the example and influence of the press, backed up by protests of citizens.

Fire at Deseronto.

DESERONTO, April 10.—A fire took place here yesterday afternoon about 4.30 in J. & R. Bear's carriage factory. The building was destroyed completely, with a sawmill and some other adjoining buildings. The cause of fire is supposed to be a spark from the smokestack, which caught on the outside of the roof. The loss will probably reach $30,000; insured for three.

Stung by Vigilantes.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 10.—Forty men from Southern Kansas organized a vigilance committee last week, and made a raid on a den of horse thieves in No Man's Land. Four of the thieves were captured and hanged. Nine others were chased into the mud hills and are surrounded in a cave. They refused to surrender, and will be starved out.

MR. MERCIER BANQUETED.

A BRILLIANT GATHERING AT THE WINDSOR HOTEL.

The Quebec Premier Outlines His Party Program in an Exhaustive Review of Important Political Issues, and Denounces the Imperial Federation Project.

MONTREAL, April 11.—The annual banquet of the Club Nationale this evening was a great success.

Lawyer St. Jean, President of the Club, which is composed of the most radical of Quebec Liberals, occupied the chair and among those seated at the banquet table were Premier Mercier and the whole of his Cabinet, Sir Richard Cartwright, J. D. Edgar, Peter MacDonald of East Huron, the Langelier brothers of Quebec, Col. Amyot, Mr. Prefontaine, M.P., Mr. Casgrain, M.P., and all the Liberal aldermen.

Mr. Mercier arose to reply to the toast of "The Local Government," and spoke nearly four hours, reviewing the possibility of the province Liberals replying at the length contemplated. The Premier after reviewing the circumstances by which he gained office said that the attempt made to arouse the Protestant population against his cabinet would fail, and at great length tried to show that he was a truer friend of the minority in this Province than the Conservatives. He declared that Quebec would claim 200,000 square miles of the northeast territory awarded her by the Privy Council, adopted over the success of the recent Provincial Conference, and announced that both the Irish and Protestant sections of the population would be represented in the Government before the opening of the Local House in the middle of May. He gave a history of the recent loan, which he claimed was the greatest financial success in the history of the province, and secured moderate terms. These are the principal points of his speech, which was not concluded until after midnight.

When Sir Richard Cartwright rose there was great enthusiasm. He apologized for the absence of Mr. Laurier owing to his duties at Ottawa.

Speeches were also made by Mr. Edgar and a majority of the leaders mentioned in the introduction to this despatch.

COUNCIL MEETING.

The regular meeting of the village council was held in the council chamber on Monday evening, the 9th inst.

Present: W. H. Cassellman, reeve, in the chair: Councillors Hall, Moore, Henderson and Nelson. Minutes of the last regular and special meeting were read and adopted.

A letter from Booth & Co, in regard to the logs they had requested; one from Indian Department, Dominion Government, with patent of two islands in the river; and several from firms in regard to fire supplies and water works, were read.

Moved by Coun. Henderson, that the several communications be received and considered separately.—Carried.

Moved by Coun. Henderson, seconded by Councillor Moore, that the communication of Messrs. Booth & Co be referred to the Finance Committee, and that they report at our next meeting.—Carried.

The Road and Sidewalk Committee submitted their report, drawing attention to the wharf on Water street, and recommending the council to go as a committee of the whole and inspect it with a view to there being some action taken to finish it. The report was received and adopted on motion of Coun. Hall, seconded by Coun. Henderson.

The Finance Committee presented their report which, on motion of Councillor Nelson, seconded by Coun. Henderson, was received and adopted, and the following accounts ordered to be paid:—

Isaac Watson, wages	$ 6 25
Village Clerk, postage	85
Hugh Fitzgerald, clearing snow	6 25
Total	$13 45

Moved by Coun. Henderson, seconded by Coun. Moore, that the treasurer's bond dated April 2nd, 1888 with John C. Sheriff and Abel Hendren, as bondsmen, is hereby accepted.—Carried.

Moved by Coun. Hall, seconded by Coun. Moore, that the time allowed the assessor to return his roll to the village clerk is hereby extended until May 14th, 1888.—Carried.

The Finance Committee presented an exhaustive special report in regard to the proposed water works, which, on motion, was received.

Moved by Coun. Henderson, seconded by Coun. Hall, that a by-law be submitted in accordance with the recommendation of the Finance Committee, and the prayer of the petition of A. I. Wright and others requesting the council to submit a by-law to borrow the sum of $6,000 by debentures, for the construction of water works; that the first publication of said by-law be Friday, April 20th, 1888; voting in council chamber Monday, May 21st, 1888; debentures to be in sums of $500 each, to run 20 years, interest 5%, payable half yearly at Bank of Montreal, Peterborough. The clerk is hereby instructed to have the said by-law prepared by Messrs. Dumble & Leonard as soon as a sum sufficient to cover expenses has been deposited with the village treasurer in case it is rejected, and that the village clerk be returning officer to hold said poll.—Carried.

Moved by Coun. Henderson, seconded by Coun. Moore, that the verbal communication of Messrs. Jas. Charlton and Wm. White be received and referred to the road and sidewalk committee.—Carried.

Moved by Coun. Moore, seconded by Coun. Hall, that this council do now adjourn to meet at the call of the Reeve.—Carried.

THE WATERWORKS.

As will be noticed in the report of the council meeting held Monday evening, they have decided to submit a by-law to the vote of the ratepayers to borrow the sum of $6,000 to construct waterworks. No one disputes that it would not be a good thing for the village, but the question is can we afford it? In private or business life a moderate income or empty pocket is the means of preventing us from attaining many things which would increase our prosperity or comfort and remove many of the cares or troubles which infest the daily pathway of life. As in private or business life, so it is in our municipal affairs; if we had plenty of funds we would be able to carry out many improvements which would add to the general prosperity of the village and be the means of attracting capital and labor to our midst. But put on heavy taxes and undertake works more than the public purse can bear, and you drive away the very class of men you wish to attract. Let us glance over our present standing and take the items of expenditure which must be incurred during the next few months, then add the cost of the waterworks and see in what position we will be.

It is well known that during the past winter our school has been overcrowded, and that the teachers have not been able to do the children that justice which they are entitled to. A new room will have to be provided; let it be built, or rented, and a teacher for the junior children provided. Let us place the cost at $350, for rent, teacher, fire, etc.

A map of the village and safe for the clerk's office are things which must be obtained; they can be placed at $350.

Interest on $6,000 for waterworks will be $250, and sinking fund about $145 per annum.

The annual expense for repairs, caretaking, fire in winter, etc., will not be less than $350 per annum, which will make a total of $1445 to be paid next year, over and above our ordinary expenditure. Our assessment last year was $281,360 and will be about the same this year, so that it will require 5 mills additional tax which, with the present rate of 11 mills will make 16 mills on the dollar the ratepayers will be called to pay next year, if the water works go on, and what is actually required is obtained. It will prove a task to our council and sidewalk committee to make the required repairs now demanding their attention with the funds at their command, while the steamboat owners are also now asking for increased accommodation on the river banks, to meet the spring country trade and the travel up our back inlet. Something must be done if we wish to keep and maintain it, or we will see all pass to the west of our village over the Mud Lake branch of the Grand Trunk. Such is in brief the present state of our affairs, and our future prospects, and it remains with the ratepayers to judge for themselves the best course to take in regard to water works. If they consider it a necessity that they cannot do without, and are willing to be taxed, let them by all means record their votes for it, and do not "spoil" when the collector calls.

CONVENTION.

The regular meeting of Court Lakefield No. 48, C.O.F., will be held in the court room next Thursday evening, the 12th inst. It is requested that there will be a large attendance as there will be three candidates initiated, besides business of importance.

WEATHER NOTES.—March has gone with its windy, bitter, cold and cruel chicanery. It was ushered in with snow and storm for two days with a low temperature, and on the morning of the 4th, at sunrise, the thermometer stood 6° below zero, and on the morning of the 5th it stood at 12° below on the hill at 6° below, the 10th at 4°, the 20th at 6° below and the 25th at 7° below. The mildest day was on the 20th at sunrise and sunset, 44° and 46° respectively, leaving the mean temperture of the month at 16 13/31°, being below the average. Snow fell on 9 days, but only to the depth of 17 inches. Rain fell on 3 days to the depth of 1 inch and 47/100 of an inch, being both below the usual downfall, especially snow, which is very light. Some severe gales swept over us during the month, blockading the roads and greatly impeding travel. A solitary geese was seen flying about here on the 7th but never since; it was here so long before the usual time it must have got out of its latitude. On the 19th robins were seen, but owing to the continuing cold they must have returned to the south again. Auroral lights on the nights of the 17th and 18th, and the first thunderstorm on the evening of the 27th. The following are the different points from which the wind was blowing at sunrise during the month, respectively, namely:—West, 6 days; southeast, 4 days; northwest, 16 days; north, 1 day; southwest, 1 day; south, 2 days; northeast, 2 days.

OUR FALL WHEAT.—Of the fall wheat we can as yet say little. The plant is tender and should the weather continue much longer as it has been during the first week of April, we will have a repetition of 1887; but let us hope for the best.

[A newsy letter from another correspondent in Eastnor has been received, but the writer failed to send full name and the paragraphs cannot be published till that is received. Initials will not do. Will the writer kindly take the hint? ED. EX.]

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

Business Transacted in the Committee on Railways and Canals—The Coal Combine.

OTTAWA, April 10.—The Committee on Railways and canals met this morning. The act to incorporate the River Detroit Winter Railway Bridge Company came up.

Sir Hector Langevin read the report of Mr. John Page, Chief Government Engineer of Canals, upon the matter. He pointed out the difficulties in the way, and recommended that the matter be left over to see what the United States Government would do in the matter.

Mr. Ferguson, Welland, made a strong speech in support of the bill, and pointed out that traffic was very seriously interfered with in winter. The boats used to ferry across were frozen in for days, and at times long and serious delays occurred in the traffic. The result was that instead of the traffic going through by Ontario, as it naturally should, it was sent south of the lakes through American territory. He contended that the bridge would not affect the current of the river, and that it would prove a great commercial boon to the west. He had advice from Washington which warranted him in believing a similar bill would pass the Senate.

The bill was laid over till next Tuesday to allow the Government to look into the matter more carefully.

The next bill considered was one to incorporate the Montreal Island Railway Company, for the purpose of running a line of railway to suburban villages and parishes. A letter from the Harbor Commissioners of Montreal, asking the committee to see that no special privileges on the wharf be granted to the company, was read by Sir Hector. With certain trifling amendments the bill was reported.

The act to amend and incorporate the Kingardine and Tenwater Railway Company was reported.

A bill to incorporate the Ottawa and Parry Sound Railway Company was, after ample discussion, reported. The limitation clause was amended so that work must commence in two years and be completed within five.

Geo. A. Hart, Montreal coal dealer, gave evidence in the Combines Committee this morning. He said the entrance fee to the association was $100. The object of the association was to maintain a uniform price and prevent abuses creeping into the trade. The coal companies had no arrangement with the railway company for lower rates of freight than other people.

Wm. Bowman, coal dealer, London, said there was an association in the city, founded in 1884, which was compulsory. American dealers were invited to London to discuss and fix the prices. Any breach of the understanding resulted in the offender being unable to secure a supply of coal from Buffalo. Dealers to-day did not realize a profit of over 30 cents. Dominion and Provincial Government contracts were open for competition.

J. G. Butterworth, Ottawa, gave evidence showing the relations between coal dealers and the Coal Cartage Company.

AFTER BOODLE ALDERMEN.

Inspector Byrnes of New York Pays a Flying Visit to Montreal.

MONTREAL, April 10.—Inspector Byrnes of New York arrived here yesterday and registered at a leading hotel under an assumed name. A telegram received here last week from some one high in authority in New York informed the boodle colony that Thomas B. Kerr was to be placed on trial very soon. This information, coupled with the sudden appearance of Inspector Byrnes, has confirmed the strong suspicion that has for some time prevailed, that John Keenan will return to New York, turn [illegible] and certain to convict Kerr, and as a reward will have the indictment against him nolle prossed. No one knows better than the rest of the exiles, Dempsey, De Lacy and Sayles, that Keenan will tell a story that will convict the indicted men as fast as their cases are called.

The News [illegible] that some time with Keenan at the King Edward's restaurant and they afterwards walked down street together. It has been known for some time that District-Attorney Fellows was negotiating to get John Keenan back to New York to help him with the boodle cases. The story of these negotiations dates back to the time of the last general election, when Col. Fellows was made District-Attorney.

Keenan is variously estimated to be worth from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000. He has been in the [illegible] business, a ship-builder, and [illegible] the broker part of one of the largest [illegible] in the United States. He is [illegible] and one small enterprises, and advances the money to a score of relatives to carry on city contracts. The true facts in regard to the present contracts in New York which John Keenan's money is carrying on will never be told because they stand in the names of other men.

CHAMBERLAIN BANQUETED.

Earl Granville Proposes the Toast of the Evening—The Guest's Reply.

LONDON, April 10.—Earl Granville presided at the banquet given by the Devonshire Club last night in honor of the Chamberlain. Many members of the [illegible] Lords and House of Commons, including Lord Hartington and Mr. Childers, were present. Earl Granville, in proposing the toast of the evening, said he was glad to be able to congratulate Mr. Chamberlain on the result of his mission. His Excellency's strongest political conviction had always been the importance of maintaining good relations between Great Britain and America. Although he had been the subject of the strongest attacks for his share of the responsibility for the Alabama settlement, he looked back upon its results with the utmost satisfaction. It was certain that if England had broken off the Alabama negotiations they would not have been accomplished there to-day to congratulate Mr. Chamberlain on having brought his task so nearly to a successful issue. It was a matter of satisfaction that the whole Liberal party on this occasion unite in congratulating the Conservatives on having adopted the Liberal policy of conciliation and friendship toward America.

Mr. Chamberlain, upon rising to reply, was loudly cheered. He thanked the company for the warmth of their reception of the toast in his honor, and said he appreciated fully the unique character of the gathering. He was glad to see so many of his old colleagues, from whom he had been temporarily dissociated. He gathered from their presence, first, that there had been no interpolation of their personal regard and good-will, and second, that every Englishman worthy of the name sympathized with the objects of his recent mission. Remarking upon the change of public opinion during the last century, he said it was curious to look back to the sincere opinions expressed by statesmen and writers at the time of the civil war and to note their fears lest America should become a great and aggressive power, dangerous to the peace of the world. It was ludicrous to contrast the results as they knew them with the fears of those too timid politicians. And as to the introduction of American institutions into this country, they all knew that America had developed a conservatism which must be the envy of many people in Great Britain. He spoke strongly in favor of a confederation of the colonies, and again expressed his hope that the fisheries treaty would be ratified.

The Marriage Crisis.

LONDON, April 10.—The marriage crisis which has stirred up all Germany, not to say all Europe, began March 31, when Emperor Frederick informed Prince Bismarck of the project. The grim chancellor immediately made the most strenuous objections, and opposed such a move with his wonted dramcon. Then the Empress was called in to try her skill upon the man of iron. She insisted upon the marriage going on, and imperiously brushed aside Bismarck's objections. But the Chancellor became stubborn and threatened to resign if the project was pushed. The next day was the occasion of Bismarck's birthday, and now, with the full light of recent events turned on, the memorable speech made on that day by Crown Prince William is even more significant, than it appeared at the time of its delivery. On April 1 the Chancellor was told that Prince Alexander, the [illegible] suitor, was coming. This precipitated the crisis, and then the relations between the royal family and Bismarck were joined by a very slender thread indeed, needing but the slightest added tension to snap it apart. The sudden surrender on the part of the Chancellor is undoubtedly due to favorable declarations having been made on the subject by the Czar, to whom overtures were made. He has very likely withdrawn his objections to Alexander, provided the latter will relinquish all claim to the throne of Bulgaria. The remark is frequently heard among Berliners that only priests and politicians are able to conquer the race of iron.

[illegible] Arrested for Forgery.

RALEIGH, N.C., April 10.—Charles E. Crane and Samuel C. White, absconding President and Cashier of the State National Bank, arrived here yesterday in custody, and in default of bail to the amount of $10,000 each were put in jail. They will be tried in the State court in July next on three indictments of forgery. Frank Evanstone Tate had concluded his examination, and says the bank ought to pay 60 cents on the dollar. There was a big crowd at the jail when the prisoners were put in.

Raise a Note of This.

Pain banished as if by magic. Polson's Nervoline is a positive and almost instantaneous remedy for external, internal, or local pains. The most active remedy hitherto known falls far short of Nervoline for potent power in the relief of nerve pain. Good for external or internal use. Buy a 10 cent sample bottle. Large bottles 25 cents, at all druggists. 6dw15

Prevailing Sickness.

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sore Throat, inflammations and Congestions are most prevalent at this season of the year. Hagyard's Yellow Oil is the best external and internal remedy for all these and other troubles. 2w14d

Wire Plant Stakes.

American Garden made an admirable suggestion when it advised wire plant stakes as worthy of adoption. In these days, when wire is so much used for fences and arbors, there are always short lengths left over that can be utilized for stakes. The authority referred to tells just how to do this:

Take wire of sufficient strength to afford some support (small wire will do for delicate little growths) and heavy [illegible] it and cut into lengths from one to three and a half feet, then, with a strong pair of pliers or else [illegible] anvil swage, bend one end into a ring, as in Fig. 2. It is important to put this curve on the end, as it holds the tying material in place without being so tight as to choke the plant, and without it the sharp wires are a constant source of danger, being liable to catch in the clothing and seriously injure any one thrown upon them. Groups of flower stalks can be tied up by taking three of the stakes and passing the string through the wire loops. A better way when shaping the wires is to make some of them into pairs, shaped as in Fig. 1, where the tops catch together, forming a wire circle to support the plants, allowing them to develop their natural beauty of growth. If these wires are dipped into thin paint or black varnish they will last for years. An easy way to do this is to stop up one end of a piece of two inch gas pipe of the right length, fill with the [illegible] and dip the stakes in and hang them up to dry. Make these now and you will be glad of it when staking time comes.

PLANT STAKES.

The Growth of the Hair.

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic the scalp will be kept in a clean and healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

A Sad Prospect.

How many weary broken down invalids there are to whom life is burdensome and whose prospect is sad indeed. The nervous debility and general weakness of those afflicted with lingering disease is best remedied by the invigorating and restoring properties of B.B.B. 2w14d

Making Sure.

There are many people who adopt health and diet rules when attacked by disease of the stomach, liver or bowels, this is quite right, but those who add to this treatment the use of B. B. B. according to directions, make sure of being quickly and easily cured. 2w14d

Thankful.

Some time ago being very greatly troubled with colds and coughing, I went to the drug store and got Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. In a short time I was well. I have found it a sure cure and am thankful that I used it, and now would not be without it. E. A. Schaefer, Berlin, Ont. 2w14d

How to Save Money.

Always buy the best because it is the cheapest in the end, and use only in Burdock Blood Bitters the best medicine known for all chronic diseases of the stomach, Kidneys, Liver and blood, but is really the cheapest as it needs less to cure and cures more quickly than any other remedy. 2w14d

TAKE

NASAL BALM FOR

COLD IN HEAD

—AND—

CATARRH.

There is no disease to which Canadians are more subject than Catarrh—all ages and sex alike are numbered among the sufferers. It is impossible in the limit of a short newspaper article to describe the symptoms fully, but they may be briefly summarized: Cold in the head, difficulty in breathing, hawking and spitting, headache, pains in the region over the eye, stoppage of nasal passages, foul breath, droppings into the throat causing nausea and sometimes vomiting, poisonous secretions accumulating in the lungs leading to consumption. These are but a few of the many symptoms of Catarrh, a disease which affects 7-10 of our Canadian population. NASAL BALM is the only CERTAIN and POSITIVE CURE for this loathsome disease in all its forms and stages. NASAL BALM is the result of years of careful study, and is prepared with a view to radically cure those cases of catarrh, to which Canadians are most subject. It is not a liquid snuff or countaining powder, but a pleasant, never failing remedy, requiring no instrument or douche for its use. Easy to use, instantaneous in its effects, permanent in its cures. Ask for Nasal Balm and take no substitute of whatever name. For Cold in the Head there is no better remedy on earth to equal Nasal Balm. Do not neglect a cold in the head for in nine cases out of ten it will lead to Catarrh. Use Nasal Balm upon the first symptoms. This wonderful remedy affords instant relief and cures within a few hours. It can be used for the youngest child as well as for adults, and as a precautionary measure should be kept in every household. For sale by all druggists or sent in receipt of price (50c. and $1.00 per bottle) by addressing FULFORD & CO., Brockville.

PROOF OF ITS MARVELLOUS EFFICACY.

An Unequalled Remedy.

J. McKee, druggist, Peterborough, says:—Nasal Balm gives the most general satisfaction to customers of any preparation I ever handled. My sales are large and the reports from those who use it, fully substantiate your claims for the medicine as an unequalled remedy for catarrh in the head.

Words Are Times [illegible] Cost.

T. W. Hunt Port Hope says: I was a sufferer from a long standing case of catarrh and being well up in years [illegible] and to ever obtain anything that would give me material or permanent relief. At the time of receiving Nasal Balm I was very bad with catarrh, but take great pleasure in stating that on the second application I obtained wonderful relief and its effect was pleasant, soothing and healing. It acted like magic and is worth ten times its cost for the immediate relief it gives. I feel confident the second bottle will effect a permanent cure. I have recommended Nasal Balm for cold in the head and in every case it acts like a charm.

Acts Like a Charm.

John Foster Raymond says:—Nasal Balm acts like a charm for my catarrh. I have only used it a short time and I now feel better than at any period during the last seven years. In fact I am sure of a cure and at a very small outlay.

Feels Like a (New) Man.

A. E. Fish, merchant, Belleville, states: I take great pleasure in recommending your Nasal Balm to any one troubled with that dreadful disease, catarrh. I have been troubled with it for the past fifteen years, and can say candidly that I never had anything that gave me half so much relief as your Nasal Balm. I have only used two bottles and I feel like a new man.

Beats the World.

D. Derbyshire, president Ontario Creamery Association, Brockville, says: Nasal Balm beats the world for catarrh and cold in the head. In my own case it effected relief from the first application.

$1.00 for 50 cents.

Capt. D. H. Lyon, manager and proprietor of the C. P. R. and R. W. & O. R. car ferry Prescott, and Ogdensburg, N. Y. says: I used Nasal Balm for a protracted case of cold in the head. Two applications effected a complete and thorough cure in less than 24 hours. I would not take $100 for my bottle of Nasal Balm if I could not replace it.

It Never Fails.

Ex-Mayor Bowie, Brockville, Ont., says: I used Nasal Balm for a bad case of catarrh, and it cured me after having [illegible] many years. It never fails to give immediate relief for cold in the head.

LOCAL NEWS.

The Weather.

West and northwest winds, fresh or strong during the day; fair and mild.

Fashionable Reception.

It is not considered tone to call it a tea-party any longer, it is "reception." And receptions are now very popular in society. Such, at least, is the grand, fashionable reception at the millinery and mantle rooms of the golden lion. These rooms are now open and the public are cordially invited to inspect the finest assortment of fashionable millinery and millinery novelties ever gathered together under one roof in Peterborough.

A Watery Subject.

The town well has reached a depth of one hundred and a dozen feet, and still there is no water. The iron drill of Messrs. Leary & Co. cannot be in the least possessed of the productive qualities of the rod wielded by Moses, which had only to be applied to the rock to draw forth a plentiful yield of aqua pura. Leary & Co. have been boring through the rock for many days, with no visible fruit of their labor yet rewarding them.. This same town well affords a good subject for jest in the hands of the funny man. One actually suggested this morning that the absence of water in the well explained the recent floods in China; the water was pouring out of the other end of the hole and drowning millions of unfortunate Celestials. Water joke!

Our Cricket Club.

Secretary Stirling sends a letter to the Empire, stating that the Peterborough Cricket Club has been re-organized and was anxious to measure strength with any and all first-class clubs that will accommodate them. In his letter he says:—"We will have the old reliable Sam Ray, who, as a batsman, cannot be beaten in Canada, and his brother Hugh, a very promising all-round cricketer. We will also have the well-known C. J. Logan, a name familiar to all cricketers, and who is death on wickets; and then we have Stretton, Rutherford, Rodgers and "Max" Hamilton, all familiar names in Canadian cricketers, and last but not the least in this strong combination is our professional, Day, who comes to us highly recommended as a first-class all-round player. Let me add in conclusion that our ground is all that could be desired for good cricket, and we have a club that knows how to treat its guests in a sportsmanlike manner; consequently I trust that in reply to this method of advertising our cricket club, we will have a goodly number of applications for dates."

Special inducements to farmers and all others during the busy season at J. T. Stenson's boot and shoe shop, George street. Prices are cut so Low that no time is lost in making a bargain. Rapid sales and everybody delighted. Come and see.

At the Opera House.

Pert Kitty Loraine does not give newspaper men much credit for ability to fairly criticise stage performances, as she plainly stated at the opera house Tuesday night, and perhaps she isn't far astray; the EXAMINER will, therefore, abstain from any individual comment upon the presentation of the "Orange Girl" Tuesday night by the Sawtelle Company. The inclement weather was the cause of too many vacant benches, but the small audience present seemed to enjoy the performance and rewarded the play with liberal applause—a fact that will carry more weight than glib-tongued newspaper "puffs." The fire scene was a specially good spectacular production. To-night the best dramatization extant of Alexandre Dumas' great story "Monte Cristo," will be presented. This play is a beautiful melo-drama, and abounds with thrilling climaxes and startling situations, and all who have read the book will be anxious to see it played out on the mimic stage. Seats at Hartley's.

Drill and Calisthenics.

Sergt.-Major Randle's classes in drill and calisthenics at the Collegiate Institute still keep a lively interest in the exercises, which are having a noticeable and decided beneficial effect. The battalion of eighty boys has been under drill since the beginning of the year, and the battalion of girls, of an equal strength, since the 8th of March. Unlike young persons the classes have not lost interest in the exercises as the novelty wears off, but become fonder and fonder of them every day, especially the girls who clamour for more time than can be given them. All are most apt pupils. On Monday the boys had a march out, and as soon as the country roads are in condition a march out in the country will be made. At present the whole of the forms in the Institute get on the average two lessons per week. In connection with the lessons of the girls, vocal singing is also taught, the girls marching to patriotic airs sung by themselves. The equipment of the classes has been re-inforced by procuring twenty sets of dumb bells and 20 sets of Indian clubs. The drill and calisthenics are having, apparently, a most beneficial effect upon the pupils, and the only drawback is the uncertainty of the arrangement. If the classes are discontinued now all the benefits derived and the expense incurred will be a loss. The interest taken by the whole of the four forms of the Institute is so great that it is proposed to give a public entertainment similar to that given by the pupils of the Guelph Collegiate Institute, or rather which will be given Thursday and Friday evenings. The public will thus have an opportunity of seeing with their own eyes the nature of the physical training given as well as its results. If the desired encouragement is given the entertainment will be an accomplished fact.

A Congratulatory Document.

The Grand Jury Congratulate the Judge and the County for Having Hideous Jail and Consequences in Store.

Following is a copy of the presentment of the Grand Jury at the assizes on Tuesday:—To the Hon. Mr. Justice Falconbridge:—

We, the Grand Jurors of our Sovereign Lady the Queen, for the County of Peterborough, beg to present the following:—

1. We desire to congratulate you upon your Lordship's appointment to the high and important position to which you have been elevated, as one of the Judges of the High Court of Justice, and we trust that you may be long spared to adorn the bench with your ability.

2. We congratulate your Lordship upon the smallness of the criminal calendar upon which we are called upon to adjudge, none of the crimes being of a very serious character, and we trust that the good name which the County of Peterborough enjoys of freedom from crime may long continue.

3. We have examined the gaol and its surroundings and find everything kept in a cleanly and neat condition. We are pleased to note that the lunatics confined in the County gaol, at the last session, have been removed to the Provincial asylum, where they will receive proper care and treatment. We trust that the idiots now confined in the gaol will be removed to the asylum for idiots as soon as possible. The Province is to be congratulated upon the fact that everything is being done that can be done for this unfortunate class of citizens.

4. In the gaol we have found a man named William Cearns who has written to us a statement, as he says he is unable to speak without pain. He is suffering from cancer and complaining that he cannot get milk. We recommend that if possible he may be removed to some institution where his case may be attended to.

5. The County is to be congratulated upon the efficiency of the gaoler and his staff. Owing to their energy and perseverance the prisoners have been utilized in improving and beautifying the County property.

All of which is humbly presented.

WM. YELLAND, Foreman.

Peterborough, April 10th, 1888.

His Lordship, in reply, expressed his thanks for the kindly sentiments of the jurors, and congratulated them upon the happy manner in which they had discharged the duties, light though they were, devolving upon. As regarded the idiots in the gaol and the case of the man Cearns mentioned in the presentment, he said he would draw the attention of the proper authorities to the facts as set forth.

Medals From the Khedive.

The Brave Canadian Voyageurs who Traced the Nile Remembered by a Generous Sovereign.

Lieut.-Col. H. C. Rogers to-day received from Ottawa a box containing fifteen "Khedive" stars, for distribution to the men from this district who were voyageurs in the Nile expedition during the Egyptian war. They were received from Capt. Streatfield, to whom they were sent by the Khedive of Egypt through the Imperial authorities. All the Canadian voyageurs, who did such noble work in the expedition, have been remembered by the Khedive in this way, and those living in this district can call upon Col. Rogers at any time and claim them. The star is known as the "Khedive's star," and is made of bronze in the shape of a star of six points. In the centre is an engraving of the pyramids and the Sphinx, around which the words "Egypt, 1884 and '85," in English and Egyptian, are engraven. On the back is an engraving of the royal arms of Egypt. On the bar are the national emblems of Egypt, the star and the crescent. Attached to the medal is a blue ribbon. The names of the Peterborough men are:—

Police Court.

WEDNESDAY, April 11.

P.M. Edmison held court yesterday. Geo. Lipsett, of Ashburnham, was fined $100 and costs for a second violation of the Scott Act. The case against Mrs. O'Brien, of Indian River, was further enlarged till the 16th, on account of the absence of a material witness.

Before P.M. Dumble to-day Messrs. J. E. McIntyre and M. Connors were fined $100 each and costs for admitted second infractions of the Act.

Michael Shanahan was arrested last night by P.C. Stewart while intoxicated. He was sent to gaol this morning for 10 days in default of payment of a fine of $2 and costs.

Several Assault Cases.

For the past fortnight a series of vigorous assaults have been made upon the store of the Griffin Shoe Co., Hunter street. The people have been after the cheap boots and shoes sold there, and they are delighted with the big bargains secured. Still there are bargains come and see. tf

Father Against Son.

One of the cases disposed of at the assizes Tuesday was that of Sweeney vs. Sweeney. The facts or the case seem to be that the plaintiff, Patrick Sweeney, about twelve years ago deeded his son, the defendant, a farm in Otonabee township, stipulating in return that he was to receive an annuity of $60 a year and maintenance during his lifetime. Afterwards the son removed to Haldimand township township, and the aged parent becoming dissatisfied with his condition left his son's home and went to live in the township of Douro, asking $2 per week to pay his board. But the son refused to carry out the agreement, alleging that as his father had left his house he could no longer claim maintenance. The action was to compel the son to adhere to the agreement and pay up arrears. His Lordship Justice Falconbridge endeavored to patch up the breach between father and son, but his conciliatory offices were rejected and the case went to trial, resulting in a judgment in full for the plaintiff, with costs, the defendant to allow him $2 per week and arrears since November last. Messrs. Dumble & Leonard for plaintiff, Messrs. Hall & Hayes for defendant.

Two Contradictory Stories.

The case of Ritchie vs. Flood, for indecent assault, was disposed of at the Assizes on Tuesday. The plaintiff was the wife of George Ritchie, of Bridgenorth; the defendant, John Flood, a resident of Eastmore. Mrs. Ritchie in her evidence stated that one evening during the winter, while her husband was away from home working in the shanties, and she had only her little girl with her, the defendant and another man came to her house, and after talking a while went away. But Flood soon returned and, she says, made indecent proposals to her, offering money as a bribe. Then, she says, he caught her by the arm and attempted to force her into the bedroom, but she threatened him with a chair and would not listen to his requests. After a little while the defendant, she said, left the house and did not come back any more. One important point for her husband to return home, and as soon as he came the matter was known. The defendant gave a complete denial to Mrs. Ritchie's statements, only admitting having been at the house in company with the other man. The plaintiff secured a verdict for $5, with full costs as allowed by the judge. Messrs. Dumble & Leonard for plaintiff; Mr. W. A. Reeve, Q.C., Toronto, and Mr. Jno. Burnham for defendant.

Last Farewell.

The Empire, Mail and Globe of the 4th inst., speaks in the highest terms of praise of the entertainment given in Toronto, on the 3rd inst., by the distinguished and accomplished artiste, Mrs. Scott-Siddons. The immense and spacious Association Hall, was crowded to the doors; standing room could not be obtained, so great was the jam. The magnificent reception accorded Mrs. Siddons by the crowded and fashionable audience was ample testimony that this brilliant and talented lady is still the greatest favorite in her profession, and to those who have or have not heard her, the last (in all probability) opportunity will offer on Monday evening next, the 16th instant, at Bradbura's Opera House, Peterborough, to the citizens of this section of hearing Mrs. Scott-Siddons, the universally admitted leading elocutionist of the age. Entire new programme, and new costumes. Plan at Hartley's; prices within the reach of all. Get your seats marked.

An Enjoyable Affair.

There was but a small attendance at the the "At Home," under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society, in St. John's church school room Tuesday evening, no doubt on account of the unpleasant weather. The affair was very enjoyable just the same, the refreshments and programme being of the first order. The amateur orchestra rendered a couple of selections; piano duets were given by Mesdames Lewis and Dunsford, and Misses Errett and Wrighton; vocal solos by Mrs. Stapleton, Miss Cottingham, Miss Errett, Mr. Jaques and Mr. Shaw; Mr. Chas. Brown gave a reading; and a number of interesting tableaux concluded the evening's entertainment.

After an Armoury.

Tuesday evening a committee of officers of the 57th Battalion, composed of Col. Rogers, Major Ball, and Captains Lansford and Edwards, went to Ottawa to interview the Minister of Militia regarding a new armoury. It is understood the Government is willing to make an appropriation for the purpose, and the delegation will urge prompt action. There is no doubt the Battalion needs better quarters than are provided in the old drill shed.

ONTARIO TO THE FRONT!

A Matter Of Vital Importance.

The following unsolicited opinions from your friends and neighbors, men and women, whom you know and respect, ought to carry conviction to any doubting mind. These words of gratitude are from those who have been afflicted but are now well, and the persons giving them are naturally solicitous that others, troubled as were they, may know the means of cure. There is no reason why you should be longer ill from kidney, liver or stomach troubles. You can be cured as well as others. Do not longer delay of treatment, but to-day obtain that which will restore you to permanent health and strength:

286 McNab St. North, Hamilton, Ont., Nov., 2, 1886.—I had been suffering for over twenty years from a pain in the back and one side of the head, and indigestion. I could eat scarcely anything, and everything I ate disagreed with me. I was attended by physicians who examined me and stated that I had enlargement of the liver, and that it was impossible to cure me. They also stated that I was suffering from heart disease, inflammation of the bladder, kidney disease, bronchitis and cat arrh, and that it was impossible for me to live. They attended me for three weeks without making any improvement in my condition. I commenced taking "Warner's Safe Cure" and "Warner's Safe Pills," acting strictly up to directions as to diet, and took thirty-six bottles, and have had the best of health ever since. My regular weight used to be 190 lbs. When I commenced "Warner's Safe Cure" I only weighed 140 lbs. I now weigh 210 lbs.

Wolf & Kirkland

St. Catherines, Ont., Jan. 24th, 1887.—About six years ago I was a great sufferer from kidney disease, and was in misery all the while. I hardly had strength enough to walk straight and was ashamed to go on the street. The pains across my back were almost unbearable, and I was unable to find relief, even temporarily. I began the use of "Warner's Safe Cure," and inside of one week I found relief, and after taking eight bottles, I was completely cured.

Rev. E. Ellwood

Manager for American Express Co.

Toronto, (18 Division Street) Sept. 17, 1887.—Three years ago last August my daughter was taken ill with Bright's disease of the kidneys. The best medical skill in the city was tasked to the utmost, but to no purpose. She was racked with convulsions for forty-eight hours. Our doctor did his best, and went away saying the case was hopeless. After she came out of the convulsions, she was very weak and all her hair fell out. The doctor had left us about a month when I concluded to try Warner's Safe Cure," and after having taken six bottles, along with several bottles of "Warner's Safe Pills," I saw a decided change for the better of her condition. After taking twenty-five bottles there was complete cure. My daughter has now a splendid head of hair and weighs more than she ever did before.

Mrs. Jos. Bowes

Chatham, Ont., March 6, 1888.—In 1884 I was completely run down. I suffered most severe pains in my back and kidneys, so severe that at times I would almost be prostrated. A loss of ambition, a great desire to urinate, without the ability of so doing, coming from me as it were in drops. The urine was of a peculiar color and contained considerable foreign matter. I became satisfied that my kidneys were in a congested state and that I was running down rapidly. Finally I consented to try "Warner's Safe Cure," and in forty-eight hours after I had taken the remedy I voided urine that was as black as ink, containing quantities of mucus, pus and gravel. I continued and it was not many hours before my urine was of a natural straw color, although it contained considerable sediment. The pains in my kidneys subsided as I continued the use of the remedy, and it was but a short time before I was completely relieved. My urine was normal and I can truthfully say that I was cured.

J. Woods

Galt, Ont., Jan. 27, 1887.—For about five years previous to two years ago last October, I was troubled with kidney and liver trouble and finally I was confined to my bed and suffered the most excruciating pain, and for two weeks' time I did not know whether I was dead or alive. My physicians said I had enlargement of the liver, though they gave me only temporary relief. Hearing of the wonderful cures of "Warner's Safe Cure" I began its use, and after I had taken two bottles I noticed a change for the better. The pains disappeared, and my whole system seemed to feel the benefit of the remedy. I have continued taking "Warner's Safe Cure" and no other medicine since. I consider the remedy a great boon, and if I ever feel out of sorts "Warner's Safe Cure" fixes me all right. I weigh twenty pounds heavier now than ever before.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

THE PREMIER OF ONTARIO'S VISIT TO THE DOMINION CAPITAL.

British American v. Canadian Bank Note Company—The Vote on Unrestricted Reciprocity by Provinces—The Prescott and Russell Judgeship.

OTTAWA, April 11.—A Peterboro deputation, composed of Mayor Stevenson, M.P., and Messrs. Cahan, Moore, Hall, Kendry and Davidson, and Dr. Bell and Col. Rogers, interviewed Sir Hector Langevin this morning and urged the dredging of the lake opposite the town, so as to permit vessels to approach. Vast piles of sawdust now obstruct navigation. Sir Hector Langevin promised to consider the matter. The deputation then waited on the Minister of Militia to urge the erection of a new drill shed, the present one being in a dilapidated condition and entirely inadequate for the necessities of the occasion. Sir Adolphe promised to give the matter attention.

Mr. Desbarats, President of the Canadian Bank Note Company, Montreal, was examined in the Public Accounts Committee this morning. He read a lengthy affidavit of his own, swearing that his company had tendered for the present contract, but that their tender had never been opened, it being returned with the seal unbroken; that the prices they put in were in many cases lower than those accepted. He thought the British American Bank Note Company, which got the contract, promised to remove to Ottawa within twelve months. They had not done so yet, notwithstanding that considerably over that time had elapsed. One of the Ministers stated that the building was not ready, and Mr. Davies remarked that the walls had been condemned and would have to be taken down. The Minister of Customs said that the work of the British American Bank Note Company was much better, the chemicals used being finer than that of Mr. Desbarats' company. Mr. Desbarats said he had heard that the Burland Company paid dividends all the way from 25 to 30 per cent. Mr. Bradley, of the Department of Railways and Canals, was examined in reference to the purchase of the plant from Ouimet&Co., but nothing new was elicited.

A Toronto deputation is here protesting against the decision of the Customs Department that molton cloths cannot be entered as dress goods.

A Belleville deputation is here to-day, headed by Mayor Wilson. It wants another appropriation to dredge the harbor, and a subsidy for a bridge connecting the city with Prince Edward. It also asks that the debt incurred through bonuses given to the Grand Junction Railway be assumed by the Government.

It turns out that J. A. MacDonnell, the "eye glass" barrister, of Toronto, was offered the judgeship of the Counties of Prescott and Russell for his varied services to the party and especially to Chapleau, whose overcoat he was in the habit of carrying. When local men discovered, however, that a Toronto man—and such a man!—was to be raised to the Bench over their heads they set up such a howl—especially the French Canadians—that Josh was said he would have to wait for another vacancy, and Olivier, a local French Canadian, was appointed.

The Newfoundland question being off and the Atlantic steamship subsidy matter postponed a year, two subjects of debate are taken out of the House for this session, leaving the Fishery Treaty, budget, disallowance and Canadian Pacific Railway terms and the bill for the Government of the Northwest as the chief topics of debate for the remainder of the session.

The Dominion Government is asked to restock Charleston Lake with salmon trout.

Hon. Oliver Mowat arrived in the city this afternoon together with Hon. G. W. Ross. He occupied a seat on the floor of the House this evening. The Ontario Premier is quartered at the Grand Union where he will remain a day or two. Mr. Jones, of Halifax, was very devoted in his attentions to Mr. Mowat during his sojourn in the chamber this evening.

The following is an analysis of the late vote in the House of Commons on Sir Richard Cartwright's Unrestricted Reciprocity resolution by provinces:

Provinces.	For.	Against.	Majority.
Ontario	39	39	0
Quebec	24	23	1
Nova Scotia	5	13	8
New Brunswick	5	9	4
Prince Edward Island	5	0	5
Manitoba	1	4	3
Northwest Territories	0	4	4
British Columbia	0	6	6

The Congressional Deadlock.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The House met at 11.45 this morning, the legislative day of Wednesday last continuing. There is no prospect of a change in the deadlock over the direct tax bill. It is generally thought the present condition of affairs will continue until Tuesday next, when it is intended to call up the tariff bill. A determined effort will be made then to break the log-jock.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

THE CASE OF THE DISMISSED TRANSLATORS TAKEN UP.

The Unfinished Majority Endorses the Speaker's Action—The Secretary of State on His Majesty—A Vigorous Speech by Mr. Charles Langelier.

OTTAWA, April 11.—Under the head of "Privilege," Mr. Laurier rose to call attention to the action of the Speaker in dismissing Messrs. Trembley, Royal Translators and A. R. Pelletier, Shorthand Writer of the debates. After many words of explanation arising as being difficult to question the Speaker's action, he expressed the opinion that the view taken by the Speaker was erroneous. He stated briefly the circumstances of the case, the charge made by Mr. Chapleau against the translators, the reference of the question to the Committee on Debates and their report, which was never acted on by the House, the Speaker himself assuming to dismiss the translators. Mr. Laurier himself was of opinion that it was inproper for officers of the House to be actively engaged in political contests, but he maintained that they had the implied sanction of the House for doing so, and he showed that three of the Conservative translators were all the time actively engaged as political journalists. Mr. Laurier thought that if the Speaker had determined to dismiss the translators he should have done so last session and given an opportunity to look for other employment. He contended that the Speaker had the right to dismiss only such officers as he appointed himself, and not officers who, like the translators, were appointed by the House. Mr. Laurier closed by moving the resolution of which he had given notice, closing as follows:

"Resolved, That while professing great respect for the view which Mr. Speaker has taken of his authority in the premises, the House emphatically records its opinion that the publishing and translating of the debates and everything connected therewith belongs exclusively to the House itself, and that the same is to be exclusively exercised with the sanction of the House in every instance, through the same committee, and that under the circumstances the action of the Speaker is an invasion of the undoubted rights and privileges of this House, and is therefore not binding."

Mr. Chapleau replied. He began to speak in the mildest tone and with disclaimers of an intention to discuss the details of the question, but he warmed up in the course of a few minutes and did not keep the promise as to the details.

Mr. Mills said that the Secretary of State was evidently deeply impressed by the virtue of repentance. The translators who were reinstated had said things far more violent than the translators who were dismissed, but their estrangement from the Government had been only temporary. He quoted some expressions used by the newspapers on which the retained translators were engaged. In these Sir John was described as a cursed traitor, Sir Adolphe Caron by a name not to be repeated, and Mr. Chapleau as a public thief and the brother of the hangman of Riel.

Mr. Charles Langelier followed in a vigorous speech in French. Mr. Langelier ranks high among the orators of the House, especially in his native tongue. His intimate acquaintance with this editor in all its details enabled him to speak with particularly strong effect. He could not well urge anything new, but he drove home the arguments which had already been presented.

During the debate the question was freely raised by the Liberals that the other five translators were offenders in the very same direction that the Messrs. Trembley and Poirier were. The Liberals wanted these five included in the deportation. Sir John Macdonald told the House that no complaint had been made against them.

Mr. Mills of Bothwell moved in amendment that the other five translators should be included.

Sir John Macdonald moved in amendment to the amendment that the Speaker had done perfectly right in upholding the dignity of the House in discharging the Messrs. Trembley and Poirier.

Sir John's amendment was carried, 113 to 61.

Questions of Ministers.

In answer to Mr. Lavergne, who asked whether the Government had taken any steps with a view of obtaining a refund of the duties improperly levied on hay exported to the United States, the Minister of Justice said that when he and Sir Charles Tupper were recently at Washington they pressed the claims of the hay exporters with all their ability, but Mr. Fairchild, Secretary of the Treasury, stated it was entirely out of the power of the United States Government to give the relief which was asked for because the claimants had not availed themselves of the remedies laid down by the law of the United States, and the time had passed by during which they were entitled to redress. Mr. Thompson said that claims now existing would have to be made individually to Congress.

To Mr. Lister the Postmaster-General said Geo. M. Everest was removed for neglect of duty from the postmastership at Arkona in Lambton, and Robert Dennis had been appointed in his place.

The House adjourned at 2 o'clock.

The Session's First Divorce Case.

OTTAWA, April 11.—The first divorce case of the session reached a committee of the Senate this morning. Senator Kaulbach of Nova Scotia was the chairman. It was the plea of Mary Matilda White, nee Mann, of the village of Port Dover, Ont., for relief from her husband, David Crystal White. The grounds for the application are that the husband is malformed and unfitted for a wife's society. Both of the parties were examined by the committee. White said it was his wife that was dissolute and not he. This Mrs. White denied. The parties have been married twelve years.

It is said the real trouble is about a certain property in Port Dover. White is malformed externally and is anything but prepossessing in appearance. Mrs. White is about 40 and fairly good looking. The committee ordered Senators Sullivan of Kingston and McMillan of Glengarry, both of whom are doctors, to make a medical examination of both parties.

HIS CHANCES IMPROVED.

Mr. Conkling's Condition Affords Some Hope of Recovery.

NEW YORK, April 11.—Mr. Conkling's serious illness results from exposure during the blizzard of March 12, when he made his way on that terrible evening from his office in Wall-street to the New York Club in Twenty-fourth-street. He was three hours in battling the tempest and arrived at the club greatly exhausted, notwithstanding his well-known wonderful physical powers. He had effects felt himself, however, for some days. On March 20 he attended a hearing in a room which was not properly heated. That night he complained of a pain in his head. This became so severe that Dr. Barker was summoned. He found that the pain was due to an abscess that had formed in the inner ear, which afterward led to an inflammation of the adjacent membranes of the brain.

Dr. Barker then describes the operation which was performed upon the ex-Senator: We found it very difficult to get our patient quiet enough to submit to our wishes. He did not want to lie down, and it required our united persuasion to prevail upon him to be still. When the anaesthetic had taken effect Dr. Sands made an incision six inch in length back of the left ear down to the bone. The wound was held open by retraction, and the external table of the bone was grazed and skilfully chiselled through by the operator. As soon as the instrument had penetrated the table a quantity of pus mingled with blood escaped. Upon removing a little more of the bone by the chisel and mallet cells were reached and more pus escaped. I think that in all an ounce of pus was discharged. It required no pressure to bring it out. The wound was then dressed with sublimated gauze and bandaged.

At 9.15 Drs. Barker and Sands finished a consultation. Dr. Barker said the patient has had a sound, healthy deep sleep from 5 until 8 p.m., and that his mental condition was excellent. The doctor said the sleep was good for the reason that it took away all the strain from the nerves. The chances of the Senator's recovery were improved. Twenty-four hours ago his chances were one in a hundred; now the chances are one in twenty-five that he will recover. He has been steadily improving for the past four hours. The patient again went to sleep after the departure of the doctors. They will not return until morning. Dr. Hartley remains with the patient all night.

April 12, 1.30 a.m.—Mr. Conkling's condition has changes for the worse.

MARRIED IN CHRIST.

Extraordinary Marriage of Emma Booth to Fakeer Tucker.

LONDON, April 11.—The members of the Salvation Army assembled in Congress Hall yesterday to witness the marriage of of General Booth's second daughter, Emma, to Mr. Tucker, an ex-officer in the Indian civil service. The groom is by birth an Eurasian, and is known to the Salvationists as "Fakeer Tucker." Seven thousand persons were present at the ceremony. The hall was decorated with floral arches, palms and tropical plants. An Indian band in native dress, playing tom-toms, and the Salvation Army orchestra furnished the music. A Hindoo convert, who now holds the position of major in the Salvation Army, made a speech. He boasted of the fact that a short time ago he was captain of a band of fifty Dacoits, but that now he and captured souls for Christ. General and Mrs. Booth and Mr. Tucker and his bride also spoke. After the ceremonies a banquet was given. The festivities will continue for two days. They have attracted a large number of the aristocracy and tickets of admission are selling freely at high prices.

Byrnes' Visit to Keenan.

NEW YORK, April 11.—Inspector Byrnes returned from Montreal yesterday, and reported at once to District-Attorney Fellows. Mr. Fellows afterwards said:

"It is true that Inspector Byrnes went to Montreal. It is true that he went on business of the District-Attorney's office. It is true that he saw John Keenan while he was at Montreal. I cannot say what the object was which Inspector Byrnes had in mind. Of course it was business of importance or the Inspector would not have gone in person. It is not true, however, that Mr. Furrey went on any such errand, nor that there are any negotiations between the District-Attorney's office and John Keenan, or Dempsey, or any other of the indicted men at Montreal, looking to their return here, or to their becoming witnesses for the state in any of the pending trials."

Inspector Byrnes spent some time in his office fencing with the reporters, but was firm in his refusal to tell anything about his journey.

The Fisheries Treaty.

NEW YORK, April 11.—The Tribune's Washington special says the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations will probably conclude the consideration of the Fisheries Treaty at its regular meeting to-morrow, and report it at once to the Senate. The committee is divided strictly on party lines. The five Republican members of the committee—Sherman, Edmunds, Frye, Evarts and Dolph—will sign a majority report against ratification, and the four Democratic members of the committee—Morgan, Brown, Sanbury and Payne—will declare themselves as in favor of the treaty.

Strikers' Deadly Plotting.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., April 11.—A tunnel is being built at Cumberland Gap by the Powells Valley Railroad. Last Saturday 100 laborers struck for an increase in wages. The contractors hired a new lot of men and put them to work on Monday morning. About noon a large force of strikers, under the influence of whisky and armed, assaulted the workmen. The latter were also well armed, and the battle lasted for several minutes. Five men are reported killed and more than a dozen wounded, some of them seriously.

The Venezuela Boundary.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Mr. Sherman, from the Committee on Foreign Relations, reported back Mr. Riddleberger's resolution amended so as to request the President, if not incompatible with the public interests, to furnish any information in his possession relative to a dispute understood to exist between the Government of Venezuela and the Government of Great Britain concerning the boundaries between British Guiana and Venezuela. The resolution so amended was adopted.

Mayor Hewitt's Little Vote.

NEW YORK, April 11.—Mayor Hewitt yesterday sent to the Board of Aldermen a message vetoing the recent amendment to the ordinance regarding the flags to be displayed on the city public buildings so that a majority of the Aldermen can direct what flag or flags shall be so displayed.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Book-dealers have a grievance against the Dominion Government through its imposition of a duty of 6 cents per lb. and 20 per cent. ad valorem on English magazines containing fashion plates coming into Canada. The dealers claim that the duty is an unfair discrimination against Great Britain and in favor of the United States dealer, who already has many advantages. The matter is to be considered at a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Ontario Booksellers' Association this afternoon. The copyright question will also probably be discussed, and it is likely a deputation will be sent to Ottawa to seek redress.

Charles H. Bailey, a gardener living at 35 University avenue, is a prisoner in the detective office on a serious charge. Yesterday he and his wife quarrelled while at dinner, and in a fit of rage he threw a knife at her. The woman dodged the missile, which struck a year-old baby in the cradle, severing two of its fingers. A doctor amputated a portion of the hand.

Considerable damage was done at Hanlan's Point by the ice shove on Monday and Tuesday. The spiling and sidewalk were torn up by the tremendous pressure of the grinding ice and forced over the bay.

NOISY POLITICIANS.

Boulanger's Campaign in the Department of the Nord.

PARIS, April 11.—Noisy political meetings were held at Boulevard Avenue, Department of the Nord, last night. The orators had much difficulty in speaking so great was the confusion. The majority of the people at the meetings opposed to favor Boulanger.

Bismarck's Popularity.

BERLIN, April 11.—The North German Gazette thinks the belief is justified that a majority of the French electors favor Gen. Boulanger and oppose the Government, and says that it only remains for the opportunists to accommodate themselves to their unfortunate position.

The Postage on Seeds.

UTICA, N.Y., April 11.—In the case of James Vick v. William Carr, Postmaster at Susquehanna Bridge, Judge Wallace has continued the order to show cause until May 7 in Syracuse. The postmaster is enjoined meantime from interfering with packages of bulbs, seeds or plants sent through the mails by the plaintiff from Canada, upon which the rate of postage at one cent for four ounces has been prepaid in Canadian postage stamps, by rating them up, or directing in any manner that they cannot be delivered to any person to whom addressed in the United States until the full rate of one cent for each ounce has been paid in full, or from interfering in any other way with such packages except to forward them in the mail to their respective addresses.

Evidently He Didn't Get It.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 11.—B. Brandenstein, who has been leading money here at high rates of interest on personal security, and who left suddenly owing about $20,000, returned three days ago. He was at once brought to trial for swindling by his creditors, chief among whom was Steinau & Raff, jewelers and diamond dealers. On examination he showed that he had borrowed money of Steinau & Raff at 6 per per cent. per month and loaned it at 7 and 8 per cent. per month, but by his bad debts he had lost heavily, causing him to be so involved that he could not pay up. Then he testified that he went secretly to Mother Mandelbaum, at Hamilton, Canada, to get money to pay his debts.

Congress' Unsuccessful Roosevelts.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—In the House of Representatives at 2 o'clock to-day Mr. Taulbee called attention to the fact that the House had been constructively in session for eight days and continuously in session for over twenty-seven hours. In the interest, therefore, of good health and good nature he asked unanimous consent that a recess be taken until 11.45 to-morrow. Mr. O'Ferrall objected, and the House again went into a state of "lamentous domestudes." Later on the motion was renewed and the House decided to recess until 11.45 a.m. to-morrow. The Democratic members of the House will hold a caucus to-night to decide on a course of action.

Mr. Shenton on Imperial Federation.

At the Club National Banquet, Montreal.

The partisans of Imperial Federation are becoming bolder every day. They have just proclaimed their sentiments in a circuitous manner, and they have succeeded in making of their dream a question of actual politics through the nomination of the new Governor-General, who is an avowed advocate of Imperial Federation.

The situation is serious; we are confronted with the greatest danger to which our political organization has ever yet been exposed; we are to have a regime forced upon us of which the consequences for us cannot be other than most disastrous. Down to the present we have drawn our life from the colonial system: now we are to be compelled to assume against our will the responsibilities and perils of a sovereign state which will not be our own—to expose ourselves to the vicissitudes of peace and of war between the great powers of the world, and to the rigorous exigencies of military service as it is practised in Europe; we are to be saddled with a political system which, by means of the poles to the burning sands of the Sahara, an odious system that will compel us to pay tribute of blood and money, and tear from our arms the young manhood, who are the hope of our country and the consolation of our old age, to force them into distant and bloody wars which we can neither prevent nor stop.

We, Liberals and National Conservatives, are decidedly, energetically opposed to this change, and the National party of the Province of Quebec does not want it and will fight with all its strength against the machiavelian project. If its promoters ever succeed in imposing it upon us, it will only be by force and by guile.

A Fruitless Search.

CHICAGO, April 11.—Detective Sergeant Aldrich has returned from his fruitless chase after Tascott. The Sergeant says he traveled every inch of ground from St. Paul to Washington Territory, invaded the Queen's dominions at Winnipeg and came through the Northwest Territory. Tascott was heard of everywhere but all the clues that were followed amounted to nothing.

"Q" Brakesmen to Strike.

CHICAGO, April 11.—The Times says the exact date when the brakesmen employed on the Burlington road are to strike has not yet been determined, but they will go out very shortly unless some arrangement is made between the company and the striking engineers, firemen and switchmen.

Indians Threatening Vengeance.

HELENA, Mont., April 11.—The Kootenai Indians are very ugly and threaten to avenge the hanging of three of their number for murder by the white people. The Governor has been called on for troops.

Trouble Turned Her Brain.

FREDERICK, Md., April 11.—Mrs. Lucy Lester, one of the wealthiest and most prominent ladies in Western Maryland, hung herself last night to a bedpost in her chamber. Domestic troubles upset her mind.

Burned to Death.

KANSAS CITY, April 11.—Geo. Kennerson and his 15-year-old son were burned to death in Osage County last night.

Fire at Fellerton.

FELLERTON, April 11.—A fire broke out at 3 o'clock last night in a large frame building adjacent to the Gordon Hotel, owned by Miss Leonard of Oshawa and occupied by Mrs. Hodgson as a dwelling and grocery store. Owing to the building being old and dry it burned very rapidly, the inmates barely escaping in their night clothes, and the contents were almost a total loss. Loss on contents $2000, insured in the Colonial for $1000.

Canadian Commercial Relations.

Hon. John Bright on the Question of Commerce Between Canada and the United States.

Right Hon. John Bright, at a banquet given in Birmingham to Hon. Joseph Chamberlain on the occasion of his return from Washington, U.S., where he was the British representative in the Fisheries conference, delivered an address in reply to the toast of "Our Kinsmen." Mr. Bright has been for half a century a prominent figure in British politics. He was one of the first members of the Anti-Corn-Law League fifty years ago. He took an active interest in the re-organization of the league which only ceased when the adoption of free trade by the Derby ministry made further agitation on the subject unnecessary. Mr. Bright has always been sound on the trade question, and any deliverance of his on the subject is entitled to the highest respect, therefore the following extract from his recent Birmingham speech will be read with the greatest interest. The first part of his address was devoted to the amplification of the position that the people of England and the colonies and the United States were kinsmen, and that trade restrictions between such people were unwise and impolitic. Touching the subject in question, Mr. Bright said :—

Take, for instance, the question of commerce between the two countries. (Hear, hear.) If they were in the extreme east of the Dominion of Canada with their back to the Atlantic, and looked straight across the Continent to the Pacific, they would have an imaginary line of near 3,000 miles in length; on the right, the north, they would have five millions of Canadians, and on the south they would have 60 millions of the population of the United States. Now, what had these people done? The sixty millions of the population of the United States had built up along the whole length of this 3,000 miles a wall, not of brick or of stone, but of Acts of Congress, and they called it by the general name of "tariff," and on the other side, the five millions of Canadians had built a wall also of the same length, and pretty nearly of the same height, and they called that also "tariff"; but these walls were there for the purpose of intercepting commerce between the sixty millions on the south and the five millions on the north, and the five millions on the north had done another thing. They had turned a corner, and ran their tariff on the eastern coast of the Continent northward, and thus have done their best also, to a large extent, to shut out commerce with the Mother Country. That was a fair statement of the unwisdom of our kinsmen on the other side of the Atlantic. But this system—as systems so stupid and foolish generally did—failed to give satisfaction. On the northern side of the country the Canadians complained that they were shut out from free commerce with the sixty millions of neighbours in the South, and of course some persons in the South complained that they were shut out by this tariff barrier from the trade they might have with the millions of the Canadian population, and the Canadians said that their trade was blocked and, in point of fact, they were very badly treated, and that they could not buy things they would like to buy and cannot sell things they would like to sell. They neither buy nor sell with freedom, and they were very greatly dissatisfied, and they wished those barriers to be thrown down. Well, that was a very sensible wish, and he was perfectly certain that whatever arguments might be laid against them they will be thrown down. (Cheers.) His opinion was that if economical facts were so strong there would be a tendency hardly to be resisted to get over the sentiment that it was better for the Canadians to be associated politically with Great Britain than politically with the American Union. Now there was a rather lively and plucky nobleman (Lord Rosebery) who had recently been making speeches on two subjects,—one the reform of the House of Lords, and the other on Imperial Federation. These, as a contractor would say, were two very long jobs—(laughter)—and as to the former no doubt opinion would grow, and some good might be done some day, but as to he thought the whole scheme impossible, and no better than a dream. He would like to ask the Federation people whether they would find the colonies willing to bind themselves to the stupid foreign policy of this country? Would they be willing to undertake the responsibility of entering into wars, the seat of which was ten thousand miles away, and in which they might not have been in the least consulted about the cause of the quarrel which this country was rushing into? In his opinion the colonies would never stand it. If he were a colonist he would take good care, as far as he was concerned, that his voice should never go in favor of the policy of the Old Country. As far as that was concerned it would be much better for humanity and for them and for us that these colonies should be under governments of their own and independent, and should not enter into quarrels in which they were not concerned, but endeavour to maintain their own honour, and not take part in the miserable quarrels, contests and wars which for a long time past had disfigured the history of the Kingdom in which we lived (Cheers.) Now there were two things which made that federation of the empire quite impossible. First of all, there were the tariffs which some of the colonies imposed; secondly there was the foreign policy of this country. The whole thing was a dream and absurdity. But it did not follow they might not do a great many things by binding the colonies to us and creating a perpetual friendship between them and the Mother Country. Now, what could one say of the future of our own and of our kinsmen? Was that merely a dream? By no means. He had no belief in [illegible] but had the greatest possible belief in the great future of those colonies and in their future also. He hoped there would be an enlightened and [illegible] with this country. Might they not hope for the highest and noblest federation as he has established among us? Under different Governments it might be; but united by race, by sympathy, by freedom of industry and by conservation of interests, and by a perpetual peace, they might help to lead the world to that better time which we longed for and which we believed in—(cheers)—although it might not be permitted to our mortal eyes to behold it. (Loud cheers.)

Literary Notes.

THE ENGINEERING SOCIETY.—The EXAMINER has received from Mr. R. S. Lattimer, C. E., a copy of "Papers read before the Engineering Society of the School of Practical Society, Toronto." The excellence and practical value of the papers is highly creditable to the members of the Society, whose deep interest in promoting the study of practical science is by no means confined to the preparation of papers on scientific subjects. One of the laudable objects of the Society is to procure the enlargement of the buildings occupied by the School of Science, Toronto. This institution, though only a short time in existence has shown itself to be a most efficient institution whose value to the cause of applied science will be much increased by the attainment of the object sought by the Engineering Society, that is the enlargement of the buildings. It is to be hoped that the friends of practical scientific education will extend the Society both moral and substantial aid towards the attainment of its laudable object.

PERSONAL.—Mr. Thos. Walters, of Lindsay, superintendent of public works, was in the village on Wednesday and Thursday of last week.

HOPES OF A SETTLEMENT.

Hamilton's Labor Difficulty—The Miller Liquor Case—Youthful Larcenists.

HAMILTON, April 11.—This morning an application was made to Judge Sinclair for an order calling upon the prosecution in the Miller liquor case to show cause why the decision of the Police Magistrate should not be set aside. The matter was enlarged till Tuesday.

The general impression now is that all the trades will have effected a settlement by Monday. The fine weather is creating a desire all around to get to work. At a meeting held this afternoon a settlement was arrived at between the boss carpenters and the journeymen on the same basis as last year, $2.75 to $2.25 per day.

T. B. Griffith, president of the Hamilton Steamboat Company, cabled this morning to R. E. Charlton informing him that the steamer Macassa was up to expectations and that she would sail on May 5.

To-day was pay day at the Grand Trunk, and the men expected to hear something about the rumored discharge, but nothing was said about it.

The front window of Thomas Oliver's shoe shop was broken last night and several pairs of new and second-hand shoes stolen.

The gilt plate glass sign of Hatter James Angus, jr., was maliciously broken last night by a kick or a blow.

At the Police Court this morning Frederick Hackbush, Robert Davis and George Davis were arraigned on several charges of petty larceny, particulars of which have already been published in The World. Hackbush has no home. His mother died some years ago and his father is very sick in the City Hospital. As he appeared to be the leader, the Magistrate sent him to the Reformatory for four years. Robert Davis was allowed to go with a warning, his mother promising to take him home and see that he behaves himself. George Davis, who is only 11 years old, was also allowed to go home with his mother.

Last night two young farmers brought to the St. Nicholas Hotel three monster snapping turtles, which they captured in Gage's Inlet. One of the turtles was over two feet in length, and they were all three pronounced the largest specimens of snappers ever seen about here. They were bought by William Stroud, who, it is rumored, will present the big fellow to the Toronto Zoo.

The ice is all out of the Bay. None of the propellers will leave, however, before May 1.

EMPEROR AND CHANCELLOR.

Efforts Being Made to Remove the Differences Between Frederick and Bismarck.

BERLIN, April 11.—Emperor Frederick to-day received verbal reports from Gen. von Winterfeldt and drove out with the Empress at noon. In the afternoon the Emperor had a conference with Prince Bismarck.

The National Zeitung says the Grand Duke of Baden the Emperor's brother-in-law, is specially exerting himself to remove the differences which now exist between the Emperor and Prince Bismarck owing to the proposed marriage of Prince Alexander and Princess Victoria. The Breslau National Liberals and Conservatives and the new electoral associations have called a meeting for to-morrow at that place to prepare a petition to the Emperor to maintain Prince Bismarck in office.

Before returning to Charlottenburg from Berlin last evening the Empress had a two hours' interview with Prince Bismarck.

The Lancet's Opinion.

LONDON, April 11.—The Lancet says the condition of the German Emperor's larynx is unchanged. His general health has suffered from his confinement within doors, which was necessary on account of the weather.

A Bad Night.

BERLIN, April 11.—It is stated that the Emperor last night passed a very bad night, being disturbed by frequent fits of coughing and that he did not sleep till early in the morning. His want of sleep is partially attributed to worry over the Bismarck crisis. It is regarded as probable that the Emperor will leave Berlin shortly for a change of air, returning at the time of Prince Henry's marriage.

Prince Bismarck had a long interview with the Emperor yesterday with reference to an amnesty decree which will be published in Alsace-Lorraine to-day. The decree is a duplicate of the amnesty proclamation recently issued in Prussia, and also announces the pardon of persons sentenced for uttering seditious cries, displaying seditious emblems, or infringing French press laws still in force.

Baseball Yesterday.

In Toronto this afternoon Capt. Light's Toronto's defeated Varsity by seven runs. The game this afternoon and came near proving a second Lally was batted freely in the send-off but he afterward did good work. Atkinson proved to be a hard nut for the "beaters" to crack. Both teams batted freely and fielded well. The home team showed superior ability in both departments as was expected. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Indianapolis	2 0 0 2 0 0 0 1 0—	7	11	2
Toronto	0 0 0 0 0 3 1 1 1—	6	8	6

Batteries: Moffat and Myers; Lally and Oldfield, Atkinson and Decker. Umpire: Brennan.

Other Games.

At Brooklyn—The home club easily defeated Worcester by 11 to 1.

At New York—The League team captured Jersey City by a score of 6 to 1.

At St. Louis—The Association champions demoralized the Chicagos to the tune of 11 to 5, making 8 runs off Baldwin's delivery in the third inning.

At Cincinnati—The league champions are taking revenge for the taunts of the Cincinnati's managers last fall, when the professed a desire to try conclusions with the Detroits in a series of five games for $10,000. Detroit was not ready then, but has bobbed up serenely this spring and has laid out the Reds in the two games played here. They not only outbatted, but outfielded the Cincinnatis. The score:

Detroit	1 0 0 1 0 1 0 0 *—	3	7	0

Pitchers: Keefe for Cincinnati and Conway for Detroit.

At Pittsburg—There was a big slugging match in the Smoky City to-day, when the regenerated Clevelands met the Alleghenys on the diamond. The home team won by batting Crowell all over the field, and the Clevelands were not much behind in their treatment of Galvin. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Allegheny	0 4 0 1 3 4 0 0 1—14	16	5
Cleveland	1 1 1 0 2 3 2 7 0—17	16	11

At Washington the league team enjoyed a picnic with the Baltimore association team to-day. Parking was badly rattled and was pounded to pieces by the Senators, while the Orioles were not able to locate Whitney's curves. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Washington		20	2	4
Baltimore		4	6	11

THE LATEST MARKET REVIEW.

TORONTO, April 12.—The local sterling exchange market is steady. Sixty-day bills between banks are quoted at 108½ to 109¾, and across the counter 109¾. Demand bills, 109¾ to 109 11-16 between banks, and 110 to 110¼ across the counter. New York drafts 1-16 to 3-16 premium between banks, and ¼ to ⅜ across the counter.

Business was fairly active on the Board of Trade all this afternoon. One sale was recorded, that of 15,000 bushels of No. 2 Manitoba hard wheat, to arrive May 1, at 86c. Later on a like quantity of the same grade was wanted at 86½c, with none offering. One car of No. 1 Manitoba hard wheat, o.t., was offered at 94c, with 93c bid. The following offers were also made: For No. 2 fall wheat 85c, for No. 3 fall wheat 80c, for No. 2 spring wheat 75c.

The only new feature on St. Lawrence Market was the appearance of new maple syrup, which sold readily at 28c to 30c per quart. Apples are very scarce and high, selling at $4 to $5 per barrel. Onions are also higher, selling at $2.50 per barrel. Good butter is remarkably scarce and as high as 20c is paid for A 1 rolls. Eggs are still high and scarce. On the grain market two loads of spring wheat sold for 70c per bush., and one load of barley for 77c per bush. On the hay market $10 was the top price for best timothy.

LIVERPOOL GRAIN MARKET.

Liverpool, 10 a.m. wheat firm; demand fair; held generally offer sparingly: corn fair, demand good. Spring wheat 6s 6d to 6s 7d, red winter 6s 6d to 6s 9d, No. 1 6s 8d to 6s 9d, corn 4s 11½d, peas 5s 5d, pork 67s 6d, lard 35s 6d, tallow 28s 6d to 40s 6d, cheese 67s 6d.

Make a Note of This.

Pain beats'ed as if by magic. Polson's Nerviline is a positive and almost instantaneous remedy for external, internal, or local pains. The most active remedy hitherto known falls far short of Nerviline for hearty power in the relief of nerve pain. Good for rheumatism, backache, headache, toothache, neuralgia, lumbago, sciatica, etc. Buy a 10 cents sample bottle. Large bottles 25 cents, at all druggists. 6dw15

Prevailing Sickness.

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sore Throat, inflammations and Congestions are most prevalent at this season of the year. Hagyard's Yellow Oil is the best external and internal remedy for all these and other troubles. 2w14d

An Improved Wax Bean.

The old German wax bean has been surpassed in enviable reputation since it became. Its greatest rival, the Dwarf is superior and its pods are tender, 1 to 16 in and as prolific as some other varieties.

NEW PROLIFIC GERMAN WAX BEAN.

And now is introduced for the first time to the public the new prolific German wax bean, an improved strain of the old favorite German wax. This new sprain, which has been tested in many localities with both field and garden culture, appears to have given very general satisfaction. Vick, who has been testing it for four years, has it catalogued this season under the name of New Prolific German Wax. His stock was started from a single seed of the old German wax, and while the general appearance of the plant of the new prolific resembles the old and retains its good points Vick claims for the newcomer that it is a stronger and more robust grower; its pods are straighter, longer, rounder, and that it is more than twice as productive—in fact, combines all the good qualities of the old with the improvements wrought by years of careful selection and cultivation.

The Growth of the Hair

should always be watched. Inattention to the first signs to premature grayness and thinness of the hair will appear it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic the scalp will be kept in a clean and healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

A Sad Experience.

How many weary broken down invalids there are to whom life is burdensome and whose prospect is sad indeed. The nervous debility and general weakness of those afflicted with lingering disease is best relieved by the invigorating and restoring properties of B.B.B. 2w14

Making Sure.

There are many people who adopt health and diet rules when attacked by disease of the stomach, liver or bowels, this is quite right, but those who add to this treatment the use of B. B. B. according to directions, make sure of being quickly and easily cured. 2w14d

Thankful.

Some time ago being very greatly troubled with colds and coughing, I went to the drug store and got Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. In a short time I was well. I have found it a sure cure and am thankful that I used it, and now would not be without it. H. A. Schaefer, Berlin, Ont. 2w14d

Will Move for New Trial.

Mr. E. B. Stone, counsel for the plaintiff in Gervais vs. Goodwin, which was decided against him at the recent assizes, is not satisfied with the result and will move for a new trial, when he hopes to have the testimony of an important witness, who evaded the last trial, to support his case.

An Irishman's Geography.

Irishmen in general are proverbially prolific of laughable "bulls," and dire offences against Her Majesty's English "as she is spoke," but the Irish lawyer takes the ban for wanton massacre of the Queen's authorised geography. He cuts off whole colonies from the British possessions, and will doubtless soon have England situated in Devonshire. The other day a legal firm in town received a document from an Irish lawyer, fully drawn up and ready to be signed, in which the "address" of our town was given "in the province of Ontario, in the Dominion of Canada, in the United States of America." He must be an out-and-out annexationist or a strong Home Ruler, to thus tear "Canada our home" away from Britain and transplant her in the land of the screaming eagle.

A Fortune Goes Begging.

The Kinsilly fortune is still awaiting an owner in New York. It will be remembered that Mr. Wm. Kennedy, late of the Commercial House, and his uncle, were among the applicants, and visited New York not long ago. The fortune, about $60,000, was left by the late William A. Kinsilly, who died in 1867. No heirs could be found, though, and the big pot of money still awaits Kinsilly's heirs-at-law. A recent despatch from New York says:—"Many persons have claimed the estate. The last proceeding was begun in February, 1888, action being brought by Amos Kennedy, upon whose petition John Whalen was appointed to take proof of his claims. Judge Barrett has directed Whalen to inquire into the rights of the other petitioners in the same matter. These are Annie Tierney, Mary Powers, Thomas Powers and Michael Kennedy. They say they and two others living in England are heirs-at-law of William A. Kinsilly. They base their claim on being sex-of-kin of James Kennedy, who was the first cousin of the wealthy Brooklynite."

Hen House Medicine.

Mr. J. McClelland received from the office of the Canadian Poultry Review yesterday a circular requesting him to give his opinion upon what he considers the most prevalent cause or causes of roup, and its cure. Roup, as is well known, is a common and dangerous disease among poultry. For the benefit of poultry raisers Mr. McClelland's reply is given, as it will doubtless be of value and interest to all. The most prevalent causes of roup, he says, are damp and ill-ventilated quarters, bad ventilation in any case, and want of cleanliness, etc. The symptoms are a loss of appetite, moping, swelling of the head, frothy secretion in the inner corner of the eye, followed by an offensive discharge from the nostrils; the mucous membrane becomes stopped and the disease takes the form of catarrh, the first stage of which may be treated by removing those affected to a warm, dry place, disinfect them by sprinkling carbolic acid, washing the head of the bird with a piece of fine cotton dipped in a solution of vinegar and water (vinegar 1, to 3 of water); feed on soft food seasoned with Cayenne pepper. In an advanced stage he advises cutting off the head, unless the bird is of extra value, and begin again by washing the house with hot lime-wash, to a pail of wash putting a large cupful of salt and adding say 3 oz. carbolic acid. Mr. McClelland concludes: "I have not had a case of roup in the last 25 years, as I believe prevention better than cure."

At the Opera House.

The fine weather last night was the means of well filling the opera house, and the presentation of "Monte Cristo" gave every satisfaction. It is a powerful play, and one that calls for a great deal of "heavy" acting, but the Sawtelle company were fully equal to the occasion, and gave, perhaps, the best production of the play ever seen in Peterborough. Mr. J. Al. Sawtelle a Edmond Dantes, personated the several characters introduced in the young sailor's checkered career in an excellent manner. As the Count, his splendid physique and commanding presence had a good effect. Miss Cornell, as Mercedes, took her part well also. It might not be amiss, however, to suggest to both Mr. Sawtelle and Miss Cornell that the audience could better follow out the plot and take a deeper interest in the dialogue if they would speak slower and more distinctly. Mr. Arthur Gray, as "Fernand," was sufficiently villainous to suit while Miss Bethune, who impersonated "Albert," the son of Mercedes, succeeded admirably in obliterating all traces of her sex and creditably took the character of a dashing young soldier. Mr. Harris as Caderousse, Miss McCormack as Mlle. Danglars, Mr. Brenwell as Villefort and Mr. Lawrence as Danglars formed an excellent support for the chief characters. To-night Bartley Campbell's "Galley Slave" will be given. This play needs no commendation; it is well known to be one of the best on the stage to-day. On Saturday at the matinee "East Lynne" will be played.

"The Land of "Promise."

The local Reformers entertain the Conservatives at Monthly Meeting—Eighteen Promises.

Two deputations went down to Ottawa, the first of "patriotic" Tuesday night, for the purpose of interviewing members of the Cabinet and gaining their approval of certain contemplated improvements.

The civic deputation was composed of Mayor Stevenson and Councillors Cahill, Davidson, Hall, Moore, Langford and Landry. Their special object was to secure an appropriation towards the dredging of Little Lake. The military deputation, Col. Rogers, Major Bell and Captain Langford, were to urge upon the government the advisability of erecting a new armory in Peterborough.

Both deputations went "smoke"—that is, they joined forces, and by their united prestige and formidable numbers went a strong delegation.

They first visited Sir Hector Langevin, Minister of Public Works, re the dredging business, but he considered it outside his department and referred them to Hon. Mr. Pope, Minister of Railways and Canals. In the illness of Mr. Pope, his Deputy, Mr. Page, received the deputation and listened to their claims, which, he said, were most reasonable; and he had not the slightest doubt the corporation would be lent a dredge and given an appropriation this summer. Mr. Page spoke most confidently, and promised to lay the matter before the Minister at the earliest possible moment. It is therefore expected that an appropriation for this purpose will be brought down in the supplementary estimates before the close of the present session.

The civil deputation then tried itself to the apartments of Sir Adolphe Caron, Minister of Militia, to interview him in regard to the building of an armory. This gentleman was ever more smooth and complacent than Mr. Page. He quickly promised that the armory would be built by the Government, and that an engineer would be sent up to locate the site. The officers of the battalion wish to retain the present location.

The deputations returned home this morning well pleased with the success that attended their visit to Ottawa.

Five Years in the North-west

Twenty Young Men Engage to Fight Indians and Catch Smugglers as Mounted Police Men.

On the noon train to-day twenty young men living in Peterborough and vicinity boarded the east bound C.P.R. train for Ottawa, where they will be fitted out and sent to the North-west as recruits for the Mounted Police. Inspector Saunders and Sergeant Begley have been at the Stewart House since Monday engaging men for the service, and they have been very successful. The Inspector says the Peterborough contingent comprises as fine a lot of men as regards physique, as he ever engaged. There were a great number of applicants rejected, the requirements being so exacting that that they did not qualify. Those who passed the examination have engaged for a term of five years. They went east to-day and were accompanied by Sergeant Begley. Inspector Saunders follows to-night. Following are the names of the recruits:—

Robert White, Peterborough.
Wm. S. Belcher, "
Richard A. Payne, "
Adam Dixon, Keene.
Peter Robinson, "
Thos. A. Dixon, "
John S. McFarlane "

Seraphael and Mrs. Scott-Siddons.

The Toronto Mail of the 4th of April says: "If proof were necessary of the sustained popularity in Toronto of Mrs. Scott-Siddons or of the good impression made by her in December last, it would be amply found in the magnificent reception accorded her on her return visit last night. Association hall was crowded by a fashionable audience, for many of whom sitting room could not be provided. The programme was well chosen and well arranged, there being a fair variety in a select range of subjects. The order of the numbers were:—Two scenes from the "Merchant of Venice," Mrs. Bean's Courtship, the drinking of the potion in "Romeo and Juliet," The Childwife (Dickens) and The Masquerade, by John G. Saxe. Mrs. Siddons was very pleasing in the lighter pieces and was loudly cheered in them all. A new feature of her programme was the piano playing of Mr. Henry Waller, her adopted son, who will be remembered as the Boy Pianist, Seraphael, of a few years ago. Mr. Waller has just recently come to this continent from London, England, and he will make his first formal appearance in New York in May next. He comes with flattering credentials from masters of the highest European reputation, such as Liszt, Leschetitsky and others. His performances in London have been very favorably noticed by the English press. His reception last night was most encouraging. The first numbers which he played were "Ballade in 'A' flat," by Chopin, and "Rhapsodie Hongroise No. 2," by Liszt. He at once enchained the attention of the audience and secured their admiration by the success of his playing. He seemed to have a complete mastery of technique and showed a perfect grasp of the conception of the music. His performance was altogether brilliant, and was characterized by delicacy of expression and power. He was warmly applauded, and the audience, not satisfied with a double recall, insisted on an encore, for which Mr. Waller played "The Spanish Serenade," by Schulof. The second numbers were "Melody in 'F,'" and the march, "Ruins of Athens," by Rubinstein. His rendering of both these was followed by loud and spontaneous cheering, as genuine as it was well deserved. Mr. Waller may be ranked as one of the most accomplished and promising pianists whom it has been the good fortune of a Toronto audience to hear, and there is little doubt that a brilliant and successful future is in store for him."

A telegram was received by the local committee this morning from Mrs. Siddons, stating that Mr. Waller, her adopted son, would positively appear with her in the Opera House on Monday evening, April 16th. Prices within the reach of all. Plan at Hartley's.

Missed a Good Thing.

This is the way the Port Hope Times believes itself:—"Why has the Sawtelle Comedy Co. skipped Port Hope? It is a splendid company and has played at Cobourg and Peterborough. Probably the show people have decided to give so poor a show town as this has become a wide berth. In this case, if we are to believe the report of those who heard the company play in Cobourg, we have missed a treat. It strikes us, right enough, and gives a high class of plays." Poor Port Hope!

Salvation Army Notes.

Another Hallelujah wedding is announced for next week.

The Army builder, Mr. Dooley, is in town and will push forward the work on the barracks, which will probably be completed within three months. The work has been heretofore delayed by the frost in the ground, but the cellar is now about excavated and the erection of the superstructure will soon be begun.

A Few Words Still.

Messrs. R. B. Wilson & Son have arranged for Mr. Geo. Hilliard to erect for them a new frame woolen mill, three stories high, 45x60, to be ready for occupation by 1st of June. It will be a custom, one-cut mill for the manufacture of blankets, full cloths, flannels and double and single stocking yarns. They will run in connection with the mill an office near the market square for the buying of wool and the transaction of all the business of the firm.

Sprinting.

Not long ago a challenge was published from "Abe" Rose to Archie Moore, for a 100 yard foot race. Archie says he is quite willing enough to run the race, but as Rose is a professional he can't see how it can be accomplished without his losing his standing as an amateur. If a race can be arranged that will not affect him in this way he says he will be only too glad to accommodate Rose.

The Bridge Question.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

Dear Sir,—In my last letter I explained why as a county bridge the Wallace Point bridge is a failure, and why as a township bridge it is a fraud, and that it would be inexpedient and a waste of the public money to repair the same, for if there was a bridge on the proposed new site it would never be missed. But we are asked why was the bridge built there if the site is inconvenient and so far out of place? We answer, that the Wallace Point bridge was never built for a county bridge, but by a private company who never thought of county purposes, but where they could raise the most money. When the Wallace Point bridge was built there was a bridge further east, at Rose's, which controlled nearly the trade of that portion of the township to the north. So the Wallace Point people placed their's as far to the west as possible, and at that time South Monaghan had not opened up the 4th concession through Huggins' swamp; so they controlled the trade to the south and east, but the conditions have changed, South Monaghan has opened up her roads, Otonabee has closed her's. The companies which built and operated the bridges have passed away. By a piece of sharp practice the Wallace Point bridge was foisted on the counties by its disgusted and alarmed stockholders, who saw nothing but financial ruin in their ventures and were glad to be quit of it at any price or on any terms. These counties, and more especially South Monaghan, have suffered by that stupid bargain, and the time has come for justice to be done. What we want is one bridge on the proper site for county and township purposes, and South Monaghan is prepared to pay her share and bonus it handsomely besides. Mr. Editor, my letter is getting too long; thanking you for the space, I remain,

Yours,
Mervin.

The Bridge Must Go.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

Dear Sir,—When the people of South Monaghan and these counties say the bridge must be built on the proper site, it will; and "One Who Knows" may as well stand from under. Fools rush in where angels fear to tread, even the laws of the Medes and Persians change.

Yours,
Solomon.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The Literary Society wound up the debating season on Tuesday evening by giving an excellent concert in the Agricultural hall, consisting of dialogues, tableaux, choruses and vocal and literary selections, Miss B. Fair's recitation being particularly worthy of mention. Mr. T. Donaldson, the president, occupied the chair in his usual able manner. I think the audience dispersed well satisfied with their five cents' worth, and have no doubt that the meetings will be carried on with renewed vigor next winter.

We are of the opinion that the remarks of the Fraserville correspondent, anent big feet, were somewhat out of good taste. Of course the possessor of charming little pedal appendages, ending in the sweetest of little toes, and delicate tapering piano fingers surmounted by beautiful pink nails, can afford to be magnanimous, if he only will. As you are strong in your own faultless beauty and symmetry of form, be merciful to those whose feet are not poems, nor their hands rose leaves. What an artistic eye that man with the abnormal ears, from our northern suburbs has, who mistook an accidental explosion for a real tableau, and considered it the best he had ever seen.

AS MUCH A SECRET AS EVER

To the Editor of the Examiner:—Sir—How in the world has C. B. Routley jumped into such a big slice of the Wall Paper trade? Why it seems as if one couldn't pass his store without running against a load of Wall Paper in the arms of some pleased looking customer. I'm half inclined to think there must have been lots of beadle in the Wall Paper business before Routley started it, and that the people have found out that he has broken the combination. Eh? what did you think, Mr. Editor? And yet you occasionally hear of spasmodic attempts to get down to Routley's prices, in order to head him off; but still it seems as much a secret as ever how he keeps up the run.

Yours truly,

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

THE C.P.R. MONOPOLY TO BE DISCUSSED IN TORY CAUCUS.

Tory Members From the East Insist on Absolute Pledges—The Nerve of Mr. Mackintosh—More Correspondence About the Treaty—The Russell Election.

OTTAWA, April 12.—In the Senate the new rules for regulating divorce proceedings were adopted. The proposal to reduce the time for giving notice from six months to three was defeated.

A Government caucus has been called for to-morrow, primarily to consider the proposed terms of purchase of the C.P.R. monopoly. The House will be called on to deal with the arrangement next week, and the supporters of the Government insist on knowing what line of defence they are expected to take. It is understood, also, that the Tory members from the East insist on absolute pledges from the company that the Short Line connections to ocean ports in the Maritime Provinces will be constructed. There is a general fear that there is an agreement for further concessions to the company in future sessions, and there is a good deal of dissatisfaction in Ministerial circles over the failure of the Government to take their followers into their confidence on many important questions, and forcing them to defend what they do not understand. They regard the many deplorable blunders of this session as melancholy evidence of the want of closer communion, and may demand some explanations from Sir Charles Tupper as to the reasons for his precipitate desertion of their policy of restriction. The caucus will also consider the proposed assumption of the ship channel debt, the demand for a subsidy for the Quebec bridge and the contemplated expenditure on the canals.

Mr. C. H. Mackintosh is a politician of infinite nerve. In his speech accepting the nomination of the Russell Conservatives, he had the hardihood to charge corruption against his opponents in the last election. It is true Mr. Edwards was unseated for bribery by agents, but in order to escape disqualification Mr. Mackintosh agreed to pay all the costs of the proceedings on condition that the personal charges against him were not pressed. It is on these facts that the Tory candidate undertakes to lecture the Liberals of Russell on the subject of corruption. Had it not been for the forbearance of Mr. Edwards, who was acquitted of all knowledge of improper practices, Mr. Mackintosh would not now be in a position to be a candidate, and if all his vote-purchasing friends had been prosecuted "according to law," as the municipality says about fast driving on the bridges, the Russell Tories would have had to go to the county jail for a quorum for their nominating convention.

In the Fisheries papers brought down to-day there is a good deal of correspondence relating to the refusal of the authorities at Halifax to allow a vessel to replace salt lost in a storm, the explanation made by the authorities being that the salt was required for curing fish and not for the safety of the boat or the sustenance of the crew. A despatch from Sir Henry Holland to Lord Lansdowne, dated April 27, 1887, recommends that "great forbearance and discrimination be exercised by the Fishery police in carrying out the instructions, so as to afford no just ground of complaint to the Government of the United States." On May 31, 1887, Mr. Bayard wrote to Sir Charles Tupper the letter which Sir Charles quoted in the House the other day, in which he says that a just and permanent settlement can be obtained only "by a straightforward treatment on a liberal and statesmanlike plan of the entire commercial relations of the two countries." In the same letter he speaks of the "embarrassment arising out of the gradual practical emancipation of Canada from the control of the Mother Country and the consequent assumption by that community of attributes of an autonomous and separate sovereignty, not, however, distinct from the Empire of Great Britain." Then follow details as to the arrangements for the conference at Washington, a despatch dated March 13 last, in which the Canadian Government agree that no new instructions for the regulation of the fisheries will be given until the ratification of the treaty by the Dominion Parliament, and another a few days later stating that pending proceedings against United States fishing vessels will be abandoned, on the understanding that the owners give an undertaking that will prevent such a step being made the basis for a claim for damages or expenses. The correspondence is bulky, but contains very little of interest that is not already within the knowledge of the country.

It is stated on pretty good authority that the Liberals will propose, as an amendment on the prohibition resolution of Mr. Jamieson, that a plebiscite on the question be taken in the country before any legislation is embarked on the question.

There is a large deputation representing the Board of Trade and City Council of Quebec in the city to-day; they will wait on Langevin this afternoon. They want a cash bonus of two million dollars towards building a bridge from Quebec to Levis, or if no bonus a guarantee of interest on four millions for twenty-five years.

Hon. W. Christie of the Hudson Bay Company, who spent many years as a factor in the great Northern country, gave interesting and important evidence before the Mackenzie Basin Committee to-day, showing the navigability of rivers in that region. He spent four years at York Factory, and was certain navigation lasted four months. Knew vessels to leave on Oct. 4 and get through all right.

As already stated in this column, the Dominion Government are determined to carry Russell by storm and elect Charley Mackintosh on May 7—if they can. At yesterday's nomination Capt. Sparks was induced to withdraw, but Thomas Raphael is out as an Independent Conservative against the machine. A Cabinet Minister attended the nomination to force Mr. Mackintosh on the convention, and Bob Birmingham, the organizer for Ontario and chief distributor of bundle and promises, was also there. Mr. Edwards, the Liberal candidate, will undoubtedly carry the riding against all odds, though the means to be employed by the Tories may slightly reduce his former majority of 155, though it is upon the cards that he will increase it by 100.

Hon. J. J. C. Abbott, leader of the Government in the Senate, has resigned from the Board of Directors of the Merchants' Bank to fill a similar position on the Bank of Montreal directorate, in place of the Hon. John Hamilton. Mr. Abbott's action causes a sensation in financial circles, and is sharply criticised. The general manager of the Merchants' Bank is here to see Mr. Abbott and ascertain the reason for his action.

A DIME NOVEL HERO.

Captured by the Kingston Chief of Police—An Outfit For War.

KINGSTON, April 12.—This morning the Chief of Police arrested a boy at the City Hotel who had cleared away, with other lads from Napanee, to do a Jesse James or some other dime novel hero's part in the realm of the bad boy's fancy. The lad is of respectable parentage, the son of a widow in somewhat straightened circumstances, as a letter from Napanee intimates. He is about 15 years of age, stout and well dressed. Being brought before Police Magistrate Daly, after the court had been adjourned, he was remanded for a day to await enquiries.

From the letter from Napanee it appears that two of his companions had drifted home, but the third showed more sand and even, though strapped, was not discouraged. He did give himself away, however, by writing and asking for money to be sent to him, addressed to an assumed name at the City Hotel. This brought about his arrest. When he left Napanee he took with him some money belonging to his mother, but this, it is understood, was spent in pistols and other weapons. These have since been disposed of, a revolver being sacrificed at the altar of "my uncle." This is not the first time that the boy has run away from home, but this is the first time what his relatives feel that it would be desirable to let him drift homeward when he can no longer indulge his romantic fancies. His friends, however, think that his appearance before the Police Magistrate will be a lesson to him and do him a substantial benefit.

Conkling's Condition.

NEW YORK, April 12.—At 4.30 Dr. Barker issued a bulletin stating that Mr. Conkling was about the same. He has taken plenty of nourishment during the day, principally beef tea, and has treated well all day. He was awake when the doctor was there and recognising the doctor shook his head. The temperature and pulse were unchanged. Among those who called at Mr. Conkling's during the afternoon were August Belmont and Col. Fred Grant.

At midnight Mr. Conkling is lying half asleep and Mrs. Conkling is so much encouraged that she will go to bed to-night for the first time in four nights.]

Floquet's Firmness.

PARIS, April 12.—M. Gragron, formerly Prefect of Police, who was dismissed from office on account of his connection with the Wilson scandals, has been appointed Director of Public Safety in the place of M. Vaillant, who has been dismissed. Vaillant was accused of creating cases to suit the ends of the last two Governments. The Boulangists applaud Premier Floquet's firmness in this matter.

His Last Night.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., April 12.—Van Brunt, the condemned Warsaw murderer, is spending his last night quietly. All the preparations for the execution are complete, and he will be hanged shortly after 10 o'clock to-morrow.

Bill Nye Ill.

ALBANY, N.Y., April 12.—Bill Nye was taken seriously ill in Albany this evening and was unable to give the reading he was announced for.

Boulanger's Candidature.

PARIS, April 10.—The private despatches which passed between Count Dillon and Gen. Boulanger, and which were published in The Matin, prove that Gen. Boulanger was cognisant of and approved his candidature for the Chamber of Deputies in the various departments in which he was voted for. Although he publicly repudiated all responsibility for the presentation of his name. At a meeting of electors at Fourmers, Department of the Nord, last evening, a resolution endorsing Gen. Boulanger's candidature for the Chamber of Deputies was unanimously adopted amid enthusiasm.

Stabbed and Cut 29 Times.

STAMFORD, Conn., April 12.—A number of oyster men last night visited the house of Jasper Mills (colored), at Riverside, two miles from here. In a fight that occurred later Mrs. Mills was shot and killed, and Mills was stabbed and cut twenty-two times.

Collision on the Erie.

BRADFORD, Pa., April 12.—The passenger train on the Erie Railway, which left here this morning, collided with a freight train six miles below this city, and the twenty cars of which the freight train was composed, with the two engines, were piled up in a shapeless mass. No one was killed.

Big Fire at Youngstown.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., April 12.—At 1 o'clock this morning fire started from the natural gas in the foundry department of the William Anson Wood mower and reaper works, and the extensive plant is now in ruins. The owners employed 300 men. Loss, $250,000; insurance, $90,000.

A Parisian Crank.

PARIS, April 12.—A crank fired three shots from a revolver at the gates of the Elysee Palace to-day. Being arrested, he said in explanation of his act that he wanted M. Carnot to attend to the grievances of which he was the victim.

An Assassin Lynched.

VIENNA, April 12.—The Temesvar assassin, who, upon being released on a ticket of leave, murdered the wife of the judge who condemned him, and afterward killed a deputy notary and split open the skulls of his own wife and children, has been captured and lynched.

Madrid's Hare Spectacle.

MADRID, April 12.—The first execution here in five years took place yesterday, when a girl, her lover and an accomplice were garrotted for murder. All three were executed on a platform in view of 20,000 persons.

Italians Want an Increase.

MERIDEN, Conn., April 12.—One hundred Italians on the Meriden and Waterbury Railroad struck to-day for an increase of 25 cents a day.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

THE IRISH QUESTION AGAIN COMES TO THE SURFACE.

The Attention of the House Called to the Outrageous Conduct of the Officials at Ennis—Mr. Goschen's Cautious Observations Reformers.

LONDON, April 12.—Mr. Goschen, Chancellor of the Exchequer, informed the House of Commons this afternoon that the holders of consols to the amount of £465,000,000, including the holders of the new 3 per cents, had already given their assent to the conversion of the consols. The assent of trustees remaining to be given would greatly increase the total.

Mr. Parnell moved that the House adjourn, in order that he might call attention to the outrageous conduct of the authorities at Ennis on Sunday last in attacking the people. If, he said, Mr. Balfour wanted to have such powers as had been used on that occasion, let him come to Parliament and ask for them. What had been done at Ennis was practically the enforcement of martial law, and went beyond the powers conveyed by the Coercion Act. If Mr. Balfour wished to declare martial law let him do so. The country would then know what it had to expect from the Executive, which concealed the large scope for the repression of the people contained in the Coercion Act.

Mr. Balfour replying to Mr. Parnell said that the people had contemplated to hold an illegal meeting. When Col. Turner and the police appeared showers of stones were hurled at them from the windows of two houses where the leaguers met. Col. Turner thereupon ordered the police to attack the house and to arrest the persons concerned in the disorder. Heaps of stones were afterward found ready to be thrown at the police. Sunday's events showed that an organized attempt was made at several places to defy the law. Seeing how little injury had resulted they must feel that the police and military acted with great self-control. [Derisive cheers from the Parnellites.] The responsibility for what suffering had arisen rested with the agitators who had incited their countrymen to illegal actions. [Cheers.]

William O'Brien said that Mr. Balfour's sole authority for these assertions was this Turner, who was accused of savage violence toward defenceless people. Turner's explanations were preposterous and insulting to the intelligence of the House. [Shouts of "Hear! hear!"]

Mr. Morley said he was not sure that a continuance of the discussion would carry the House further towards a practical conclusion. When he was Irish Secretary if a disturbance arose in Ireland he did not stay in London to go to a banquet to tell his friends the Irish question was a great joke. [Cheers.] He directed that there be a public inquiry on the subject of such disturbances and would recommend that Mr. Balfour should follow that precedent.

Mr. Gladstone said he was not satisfied with the defence offered by the Government, but would suggest that no more time be wasted and that the discussion be closed.

A division was then taken on the motion, to adjourn, which was rejected by a vote of 249 to 194.

Mr. Richie then formally moved the second reading of the County Government Bill.

ON THE ALTAR OF FATHERLAND.

It is Said that Princess Victoria's Love is to be Sacrificed.

BERLIN, April 12.—The report that a new swelling had formed in Emperor Frederick's larynx is not confirmed. He was much better yesterday, but owing to a fit of coughing last night his condition was less satisfactory this morning.

The new development in the Emperor's malady is an acute swelling of the tissues surrounding the orifice through which the canula is inserted. Dr. Bergmann remained with the Emperor all night.

At a meeting here yesterday, attended by 1,500 persons, it was decided to send a petition to the Emperor, begging him, like his revered father, never to consent to the retirement of Prince Bismarck from the public service.

Prince Von Hohenlohe, Governor-General of Alsace-Lorraine, has been questioned as to how he would receive an offer to succeed Prince Bismarck. His reply was evasive.

The Cologne Gazette states that Prince Bismarck's interview with the Empress on Tuesday and his audience with the Emperor yesterday resulted in bringing the question of the marriage of Prince Alexander and Princess Victoria to a standstill. The crisis, in so far as it relates to the Chancellor, is not likely to reach a more acute stage within the near future.

Despatches from Vienna affirm that the interview between Prince Bismarck and the Czar in November last had reference to the proposed marriage of Prince Alexander and Princess Victoria and that the Chancellor at the time declared that such marriage should never take place, at least while his advice was accepted. The Post states that at the conclusion of her long conference with Prince Bismarck the Empress grasped the Chancellor's hands and said "I sacrifice my daughter on the altar of Fatherland."

Other papers print various reports. One story is to the effect that Prince Bismarck before the conference formally tendered his resignation, but that the Emperor refused to receive it.

The worry over the crisis has had a bad effect upon the Emperor's health.

Jealous Rulers.

MUNICH, April 12.—The Neueste Nachrichten, in a semi-official article, contradicts the report that a discussion is proceeding between the King of Saxony and the Regent of Bavaria on the question of the King of Saxony obtaining as representative of the Emperor the chief of command of the Imperial army in the event of the mobilization of German troops. This contradiction is taken as an admission that the question has been raised, but that the Regent of Bavaria was unwilling to concede the command of King Albert.

A Recreant Husband's Suicide.

LOCKPORT, N.Y., April 12.—About twenty years ago John Langdon, residing in this city, deserted his wife and family to run away with another woman. About three days ago he returned to this city and urged his wife to renew her marital relations with him. This she refused to do, and last evening he shot himself and died from the effects of the shot at 1 o'clock to-day.

Betting on the Big Handicaps.

NEW YORK, April 12.—An active week is reported by all the commissioners doing business on future events. The most remarkable feature of the transactions is the rush on Hanover for the Brooklyn. When the backer of the horse is has not yet transpired. It is certain, however, that not a dollar of the amounts that have gone on the horse is stable money, directly or indirectly. For the Suburban a new candidate has loomed up in the outsider, Colonel Cowan, who has been backed from 100 to 1 down to 30 in some books.

Messrs. Phil Daly & Co. report that they wrote 4000 to 200 twice, and 2000 to 200 once in twelve hours about Hanover for the Brooklyn, and had to refuse $12000 in the next twenty-four hours. The most important transaction for the Suburban was 2000 to 600, and 2000 to 500 about Dunboyne.

Mr. George Lovell reports the following transactions on the Suburban: 2000 to 50 Aurelia, 2000 to 80 Hidalgo, 2000 to 100 Joe Cotton, 4000 to 100 Terra Cotta, 2700 to 80 Kirkman, 6000 to 200 Firenzi, 7200 to 60 Colonel Cowan.

Sullivan Sails for America.

LONDON, April 12.—John L. Sullivan sailed from Liverpool to-day for home. He obtained his belt from the Customs authorities in whose custody it had been since his arrival in England. A large crowd was on the dock to see Sullivan off and he was heartily cheered. A number of his friends followed the steamer for some distance in a tug.

Spots of Sport.

At the annual meeting of the Caledonian Curling Club of Montreal, last night, J. B. Hutchison was elected President and D. Brown, jr., Secretary. The club has erected a new rink.

The Deer Park Athletic Association, a club formed last fall for the promotion of cricket, tennis, football and gymnastics, has elected these officers: Honorary President, C. D. Warren; President, S. H. Mouk; Vice-President, Gordon Crean; Secretary-Treasurer, A. H. Selwyn Marks; Executive Committee, Snider, Wood, Gibson, Warren and Cousins. Any person wishing to join kindly communicate with the Secretary, 61 Church-street.

A Scott Act Case at Paris.

PARIS, Ont., April 12.—Police Magistrate James Grace was brought before Justice Purcell and Mayor Stroud yesterday on a charge of forgery, it being alleged that he altered a court record in a Scott Act case. After a lengthy investigation the charge against the defendant was dismissed.

MANITOBA'S LEGISLATURE.

Premier Greenway Announces the Success of His Mission.

WINNIPEG, April 12.—Parliament reassembled to-day, and there was a large attendance of members and spectators. Premier Greenway announced that his mission to Ottawa had been successful, and twitted Mr. Norquay. There had been no compromise.

Mr. Norquay expressed pleasure at the result, and claimed that the credit was greatly due to his Government for it.

Messrs. Jones and Roblin were introduced to the House.

Attorney-General Martin gave notice of his redistribution bill.

The House adjourned till Monday.

Parnell's Forbearance.

LONDON, April 12.—Mr. Parnell has finally decided not to raise the question of the extension of the County Government Bill to Ireland by any formal amendment, either on the second reading or at the committee stage.

THE LATEST MARKET REVIEW.

TORONTO, April 12.—Business was quiet in business circles to-day. The opinion is expressed that the assignments for this spring have run their course, and no more trouble on any account will be experienced this season at any rate.

Everything was inactive on the local stock market to-day. Commerce transactions were 20 at 117½ and British 6 at 98.

The Imperial Federationists.

The following letter appeared in the Mail. The writer's knowledge of the subject, the ability with which he handles it, the general importance of the subject and its local interest leads us to reproduce it:

SIR,—Col. Geo. T. Denison saw fit in his speech at the Imperial Federation meeting to denounce Commercial Unionists as traitors, and as I have the honour to be a member of the Commercial Union Club, it is only right that I should reply and let the people judge how much treason there is in that great movement we advocate. Col. Denison is no doubt a good soldier, and, if Canada were a military country, an officer of whom we might be proud; but seeing that we are a peaceful people, who cultivate the arts of peace and desire to live in amity and good-will with all the world, his warlike speeches are entirely unsalled for, and only render him ridiculous. The Colonel's denunciation of Mr. Wiman as a traitor because he differs from him on trade questions is as ungentlemanly as it is inexcusable; and if a comparison must be made, I venture to say that Mr. Erastus Wiman has already done ten times as much good in the world as Col. Denison ever has done or ever will do.

When did a needy or unfortunate Canadian apply to Erastus Wiman without receiving aid? How often has his generosity given a helping hand to his suffering fellow-countryman? Although he has become such a prominent man in the United States, Mr. Wiman never forgets that he is a Canadian, and it must indeed be a mean-spirited Canadian who would throw a stone at him. For myself, I would say that, although born in this country, I was brought up and educated in England. I come of an old Conservative English family, who never gave anything but Conservative votes for generations back, one of my ancestors having been an officer on the Royalist side in the time of Charles the First, and I can claim as much loyalty as any of the Denisons. It is not then because I love England less, but Canada more, that I advocate Commercial Union, which will benefit fully four-fifths of the people of Canada.

I may plainly state that my chief reason for desiring unrestricted reciprocity with the United States is that our great mineral resources, and notably our iron mines, may be developed. Few people have any idea what an extent of mining territory we possess. Commence at Peterborough, and going east through the counties of Hastings, Lennox, Addington, Frontenac, Leeds, Grenville, Lanark and Renfrew, you will find them all rich in minerals. Then begin at Lindsay and go north through Victoria, the districts of Haliburton and Nipissing, Muskoka and Parry Sound, for hundreds of miles through the great District of Algoma, and you will still be in a mining region. This immense tract of country contains, among other valuable minerals, some of the richest iron ores in the world. A recent analysis of ore from the County of Peterborough gives metallic iron, 66.82, phosphorus 0,006, silica 3.18 titanium none, sulphur none, and is as perfect a Bessemer ore as can be conceived, being exceptionally free from impurities and extra rich in iron.

I can show fully fifty samples of Canadian iron ores, all from different deposits, which have been collected within the last six months. Our mining districts in Ontario are much larger than those of Michigan, and our iron ores are as good; but how much of them do we mine? In 1886 the whole of Canada produced about 70,000 tons of iron ore, and leaving out Nova Scotia, less than 25,000 in 1887. Last year Michigan and Minnesota produced four million tons of ore, with a market value of twenty-four million dollars, of which ten millions were paid in freight and about as much more in wages. This is simply in mining and shipping the crude ore, but under reciprocity we could have furnaces through our back country, and some in favorable positions, such as Toronto, nothing benefiting a locality so much as a blast furnace.

I showed, in a paper lately published in the Mail, that we have no market for our ores but the States, and that the present duty prevents our mines being worked, so that if we cannot get reciprocity they must remain idle. Our shipping trade is suffering seriously under restrictions; remove the barriers and our mines will be worked, giving employment to thousands of men and freights for our vessels. We seek by unrestricted reciprocity to remove the duty on iron ore, and surely no one in Canada can object to this, as iron ore is one of the articles which our restrictionist Government is willing should be on the free list. If there was no duty we should be on an equal footing with Michigan and could at least hope soon to produce annually a million tons of ore, which in mining and carrying to market would distribute several million dollars yearly in wages and freight among our people.

Where is the disloyalty in this? What right has Col. Denison to accuse me of treason in advocating what will benefit thousands of Canadians? Let the Colonel cease his abuse and plainly answer this question. Where is the disloyalty in trying to work our mines? Neither Col. Denison nor any of the speakers gave one single reason against Commercial Union on its merits; simply denunciation and hard words; at which Commercial Unionists rejoice, for it shows that we have all the reason on our side, and we will willingly give the Colonel and his friends a monopoly in abuse.

The definition of Imperial Federation was so exceedingly misty that there is little we cannot agree with. No wonder a man of Mr. McCarthy's ability was diffident about defining it; if he really thinks that the democracy of free trade England will ever tax themselves for the benefit of the colonies, he must be exceedingly sanguine. Then if this were possible, we must of course reciprocate and let in English manufactures free. How would this suit our extra loyal manufacturers? If their contention is correct that free trade with the States would crush them out, surely free trade with England would have a similar effect. After blowing away the smoke from Col. Denison's gunpowder and the froth from the other speakers, the only tangible proposition made during the whole evening was the hope that England would turn herself in favour of her colonies as against the rest of the world, but the corollary of this, that Canada must admit English manufactures free, was judiciously passed over, and it is significant that I did not notice any of our manufacturers on the platform.

Into what inconsistencies and absurdities does Col. Denison's enthusiasm lead him? He declares that he makes no distinction between Commercial Union and Unrestricted Reciprocity, being both alike treasonable. Therefore the Premiers of the six provinces at the Quebec conference who passed a resolution in favor of reciprocity are traitors, including the Hon. Oliver Mowat, the head of the Colonel's own political party in Ontario.

Nearly all the farmers throughout the country, the lumbermen all those interested in shipping and mining in the Dominion, and the most enterprising of our manufacturers, who desire a large market, are, according to the Denisonian creed, traitors. The secretary of his own Imperial Federation League, Mr. Hamilton Merritt, not long since stated at the Canadian Institute that reciprocity would greatly benefit the staging interests of Canada, so he too must be a traitor. By the way the light is spreading, and the rapid progress Commercial Union is making, before next election arrives it would seem that four-fifths of the people would vote for unrestricted reciprocity; so that according to the Colonel we are fast becoming a nation of traitors. Col. Denison is like the Bourbons, he never forgets and he never learns anything new; but like the Bourbons, he belongs to a past age, and should have lived a century ago.

The territory that I have mentioned, as being specially mining districts, occupies sixteen Ontario constituencies in the House of Commons and there are several in the other provinces. How long is it likely that the people of these constituencies will let the natural riches of their country remain locked in Nature's storehouse and our mines go undeveloped, while Col. Denison prances on his warhorse and waves his sword with the cry of "Treason?"

Now, is all seriousness, has not the worthy Colonel been talking arrant nonsense, and should not Erastus Wiman and his followers, instead of being denounced as traitors, receive all honour for their noble endeavours to throw down the artificial and senseless trade barriers which separate the two portions of the Anglo-Saxon race on this continent?

Yours, etc.,
T. D. LEDYARD.

"THE LESSON OF THE STRIKE."

Federation of all Railroad Employes Urged by the Brotherhood's Organ.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., April 11.—The Locomotive Firemen's Magazine, the official organ of the Brotherhood, just out for April, contains a long editorial under the head of "Federation the Lesson of the Strike." The argument is that as railroad systems are increasing the miles under one management, a strike may mean a blockade in one section of the country, in which view Governor Martin of Kansas is quoted as saying that Kansas can be paralyzed by a railroad quarrel. The article holds that the people seeing that their interests are jeopardized, will insist upon knowing the causes that lead up to a strike. "But," says the article, "the great strike has taught the strikers the lesson that the press cannot be relied upon to furnish such information," and that the lesson of it is this: "Corporations and the press confederate to overwhelm workingmen when they demand redress for grievances; they, too, must federate to enforce their rights, which corporations deny them." The article then argues in favor of a federation of switchmen, engineers, firemen and brakemen, to act on the principle that "the interest of one is the interest of all."

Cost of the "Q" Strike.

CHICAGO, April 12.—A morning paper contains a detailed and careful estimate of the cost of the strike on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railway, putting the losses sustained to date by the men at $691,000 and by the company at $2,100,000.

Patronized a "Scab" Road.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., April 11.—Mrs. James Brown Potter's company came here yesterday over the Burlington road. This morning the city was flooded with circulars, reading: "Boycott Mrs. Brown Potter; she patronizes a scab road." Mrs. Potter says her tickets were purchased over the Burlington several weeks before the strike began.

Maltsters and Brewers on Strike.

CHICAGO, April 12.—All the union maltsters and brewers in Chicago went on a strike at 6 a.m. to-day, throwing out of employment probably 1,500 to 2,000 men. Ernst's brewery is working, because the proprietors some days ago secured a force of non-union men.

Mountain Miners Refuse the Reduction.

GALLITZEN, Pa., April 12.—The mountain miners held a meeting yesterday and decided to refuse to accept the 10 per cent. reduction in wages ordered by the operators. A general strike is anticipated next Monday.

A FAMOUS CONTEMPT CASE.

John T. Hawke Found Guilty by the New Brunswick Supreme Court.

MONCTON, N.B., April 12.—In the Supreme Court of New Brunswick to-day the case against John T. Hawke, editor of The Moncton Transcript, for alleged contempt of court, was ended, the judges finding Mr. Hawke guilty. The contempt consisted in Mr. Hawke having asserted that there had been:

Numerous instances where judges have been intoxicated in this Province during the discharge of judicial functions.

A case wherein a judge was intoxicated on the bench during a trial for murder or manslaughter.

A case wherein when the judge was handed the white gloves at a "maiden assize" he let them fall, and when picking them up was so intoxicated that he toppled over and would have fallen but for friendly offices of the sheriff.

A disreputable scene at a race course, in which a judge figured.

The fact that judges have been summoned unexpectedly to discharge the duties assigned to other judges who were indisposed through intoxication.

When the case opened yesterday Attorney-General Blair appeared for the rule and Mr. Hawke showed cause in person why it should not be granted. Mr. Hawke addressed the court for two hours and a half in his own behalf, and had not finished his argument when the court rose for dinner. He contended, supported by a number of authorities, that the application for the rule was too late in point of time; secondly, that the publications were not, and were not intended to be, contempt of court, and that they were written in the interest of the judiciary as well as the public; thirdly, that even if they were contempt, which he denied, it was impolitic for judges to intervene in such cases when party politics were involved. Mr. Hawke spoke nearly an hour after recess, and closed by presenting an affidavit defining his position. Mr. Blair followed for about half an hour, arguing that contempt had been committed.

Mr. Hawke was formerly editor of the now defunct Hamilton Tribune.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

A Substantial Increase in the Salaries of the Judges.

OTTAWA, April 13.—This was somewhat of a miscellaneous day in the House. There was a little of everything on the bill-of-fare, the chief dish being talk, which is cheaper at present in Ottawa than in any other part of the country.

The Senate sent over to the House Mr. Abbott's bill for the suppression of bucket shops, which was adopted in the Upper House, and on motion of the Minister of Justice the bill was read a first time

There was a three hours' talk on the second reading of Mr. McCarthy's bill for the protection of railway employes. Mr. McCarthy was not in the House, and Mr. Kirkpatrick took charge of the bill. The measure makes ample provision for the protection of the lives of railway employes. Sir Charles Tupper moved the adjournment of the debate on the bill. He said the Government could look into it and see if it would be incorporated in Mr. Pope's general railway act.

Mr. Kirkpatrick's act to permit American vessels to aid vessels wrecked or disabled in Canadian waters, was discussed for several hours, and Mr. Patterson of Essex moved the adjournment of the debate. This bill is a reciprocal one as to wreckage. A similar bill is now pending before the American Congress, and Mr. Kirkpatrick's bill proposes to go into effect just as soon as the American act does.

At a late hour to-night the Minister of Justice gave notice of the expected resolution increasing the salaries of the various judges of the country. It is proposed that the salaries shall be:

Ontario.	Present salary.	New salary.
Chief Justice	$6,000	$7,000
Three justices of appeal, each	5,000	6,000
Chief Justice of Queen's Bench	6,000	7,000
Two associate judges, Q.B.	5,000	6,000
The Chancellors	6,000	7,000
Three Vice Chancellors	5,000	6,000
Chief Justice Common Pleas	6,000	7,000
Two associate judges C.P.	5,000	6,000
Quebec.
Chief Justice Queen's Bench	6,000	7,000
Five associate judges Q.B.	5,000	6,000
Chief Justice Superior Court	6,000	7,000

The twelve associate judges of the Superior Court, whose residences are fixed at Montreal and Quebec, are increased from $5000 to $6000, and sixteen associate judges, whose residences are fixed at Montreal or Quebec, including the judge of the district of Terrebonne, from $4000 to $5000. The senior puisne judge residing at Quebec, if the chief justice resides at Montreal, or the senior puisne judge residing at Montreal, if the chief justice resides at Quebec, shall receive $1000 in addition to his salary.

In New Brunswick and Nova Scotia the chief justices and puisne judges are increased from $4000 to $5000 and from $3600 to $4000 respectively.

In Prince Edward Island the chief justice jumps from $2400 to $3000, and the other judges from $2000 to $2400.

In Manitoba the chief justice is increased from $4000 to $5000, and the three associate judges from $3600 to $3800.

In British Columbia there is a similar increase, the chief justice getting $5000 and the four associate judges $4000.

In the Northwest territories the five puisne judges of the Supreme Court are increased from $4000 to $5000.

The salary of four county court judges of British Columbia shall be $2000 each for the first three years and after that $2400 per annum. They may likewise accept from the Province of British Columbia the office of stipendiary magistrate and accept remuneration therefor.

The resolution provides that in the case of Sir Adam Wilson, late Chief Justice of the Queen's Bench Division of the High Court of Justice for Ontario, the superannuation allowance to be granted to him shall be the same as if the salary hereby proposed to be fixed for his office as such judge had been the salary fixed by law at the time of his resignation.

The Minister of Justice will move the House into Committee of the Whole on Monday next to consider the resolution. The increases are $1600 all round.

The House adjourned at 11 o'clock.

Emin Bey Safe.

ROME, April 13.—The Riforma publishes a letter from Captain Camperio announcing the safety of Emin Bey and Casati. Captain Camperio received two letters from Casati dated respectively Sept. 1 and Sept. 24, stating that he had been taken prisoner by King Tranbolo whom he finally persuaded to become friendly to Emin Bey. Eventually Traviore charged him with a mission to negotiate an alliance with Emin Bey. The letters state that Stanley had not arrived at Wadelai up to the time of their despatch.

LOCAL NEWS.

The Weather.

Winds increasing to fresh from southwest and southeast; fine, milder weather.

Street Cleaning.

The winter's accumulation of mud is now removed from George street, and ladies can have some pleasure in using the street, but they have more pleasure in stepping in and admiring the millinery and mantle display of the golden lion. Beautiful goods in immense variety still on view.

Seraphael—Siddons.

Lovers and critics of music, will be pleased to learn that Seraphael, the celebrated boy-pianist, will assist in Mrs. Scott-Siddons' great entertainment in the Opera House on Monday night next. Don't miss the last chance in Peterborough of hearing the greatest living lady elocutionist and the wonderful boy-pianist. Seats at Hartley's.

Buyers, Attention!

Attention is directed to the advertisement across the bottom of the local page of the new stock of Dawson Bros. This stock was laid in for the spring trade, and is all fresh, fashionable and seasonable. Owing to a change in business the goods must be sold within the next ten or, at the most, fourteen days. None of the stock can be removed—it must be sold. Therefore call at once and get goods at your own prices. d

The Town Well.

They have struck "ile" at last. Water of a good quality and apparently durable quantity has been secured at a depth of 128 feet. A pump will be placed in and then the well will be ready for the ravages of a thirsty public. The well has been a pretty expensive undertaking for the town. Messrs. Leary & Co. receive $3 per foot, which will bring the cost of the concern up to $385. If the well is a really good one, as present appearances would seem to indicate, this money will have been well spent —for those in the vicinity.

THE PANTRY is the Right Place for choice Family Groceries. dw

At the Opera House.

Another good house Thursday night attested the appreciation of the public for the dramatic performances of the Sawtelle Company. "The Galley Slave," Bartley Campbell's strongest five-act drama, was given an excellent rendition, the play seeming to exactly suit the capabilities of the members of the troupe. Mr. Sawtelle, of course, took the leading role, and was ably seconded by Miss Cornell, the others giving good support. Miss McCormack sang herself into immediate favor with the audience and received a hearty encore. To-night "A Wife's Secret," a play of the first order, will be presented. For to-morrow's matinee "East Lynne" is announced.

Water Filters.

To insure good health it is absolutely necessary to have pure water, and no water is entirely free from floating matter and disease germs without thorough filtration. The majority of cases of typhoid and other low fevers are in a measure caused from unfiltered and impure water, so that every family who values its health should have a reliable filter. Numerous filters are offered to the public varying in points of excellence, but for cheapness, efficiency and durability, our filters cannot be surpassed. No corroding substances are used in construction. The packing material is the most powerful specially prepared granulated carbon. It will last for years with the ordinary use of a family, and the material may be obtained from us at any time for replenishing at small expense. Sold in Peterborough only at China Hall. dw

Peterborough's Big Days.

They vie to Cheerfulness with Summer as Usual.

Peterborough is noted as being the best "demonstration" town in the district. Everything she undertakes in the line of public celebration is an immediate success. Last summer was particularly well supplied with grand demonstrations, and though the present year may not possibly equal it, yet Peterborough people will witness several big days that are expected to knock out everything of the kind between Montreal and Toronto.

THE SOLDIERS' DAY.

The first on the cards is the military celebration of the Queen's Birthday. The officers and men of the 57th Battalion intend to excel themselves on this occasion. A committee of officers has been appointed to prepare the programme, which will of course consist of military reviews, athletic sports and a general jubilation of the "boom—bust" and fire-cracker order. One or more of the crack regiments of the Province will visit Peterborough on the 24th, the 43rd of Ottawa certainly will, the Toronto Grenadiers may, and perhaps, as the time is yet early, other regiments may consider the advisability of holidaying at Peterborough. The date is too distant, though, for the matter to be decided. It is proposed when the visiting regiments come that they, with the local battalion, go into camp on the Agricultural Grounds, which, it is understood, have been secured for the purpose. In any case, Peterborough will loyally celebrate Her Majesty's 69th birthday.

THE FIREMEN'S DAY.

For Dominion Day arrangements are being made for a joint celebration under the auspices of the Fire Brigade and the Driving Park Association. Committees have been appointed from each to confer and map out a programme, but as they have not yet met the matter stands in abeyance. From the past successes of both the Fire Brigade and the Park Association in this line, however, their union demonstration may be looked forward to as something unusually good.

A DAY OF MUSIC.

The band tournament next August will be a new thing for Peterborough, and the Fire Brigade Band intend making their venture a grand success. The committee have sent out circulars to the best bands in the Dominion and Northern States, in order to get the general expression of opinions as to whether one, two or three judges are advisable. This ruling of the majority will perhaps prevent a great deal of friction in the matter of judging. A few replies have already been received, and all of the bands yet heard from have promised hearty co-operation. This will, perhaps, be the biggest day of all. The band expect to have the date of their celebration appointed a civic holiday.

TO BE WEIGHED IN.

In the interim between some of these events the Athletic Association will wedge in their annual sports, the date for which has not yet been decided. A committe has been struck to arrange this matter and a programme. These athletic sports always draw out a good attendance, of townspeople at least.

Another big day will be the proposed double excursion to Toronto, under the management of the Masonic fraternity. The date is not definitely fixed, but Thursday, June 7th, is spoken of. It is proposed that two special trains will leave Peterborough—one via Lindsay and one via Port Hope. Doubtless our citizens generally will make this a holiday and visit the Queen City en masse, so to speak.

There will doubtless be other affairs of this kind throughout the summer, but these are all that are talked of at present. The citizens of Peterborough should join unanimously in these public demonstrations, which are the outward indications of the enterprising spirit of our local organizations.

Is it not False Economy?

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

SIR,—When I saw a brigade of twenty or thirty men working on George street, at removing the mud which was placed on the streets last year in the shape of gravel, I could not help asking myself if it was not false economy to put such stuff on the streets only to have to remove it at considerable expense in the spring and fall. It is, doubtless, cheaper, but does it pay in the end? We have the best street material in the world available in endless quantity—in fact it is in the way. The granite boulders, hard as adamant, properly broken and properly applied to the streets and rolled down would make an imperishable road bed, practically free of mud. If the work were well done in the beginning, it would need very little repairs. The services of the laboring men of the town would be used to better advantage during the winter in breaking stone than they are used in the spring by removing hundreds of tons of mud. With good granite macadam streets —we can't afford block pavements yet—we should have less dirt and better streets. Is it not false economy to put on the streets one spring five hundred loads of gravel and take them off next spring in the shape of eight hundred loads of mud? Sensible citizens are willing to pay taxes, but they are unwilling to see the public money worse than wasted.

SENSIBLE CITIZEN.

April 12th, 1888.

MESSRS. W. G. BAIN & Co., late Breeze & Bain, open out to-day one of the finest and largest stocks of American Baby Carriages ever brought into Peterborough, and respectfully invite the public to call and see them. dtf

On the Free List.

The other day the Prince of Wales told Hon. Mr. Goschen, who conveyed the news to Lord Lansdowne, who afterwards instructed Right Hon. Sir John A. Macdonald to call "to-morrow" at the EXAMINER office, and let the reporter know that the "Crow" cigar would soon be placed on the free list. d

A Flying Runaway.

A farmer's team of horses ran away on Hunter street this afternoon about three o'clock. It was no ordinary runaway, either. They ran to Aylmer street, where a corporation wagon loaded with gravel was crossing in the middle of the road. The runaway team never slackened their pace, but rushed on and took a flying leap right over the obstacle. As they rose in the air the farmer's wagon struck the one beneath and upset it, but the horses cleared the debris at a bound and ran on up the hill out of sight, leaving the remains, their wagon, inextricably mingled with the gravel cart. The driver of the corporation wagon had a narrow escape, the horses jumping within a few feet of him.

What Are These Impurities?

The report of the Ohio State Dairy and Food Commission on baking powders shows a large amount of residuum and impurity to exist in many of these articles. The figures given by the Commission are as follows:—

Name.	Impurities or residuum
Cleveland's	10.10 per ct.
Zapp's Crystal	11.20 "
Sterling	12.00 "
Dr. Price's	12.00 "
Forest City	20.50 "
Silver Star	21.20 "
De Land's	22.50 "
Horsford's	28.40 "

The question naturally arises in the minds of thoughtful consumers, of what does this impurity or residuum consist? In the case of the first named powder there has been recently given the result of an analysis made by Prof. C. F. Chandler, of Columbia College, N. Y., late member of the New York State Board of Health, which partially supplies the missing information, and as the manufacturers of this particular powder are continuously calling for the publication of all the ingredients used in baking powders, there can be no objection to its statement here. Among the impurities Prof. Chandler found Cleveland's powder to contain a large amount of Rochelle Salts, 5.40 per cent. of lime, with alumina, starch and water, in quantities not stated. Alum is a substance declared by the highest authorities to be hurtful. If the balance of this residuum in all the powders named is made up largely of alum, as it is known to be in some, the public would like to know it. Another official test that shall go quite to the bottom of the matter seems to be demanded.

Important to Farmers.

The Hamilton Spring Tooth Riding Cultivator.

In these days of scarcity of farm labor and of high wages, every farmer is interested in all machinery designed to lighten labor and facilitate farming operations. The most important of these is the Hamilton Spring Tooth Riding Cultivator, the best implement of its kind made anywhere. One of its chief claims to consideration is the saving of labor and the fatigue, resulting from plodding all day through soft soil after an ordinary cultivator. This is provided for by an adjustable seat, at the right of which is a lever, by which the driver raises or lowers the teeth to cultivate any depth desired. In spite of the driver occupying a comfortable seat, the draft of this cultivator is so light that the work of three horses can be done by two. Besides an intelligent boy can control it and do as effective work as a man. The material and mode of construction used in this cultivator are like all of Mr. Hamilton's machines of the very best quality and kind. The spring-teeth are longer and more elastic, and unlike the spring-teeth of other cultivators, are not liable to break. This is the only cultivator whose teeth can be adjusted sidewise by the simple shifting of a bar. Thus the fineness of work at one cultivation is under control, the cutting and pulverizing power of the teeth is much increased, and the vibrating motion shakes out weeds and stubble In fine, no other cultivator made is capable of doing so much work, and doing it so rapidly and easily, as Hamilton's Spring Tooth Cultivator. It has many other points of merit, which cannot now be referred to, but it is recommended to the farmers of this district as, by long odds, the best implement of its kind made. Every farmer who has his own interests at heart will see and test one of these cultivators before buying. A test is all that is asked and the maker does not fear the result. Farmers, try it and you will buy no other.

Those farmers who may not care to invest in the Spring-tooth Riding Cultivator are informed that Mr. Hamilton makes and has in stock the spring-tooth harrow made in two sections and capable of being adjusted by simply raising or lowering the teeth for any kind of soil. This harrow is made with a rigid steel frame, is both strong and light and does excellent work. It pulverizes the ground thoroughly, stirs up the soil from the bottom, leaving it in a loose condition. All weeds, thistles, etc., are left on the surface to dry up and die. An experience of over forty years enables Mr. Hamilton to present to the farmers of the Midland district the strongest claims for patronage. His machines and implements, while combining the latest improvements, are invariably made of the best material, and are guaranteed to give satisfaction.

AS MUCH A SECRET AS EVER

To the Editor of the Examiner:—SIR—How in the world has C. B. ROUTLEY jumped into such a big slice of the Wall Paper trade? Why it seems as if one couldn't pass his store without running against a load of Wall Paper in the arms of some pleased looking customer. I'm half inclined to think there must have been lots of boodle in the Wall Paper business before ROUTLEY started it, and that the people have found out that he has broken the combination. Eh? what did you think, Mr. Editor? And yet you occasionally hear of spasmodic attempts to get down to ROUTLEY's prices, in order to head him off; but still it seems as much a secret as ever how he keeps up the run.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

THE MONOPOLY SURRENDER CONSIDERED IN TORY CAUCUS.

The Premier and Sir Charles Tupper Present the Terms of the Proposed Agreement With the C.P.R.—Full Statement of the Arrangement.

OTTAWA, April 13.—At the Conservative caucus this morning Sir John Macdonald announced the terms of the agreement for the surrender of the Canadian Pacific Railway monopoly in the Northwest. The conditions are as follows:

"The Canadian Pacific Railway are to issue $15,000,000 of land grant bonds secured on their remaining lands, amounting to upwards of 14,000,000 acres.

"Land grant bonds have been issued to the extent of some $3,000,000, which are to be deducted from the proceeds of sale of which instalments are yet to mature amounting to $1,222,000.

"The Government is to guarantee the interest on these bonds at the rate of 3½ per cent per annum for fifty years, the principal not to be guaranteed.

"The lands are to be vested in three trustees—one of whom at least must be a member of the Dominion Government. The trustees are to manage the sales and the prices of the lands.

"The proceeds of the sales are to be paid over from time to time to the Government for the exclusive purpose of forming a sinking fund to pay the principal.

"The Government is to allow 3½ per cent. interest, which is to be available to pay the interest on the land grant bonds. The amount of interest on $15,000,000 at 3½ per cent. is $525,000, payable semi-annually.

"The monopoly clause is to be repealed.

"The $15,000,000, or the proceeds of the sale of the land grant bonds, are to be applied:

"1. $5,000,000 for the purchase of rolling stock and equipment.

"2. $5,000,000 for general improvements, including the erection of elevators and granaries on the main line.

"3. $5,000,000 to be applied to liquidating the floating debt of the company."

The Premier told the caucus that the credit for forcing the question of the purchase of the monopoly on the Government was due to the Manitoba Tory members, that the visit of Messrs. Greenway and Martin did not hasten the action of the Government, and that their representations did not influence the settlement. This must have given the Old Man's supporters a good deal of amusement. Ross, Scarth & Co. were urging the tolerance of monopoly until 1890, and trying to satisfy Manitoba with a policy of improved inter water communication up to the very hour the Manitoba Ministers had been invited to come down and consult with the Federal Government. The telegrams from the Premier pleading for Mr. Greenway's return, when he had started on his way home, also bear hardly on the attempt to show that the Manitoba Tory contingent forced the settlement. The point, however, is of very little importance one way or the other. A settlement has been effected, and the supporters of the Government seem to be fairly well satisfied with the arrangement. The caucus was harmonious upon the whole, but it seems that Sir Charles Tupper was taken to task by some of his followers for his open declaration in favor of Reciprocity, and several of the Ontario members expressed dissatisfaction with the action of the Government in placing trees, shrubs, seeds and green fruits on the free list, and demanded the repeal of the statutory offer. There was also some objection taken to the failure of the Government to consult their followers earlier in the session, and it is said a pledge was exacted that in future there should be more Ministerial caucusing.

There has been another backdown by the Ministerialists. The McCarthy wing just after the Reciprocity debate had got in full swing caucussed by twos and threes, and decided to offer an amendment proposing discrimination in favor of British products on condition that the Mother Country discriminated in favor of the products of Canada. Fresh from the inspiration of the great Imperial Federation meeting at Toronto, Mr. McCarthy put on the order paper a motion to this effect. Having given notice of a substantive motion he could not move it as an amendment to Sir Richard Cartwright's resolution. Besides, the Imperial Federationists entered their protest, alleging that the terms of the motion were a violation of the understanding that the question should not come before the House as a partisan proposition, and many of the Government supporters, especially those from the Province of Quebec, insisted that the Administration should not give their sanction to any scheme of Imperial Federation. This view prevailed, and it is learned authoritatively that the question will not come before the House this session. The pledges made at the Toronto meeting will not be fulfilled. The fatality which attends all Mr. McCarthy's attempts at legislation still pursues him, and the new Tory policy that was to drive Unrestricted Reciprocity into an early tomb threatens to [illegible] in its cradle.

There seems to have been absolutely no ground for many of the statements made by Mr. Ives in his attack on Remi Tremblay, one of the dismissed French translators of Hansard. The chief complaint of the member from Richmond and Wolfe was that Mr. Tremblay at the nomination meeting at Danville disturbed the meeting and interrupted Mr. Ives during the course of his speech. Mr. Tremblay, however, has affidavits from Mr. Louis Napoleon Bourgeois, one of the joint chairmen of the meeting; Mr. Henry Aylmer, ex-M.P.; Mr. R. G. Mackenzie, advocate, and twelve other leading and responsible citizens of Danville, declaring that Mr. Tremblay offered no interruption at any time during the meeting. It will be in order for the member for Texas to furnish some evidence in rebuttal or to come forward like a man and acknowledge that he has wronged and injured Mr. Tremblay. He seems to have gone far afield for an excuse to vent his spite.

As a Cabinet meeting yesterday the Government decided to continue their regulations and instructions to their officials to protect the fishery waters until the Government is notified that the treaty is agreed to by the States. It was also decided to withdraw the actions against the United States vessels on condition that no suits be instituted for damages.

A great meeting has been arranged in the Opera House for April 21, under the auspices of the Imperial Federation League, when the following members of Parliament will speak: Dalton McCarthy, MeNeil, C. H. Tupper, Shanley, Baker, Wood, Hall and O'Brien, and Rev. Mr. Carson of the Dominion Methodist Church. The appearance of the latter's name among politicians at a political gathering will cause surprise.

To-morrow is the last day for deposing factums in the Supreme Court for the session commencing on May 1, which is expected to be a short one. It is probable that the following election appeals will be heard: Mackinonge, Rimouski, East Simcoe and Haldimand.

THE FISHERIES TREATY BILL.

Another Long Drawn-out Debate—Maritime Province Members the Speakers.

OTTAWA, April 13.—This was another weary and monotonous day in the House. There was a long drawn-out debate on the second reading of Sir Charles Tupper's bill to give effect to the fisheries treaty. At the evening session it was another case of talking to empty benches. Very few members remained in the chamber to listen to the speakers. Even the Minister of Marine and Fisheries, generally an eloquent debater, could not hold his audience, and there were very few, indeed, who listened to his speech in defence of the treaty.

When the house opened Mr. Mills asked when they might expect the correspondence moved for in relation to the seizure of sealers in Behring Sea. Mr. Foster said that in view of diplomatic matters now in progress it was not advisable to bring down the papers at present.

The speakers of the afternoon and evening were all Maritime Province members. Mr. Jones, Halifax, Peter Mitchell and Mr. Blanchauser of Guysboro opposed the treaty in strong terms. Mr. Kenny of Halifax, Gen. Laurie of Shelburne and the Minister of Marine and Fisheries were the principal speakers in support of the treaty bill.

At 1.05 Mr. Mills (Bothwell) moved the adjournment of the debate.

Sir Charles Tupper said he could not consent to adjournment at this hour. He was extremely anxious that the treaty bill should receive a second reading at the present session.

Sir Richard Cartwright insisted that it was not fair to force the debate at such a late hour. Several members on the Opposition side, including himself, wished to speak.

There was a hurried conference on both sides of the Chamber and Sir Charles Tupper agreed to allow the debate to stand until Monday evening at 8 o'clock, when it will be made a first order. Mr. Mills has the floor.

In answer to Sir Richard, Sir Charles Tupper said he hoped to make his budget speech next Friday night.

Mr. Mills (Bothwell) asked the First Minister if it were the intention of the Government to introduce a motion confirming the award of arbitrators with reference to the boundary between Manitoba and Ontario. If not he intended to move a motion.

The Premier said a draft bill would be sent to Toronto to-morrow dealing with the award. The bill alluded to by Mr John did not meet the views of Mr. Mills on the award and he said he would have to go on with his motion.

The House adjourned at 1.13.

No Discrimination.

OTTAWA, April 13.—A proclamation will be published to-morrow changing the order-in-council of last Saturday, respecting the admission of certain free goods from the United States. That order uses the specific words "United States" from which these articles can come in duty free, but makes no mention of Great Britain or any other country. The proclamation in question will place these articles on the free list, no matter from what country they come.

VAN BRUNT HANGED.

"Happy Bob" Pays the Penalty of His Murderous Jealousy.

WARSAW, N.Y., April 13.—Robert Van Brunt was hanged here this morning for the murder of Will Roy at Cassile, Oct. 7, 1886.

Robert Van Brunt, alias "Happy Bob" or "Salvation Bob," was born in England in 1854. He made his way to London, and there on one occasion attempted to commit suicide by jumping into the Thames, for doing which he was arrested and confined. He came to this country in 1880, and was given employment by Mr. Hughes of Toronto. According to the story he told at his trial, he tried to poison himself with laudanum in one of the rooms of the Y.M.C.A. building (Shaftesbury Hall) here. After this occurrence he joined the Salvation Army and became quite a noted character in its ranks. At Thorold he again tried to commit suicide, this time by shooting, having got into some difficulty with young women. He escaped before complete recovery from the hospital to which he was taken. In course of time he blossomed out as an officer of the army, and came to Warsaw, N. Y., where he first saw Eva Roy, the girl whose brother he murdered, who lived at Castile. He fell in love with her and went to board with her family. On the morning of Oct. 7, 1886, he found her sitting on her brother's knee, and in a mad paroxysm of jealousy drew a revolver and shot him mortally. He was tried, found guilty of murder in the first degree and sentenced on Feb. 18, 1887, to be hanged on April 15 of that year. Great efforts were made to save him by appeals, but on Feb. 28 last the sentence of condemnation was confirmed to be carried out April 13. Unsuccessful efforts were made during the trial to get the jury to believe that he was insane.

THE BOULANGER CRISIS.

FRANCE AND GERMANY BOTH SERIOUSLY DISTURBED.

The Fiery General's Campaign Full of Wild Excitement — The Iron Chancellor Has Not Yet Won His Fight—His Enthusiastic Partisans.

LONDON, April 13.—There is still nothing but Boulanger and Bismarck in the European papers. Reports from the Department of the Nord show that the electoral campaign there has reached fever heat. Meetings are being held everywhere, and they are generally attended by scenes of excitement and turbulence, with a vast amount of noise, the singing of the "Revenant Roves," and wild interruptions. The current seems to be running steadily in the direction of Gen. Boulanger. Nothing is talked of in French political circles but Sunday's election, and what will follow its expected result. There are all sorts of rumors of General Boulanger's intentions, the most circumstantial of which is that he will take a place in the Chamber, make a speech demanding a dissolution of the Chambers and a revision of the Constitution, and then resign and stand for the next vacancy, repeating these tactics till a dissolution is forced, when he will run in every department and secure a popular vote which will amount to a plebiscite. Already in various departments 225,000 votes have been cast for him. The Department of the Nord will raise this to nearly 400,000. All this has suddenly become gravely ominous for the republic.

Prince Bismarck has not won his fight. This is evident from the fact that he gives no word of rebuke to his fanatical partisans of Breslau, Leipsic and Dresden who are holding meetings and circulating petitions asking the Kaiser on no account to lose the services of the Chancellor. Such an agitation is as unworthy of the great man as it is unheard of in a monarchial country. It is noteworthy that the National Liberal party is foremost in this undignified work. There are no trustworthy accounts of the progress of the dispute inside the Palace of Charlottenburg, but there is a growing belief that Bismarck will get the worst of the contest and a well-defined rumor that Prince Hohenlohe, Stadtholder of Alsace-Lorraine, has been offered the post of Chancellor in succession to him. There are numerous signs, also, going to confirm the existence of a serious political divergence between the Kaiser and the Chancellor.

BOULANGIST AIRS.

The Order Against Playing Them in the French Army Rescinded.

PARIS, April 13.—M. de Freycinet, Minister of War, has rescinded the order enforced by Gen. Ferron and Gen. Logerot against the playing of Boulangist airs in the army.

Gen. Boulanger has recommended to the electors of Dordogne ex-Minister Fourtou, who urged Marshal MacMahon to become dictator, as a stepping-stone to a monarchist regime. This is considered a blunder on the part of Gen. Boulanger, M. Fourtou being regarded with aversion throughout the country.

A manifesto has been issued to the electors of the Nord, signed by Deputies Laguerre, Susini, Laur, Herisse and Michelin, protesting against the employment of police and other measures which they attribute to the Government to prevent the election of Gen. Boulanger. The manifesto declares that the general is a Republican and will enter Parliament to maintain a programme of sincere democratic reform and that he will defend France and the Republic.

The Chamber of Deputies will re-open on April 19, and it is expected will remain in session until the beginning of May, in expectation of a debate on the policy of the Cabinet.

President Carnot has postponed his journey to the South, and Premier Floquet his tour of the departments.

Boulanger's Boast.

NEW YORK, April 13.—The Herald's Paris special says: "Boulanger said yesterday: I have no liking for dragging my sword after me in time of peace. If we had war everyone knows I would take it up again. It's idiotic though to say, 'Boulanger, c'est la guerre.' Why should I think of war when neither France nor Germany wish it. Prepare to wage it, yes; declare it, never. You should entitle your article, 'Boulanger c'est la paix.'"

CAPT. CLARKE'S CLASSES.

An Immense Audience Witness Their Performances at Guelph.

GUELPH, April 13.—Another immense audience greeted Captain Clarke and his classes in the Speed Rink this evening. When the grand entry took place fully 1500 people observed their admiration by long and hearty applause. The enthusiasm thus awakened never once flagged throughout the entertainment. The Highland Cadets improved on their previous performance, and went through the firing exercise and bayonet and sword drill with the precision and regularity of veterans. Their fancy marching was a feature of the evening. Probably the greatest enthusiasm was awakened by the Daughters of the Regiment. This company of girls, ranging in age from 10 to 16 years, attired in pretty braided tunics and red skirts, took the audience by storm in their military evolutions, forming in squares, crosses and stars with a rapidity deceptive to the eye, and then rearranging themselves in double column without one false step. Their exhibition was certainly a most pleasing evidence of the careful training they received. The Daughters of the Regiment is a new company and one of Captain Clarke's most gratifying ventures.

Pleasing, too, was the performance of the wave allotted to the naval brigade and the calisthenic class. The former was organized simultaneously with the Daughters of the Regiment and on this occasion shared the honors with the young ladies. Especially fine were their lance drill. The performances terminated shortly after 10 o'clock. Captain Clarke has by these latest entertainments installed himself more securely than ever in the good graces of the people of Guelph.

ENGLISH LIBERALS.

The Local Government Bill Discussed by John Morley and Others.

LONDON, April 13.—At a meeting of the National Liberal Club to-day, Right Hon. James Stansfeld presiding, it was resolved to urge the Government to extend the debate in the House of Commons on the Local Government Bill. John Morley undertook to move the resolution in the House. All the speakers expressed the opinion that the feeling was growing, especially in the rural districts, that the bill was a sham and a rank Tory measure, and that its apparent democratic character was a veneering which at first deceived the eye.

Prof. Stuart said that the fact that the bill omitted to deal with outdoor relief while it proposed the compensation of publicans was sufficient to warrant a strong opposition to its adoption.

A committee was appointed to arrange for concerted action by the Liberal party in opposition to the bill.

Fire at Kingston.

KINGSTON, April 13.—This morning shortly before 6 o'clock an alarm of fire was sounded for a blaze in the rear of a house on Princess-street owned by Mr. George Brown and occupied by Mr. Andrew Keys as a dwelling and shoemaker's shop. The fire was first discovered by Mr. John McKee, who was on his way to see a doctor. He immediately gave the alarm, and when he returned Mr. Keys was standing on the sill of the second story window with his two children in his arms. Keys called to McKee that he was unable to get down and for him to get a ladder. The latter ran into the yard adjoining the burning house and securing a ladder placed it up against the window and assisted in bringing down the children. Immediately afterwards he ascended the ladder, and in a few seconds he appeared at the window carrying Mrs. Keys in his arms. The roof of Brown's block, outside of the houses burned, was badly damaged and the rear of a house occupied by E. Hawkins somewhat destroyed. Hawkin's place is insured for $600 and the two houses owned by Mr. Brown, which were totally destroyed, for $1000. Mr. Keys had his furniture and stock insured for $300. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Robbed a Canadian.

CHICAGO, April 13.—Eddie Mines and John Considine were arrested to-day for a bold robbery in the Wabash depot here Tuesday morning. Dr. John Campbell of Seaforth, Ont., an elderly man, was on his way to British Columbia, and when the Grand Trunk pulled into the depot the doctor was sleeping. "Hurry up if you want to catch the train," a voice said behind him, and at the same time a hand shook the traveler roughly. The doctor picked up his two grips, and three men pushed him along towards the door. Just as he was passing through a pair of arms were thrown around him, and a pocket-book containing $36 in money and his ticket was taken. The men got away, but Dr. Campbell gave a good description of them, on which the men were subsequently arrested. Ald. Whelan went $1,500 bail for Mines and Considine, who were released. The $36 in Canadian bills was found on Considine.

THE CHURCH AND THE WORLD.

SERMON BY LAYMAN.

(Written for the Examiner.)

The church, according to my acceptation of the term, is made up of Christian people united together for religious purposes. When the apostles wrote to the Christians of their day their letters were always addressed to the churches, thus showing that the people were the churches. In those apostles' times the Christians generally met together in one another's houses, or upon the sides of the mountains, or in the open fields. They had no grand buildings, now called churches, in those days. The humble Christians were glad to meet together anywhere, because they met together to worship God, and they did this in humility and humble faith. They knew that God was everywhere and that He had promised that when two or three are gathered together in His name He would be in the midst of them. And they also knew if their hearts were pure and filled with the love of their Heavenly Father, their prayers would be heard, no matter where spoken. And they knew, too, that pure religion was altogether of the heart and that fine buildings and fine parade and show had nothing whatever to do with it. This was the religion as practiced in Christ's day, and it is the religion of the humble, sincere Christian now. Religion, as practiced in our Lord's time, was religion of the heart. It was a pure and simple religion and those true Christian worshippers lived by faith and looked to Christ as their sole authority and guide. It was a religion purely of the heart, and it needed no external influences to guide them in the way of light and truth. And if their hearts were right they were satisfied, for they believed that God was satisfied also. And thus they lived and worshipped in simple faith and in the full belief that the simpler the faith the more earnest and the more acceptable in the sight of the Lord. But how soon was all this changed. For no sooner had the death of Christ been accomplished than crafty men appeared, who set up another standard of worship, claiming for man the powers of divine guidance and power. And the simplicity of the previous Christian faith and worship was made to give way to the claims of selfishness and to the love of power and display. And thus, in a short time, there arose upon the ruins of the former simplicity of religious faith and practices, a merely human power which has made the simple religion of Christ to give way in the hearts of men to human ambition and tyranny, and which has made man a slave instead of the free Christian which it was originally intended he should be. And thus the Church and the world went on, hand in hand together, the world protecting the Church and the Church serving the world. In this way state churchism has been exalted and preserved, and thus pure religion has been swallowed up in the world, and the Church, according to its modern acceptation, has been turned into a political machine and has been made a worldly Church, and the Church and the world have been joined together. And an aristocracy has arisen whose object is to make social life dependent upon religious influence alone. And the parson has made himself the ruler over all. And the parson has to be looked up to and courted, for in all things relating to religious matters he alone exercises the power which should be exercised by the people. But the people quietly submit and dare not raise their voices. And in the name of religion costly, pretentious buildings, called churches, raise up their proud forms everywhere, in the name of the Lord, and the money of the people is taken from them by their religious rulers, and thus, what should go for the spread of the Gospel and for the christianizing of the world, is wasted in pomp and vanity and empty show. The Almighty does not require such grand edifices in which to worship him. He loves humility and simplicity, as evidenced by the example of Christ while on earth. And if the hearts of men are but right He asks no more. And if their hearts are not right all the fine, costly buildings in the world cannot make good that loss. Better far to worship Him in the log cabin with pure hearts than to pretend to do so surrounded with all the gaudy show of vain men and which the world delights to look upon. All the world over, the church and the world have joined hands and are working together to keep the people in subjection as well as in mental and religious darkness. This is the modern church, handed down from the long past, and it simply consists of the building and the parson. For no sooner is the grand edifice finished than the parson takes possession and henceforth it is called "my church," and he alone rules and says what shall be done. Socially he considers himself superior to all others, and, alas, too often his wish is the law. And wise and freeborn men and women quietly submit to this arrogance and oftentimes think it an honor to be even noticed by their would-be-spiritual superior. And the latter holds high his head and deems it an honor to condescend to look in the direction of those who come to learn of him the way to salvation and mercy. All the world over the clergy stand ready to fight for their power and for privileges which are only theirs by means of usurpation and wrong. And it has come to this now that the poor have no souls to save and that none but the rich man can enter the kingdom of Heaven, although we are told that it is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the Kingdom of Heaven. Still it would seem that the poor have no souls worth saving. This is the practice of the churches, as defined above, although poor, despised, afflicted Lazarus, under the merciful exercise of the church of Christ's time, was taken up into Heaven, and the rich man cried to him for help. Verily the ancient church has given way to the modern church and the modern church has gone back into the world, and the two have joined hands together. And the church now represents political power and spiritual tyranny, and its foundations rest upon the love of money and pride and show. And it is in the church that the minister can show his condescension and can show off to the best advantage. If the poor or the sick wish to see a spiritual adviser they must go to the church, where he sits in state and looks down upon them with haughtiness and pride. And they must appear meek and humble or they need not come again. But if a rich man wants influence and power, or if he wishes to do wrong, he goes to the church, looks sanctified and gives of his money freely, and henceforth "our dearly beloved brother" is made one of the faithful, carries the stamp of the church upon his brow, and then he can go forth and practice all his arts and do as much wrong as he pleases—for is he not a holy man? And the church, that is the parson, prays for him. But the poor and the helpless need no prayers. They must pray for themselves. And if they want to save their souls they should do so, for no other one can do it for them. Verily, the church and the world are one. Money, and the love of money, and civil and spiritual pride and selfishness have come together, and they form a formidable power. A certain minister is reported to have said lately that the Church has gone back into the world again. But any child could have said the same. If Christ or His apostles or His disciples were to come back into the world again and view the state of the Christian Church everywhere, how great would be their surprise and how great their sorrow. Undoubtedly the time is coming when there will be a change, and the Church will be what it was nearly two thousand years ago.

Latter Day "Apostles."

A Quintette of Sinless Saints "Sent by the Lord" to Peterborough.

There have arrived in town five delegates or, rather, apostles from the Holiness Association of Canada, with head quarters in Toronto, and they propose or rather, as they themselves put it, "the Lord proposes that they should speak to the people of Peterborough and give them light." The band is composed of Mrs. Varcoe, a dark complexioned, robust, rather large lady of some thirty-five years; Mrs. Sweet, a placid faced lady with snowy hair, considerably older than Mrs. Varcoe; Mr. James Sargent, a rather pale young man, with a serious cast of countenance, about twenty-five years of age; Tommy Bousfield, or, as he is called, "Happy Tommy," who sustains his character by keeping up a steady fire of ejaculations, such as "Bless the Lord!" "Glory be to God," etc.; and Mr. R. F. Webster, formerly a carpenter in Peterborough.

They profess to

BELONG TO NO PARTICULAR SECT,

stating that members of the Holiness Association are drawn from the Presbyterian, Methodist, English Church and other Christian denominations. In their conversation they seem to ignore "religion" and talk only of "holiness."

"We do not live ourselves," said Mrs. Varcoe, "but Christ lives in us, and, therefore, we live like Christ and, therefore, we do no wrong—commit no sin—"

"Bless the Lord!" breaks in Happy Tommy, "and nothing can make us do it either, and I tell you it is genuine—as a gold dollar—it's no counterfeit."

"Bless the Lord—Amen," says Mr. Sargent.

The reporter, in order to gently lead up to the financial situation—to arrive at the modus vivendi—hazarded the suggestion that they followed the apostolic practice and travelled without "staff or scrip."

"You've just about struck it, brother," (they call everybody "brother" or "sister") put in Mrs. Sweet, as her ample face beamed from behind the coal stove, where she was sitting.

"Yes, that's about it," was the chorus of the company.

"Do you take collections at your meetings?"

"When the Lord tells us, we do," says Happy Tommy, "we do just what the Lord tells us."

"Who is the leader of your company?"

"We have no leader," explains Happy Tommy, "the Lord leads us."

"What is your form of services?"

The irrepressible "Happy Tommy" again volunteers an explanation — "Scripture reading, singing, praying and exhortations."

"What does he say?" critically asks Mr. Webster, and on being told, Mrs. Varcoe rather sits on Happy Tommy by pointing out that there is no regular order of service—"We are led by the Holy Ghost."

"Yes, bless the Lord," comes in chorus from the four others."

"We shall hold three meetings on Sunday in the Opera House—at 10, 2:30 and 7:45."

The company came here from Omemee, where they "preached holiness." The public are invited to come to their meetings. A meeting will be held to-night in the old Music Hall.

Our Chief of Police.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

Who is to be our chief of police? The people say Mr. Adams, Mr. Moore says no. Who is to rule, the people or Mr. Moore? This is the question now. It used to be the theory that all power was with the people. But in this matter of the chiefship it looks as if this theory was reversed, and that all power was in the hands of one man. It looks as if the popular will has to give way to the will of one man if he stands up boldly and defiantly and treats the popular will with contempt. Napoleon the Third became Emperor of France by boldly usurping power and shooting down the people. And this is the way that despots always rule. Such conduct as this ought not to prevail in Peterborough. And it will not prevail if the people remain united and stand true to themselves. And the way to show that they are so is for them to continue to attend each sitting of the council in large numbers, and then the councillors will be more careful and more disposed to do right. But if they do not do this they will lose and Mr. Moore will win the battle. If the people are really in earnest, they will not yield and will not desert Mr. Adams in this his time of need.

TAKE

NASAL BALM FOR

COLD IN HEAD —AND— CATARRH.

There is no disease to which Canadians are more subject than Catarrh—all ages and sex alike are numbered among the sufferers. It is impossible in the limit of a short newspaper article to describe the symptoms fully, but they may be briefly summarized: Cold in the head, difficulty in breathing, hawking and spitting, headache, pains in the region over the eye, stoppage of nasal passages, foul breath, droppings into the throat causing nausea and sometimes vomiting, poisonous secretions accumulating in the lungs leading to consumption. These are but a few of the many symptoms of Catarrh, a disease which affects 7-10 of our Canadian population. NASAL BALM is the only CERTAIN and POSITIVE CURE for this loathsome disease in all its forms and stages. NASAL BALM is the result of years of careful study, and is prepared with a view to radically cure those cases of catarrh, to which Canadians are most subject. It is not a liquid snuff or caustic-ing powder, but a pleasant, never failing remedy, requiring no instrument or douche for its use. Easy to use, instantaneous in its effects, permanent in its cures. Ask for Nasal Balm and take no substitute of whatever name. For Cold in the Head there is no better remedy on earth to equal Nasal Balm. Do not neglect a cold in the head for in nine cases out of ten it will lead to Catarrh. Use Nasal Balm upon the first symptoms. This wonderful remedy affords instant relief and cures within a few hours. It can be used for the youngest child as well as for adults, and as a precautionary measure should be kept in every household. For sale by all druggists or sent in receipt of price (50c. and $1.00 per bottle) by addressing FULFORD & CO., Brockville.

PROOF OF ITS MARVELLOUS EFFICACY.

An Unequalled Remedy.

J. McKee, druggist, Peterborough, says:—Nasal Balm gives the most general satisfaction to consumers of any preparation I ever handled. My sales are large and the reports from those who use it, fully substantiate your claims for the medicine as an unequalled remedy for catarrh in the head.

Worth Ten Times its Cost.

T. W. Hunt Port Hope says: I was a sufferer from a long standing case of catarrh and being well up in years (79) hardly expected to ever obtain anything that would give me material or permanent relief. At the time of receiving Nasal Balm I was very bad with catarrh, but take great pleasure in stating that on the second application I obtained wonderful relief and its effect was pleasant, soothing and healing. It acted like magic and is worth ten times its cost for the immediate relief it gives. I feel confident the second bottle will effect a permanent cure. I have recommended Nasal Balm for cold in the head and in every case it acts like a charm.

Acts Like a Charm.

John Foster Raymond says:—Nasal Balm acts like a charm for my catarrh. I have only used it a short time and I now feel better than at any period during the last seven years. In fact I am sure of a cure and at a very small expense.

w&dw

Feels Like a New Man.

A. E. Fish, merchant, Belleville, states: I take great pleasure in recommending your Nasal Balm to any one troubled with that dreadful disease, catarrh. I have been troubled with it for the past fifteen years, and can say candidly that I never had anything that gave me half so much relief as your Nasal Balm. I have only used two bottles and I feel like a new man.

Beats the World.

D. Derbyshire, president Ontario Creamery Association, Brockville, says: Nasal Balm beats the world for catarrh and cold in the head. In my own case it effected relief from the first application.

$1.00 for 50 cents.

Capt. D. H. Lyon, manager and proprietor of the C. P. R. and R. W. & O. R. car ferry Prescott, and Ogdensburg N. Y. says: I used Nasal Balm for a prolonged case of cold in the head. Two applications effected a complete and thorough cure in less than 24 hours. I would not take $100 for my bottle of Nasal Balm if I could not replace it.

It Never Fails.

Ex Mayor Bowie, Brockville, Ont., says: I used Nasal Balm for a bad case of catarrh, and it cured me after having ineffectually tried many other remedies. It never fails to give immediate relief for cold in the head.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE ARGONAUT ROWING CLUB.

The Toronto Again Defeated by the Indianapolis—Baseball Games Elsewhere—Racing in England—The Most Lacrosse Club—Spots of Sport.

TORONTO, April 13.

The annual meeting of the Argonaut Rowing Club was held last night in the Rossin House. President Henry O'Brien presided, and there was a large attendance of members, great enthusiasm being manifested. The 16th annual statement showed that the revenue for the past year was $600 in excess of the amount received in the preceding year. The present membership is 235, an increase of 60. Reference was made to the new club-house, which, for practical purposes, is claimed to be the most complete building of the kind on the continent. In announcing his retirement from the presidency which he has held for 16 years, Mr. O'Brien said the club is now in a splendid position, and its success and stability are assured.

The receipts were $3855.15 and the expenditure $3590.15.

These officers were elected: President, Col. G. A. Sweny (acclamation); 1st Vice-President, H. C. Hammond (acclamation); 2nd Vice-President, R. McKay; Captain, A. D. Langmuir; Secretary, A. F. McRae; Delegates to the C. A. A., J. W. Haggard, James Pearson.

Toronto Badly Beaten.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 13.—The home team pounded Atkinson vigorously and with great effect to-day, and the support given him was decidedly ragged. Boyle, the star pitcher of the home team officiated, and at the beginning it looked as if the Toronto sluggers would do him up, but he soon settled down to work, and with the excellent support accorded him performed good service.

Over English Jumps.

LONDON, April 13.—This was the second day of the Sandown Park second spring meeting. The great Sandown Hurdle Race was won by Mr. C. J. Blake's Conservator, with Dictator second and Athgarvan third.

The race for the Monmouth Hunter's Steeplechase was won by Mr. J. G. Muir's Casonet from a field of seven, with Mr. J. Rutherford's M.P. second and Mr. R. Craig's The Sinner third.

The Wales two-year-old race of 1000 sovereigns was won by Gen. Owen Williams' Billy by Silvester—Violetta, with Mr. H. T. Barclay's Red Anchor second and Mr. E. Weever's Catterina third. There were ten starters.

The Most Lacrosse Club.

BLENHEIM, April 13.—The Most Lacrosse Club reorganized to-night with a membership of about forty. The following officers were elected: F. E. Arkell, President; Wm. Henry, Vice-President; Ed. Thompson, Secretary; L. B. Shillington, Treasurer; Managing Committee, Walker, Bunnell, Kirby, Thompson, Jeff, Stokes and the officers.

Spots of Sport.

$7300 will be offered in prizes at this year's Dominion Rifle Association meeting at Ottawa.

When Kemp was in England with Beach he was beaten twice by Bubear and once by Perkins. Since then Wallace Ross has defeated Bubear for the English championship, and Hanlan has repeatedly beaten Ross. On public form Hanlan should win, May 5, the championship of the world from Kemp.

Jack Gibbons, the celebrated English sprinter, who was in America some time ago, writes from Durham, England, to Capt. A. W. Cooke of Boston that he will accept the challenge recently made by Harry Bethune, addressed to any runner in the world, and says that he will run Bethune 100 yards, 125 yards or 150 yards, best out of three, for $500 or $1000 on each race. At any place that Bethune desires. Gibbons claims that he tried to get on a match with Bethune for two months without success just before he left America to return to England, and that James Keenan came to Toronto at the time to arrange a match for him, but was unable to do so.

Manager John S. Barnes of the St. Pauls, who is well known in Toronto, has no reason to growl about his experience in baseball. He started the St. Paul Club with $600 as his capital stock. It was all the money he had. After he had been in the business a few months he sold a half interest in the club for $3000. The St. Paul club cleared $10,000 last season, and besides secured $7000 from the Boston club for the release of young Bowders. At the beginning of the season Barnes and his partner sold a third interest in the club for $7500. Altogether the $600 investment was the means of winning an income of $10,000.

Pain banished as if by magic. Polson's Nervoline is a positive and almost instantaneous remedy for external, internal, or local pains. The Growth of the Hair.

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dettenthal's Great German Hair Magic the scalp will be kept in a clean and healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

A Sad Prospect.

How many weary broken down invalids there are to whom life is burdensome and whose prospect is sad indeed. The nervous debility and general weakness of those afflicted with lingering disease is best remedied by the invigorating and restoring properties of B.B.B. 2w14d

Making Sure.

There are many people who adopt health and diet rules when attacked by disease of the stomach, liver or bowels, this is quite right, but those who add to this treatment the use of B. B. B. according to directions, make sure of being quickly and easily cured. 2w14d

Thankful.

Some time ago being very greatly troubled with colds and coughing, I went to the drug store and got Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. In a short time I was well. I have found it a sure cure and am thankful that I used it, and now would not be without it. E. A. Schaefer, Berlin, Ont. 2w14d

How to Save Money.

Always buy the best because it is the cheapest in the end, and not only is Burdock Blood Bitters the best medicine known for all chronic diseases of the stomach, Kidneys, Liver and blood, but is really the cheapest as it needs less to cure and cures more quickly than any other remedy. 2w14d

Millinery and Mantles.

Spring comes on with maiden coyness and deliberation, but it is coming and Mr. R. Fair, of the Golden Lion, is ready for it with the most superb stock of millinery and millinery goods and mantles ever shown in town. The millinery goods comprise all the leading shapes, which, by the way, are lower than in former years—the height having gone into the brims, which are wide and flaring—the high hat is gone but the trimming still rules high. The shapes include the leading French, English and American. The shapes in bonnets include the "Bride," "Flora," "Signal," "Coquette," "Tambour"; in hats we have the "Tosca," "Brevort," "Torquay," "Wanda," "Hollywood," "Ormond" and "Duvan" — the latter a turban. The trimmings for this season are chiefly ribbons, flowers and aigrettes. The trimmings consist of "shot" goods, not birds, but ribbons and silks of iridescent hues, with ombre or shaded effects, shot green—there being a dash of green in almost everything. The Golden Lion has these shapes in infinite variety of colourings and trimmings. There is on hand a very large stock of trimmed hats, but the fastidious can have hats or bonnets trimmed to order by Miss White and her able and experienced staff of assistants, in a manner equal to the imported hats or bonnets and in one corresponding to the taste or style of beauty of the wearer. During the millinery opening of the Golden Lion the numerous lady visitors were more than charmed with the beautiful and elaborate stock of millinery—ahead in most repects of that of any other season. The same may be said of the stock of mantles and dolmans. These include a superior line of imported mantles in the new "soleil" cloths in the trimming of which jets are used in profusion. Besides the Golden Lion carries a large stock of mantle cloths which are made up on the premises, to order, in the highest style of the modiste's art. In other departments will be found a beautiful range of curtains, Persian art curtains, and portieres in terra cotta shades and Persian and German designs. Also a magnificent range of every kind of carpets. The stock throughout is most complete, varied and beautiful.

Settled for the Present.

From half-past seven till after eleven o'clock last night the committee on appointments wrestled with the chief of police question. It was a stormy meeting indeed, and but a precursor of the scenes which, it expected, will be enacted at the council meeting Monday night. Mr. Kendry, chairman, presented to the committee 51 applications for the position, from men all over the province, each one accompanied by glowing testimonials that made the subject of the eulogism a perfect paragon. Finally the choice settled down to three men—Mr. Geo. Bersal, of St. Catherines; Chief Hinds, of Trenton, and Acting-Chief Adams, of Peterborough. After a wordy warfare a recommendation to appoint Mr. Bersal was carried by a vote of 4 to 3. This recommendation will be presented to the council Monday night, when it is probable the battle will be fought over again.

Civic Committees.

The Sewerage Committee did not meet last night, but will convene at 7 o'clock Monday night and prepare a report. The Finance Committee met and passed a number of accounts. The Fire, Water and Light Committee favorably considered the petitions of a number of citizens for the extension of the water service, and the waterworks company was notified to proceed with the work.

On the Free List.

The other day the Prince of Wales told Hon. Mr. Goschen, who conveyed the news to Lord Lansdowne, who afterwards instructed Right Hon. Sir John A. Macdonald to call "to-morrow" at the EXAMINER office, and let the reporter know that the "Crow" cigar would soon be placed on the free list. d

Scott Act Repeal.

On Thursday next, 19th inst., a vote on the repeal of the Scott Act will take place in the following counties:—Simcoe, Dundas, Stormont and Glengarry, Bruce, Huron, Dufferin, Renfrew, and Norfolk. The temperance people complain that they are unjustly compelled to fight in all these different counties at once.

Special inducements to farmers and all others during the busy season at J. T. Stenson's boot and shoe shop, George street. Prices are cut so low that no time is lost in making a bargain. Rapid sales and everybody delighted. Come and see.

Buyers, Attention!

Attention is directed to the advertisement across the bottom of the local page of the new stock of Dawson Bros. This stock was laid in for the spring trade, and is all fresh, fashionable and seasonable. Owing to a change in business the goods must be sold within the next ten or, at the most, fourteen days. None of the stock can be removed—it must be sold. Therefore call at once and get goods at your own prices. d

THE PANTRY is the Right Place for choice Family Groceries. dw

Counterfeit Money.

Another of the "green goods" circulars, which are flooding the country, has been handed the EXAMINER by a respected citizen who received it the other day. The writer offers sixes, "ones, twos, fives, tens and twenties," and adds "do you understand?" He assures his customers that his goods are safe and profitable to handle, and swears "before Almighty God" eternal fidelity and strict honesty in his dealings, though urging the utmost secrecy in the correspondance. Needless to say, the recipient of the letter was not misled by the flattering promises contained in the circular. The writer gave his address as Frank Flyn, 161 and 163 West Houston street, New York, care J. Maher.

Water Filters.

To insure good health it is absolutely necessary to have pure water, and no water is entirely free from floating matter and disease germs without thorough filtration. The majority of cases of typhoid and other low fevers are in a measure caused from unfiltered and impure water, so that every family who values its health should have a reliable filter. Numerous filters are offered to the public varying in points of excellence, but for cheapness, efficiency and durability, our filters cannot be surpassed. No corroding substances are used in comstruction. The packing material is the most powerful specially prepared granulated carbon. It will last for years with the ordinary use of a family, and the material may be obtained from us at any time for replenishing at small expense. Sold in Peterborough only at China Hall. dw

An Evening With Siddons.

From the time Mrs. Scott-Siddons was advertised to appear in Peterborough no positive announcement was made that Mr. Waller, the boy pianist, was to appear with her, but on Thursday the committee received the following telegram from Mrs. Siddon's manager: "Waller does appear with Mrs. Siddons. Understand you advertise him." Apparently the word "not" was omitted through some blunder, either of the telegraph company or of the manager, Mr. Flynn. The committee quite naturally, on the strength of the telegram in such positive terms, announced Mr. Waller as an additional attraction. A letter received this morning from Mrs. Siddon's manager—Flynn—states that Mr. Waller leaves this morning for New York. Therefore his subordinate's share in the programme is necessarily dropped, a trifling disappointment in the face of the magnificent programme Mrs. Siddons will present as no other living woman can present it. Plan at Hartley's; a few choice seats vacant.

GEORGE STEPHENS.

Joe's New Filly.

The Congress Hall stables are now, says the Lindsay Post, the centre of attraction for our local horsemen, as they contain an active, handsome colt by "Phil Ryedyke," from the promising young mare "Elsie D." The "youngster," though only four days old, is as nimble as a cricket and is a Jim-dandy in every particular, possessing the true trotting lines to an unlimited extent. If appearance and general make-up count for aught, but few years should elapse before we shall see his name enrolled in the 2.30 list. Mr. Daly is highly pleased with the Hambletonian acquisition to his equine stock, and is always ready to show his friends the coming "flier."

Sporting Notes.

Some time ago a challenge for a foot race appeared in the EXAMINER from W. McLane to Mr. Bird, of Peterborough. Mr. Bird was seen yesterday by a reporter, and stated that the match would probably be arranged, but as he (Bird) was going to Toronto to live this summer the race will be run there. It was at Whitby, he says, he beat McLane before, not at Oshawa, as the latter states.

A baseball league is to be formed in Eastern Ontario, comprising Almonte, Carleton Place, Smith's Falls, Merrickville, Kemptville, Lanark and Perth. A Midland district league should be formed here.

During the curling season Lindsay and Peterborough clubs played ten matches, Peterborough losing 6 and winning 4.

Fitzgerald, who pitched for the Peterborough baseball club last season, has engaged with Lindsay club.

Obituary.

The many friends and acquaintances of the late Robert Jackson, of the township of Sullivan, County of Grey, and formerly of the township of Emily, County of Victoria, will learn with regret of his demise which took place on the 3rd of April, after an illness of one week. The deceased, who was widely known, was respected for his sterling worth, was a native of County Cavan, Ireland, and came to Canada in 1836 and settled in the township of Emily, near Omemee, where he lived till January 1868, when he moved to Sullivan and located in his late home, where he made many warm friends. During the troublesome times of 1837 he was an active volunteer in the military force, being with his company stationed in Cobourg during the winter of 1837 and the spring of 1838. He leaves a widow and full grown family to mourn the loss of a loved husband and father, who have the sympathy of the entire community in their bereavement. The funeral on Thursday afternoon was very largely attended, when the mortal remains were borne to their last resting-place, followed by a large and respectable concourse of sorrowing friends and relatives.—[COM.—Omemee Herald.

Early Closing.

The Montreal Herald in discussing very favorably the Ontario Early Closing Act says:—"Keeping retail places of business open to late hours has become a crying evil everywhere, Montreal included. The investigations of the Labor Commission in this city recently revealed some startling facts as to the long hours of service extorted by some merchants and employers of labors from their clerks. Not only is the system unjust, and to some extent cruel to the employes, but it is in the long run unprofitable to the merchants who persist in the practice. The extra light required, as well as the extra fuel in cold weather, to say nothing of the extra wear and tear upon the physical system, in most cases probably more than offset the gains secured by keeping open to late hours—a very unprofitable species of business. . . . This legislation is decidedly a step in advance, and if the people bring it into operation generally it cannot fail to have an ameliorating influence in the interests of employes and a beneficial influence generally in the interests of shopkeepers and their customers. The matter is one we commend to the consideration of those who make laws for the Province of Quebec."

A Fine Performance.

Good as the previous performances of the Sawtelle Comedy Company have been, last night's presentation of "A Wife's Secret" at the Opera House eclipsed them all. There was a good attendance present, the fair sex being largely in the majority, and the applause was frequent and well deserved. The leading role was taken by Miss Cornell, who, as the unhappy young wife with a secret, fairly excelled herself. In the scenes with "Harry Livingston," the "make in the grass," she was particularly strong. Miss Cornell is an emotional actress of undoubted ability. Honors were fairly divided between her and Mr. Arthur Gray, who, as Livingstone, the adventurer, took his villainous part so ably that he was hissed at the close of the second act. Mr. Sawtelle played the wronged husband and Mr. Nicholson, "Arthur Blake," both, as usual, doing their parts full justice. Mr. Al. Harris, as "Simmie," the ambitious author, and Miss McCormack as "Angie," sweet sixteen, were the fun makers of the evening. "A Wife's Secret" is without doubt the strongest play in the repertoire of the Sawtelle Company. At the matinee to-day "East Lynne" was presented to a good house. To-night a double bill of two rattling comedies, of Irish and Yankee origin, will be presented.

AS MUCH A SECRET AS EVER

To the Editor of the Examiner:—SIR—How in the world has C. B. ROUTLEY jumped into such a big slice of the Wall Paper trade? Why it seems as if one couldn't pass his store without running against a load of Wall Paper in the arms of some pleased looking customer. I'm half inclined to think there must have been lots of boodle in the Wall Paper business before ROUTLEY started it, and that the people have found out that he has broken the combination. Eh? what did you think, Mr. Editor? And yet you occasionally hear of spasmodic attempts to get down to ROUTLEY's prices, in order to head him off; but still it seems as much a secret as ever how he keeps up the run.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

MANIPULATION OF THE VOTERS' LISTS IN THE PRINTING BUREAU.

The Senate and Commons Polled to Gain in a Farewell Demonstration to Lord Lansdowne—The Fisheries Treaty—The Monopoly Settlement.

OTTAWA, April 15.—The movement to unite the Senate and Commons in a farewell demonstration to Lord Lansdowne is not making much headway. At the last meeting of the Upper Chamber, before the doors were opened to the "lower orders," Senator Alexander offered a motion to appoint Messrs. Abbott, Smith, Kaulbach, Almon, Turner, Sullivan, Sanford, DeBoucherville and the mover a committee to determine the form the demonstration should take, but the man from Woodstock was set upon and the committee was not appointed. The House may vote His Lordship a joint address, but they will not dip into the treasury for the cost of the banquet which has become the yearning of the super-loyal Senatorial mind.

The Liberals should pay attention to the printing of voters' lists now going on at Mr. Chapleau's bureau. It is again asserted that the Government are making the preliminary lists from the poll clerks' books and are putting on simply the names of those who voted at the last general election. It may be said that if the new lists are a faithful copy of the old, many names of persons not now entitled to vote will appear. It is much easier and cheaper, however, to have a few hundred names struck off than to have the same number put on, and, besides, it has always been the Provincial practice to reproduce the old lists and to make them the basis of revision. At least it is worth the while of the Opposition to ascertain just what plan the Government have adopted. Then the new franchise legislation to be introduced is awaited with much interest and some apprehension. It is felt that the Government must do something this session. It is estimated that at the elections now held on the old lists there are in every constituency probably 500 persons not now qualified to vote and an equal number qualified whose names are not on the lists. The class most seriously affected is that of farmers' sons, hundreds of whom are unjustly deprived of the franchise by the failure to have the proper revision of the lists. There is also an abnormal non-resident vote, which is generally pretty well polled for the Government candidates by means thoroughly understood, and this, like the farmers' sons disfranchisement, tells against the Liberals. The power of the Federal Franchise Act for fraud and injustice seems to be unlimited.

By arrangement across the floor of the House, the second reading of the bill to ratify the Fisheries Treaty will be taken on Monday. The debate is likely to last far into the morning. Hon. David Mills and Sir Richard Cartwright will be the chief speakers for the Opposition, and there will be one or two important speeches from the other side of the House. A division is not expected.

The monopoly settlement is likely to come before the House on Tuesday. The Government want to have the agreement ratified before the Budget debate comes on. Sir Charles Tupper has stated that he expects to make his financial statement on Friday next. It is understood the resolution will be put into the hands of Sir Charles Tupper. He has been the Parliamentary champion of the Canadian Pacific throughout, and has a blunt disregard for consistency as makes him effective for such work as the defence of the new C.P.R. arrangement. A prolonged debate on the question is not anticipated. The Liberals have steadily demanded that monopoly should be repealed. They opposed the monopoly clause of the original C.P.R. agreement. They are in favor of its extinction on lines that will be just to the company and the country. It would be more than human, however, to expect the Opposition to accept the arrangement now made without emphasizing the soundness of their policy from the beginning, and showing the immense hindrance monopoly has been to the settlement and development of Manitoba and the Northwest.

The Department of Agriculture has selected as a site for the proposed branch of the Experimental Farm in British Columbia 300 acres at Agassiz Station, on the line of the Canadian Pacific.

The Select Committee from the Senate to which the application of Eleanora Tudor for a bill of divorce from her husband, F. L. Hart, was referred to, examined Mrs. Hart. The respondent was present. The case will be resumed on Tuesday.

The Department of the Interior has received information that Mr. Bjornson, a representative of twenty-five well-to-do Icelandic families in Holstein, has arrived in Calgary to look over the country with the view of obtaining a concession for the settlement of the people. If Mr. Bjornson's report is favorable they will abandon their unhappy surroundings and bring with them about 400 head of live stock, besides settlers' effects.

The Customs Department has decided to place an inspectress at the port of Kingston to prevent smuggling during the convention season.

Accident at St. Thomas.

ST. THOMAS, April 15.—About 8 o'clock last night Conductor Wm. Lodge attempted to shoot an old building up William street. The structure had been placed upon trucks and was drawn by eight horses. When opposite the Presbyterian Manse, against the top of the building struck a telephone wire which fell, across the street from the head of the Spoke block. The transgressive strain then the wire hauled a quantity of brick from the top of the front wall of the building to the street beneath, which was filled with people. About a dozen persons were more or less injured, among whom were Duncan McIntyre, a press reporter, cut in head and neck; J. Howard, employe Times Printing Company, seriously wounded on forehead and scalp; young man named Phillips, cut in head and body bruised; two young sons of Mr. Hume, Inverior City Hotel, several cuts and bruises; two children of J. Finney, bridge contractor, slightly injured. Several others whose names were not learned sustained cuts and bruises. It is thought that none are dangerously injured excepting Howard.

Dakota Floods.

MINNEAPOLIS, April 14.—The Big Sioux River has overflowed its banks and done considerable damage in the vicinity of Sioux Falls, Dak. The Illinois Central Railway bridge east of the city has been carried away, also the Milwaukee bridge at Keyes. Over 2000 feet of Milwaukee track at Elk Point has been carried away, entirely cutting off communication with Sioux City. The River is still rising.

LATEST MARKET REVIEW.

TORONTO, April 14.—On the call board at the Board of Trade to-day fall wheat closed at 90c, 89c bid for 10,000 bush; No. 2 spring 87c bid; No. 1 red winter 89c bid; No. 1 red winter offered at 85c, 84c bid. One car No. 1 Manitoba hard sold at 92c; one car Manitoba, by sample, on the track, sold at 86c.

The retail trade on St. Lawrence Market was slowly to-day. There was a large quantity of produce offered and sold readily. The newest feature of the market was maple syrup, which was offered at from 35c to 39c per quart. Eggs were cheaper and offered in greater quantities the prices ranged from 18c to 20c per dozen. Choice dairy butter was offered at 22c per lb, and 25c to 26c for rolls. The market is flooded with inferior butter which sells at almost any price. Good potatoes are selling at $1.15 per bag. Poultry in source at 65c to 80c per pair for chickens and 12c to 14c per pound for turkeys. Spring lambs sell at $3 to $7 per carcass. On the grain market receipts were light, fall wheat sold at 89c to 89½c, 72c to 77c for spring, and 73c to 73c for wild goose, oats at 35c, and barley at 74c to 76c. There is a good demand for hay at $14 to $15.50 for timothy, $12 to $13 for clover and $12 to $13 for straw.

POOL BEER BOYCOTTED.

The Brewers' Strike—Other Labor Troubles—Demanding 9 Hours.

NEW YORK, April 15.—The Central Labor Union to-day declared a general boycott on all pool beer. There was no difference of opinion. Every delegate was in favor of war to the last against the brewers. By a rising vote, accompanied by much cheering, it was resolved that no members of labor organizations must take the place of any of the brewers in case the latter should be locked out to-morrow. The names of the union breweries will be advertised and the members of the organizations connected with the Central Union will use no other beer.

The journeymen brewers also met to-day and decided to send a committee to the saloonkeepers at Brooklyn to prevail on them to use union beer.

The International Millers' and Millwrights' Association held a secret meeting to-day, to see whether or not they would support the brewers in their strike. It was finally decided to leave the matter in the hands of the Central Labor Union.

A Lockout Seems Inevitable.

NEW YORK, April 14.—As both sides express themselves as determined, it is reasonably certain that the active hostilities between the hoss brewers and their employes will be begun at noon on Monday at which time almost every brewer in the United States will lock his employes out unless they accept the bosses' contract. Superintendent of Police Murray has ordered the reserves out for duty on Monday for fear of trouble in consequence of the lock-out of the brewery employes. It was remarked that an unusual number of brewery wagons broke down for various causes, apparently accidental, in different parts of the city to-night.

Fighting Out at Chicago.

CHICAGO, April 14.—The brewers' strike is rapidly fizzling out. New men are arriving in large numbers to take the places of the strikers, and it is thought that by Monday all vacancies that now exist will have been filled.

Settled Satisfactorily.

ST. LOUIS, April 14.—The differences existing between the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad and the engineers were settled satisfactorily to-day.

For Nine Hours.

NEWPORT, R.I., April 14.—The bricklayers and carpenters in this city have struck for nine hours work per day.

Minister Phelps on the Fisheries Treaty.

NEW YORK, April 14.—Mr. E. J. Phelps, the United States Minister to England, arrived in New York yesterday. Being asked his opinion concerning the Fisheries Treaty, he replied, with animation, "I am really of the opinion that it is a fair, just and equitable adjustment, and I hope it will be ratified."

"Have you found the English favoring it?"

"It seems satisfactory in England as far as I could learn. But the English people have really little interest in the subject except to satisfy Canada. What satisfies Canada will satisfy England. That is the sum of what may be said concerning English feeling. There has been no Parliamentary debate or discussion on the treaty."

"Is there any clamor in England for the ratification of the Extradition Treaty?"

"There is no especially strong feeling on the matter. The British Government have assented to it, but it is not nearly as important to them as it is to us. They're not anxious about it at all. I hope and believe it will be ratified next winter. Perhaps I should say there is some misunderstanding about that treaty. It simply extends the provisions of the existing treaty that was made in 1842 to several additional crimes."

Business Disasters.

NEW YORK, April 13.—The business failures occurring throughout the country during the last seven days, as reported to Dun, Wiman & Co. to-day, number for the United States 220, and for Canada 23, or a total of 243 as compared with 237 last week and 249 the week previous to the last.

THE FAVORITE OF FRANCE

BOULANGER ELECTED IN THE DEPARTMENT OF THE NORD.

An Overwhelming Majority—His Triumph Makes Bismarck Indispensable to Germany—What Does Boulanger Stand for—The Elections of France.

PARIS, April 15.—In the election to-day Boulanger received 172,000 votes, Pasquet 92,721 and Mercier 59,69.

The result of the election in Italy to-day causes a great sensation in Germany as well as in France. However reluctant may be the Empress Victoria to give up or postpone the projected marriage of her daughter to the bidding of a subject, another triumph for Gen. Boulanger makes the retention of Bismarck seem indispensable to the welfare of Germany. Whatever may be Boulanger's ultimate design, whether to make himself President of the French Republic, or to substitute a so-called strong Government by restoring the Bonaparte empire or the Bourbon monarchy, his ascendancy can best be regarded by all Germans as a grave danger.

The question of the hour, not only in France, but throughout Europe, is: What does Boulanger mean? The time has gone by when he might have been content with restoration to active service in the army, or even with reinstatement in his former post of War Minister. He may, however, think the Presidency a prize worth grasping. But who can say that he would stop there, and not use his mastery of the army and the legislature to make himself a dictator, or, what might be less invidious, to play the role of Gen. Monk on behalf of the Count of Paris, or of a representative of the Napoleonic dynasty? Some recent incidents are certainly indicative of affiliations on his part which bode no good to the Republic. In the division of the Chamber, which was ostensibly aimed against the Tirard Ministry, but was really a protest against the General's retirement, it was noticed that all the Bonapartists and part of the monarchists supported the demonstration. Again, his refusal of the seat to which he was returned by the Department of the Dordogne, and his preference to stand for Le Nord, a department which was carried at the last election, by the Bonapartists shows that he relied upon their votes, supplemented with those of some Radicals and Socialists. In other words, he will have a constituency almost identical in respect of its elements with that which made Louis Napoleon President about forty years ago.

Gen. Boulanger recents the idea that the predominance of his policy means war. He asserts that he believes in being ready for it, but not at all in declaring it. It is quite conceivable that he can see that abundant responsibility, outside of the war question, rests upon the leaders in French politics. France is staggering under the load of perhaps the heaviest national debts in the world. The funded statement is $4,200,515,222. But it is estimated that in all it amounts to $7,000,000,000. Possibly the debt of Russia is greater, but there is no arriving at the facts of it. Since the inauguration of the Republic France has not succeeded in keeping her interest down. Taxation weighs on the people as heavily as they can, with all their proverbial economy, bear.

The recent deposition of President Grevy shows that the Executive is at the mercy of the Chamber of Deputies. Practically his seven years' term is meaningless. The governmental machinery works so badly that there have been ever twenty Ministries in less than that number of years, and a steadfast policy either with relation to home or foreign affairs has been impossible. Whatever may be going wrong there is no doubt that the Constitution is faulty. It does not answer the purpose of the nation.

Of the several courses which events not distant may open to Boulanger, a restoration of the monarchy in the person of the Count of Paris would be undoubtedly the most dangerous to Germany. Not only would it forthwith sweep away the chief bar to an alliance of Russia with France, but, owing to the many dynastic relationships of the Orleans family, it would give France strong friends in England, Spain, Austria and even in South Germany, for the domination of Prussian militarism is not yet accepted as irrevocable at Munich and Stuttgart; witness the cheers given the other day for Boulanger in the Bavarian capital. On the other hand, a Bonapartist regime would have far less influence abroad, and be comparatively weak at home, since neither in the Prince Napoleon nor in his son Victor has it a popular or impressive representative.

But perhaps any French Government—not excepting Boulanger's individual dictatorship—which could present reasonable guarantees of stability, could secure a league with Russia, and the first triumph won over the Germans would make it unassailable at home. So that there has been no period since 1871 so pregnant with menace to Germany as the present hour; none in which the helm of state has more imperatively needed the skilled hand of Bismarck.

Shot in California.

HAMILTON, April 15.—Word has been received here by relatives that about a week ago Conductor John A. Massie, of the South Pacific Railway, formerly a well-known express conductor on the Great Western division of the Grand Trunk Railway, was severely wounded by a gambler. It appears the man had snatched a ticket from the hat of a China man, and Conductor Massie remonstrated. The gambler refused to give up the ticket, and a scuffle ensued, in which the gambler drew a revolver and fired. The ball lodged in a book in the left breast pocket, and Mr. Massie snatched the revolver and pummelled the gambler with it. As he was walking away the gambler drew a second revolver and shot the conductor in the back and thigh.

The Toronto Again Victorious in England—Toronto's Half Team Defeated Once More—The American Loses the First Race—Sports of Speed.

LONDON, April 14.—This was the third and last day of the Sandown Park Spring Meeting, with which is combined the Grand National Hunt Meeting. It is eminently a "national" meeting, the attraction to-day including the Grand International Steeplechase, the Prince of Wales Handicap and the Grand National Hunt Steeplechase. The Grand International Steeplechase was about three miles and a half and had nine compete, of which Mr. P. Nichol's Ballot Box was the top weight at 178 pounds, and the favorite at 2 to 1 against. After an exciting finish Ballot Box won by ½ length and a half from The Fawn second, with Gamecock a bad third. The Fawn started with the odds at 7 to 1 against, and Gamecock at 10 to 1 against. The race was run under the following conditions:

THE GRAND INTERNATIONAL STEEPLECHASE (Handicap of 400 sovs., by subscription of 5 guineas each, or 10 guineas in addition if not struck out by March 15, the 24 horse to receive 20 sovs. out of the stakes; twice round (walking races excepted) of any handicap steeplechase after March 15, to carry 6 lbs. of 200 sovs., 4 lbs. of 300 sovs., 12 lbs. of 400 sovs., 24 lbs. of 500 sovs. Mr. P. Toronto Again Beaten.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 14.—The Alleghanys easily defeated Toronto here to-day, the visitors being unable to do anything with Henderson, while Shepherd was hit freely. Shepherd had a finger crushed by a line hit which somewhat accounted for his being batted so hard. The score:

Batteries: Price and Henderson, Thayer and Shepherd. Umpire: Valentine.

The Hamm Beat McPherson's Nine.

HAMILTON, April 14.—The cold weather did much to keep the people from attending the ball match played here to-day between the Hamm and McPherson's nine. Barring a few wild throws and several weak attempts to hit the ball on the part of McPherson's, the game was quite interesting. Jones and Purvis did the battery work for McPherson's, while Wood and Moore officiated in that capacity for the Hamm. The feature of the game was the hitting by Purvis and a pretty little bunt made by Addison, on which he reached first base. Manager Fisher sat on the bench, carefully sizing up each player as he was brought into action. The game resulted in favor of the Hamm by 6 to 4.

The American Loses the First Race.

LOWDON, April 14.—The first of the series of three bicycle races between W. A. Rowe of Lynn, Mass., and Richard Howell, the English champion, for £1000 and the championship of the world, was contested on the Belgrave cycling grounds at Leicester to-day. The distance was five miles and the betting before the start was 7 to 4 on Howell. In the send-off Howell gained a slight advantage. The two settled down to earnest work but without forcing the pace, and the exhibition given was the finest ever seen on the grounds. Howell maintained the lead he had gotten at the start until the beginning of the last lap, when Rowe spurted and got several yards ahead. Shortly before the finish Howell, seeing that Rowe's effort had pumped him severely, concentrated his energies into an extraordinary burst of speed, and overhauling the American placed himself in front and finished a winner by five yards in 13 min. 37 1-5 sec.

Toemer and Gaudaur Matched.

BOSTON, April 14.—John Toemer and Jake Gaudaur signed articles to-day for a single scull race three miles with a turn for gate receipts, to take place on Decoration Day over a course to be mutually agreed upon. The winner is to take 75 per cent. of the receipts.

The Toronto Win Easily.

LONDON, April 14.—The Toronto Lacrosse team played a game to-day with the South Essex team and were victorious, the score standing ten goals to two in favor of the Canadians.

MONDAY, APRIL 16, 1888.

Fraserville.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mrs. McElroy departed this life on Saturday, April 7th, aged 76 years. Her remains were interred in the Baptist cemetery, one concession south of Fraserville, on Monday at 2 p.m. During the last year or so she has been residing at her son's residence here. Mr. McElroy and his family have the sympathy of many friends in their sad bereavement.

Rev. R. Greatrix, our much beloved pastor, delivered an eloquent address on Sabbath, April 8th. The words of his text were:—"Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love, in honour preferring one another." His discourse throughout evinced profound thought and was truly practical. Mr. Greatrix has endeared himself to the Methodist people as well as to others on this circuit; and when comes his time for saying good-bye to his many friends here, it will be with reluctance they will respond, knowing how difficult it will be to get another so able to instruct and so conscientious in performing his duty. As a sermonizer, we believe his equal has not occupied the Methodist pulpit in this place.

Mr. Alex. Lackey, formerly postmaster here, is now engaged in the military school, Toronto.

Mr. John O'Hara, of Port Hope, intends moving at an early date to settle in our flourishing village.

Mr. Armstrong has given up farming and intends spending the residue of his days within the corporation.

The beautiful and attractive horse known so well throughout Central Ontario by the name of "Netherby," was sold a few weeks ago. Mr. Robt. Stewart obtained an excellent price for him. Mr. Stewart has had a great experience in the buying and selling of horses and quickly can discern a good piece of horseflesh.

We are pleased to learn that Mrs. Henry Nethercott, who has been so ill, is gradually recovering.

COUNCIL MEETING.

Council met on March 12th, all the members present; minutes of last meeting read and confirmed.

The treasurer was ordered to pay W. A. Graham the sum of $15—for support of Lizzie Toms during her illness at his residence. A by-law distributing $1,050 for the repair of roads passed its several readings. The sum of $23.41 was allowed as abatements on the Collector's roll for 1887, $15 of which is for statute labor already performed. The sum of $30 was granted to aid in building a sidewalk in the village of Bridgenorth. The clerk was instructed to give notice by three insertions in each of two papers that any violation of by-law No. 441—which prohibits the depositing of any rubbish, stones, earth or any material which may be or become an obstruction on any public highway, or the removal of any clay, sand, gravel, timber or other material without proper authority—will be prosecuted according to law.

The council adjourned to meet on the 26th day of May as a Court of Revision.

Fourth Line Smith.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Religious services will be held in the Temperance Hall on this line, on Sunday evenings from this time forward. The meetings will be conducted by some of the brethren from Peterborough, and it is to be hoped they will be favored with a good audience.

The farmers in this vicinity are busy making maple syrup and preparing their implements for the spring work, as it will probably commence in the course of a week.

Some of those who went from this vicinity to Manitoba had considerable delay on account of the great snow blockade that took place on the 12th and 13th March.

Miss Carrie Marshall, of this place, and Mr. Eli Mitchal, of Emily, united in marriage on Wednesday last, April 11th, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. John Marshall. Rev. Mr. Walsh, of Omemee, tied the knot. I wonder who'll be the next lucky man?

Not a Barnardo Boy.

Capt. W. G. Annesley, superintendent of the Barnardo Home here, writes the EXAMINER to correct a clipping from a Brantford paper which appeared in the Mail of April 12th, to the effect that a vicious boy, one of Dr. Barnardo's children, had been giving the Brantford authorities a great deal of trouble. Capt. Annesley encloses a copy of a letter from the chief of police, Brantford, stating that the boy belongs to the Stevenson Home, Hamilton. This will relieve the Barnardo Home of all responsibility in the matter, and it is pleasing to know that this first alleged case of viciousness on the part of one of Dr. Barnardo's boys has been proven untrue.

Water Filters.

To insure good health it is absolutely necessary to have pure water, and no water is entirely free from floating matter and disease germs without thorough filtration. The majority of cases of typhoid and other low fevers are in a measure caused from unfiltered and impure water, so that every family who values its health should have a reliable filter. Numerous filters are offered to the public varying in points of excellence, but for cheapness, efficiency and durability, our filters cannot be surpassed. No corroding substances are used in construction. The packing material is the most powerful specialty prepared granulated carbon. It will last for years with the ordinary use of a family, and the material may be obtained from us at any time for replenishing at small expense. Sold in Peterborough only at China Hall. dw

Lines of Thanks.

To my numerous friends, not only in Peterborough but the surrounding country, for the unbounded patronage they have extended to me since my book of poems appeared before the public:—

If I could grasp my inmost thoughts, and place them in a manner pleasant to the eye,
They would express and make it understood
How my heart swells with thankful gratitude.

Although my thoughts soar up on fancy's
My language fails their meaning to explain;
Though I speak not, the language guides the Reveals their import to our fellow men.

Here I fall short; on that success depends,
Words to give thanks unto my numerous
Heart full of love, thoughts flowing through my Words to express them—oft I seek in vain.

If but my pen could bring my thoughts to view,
Such high encomiums I would showing as yet;
Your free response, your patronage so kind,
Have made my venture pleasing to my mind.

My book's success, the ready sale it finds,
I attribute unto your favorable minds;
I would not mention if I did not own
The thousandfold favor you to me have shown.

I speak to all, regardless of your ranks,
To rich and poor, I render heartfelt thanks,
Let every vote, yea, every class and creed,
Accept my thanks, when these few lines they read.

It was a great risk when I undertook
To bring to light many plain but truthful book;
As more I thought darker my doubtings grew,
Success or failure rested all on you.

Your readiest given, surprises, pleases me,
Support most liberal I received from thee,
Prompted by love, esteem or pure respect,
Ten times surpassing what I did expect.

Not in this town alone, but country round,
Hosts of admirers I have daily found;
Daily come orders, unto me addressed
From California around to the North west.

I never thought, in truth I disbelieved
My homely book would be so well received;
I was aware my enemies were but few,
My numerous friends, till now, I never knew.

I think each one that freely bought a book,
And all true friends who deeper interest took;
Although I can't their freewill acts repay,
I will them cherish to my dying day.

I feel delighted—yea, and honoured too,
The high respect and favor shown by you;
My aim shall be in future as the past,
To please my friends, and love gained to hold fast.

My thanks are not inspired by flattering ar,
But true emotions of a grateful heart;
Within each home where my lines are, I trust,
Will be admired, when I am in the dust.

PROTESTANTS EXCITED.

Montreal Stirred up over the Proposed Statue to the Virgin.

MONTREAL, April 15.—Protestant Montreal has been excited as it never was before by the proposal to erect a mammoth statue of the Virgin Mary in the Mountain Park, and today in every Protestant church, irrespective of denomination, a united and earnest protest against the scheme was made during the sermons, the congregations being earnestly urged to sign the petition against such desecration of the public property in which Protestants have equal rights with the Roman Catholic majority. That this advice was taken was shown by the rush after the services to sign, and it was not long before the whole of the church-going Protestant Montreal had placed itself on record on the subject. A special joint meeting of the Evangelical Alliance and the Ministerial Association has been called for to-morrow morning to consider the subject, when some very plain talk may be expected.

The promoters of the project have opportunely waited until the Catholics have secured a majority on the Board of Park Commissioners to whom the subject has been referred, as until this year the Protestants have always had either two or three of the four commissioners, while now they have only one. That the project will receive the sanction of the commissioners is certain, but the great fight will occur in the City Council, and even there, unless moderate councils prevail among the Catholic majority, the necessary leave to erect the statue will be granted.

It was felt that when Sir Donald Smith and Sir George Stephen made their gift of a million dollars for a jubilee memorial hospital, provided a section of the park was deeded as a site by the city, that it would be the entering wedge to the diversion of the magnificent domain from the citizens, but no one thought that it would come so quickly. It is now suggested, and it is believed both the millionaire projectors of the hospital would agree, that it would be better to abandon the park site altogether rather than make it a precedent for the statue business, and it is almost certain this course will be pressed on the Council.

If the project carries the statue, to be designed by Hebert, the French-Canadian sculptor, will be of bronze, 200 feet high and will represent the Madonna with the Child, with uplifted hands clasped, gazing down on the city.

The feeling among Protestants, particularly the extreme element, is that if the statue is erected it will be blown up some night and lead to a repetition of the scandalous religious quarrels which have so disgraced Montreal in the past. It is estimated that at least 10,000 people signed the petition appealing to the Council not to sanction the project, and many more thousands will record their protestations this coming week.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Lawyer Stephenson is another Central Bank wanderer over the broad expanse of Uncle Sam's domain. He has fled the city after disposing of his property in Toronto, and is now travelling westward to join those "not lost but gone before." He owes the defunct bank $30,000 straight, and according to his intimates has left Canada under the advice of his solicitor, pending an attempted settlement of the claim against him.

The latest reports from Denison Township, which lies to the west of Sudbury, are to the effect that there has been another find of gold, the precious metal being this time struck in the 6th concession on lots owned by Toronto parties, among whom are George R. Kelth, John E. Mitchell and Kenneth Miller.

THE AMERICAN EXCHANGE.

One of its New York Promoters—An Explanation of the Failure.

NEW YORK, April 14.—One of the adjuncts of the American Exchange in Europe, limited, was the World's Travel Company, at the corner of Broadway and Fulton-street, which transacts a railroad, steamboat and ocean steamship ticket business. At the office of the company business went on as usual to-day. Manager Orr said the firm was not affected by the embarrassment of the American Exchange in Europe, although they were intimately connected in business and Mr. Gillig was interested in both.

W. Nelson Cromwell, counsel for Mr. Gillig, attributes the failure of the Exchange to the run of sensons depositors on the bank, and thinks it was caused by the shelling of Mr. Gillig by the press about that affair with Mr. Gambill, and to the English people misunderstanding the reports sent over there. He thought that everything would be arranged satisfactorily and the suspension would only prove a temporary block.

Gillig Off for Europe.

NEW YORK, April 14.—Henry V. Gillig of the American Exchange quietly sailed for Europe this morning, taking passage on the Etruria of the Cunard Line just before she left her wharf. Special Treasury Agent Agnew was recently anonymously warned that Gillig was preparing to leave New York, but paid no attention to the communication. It is now alleged that several smuggled articles of jewelry have been traced to Gillig by the customs authorities.

The Queenstown Branch Embarrassed.

LONDON, April 14.—The branch office at Queenstown of the American Exchange in Europe has failed to honor a number of drafts, including one United States Government draft, which was presented by the Consul.

Considering the Probabilities.

LONDON, April 15.—The St. James Gazette, in a long leader considering the probabilities in the event of Gen. Boulanger's becoming the head of the French Government, says: "The safeguards of peace which exist in the parliamentary system will vanish. The Czar will no longer find it difficult to make terms with France and the despotic Government will have ample means of persuading the nation that it is forced into war. The only thing that may restrain Boulanger from war is his fear that the venture may prove a failure, resulting in his military and political, if not actual death. It is important for us to realize that Boulanger's wife is a bitter hater of England, apart from such influences, and there are reasons for believing that Boulanger would be as likely to turn his attention to us as to Germany. Germany is ready, but England is not, and this fact supplies the opportunity to the Man of Destiny to seize with his own hands the occasion wherewith to strike a sudden blow. Every morning there are enough English steamers in French harbors to furnish transportation across the channel for 50,000 men. These troops could be seized at will, and there have been many times within the last few years when such a force could march to London unopposed, as well as times when no fleet at home could have stopped the movement. A thing of this kind could be accomplished if at all in a few hours."

A telegram from St. Petersburg asserts that Prince Bismarck has expressed to the German Emperor his opinion that Gen. Boulanger is likely to become Dictator of France with consequent increasing danger of war. Hence the firm friendship of Russia is of the utmost importance to Germany. This argument is said to have been most potent in inducing the Emperor to forego his intention to unite his daughter to Prince Alexander, the Czar's particular aversion. It is also asserted both here and in Berlin that Russian money is behind the Boulanger movement in France.

NO PLACE FOR LUNATICS.

St. Andrew's Carlyle Does Not Want the Asylum in His Ward.

TORONTO, April 16.

Mayor Clarke, Ald. Baxter, St. Andrew's Carlyle, Ritchie, McMillan, Verral and Barton and Jail Governor Green waited on Premier Mowat on Saturday afternoon to press upon him the desirability of removing the Insane Asylum from its present site in St. Andrew's ward.

Ald. Carlyle said the 3000 feet of wall along one of the principal thoroughfares impeded the growth of that part of the city; that the asylum was inadequate in providing room for the lunatics whose admission was sought; that in consequence of insufficient accommodation 24 lunatics were confined in the jail; and that the value of the land on which the asylum stood rendered it an undesirable place for a site for the asylum. The Government would profit in every way by building a suitable asylum somewhere else and selling the land where the asylum now stood.

Mr. Mowat deplored the circumstance as to the confinement of lunatics in the jail. But it was so all over the country, and this being a large place accounted for the large number. The Government had made every effort to provide proper accommodation, but, notwithstanding, they had found it impossible to cope with the present pressing wants. Cottages were now being erected at Mimico. The removal of the asylum would be considered.

Ald. Ritchie wished to know when the property along the proposed Dovercourt-road extension was to be placed on the market. It was necessary to know soon as the subway was being built under the railway tracks on King street, and it was desirable that the Engineer should know whether the Dovercourt-road would be opened as it would tap the subway.

Mr. Mowat said [illegible] the civic authorities [illegible] whether the property would [illegible] or not.

LOCAL NEWS.

The Weather.

Moderate to fresh, north to north-west winds; fair, cool weather; not much change in temperature.

The Glad of Spring.

Spring clothes the earth and the people thereof with newness, and the ladies will find at the golden lion the most splendid range of fashionable, stylish or elegant dress goods with trimmings to match. New, stylish and reasonable—and of moderate price. Go and see them ladies and you will be surprised at the beauty and variety.

As Just as You Please.

Councillor Langford requests the EXAMINER to contradict the reports that are being spread about town that it is compulsory upon every householder to number his house according to the new plan. The thing is entirely optional. Anyone desiring his house number can procure it from the town clerk when it arrives, but those who do not wish to number their houses are at perfect liberty to follow their own inclinations.

Sudden Insanity.

A Winnipeg despatch of Wednesday, 11th inst., says:—"Mr. Wilcox, a school teacher en route from Lindsay, Ont., to Virden with his family, became suddenly insane while stopping at the Clifton house in this city. The doctors pronounce him suffering from softening of the brain. Mrs. Percy, a widow and the mother of five children, while in a fit of mental aberration, attempted to gain admittance to the Catholic presbytery by climbing through a window in a naked condition and was terribly cut by the glass.

Fire Laddies to the Fore.

The Peterborough Fire Brigade have received a couple of invitations to tournaments at Brantford and Uxbridge this summer. The Brantford affair is billed as "a grand international firemen's tournament and band competition," and will be held on Wednesday, June 20th. The prize list amounts to $700 in cash. The date of the Kingardine tournament is some time in August, at which also a Volunteer Firemen's Association for Ontario is to be organized, with the object of more closely uniting the volunteer firemen of the province. The local fire brigade will meet this evening and consider the invitations.

"Triple A" Topics.

Mr. H. Day, the new professional cricket club coach and caretaker of the grounds, has arrived in town and began his duties this morning. He will at once proceed to place the grounds in good order.

A meeting of the cricket club committee was held Saturday night to arrange dates for coming matches. Those with New York, Toronto and Rosedale were fixed, the latter, though, not till this morning. Mr. E. B. Rogers goes to Ottawa this week and will personally arrange a match with the Capital club; the match with the Irish Gentlemen cannot be settled till the next mail arrives; Port Hope's offer to make things pleasant for Peterborough should they visit the lake shore, but promising no match in return, was considered unsatisfactory and rejected.

The Athletic Association are preparing to run a big excursion to Belleville on Dominion Day to the annual meet of the Canadian Wheelmen's Association.

Mr. R. M. Roy expects to get some fine views of athletic events this year, notably of the cricket matches between the Irish, Scotch and New York teams against Peterborough.

A Senator Entangled.

A prominent and distinguished senator, a veritable Pogram, will have a hearing at the Opera House this evening, when Mrs. Scott-Siddons will present his unfortunate position—entangled in the coarse of a cool, calculating, and brilliant Italian Countess in Florence. Mrs. Siddons may not be quite successful in producing the "twang" of our American cousin, but in the broken English of the Countess, as she leads her senatorial victim on and on to his total discomfiture, will, no doubt, be simply inimitable. Add to this, among the array of numbers, the humorous "Auction Extraordinary" in which a number of old bachelors will be auctioned off, and will be "knocked down" at very good figures to an equal number of spinsters who will attend the sale, will create the the greatest merriment. Plan at Hartley's up to 7 o'clock.

"CONSIDER where it comes from" can be applied to more things than a kicking mule, and on the butter question it comes in with decided emphasis. The Pantry is noted for keeping the choicest article in town.

Police Paragraphs.

Richard McBride is an adept at reading other men's characters by the bumps on their heads, indeed he is much better at that than judging his own capacity for corn-juice. In plain words Dick got drunk Saturday night—moon eyed, in fact, because he couldn't re-cognize Officer Stewart when the latter undertook to assist him to the police station. Dick resisted vigorously and shouted "Pur-lice! Pur-lice! I'm being robbed! They're killing me!" at the top of his voice. He fought and tore around to the extent of his full muscular development, but was finally conquered and landed in the cells. He was dismissed with a warning next day.

Albert Curtis departed from his usual discreet and orderly ways Saturday night by getting on a "high old header," which ended in a comfortable night's lodging in the cells. The police magistrate to-day discharged him on the merits of his previous good character.

Mud. Its Origin and Disposition.

It is estimated that a wagon load of mud is equal to one yard or twenty seven square feet. Inspector Pope has ten teams drawing away the little pyramids of scrapings that line the principal streets, and each team is supposed to deposit about thirty five loads a day on the Central Park ground, where it will be used to level up the hollows. Ten teams drawing thirty-five loads of 27 square feet of mud a day would mean nearly 10,000 square feet of earth; and as there has been enough mud scraped up to keep this number of teams, with their shovellers, busy about three days, by Wednesday there will be about 30,000 square feet of filling-in deposited on Central Park. That ought to be about sufficient to level the ground. The streets are scraped two or three times a year, and the query is, where does all the mud come from? Inspector Pope denies that it is the gravel put on while the streets are dry, because he says he does not pick up altogether two loads of pure gravel in the whole scraping. He accounts for it by the sweepings from the stores and the natural amount of dirt consequent upon the driving of hundreds of horses every day, which, he says, in the course of a year on George street alone would amount to 200 loads. The streets are, he says, scraped in the fall, snow comes on and remains all winter, but in the spring the mud is there just the same, and the above is the only way he can account for it.

Church Chimes.

QUESTIONS AND WORLDLY AMUSEMENTS.

Sunday evening the Charlotte street Methodist were crowded to the doors. The occasion was the delivering, by the pastor, Rev. I. Tovell, of the last of a series of sermons on "Christianity, its relation to pleasure and amusements." His remarks were prefaced by pointing out that it was impossible to draw hard and fast lines, and that Christian principle should be the guide. All lawful amusements were not, however, to be embraced into. Christians should bear in mind the possible effects of their example upon others. Coming to specific amusements, severe denunciation was visited upon gambling, in all its forms, betting at elections, etc., as evils of the greatest magnitude, but the soul of approval was placed upon lawn teads, lacrosse and even baseball, when the latter was not played professionally. Skating, curling and tobogganing were also lawful amusements though a man should, before undertaking tobogganing, become a christian. Chess, checkers and bagatelle, carpet ball etc., were also included in the list of lawful amusements. The evil was not always in the amusement itself, but in the abuse of it, and several examples were adduced to define and prove this position, but no quarter was given to cards. They were unreservedly and unsparingly denounced as only evil and that continually. No consecrated Christian would allow a card to be played in his house. Dancing was approved of—such dancing as that indulged in by David when he danced before the Lord. But the modern dance, as practiced in promiscuous public assemblies, was unsparingly denounced—where virtuous women were placed in positions in relation to the opposite sex which on any other occasion would be considered an insult. Theatres came in for a full share of condemnation. The claim that they taught moral lessons was no excuse for their existence. The lessons assumed to be taught could be taught much more effectively in a harmless way. The theatre was wholly bad—any and every attempt to reform its many-sided evils had failed and would fail again. The race course was also condemned, as with horse racing, boat racing, etc. The address was listened to with great attention and interest.

Rev. A. Bell in St. Andrew's Church Sunday night preached on the accountability of man to God for the gifts He had bestowed on us. God had given more to some men than to others, but they were equally accountable for the use and abuse of those natural gifts. But the Bible always placed spiritual matters over natural or material affairs, so it was man's first duty to make his peace with God and then dedicate his gifts to Christian uses.

Rev. E. F. Torrance on Sunday evening concluded his series of sermons on "The Pilgrams' Progress."

Rev. Messrs. I. Tovell and J. C. Wilson exchanged pulpits yesterday morning.

AS MUCH A SECRET AS EVER

To the Editor of the Examiner:—SIR—How in the world has C. B. ROUTLEY jumped into such a big slice of the Wall Paper trade? Why it seems as if one couldn't pass his store without running against a load of Wall Paper in the arms of some pleased looking customer. I'm half inclined to think there must have been lots of boodle in the Wall Paper business before ROUTLEY started it, and that the people have found out that he has broken the combination. Eh! what did you think, Mr. Editor? And yet you occasionally hear of spasmodic attempts to get down to ROUTLEY'S prices, in order to head him off; but still it seems as much a secret as ever how he keeps up the run.

Yours truly,
A. PAPER-HANGER.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

MR. JAMIESON BRINGS IN HIS PROHIBITION MOTION.

A Lively Debate—The Debate on the Fisheries Treaty Resumed—A Vigorous Speech of Mr. Mills'—The Bill Passes its Second Reading.

OTTAWA, April 16.—The House this afternoon was regaled with a spirited across-the-floor quarrel between alleged temperance advocates. Mr. Jamieson, the auburn-bearded prohibitionist from North Lanark, got into an entanglement with the "Mills of Bothwell." Both of these gentlemen look at the so-called temperance question through purely political eyeglasses. Mr. Jamieson is just as good a Tory as Mr. Mills is a Grit. They hit each other in the eye for nearly two hours in the most vigorous manner.

Mr. Jamieson called up his resolution, similar to the one he moved last session:

That in the opinion of this House it is expedient to prohibit the manufacture, importation and sale of intoxicating liquors except for sacramental, scientific and medicinal purposes; that the enforcement of such prohibition, and such manufacture, importation and sale may be allowed by the Dominion Government to be continued through specially appointed officers.

This motion was exterminated at the last session of Parliament and the mover gave as an excuse for reproducing it this session that the personnel of the House had considerably changed by reason of the numerous by-elections. Mr. Jamieson said that the Scott Act was only a partial prohibitory measure. It prevented the sale of liquor, but it did not prevent its importation. He did not expect that his resolution would pass, but it was the intention of himself and the promoters of the motion to keep it before the people and the House until a measure for the entire suppression of the liquor traffic was placed upon the statute book. He hoped that that day was not far off. Speaking of compensation to those in the business he remarked:

If I were sure that it would do away with the traffic I would put my hand in my pocket and contribute my share to buy them out, although I will not admit that they are entitled to it.

Mr. Mills laughed at Mr. Jamieson's abstract temperance proposition. He said he would be prepared to vote for such a resolution if it were followed by a measure giving effect to such a declaration. Mr. Mills then declared that it was useless to pass temperance acts of Parliament that a majority of the people would not respect. What we wanted was a public sentiment in favor of Prohibition, to be followed by such legislation as would give effect to such a sentiment. The member for Bothwell here made an onslaught on Mr. Jamieson's sincerity as a temperance man and assured the House that "the member for North Lanark was a Government supporter first and a temperance man afterwards." He also charged him with insincerity at every point, and with being an impeder of temperance legislation. "Mr. Mackenzie," said Mr. Mills, "was the only man in Parliament who had ever put any temperance legislation on the statute books." Neither Mr. Jamieson nor any of his political allies had ever done anything in that direction.

By permission of the House Mr. Jamieson was allowed to reply, and in doing so got himself into a hot corner with Mr. Fisher of Brome, and other temperance workers on the Opposition side of the House, with the result of showing that there was no sympathy in common between the temperance men on one side, and the same advocates on the other.

At 5.45 Mr. Scriver moved the adjournment of the debate, and it is freely prophesied that Mr. Jamieson's motion will not be heard of again this session.

The debate on the Fisheries Treaty was resumed by Mr. Mills. He confessed himself unable to understand the extraordinary haste with which the Minister of Finance was pushing the matter forward. It was the United States which had been demanding concessions, and it would be well for the Canadian Parliament to wait and see if they were willing to accept the concessions which had been made. In twenty-four hours the Senate of the United States would probably either reject or postpone the treaty. If Canada, without waiting for their action, adopted the treaty, it would be made a starting ground for new concessions. If then, the treaty was rejected and negotiations were opened, the ambassador on behalf of Canada could not very well take exception to matters which the Parliament of Canada had already conceded. Canada had everything to gain by awaiting the action of the United States Senate. Mr. Mills sketched the history of the negotiations which resulted in the forming of the treaty. At first the Canadian Ministers acted as if they were trying to copy the diplomatic manners of two centuries ago, when ambassadors stood at opposite ends of the room, and the man who stepped out first was regarded as having sacrificed the dignity of his country. The Ministers, mindful of their own dignity, began the business with lofty pretensions and proud reserves. Then came the vexatious and worrying Custom House regulations and police regulations, unjust, harsh, and, in most cases, unnecessary. Then the American Government were told that they would have the use of any fisheries in return for the free admission of fish into the United States. The defence of the Ministers of Marine was that he had kept strictly within his rights but he ought to have stood in accordance with humanity and the spirit of modern civilization. The consequence of the enforcement of these regulations was described by the Minister of Finance when he said that sixty millions of people of the United States were exasperated against us, and it was that exasperation which compelled our representatives to make a discreditable surrender of our rights. Mr. Mills referred to Sir Charles' declaration last year, that if the Americans enforced the Bush-Haverscombe Bill Great Britain might discriminate in favor of Canadian and against American grain, and asked whether he was authorized by the British Government to make the threat. Sir Charles here interrupted with the complaint that Mr. Mills, by quoting confidences of his words, was doing him an injustice. Mr. Mills said that he would read the whole of Sir Charles' speech, but Sir Charles would send for The Mail and there the matter dropped. Mr. Mills said he would like to know whether His Excellency the Governor-General had received any communication from the Home Government in consequence of Sir Charles' declaration.

In reply to Sir Richard Cartwright, the Minister of Finance said he would deliver the budget speech on Tuesday of next week. He expected to bring down the supplementary estimates before that date.

The treaty bill was read a second time, and will be considered in committee of the whole to-morrow.

The House adjourned at 2.20 a.m.

NEWS FROM THE TORONTOS OF THEIR GAMES IN ENGLAND.

The Toronto Ball Team again Beaten by Pittsburg—Baseball Games Yesterday—A Fight Between Hillyard and Ashton—Spots of Sport.

HARROGATE, April 2.—We reached here last night from Manchester and passed yesterday, the first quiet day since our landing. At the station we were met by Mr. Ben. Schofield of Bradford. Mr. Schofield, whom all the members of the 1885 team will remember, and who says that he has forgotten none of them, Scapitain of the York County combined team, and a vice-presidens of the North of England Lacrosse Association. On his shoulders rests the greater part of the somewhat heavy burden of carrying the game in Yorkshire, and he is a whole reception committee in himself. To-morrow, under his charge, we will drive to the Regimental Steeplechase at Wetherby, about 7 miles from here. On Tuesday we play at Bradford against Cheshire and Yorkshire, and on Thursday in Harrogate against Yorkshire and Nottingham. We return to Manchester on Friday. To return in my letter for a moment to Manchester. When we got back from our jaunt in Derbyshire on Good Friday evening, we assembled in our big parlors at the hotel, and in presence of a couple of dozen Manchester and Owens College men, presented Mr. E. C. Swallow with an album containing the portraits of the members of our team, a small sign of our appreciation of the many kind acts done us by Mr. Swallow and the gentlemen whom he represents.

Saturday morning was our first opportunity to see a little of Manchester on our own account, and most of the boys spent their time and money in buying clothes. And now Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. In the afternoon at Withington we played our second game, this time against South Manchester. Garvin, jr., replaced McHenry. The game resulted in a decisive victory for the Torontos by seven goals to none. Our boys played as usual, carefully at first at all points, but when assured of their supremacy, with more attention to the prettier features of the game. The home men, to show their dodging and passing powers, missed a round score of chances. But from what we have seen in the two games played we have concluded that the Englishmen are made of proper lacrosse stuff, and that when the game has been in this country long enough to admit of the rise of a generation of players trained in their use they will fight for the world's championship on equal terms with Canadians.

To describe the manner in which we have been received is next to impossible. Lacrosse men here think a deal more of the game for itself even than we do at home. During our visit they have indicated their love for the game by living with us, almost standing at our elbows to prevent our payment of a single half-penny (for extras), anticipating our every desire and showing us as much of their towns and country sides as possible in the time at their disposal.

The Stars' First Game.

NEWARK, N.J., April 16.—The Syracuse club played their first game of the season in this city to-day with the home team. The game was well played and the attendance good.

Toronto Suffer Another Defeat.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 16.—The home team had rather a picnic with the Torontos to-day, knocking Casey all over the field. Galvin was batted freely, but his support was excellent, while that of Casey was decidedly wretched. Score:

Kilrain Will Fight Ashton.

NEW YORK, April 16.—George W. Atkinson, of The London Sporting Life, sends the following telegram here to Kilrain's backer: London, April 16.—Jake Kilrain will fight Jack Ashton ten weeks from signing articles according to London prize ring rules for £1000 a side, the diamond belt and the championship of the world, the battle to be fought in England or France. Kilrain will allow Ashton £300 for expenses. Cable if accepted.

A Buffalo Pug Knocked Out.

NEW YORK, April 16.—A prize fight took place last night on board a vessel lying in Gowan's Bay, between Paddy Smith of Brooklyn and Frank Burke of Buffalo, in which the latter was knocked out in the seventh round. Both men were badly punished.

Spots of Sport.

Albany has signed a new player named Kuhns.

McQuery has been appointed captain of the Syracuse Stars.

The Jersey City club promises a novelty in the shape of an Indian pitcher.

The Torontos will play with the Pittsburgs to-day and to-morrow at the Smoky City.

Cleveland is after Toronto's left fielder, Burke, but it won't get him.

Lacey is lame and not playing with the Torontos at present. He is very fat and not in condition yet.

The trouble between Keefe and the New York Club will be settled in a few days.

Manager Cushman says that Casey has lots of cheek, and at Cincinnati he gave the Reds the laugh every time they missed a ball. He caught the great Nicole napping twice off bases.

The Association season at Brooklyn will open to-morrow. On this occasion President Byrne of the Brooklyn Club will invite all the ministers and prominent men to see the game.

The secretary of the Wellington Junior Baseball Club of Toronto has sent a challenge to the London papers stating that they will play any junior club in the county of Middlesex.

A TRUE BILL.

Against Manager Creighton in the Mercier Case—A Settlement Probable.

QUEBEC, April 16.—The indictment charging D. Creighton, M.P.P., with having published a criminal libel on Premier Mercier in The Empire, was sent to the Grand Jury to-day and they at once found a true bill. Mr. Creighton has been admitted to bail and the trial will probably occur towards the end of this week, that is if the case is not settled out of court as is deemed probable.

The intimacy between complainant and defendant which began at the Canadian Pacific Railway Depot in Montreal on Sunday night has evidently grown, as Mr. Mercier called on the Toronto newspaper man to-night and had quite a long chat. It is rumored that if Mr. Creighton will agree to plead guilty Premier Mercier will be satisfied and all proceedings will be stayed, but this cannot be confirmed.

The German Emperor's Condition.

BERLIN, April 16.—This afternoon this bulletin, signed by Drs. Mackenzie, Wegner, Krause and Hovell, was issued:

CHARLOTTENBURG, 2.30 p.m.—The Emperor did not pass a good night, bronchitis having supervened yesterday, accompanied by high fever and shortness of breath.

The doctors in attendance upon Emperor Frederick held a consultation to-day, and decided that the bronchitis was limited and that no pneumonia was present. Dr. Mackenzie fears pneumonia will set in in consequence of the Emperor's continued high temperature, which the attack of bronchitis alone does not explain. Other doctors have been summoned to join in another consultation to-night.

During the evening the Emperor was very weak, and his fever was much higher. There was no improvement in his other symptoms. It was reported that inflammation of the lungs had set in.

At midnight all the members of the Imperial family were summoned to the Emperor's bedside. The worst is feared.

Prince Bismarck visited Emperor Frederick this morning. Crown Prince William and the Grand Duke of Baden subsequently paid a visit to the Emperor. The Dowager Empress Augusta and the Grand Duchess of Baden called upon the Emperor at Charlottenburg last evening.

Dr. Schweninger advises Prince Bismarck, who is suffering from overwork and nervousness, to leave Berlin. He urges him to sojourn at Friedrichsruhe.

BERLIN, April 16.—A warning has been issued to German holders to sell Russian stocks.

A Narrow Escape.

MONTREAL, April 16.—An accident in which the victim had a narrow escape from death occurred on the 3.15 train to Island Pond, Saturday afternoon. F. J. Smith, an employe of the Canadian Express Company, on nearing St. Hubert station put eye his head to ascertain how far they were away from it. A semaphore extending over the track caught his head, knocking him between the train and platform. The accident was witnessed by the engine driver, who immediately reversed his engine, and, with the other officials, proceeded to the scene of the accident. To their great surprise they found the man still living, though unconscious. The wounded man was brought back to the city. Latest accounts report him to be progressing favorably.

Dr. Lavallee's Case.

MONTREAL, April 16.—At the close of the preliminary enquete in the case of Dr. Lavallee, ex-Legislative Councillor, who is charged with misappropriation of colonization road money, a warrant of commitment issued, but a writ of prohibition from Judge Doherty's Court was served on the magistrate. This, of course, put a summary stop to proceedings, so far as the magistrate is concerned, but, on Friday evening, Dr. Lavallee was arrested in accordance with instructions issued by the Attorney-General and admitted to bail.

CHICAGO, April 16.—It is stated here that the Standard Oil Company has completed all its arrangements for building a pipe line from Lima, Ohio, to Chicago for the cheap and rapid transportation of the crude oil which is destined to take the place of coal in the great manufacturing establishments in Chicago.

WHO SHALL BE OUR CHIEF?

The Appointment Still a Burning Question.

The Town Council Can Come to no Decision- The Absence of One Man Felt—Other Business at the Meeting—A Public Meeting to be Called to Consider the Sewerage Scheme.

They filled the seats, lined the walls, crowded into the committee room, and even encroached upon the magic circle of aldermanic glory, did the spectators at Monday night's meeting of the town council, so anxious were they to hear the police question discussed and decided. The first part of the programme was well carried out, each of the participants performing his part creditably and receiving liberal applause. The anti-Adamites, however, when it came to a vote, felt severely the absence of Mr. Douglass, the only member not present. The result was a dead-lock, and so the grand finale that was to witness the triumph of one or the other party, did not come to pass.

Talk of "eloquence wasted on the desert air!" Though not entirely wasted on the spectators, all the discussion indulged in was practically useless. Every member of the board had by this time made up his mind which side he should support, and the opposition might talk till they were black in the face but not one vote could they have altered; and to the interested observer who has followed out this controversy all along, the fight Monday night would appear almost absurd and certainly futile. The audience seemed to be pretty well divided on the question, the speakers on both sides being liberally applauded, though chairman Hartley frequently remonstrated to the effect that "all that stamping wasn't necessary."

HOISTING THE SIGNAL.

Preliminary business (a resume of which is given below) was hustled through "with neatness and despatch," the picking of the "bone of contention" being reserved till the last as a sort of rarebit to wind up the night's entertainment. Flagging interest revived from the lethargy brought on by the dull routine of reading communications and accounts, when Chairman Kendry, of the Appointments Committee, read the report recommending the appointment of Geo. Rossell, of Catherines, as chief of police at a salary of $700; R. H. Adams, constable, at a salary of $550; C. McGinty and A. McIntosh, constables, at $450; all the men to supply their own clothing. The report further recommended an increase of Janitress Elliott's salary to $3 per week; the appointment of Robt. Pope street and building inspector at a salary of $600; and that police commissioners be appointed according to the statute.

Heads flew up, eyes lost their sleepy looks, and necks were craned to secure the best position to "take it all in." The dead calm that precedes a storm settled for a minute or two, while Mr. Kendry moved that the report be simply received. His next move was to introduce a by-law, blanks of which were to be filled in with the names of the appointees to the force. On the second reading Mr. Hartley was called to the chair.

THE SIGNAL ANSWERED.

Then the conflict of argument began. Mr. Kendry moved the appointment of Mr. Rossell. Mr. Cahill moved in amendment that Mr. Adams be appointed at a salary of $550.

There is no necessity of going over all the speeches as they were delivered. All the councillors came pretty well prepared to make a stand and "say their little say," though to what purpose is, perhaps, not very clear. On one side, in favor of "home products," were ranged the Mayor and Messrs. Cahill, Winch, Kelly, McNeil and Langford; the anti-Adamites were Messrs. Kendry, Hartley, Moore, Yelland, Hall and Davidson. Messrs. Winch and Davidson were the only two members who successfully resisted the temptation to air their eloquence before the electors assembled.

The arguments pro and con were about these. The Adamites maintained that Mr. Adams had not been given a fair chance to prove himself a capable chief, such as it was proposed to give this new man—a much larger salary and an extra man. If Mr. Adams were afforded these facilities, he would make a good chief, and he should at least be given a fair trial. Then the extravagance of the report was complained of by Mr. Cahill, who said it would add about $800 a year extra to the expenses of the town, or about half a mill on the whole tax rate. Mr. McNeil preferred keeping an article of "home manufacture" on the force, or, as a former employer of his had once said, when he (the speaker) was about leaving and had reminded his boss that there were plenty of as good men as he to be got: "Mac, I prefer to keep the devil I know to getting a devil I don't know." That was what they were doing or attempting to do in this case—getting a man from a distance they knew nothing of. He characterized Mr. Adams as "true, just, honest and faithful." Mayor Stevenson put in a good word for Mr. Adams and said he wouldn't give a snap of his finger for all the written recommendations in the world. They also held up the petition of the 600 ratepayers of the town as something not to be despised at and ignored, as plainly showing the wishes of the people.

THE OPPOSITION.

The opposition was lively. They alleged incompetency on the part of Mr. Adams to control the present small force, and pointed to the unusually good recommendations they had regarding Mr. Rossell. These Mr. Hall supplemented by reporting that in a letter from his brother-in-law in St. Catherines the latter had paid Mr. Rossell a high compliment as an excellent man for the position.

Mr. Moore held that the very insinuation that Mr. Adams had not previously done his duty because he didn't receive enough salary was a reflection on his character coming from his own friends that at once proved his inefficiency. The recent cock-fights and bawdy-house affairs were pointed at as showing that he had not attended to his business and Mr. Kendry charged that he had no control over his men and allowed them to sleep and get drunk on duty, as he had often seen them. Mr. Yelland instanced a case of alleged neglect of duty on Mr. Adam's part not long ago, when he had been placed in charge to watch an absconding tenant of his but had gone off to his dinner and let the fellow escape.

During the discussion a great many personalities were indulged in that caused laughter, but were away from the question.

Finally the speakers seemed to get somewhat winded, and in the call "question" was called, resulting as the foregoing division of speakers shows.

Both motions were lost, and the committee rose and will sit again at the next meeting.

Thus the tug-of-war once again has resulted in a draw. After the adjournment the discussion was continued in the committee room, where everyone had the privilege of taking a hand in, and Mr. McNaughton was heard expressing his opinions on the subject amongst the others.

"Hail to the new chief!"—when he is appointed.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Reeve Moloney, of Dewo, sent in a demand that the town meet its share of the expense of labor upon the boundary road between the town and the township, and his communication was referred to the Street and Bridge Committee.

The complaint of Police Magistrate Dumble regarding the filthy and unhealthy state of the police station and court room, was referred to the Property Committee.

Dr. Clark, Medical Health Inspector, sent in a certificate of examination of the water of the new town well, which he had found "potable," the disagreeable smell disappearing when the water was boiled.

On a petition from the barbers of the town asking the council to enact under the Ontario Shops Regulation Closing Act that all barber shops in town be closed every evening, except Wednesdays and Saturdays, at 8 p. m., and at noon on public holidays, the clerk was instructed to prepare a by-law to that effect.

Mr. J. J. Smith applied for remission of his statute labor tax, which was granted.

The application of Mr. John Johnston for the position of caretaker of the town pump was referred to the Appointments Committee.

The accounts were referred to the Finance Committee.

The report of the Finance Committee recommended payment of the accounts referred to them. The report was adopted.

THE SEWERAGE SCHEME.

Mr. McNeil submitted the following report:—

GENTLEMEN,—Your special Sewerage Committee, to whom was referred the question of obtaining information in connection with the proposed construction of a complete system of sewerage for the town of Peterborough, beg leave to report that they have received the opinions of a large number of eminent engineers as to the best mode of procedure in this large undertaking; and would recommend that His Worship the Mayor call a public meeting at an early date, when your committee will lay before them the information received, and obtain an expression of opinion as to the desirability of proceeding with this important work.

A. McNEIL, chairman.

Mr. McNeil supplemented the report by a few remarks upon the subject, and read a letter from Mr. Allan MacDougall, of Montreal, one of the best engineers in Canada.

The report was adopted.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS.

The Fire, Water and Light Committee's report recommended the extension of the water service on Macdonnel and Brock streets, from George to Aylmer; the removal of the electric lights at the corners of Edinburgh and London streets, on George, one to the corner of George and Sherbrooke streets, the other to the C.P.R. track; an extra electric light at the corner of George and Antrim streets, the gas lamps in that vicinity to be dispensed with on June 1st. There was also appended to the report the town solicitor's opinion of the liability of the Water Company to extend the water service for private use upon the petition of a majority of the ratepayers on the street.

THE TOWN STABLES.

Chairman Hartley, of the Property Committee, recommended the extension of the town stables 14 feet in the rear as the best means to obviate the present nuisance caused by the smell arising from the horses. There was a little discussion on this, and finally the matter was left to a meeting of the whole council to decide.

THE OTTAWA TRIP.

Mr. W. H. MOORE made a verbal report of the trip of the town councillors to Ottawa.

The council adjourned for two weeks.

Popular Education.

We sympathize with the feeling which often leads citizens to boast that no child born in this country need grow in ignorance, and yet it is a fact that many people who have learned to read and write have never taught themselves to think. A man who suffered from catarrh, consumption, bronchitis, scrofula, or "liver complaint," might read, till his eyes dropped out, how these and many other diseases have been cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, but if he did not take the lesson to himself and test the virtues of this great medicine, his time would be thrown away. b

FOR THE RELIEF and cure of the inflammation and congestion called a "cold in the head" there is more potency in Ely's Cream Balm than in anything else it is possible to prescribe. This preparation has for years past been making a brilliant success as a remedy for cold in the head, catarrh and hay fever. Used in the initial stages of these complaints Cream Balm prevents any serious development of the symptoms, while almost numberless cases are on record of radical cures of chronic catarrh and hay fever after all other modes of treatment have proved of no avail. eodw16

The Canada Atlantic's opening suit—Heavy Bond Required for a Stay.

MONTREAL, Q., April 16. The Canada Atlantic Railway Company have taken out action against Stanton & Co., contractors, for $1,000,000 damages on the ground that their credit and business were seriously injured by an injunction which was taken by the defendants and which was quashed by all the courts. The case of Canada vs. Canada Atlantic Railway has been taken to appeal.

An accident which is likely to be attended with fatal results occurred in the carriage factory of F. X. Hinchot this forenoon. Three men were in the act of removing a carriage over a wooden bridge which connects the store with the factory when, without warning, the stringers which support it gave way and two of the men were hurled to the ground. Jean Lajeunie, aged 20, had his skull fractured, besides sustaining severe internal injuries. J. B. Burrow sustained a fracture of the right leg. Both were removed to the general hospital, where Lajeunie lies in a critical condition.

The burning question which is being discussed here is "will there be a flood." The opinions of men who have watched the progress of the river for years differ, presumably on account of the dyke. Flood or no flood, merchants and residents along the river front are removing goods, &c. The first big shove took place this afternoon.

Fire broke out in the office of F. Hamilton's jam and jelly works on St. James-street this morning. The place was completely gutted before the flames were extinguished. The loss is about $2000, partially covered by insurance.

Application papers for a special term of the Queen's Bench in May, to try Naegele and Bureau, have been sent to the Solicitor-General.

An elderly gentleman of no small means was arrested this morning for stealing papers from the shop door of Mr. Bush on St. Catherine-street. In court Bush refused to prosecute in consideration of the age and standing of accused. He was discharged with a caution.

The Gladstonian Revolt.

LONDON, April 16.—The new revolt in the Gladstonian party has had the effect of stimulating the venerable leader to greater zeal. Five more Liberal Unionists have undoubtedly gone back to the old man, and it is believed six more have managed to scramble to the top of the fence preparatory to dropping down in the true fold. That being so, the Gladstonians do not to-day talk quite so much of making up their differences with Lord Hartington's followers. Once more they are hopeful of winning back a sufficient number of wanderers to jeopardize the position of the Government. A large section of the Radicals and all the Parnellites would adopt almost any course in preference to making any compromise with Chamberlain. They look upon him as the prime cause of all their misfortunes, and never cease to denounce him as a traitor. The week ends with more life in it than was anticipated. There is clearly a good chance of a row, which is something. The real sport will begin when the resolution is introduced demanding local government for Ireland.

Complaints of Misrepresentation.

LONDON, April 16. Replying to an address signed by twenty-eight members of the Midlothian Executive Council of the Liberal Unionist Association, Mr. Gladstone complains of misrepresentation of his statements, and maintains that on all of the points upon which they asked a fuller exposition of his views his public speeches have been most explicit. He regrets that some of his constituents have entered into such a controversy, but says he is not entitled to take exception to their act.

Hamilton Labor Notes.

HAMILTON, April 16. A committee from the Bricklayers' and Masons' Union met a committee from the Builders' Association on Saturday night, but as it was a late hour before some of the latter arrived, nothing definite was decided on, and another meeting will shortly be held. The men ask 31 cents per hour, and the builders offer 33.

The trouble between the painters and their bosses is still unsettled. The men want to be paid a uniform rate of wages, 30 cents an hour, and the bosses propose to grade their wages at 16, 17½ and 20 cents an hour, according to their ability.

There is trouble between the stone cutters and bosses, and the former have sent circulars to stone cutters throughout the Province and outside of it, asking them not to come to this city until the trouble is settled. The men ask 37 cents an hour and the bosses offer 36. Neither party will give in a cent. Last season the men received 33 cents.

The carpenters of the city met Saturday evening and signed an agreement for the season to work at the same rate as last year ($2.25 per day), and on the same terms.

Hotel Burned at Forest.

FOREST, April 16.—Fire about 12.45 this morning consumed the Franklin House and stables, the stables of the O'Neil House and did considerable damage to the Dillon House. Insurance: Franklin House, $2200 on buildings in British American, $1000 on contents in Waterloo Mutual, Dillon House, $3000 in Mercantile and $500 in a British company on buildings and $2000 on contents; O'Neil House stables, $200 in Royal.

Jailed for Vagrancy.

NEW HAMBURG, April 16.—Five hard-looking toughs named Burt Stanby, Jos. Cobane, James Thompson, John Shaw and John Blake, arrested on suspicion of having burglarized George Veltch's general store and postoffice at Hayesville, were sent to jail this afternoon on the charge of vagrancy for terms varying from three months to twenty days, there being no evidence to connect them with the burglary.

The Brewer's Strike.

NEW YORK, April 16.—Everything was in readiness for the brewers' big lock-out to-day. The boss [illegible] had not received notification from the [illegible] Union that the boycott which they have imposed had been raised, and at 12 o'clock it was announced that 80 breweries had closed their doors, and 5000 men are now out of work.

The Cornwall Strike Settled.

CORNWALL, Ont., April 16.—The five weeks' strike in the Canada Cotton Company's mills was settled Saturday, the company agreeing to pay wages equal to those paid by any mill making similar goods, and the operatives went back to work this morning.

There is no doubt that Hagyard's Yellow Oil is the best remedy for Sprains, Bruises, Sore Throat, Colds, Rheumatism, Croup and all Aches, Pains, Lameness and Soreness. It is used externally and internally, and should always be kept in the house. 2w16d

High Praise.

Mrs. John Neelands, writing from the Methodist Parsonage, Adelaide, Ont., says, "I have used Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam for years in our family. For heavy Colds, Sore Throats and distressing coughs no other medicine so soon relieves." 2w16d

His Friends Can Testify.

Mr. C. H. Vought, of Peterboro, Ont., says that his friends can testify to his being cured of Indigestion, Constipation, and Torpid Liver by using two and a half bottles of B. B. B. "It seems to act like magic, and I heartily recommend it" are the closing words of his letter. 2w16d

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

TUESDAY, APRIL 17, 1888.

LOCAL NEWS.

The Weather.

Increasing easterly winds: fair weather followed by local rains to-night or to-morrow; slowly rising temperature.

The Police Question.

The chiefship of police seems to be a tough conundrum to the city fathers. They meet and wrangle and wrangle and part, and yet nothing is done. They seem to be unable to come to a decision. However, no member of the council, no man in the town or county, can for a moment fail to decide that the finest stock of scotch tweeds in the district are to be found at the golden lion, and so wondrously cheap, too. For instance—a splendid scotch tweed suit made to order $16, and a fine black or worsted at $18. These goods would cost 25 per cent. more bought elsewhere. Imported goods with only one profit means the benefit of the buyer.

He who drinks of Lethe's watery labyrinth forgets his former state, both joy and grief, pleasure and pain; but for perfect and enduring happiness try those fine flavoured Teas at The Pantry—M. R. Kidd.

Action for False Arrest.

The police force is in still further trouble, having now on their hands an action for $1,000 for false arrest and imprisonment, brought by Mr. C. W. Sawers in behalf of Mr. Thos. McMullen. Mr. Sawers claims that late last night his client, who is a retired farmer and occupies one of Mr. Sawer's houses, was walking home when arrested by Officers McGinty and Stewart, who for no other reason whatever than that he was a stranger placed him in the lock-up over night and dismissed him next morning without giving him a trial before the police magistrate. Mr. McMullen has instructed Mr. Sawers to enter a suit for $1,000 against the policemen. It is certainly difficult to believe that the constables would arrest a man without a plausible reason, and this seems to be supplied by an entry in the register at the police court to the effect that Thos. McMullen was arrested at 2 a.m. and could not give any account of himself.

Messrs. W. G. Bain & Co., late Breese & Bain, open out to-day one of the finest and largest stocks of American Baby Carriages ever brought into Peterborough, and respectfully invite the public to call and see them. dtf

A Novel Enterprise.

Novel in name, form, purpose and method is The Novelist, Alden's new weekly magazine of American fiction. It undertakes to give the worthiest fiction that American authors can be tempted to produce. Foreign authors not admitted. It is not sentimental talk about justice to American authors, but is bold, practical action. It is certainly handy in form, beautiful in dress, excellent in all mechanical qualities and low in price; well suited in all respects to meet the wants of the intelligent millions who are capable of appreciating "the best"—it will not stoop to compete with the "gutter fiction" or the sensational periodicals and libraries. Terms, $1.00 a year, at which rate it will give over 2,500 pages, equal to from eight to twelve ordinary American dollar-novels. The stories will follow successively, one at a time, a novel of ordinary length thus being completed in from four to eight weeks. If one story does not please, you will not have long to wait for the next. For a ten-cent subscription (if you don't wish to enter for all at $1), you will receive the first chapters of every story published during the year, which you can then order separately, if you wish. A specimen copy of The Novelist will be sent free on request. Address, John B. Alden, Publisher, 393 Pearl St., New York; P. O. Box 1227.

Queen's Birthday Sports.

At a joint meeting of the committee from the 57th Battalion and P.A.A. Association held on Monday afternoon, it was unanimously agreed to hold joint sports on the Queen's Birthday. These sports promise to be most successful. A committee has been appointed to take charge of the celebration

On the Free List.

The other day the Prince of Wales told Hon. Mr. Goschen, who conveyed the news to Lord Lansdowne, who afterwards instructed Right Hon. Sir John A. Macdonald to call "to-morrow" at the Examiner office, and let the reporter know that the "Crow" cigar would soon be placed on the free list. d

"Is Life worth living?" Well, yes; if you get some of that choice, genuine maple syrup from M. R. Kidd, at The Pantry.

Fire in Smith.

On Sunday, April 15th, while Mr. Isaac Baxter, Lot 28, 9th concession Smith, was absent at church, his dwelling took fire from some unknown cause and was with its contents completely consumed. Mr. Baxter's loss is complete, the contents, including his clothing and personal effects (he lived alone) were burned together with valuable papers and some money.

A New Agency.

Messrs. J. S. Robertson & Bros., publishers, Toronto, have opened an agency for their publications in our town, under the management of Mr. S. Pritchard, of Brockville, and T. A. McKelvie, of Toronto. Mr. Pritchard has taken a house in town and will open an office here next week. To members of the Literary Union Society, organized by this Company, liberal reductions are quoted.

S. Pritchard, Manager. T. A. McKelvie, Gen. Agent.

"Consider where it comes from" can be applied to more things than a kicking mule, and on the butter question it comes in with decided emphasis. The Pantry is noted for keeping the choicest article in town.

Settled by Debate.

Party newspaper proprietors, if they are wise enough to take the "word" of the Otonabee Canoe Club, will immediately cast off their allegiance to their parties and henceforth be independent. The debate on Monday night decided irrevocably that party papers were a detriment to Canada, by a narrow majority, to be sure, but still the affirmative "got there" under the leadership of Messrs. Carmichael and Smith, defeating their adversaries, headed by Messrs. Allingham and Hill, by a single point. Mr. A. E. Dixon was chairman and Mr. Jno. Millar, B.A., critic. The next debate, on Monday night of next week, will be on the subject "Resolved: that the Separate School system is detrimental to the best interests of Canadian people." The affirmative leaders are Messrs. T. Workman and John Millar; the negative H. W. Stock and W. H. Hill.

The Siddons' Success.

Genius, good management and judicious advertising have had their reward. The Opera House was packed in every part last night to hear the ever popular Siddons. The audience was intellectual and appreciative and estimated the excellent bill of fare presented at its true value, which was a high one. Ladies seem to have had the largest share of intellectuality—they composed fully five eighths of the audience, and they were delighted with the entertainment provided. The programme consisted of the following selections: A scene from "As You Like It," "The Painter of Seville," "A Senator Entangled," "The Capture," The Story of a Poor Traveller, 'Household Words,' and the "Auction Extraordinary." The whole programme was given in Mrs. Siddons' happiest style and there were many better pleased with her last night's entertainment than with any previous one. "The Story of a Poor Traveller" was especially selected for Peterborough, Mrs. Siddons never having read it before on this side of the water. By special request she also read "Curfew." She was enthusiastically received and presented a most interesting entertainment. The committee of management of Hiawatha Encampment, in connection with Otonabee Lodge of Oddfellows, deserve the public thanks for the excellence and refinement of the entertainment presented. They aimed at a high standard and they reached it, thus striking a key-note that will determine the tone of all future entertainments conducted under their auspices. Everything passed off without a hitch, the seating arrangements of the hall especially being managed with very gratifying smoothness. Owing to the energetic and effective manner in which the entertainment was brought to their notice, there was an attendance of from 130 to 150 from outside places—Lakefield, Norwood, Millbrook, etc. Hiawatha Encampment has established a reputation that will stand them in good stead when they may again appeal to public support of a refined, intellectual and excellent entertainment.

Police Court.

Tuesday, April 17.

Mr. J. Clancy pleaded guilty to a second violation of the Scott Act and was fined $100 and costs. Mr. H. Beasit fought out his case, having for counsel Mr. J. O'Meara, but he was also fined $100 and costs.

An assault case, Brown vs. Moore, arising out of a "scrap" between the two parties, was discharged, the plaintiff not being present to prosecute.

Monday afternoon in the absence of County Police Magistrate Edmison, P. M. Dumble tried the Scott Act case against John Frost, Keene, who was fined $100 and costs. The case against Mrs. O'Brien was further enlarged.

—The first local petition for early closing under the new Ontario Shops Regulation Closing Act was that of the barbers presented at the council meeting Monday night. It is probable other branches of business will follow their example.

—George Fulljames, of Toronto, pupillat, who this winter resided in Peterborough, leaves this week for Minneapolis. He will arrange matches with some of the light weight contregent of that city.

Oyster Rooms Open.

J. C. Craig has opened out his two comfortable oyster parlors on George street, where the delicious bivalves will be served up at all hours, in any style desired. Drop in and try Johnny's stews. Steaks, mutton chops and tea and coffee served until 12 o'clock at night. d

Special inducements to farmers and all others during the busy season at J. T. Stenson's boot and shoe shop, George street. Prices are cut so Low that no time is lost in making a bargain. Rapid sales and everybody delighted. Come and see.

A Burst.

A vigorous burst of a five inch water-main took place at about one o'clock on Water street last night, a short distance south of McDonnel street. All of a sudden whirr went the pumps and the man in charge of them soon knew that there was a screw loose somewhere and before long Mr. Martin was at the break, and shut off the water. The piece of main that burst had been split by the frost and when the pipes were "connected up" yesterday evening away went the main and up went the water which for about an hour flowed from the break and ran down the street a living stream. Immediate repairs are being made. The Peterborough Waterworks Company have had a great deal of trouble with frost the past winter, but so vigilant was the staff that very little derangement of the system resulted, almost nothing compared to the works in other cities.

Water Filters.

To insure good health it is absolutely necessary to have pure water, and no water is entirely free from floating matter and disease germs without thorough filtration. The majority of cases of typhoid and other low fevers are in a measure caused from unfiltered and impure water, so that every family who values its health should have a reliable filter. Numerous filters are offered to the public varying in points of excellence, but for cheapness, efficiency and durability, our filters cannot be surpassed. No corroding substances are used in construction. The packing material is the most powerful specially prepared granulated carbon. It will last for years with the ordinary use of a family, and the material may be obtained from us at any time for replenishing at small expense. Sold in Peterborough only at China Hall. dw

DIED.

GREGORY—In Peterborough on Monday, April 17th, 1888, Eliza, wife of Mr. John Gregory aged 37 years.

Funeral on Thursday afternoon, 19th instant, from the family residence, Stewart street south at 2 o'clock.

Admonitory.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

Sir,—Your correspondent Layman is a very voluminous and successful la(y)-borer. There is a good deal of soundness as well as sentiment in his numerous sermons, which, though somewhat prosy and of a sanctimonious character, yet are good specimens of English composition. If he were a pastor of a model church his sermons would be just a little tiresome and his flock might wish he had been of the shepherds in the early Christian days, when the Church was so pure as to be deserving of his regretful praises bestowed in his last sermon. He must be a very good man who thus takes upon himself the pleasing duty of laying a rawhide on the back of the whole Christian Church of modern times. He is sorry that the primitive practice of having churches held in the houses of the people should have fallen into desuetude. If he is as good as so daring a critic ought to be his house would be a most appropriate rendezvous for modern Christians of the strict stripe to which he belongs, and a great revival of primitive Christianity would result from such a nucleus of holiness as would collect about this modern prophet, who writes so fearlessly about the damnation of the church to the world. Come, dear Layman, out of Sodom, lest you share in her destruction, write less and work more and great will be your reward. If you have property, sell it and divide the proceeds with the poor followers that will be sure to flock to your standard when they learn of your noble existence. Work in the noble cause you have so much at heart till every house is a church and all the churches are pointed at as the survival of irreligious, anti-christian times, and used for better purposes than those for which they were built.

Hoping you will allow me space enough in your paper for the publishing of these few sentiments on so important a subject

I sign myself,

Mongo.

The Chief of Police.

Committee for Ward No. 3.

To Mr. John Douglass:—

Dear Sir,—I am sorry to see you occupying the position you do in reference to the appointment of chief of police. I did all I could to secure your election to the council believing you to be a fair man and one of the people. But it seems I was mistaken, and when another election comes round, if you stand, I will work just as hard against you and plenty of others will do the same. I suppose you are one of the pig-headed, obstinate kind, and that having taken your stand under Mr. Moore, you are not willing to confess your error and do right. I hope you too have not become so aristocratic and proud as to consider home talent unfit for your dignity, and that because Mr. Adams is a property owner and a long resident of the town he must be made to give way to a stranger, whom neither you nor any one else here knows, and whom you are obedient enough to take at the mere dictation of your leader. I want you to understand, Mr. John Douglass, that the people of Peterborough want Mr. Adams appointed to this office and that they mean he shall be so appointed, you, John Douglass and Mr. Moore to the contrary, notwithstanding.

One of the People.

The Wallace Point Bridge.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

Dear Sir,—I notice several anonymous communications have appeared in your columns lately, with reference to the above bridge and myself. I do not intend devoting any attention to any communication not bearing the real name of the writer, because I always infer that when a writer is afraid to write over his own name, he is advocating and defending an untenable position, and he is ashamed to have his name connected with it. I would have replied if the real name had been given, but I will merely confine myself to saying that the joint stock company which originally erected this bridge is not defunct, but are prepared to make the counties carry out the conditions upon which it was handed over to them, and every stockholder will look for full repayment of stock and interest in case the agreement is broken.

Yours, etc.,

Thos. N. Willan,

AS MUCH A SECRET AS EVER

To the Editor of the Examiner:—Sir—How in the world has C. B. Routley jumped into such a big slice of the Wall Paper trade? Why it seems as if one couldn't pass his store without running against a load of Wall Paper in the arms of some pleased looking customer. I'm half inclined to think there must have been lots of boodle in the Wall Paper business before Routley started it, and that the people have found out that he has broken the combination. Eh? what did you think, Mr. Editor? And yet you occasionally hear of spasmodic attempts to get down to Routley's prices, in order to head him off; but still it seems as much a secret as ever how he keeps up the run.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

SIR RICHARD CARTWRIGHT ON THE FISHERIES TREATY.

He Contends that Canada Concedes Everything and Gets no Return—Mr. Laurier Says the Treaty was a Surrender of Canadian Rights—The Budget Speech.

OTTAWA, April 16.—In speaking on the Fisheries Bill in the early hours of this morning, Sir Richard Cartwright sarcastically admonished the Government to bear less hardly on its minor members. The Prime Minister did not seem to know his own mind and his colleague in the lead seemed to go his own way, regardless of the others. This, he pointed out, was exceedingly uncomfortable for those who had to follow. With delightful irony Sir Richard instanced the case of Mr. Thomas White, whose arguments on Reciprocity were overridden by Sir Charles Tupper; Mr. Thompson, Minister of Justice, who had to draft a proclamation admitting fruit articles, the free admission of which he had declared but the week before would be treason to Canada; the Minister of Marine, Mr. Foster, who now had to back a treaty giving concessions under which he had declared it would be impossible to preserve Canada's inshore fisheries. He held that these slights ought to be considered in their wages. By a brilliant and masterly argument he showed that the very arguments advanced in favor of the Fisheries Treaty, the exceptional position of Canada in relation to the United States, the fact that Britain dealt with the United States in a different way from that adopted toward any other country, the importance of peace between Britain and the United States, were the very arguments he had used to favor the right of Canada to make her own commercial treaties. As to the question of ratifying the treaty at this time or waiting until later, he left the responsibility entirely upon the Government. He did not oppose the treaty, but he contended, as other Liberal speakers have done, that the Americans get all and give nothing, and proceeded to consider the Government's position in the circumstance. The Behring's Sea question was not brought up in this case, for the same reason that the Fenian claims were not brought up in 1871, because the United States saw that they could present no argument in support of their claims against Canada which would not tell against them with tenfold force in Canada's case against them. He endorsed the statement of Mr. Mitchell that Canada's interest would have been better attended to if she had been allowed to name her own delegates to the convention. The Minister of Finance had practically admitted that the negotiation took place at an unfavorable time, just before a Presidential contest. Sir Richard thought that when Sir Charles Tupper went to Washington last spring he saw the danger into which the blundering of the Government had led the country, and determined that there must be a retreat, and in this, as in other matters, the Government yielded to force after refusing to listen to reason. Sir Richard commented upon Sir Charles' remarkable utterances upon Unrestricted Reciprocity, pointing out that he must have given the people whom he met at Washington to understand that the idea was that Canada was merely to make a channel through which the United States would have free trade with the world, which, of course, was absurd.

Sir John Macdonald replied, devoting himself mainly to pointing out the inconsistency which he claimed to find in the utterances of members of the Opposition, whose policy on this subject, he said, it was impossible to ascertain. Mr. Laurier said the Liberal policy had over and over again been announced. They held that the treaty was a surrender of Canadian rights, a sacrifice of Canadian privileges, but, in view of the alternative of the Retaliatory Bill which the Government had provoked the Americans into passing, it was necessary that it should be ratified. He emphasized the point that this Government had yielded in this matter to force at a late day much more than need have been given had they entered upon negotiations at the time when they were asked to do so. Mr. Jones endorsed the treaty and Mr. Ellis criticised it, after which Mr. Landry of Kent supported it. Mr. Edgar spoke with great force, pointing out the great difference between the Government's attitude of last year and that which they now assume, the glorying in great concessions to the United States for the sake of peace. Mr. McDougall (Cape Breton) closed the debate, speaking in favor of the treaty. The bill was read a second time.

It was announced that the Budget speech would be delivered on Tuesday of next week. The House adjourned at 12.20 a.m.

OTTAWA, April 17.—The sitting of the House to-day was not a very interesting one. The Treaty Bill was disposed of so far as the House of Commons is concerned. The bill was again warmly discussed for about five hours in committee of the whole with Mr. Royal in the chair. The bill was then reported back to the House without amendment and read a third time.

Sir Charles Tupper laid on the table a very lengthy correspondence with the Imperial Government with reference to disallowance of Acts passed by the Manitoba Legislature.

The House next went into committee to consider the resolution increasing the salary of the Auditor-General from $3,200 to $4,000 per annum, which was adopted. A further clause, making the provision of the Superannuation Act applicable to this officer, evoked some discussion, as this would, to a certain extent, place him under the control of the Government instead of Parliament. The resolution was adopted, with the understanding that in the bill to follow the proper safeguards should be introduced.

The House adjourned at 11.45.

PREPARING FOR THE NEXT FAIR.

Meeting of the Directors of the Industrial Exhibition Association.

TORONTO, April 18.

The Board of Directors of the Industrial Exhibition Association met last night, with President J. J. Withrow in the chair, and Capt. McMaster, W. H. Hamilton, William Rennie, Ald. Barton, J. P. Edwards, A. Brunskill, Dr. A. Smith, R. W. Elliot, Robert Davies, J. H. Pearce, P. G. Close, J. K. Mitchell, George Vair, George Booth, James McGee, present.

Secretary Cheesman of the Ontario Creameries Association, offered $100 for prizes in creamery butter, and asked permission to erect a large tent on the grounds during the exhibition in which dairy experts might lecture on the science of butter making. The Toronto Press Club sent in a letter asking for representation on the Board of Directors. This communication was referred to Manager Hill.

The report of the Prize List Revision Committee was adopted with the exception of the clause referring to the Horse Committee. The other live stock committees contented themselves with appropriations similar in amount to those of 1887, but the Horse Committee recommended an increased expenditure of $1700 for prizes in this class.

Mr. Hamilton, seconded by Captain McMaster, moved that that the Mayor and the Chairman of the Executive Committee be appointed honorary directors. The motion was adopted as also one tendering the same distinction to President Shorey of the Manufacturers' Association.

Manager Hill was directed to call the attention of the Exhibition Committee to the pressing necessity of an extension of water mains in the Exhibition grounds. The manager was further instructed to write to the civic authorities asking for a renewal of the lease of the grounds. It expires in May, 1889, and the Association is desirous of coming to an early understanding.

The last business considered was the appointment of a solicitor. Mr. McWilliams stated he wanted to know his position in regard to the association. As solicitor for the corporation he had all the association's business, and he was anxious to know whether the association would transfer its business to his successor, Mr. Biggar, or not. Mr. Hamilton favored such a course as the only one practicable, but the Board overruled him by a large majority, resolving to retain Mr. McWilliams' services, Mr. Ridout moving and Mr. Davies seconding a motion to that effect.

The following were the chief points discussed and settled by the conferees: That the appropriation shall be $75,000 for the expenses of the conference; that the subjects which this country desires to lay before the conference shall be named in the invitations, so that the conferees from other countries may come prepared with instructions to consider them; that the proceedings shall be printed at the Government Printing Office in English, Spanish and Portuguese; and that of the ten American commissioners (all to serve without compensation) six shall be appointed by the president with the advice and consent of the Senate, two by the President of the Senate, and two by the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

GOSSIP FROM ENGLAND.

CROWNED HEADS IN THE FAIR CITY OF FLOWERS.

The Queen's Visit to Berlin—Pictures and Sculptures by the Thousand—Illness of Mrs. Benedict—Wonderful Locks Once Meggar—Irving and Terry.

LONDON, April 17.—The Queen is not now expected to return to Windsor till Saturday week. Her Majesty leaves Florence Sunday night. She will travel direct to Berlin by the Brenner route, arriving early on Tuesday. There is a strong probability that the Queen will pay a flying visit to the Grand Duke of Hesse, at Darmstadt, when she leaves Berlin. The Emperor and Empress are to receive the Queen at Charlottenburg, where the apartments of the late Queen Elizabeth are being prepared for Her Majesty's occupation.

The unprecedented visitation of five crowned heads with which Florence has been enlivened during the past few weeks is to be further extended by the addition of King Oscar of Sweden and the King and Queen of Saxony, who are expected this week. King Oscar will travel incognito, with a small suite of four equerries and a private secretary. The King and Queen of Saxony travel under the titles of the Count and Countess of Plauen. When I add that M. Bleriot has also arrived in the City of Flowers, the limit of Florentine ambition has, I hope, been reached.

During the past week the Council of the Royal Academy has been engaged in adjudicating upon the merits of the pictures and sculptures sent in literally from the four winds of Heaven. It meets at 10 and sits till 6, with an interval of one hour, from 1 to 2. This year close upon 10,000 works have been submitted, a slight decrease upon the actual numbers of last year. Bond-street was all alive Saturday afternoon. There were private views at several of the picture shops. Lovers of the picturesque could take their choice between Japan, the Netherlands and the Duchy of Cornwall. The greatest crowd was at the Messrs. Dowdeswell's to see Mr. Mortimer Menpis' Japanese paintings, drawings and etchings. Those who contrived to effect an entrance along the congested passage to the still more congested apartment in which the show was held were rewarded by the quaintest spectacle which the Capital has at this moment to offer. Only a long description would do adequate justice to the scene, at once funny and precious. The heat was oppressive. The exhibits were assisted by chiming clocks, oriental tea, a Jap girl and a catalog, which is itself quite charming. Mr. William Wyllie's fresh and breezy sketches in Mr. Dunthorne's gallery—the prettiest in London—are of another genius altogether. After the Japaneseries aforesaid, they are like a rush of morning air into a tropical garden.

I have received a letter from Mr. George Henschel, says Mr. Edmund Yates, from which I see that my idea expressed last week, that reports of Mrs. Henschel's illness were exaggerated, proves correct. I mentioned last week that Mr. and Mrs. Henschel sang in "The Messiah." Shortly after Mrs. Henschel became ill, and in the recital of April 3 her husband had to bear the brunt of the whole performance, some fifteen pieces, as I see from the Russian program, and moreover three encores. The concert was a great success, no fewer than three ambassadors, the French, English and Swedish, being present. Mrs. Henschel will be able to sing in the second recital there, as her voice has not in the least suffered.

Little Otto Hegner, whom the Philharmonic Society announces as Herr Hegner, probably in order to make themselves believe he is not a child and not a curiosity, but a grown up artist, gave another concert at Prince's Hall, where real carriages with real blood horses set down a number of aristocratic ladies at the door. The cry greeted you: "Tickets only, everything sold." There was a real full room of real paying people of real society, a rather unusual thing in April, while everybody is supposed to be away. The boy is really wonderful when he plays what is within his reach. His performance is by no means that of a child, but of a musician. He plays Mendelssohn's "Rondo Capriccioso" marvellously. As to Beethoven he would do well to leave him alone for the present, his technique is so clear, so pure, so graceful. His force proceeds a little too much from the elbow instead of the wrist. His shake, though not very rapid is very even, and his style expressive, without ever becoming sentimental or affected.

Mr. Irving and Miss Ellen Terry had every reason to be gratified with their reception Saturday night. It was hearty and spontaneous, without exaggeration; nothing was forced or factitious about it. Mr. Irving was in his best "Mephistopheles" form, but Miss Terry seemed a little unnerved and scarcely mistress of her effects. Her art is not of the kind to be seen at its best in 500 performances. One touch of fiendish humor Mr. Irving reserved for the concluding speech. We had been led to expect an interesting disclosure of his plans for the winter season, whereas Mr. Irving merely announced, or reannounced, "The Amber Heart" and "Robert Macaire." This was the one disappointment of the evening. The enthusiasm of the audience, from the moment of the raising of the curtain to the last word of Mr. Irving's graceful speech, hardly knew bounds.

Mr. D'Oyly Carte married Miss Couper Black on Thursday last. The bride is a daughter of the late George Couper Black, of Wigtown, procurator fiscal for Wigtownshire. The ceremony was performed at the Chapel Royal, in Savoy, by the Rev. Henry White. The bride was given away by her father's old friend, Sir James Caird, who with Lady Caird, Sir Arthur Sullivan, Mr. Henry Carte and Miss Carte, the bridegroom's brother and sister, were the only persons present at the wedding, which was kept strictly private. The bride was in deep mourning, having recently lost a near relative.

The Mills Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—In the House to-day Mr. Mills (Texas) moved the House into Committee of the Whole and introduced his tariff bill in a set speech, to which Judge Kelley of Pennsylvania replied on behalf of the Protectionist element. Mr. Mills spoke about 1½ hours, and as he took his seat he was surrounded by the crowd of Democratic members who pressed forward to shake his hand and tender their congratulations.

A Negro Lynched.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 13.—Jerry Smith, a negro who had attempted to assault a white girl, was taken from jail by a crowd of farmers yesterday and lynched.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE CANADIAN ASSOCIATION.

Meeting at Memphis—Baseball Games—Hockey to be Introduced—The N.L.A. Loses its Amateur Character—Dunn from the Diamond.

PARIS, April 17.—The Canadian Lacrosse Association met in convention here this afternoon. The officers present were: R. M. Orchard, Brantford, 1st Vice-president; J. H. Fisher, Paris, 2nd Vice-president; E. H. Gerry, Toronto, Secretary-Treasurer; H. O'Loughlan, St. Catharines; H. C. Bellew, Owen Sound, and E. W. Nesbitt, Woodstock, members of the council. President Hamilton sent word of inability to be up before the night session.

The following clubs were represented: Athletics, St. Catharines; Athletic Juniors, St. Catharines; Paris Brants, Paris; Beavers, Woodstock; Brantfords, Brantford; Brantford Juniors, Brantford; Dufferins, Orangeville; Dufferins, Ingersoll; Niagaras, Niagara Falls; Orillias, Orillia; Ontarios, Toronto; Olympics, Milton; Shelbournes, Shelburne; Stars, Bright; Stratfords, Stratford; Torontos, Toronto. The report of the Secretary-Treasurer was read and adopted.

A proposed amendment to the constitution making the President, Vice-President and two members a permanent judicial council was negatived. Another proposal, aiming at qualifying the words "having predominate of any kind in membership" by the term "knowingly" was withdrawn after a debate.

The season for schedule games shall be from May 24 to Sept. 30. The clubs shall play two matches each. The entire proceeds from each senior championship match shall go to the home club, the visiting team paying their travelling and hotel expenses, the home club paying the referee.

The N. L. A. Has Lost Its Amateur Character.

MONTREAL, April 17.—It is far from certain yet that A. W. Stevenson will retain the office of President of the National Lacrosse Association. Some of the members of the Montreal club seem to think that as the association by its action at the last convention has practically lost its amateur character, the club should have nothing more to do with it, while others who are less impulsive counsel that the presidency of Mr. Stevenson, who is known to hold the most positive views on the question, and has done all he could to make the convention see the error of its way, may have a most salutary effect. The matter is to be decided at a special meeting of the Montreal club to be held to-morrow evening in the M. A. A. A. rooms.

Mr. Stevenson, when seen about the matter said, "I have not yet decided; I did not run after the place, and had I been present when I was nominated I would have declined, but if my keeping the place can improve the game and do away with professionalism I am ready to sacrifice my feelings and do my utmost to work for the best."

They Draw the Line at Sunday Ball Games.

BUFFALO, April 17.—Through some misunderstanding or possibly a catch in the contract the Buffalos played a game at Cincinnati on Sunday. This didn't go down very well with the directors, and, though they are not all superintendents of Sunday schools, nor are they looking to be sent to Africa or any other foreign missions, they draw the line at Sunday ball games. This morning the following telegram was sent to the manager: "John C. Chapman, Manager Buffalo Baseball Club, Louisville, Ky.—Cancel your Sunday games if you intend playing there 22nd. No Sunday games while I am president of the club. See letter. (Signed) C. W. CUSHMAN."

The Mams Win Their First Game.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE LADIES OF PETERBOROUGH AND VICINITY.

We have a word or two to say to you. In these times when money is considered rather scarce, you would be studying your interests by buying at close Cash Prices, and at Reliable Houses. There is in our midst a First Class Dry Goods House that meets every requirement. Rowse's Trade Palace is established in the interest and for the protection of those who pay ready money for their Dry Goods.

Their prices are very low. Look in their Show Window to-day, and you can get any article there at Five Cents. This is a curiousity. Novelties in Fine Dress Goods are exhibited on their counters at Twelve and a-half cents. A Lady told Mr. Rowse the other day that she had been around town looking at Silks and she saw some that she thought were cheap, but she could not depend on the reliability of the houses she had visited. She bought her Silk at the Trade Palace. Rowse's Silks at Fifty and Sixty cents are wonderful value.

In conclusion we respectfully ask you to look through the Elegant Display of Dry Goods at the Trade Palace.

Faithfully yours,
ONE WHO STUDIES YOUR INTERESTS.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 18, 1888.

THE CREDIT OF THE TOWN.

We feel certain that the public will watch with interest the development of the plans of the Fifty-seventh Battalion to celebrate Her Majesty's birthday in a military manner. The people generally are deeply concerned in the welfare of this creditable military organization. Our volunteers have a warm corner in the public heart and in all their undertakings they command the public sympathy and arouse public anxiety for their success. Much of this anxiety and interest is due to a genuine regard for the gallant lads who stand in the position of defenders of the country, ready to fight, when the call is made, pro aris atque focis. But the public interest in the battalion demands that on public occasions the battalion should acquit itself to the credit of both itself and the public, and this feeling is peculiarly strong, especially in view of the visit of outside, and in one sense, rival battalions, on the 24th. No doubt any battalion which ventures to come here on that date is well prepared for a public and quasi competitive display of its proficiency in drill, marching and the various possible military manœuvres. It would be little short of disgrace if, through any neglect, the local corps should show to a disadvantage on that occasion, and it certainly will do so if the strictest attention is not from this time forward bestowed upon drill and training. For some time after the formation of the battalion into the status of a city corps, military ardour, both amongst officers and men was at a high point, but it is to be feared that of late months there has been a regrettable falling off in this respect, and it is to be feared that the inaction of the past winter has resulted in a relapse from the smart efficiency which characterised the battalion last fall. This lost ground must be regained and, if even a passible state of efficiency, is hoped to be reached by the Queen's birthday, no time is to be lost. And since it is said that the services of a first-rate drill instructor are available, and that he can give more instructions than the time at the disposal of the officers will permit them to do, the work should be begun at once. We don't want visiting battalions to "take the shine off" our Rangers and they are liable to do so unless the latter bring up their drill by the most diligent endeavour. It is to be regretted that through the indifference of the Government the drill shed has been unfitted for use the past winter. This indifference is only of a piece with the insolent indifference with which the military authorities habitually regard the volunteer force. In the face of this there is all the more need for individual and local endeavour, and we are sure our boys will prove themselves equal to the occasion, and will fit themselves to make a creditable showing on the 24th.

Commercial Union.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

SIR,—The opponents of Commercial Union are in high jubilation over the fate of the motion in Parliament, asking the Government to take steps to find out upon what terms the United States would be willing to establish unrestricted trade between the two countries. Very short-sighted indeed must they be to imagine that they have thus put a quietus upon this great movement to increase our opportunities to buy and to sell. They will find they have done worse than made a mistake. They will find they blundered, from latent conviction, inoculated by the two parties who at present divide the politics of this country between them. The people are so earnest in their desire for Commercial Emancipation that no combine of the Government with suckling manufacturers can check it.

It was said by the jubilant party that when the result of the vote was seen, the supporters of the movement in the House looked sad. That may be so, but in the country their friends were not disappointed nor in the least discouraged, for we do not believe that the farmers' interest is represented in the Government at Ottawa, hence the vote was about what we expected. But the discussion was not time idled away. It was seed sown on ground in an admirable condition for the reception of just such seed, and in due time, as will be seen, will produce satisfactory results. Now that the people are awakened, our statesmen will find that they cannot much longer continue the absurd policy of endeavoring to build up the country mainly by forcing our trade through unnatural channels.

With the sparsely populated cities of our own country 1,200 miles to the east and 1,400 miles west of us, we can never expect to do a satisfactory trade. It is absurd to ask us to do so, and at the same time shut us out of the market of the wealthy nation south of us, "the shadows of whose houses fall across the line that separates us from them" with its 60,000,000, whose cities alone, almost at our very doors, possess a population equal to the population of our whole country. And be it remembered that the populations of these cities are wealthy in every sense of the word, and spend money freely; non-agricultural in their calling, of course, and just such as every farmer knows we want for our customers. Is there a loyal man of our class—loyal to his country, loyal to his family and himself—who would not do all in his power to secure this market? For years have the farmers toiled without keeping any account of time, have cleared the country and made it what it is, a beautiful country, to find at last that the combines of capital absorbed their profits. The millions of wealth they created have gone into other pockets and with some of it railways have been built to bring down competition upon us. And still they are greedy as ever. Monopolies almost of every kind continue to levy tribute upon our produce and are not restrained. What then are the future prospects of the agricultural people? One of two things is inevitable, the burden must be removed and free outlet given to the results of their toil, or the title to the majority of their farms pass into the hands of capitalists, and the relation of landlord and tenant that prevails in the old world be enacted in the new. And if the policy of allowing a few individuals to gather the wealth of the country into their hands continue, it wont be long until the latter is accomplished. Now the government is what the people make it, and as long as the farmers are divided, and the politicians, by sophistry, can succeed in playing one half of them off against the other half, so long will their interests be treated with indifference.

But I think the government, with one eye, are looking favorably upon this movement. Within the last few days they have backed down in part; and cordial and thorough union of the farmers would, no doubt, cause a general back down along the whole line.

It makes no difference which party gives it if we get it—that's the point.

D. KENNEDY.

Otonabee, April 15.

The Chief of Police.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

DEAR SIR,—Your Tuesday's edition contained an open letter addressed to Mr. John Douglass, signed by "One of the People," the writer purporting to be a friend of Mr. Adams who is an applicant for the position of chief of police. "Friend," did I say? "Snake in the Grass" is a more fitting title. The game is a little too deep to avert detection.

In the name of common sense, who ever heard of a councillor being "bullied" into recording his vote? One thing certain Mr. Douglass will never be "bullied" into recording his vote on any question, and if I judge Mr. Douglass' character aright, he possesses sufficient common sense to see through the "little game." To my mind it is very plain.

The object sought for is to bully Mr. Douglas into voting for Mr. Roesell by using threats that if he does not vote for Mr. Adams his name is "Dinnis' next January.

What does Mr. Douglass care about next January? I know the gentleman too well to believe for one moment that any such thought enters his head previous to recording his vote at the council board.

I look upon Mr. Douglass as a painstaking, economical and broad minded councillor advocating at all times what he considers conscientiously to be in the best interest of the ratepayers.

I consider the scurrilous letter signed "One of the People" to be an unwarranted attack upon the character of Mr. Douglass, knowing as I do, that he would have been in his place on Monday evening had not illness prevented his being present, and I am further of the opinion that Mr. Douglass will not vote for any man for chief of police on paper recommendations.

Yours, etc.,
A FRIEND OF ADAMS.

The Chiefship of Police.

Councillor for Ward No. 3.

TO MR. JOHN DOUGLASS:—

DEAR SIR,—In case you might be deceived by the letter of "One of the People," in last night's paper, it may do no harm to assure you that the position taken by yourself and other members of the council who advocate the appointment of an efficient chief of police meets the approval of the majority of your constituents (of whom the writer is one) as well as of the property holders of the town. The police service has, of late, been so scandalously lax and inefficient, that even the opposing councillors have not had the hardihood to defend it. The question is not, as some would like to make it, a personal one concerning Adams' appointment or otherwise. The real question at issue is whether or not we are to have efficient police service. Whether the existing state of things has arisen from incapacity on Mr. Adam's part or because he has chosen to take his cue from a clique who do not want to have the law strictly enforced, makes no difference. The public interests have not been served, and it is now the duty of the Council to fill the office with one who will serve those interests and none other, and though friends of good government (and they are largely in the majority) have made but little outcry, councillors may rest assured that they are being closely watched to see who of them are disposed to vote to hand the town over to those whose interest it is to avoid efficient police service. The citizens of Peterborough are a respectable and law-abiding people and want their business conducted accordingly, as councillors or policemen, who misjudge them, will find to their cost. Do not be misled by silly bluster about home talent, etc., etc. The people want the best man in the office irrespective of every other consideration.

ANOTHER "OF THE PEOPLE."

Peterborough, April 17th, 1888.

"Ah me"! sighed Potts. "I'm tired of living,
The world is hollow, ambition's vain."
"Come now"! said his chum, "I know the symptoms:
It's all your liver that's very plain.
You need not suffer, for help is easy;
Pierce's Pellets go right to the place.
'A friend to the bilious.' I well might call them
There's nothing better, they'll suit your case.'
Potts ceased his sighing and bought the "Pellets."
No more he mourneth his hapless lot!
His face is cheerful, his heart is lightsome,
His melancholly is quite forgot! c

Water Filters.

To insure good health it is absolutely necessary to have pure water, and no water is entirely free from floating matter and disease germs without thorough filtration. The majority of cases of typhoid and other low fevers are in a measure caused from unfiltered and impure water, so that every family who values its health should have a reliable filter. Numerous filters are offered to the public varying in points of excellence, but for cheapness, efficiency and durability, our filters cannot be surpassed. No corroding substances are used in construction. The packing material is the most powerful specially prepared granulated carbon. It will last for years, with the ordinary use of a family, and the material may be obtained from us at any time for replenishing at small expense. Sold in Peterborough only at China Hall. dw

CANADA'S BUTTER INDUSTRY.

The Staple Practically Driven off the English Markets.

TORONTO, April 18.—The butter trade, as it is carried on in Canada, is in about as bad a condition as it can be. The present system of butter manufacture not only wastes a great deal of time and dissipates a great deal of labor, but it produces a great deal of financial loss to the farmer that might be prevented.

The system by which every farmer makes his own butter on his own farm, to sell to the trade, is about as ridiculous as would be a movement to suppress the cheese factories and revert to the old practice of the individual cheese-press. It is contrary to the co-operative spirit of the age. All branches of trade are now proving the truth of the saying that there is strength in union. The cheese-makers of Canada have demonstrated the benefit which comes to themselves and the country by distributing labor in the manufacture of cheese. The result is: More cheese, better cheese and better prices.

Butter makers have not yet awoke to the importance of this. The business is pursued in a heterogeneous manner, and the product resembles the system. Did you ever see the way they pack butter in country stores? The people from the neighborhood bring in the butter in small lots. It has been made under different methods, different temperatures and from different stock. It is laid aside until there is enough to pack, and then the firkins are filled. When it is placed on the market it is like Joseph's coat; it has many colors—also many flavors. The housekeeper is always in great dread of the Joseph's coat article. Where the farmer packs his own butter the variation in color is almost as marked, as he does not manufacture enough at a time and under a uniform method. What has been the result of doing business under this system?

Here are some figures which should open the eyes of those interested in the butter trade in Canada, and cause them to think about doing something to prevent the export trade from being utterly extinguished:

CANADA'S EXPORTS OF BUTTER.

1880	18,535,302 pounds.
1881	17,649,491 "
1882	15,161,830 "
1883	8,606,447 "
1884	8,075,537 "
1885	7,330,705 "
1886	4,618,741 "
1887	5,485,509 "

The steady decline of the exports is seen. It appears that there was a little rally in 1887, but at the present time there is really no demand for Canadian butter in the English market.

Here are the kind of messages that come from the English commission merchants to cheer the heart of Canadian shippers:

LIVERPOOL, March 17, 1888.

Mr. ———,
Canadian butter; dull and nominal.
I am, yours respectfully,
MR. BLANK.

LIVERPOOL, March 27, 1888.

Mr. ———,
Canadian butter: quotations nominal.
I am, yours respectfully,
MR. BLANK.

What has brought about this rapid decline? First of all, the poor quality of the article exported. It is a fact well known to all dealers that the demand for the lower grades of butter is never brisk, while the better the butter, the readier the sale. Now, more than at any time, is it hard to dispose of the lower grades, as the artificial stuff, such as oleomargarine, compete with it. Another reason why the Canadian butter has been driven out of the British markets is because a better article has made its appearance. Denmark, Sweden, and of late France and the United States have been sending superior dairy goods to that market.

Another reason, perhaps, lies in the fact that a great deal of the attention of dairymen of late years has been diverted to cheese making. The rapid strides made, as shown by the exports from year to year, must of necessity have been detrimental to the butter trade.

CANADA'S EXPORTS OF CHEESE.

1880	40,326,678 pounds.
1881	49,255,321 "
1882	50,807,049 "
1883	58,011,337 "
1884	69,755,123 "
1885	70,645,387 "
1886	78,112,927 "
1887	78,770,855 "

The truth that these figures teach is that co-operation undoubtedly benefits a trade. The dairymen interested in the cheese business have joined together to advance their common interests, and what they have done has been profitable to themselves and greatly beneficial to the country. These men have gone on steadily improving the product of their factories. They have been anxious to learn and ready to adopt new ideas. They have managed their business with much prudence and economy and their salesmen are as a general rule pretty sagacious men, as the buyers know. This well-applied intelligence has brought Canadian cheese into good demand in Britain, inasmuch that it has lowered the price of Cheshire, and the Yankees would fain ship all their cheese as "Canadian."

Butter making in Canada is unprofitable, except where it is engaged in scientifically. The production costs too much and the prices are too low. The distribution of labor will reduce the cost of production in this, as well as in other lines of business, and the establishment of creameries will improve the quality of the article. This is what is wanted—quality. The famous Greek described the first, second and third requisities of elocution as action, action, action. The dairymen of Canada need to learn that quality, quality, quality, is the one hope of the butter trade. Under the creamery system three important features may be confidently looked forward to:

1. Production will cost less.
2. Prices will be higher.
3. The consumption will increase.

It will cost less to produce butter because the distribution of labor idea will be adopted. Profits will be higher because a better article will be produced. The consumption will increase because people will eat more and better than bad butter.

There are already signs of hope that the Canadian butter-trade will be built up again. The rapid increase in Canada in giving place to the rule of reason. In 1883 there were only 27 creameries in Ontario, now there are 55. In Quebec there are about 200.

The product of these creameries does not nearly supply the home market for good butter. There is ample room for a large increase in the number of creameries in Canada, even if the country did not export a pound.

Make a Note of This.

Pain banished as if by magic. Polson's Nerviline is a positive and almost instantaneous remedy for external, internal, or local pains. The most active remedy hitherto known falls far short of Nerviline for potent power in the relief of nerve pain. Good for external or internal use. Buy a 10 cent sample bottle. Large bottles 25 cents, at all druggists. 6d-w15

The Growth of the Hair.

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dorsewend's Great German Hair Magic the scalp will be kept in a clean and healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

The Four Cardinal Points.

The four cardinal points of health are the stomach, the liver, the kidneys and the blood, any failure of their action brings disease and derangement to the whole system. Regulate their condition with Burdock Blood Bitters to secure perfect health. 2w15d

Without A Doubt.

There is no doubt that Hagyard's Yellow Oil is the best remedy for Sprains, Bruises, Sore Throat, Colds, Rheumatism, Croup and all Aches, Pains, Lameness and Soreness. It is used externally and internally, and should always be kept in the house. 2w16d

High Praise.

Mrs. John Neelands, writing from the Methodist Parsonage, Adelaide, Ont., says, that his friends can testify to his being cured of Indigestion, Constipation, and Torpid Liver by using two and a half bottles of B. AS MUCH A SECRET AS EVER

To the Editor of the Examiner:—SIR—How in the world has C. B. ROUTLEY jumped into such a big slice of the Wall Paper trade? Why it seems as if one couldn't pass his store without running against a load of Wall Paper in the arms of some pleased looking customer. I'm half inclined to think there must have been lots of boodle in the Wall Paper business before ROUTLEY started it, and that the people have found out that he has broken the combination. Eh! what did you think, Mr. Editor? And yet you occasionally hear of spasmodic attempts to get down to ROUTLEY'S prices, in order to head him off; but still it seems as much a secret as ever how he keeps up the rus.

Yours truly,
A. PAPER-HANGER.

REMOVAL.

H. S. GRIFFIN & Co. have moved into the building lately occupied by Mr. Jas. Alexander.

The Store is to be fitted up in first class style, and will be one of the most attractive places of business on George Street.

H. S. GRIFFIN & Co. have found their present place too small for their growing trade.

On account of this change they propose having a Great Clearing Sale of their present stock of which further notice will be given in a couple of days.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 18, 1888.

LOCAL NEWS.

The Weather.

Winds shifting to westerly; clearing weather, with a little higher temperature.

Pull Down the Blind.

There is a west end maiden of rather mature years, who has, it is supposed, her first sweetheart, and, as if to make up for lost time, she makes love with uncommon energy. The other evening passers by the house were regaled with a full view of a few rounds of billing and cooing and concomitant osculation—the blind was up. It didn't work well and, since the matter has been reported to her, she is determined to go to the golden lion and get a new set of blinds, and also look at the beautiful curtains, window hollands and also the splendid new carpets—for John has proposed and a new house is to be furnished at once. Imported goods at corresponding prices.

"Is Life worth living?" Well, yes; if you get some of that choice, genuine maple syrup from M. R. Kidd, at The Pantry.

Their Explanation.

Constables Stewart and McGinty explain their difficulty with Mr. McMullen, who has entered a suit against them for illegal arrest. They say he was first found before midnight on Monday trying shop doors on George street, and when asked what he was doing would give no explanation nor his name. He said he was stopping at the Grand Central hotel, and Officer McGinty took him there and left him. A couple of hours after he was found wandering about near the Midland depot, and again refused to tell his name or what his business was. Then he was taken to the police station. To Acting-Chief Adams next morning he told his name and other particulars, and he was then dismissed. This is the constables' explanation of the affair.

Messrs. W. G. Bain & Co., late Breeze & Bain, open out to-day one of the finest and largest stocks of American Baby Carriages ever brought into Peterborough, and respectfully invite the public to call and see them. dtf

A Social for Young Men

The ladies of St. Paul's Church never do things by halves, as the success of their social for the young men of the congregation Tuesday evening amply illustrated. During the week invitations had been sent out to the young men who attended the church, and the way in which they responded showed that they fully appreciated the kindness. The social was held in the school room, which was filled by a happy gathering of church members young and old. The room was handsomely decorated for the occasion. Of refreshments there was an abundance of the best variety, as is always the case at a social under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of St. Paul's. Mr. D. B. Gardner occupied the chair, and introduced ad seriatim the different numbers on the excellent programme. At the conclusion of the entertainment Mr. Wm. Little in a neat speech moved, on behalf of the young men, a vote of thanks to the ladies for their generous hospitality, which it is needless to say was carried unanimously. Following is the programme as rendered:—

No Change.

There is no change in the rush of customers to the store of the Griffin Shoe Company. The big bargains still continue and the public still seek them. Come, all who want big bargains! tf

"Consider where it comes from" can be applied to more things than a kicking mule, and on the butter question it comes in with decided emphasis. The Pantry is noted for keeping the choicest article in town.

Market Notes.

Maple syrup, butter and eggs were the chief articles offered on the market to-day. Syrup in large quantities at $1.20 and $1.25 per gallon; butter, 22c., 24c. and 25c.; eggs, 14c. Very little else offering.

Battalion Notes.

As soon as the drill shed becomes dry, probably in the course of a week or so, drill will be begun by the Battalion.

It is pretty well understood that Quartermaster Millar will be placed in charge of No. 5 Company, which is at present without a commanding officer.

St. Andrew's Church Social.

A social in aid of the building fund of St. Andrew's church will be given at the residence of Mrs. R. Nicholls, Rubidge street, on Thursday evening, 26th inst., commencing at 8 o'clock. Refreshments served during the evening. A good programme will be provided. Admission 25 cents. eod

A Baseball League.

The Globe says:—"An agitation is on foot to form an amateur baseball league to include Belleville, Kingston, Cobourg, Port Hope, Peterborough, Trenton and Napanee." The agitation has not yet been heard of in Peterborough, but the idea is a good one just the same and should be carried out.

The Last and Best.

A social under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society will be held in the school room of St. Paul's church on Tuesday evening, 24th instant, at 8 o'clock. A good programme has been provided. Refreshments will be served. Admission 25c. All are cordially invited. As this social will be the last of the season special efforts are being made to make it the best. dtd

The Pantry is now well stocked with all kinds of first-class groceries. Customers can always get what we have to sell at Bottom Prices. No trouble to show goods and quote prices.

Spring Cattle Show.

The posters are out announcing the annual spring exhibition of stallions and bulls at the Peterborough Agricultural Show grounds on Saturday, April 28th. There are a few changes in the prize list for horses, the prizes for cross-bred animals having this year been struck off. Only thoroughbreds are recognized. The poster gives the prize list in full.

A Nasty Wound.

Yesterday afternoon some little boys were playing with a large yellow dog owned by Mr. Wm. Snowden, when a young son of Mr. Wm. Brundrette happened to pass by with a stick in his hand. Without any provocation the animal jumped on the boy and either with his teeth or claws tore the little fellow's nose open. The attending physician found a couple of stitches necessary to close up the wound. It is thought the dog did it in play, as he is not of a vicious disposition, though the sight of the stick may have excited him for a moment.

He who drinks of Lethe's watery labyrinth forgets his former state, both joy and grief, pleasure and pain; but for perfect and enduring happiness try those fine flavoured Teas at The Pantry—M. R. Kidd.

The Police Question.

Peterborough, April 18th, 1888.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

Dear Sir,—In your issue of the 17th inst. I notice a letter from a party signing himself "One of the People" to which these clings, to say the least of it, rather a bad smell.

In point of impudence, audacity and meaningless rant it would be hard to find its equal.

The people of Peterborough! What right has this masked dictator to constitute himself the "People of Peterborough?" It bears a strong resemblance to the "We, the People of England, three Taylors from Tibby Street" assumption.

"One of the People" worked hard to elect Mr. Douglass, and did this believing him in every respect capable of fulfilling the trust imposed upon him. Why come out now and call this man pig-headed, obstinate and unfair because from his position he is able to see things in a different light from "One of the People"? Why, I would like to ask, should the people interfere in this matter at all? Have they not by their own voice elected those men to represent them in the management of the affairs of the town? Do they not hold them responsible for their actions in regard to such management? And if so, why endeavor to muzzle their judgment by forcing your convictions down their throats, while they, from the very position they occupy, are capable of forming better opinions on all matters concerning the town and its affairs than you are?

A word in season. Allow Mr. Douglass, with the rest of the councillors, the free exercise of his own judgment in this as in all other matters, and if at the end of the year his labors have been barren of good results, then use your powers and remove him.

Signed,
Another One of the People.

[Two other letters on the same subject are printed on the second page.

Ennismore.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Last Tuesday was the date of a happy event. Mr. Edward Costello was united in wedlock to Miss Jenny Elsworth, formerly of Michigan. The wedding took place at 10 o'clock p.m., at the Ennismore church. The bride was the recipient of numerous presents. The happy couple left for Michigan, where they will spend their honeymoon. We wish them a happy journey through life.

Mr. Wm. Curtin, of Ennismore, left for Devil's Lake, Dakota, where he intends taking up land. We wish him success in his new home.

For Charity's Sake.

The Committee of the Peterborough Protestant Home beg leave very sincerely to thank Mr. Lewis for his kindness in sending the enclosed, which speaks for itself:—

Bank of Montreal,
Peterborough, 16th April, 1888.

Miss Roger, Secretary Treasurer Peterborough Protestant Home.

Dear Miss Roger,—I again have the pleasure of sending you a cheque for the benefit of the Protestant Home, being the result of the calico ball held on the 4th inst. The management were disappointed that the ball was not better attended, so that the proceeds might have been larger.

We are much indebted to Messrs. Winch, Rutherford and Cavanagh for the free use of the hall, to Mr Stevenson and the Gas Co. for light, to Messrs. Comstock, Belleghem and McFadden for furniture, and particularly to Messrs. Hacket and Kelly for their liberal contributions towards the decorations; to the Review and Examiner for reductions in their accounts, to the stewards for their valuable assistance in their different committees, and also to the ladies, too numerous to mention, who so kindly contributed to the supper.

The total receipts were	$150 35
Expenses	83 21
Balance for Home	67 14

Say $70 for which I enclose cheque.

Yours very truly,

A Persistent Partridge.

This morning about eight o'clock a partridge, which had evidently "lost its bearings," flew against the drawing-room window of the residence of Mr. E. B. Stone, barrister, and smashed the glass. The blow stunned the bird, but when Mr. Stone went out to pick it up the bird fluttered up and tried again to pass through the broken pane, but it caught its tail feathers in an angle of the broken glass and made its escape. What did this bird of the wilderness want legal advice for, or why was it so unduly anxious to get into a stew?

The German Emperor Dying in Charlottenburg—Conflicting Reports of Frederick's Condition—The Existence of Grave Symptoms Freely Admitted.

LONDON, April 18.—Seldom has any week opened more anxiously than this or with so many clouds on the horizon. The German Emperor is dying in Charlottenburg; Russian troops are again moving toward the Austrian frontier; Gen. Boulanger, with his minister, charlatan figure, is borne on the wave of ignorant fanaticism in France; and here in England her most attractive and delightful writer is dead.

What has befallen the German Emperor is what those who best know the real facts of the case predicted. I asked in Berlin, What will be the end? "His Majesty," was the answer, "will take cold, no matter what precautions are observed, bronchitis will supervene or inflammation of the lungs. Either must be fatal in so long time." This is what seems now to have happened. Perhaps the gravest symptom of all is the freedom with which the existence of grave symptoms is admitted. The afternoon's news is even worse than the morning's, though the bulletins are so confused that it is impossible to discover whether the doctors think that the cancer is extending or pneumonia is threatened.

Yesterday's Bulletins.

BERLIN, April 18.—The Emperor had a better day yesterday. His coughing and expectoration decreased and the fear of pneumonia was lessened. The doctors incline to the theory of the formation of small abscesses, which would explain the increase of temperature. The improvement in the Emperor's condition continued last evening, although his fever increased a little. He had a tolerably good night but his sleep was somewhat interrupted by coughing, and his fever continued. A consultation was held by the physicians this morning which showed the Emperor's condition to be less satisfactory than it was yesterday morning but better than last evening. The Emperor's temperature rose to 38° centigrade last evening, but to-day it has fallen to 36 4-5°. During the night Dr. Hovell inserted a wide canular. The physicians have again sounded the Emperor's lungs and found that they are not affected, which strengthens the theory that an abscess has formed in the trachea.

There was a great stir on the streets to-day owing to the circulation of a report that the Emperor intended to drive to Berlin from Charlottenburg. There was much disappointment manifested upon the rumor proving groundless. The Emperor appeared at a window at the Charlottenburg Castle at 12.45 and was enthusiastically greeted by the crowds that assembled. Prince Bismarck's visit this morning lasted an hour.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon this bulletin, signed by Doctors Mackenzie, Wagner, Krause, Hovell, Bergmann and Leyden, was issued:

The symptoms of bronchitis have considerably diminished since yesterday, and the fever has abated. The Emperor passed a better night, and his general condition is satisfactory.

A Decided Change for the Worse.

BERLIN, April 19, 1 a.m.—The Emperor's condition has taken a decided change for the worse. His physicians without exception consider his life in danger.

Reports of Improvement Doubted.

NEW YORK, April 18.—The Times London special says the reports of an improvement in the Kaiser's condition are not regarded as trustworthy. The opinion is settled that he will not live out the week.

An Alarming Rumor.

LONDON, April 18.—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Berlin, timed 4 p.m., says the condition of the Emperor is less satisfactory. It is reported that blood poisoning has supervened.

More Doctors.

PARIS, April 18.—The Gaulois says that at the request of Empress Victoria the French doctors Sean and Faunel and the English doctor Evans will proceed to Charlottenburg to examine the Emperor.

The Feeling at Vienna.

VIENNA, April 18.—The precarious condition of the German Emperor is universally deplored here. Each bulletin from Charlottenburg is scanned with intense interest, with the hope, however faint, that it will bring better tidings than the last. Most of the people here fear that with Kaiser Frederick will disappear the only remaining pledge for the maintenance of peace. Prince William has yet to win the confidence and regard of the foreign nations. The prevailing impression here is that the threatened catastrophe at Charlottenburg is not unlikely to prove calamitous for Germany. It is generally feared that fresh complications will arise in Europe in the event of the Emperor's death during the present crisis in France.

George Littlewood, the English pedestrian, who is entered for the six-day go-as-you-please race which is to begin in Madison Square Garden, May 5, is in the pink of condition, and feels confident of winning. He takes rather a thirty miles every day, and declares that he has never known so believe that he will enjoy

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

CANADA'S TRADE RELATIONS WITH THE WEST INDIES.

The Central Ontario Bill Introduced—Protection to Railway Employes—Mr. Jamieson Wants His Bill to Amend the Temperance Act Considered.

OTTAWA, April 18.—The House of Commons to-day, acting on the new recommendation of the Standing Orders Committee, suspended the rules which would have prevented the introduction of the Central Ontario Railway Bill, and the bill received its first reading.

Lieut.-Gen. Laurie, in moving for papers concerning the visit of the delegates from Jamaica, with whom was discussed the question of more intimate relations between Canada and the islands, called attention to the great trade of the West Indies and urged that efforts should be made to secure closer trade relations with them. He guarded himself particularly against the suggestion that he was at this time advocating political union between the two countries, but thought that the difficulties in the way of even that change might be overcome. Mr. Brown of Hamilton expressed the opinion that the House and country owed thanks to the Lieutenant-General for bringing this matter forward. This unanimity of sentiment in desiring to promote Canadian trade between two gentlemen whose loyal souls had repelled with horror the idea of taking down the barriers between Canadians and their nearest neighbors and best customers was very touching. Mr. Skinner was strongly in favor of cultivating the closest trade relations with the West Indies and with all the other British possessions in America. He remarked incidentally that he favored Unrestricted Reciprocity with the United States.

The resolutions for papers as moved by Lieut.-Gen. Laurie was carried just before the House rose for recess.

On the order being called for resuming the adjourned debate on the second reading of Mr. McCarthy's bill for the protection of railway employes, it was found that by some piece of luck Mr. McCarthy was in his place. He was, moreover, quite ready to speak upon the question. He explained that he understood that on the occasion of the last discussion of the bill the Government had suggested that the measure be left over until the Government bill on the subject of railways came up. He desired to make a condition before acceding to this view, which was that the Government should give every opportunity for presenting the amendments to the law here set forth. The bill was read a second time.

At 10.45 a motion to adjourn was made rather unexpectedly. Sir Richard Cartwright notified the Government that he would to-morrow (Thursday) call the attention of the House to facts affecting the conduct of the returning officer for Haldimand. Mr. Jamieson rose and protested against the adjournment, on the ground that it would postpone the consideration of his bill to amend the Temperance Act. Sir Hector said that he thought that an early adjournment would be welcomed by the members and that there would be two or three opportunities to take up Mr. Jamieson's bill. Mr. Fisher made a vain effort to get the Government to fix a date. Mr. Mitchell enquired whether the Government was going to make further railway grants, and was told that he could not know until the supplementary estimates came down. The House then adjourned.

THE BREWERS' STRIKE.

Master Brewers Jubilant—Little Inconvenience Expected.

NEW YORK, April 18.—In spite of the detection of Schmidt and Schwansefugel, the master brewers were jubilant to-day. Most of the breweries are working to a certain extent, and very little inconvenience is expected.

Returning to Work.

NEWARK, N.J., April 18.—The locked-out brewery employes are returning to work here. The prospect is that all the breweries will be in operation to-morrow.

Switchmen Quit Work.

KANSAS CITY, April 18.—All the Burlington switchmen in the yards here quit work last night, the company refusing to reinstate a switchman whom they had discharged for assaulting the night yardmaster.

Wedding Bells at Hamilton.

HAMILTON, April 18.—The marriage of Miss Marjory Walker Hendrie, second daughter of Wm. Hendrie, the well-known contractor, and Arthur Douglas Braithwaite, manager of the Bank of Montreal at Calgary, N.W.T., which took place in the Central Presbyterian church at 3 o'clock this afternoon, was one of the most fashionable events of the kind which has occurred in this city for some time. The bride's dress was white satin, the skirt and bodice trimmed with points d'Alencon lace, and the train of silver brocade. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Samuel Lyle, B.D. Among the guests from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. George Hendrie, Mr. and Mrs. Strathearn Hendrie, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Muir, Mr. and Mrs. Bethune Duffield, of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sutherland, of Montreal; Mr. W. A. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Armour, of Toronto, and Dr. and Mrs. Ferguson, of Niagara Falls. The bridal couple left on the 5.35 p.m. train for the east.

Montreal Fears a Flood.

MONTREAL, April 18.—Montreal is on tip-toe of expectancy to-night. The water in the river has been rising fast all day and now stands at 22 feet 8 inches, a gain of four feet since yesterday. When the big ice above last year caused such disastrous floods the water stood at exactly the same height as it does to-night, and many citizens will not sleep to-night, fearing a repetition of last year's experience which, peculiarly enough, began just twelve months ago on April 19.

Telfer Cameron and His Pals.

WINNIPEG, April 18.—A Pembina telegram states that absconding teller Cameron says his arrangement with Veile and McKittrick was that they were to get $50,000 of the booty, and send the balance to him when the excitement was over. Diamond was approached first but weakened, and then the other two came into the game. Cameron deplores having given the names away, as he had a promise that his pals would not be prosecuted.

Death of a Former Cobourgan.

COBOURG, April 18.—News was received here to-day of the death at Preston of Thomas Esh, for many years and until recently a resident of Cobourg. He was for some years a member of the Town Council and also sat at the board of the County Council.

NEW YORK, April 18.—Funeral services will be held over Senator Conkling's remains on Friday morning at 10 o'clock, in Trinity Chapel. The Rev. Morgan J. Dix will officiate. The remains will be taken to Utica for interment.

Flour Mills at Wadsworth Burnt.

WADSWORTH, April 18.—The Norham flour mills, with outbuildings, owned by J. G. Pearson, were totally destroyed by fire last night. Loss about $60,000; insured for $30,000. Cause of fire unknown.

In the Wild West.

ASHLAND, Wis., April 17.—Two men, whose names are unknown, got into a dispute with Wm. O'Hearne, a bartender, in Spooner, and another bartender named Charles Green of Minneapolis yesterday. Twenty shots were fired. O'Hearne was shot through the lungs and a bullet broke one of Green's legs. The strangers broke for the woods and a fruitless search followed.

DIED FROM A BEATING.

Housekeeper at Hamilton—The Latter Half Confesses Guilt—Assistance and Cruelty.

HAMILTON, April 18.—Maria Grainger, a familiar figure in Police Court circles, died yesterday in the City Hospital, whither she had been conveyed after having received a beating in the house of Earl Grant. Prior to going to the hospital she gave information to the Police Magistrate and had a warrant issued, which resulted in the arrest of Mrs. Grant, and this morning that woman and her husband were charged at the Police Court with the crime of manslaughter, but were remanded pending the action of the coroner's jury. The inquest was opened this morning. It was found that the deceased had a number of bruises on the left shoulder and about the neck, which had evidently been received in a personal conflict. Dr. Mastrolean told the jury that a post mortem would be necessary, and that he would see that it was proceeded with at once. The inquest was then adjourned until next Monday night.

The arbitration committees of the Laborers' Union and the Master Builders' Association met this morning and agreed upon a basis of settlement, the terms of which have already been published in The World. The stonecutters have also arrived at a settlement, and as soon as the arrangements are confirmed work will be resumed. The boss painters struck a rate of wages for the year at $2.25, $2 and $1.75 per day of ten hours for the three grades of workmen. As soon as this basis of agreement has been confirmed by the men they will resume work. It is believed that all misunderstanding will be swept aside by to-morrow morning, and that the sun will again come out and shine for all.

At the meeting of the Police Commissioners to-day the bylaw for the inspection and licensing of livery stables was considered and the board adjourned until Wednesday next, when the livery stable keepers will be heard.

John Stephenson was struck in the hip by a board shot from a circular saw in Brenton's planing mill this morning. He fainted, and was taken home. No bones were broken, but Stephenson's injuries were such that he will be confined to his house for some weeks.

A carload of machinery, consisting of lathes, etc., purchased by the Hamilton Brass Manufacturing Company from the estate of John Dunn of London, Ont., at 70 cents on the dollar, was seized at the Grand Trunk Station at noon to-day, by Joseph Greenfield on a chattel mortgage. There is a dispute about the price which was to have been paid, and it is expected the matter will be amicably settled in a day or two.

Benjamin Hunt, livery-stable keeper, is anxious about a horse and buggy that was obtained from him Monday night by Richard Tomlinson, who represented that it was for another livery man named Tobin. Since then nothing has been heard of Tomlinson.

The criminal assizes will open before Judge Rose next Monday morning. The calendar is larger than usual and the court will likely last a week or more.

Three Important Deputations.

Bryce and Dr. Coverton, accompanied by members of the Quebec Board of Health, and Dr. Montizambert, the quarantine officer at Grosse Isle, had an interview with the Minister of Agriculture. They asked that the most modern systems of disinfection and fumigation should be introduced at the Grosse Isle station. It is said that the apparatus required for this purpose would cost $150,000. The Government will consider the proposition.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

A BUSY DAY IN THE COMBINES COMMITTEE.

Mr. Ives, the Montreal Founder, on the Stove Combination—Opposition to the Binder Twine Bill—No Railway Subsidies to be Granted this Session.

OTTAWA, April 18.—The total number of immigrants who arrived in Canada from Jan. 1 to the end of March was 24,694, against 14,674 during the corresponding period of 1887. The number of settlers was 11,573, against 11,044 for the corresponding period of 1887.

Mr. Charlton will enquire if the Deputy Postmaster at Kingston (Wm. Shannon) was detected opening letters, why he was not forthwith arrested on the succeeding day, but allowed to depart to Cape Vincent, and why no attempt was made to arrest him on his return to Kingston.

To-day Mr. Macdonald (Huron) will enquire when was M. S. O'Donoghue engaged as extra clerk in the Department of Agriculture; when he obtained leave to engage as a Tory canvasser, and if his salary as extra clerk is assured to him during his absence from duty. This is the man sent into Russell County.

Sir Richard Cartwright will enquire to-day whether the Government proposes any addition to the salaries of Ontario County Judges.

The result of the fight in the Railway Committee yesterday shows that the battle is often lost and won outside the chamber. The vote in the Railway Committee is a very heavy one. By it Mr. Wainwright of the G.T.R. will appeal to the House against its decision on the Southwestern Railway charter.

H. R. Ives of Montreal was examined in the Combines Committee on the alleged combination in stoves to-day. His prices were regulated on about the same scale as the combination. A great many small manufacturers were not in the combination. The association benefited manufacturers by keeping up prices, preventing imitation of patterns and maintaining the quality of goods. Prices were fixed by an expert in the business. Prices were the same now as a year ago. Previous to that an advance of 5 per cent. was made by some manufacturers. The James Smart Manufacturing Company and witness had an arrangement with regard to prices on miscellaneous articles of hardware. He manufactured several hundred tons of barbed wire. The railways got it at 5½ cents per pound, wholesalers at 5¾ cents and retailers at 6 cents. An arrangement was made this year by which wholesalers and retailers were to sell at a fixed price to prevent annoyance. Many were not making anything, and the advance was undertaken in their interest. The advance was very small. The arrangement was only made this spring. The association never before undertook to dictate the price. By breaking the arrangement a member rendered himself liable to be cut off from purchasing from manufacturers.

Walter Paul, a Montreal grocer, gave evidence of the biscuit combination. He deemed this combination quite as bad as any. Prices were higher than they ought to be. In view of the high duty biscuits were as high priced now as fifteen or twenty years ago. Sugar was cheaper now than then. Flour was made at half the cost. Lard certainly was cheap and labor was cheaper here than in the United States. Manufacturers had the benefit of improved machinery, and yet prices continued high. Prices were from 25 to 50 per cent. higher here than in the United States. Ginger biscuits were from 6½ cents to 7 cents per pound in New York and 11 cents in Canada. Soda biscuits were 20 per cent. cheaper in the United States. The duty was about similar in amount, so that Canadians took advantage of the duty. He was satisfied that Canadians could produce good biscuits 25 per cent. lower than they did at present and still make a good profit. He considered the combines a dangerous conspiracy. It resulted in manufacturers abusing in an illegal manner the privileges conferred upon them by Parliament.

D. R. Ross of Embro, Secretary of the Oatmeal Millers' Association, said there were sixty mills in the Dominion, four of which could supply all the Dominion. These mills had a capacity of 920,000 barrels, while the total amount consumed was 170,000 barrels. The price in Toronto was $5.35 per barrel. During three years previous to this season 70,000 barrels were exported to Great Britain, about half the quantity produced in Canada. In 1884 there were $214,000 worth of meal exported to Great Britain and $320,000 worth of oats.

Mr. Scott of Ottawa was President of the association, the object of which was to regulate prices and four advances had been made since the list was first issued. There were twenty-four members in the association. Most of the large ones were in, although some had dropped out. These not in the combination sold lower than those in it.

Mr. Gibbons, lawyer, of Montreal, is here, lobbying against the passage by the House of Commons of the Bucket-shop Bill. He is retained by the bucket-shop dealers in Montreal. The Minister of Justice has charge of the bill, and it will likely carry.

The Government has reached the determination to grant no railway subsidies this session. This is a most important announcement.

Lieut.-Governor Dewdney of the Northwest Territory continued his evidence before the Estimate Committee this morning, speaking of the navigability of the waters in the district, his knowledge being gained by sending in Indian supplies.

Fatal Affray in Louisiana.

JEANNERETTE, La., April 18.—Yesterday afternoon L. P. Provost, N. Provost, sr., N. Provost, jr., and A. Demerelle, all highly connected and members of the same family, met at the voting poll and an altercation took place between them. Pistol shots were exchanged, and Nicholas Provost, sr., fell dead, and his brother, L. P. Provost, was fatally wounded. Politics had nothing to do with the affray.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE LADIES OF PETERBOROUGH AND VICINITY.

We have a word or two to say to you. In these times when money is considered rather scarce, you would be studying your interests by buying at close Cash Prices, and at Reliable Houses. There is in our midst a First Class Dry Goods House that meets every requirement. Rowse's Trade Palace is established in the interest and for the protection of those who pay ready money for their Dry Goods.

Their prices are very low. Look in their Show Window to-day, and you can get any article there at Five Cents. This is a curiousity. Novelties in Fine Dress Goods are exhibited on their counters at Twelve and a-half cents. A Lady told Mr. Rowse the other day that she had been around town looking at Silks and she saw some that she thought were cheap, but she could not depend on the reliability of the houses she had visited. She bought her Silk at the Trade Palace. Rowse's Silks at Fifty and Sixty cents are wonderful value.

In conclusion we respectfully ask you to look through the Elegant Display of Dry Goods at the Trade Palace.

Faithfully yours,

ONE WHO STUDIES YOUR INTERESTS.

THURSDAY, APRIL 19, 1888.

TO-DAY voting for the repeal of the Scott Act takes place in the following counties:—Bruce, Dufferin, Dundas, Stormont & Glengarry, Huron, Norfolk, Renfrew and Simcoe. The average majorities by which the Act was adopted in these counties was the high one of 1,202. A general reversal of the vote of three years ago would indicate a remarkable change of public opinion.

THE Empire makes a laboured effort to try and tell who does not pay the duty, and during the reciprocity debate in the House of Commons, a score of ministerialists contended with the organ that the removal of the United States customs duties from the natural products of Canada would be of no benefit to the Canadian farmer and producer. Yet we have what these should consider the highest financial authority in Canada, Sir Charles Tupper, declaring his admiration of the Mills (U.S.) tariff-bill, which relieves certain products of Canada from the customs duty on entering United States territory. "Under that bill we escape," said Sir Charles, "payment of $1,800,000 paid in duty last year as follows: $1,315,000 on lumber; $66,000 on copper ore; $22,000 on salt and $163,000 on wool, all of which articles the Mills bill make free." This is an admission tantamount to an express declaration that Canadians practically pay the duties on the articles exported from Canada as specified in the Mills bill.

The Chiefship of Police.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

DEAR SIR,—I have been much interested in the letters appearing from time to time in the EXAMINER in relation to the chiefship of Police for this town. It is a most important matter, for, upon the efficiency of the Chief, depends that of the force, and I have great respect for those members of the Council, Messrs. Bartley, Kendry, Moore, Yelland, Hall and Davidson, who have shown a determination to bring about a better state of things. I feel that they recognize the necessity of an improvement and are desirous of doing their duty. I have nothing against Mr. Adams, personally—if he were not under the influence of bad advisers, he might make a good man. But he must learn the lesson that a man can't keep bad company, officially, and keep a good reputation. No one can close his eyes to the fact that, for years, there has been insufficient police service. A certain clique foisted one fancy chief of police upon us and now the game is being tried again. What is the result? At night the police saunter about in company, instead of each being on his beat on different streets. And houses of ill repute have been allowed to flourish under their very eyes, and day after day and night after night, Sundays and all, liquor is said to be sold in direct and public violation of the law—and what degree of enforcement the Act has received is due to the officer of the Ontario Government and the Scott Act Association. This is not to be wondered at. The present police force is under the control of persons hostile to the Act. Mayor Stevenson and councillor McNeil are the declared and outspoken opponents of the Act, and we cannot wonder that the police do not do their duty when they take their cue from them. As I said before, I am not personally opposed to Mr. Adams, but he is the representative of a clique and there must be a change. It is well known that all the better class of citizens favour a change. All the friends of morality, law and order favour a change, and a change there must and will be. The police affairs of the town have long enough been controlled by an influence hostile to the general sentiments and feelings of our citizens. Shall the avowed enemies of law and order be allowed to control the administration of law and the preservation of order in a manner to obstruct both? I say, no; public opinion says no, and I hope the majority of the council will say, no. The people will watch the councillors' "combine" closely, and will see that evil counsels and evil designs do not win the day.

Yours truly,
VINDEX.

Peterborough, April 19th.

The Credit of the Town.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

SIR,—I have read with pleasure your "Credit of the Town," and hope that your not too early suggestion about the non-efficiency of the Battalion will lead to immediate action. But where is Sergeant-Major Rundle, and why is he not drilling the Rangers thrice a week at least? He made a good show last fall; but that won't do any good on the Queen's birthday, if our men are not ready to meet their rivals, and there is little more than a month for the preparation. It is more than time that good, earnest drill had been begun, so that the credit of the town and the Peterborough Rangers may be upheld with eclat.

Yours truly,
MARS.

The Committee Meet and Devise Ways and Means to Celebrate—A Grand Union Demonstration.

The joint committee of the 57th Battalion and P.A.A.A. met Wednesday afternoon and outlined a programme of events for the demonstration on May 24th. There is to be a baseball match at 9.30 in the morning, military manœuvres by the Battalion at 11.30, to conclude at noon with a feu de joie. In the afternoon athletic sports will be held in the Association grounds, consisting of running, jumping, etc., and some amusing events in the shape of a greasy pig chase and an animal race. This latter may need some explanation. There are about half a dozen entries, each contestant drawing a slip of paper from a hat, on the slip being written the name of the animal he is to race with. The directors have previously secured these animals in a place of safety, and each man leads forth his "racer" by a string. They are all started together, the race being about fifty yards. It is most amusing, the animals chosen being pigs, dogs, cats, chickens, geese, etc., and even turtles and toads are sometimes placed in the category. With its usual obstinacy ten chances to one the pig will want to run back to its pen instead of forward, and the victim at the other end of the string can do nothing but drive him—no pulling ahead or dragging is allowed. The chickens and geese will probably attempt to fly over the fence with their charges, and similar behavior may be expected of the other animals. In these races a turtle has been known to win. He will go in which ever direction he is poked. Another feature will be tug-of-war, in which the fire brigade will be asked to participate.

The evening programme has not yet been arranged, but it is said the band will hold a grand promenade concert on the grounds. This would make an excellent evening's entertainment.

The joint committee is composed of Messrs. R. B. Rogers, G. C. Clarke, Quartermaster Millar, Capt. Brennan and Lieuts. Hill, Mason and Hammond. They elected as chairman, Capt. Brennan; secretary, G. C. Clarke; treasurer, Lieut. Mason. It was decided to make a thorough canvass of the town for prizes for the sporting events, and report progress Friday afternoon, when the programme will be finally arranged and the posters issued.

It is not yet definitely known what regiment from a distance will visit Peterborough on the 24th.

Ammoniated Bread.

Ammoniated baking powders—that is, baking powders in which carbonate of ammonia is used as an ingredient, and which exhale an odor of ammonia when heated—are classed by many eminent physicians and sanitarians as superior to all others. Professor Hassal, of London, who is recognized as highest authority on the subject of food hygiene, commends in the strongest terms the use of carbonate of ammonia as a leavening agent, stating its great advantage to be in its perfect volatility, which permits it to be, by the heat of baking, entirely thrown into leavening gas whereby the bread is raised. The experiment with heat would seem to indicate the superior, not the inferior, value of such baking powder. The little heat that is imparted to it when held over a gas jet, lamp, or stove, suffices to resolve the carbonate of ammonia into leavening gas and throw it off. The first heat of baking, therefore, will effectually develop all the gas, thoroughly leaven the loaf and dissipate the gas producing ingredients of a powder of this kind; and this is the highest test of a perfect baking powder. Where other alkalies alone are used they are not infrequently retained, unresolved, through the whole process of baking, and remain an unwholesome ingredient in the finished bread. The carbonate of ammonia cannot be used as a substitute for cream of tartar.—N. Y. Weekly Tribune.

BRIEFLETS.

Two weddings this week, one next week.

All quiet on the by-law question at present.

Lake open to Young's Point, and large quantities of ice coming down the river.

Two large, white gulls were seen hovering over the river on Monday morning.

Regular meeting of Victoria Council No. 39 Chosen Friends on Thursday evening.

A large number of our citizens went down to town Monday to hear Mrs. Scott-Siddons.

Our country friends are telling doleful stories of the effect the cold nights and bright days are having on fall wheat.

Thursday evening's Daily EXAMINER came to hand on Monday afternoon, three days and a half, making distance of nine miles in this fast age.

Mr. Eden had some trouble in launching his new steamer, "The Dawn," last week, owing to the giving way of one of the ways. She was, however, got into the water all right and is now receiving the finishing touches, when she will make a trial trip to the "Point."

The Forester band are having extra practice evenings at present in anticipation of numerous serenades, and again taking possession of the band stand on the village square, when they will favor our citizens with selections during the summer evenings.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING.

The regular meeting of the Lakefield School Board was held in the council chamber on Tuesday evening, the 10th inst.

Present—Thos. Gordon, chairman, in the chair; Messrs. D. Smith, R. Q. Dench and Wm. Abbot.

Minutes of former meeting read and adopted.

Moved by Mr. Smith, seconded by Mr. Dench, that the report of the Head Master for February and March be received.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Abbot, seconded by Mr. Smith, that the account of Mr. Peter Baptie, $23.70, for seats, be received and an order be drawn on the treasurer for the same, and that James Brown's account of $1.25, for repairs, be handed to the Finance Committee for their approval.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Abbot, seconded by Mr. Dench, that this Board do now adjourn to meet at the call of the chairman.—Carried.

FOUND OUT.

One of our young men of a somewhat bashful and retiring disposition, whose lady love resided somewhere on the Grand Junction, has been for some time seeking for an excuse of visiting her without attracting any attention, being afraid of the chaffing of his friends. At last he hit on an idea, and gave out that he had been appointed agent for the sale of stump machines. Hammer and saw were laid aside, and he started off on his new avocation, the "Bay City" being the field of his labors. We cannot learn what was his success while there, but Crossley and Hunter's revival meetings seem a strange place, and a lady anything but a promising customer, for the sale of his wares, but he must have met with some measure of success if we are to judge by his happy expression since his return home.

Remove The Cause.

To remedy an evil the cause must be removed. It is by opening the clogged avenue of the system and thus removing the impure poisonous and worn out matter which is the cause of disease that B. B. THE SPORTING WORLD.

The Toronto Ahead Defeated—Racing in Memphis—Spots of Sport.

WHEELING, W. Va., April 18.—To-day's game was a battle royal between the pitchers, Knauss, who has been making a phenomenal record this season, for the home team and St Smith for the Canadian visitors. So far as honors went the Toronto's pitcher had the best of it, but he was given poor support and towards the last was plainly discouraged, although the batting was very light. He fielded his position well and Thayer held him fairly. There was but meagre attendance, though the weather was very fair. The score:

Wheeling	0 0 0 2 0 0 0 2 1—5	9	3

Montreals Will Remain in the N.A.L.A.

MONTREAL, April 18.—The rumors that the Montreal club would resign from the N.A.L.A. because of the failure of the Cornwall convention to legislate on the professionalism question, received quietus to-night, when delegates to the convention reported and it was decided to remain in the association, though they will not play in the series. President Stevenson decided after reconsideration to remain in the presidency of the association, and as Cornwalls to-day signified their adhesion to the schedule arrangements for the N.A.L.A. the season may be said to be complete.

The C.L.A. Officers for 1888.

The election of officers for 1888 at the Canadian Lacrosse Association convention at Paris on Tuesday resulted as follows: Hon. President, Major R. B. Hamilton, Toronto; President, D. A. Rose, Ontarios; First Vice-President, E. W. Nesbitt, Woodstock; Second Vice-President, Dr. J. F. Ross, Toronto; Secretary-Treasurer, H. O'Loughlin, St. Catharines.

The council elected was as follows: A. H. Baird, Brants of Paris; J. E. Bell, Young Torontos; Dr. Lake of Bright; Geo. Phemister, Niagara; J. Vance, Ingersoll; Fred Frank, Brantford; B. Maguire, Orangeville; C. V. Howell, Young Brantfords; W. McCutcheon, Shelburne, and W. H. Griffin, Stratford.

The following clubs announced their intention to enter for the senior championship: Ontarios of Toronto, Brantford, Toronto, Beavers of Woodstock, Athletics of St. Catharines and Brants of Paris.

Spots of Sport.

George Cartwright, the English pedestrian, arrived at New York on Monday on the Servia, from Liverpool, to take part in the go-as-you-please race in Madison square Garden in May.

Lucy, a brindle from New Jersey, and Sport, a white and black bull terrier from Connecticut, met just outside the Connecticut line on Monday for a stake of $300. At the end of 1 hour and 13 minutes the New Jersey dog failed to come to time and Sport was declared the winner.

Sam Burgess of Woodstock has purchased Andrew Laidlaw's whole kennel of St. Bernard dogs, including the smooth-coat bitch "Juno" (champion Apollo-Leone, A.K.R. 4316), and five beautiful young rough-coat bitches by imported Harry, A.K.R. 2139, ex-Cora (champion Apollo-Leone.)

Water Filters.

To insure good health it is absolutely necessary to have pure water, and no water is entirely free from floating matter and disease germs without thorough filtration. The majority of cases of typhoid and other low fevers are in a measure caused from unfiltered and impure water, so that every family who values its health should have a reliable filter. Numerous filters are offered to the public varying in points of excellence, but for cheapness, efficiency and durability, our filters cannot be surpassed. No corroding substances are used in construction. The packing material is the most powerful specially prepared granulated carbon. It will last for years with the ordinary use of a family, and the material may be obtained from us at any time for replenishing at small expense. Sold in Peterborough only at Chinn Hall. dw

The Growth of the Hair.

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic the scalp will be kept in a clean and healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

The Four Cardinal Points.

The four cardinal points of health are the stomach, the liver, the kidneys and the blood, any failure of their action brings disease and derangement to the whole system. Regulate their condition with Burdock Blood Bitters to secure perfect health. 2w16d

Without A Doubt.

There is no doubt that Hagyard's Yellow Oil is the best remedy for Sprains, Bruises, Sore Throat, Colds, Rheumatism, Croup and all Aches, Pains, Lameness and Soreness. It is used externally and internally, and should always be kept in the house. 2w16d

High Praise.

Mrs. John Neelands, writing from the Methodist Parsonage, Adelaide, Ont., says, "I have used Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam for years in our family. For heavy Colds, Sore Throats and distressing coughs no other medicine so soon relieves." 2w16d

His Friends Can Testify.

Mr. C. H. Vought, of Peterboro, Ont., says that his friends can testify to his being cured of Indigestion, Constipation, and Torpid Liver by using two and a half bottles of B. B. B. "It seems to act like magic, and I heartily recommend it" are the closing words of his letter. 2w16d

AS MUCH A SECRET AS EVER

To the Editor of the Examiner:—SIR—How in the world has C. B. ROUTLEY jumped into such a big slice of the Wall Paper trade? Why it seems as if one couldn't pass his store without running against a load of Wall Paper in the arms of some pleased looking customer. I'm half inclined to think there must have been lots of boodle in the Wall Paper business before ROUTLEY started it, and that the people have found out that he has broken the combination. Eh? what did you think, Mr. Editor? And yet you occasionally hear of spasmodic attempts to get down to ROUTLEY'S prices, in order to head him off; but still it seems as much a secret as ever how he keeps up the ruse.

Yours truly,

A. RATEPAYER.

LOCAL NEWS.

The Weather.

Fresh to strong west to north winds; generally fair weather; stationery, followed by a little lower temperature.

The Recognized Headquarters.

The recognized headquarters for fashionable millinery, mantles and dressgoods is the Golden Lion, Peterborough. And in addition to the finest stock in the retail market, not the least recommendation of this establishment is the fact that complete and competent staffs are kept, capable of making to order mantles and dresses in the very first style of fit and fashion. Don't neglect to visit the Golden Lion.

An Extra Prize.

The directors of the Agricultural Society have decided to award a diploma for the best stallion of any breed that has not taken a prize in any of the other classes at the spring cattle show on Saturday, 28th April. The directors in this respect have acceded to the wishes of those who have no thoroughbred horses, but grade horses with pretty full strains of blood which entitle them to a place in a horse exhibit.

Dominion Day.

The Fire Brigade boys are wide awake, and are going to give us a Dominion Day celebration of the sterling, old-fashioned sort. They have secured the Driving Park and they have decided to resurrect the genuine, old-fashioned physiogs, whose "merry quips and flashes of merriment were wont to set people in a roar." There will be a grand street pageant and parade, such as the town, county or country has never seen before. The boys are the boys that can do it, and they mean business. They have begun early. The two months and eleven days that intervene between this and July 1st will be spent in busy preparation, and the kind help of the citizens won't be refused. Fuller particulars when the spirit moves the "dictator."

A Brick-layers' Union.

Tuesday evening a brick-layers Union was formed in Peterborough. Mr. D. R. Gibson, of Hamilton, Provincial organizer, arrived in town Tuesday afternoon, and in the evening organized the local Union at the Knights of Labor Hall. The following officers were elected:—

PRESIDENT—J. J. Hartley.
VICE-PRES.—G. Rose.
RECORDING SEC.—T. J. McNamara.
FINANCIAL SEC.—H. McDonald.
CORRESPONDING SEC.—R. Sheehy.
TREAS.—A. Dawson.
DOOR KEEPER—Geo. Pickles.
DEPUTY—T. M. McFadden.
ALT.—J. Theobald.

Mr. Gibson delivered an interesting address on the benefits of the Union. He left on the 5 o'clock train Wednesday evening. This is the first time Mr. Gibson was in Peterborough and he was astonished with the size and appearance of our city.

"CONSIDER where it comes from" can be applied to more things than a kicking mule, and on the butter question it comes in with decided emphasis. The Pantry is noted for keeping the choicest article in town.

A Medicine Man's Mishap.

A certain medical man in town has a horse that, to save time, starts off as soon as his master puts foot in the buggy, so that by the time the latter gets comfortably seated, the robes tucked in and his gloves on, the horse has made probably a hundred yards or so before the reins are taken up. This morning, after a professional call, the young doctor jumped into his buggy as usual and didn't attempt to guide his horse. The animal turned sharply to the left, letting one wheel down into a deep ditch, and before the medico could say Jack Robinson he was sprawling in the bottom of the ditch, the buggy on top of him and his horse lying on its back kicking like—well, like some patients kick when their doctor's bill comes in. The "medicine man" quickly recovered from his undignified position and turned up at dinner time, smiling as ever. His horse was uninjured, but he will have a heavy bill of damages to the buggy and harness to pay.

Eastern Cricket Association.

The Ottawa correspondent of the Empire writes:—Mr. R. B. Rogers, a delegate appointed by the Peterborough Cricket Club to wait on the Ottawa club, relative to the formation of an Eastern Cricket Association, was in the city Tuesday and had a long conference with the executive of the club here. The proposal of the Peterborough club, in which they wish the co-operation of the Ottawa club, is that an Eastern Cricket Association be formed, taking in all the clubs from Toronto eastward to Quebec, to replace the present Quebec Association, of which the Ottawa and Peterborough clubs are members, notwithstanding that both places are in the Province of Ontario. It is also proposed to change the name of the present Ontario Association to that of the Western Association, and make it include all the clubs from Toronto west to Windsor. The idea is that with this change in the Association things will run in a more satisfactory manner. A meeting of the members of the Ottawa club will be called next week, when propositions to the foregoing effect will be laid before them and action taken.

Reserved Residents' Association.

There will be a meeting of the R.R.A. this evening at 8 o'clock, in the Murray street Separate School. All members are requested to attend, as business of importance will come before the meeting.

No Change.

There is no change in the rush of customers to the store of the Griffin Shoe Company. The big bargains still continue and the public still seek them. Come, all who want big bargains! tf

Doing the Lord's Bidding.

The five Latter Day Apostles who arrived in town last Saturday, intending to stay only a few days, have decided to remain in town "until all Peterborough is converted," doing, as they say, the Lord's bidding. They hold meetings in the old music hall.

The Grocers Join In.

A petition is in circulation on behalf of the grocers of the town, to secure a by-law under the Ontario Shops Regulation Act, to close their places of business at 7 o'clock in the evenings, on all days except Saturdays, the days before public holidays and during the month of December.

Lacrosse Meeting.

A meeting of the members of the Ætna Lacrosse Club, for the purpose of re-organization, will be held at the parlors of the Hub Restaurant to-morrow (Friday) evening at 7 o'clock. All former members, as well as those who wish to join, are urged to be present.

Died of Old Age.

An old woman named Mrs. Welsh, who was committed to gaol in the winter as a vagrant, died this morning. The poor, old lady has been so feeble for a number of weeks past that she was unable to help herself, and this morning she passed peacefully away. A formal inquest will, of course, be held.

St. Andrew's Church Social.

A social in aid of the building fund of St. Andrew's church will be given at the residence of Mrs. R. Nicholls, Rubidge street, on Thursday evening, 26th inst., commencing at 8 o'clock. Refreshments served during the evening. A good programme will be provided. Admission 25 cents. eod

Valuable Property to be Sold.

Some valuable town property is to be sold on Friday. The handsome brick residence of Mrs. Gilmour, corner Park and Gilmour streets, with three lots adjoining, and about an acre and a half of land on Gilmour street, will be sold by public auction on the premises. For particulars read advertisement elsewhere.

Another Big Burst.

This time in music, at Doucet's music store where over 1,000 pieces of the latest song and instrumental sheet music are be sold away below first cost. Come early and make your selection. The whole stock must be sold at once. 3d91

Painting the Town.

Enough paint to do the whole town, ready mixed at that, ranging from the brightest vermillion to the sombrest black, and including all colors and shades made, can be had at Fortye & Phelan's.

Japanese Ware.

A full assortment of Japanese china just received at "China Hall." Five o'clock and full tea sets, vases, urns, spice jars, salad, slop and porridge bowls, flower pots, hot water kettles, etc. Quite new and all the rage. Call and see it. dw

THE PANTRY is now well stocked with all kinds of first-class groceries. Customers can always get what we have to sell at Bottom Prices. No trouble to show goods and quote prices.

Oyster Rooms Open.

J. C. Craig has opened out his two comfortable oyster parlors on George street, where the delicious bivalves will be served up at all hours, in any style desired. Drop in and try Johnny's stews. Steaks, mutton chops and tea and coffee served until 12 o'clock at night. d

A Burglary at Bobcaygeon.

This morning Acting-Chief Adams received a telegram from the chief constable of Bobcaygeon, stating that a burglary had been committed there last night and asking him to arrest two young men about 5 ft. 9 inches in height, fair complexioned, wearing brown overcoats and stiff hats, on suspicion. No details of the burglary have as yet been received.

Special inducements to farmers and all others during the busy season at J. T. Stenson's boot and shoe shop, George street. Prices are cut so low that no time is lost in making a bargain. Rapid sales and everybody delighted. Come and see.

Queen's Birthday Notes.

Invitations have been sent to Port Hope and Lindsay baseball clubs to play a match here on the morning of the 24th.

The military part of the demonstration will be the most pleasing of any. Their march-out with the band and movements will be very interesting.

A professional foot race is down on the list of athletic events.

If one or more regiments from a distance should visit Peterborough, as is very probable, the day's proceedings will be greatly enlivened.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

ONTARIO TO THE FRONT!

A Matter Of Vital Importance.

The following unsolicited opinions from your friends and neighbors, men and women, whom you know and respect, ought to carry conviction to any doubting mind. These words of gratitude are from those who have been enlisted but are now well, and the persons giving them are naturally solicitous that others, troubled as were they, may know the means of cure. There is no reason why you should be longer ill from kidney, liver or stomach troubles. You can be cured as well as others. Do not longer delay of treatment, but to-day obtain that which will restore you to permanent health and strength:

286 McNab St. North, HAMILTON, Can., Nov., 2, 1886.—I had been suffering for over twenty years from a pain in the back and one side of the head, and indigestion. I could eat scarcely anything, and everything I ate disagreed with me. I was attended by physicians who examined me and stated that I had enlargement of the liver, and that it was impossible to cure me. They also stated that I was suffering from heart disease, inflammation of the bladder, kidney disease, bronchitis and cat arrh, and that it was impossible for me to live. They attended me for three weeks without making any improvement in my condition. I commenced taking "Warner's Safe Cure" and "Warner's Safe Pills," acting strictly up to directions as to diet, and took thirty-six bottles, and have had the best of health ever since. My regular weight used to be 180 lbs. When I commenced "Warner's Safe Cure" I only weighed 140 lbs. I now weigh 210 lbs.

Mrs. Hutchings

ST. CATHERINES, Ont., Jan. 24th, 1887.—About six years ago I was a great sufferer from kidney disease, and was in misery all the while. I hardly had strength enough to walk straight and was ashamed to go on the street. The pains across my back were almost unbearable, and I was unable to find relief, even temporarily. I began the use of "Warner's Safe Cure," and inside of one week I found relief, and after taking eight bottles, I was completely cured.

Mr. E. Kinsey

Manager for American Express Co.

TORONTO, (18 Division Street) Sept. 17, 1887.—Three years ago last August my daughter was taken ill with Bright's disease of the kidneys. The best medical skill in the city was tasked to the utmost, but to no purpose. She was racked with convulsions for forty-eight hours. Our doctor did his best, and went away saying the case was hopeless. After she came out of the convulsions, she was very weak and all her hair fell out. The doctor had left us about a month when I concluded to try Warner's Safe Cure," and after having taken six bottles, along with several bottles of "Warner's Safe Pills," I saw a decided change for the better of her condition. After taking twenty-five bottles there was complete cure. My daughter has now a splendid head of hair and weighs more than she ever did before.

Mrs. Jos Burns

CHATHAM, Ont., March 6, 1888.—In 1864 I was completely run down. I suffered most severe pains in my back and kidneys, so severe that at times I would almost be prostrated. A loss of ambition, a great desire to urinate, without the ability of so doing, coming from me as it were in drops. The urine was of a peculiar color and contained considerable foreign matter. I became satisfied that my kidneys were in a congested state and that I was running down rapidly. Finally I concluded to try "Warner's Safe Cure," and in forty-eight hours after I had taken the remedy I voided urine that was as black as ink, containing quantities of mucus, pus and gravel. I continued and it was not many hours before my urine was of a natural straw color, although it contained considerable sediment. The pains in my kidneys subsided as I continued the use of the remedy, and it was but a short time before I was completely relieved. My urine was normal and I can truthfully say that I was cured.

J. T. Woods

GALT, Ont., Jan. 27, 1887.—For about five years previous to two years ago last October, I was troubled with kidney and liver trouble and finally I was confined to my bed and suffered the most excruciating pain, and for two weeks' time I did not know whether I was dead or alive. My physicians said I had enlargement of the liver, though they gave me only temporary relief. Hearing of the wonderful cures of "Warner's Safe Cure" I began its use, and after I had taken two bottles I noticed a change for the better. The pains disappeared, and my whole system seemed to feel the benefit of the remedy. I have continued taking "Warner's Safe Cure" and no other medicine since. I consider the remedy a great boon, and if I ever feel out of sorts "Warner's Safe Cure" fixes me all right. I weigh twenty pounds heavier now than ever before.

Obituary.

The Late George A. Bennet.

The numerous friends of Rev. Wm. Bennet will learn with regret of the death of his third son, Mr. George A. Bennet, a lad of much promise. The deceased was at one time in the employ of Messrs. Ormond & Walsh, druggists, town, but failing health due to pulmonary affection, compelled his retirement and he spent the winter of 1886-87 in California, not, however, with the benefit expected. His continued ill health led his father to remove to the farm in Cavan, near Springville, with the hope that country air and out door employment would have a beneficial effect, but the hope was vain. The fatal disease continued to progress and for some time back the deceased was confined to the house. About the middle of December he took to his bed, and affection of the heart supervening on the pulmonary disease hastened the young man's death which took place on Wednesday evening last. The whole community, both in Rev. Mr. Bennet's former and present home, extend their cordial sympathy to him and the family in their sore bereavement.

Police Court.

THURSDAY, April 19.

Henry Marshall was charged with having disturbed Salvation Army worship, but failed to appear in answer to the summons. Evidence was, however, taken to show that on Sunday afternoon last while drunk Marshall attempted to force an entrance into the barracks during the prayer meeting, and raised such a disturbance that the services had to be prematurely closed. The case was enlarged till to-morrow and a warrant issued to compel Marshall's attendance.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

INTERESTING REVELATIONS REFARDING HACK HIRE CHARGES

Six Thousand Dollars Extras Paid in Twelve Months to a Customs Officer—Mr. Jamieson Choked Off—The Senate Divorce Committee.

OTTAWA, April 19.—Owing to the illness of Minister Pope it is said the Railway Bill he introduced will not be pushed this session. Few realize the importance of this voluminous measure, which is really a new consolidated railway act, incorporating some of the suggestions of the Railway Commission.

The Metis from Batoche and Brandon have petitioned Parliament to grant to the Indian children, born between 1870 and 1886, 240 acres of land each, so as to put them on the same footing as those born before 1870.

Mr. Creighton, M.P.P., and manager of The Toronto Empire, left last night for Toronto. He does not know whether it will be necessary to appear personally as Quebec on Saturday or not to answer the charge of libel. He relates that Premier Mercier is a jolly good fellow.

Some interesting revelations came out in the Public Accounts Committee this morning. Mr. Somerville drew attention to the fact that Thomas Waters, of the Customs Department, had received $6400 in addition to his salary last year for Customs seizures. Mr. Bowell said the payment was for special services rendered in the shape of seizures made on Lake Superior. Mr. Waters reported to the Minister that there was much smuggling going on in the West and asked permission to investigate. This was given and Waters discovered that smuggling was going on all along the Canadian Pacific Railway line to Port Arthur. A seizure was effected, and the amount in question was Waters' share, as he received a third of the seizure.

Joseph Pope (Sir John's private secretary) was examined respecting the charge for cab fare for driving Sir John from Nov. 9 to 31, 1886, during which Sir John was not home a single day. The charge was $30, and for the whole month $60 for driving Sir John about Ottawa. There was also a charge of $38.50 for cab fare in Ottawa for Sir John between Dec. 11 and 22, 1886. It was proved that during this entire period Sir John was traveling in the "Chestnut Combination." Mr. Pope had certified the accounts as being correct, and when questioned said they must have been right or he would not have certified to them. He could not explain how the accounts were charged when Sir John was absent.

The bolt from the Government on a question of reciprocity, led by ex-Speaker Kirkpatrick, was the feature of last night's session. Sir Charles Tupper announced that the Government would not allow the bill to pass, as it was their policy to withhold the measure from the United States, with the view to coerce that country into granting a full measure of reciprocity in the coasting trade. Mr. Kirkpatrick took the view that this bill meeting as it does a standing statutory offer of a similar character from Washington, would do more to show our good-will and obtain Reciprocity than the Government's method. This was the stand taken by a dozen Tories. The majority for the Government was but 23. As Mr. Laurier said, "Reciprocity can be smelled in the air."

The Government last night choked Mr. Jamieson off when his bill to amend the Scott Act was reached by moving the adjournment. If to-day's elections go against the act the Government will be less favorable than ever to it. In holding the voting on it they could not get rid of their electoral tactics, and appointed a returning officer in Simcoe who had been convicted and fined for violating the act.

The Government measures will be taken up to-day in the House. Before business begins Sir Richard Cartwright will ask a series of questions touching immigration.

The Senate Divorce Committee sat this morning, considering the Hart divorce case from Montreal. Hart's brother Robert was examined, and testified that the petitioner has a very bad temper and was very suspicious, violent and jealous, and very hard to put up with, and that if her husband was not always at home nights it was because she made his home so unpleasant for him. Dr. Baynes, who attended Mrs. Hart, said her ailment was due to nervousness and mental wrong, which induced a species of hypochondria. He treated her for nervousness, giving her tonics. The committee adjourned till to-morrow.

Before the press and public were admitted to the Commons to-day, Col. O'Brien of Muskoka entered a protest against the practice of lobbying in the corridors. He spoke with some fervor and gave the impression that he had just escaped from the embrace of one of these obnoxious individuals. Sir Richard Cartwright came to the support of Col. O'Brien, and agreed that some effort should be made to gibbet the nuisance. Lobbying is becoming a positive terror to the average member. The great fight between the Grand Trunk and the C.P.R., which is not yet concluded, is the immediate occasion of the protest. A fiercer struggle the corridors have never known. It is said to be agreed that only individual action to discourage the ubiquitous lobbyist could be taken, and in the future that individual will probably find an icy reserve opposed to his insidious advances and perhaps an emphatic application of extremity to his rear parts if he fails to retire before the calm, cold eye and bulging brow of the legislator entrenched in an iron resolve to make up his mind all by himself.

The Railway Committee.

OTTAWA, April 19.—The River St. Lawrence is to be bridged pretty freely if the schemes now on foot ever come to anything. The Railway Committee this morning reported the bill with amendments to incorporate the Ottawa, Morrisburg and New York Railway and Bridge Company. The capital stock of the company is $600,000 with power to increase to $2,000,000 in $100 shares. The chief promoters are Ira Morgan, J. P. Whitney, M. J. Anderson, R. G. Carter, Neil McIntyre, Sellar Leishman and Chas. A. Myers. The company proposed to construct a line of railway from Ottawa to or near Morrisburg and to bridge the St. Lawrence River to connect with the railway system of New York State. This road will traverse the ground of the defunct Ottawa, Waddington and New York Railway. Dr. Hickey, M.P., is at the head of both of them. The friends of the expired scheme made a feeble attempt to assert their rights before the committee to-day, but they were virtually laughed out of court, as their charter relapsed over a year ago.

The committee also reported, with amendments, Mr. Shanley's bill to incorporate the Grenville International Bridge Company, whose chief promoters are Hon. A. W. Ogilvie, Sir A. T. Galt, F. W. Henshaw, C. S. Gzowski, H. F. Gault and D. Morrice, all of Montreal. The capital stock is $1,000,000 in $100 shares. The object of the company is to build a bridge across the St. Lawrence River, at or near Prescott to Ogdensburg, N.Y.

The Toronto Whitewashed—The Baseball Games Elsewhere—Spots of Sport.

PHILADELPHIA, April 19.—Fifteen to nothing, that was the score that Harry Wright's boys piled up to-day against the champions of the International League. Cushman's boys played a very loose fielding game and were unable to make up for weakness in this respect by serviceable work with the stick. Atkinson, who pitched for the Torontos, was with the Athletics last year, and his delivery was not difficult for the league players to solve. Buffinton, on the other hand, was a dead mystery to the Canucks, and after pitching six innings he gave way to Wood, who, in turn, was relieved by Clements. "Tommy" McLaughlin received quite an ovation when he made his appearance at the plate for the first time, which he acknowledged by doffing his head gear. The score:

A PREACHER IN DISGRACE.

REV. BENJAMIN LONGLEY ACCUSED OF IMMORAL CONDUCT.

A Lady Member of the Queen-street Methodist Church in Trouble—The Pastor Resigns but Asserts His Innocence—His Story—Lawyer Ogden Talks.

TORONTO, April 20.

Church circles in the West End are seething with excitement over a scandal which involves the standing of one of the most popular Methodist ministers stationed in Toronto. The church in question is the Queen-street Methodist and the pastor is Rev. Benjamin Longley, formerly of Ottawa, and for the past two years until Wednesday last, when he sent in his resignation to Rev. Dr. Potts, one of the brightest members of the Toronto Conference. At this stage it is hard to say whether Rev. Mr. Longley has been guilty in the worst sense of the word, or simply the victim of an array of certainly suspicious but possibly innocent circumstances.

For the past three or four weeks the air in the neighborhood of the church has been rife with stories of alleged immoral conduct on the part of the pastor and two or three female members of his congregation. At that time the stories afloat were only supported by suspicions, and even now, although he has severed his connection with the congregation, there are none of its members who can say positively that Mr. Longley has been guilty of immoral conduct.

A reporter spent a good part of yesterday investigating the story, and finally arrived at these conclusions: First, that Rev. Mr. Longley spent an hour locked up with an unmarried female member of his congregation in a close room of the church; and secondly that on another occasion he met this same lady at the Albion Hotel, and occupied himself for three hours in her society in a private room.

Of course there are any number of wild rumors afloat as to the doings of Mr. Longley, but as far as these can be traced out they are based on speculation and street gossip. The lady whose name figures more particularly in the scandal is young, wealthy and unmarried. Her friends say that outside of Rev. Mr. Longley she had no male acquaintances, and was modest, quiet and unassuming. This much for the lady.

Rev. Benjamin Longley is a married man, residing with his wife and one child, a daughter, at 220 Spadina-avenue. In person he is tall, and bears on his face signs of an intellect of no mean order. A closely cropped beard, black, sprinkled with grey, black piercing eyes, a complexion deathly in its pallor, and the manners of a gentleman complete his description.

Although Mr. Longley refused to see all the newspaper representatives who called upon him through the day, he granted an interview to a reporter last night and made the following statement:

"The fact of the matter is," he said, "I have been so confused all day, and there have been so many callers that I had neither time nor inclination to talk to the press. I can tell you that I have done nothing criminal, and that I am in a position to back up my assertion by affidavit. I would be more explicit in my explanation and prove my innocence only it involves another person, and I cannot sacrifice her interests. I have resigned positively from the Queen-street Methodist church. It was the only course left open for me, as whether innocent or guilty these rumors which had been set afloat about me would have destroyed my influence for good. What my next course is I have not decided. I do not know whether I shall leave the city or not. I have still many friends in the congregation who will believe in me, and in any event would stay by me."

"What about those alleged meetings in the church and in the hotel?" asked the reporter.

"I met the lady on these two occasions, and on both I was actuated with motives for her own good. On the first occasion we were interrupted, and I, having reason to suspect that we were being watched by her friends, made the second appointment in order to learn if such really was the case. On the second occasion, I continued to give her advice, with the object of influencing her life for her own good."

"Have you any further proof of your own innocence than your own affidavit?"

"Well, the lady herself might make an affidavit to appear with mine. I am sure if her friends thought it would be to her advantage she certainly would, and it would bear out my statement in every particular."

"Are you still a minister of the Methodist Church. The evening papers state that you have withdrawn from that body."

"They have no authority for the statement. It is probable that the whole matter will come up in the shape of a church trial."

Leaving Rev. Mr. Longley's the reporter crossed the road to 221 Spadina-avenue, where Barrister Albert Ogden, Vice-President of the Y.P.A. of the Queen-street Methodist Church, resides. "I know what you have come for," he said, "but my lips are sealed. However, I can say that I do not think Mr. Longley has been badly treated. I hope you will treat the church as leniently as possible in the matter, for it certainly is not to blame. As far as I know there is nothing but suspicions against Mr. Longley, and even now there is quite a number of the congregation who believe that he is all right. Up to three weeks ago I had the most implicit confidence in him. There will be no investigation. He has placed his resignation in the hands of the President of the Conference, and that effectually blocks anything in that direction. There is to be a meeting of the Church Board shortly, but they can do nothing. It is out of their hands."

Welland Assizes.

WELLAND, April 19.—Court closed here to-day. Those persons were sentenced: Thomas Parker, supplying drugs to procure abortion, three months in jail; Benjamin Hagarman, forgery, five years in Penitentiary; John Anderson, forgery, two years less one day in the Central Prison. J. B. Hewitt, forgery, on account of age and previous good behavior, was let go on giving bail for his good behavior. In Armstrong v. Kidd, action on a contract, judgment was reserved.

Sensational Reports at Winnipeg.

WINNIPEG, April 19.—Sensational reports are current regarding the recent failure of John A. Tees & Co., and astounding revelations are looked for, to be followed by arrests. TIRED OF THE SCOTT ACT.

OVERWHELMING MAJORITIES FOR REPEAL IN SEVEN COUNTIES.

The Temperance Measure Defeated in Dufferin, Simcoe, Renfrew, Norfolk, Huron, Bruce and United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry.

TORONTO, April 20.

A vote was yesterday taken in seven Ontario counties on the question as to whether or not the Scott Act should remain in force within their limits and in every case the vote was overwhelmingly for repeal. Whatever the cause, the Scott Act people have suffered disastrous defeat all along the line. Look at these figures:

County.	Maj. for Adoption.	Maj. for Repeal.
Dufferin	736	220
Simcoe	1,139	2,660
Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry	1,700	2,600
Huron	1,313	1,600
Huron	1,868	1,891
Renfrew	736	736
Norfolk	1,627	700

None of the returns are complete, but there is no doubt as to the fate of the measure in these counties. It is completely squelched.

How the Work Was Done in Dufferin.

ORANGEVILLE, April 19.—The Scott Act was repealed in Dufferin to-day by a majority of over 200. The campaign was fought with vigor by both sides. The Scott Act party covered the county with meetings and small fly sheets, and utilized the pulpits of every Methodist and Presbyterian church, and one of the Church of England churches, besides the columns of two newspapers.

The Anti-Scott Act party were supported by three of the county newspapers, some of which a year before the contest devoted considerable space to the education of the people against liberal temperance literature, and until fly sheets were also industriously circulated, and to this much of the success of the Antis is ascribed. This educative work was supported by the plan of campaign originated in Haldimand and carried through successfully in St. Catharines and Halton, viz: the organization of a canvassing committee of citizens in every polling division in the county, a plan very generally adopted in the counties at present attempting to secure repeal.

The fact that Dufferin, out of a very small number of electors, gave a majority of 736 for the Scott Act over three years ago, was realized and the Anti-association put forth every honorable effort to achieve success. Amongst the most prominent workers were: A. G. Hughson, Secretary of the Liberal Temperance Union; Dr. Henry, Robert Henderson, ex-Warden Wm. Jelly, John Jelly, Mr. Lewis, Rev. A. Henderson, all of Dufferin, and Mr. Gordon Mowat of Toronto.

The polling passed off quietly without any display of ill feeling. The hotel bars generally were closed and in this town, at least, no drunkenness occurred. The defeat of the act was hailed with satisfaction by the anti-Scott Act party, but no demonstration was raised beyond the issue of sheets announcing the majority and headed by the traditional rooster.

The total majorities for repeal are 344, and the total majorities against repeal are 144, making the aggregate majority for repeal 200.

Repealed by 2000 in Simcoe County.

BARRIE, April 19.—The vote in the principal towns of Simcoe all stand in favor of the repeal of the Scott Act with the following majorities: Barrie 186, Collingwood 302, Orillia 139, Penetanguishene 128, Gravenhurst 68, Midland 39, Bradford 68, Alliston 27, Stayner 69, Tottenham 29, Beeton 11. The townships cannot be completed to-night owing to the impassable state of the roads, but as far as heard from all vote by good majorities in favor of repeal, with the one exception of McKellar, in Parry Sound district, which gave a majority against repeal of 57. The aggregate majority for repeal is estimated at over 2000.

Repealed in Renfrew by 700 Majority.

ARNPRIOR, April 19.—The vote for the repeal of the Scott Act in Renfrew County was 1663, as against 287 for the continuance of the Act, the majority for repeal being 736.

Old Norfolk Wants No More of the Act.

SIMCOE, April 19.—The vote on the repeal of the Scott Act in Norfolk to-day resulted in the repeal being carried by about 700 majority. Waterford and Townsend were the only places that gave majorities for the Act.

Huron's Majority for Repeal Over 1900.

CLINTON, April 19.—The majority for the repeal of the Scott Act in Huron county is 1900, with several places to hear from.

Bruce Declares for Repeal by 1400 Majority.

WALKERTON, April 19.—The latest returns give a majority of 1400 for the repeal of the Scott Act in Bruce County. Returns have yet to come in from several places.

The United Counties Give Over 2000 for Repeal.

CORNWALL, April 19.—The united counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry gave a majority of 2023 for the repeal of the Scott Act and the majority is expected to reach 2200 when all the returns are in. After it was made known that the repeal was carried a band paraded the streets, followed by over 2000 people. The Anti-Scott party have worked hard and have left no stone unturned to defeat their opponents.

THE CHESTNUT COMBINATION.

Sir John's Cab Hire—A Story of Newspaper "Enterprise."

OTTAWA, April 18.—When Mr. Rykert's Public Accounts Committee met this morning Mr. McMullen of Wellington and Mr. Jas. Somerville of Brant had another tilt at Sir John Macdonald's cab bill. Two alleged discrepancies were unearthed. One was a payment of $95 for driving Sir John's Ottawa from Dec. 19 to Dec. 23, 1886, though all that time Sir John was traveling in Western Ontario with the famous "Chestnut Combination." The other was for $60 for driving in November of the same year, and covering a period during which Sir John was out of town most of the time. Mr. Jos. Pope, the Premier's private secretary, was subpœnaed to give evidence, and he explained the matter from memory as best he could, but only partly to the satisfaction of Mr. McMullen and Mr. Somerville. The Auditor-General's report showed that the Premier's cab account for the last fiscal year was over $900, and it was imputed by some of the members of the committee that his private driving was included.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE LADIES OF PETERBOROUGH AND VICINITY.

We have a word or two to say to you. In these times when money is considered rather scarce, you would be studying your interests by buying at close Cash Prices, and at Reliable Houses. There is in our midst a First Class Dry Goods House that meets every requirement. Rowse's Trade Palace is established in the interest and for the protection of those who pay ready money for their Dry Goods.

Their prices are very low. Look in their Show Window to-day, and you can get any article there at Five Cents. This is a curiosity. Novelties in Fine Dress Goods are exhibited on their counters at Twelve and a-half cents. A Lady told Mr. Rowse the other day that she had been around town looking at Silks and she saw some that she thought were cheap, but she could not depend on the reliability of the houses she had visited. She bought her Silk at the Trade Palace. Rowse's Silks at Fifty and Sixty cents are wonderful value.

In conclusion we respectfully ask you to look through the Elegant Display of Dry Goods at the Trade Palace. Faithfully yours,

ONE WHO STUDIES YOUR INTERESTS.

FRIDAY, APRIL 20, 1888.

THE new Post Office and Customs building in Napanee is to cost $25,000. This amount would very properly be put down as an item in the election expenses of the successful candidate, a supporter of the Government. If he hadn't "got there," the post office building wouldn't have got there either.

CANADA as a country has many points of advantage over the United States. Taking the prairie sections of both countries, we find those of the United States the home of the blighting blizzard in winter and of the devastating cyclone in the summer, while our own Northwest is a stranger to both of these forms of natural disturbance. Besides, when placed in competition with the Yankees, Canadians not only hold their own but take a leading place in the race. Of the large numbers of Canadians who have sought homes in the United States, thousands have risen to positions of trust and eminence over the heads of the native proteges of the screaming eagle. This fact is so patent to even Americans themselves that they are growing jealous of it, and a leading journal, the New York Tribune, relieves its bilious condition by this querulous delivery:—

"However, assuming that the mission of Canada is to impart distinction to this western continent of ours—she cannot begin the good and delicate work too soon. Let chairs of applied distinction at once be established at Yale and Harvard and the other higher educational institutions of this country, and let Canada be requested to select the man or woman to fill them. Mr. Gough was accustomed to tell of a man whose bearing was so uncommonly distinguished that when he appeared in a strange town small boys were wont to hail him with the query, 'I say, mister, are you anybody in partic'lar?' The man in question was doubtless a Canadian. If this should meet his eye, will he not be good enough to make the tour of the United States and explain how he does it?'

DURING the past ten years the people of Canada have been paying a higher price for their window glass for the sake of encouraging its manufacture in Canada. In 1881, just before a general election, it was found that the Napanee glass works were not paying and that a higher duty was necessary. Again were the people compelled to contribute to the support of the glass works—to give employment to foreign workmen. A double dose of taxes wouldn't do and the works collapsed. The other day the long idle works were sold for a tenth of their cost, and the proprietor is to day a ruined man stripped of all his possessions in his old age, through following the bad advice of Sir Leonard Tilley. Sir Leonard and Lady Tilley visited these glass works in 1881 and advised Mr. Herring "to clap on all sail"—he did so and was wrecked. There was too narrow a market. If the Napanee glass works could have appealed to a constituency of sixty-five instead of only five millions they could have been running still. The hot house system of building up a manufacturing country has failed. Take for instance this same Napanee, it is a typical case, a fair sample of the country at large, and it will be found that at the present moment there are less manufactures in the county than there were in 1878, and a less number of labourers employed in manufactures, and probably not more than one of the existing manufactures is as prosperous as it was ten years ago. Just what the electors have to be thankful for under the circumstances, and just what reason they have to indulge in bonfires and processions over N.P. election victories does not plainly appear.

Ennismore

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Last Tuesday was the date of a happy event. Mr. Edward Costello was united in wedlock to, Miss Jenny Elsworth, formerly of Michigan. The wedding took place at 10 o'clock p.m., at the Ennismore church. The bride was the recipient of numerous presents. The happy couple left for Michigan, where they will spend their honeymoon. We wish them a happy journey through life.

Mr. Wm. Curtin, of Ennismore, left for Devil's Lake, Dakota, where he intends taking up land. We wish him success in his new home.

As the farmers of this vicinity have laid aside their winter rigs and the roads are now in fine condition for wheeling, Mr. Wm. H. Calvert has purchased a new top buggy for the purpose of breaking in his handsome span of Arabian drivers. Some pretty girl, I hope, will take a leap-year opportunity of this.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

A Scene Raised in the House About Deputy Returning Officer Young.

OTTAWA, April 19.—When Charles Young on May 2, '78, was sentenced to six months imprisonment at Brantford for stealing four bushels of wheat, he little thought that ten years afterward his crime would be thrashed out in Parliament and made the subject of a warm debate, that a K. C. B. member of the House of Commons would think it of sufficient importance to place a motion on the paper concerning it, and in addition give the hon. the Minister of Justice a little liveliness because of an answer he had given the House on a previous occasion when the matter was referred to. But such is the irony of fate. Young served his term in the Brant County Jail, which is now so ably presided over by Mr. Hanson and Carpenter Sheriff Esprit. It is said that since that time Young has led an honest life. He is now a farmer in the township of Onaida in Haldimand, and he was one of the deputy returning officers in the elections in that county on Feb. 22, 1887, and again on Nov. 12, 1887, in both of which Dr. Montague, the sitting member, defeated Mr. C. W. Cotter.

Dr. J. A. Lougrell of Jarvis was the returning officer at both elections and his appointment of Young as one of his deputies in face of his having served a term of imprisonment a decade ago, was the cause of the fuss in the House this afternoon.

On April 9 Sir Richard Cartwright asked this question: "Are the Government aware that one Charles Young, who acted as a deputy returning officer in the two elections of 1887, at whose polls certain irregularities are alleged to have occurred, served a term of imprisonment for theft in Brant prior to being appointed deputy returning officer aforesaid."

To which the Minister of Justice made this reply: The Government are not aware that Charles Young served a term of imprisonment prior to being again appointed deputy-returning officer. They are informed that he has not. Charles Young, as deputy-returning officer, was not in any sense an officer of the Government, but we are informed that he is a respectable man who has held several offices of trust in Haldimand, and that he was recommended for this office by several persons of credit, including a prominent Liberal politician. The only charge with regard to irregularities at his polling place was investigated and dismissed.

Sir Richard Cartwright, after reading the above record of the proceedings of the House of April 9, produced three affidavits which he also read. One was from Sheriff Scarfe enclosing a copy of the entry in the county jail of Brant to the effect that Charles Young had served six months for larceny, being sentenced on May 2, 1878. Another was from Mr. C. W. Colter, to the effect that he informed Dr. Langrell that he was appointing improper persons as his deputies but that he paid no attention to the protest. The third was an affidavit from Timothy Mockmann, a farmer of Haldimand, to the effect that he lived on the next farm to Young. The latter admitted as late as two weeks ago that he had served six months in the Brant Jail for theft in 1878. When Sir Richard had flashed these documents on the House and evolved much wrathfulness against the Government for having an ex-convict in its staff of officers far flew around the chamber for about ½ hours.

Mr. Edgar got square with his fellow-member from Ontario by saying that a man who had been discharged by the Ontario Government for defalcation in Treasurer Ross' department, had since been employed by the Dominion Government.

Sir John made this mysterious matter more mysterious by calling out: "Oh, that must be Dr. Hagarty." The matter was then dropped.

The bill to amend the Arbitration Act, which is in charge of Hon. Mr. Costigan, was taken up. There is always a great deal of discussion over any bills that this Minister has before the House, especially in Committee of the Whole, as on this occasion, when details are being discussed. The main reason for this is that Mr. Costigan attempts explanations. The bills are generally involved and somewhat difficult to be understood, but the House would get along fairly well if Mr. Costigan managed to comprehend the explanations of the several provisions with which his officers cram him. The bill was reported with some amendments shortly after recess. The second reading of Sir Charles Tupper's bill to extend for two years the bonus to the Chignecto Marine Railway was called. The proposal was opposed by Mr. Mitchell, Sir Richard Cartwright and many others on the Opposition side, who represented that the obligation of Parliament to pay this money lapsed because the company had not carried out the terms on which the bonus was originally granted. The bonus was $150,000 a year for twenty years. A vote was taken on the second reading. The House was very slim and the vote stood 83 yeas to 52 nays. At first the record was 84 yeas, but attention was called to the fact that Mr. Labelle, who voted yea, was not in the House when the motion was put. There was a very funny scene before his name was struck off the list. The Speaker first put the regular question in English: "Was the hon. gentleman within the precincts of the chamber when the motion was read in English or French?" The hon. gentleman explained that he was in the porch at one of the side entrances, which he indicated by a gesture, while the House laughed at this ingenious way of throwing the responsibility of deciding upon the Speaker. Again the question was put and the same explanation was given with amplifications and more gestures. The House roared. The Speaker put the question in French, leading to an increase of volubility and rapidity of gesture, but no better statement of the case. The Speaker, in despair, ordered the name to be struck off. The following Government bills were read the second time: Respecting the application of certain laws to Manitoba; to consolidate and amend the Railway Act; to amend the law relating to fraudulent marks on merchandise; to amend the Speedy Trials Act. The bill respecting the international convention for the preservation of submarine telegraph cables was read the second time and passed in Committee of the Whole. The House adjourned at 10.30 o'clock.

Popular Education.

We sympathise with the feeling which often leads citizens to boast that no child born in this country need grow in ignorance, and yet it is a fact that many people who have learned to read and write have never taught themselves to think. A man who suffered from catarrh, consumption, bronchitis, scrofula, or "liver complaint," might read, till his eyes dropped out, how these and many other diseases have been cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, but if he did not take the lesson to himself and test the virtues of this great medicine, his time would be thrown away. b

FOR THE RELIEF and cure of the inflammation and congestion called a "cold in the head" there is more potency in Ely's Cream Balm than in anything else it is possible to prescribe. This preparation has for years past been making a brilliant success as a remedy for cold in the head, catarrh and hay fever. Used in the initial stages of these complaints Cream Balm prevents any serious development of the symptoms, while almost numberless cases are on record of radical cures of chronic catarrh and hay fever after all other modes of treatment have proved of no avail. eodw16

Remove The Cause.

To remedy an evil the cause must be removed. It is by opening the clogged avenues of the system and thus removing the impure poisonous and worn out matter which is the cause of disease that B. B. THE SPRING DIET.

In the Spring a young man's fancies may "lightly turn to thoughts of love," but the fancies of older people more commonly turn to what they shall or can eat.

The "Spring appetite" is flagging and fickle. The keen relish of the sharp winter weather is dulled or gone. It is Nature's hint for a change in the quality and a let-up in the quantity of food consumed.

The golden rule of living is to adapt the diet to the season and to the needs of the system. For this reason

In the Vegetable Garden.

It is a very important point, in forming a good garden, so to arrange the planting of the different vegetables as to insure both a judicious selection of sorts and a proper time of planting for each of the varieties selected, thereby securing for the table a succession of the different kinds extending throughout the season, rather than a dozen varieties all coming in together, when it is impossible to use more than three or four; or, on the other hand, the occurrence now and then of times when there is no vegetable whatever ripe for the table.

In arranging dates for planting vegetables for a succession, it should be noted that as the season advances and becomes warmer, peas and, in fact, all kinds of vegetables grow faster and overtake one another, as it would seem. The dates of planting the different sorts do not lead to corresponding intervals in gathering the crops. For example, though five days' difference in date of planting peas in April will make about as many days difference in the time of the harvesting in June, yet five days' difference in planting in May will make hardly any visible difference in the ripening in July.

Important Points in Cheese Making.

One of the leading features of the forthcoming report of the New York state dairy commissioner consists of opinions from leading dairymen on the best methods of conducting the cheese business, the prevalence of fraud in production and by what means the consumption of it can be best increased.

The question of branding cheese with the official state brand evidently remains an open one among the state dairymen. A good many of them are pronounced in favor of the plan; others consider such a branding advantageous to consumers only; others are indifferent, while a considerable number condemn the state brand as useless or detrimental to the natural relations of producer and consumer.

The replies to the question, How prevalent is the habit of branding cheese as "full cream" when it is not, cannot fail to gratify cheese consumers, as in more than 100 reports on this point there is not a single expression of positive knowledge of the existence of this habit.

Hints About Truck Farming.

Where truck farming, as it is called, or gardening for market is to be carried on along with other farm work by a farmer who has sons grown up or nearly so, it will be an excellent plan to put one of them in charge of this department and require no other service from him, or else hire a reliable man for the purpose, or rent the garden plot on such terms as may be agreed on. In this business it will generally be found best to separate it as much as possible from the ordinary farm work, else both are liable to suffer from conflicting demands for attention from each at a critical time.

How to Lay Out Gardens.

Since it is becoming the practice to lay out vegetable and berry gardens so as to be kept clean by horse cultivation, it is well to place the different crops in such a position with each other as to make them convenient of access, as well as to afford a pleasing appearance. As a single example of such an arrangement is here reproduced from Country Gentleman an illustration in which a line of raspberries was placed next to a narrow grass walk extending lengthwise through the garden and next to the raspberries several rows of strawberries, and still beyond these a line of currants.

STRAWBERRIES—WALK—RASPBERRIES.

The grass walk was four feet wide, and was kept cut short by passing a hand lawn mower once a week, with only a few minutes' work. At the edge of this walk was a line of Caroline raspberries, this variety being of lower and more rounded growth than other sorts, and when in fruit its rich yellow berries give it a quite ornamental appearance. The strawberries next to the raspberries, being well enriched with manure, and kept well cultivated and clean by horse power, the raspberries have on one side all the advantages of high culture, while all the crop may be gathered from the smooth grass walk.

In laying out a kitchen and fruit garden, an occasional grass walk extending lengthwise, gives much easier access to the different parts. The edges of these walks are kept sufficiently trimmed by the cutting blade of the one horse cultivator or with the light one horse plow, and laborious hand labor is almost entirely avoided.

Agricultural News.

The vegetable crop in most of the southern states will be large.

According to The Cincinnati Price Current, the clover seed crop of 1887 was a large one of good quality. The crop was short in the northwest; elsewhere generally, as the estimates quoted, the supply was about an average.

The Massachusetts cattle commissioners report that they consider it their duty to spend no money in stamping out pleuro-pneumonia unless the disease has appeared in the herd of a farmer, and then in no case to exceed from one-quarter to one-half the value of the animals found to be diseased with pleuro-pneumonia.

Water Filters.

To insure good health it is absolutely necessity to have pure water, and no water is entirely free from floating matter and disease germs without thorough filtration. The majority of cases of typhoid and other low fevers are in a measure caused from unfiltered and impure water, so that every family who values its health should have a reliable filter. Numerous filters are offered to the public varying in points of excellence, but for cheapness, efficiency and durability, our filters cannot be surpassed. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

Two Interesting Cases.

Reference is not made to police court cases, neither divorce cases, but cases of equally absorbing interest to the ladies. They are two cases of superb spring dress goods purchased for the golden lion at forty cents on the $. They are all of the latest style and material and are to be cleared out at once. This, of course, means largely reduced prices and extra value for the money invested by customers. Ladies call and see them as well as a wide range of dress novelties, including the latest trimmings.

"Consider where it comes from" can be applied to more things than a kicking mule, and on the butter question it comes in with decided emphasis. The Pantry is noted for keeping the choicest article in town.

Free Organ Recitals.

The candidates for the position of organist of St. Andrew's church, have been holding recitals, and of course showing their best paces. There will be an interesting recital to-night, and on Monday night the last of the series will be given by an organist of high repute. Those desiring to hear good music will have an opportunity of doing so to-night and Monday night.

Mortuary Returns.

The death rate last month was high all over Canada, and in Peterborough especially a large increase is noticeable. From the returns just to hand the following figures are taken of the deaths during March:—Montreal, 499; Toronto, 214; Hamilton, 64; Ottawa, 73; Kingston, 19; Winnipeg, 36; Brantford, 17; Victoria, B.C. 16; St. Thomas, 13; Guelph, 13; Belleville, 11; Three Rivers, 21; Woodstock, 14; Galt, 13; Peterborough, 19. The causes of death in Peterborough are as follows:—Diphtheria, 6; constitutional diseases, 5; local diseases, 7; developmental diseases, 3.

The Bobcaygeon Burglary.

A despatch furnishes the following particulars of the Bobcaygeon burglary:— Burglars made an attempt to rob the safe in the post office here Thursday morning a little before daylight. They forced an entrance through the front door, drilled a hole through the door of the safe and filled it with gunpowder. The explosion failed to open the door, and when the safe was opened during the day about half a pound of powder was still inside. It seems the burglars were preparing for a second charge when disturbed. Only a small amount of money was on hand and two or three registered letters. Two suspicious looking strangers were noticed around the day before.

The Trent Valley Canal.

The following from the Trenton Courier ends additional support to the Examiner's contention that the Trent Valley Canal scheme has all along been used as a political expedient:—"The return of Trent Valley Canal papers Mr. Barron moved for some days ago, has been brought down, besides Mr. Rubidge's report. The return contains simply the appointments of the several commissioners and the secretary of the commission, but the extraordinary part of the correspondence, and that which will astonish supporters of the scheme, is the proposal to the commissioners by the Government that they shall ascertain and report upon the desirability of going on with the works of completion. The position heretofore taken by the Government, whenever interviewed, or before elections, has been that the desirability of the work is beyond doubt or cavil." Referring to the present meeting of the commissioners in Montreal, it says:—"The death blow will be given to the Canal here, for it is well known the Montreal people are jealous of Oswego and for this reason favor the Ottawa Canal that will cost ten times as much to build."

A Hallelujah Hitch.

Privates Robert Warrington and Emma Baker, members of the Salvation Army, were "spliced" at the Opera House Thursday night with all due ceremony by Rev. I. Tovell. They were a young, handsome-looking couple, though the bride, who, by the way, was bridesmaid at the last hallelujah wedding, appeared nervous and pale. The Opera House was crowded to the doors, the fair sex largely predominating. All went "merry as a wedding bell" until at the words "I pronounce you husband and wife," a slight hitch occurred that convulsed the audience. The happy-looking groom at this juncture sought to seal the compact by a conjugal kiss, and passing his arm round the waist of his "beantious, blushing bride," was about to draw her to himself in a fond embrace. But his better half objected to this too-public operation, and, putting up her hands, pushed her ardent spouse away from her altogether. A wild and prolonged cheer went up from the audience, that was followed by loud and expressive "smacks" from the irreverent but appreciative crowd As soon as the uproar had subsided the ceremony was completed without further interruption.

He Has Skipped Out.

The young man Marshall, charged with disturbing Salvation Army worship, has left town. The case against him, adjourned from yesterday, still remains undecided, though should Marshall return to town he will be arrested, as the warrant made out Thursday has not been executed.

Service of Praise.

To-night there will be a full rehearsal of the chorus to take part in the Service of Praise to be rendered in connection with the anniversary services of St. Paul's church some time in May. It is expected that all the 75 voices will be present.

A Handsome Present.

While at Napanee recently Mr. Geo. Stevens, who carries on an extensive trade in ashes in this district, making Peterborough his headquarters, was presented with a team of horses and wagon by his father, Mr. Stevens has now four teams of horses constantly on the road, and does a large business.

Another Barnardo Home.

Dr. Barnardo has started one of his homes for destitute children in the neighborhood of Russell station, on the line of the Manitoba and North-Western railway. The first instalment of children has already arrived there. The buildings which Dr. Barnardo has and intends to build, will cost $15,000, and $6,000 has already been expended. When completed the building will have accommodation for 150 to 200 boys.

A Place of Meeting.

A meeting of the Emerald Benevolent Association was held last night to choose a place of meeting. It was decided to accept the offer of the C.M.B.A. to use their hall on Hunter street. Mr. A. R. Lee was also elected a delegate to attend the meeting of the Provincial Grand Branch to be held at Aurora, on May 1st. A meeting will be held in the C.M.B.A. Hall on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock to give instructions to the delegate.

Look After the Vagrants.

Acting-Chief Adams bailed the Examiner to-day and said:—"You can tell the people to look after their vagrant cows now, for I have been instructed to build a 'pound' on Rink street, and the police intend to keep a sharp look-out for stray animals in future." It seems that in the spring the average cow-owner considers it his duty to turn loose his animal to prey on other people's property until the pasture season. Even geese and other fowl will be impounded when found straying.

Norwood Catholics.

The many friends of the Rev. Father Conway will be pleased with this latest evidence of the prosperity of the new parish of Norwood, and the fact that it reveals that Father Conway's lines are indeed cast in pleasant places. The Register says:—"We learn that the R.C. congregation in this place have decided to commence the erection of a fine residence for their popular pastor, the Rev. Conway, at an early date. The location of the building has not yet been decided upon. The estimated cost is $2,500. When this building is completed our Roman Catholic friends will have the most valuable church property in this section of the country.

Burglars at Cobourg.

Mr. R. Mulholland and family, of Cobourg, have been spending the winter in Southern California for the benefit of the health of their son, and returned home on Tuesday. They had left their premises securely fastened up when they left home, and on returning found everything, apparently, in the same position as when they went away, but on investigations it was found that burglars had entered by means of a skeleton key and goods to the amount of about $1,000 taken; consisting of table and bed linen, ladies and gents furs, cutlery, plated goods, canned fruits, wines, hams, butter, etc. The town seems to be infested by a gang of thieves, and incendiaries. No arrests have yet been made, but suspicion points to a certain party who will be arrested.

A Butchers' Combine.

All the butchers of town have entered into an agreement to close their shops at one o'clock p.m. each day except Saturday, from the first of May to the first of October. They have further, "on account of the high price of beef, and the probable scarcity during the next few months," as the printed circular reads, decided to charge the following prices for meats, "until further notice":

Steaks:—	Sirloin	15 cents per lb
"	Porter House	15 cents per lb

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

The Credit of the Town.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

Dear Sir,—I read a letter in the Examiner last evening signed "Mars." Now, sir, I would like to know how the men are going to drill in a shed, the floor of which is covered over now with ice and water, which is a disgrace to the Government that owns it. They have built an old shell of a building for a drill shed, and until a decent brick building is put up that will keep out the water in the fall and spring, this annoyance will continue to exist. I would like to know how Sergeant-Major Randle is accountable for the faults of others?

Yours truly,
Volunteer.

A Suggestion.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

Sir,—Being a boarder at one of the hotels in town, I have had occasion to notice that none of the hotels have lists of church services posted up, as is the case in other large towns and cities. Now, sir, I think it would be a good thing, as I often hear travellers who stop in town over Sunday making enquiries about the different churches. Each hotel could be supplied with one of these time-tables at a small cost to the churches. I hope they will consider the matter.

Yours truly,
J. E.

Peterborough, April 20.

More Chief of Police.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

Dear Sir,—It is surprising what an amount of correspondence has been called forth by the recent letter of Mr. Adams' pretended friend in reference to the appointment of our Chief of Police. The battle just now is being fought over the sick body of Mr. Douglass. I do not know what the real object of the writer of the letter in question might be, but it looks as if he was afraid of Mr. Douglass' loyalty to his former party, and this letter was intended as a whip to drive him back again. If this was the object I hardly think it will succeed, for Mr. Douglass is too independent to be driven to do anything contrary to his own convictions. He might be coaxed or reasoned into doing a thing but he will not be driven. I don't believe that Mr. Douglass is the man to take up a stranger for an old acquaintance. Of course, it might just so happen that the latter was a very inferior man to the former, but this would require to be proven before a plain, disinterested man like Mr. Douglass would abandon an old friend and sacrifice him to a stranger. And this is the dictate of reason and justice and common sense. I would like to see Mr. Adams appointed to the office of Chief, and I would like to have Mr. Douglass support him, if his doing so would be in accordance with his own sense of duty and right.

The Anniversary of the Order of Oddfellows—Canton Office Bearers.

Next Thursday, 26th inst., is the sixty-ninth anniversary of the Independent Order of Oddfellows in America, and the day will be commemorated in Peterborough by a mass meeting of the two local lodges at Otonabee lodge rooms. Peterborough Canton will also be present and perform a sword exercise. On the following Sunday evening the brethren will attend divine service at St. Andrew's church in a body. Rev. A. Bell, pastor, will preach the anniversary sermon.

Fraserville.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

"Truth Must Conquer."—While perusing the weekly Examiner of last week our attention was drawn to an article entitled "A Constable's Trials," and on reading it was surprised at its contents. As I have been a correspondent for this, one of the leading local papers in Ontario, for upwards of seven years, it has never before fallen to my lot to perform a task similar to the present. When one has come a stranger to this vicinity, as I did years ago, and occupied a public position since then in the same place, it is rational to think that I ought to know something of the character of this people so belittled by a "Public Officer" known as a "Scott Act policeman for united counties of Northumberland and Durham." His experience, as related by himself to the local force at Peterborough, has a bravado ring to it; causing people, who know not the facts, to inscribe his name on the list of "police martyrs." When the facts of the case are made known, all intelligent readers will corroborate my statement by declaring his name as a "Scott Act policeman" should be dropped—forever. His remarks would lead the reader to believe that every man, woman and child resident in the village and surrounding country thought he was a detective. Well, as for that, children under six years of age might have thought so, but as for any reasonable man or woman to think so would be making an infinite littleness of their judgment. His conduct, as is related by himself, while in the first bar-room he visited, was such as to call for, as speedily as possible, a re-christening, because he resembled a Scott Act detective about as much as night is similar to day. I had the pleasure of being in the village and saw the constable pass up and down the street without one molesting him, and he felt confident nothing could excite fear within his noble breast, as he had with him those fatal weapons which enable the most dasterdly person to exhibit a spirit akin to bravery. The people of the village failed to discern anything external which would cause annoyance even to a timid woman; as for the internal we cannot answer. Conscience and certain liquids are apt to produce a state of unrest, and perchance "had some sweet oblivious antidote been applied to cleanse the stuffed bosom of that perilous stuff," which weighs upon the heart and—"stomach," he (the constable) might have found rest much better in the church than in the church shed. It states also, that every place he went he was ordered to leave without ceremony; such is not true, as I was present at one of the domiciles when he called, and he was asked to come in, and on doing so was kindly shown into the parlor, and throughout was treated with civility. After special inquiry I find that he received as kind treatment as could be expected from folk of good society. It may be he has been so little accustomed to such pleasant treatment that he was so bamboozled he could not enjoy it. He adds, "even the post office was locked against him." We would like him to remember that our postmaster occasionally prefers a warm dinner, and at the time the police called the postmaster was doing justice to the viands at his own table. When the police returned, after serving several of his papers, he called at the office and remained until the 4:50 train. His actions in the first house he visited were such as to meet with the disapproval of all who know the facts of the case. We have yet to learn of any one who was offered $5 to drive him to Millbrook. Mr. Editor you will pardon me for being so lengthy. We were so chagrined at such a false report concerning our people, whose failings lean to virtue's side, that we considered it our duty to do as we have done.

Lines from Wm. Telford

To John Elder, San Francisco, formerly of Peterborough, on presenting him with a copy of my book of poems.

If this book I send, John,
Safely comes to thee,
As you read it over, John,
Kindly think of me.

The present is but small, John,
But cast its worth apart,
Receive it as a tribute, John,
From a poor poet's heart.

I give it not for honor, John.
Let this be understood,
This act springs pure from love, John,
Friendship and gratitude.

You always were a friend, John,
Both kind and true to me,
I hope the Yankee air, John,
Has made no change on thee.

The hours were sweet we spent, John,
On nights when we did gather
To praise our dear auld home, John,
Its hills and glens and heather.

Now you are far away, John,
I cannot speak to thee,
This book will act on you, John,
Like telephones from me.

Do read it careful over, John,
Then strike it with your hand,
Saying that's a precious gift, wife,
From my old valued friend.

This trifling gift of love, John,
As a momento keep,
Your children may read it, John,
When we in death both sleep.

Wm. Telford,
Smith.

LONGLEY LEAVES TORONTO

THE PASTOR OF QUEEN-ST. METHODIST CHURCH DISAPPEARS.

A Majority of the Congregation Believe that He is Innocent—Seen at Niagara Falls—Watching the Whirlpool—The Young Lady Goes Too.

TORONTO, April 21.

Rev. Benjamin Longley, ex-pastor of the Queen-street Methodist Church, has left the city. His object in leaving Toronto, according to his friends, was to escape the annoyance and worry caused by the publication of the scandal with which his name has been connected. The great majority of his late congregation continue to believe him guiltless of anything but indiscretion and misplaced zeal, while those who are thoroughly acquainted with the charges laid at his door disclaim the idea that anything of an immoral nature could be proved against him.

The ex-pastor left Toronto on the 7 o'clock train, buying his ticket on the cars. He was recognized by the conductor, and on arriving at Hamilton walked up and down the platform until the train for the Bridge arrived, when he boarded it and continued with it until he reached the Falls on the United States side. Here he got off, and after wasting around a while, manifested a desire to return to Clifton, but changed his mind and walked up to the Falls, where he spent most of the afternoon. He attempted to walk out on the railway suspension bridge but was prevented by the gatekeeper. He had been recognized and was closely watched, as in view of his troubles and his worried appearance it was feared he might come to some harm.

A reporter interviewed him while he was watching the whirlpool, but the rev. gentleman refused to talk, simply stating that he was there looking up some place for his wife, who was in bad health. The church trouble was an ecclesiastical one, and would be the subject of a church trial, when all would come right. It was his intention to remain on the American side, as he liked it better.

Dr. W. W. Ogden said to a reporter last night: "I regret exceedingly that the thing got into the papers. There is nothing against Mr. Longley farther than the two meetings already referred to, and I can make this statement, being fully acquainted with all the facts in the case. He was a splendid minister, and one of the best pulpit orators I have ever sat under."

Ald. Boustead, a leading light in the Metropolitan Church, was asked what he thought about the affair. "I am thunderstruck and hurt," he said, "and I feel in my heart that he is innocent, and at the worst guilty of a grave indiscretion."

The young lady whose name has been mentioned has left town with her mother.

Will be Investigated.

Said a prominent D. D. of the Methodist Church: When a charge of this nature is preferred against a minister a committee of ministers is appointed by the President of the Conference (in this case Dr. Potts) to inquire into it. This committee has power to temporarily suspend the minister if they find the charges proven. They report their findings to the District Meeting, which again transmits it to Conference, which pronounces final judgment. Anyone can lay a charge before the president. Notwithstanding Longley's flight it is likely that his conduct will be in this way investigated.

MONOPOLY SURRENDER.

FULL TEXT OF THE PROPOSED AGREEMENT WITH THE C.P.R.

The Finance Minister Gives Notice that on Tuesday He Will Move the House into Committee to Consider the Government Resolution.

OTTAWA, April 20.—At a late hour to-night Sir Charles Tupper gave notice that he would, on Tuesday, move the House into committee on the following resolution, resting in full the agreement with the Canadian Pacific Railway, and its abrogation of the monopoly clause:

Resolved, That in view of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company having agreed with the Government of Canada to relinquish, for the consideration and upon the conditions hereinafter set forth, the exclusive privilege possessed by it in virtue of Article XV of the agreement between Her Majesty and the company, contained in the schedule to the Act 44 Victoria, chap. 1, it is expedient to provide:

(a) The Government of Canada will guarantee the payment of interest until maturity on bonds of the company to an amount not exceeding $15,000,000. The principal of such bonds to be payable not later than fifty years from their date, and the principal and interest to be secured as hereinafter set forth.

(b) Such bonds shall be secured by deed of bargain and sale to trustees of all the company's title to the unsold lands, forming part of the company's land grant under the said act, and such deeds shall be subject to the approval of the Governor-in-Council.

(c) The proceeds of the sales of the lands hereinbefore mentioned shall be paid over to the Government of Canada, together with any other sums which the company may owe for the purpose to the Government, and the whole shall constitute a fund which shall be held by the Government for the exclusive purpose of satisfying the principal of the said bonds.

(d) On the amount so set apart, not exceeding the amount necessary to redeem the bonds hereinbefore mentioned, the Government shall pay to the company interest at the rate of 3½ per cent., such interest to be applied in satisfaction of interest of the bonds as the same accrues, but if the company makes default in the payment of any interest falling due on any of the bonds aforesaid the company shall, if required by the Government, pay over all interest collected under uncompleted sales upon the price of lands sold, as well as the principal realized from sales thereof, and the Government shall allow on the amount of such payments interest at the rate hereinbefore mentioned and shall apply the same and all interest accrued on the principal fund towards the payment of the interest on the said bonds.

(e) So soon as the aggregate amount of the said fund in the hands of the Government equals the principal of all the bonds of the said issue then outstanding, the company may pay in a further sum to cover any interest up to date and thereupon the mortgage shall be discharged, and thereafter all interest on such bonds shall be paid by the Government, as also the principal at maturity, but the Government shall be in no way liable for the payment of any part of the principal except so far as the company have provided it with a fund for that purpose.

(f) Such minister as is designated by the Government shall be one of the trustees under the said mortgage deed, and the appointment of the other trustees shall be made subject to the approval of the Government.

(g) All land grant bonds which form part of the former issue by the company and are now held by it shall be cancelled and the mortgage hereinbefore mentioned shall be subject to the payment of such of the said land grant bonds as are outstanding, but all sums due or to become due for unpaid purchase money to the company on account of lands heretofore sold shall be applied to the payment of such land grant bonds according to the terms of the mortgage covering the same.

(h) If the company under any powers granted to it sells or leases the branch of its railway east of the Red River between St. Boniface and the boundary of the United States, any incorporated company to whom such sale or lease is made may operate such branch as if it had been incorporated for the purpose, but the moneys resulting from such sale or lease shall be applied either towards the payment of the bonds secured by the railway or towards increasing the security for such bonds, by expenditure on the railway or partly in one way and partly in the other.

THE SCOTT ACT DEFEAT.

What the Author of the Act Has to Say on the Subject.

OTTAWA, April 20.—Hon. R. W. Scott, the leader of the Opposition in the Dominion Senate, is the author of the Canada Temperance Act, commonly called the "Scott Act." Mr. Scott was Mr. Mackenzie's Secretary of State in 1878 when he introduced and saw the measure through Parliament. Mr. Scott said to-day, in speaking of the sweeping defeat the act sustained yesterday:

I think that the cause of the apparent change in the popular mind is a feeling of disappointment that the Federal Government, charged with the administration of the Act of 1878, not only absolutely refused to support and sustain the law, but its well known hostility to putting the act into operation exercised an influence on the public mind. In many cases apparently the tribunals before which the act was sought to be enforced were not favorable towards its operation or to giving it effect. Again the liquor men, large and powerful in their influence, had a complete organization. There is no doubt money was used freely in influencing voters. An apparent change in public opinion took place on the subject in New Brunswick many years ago, after prohibition had been carried, but we find that the public sentiment there has gone back to its former support of a prohibitory law.

How the Defeat is Regarded by the Press.

Hamilton Times: Should the other counties, where the act is nominally in force, follow the example of the nine counties in which the vote was taken yesterday, it might be as well for Parliament to repeal the act altogether. It has caused a great deal of expense, a great deal of hard feeling, and it has been profitable to nobody but a few stump speakers and a host of keepers of grog shops—men who couldn't get licenses from the commissioners under any circumstances. Let the whole country go back to license law, let that law be made strict, and let it be thoroughly enforced. Half a loaf is better than no bread.

Montreal Gazette: It looks as if the main cause was general dissatisfaction with the operation of the law, and a preference for such limited licenses as Canada's very strict act secures, to prohibition that often failed to prohibit, and so gave rise to scandal.

Hamilton Spectator: The Scott Act has been tried, and it has been found wanting. The people have sickened of it. Let it pass quietly into the limbo where are the memories of many similar acts of legislation—well meant, but unworkable, impractical and unwise.

The Toronto Globe: A number of potent causes conspired to bring about these signal defeats. . . . First of all that dastard weapon, the Dominion Franchise Act. . . . the unfairness of the Dominion Government in bringing on the contests at a time when the roads are in desperate condition and when farmers are very busy. . . . But that was not all. Not all Prohibitionists, but some of them, have acted with the meanest treachery towards brother Prohibitionists because the latter were Liberals. . . . Then there is to be reckoned with the well-known fact that in the minds of a good many people—even Prohibitionists—there is a strong reaction against local option. . . . Giving due weight to all these circumstances, it will be seen that the odds against the Scott Act in the campaigns of yesterday were enormous. Truth requires it to be added that these same causes bid fair to succeed in several repeal contests yet to come.

Brewers Refuse to Sign.

CLEVELAND, O., April 20.—The brewery owners here have refused to sign the yearly contract offered by the men and there will be a strike.

Agreed to Die Together.

PORTLAND, Me., April 20.—Mrs. Carrie Stevens was shot dead yesterday afternoon on St. John-street by Edward Chase, of New York, who afterwards shot himself. Chase, who is a former lover of Mrs. Stevens, met the lady by appointment yesterday, and the two were seen walking together during the day in various parts of the city. From letters found on the woman it would appear that the couple, finding that they could not live together, had agreed to die together. Chase is now in the hospital, where it is thought he

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

The Election Act—The Gateway Fight—The Budget.

OTTAWA, April 20.—The House went into Committee of the Whole on the bill to amend the Dominion Elections Act. Mr. Mills asked what provision was made to prevent such delays as had been caused in some cases by the Government after the issue of the Speaker's warrant for a writ of election and the election itself. Mr. Barron said that he had drafted a section on this subject. It provides that the elections in all parts of the Dominion must be held twenty days after the issue of the Speaker's warrants, except in the case of Saguenay, Chicoutimi, Algoma and the British Columbia constituencies, in which the time allowed shall be thirty days. After some discussion the Minister of Justice said that the clause under discussion should be allowed to stand, and he would consider the amendment proposed. Mr. Dawson objected very strongly to the provisions of the bill fixing the elections all over the country in a general election for the same day. This, he said, might practically disenfranchise Algoma, which, he contended, should have longer notice of an election than other constituencies, owing to its size and the difficulties of communication. A number of sections of the bill were allowed to stand over at the request of various members. Among other things the bill provides that the ballot and counterfoil shall be printed on thick writing paper, that there shall be a desk or table with a hard, smooth surface in the place where voters are to mark their ballots, that only two agents of a candidate shall have a right to vote at a polling place under returning officers' certificates, and makes more stringent provision against tampering with the ballots after they are cast. These were passed without objection, Mr. Edgar congratulating the Minister upon adopting them, as they were in the bill he (Mr. Edgar) introduced last session. One of the sections of the act provides that to the list of corrupt practices shall be added: inducing any person to vote, knowing that he is not entitled to vote, or publishing a false statement of the withdrawal of a candidate, but it is provided that the candidate shall not be liable for such corrupt act except when committed by his regularly authorized agent. Mr. Edgar thought the candidate ought to be responsible in the first case at least, but this was not the view of the House, and the section passed. Mr. Barron proposed to head off the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery, the person occupying that office after last election having gazetted Conservatives first and Liberals after, as a rule, by a short amendment to the law, providing that returns shall be gazetted in the order in which they are opened and read by the officer. This amendment was allowed to stand over until the next time the bill is considered in Committee of the Whole.

The order for the third reading of the bill to incorporate the Southwestern Railway Company was called. This is the bill which, as will be remembered, involves the great contest between the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Grand Trunk Railway. It was evident that everybody was ready for a decision without further discussion, for there were cries "vote," "vote," as soon as the order was called. The vote was accordingly taken on the resolution to give the bill the six months' hoist, resulting in the defeat of that proposition by 57 yeas to 87 nays.

The vote on the six months' hoist is as follows, the Conservatives being in small capitals, the Liberals in Roman and the Independents in italics:

Coming to Toronto for Pointers.

MONTREAL, April 18.—Lt.-Col. Hughes, the new Chief of Police, paid a visit to the Central Police Station yesterday in company with Ald. Jeannette, who introduced him to the heads of the force. He then proceeded to the Recorder's office, where he took the customary oath. In compliance with the new chief's request, Deputy Chief Feagole has issued orders for all the available sergeants and men to appear in full uniform at the Central Police Station to-morrow afternoon for inspection. Chief Hughes stated that he hoped to see the telegraph patrol system introduced, four district police inspectors appointed, and a force of 200 men. He will make a thorough inspection of the force, man by man and station by station, and then recommend any changes he believes desirable in a written report to the Police Committee. He intends visiting Toronto to get a few points from Col. Grasett there.

THE SUFFERING EMPEROR.

IT IS SAID THAT HE CONTINUES TO IMPROVE.

No Symptoms of Pyæmia—He Works Propped up in Bed—Deep Excitement in the German Capital—Unfavorable Bulletins Bring Out Large Crowds.

BERLIN, April 20.—The Emperor was anxious to rise to-day, but the doctors forbade his doing so because he was still feverish. He worked propped up in bed. Although he continues to improve his temperature had fallen only one-tenth of a degree Celsius in twenty-four hours. The doctors therefore advise him to exercise great caution. There are no symptoms of pyæmia. Much credit is accorded to Dr. Mackenzie for the care and skill shown by him. Several papers which have hitherto attacked him have now changed their tone.

Yesterday's Bulletins.

BERLIN, April 20.—The Emperor passed a fairly quiet night. The following bulletin was issued at 9 o'clock this morning: The Emperor passed a good night. His fever has decreased and his respiration is on the whole good. His general condition is improved.

No Trace of Blood Poisoning.

LONDON, April 20.—A despatch from Berlin states that the Emperor shows no trace of blood poisoning. His lungs are free. At noon he was still ahed.

An External Ulcer.

LONDON, April 20.—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Berlin, says an external ulcer has developed on the neck of the Emperor. Two internal abscesses are clearly visible.

Anxiety of the Northmen.

LONDON, April 20.—There is deep excitement throughout the German capital over the gradual sinking of the Kaiser. It is a most significant and unexpected fact that the anxiety and display of personal interest on the part of the population is much greater than it was in the case of the old Emperor. Last night the effect of unfavorable bulletins was to summon a vast throng out from the city to the vicinity of the suburban palace, the approaches to which were packed with a dense crowd as late as midnight.

Another Canula.

LONDON, April 20.—A despatch sent from Berlin this afternoon says the Emperor's fever is further diminished and his general condition more satisfactory. Dr. Mackenzie considers that the Emperor is suffering from a mild attack of pyæmia. Yesterday he inserted an aluminum tube, it being lighter than the silver one.

A Division in the Reichsrath.

VIENNA, April 20.—During the discussion on the secret service fund in the Reichsrath to-day the opposition declared that they would vote against it. Count Von Taafe, the Prime Minister, replied that he did not regard the matter as a question of confidence. The grant was negatived by the Chamber by a vote of 128 to 116. Thereupon a Conservative deputy declared that the result must be a mistake in counting, and claimed another vote should be taken. The President refused to again put the question.

Murdered by a Mob.

GALLATIN, Tenn., April 20.—Isaac Kirkpatrick and his wife, Fuss Kirkpatrick, both colored, were taken from their cabin five miles from Gallatin by a mob on Wednesday night. The woman was hanged and the man shot. They were suspected of burning John Keeley's residence.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE LADIES OF PETERBOROUGH AND VICINITY.

We have a word or two to say to you. In these times when money is considered rather scarce, you would be studying your interests by buying at close Cash Prices, and at Reliable Houses. There is in our midst a First Class Dry Goods House that meets every requirement. Rowse's Trade Palace is established in the interest and for the protection of those who pay ready money for their Dry Goods.

Their prices are very low. Look in their Show Window to-day, and you can get any article there at Five Cents. This is a curiosity. Novelties in Fine Dress Goods are exhibited on their counters at Twelve and a-half cents. A Lady told Mr. Rowse the other day that she had been around town looking at Silks and she saw some that she thought were cheap, but she could not depend on the reliability of the houses she had visited. She bought her Silk at the Trade Palace. Rowse's Silks at Fifty and Sixty cents are wonderful value.

In conclusion we respectfully ask you to look through the Elegant Display of Dry Goods at the Trade Palace.

Faithfully yours,

ONE WHO STUDIES YOUR INTERESTS.

MANKIND AS THEY OUGHT TO BE AND AS WE FIND THEM.

SERMON BY LAYMAN.

(Written for the Examiner.)

It is a common complaint that the world is hard and bad. That it is full of insincerity and selfishness. That people are uncharitable and grasping, and have no thought or care for the wants of others. As a rule all this is but too true. And as a fact there is little sympathy or kindness. Human nature is not what it ought to be. It is perverted from its original creation, and it acknowledges no law of justice or right which infringes upon its own wants and feelings. No matter whether that want is money, or social standing or political power, it forces its way into every thought and every act of men's lives and makes them selfish, ungenerous and unkind. The result is just what we see around us, and every day brings to light some secret and hidden motive, showing how constantly and persistently men work for their own advancement, and how ready and willing they are to violate friendship and to sacrifice every principle of justice and right. Human ambition is a wonderful thing. It knows no bounds. It submits to no obligations. It repudiates right, and truth, and friendship, and it violates confidences and drives away every quality and every duty which, in the remotest degree, can interfere with its success. It knows no one outside of its possessors, and cares for no one who stands in its way. It simply exists for itself. It knows no law, human or divine, and it make religion but a stepping stone to its demands, but a means to an end. And that end but the gratification of the will of a bad man, who lives for himself alone. If all this were otherwise, and if men lived and acted in any common degree as they ought to do, how very different would the world appear and how very pleasant. And thus everybody would feel that if he were not rich he could at least be happy. And they could look upon one another as brothers, and they would not be disappointed. And the bright, warm sunshine would reflect their own feelings and all nature would rejoice and men's hearts would be full of peace and happiness. The one great, universal law which came from on high shows men their duty to God and to each other. And if mankind would but control their evil natures and live according to justice and right, we would hear of less injustice and oppression and wrong. But, unfortunately, they will not do this, and the result is as we find it—a hard world to live in and everyone running the race of selfish gratification and success. Is it any wonder, then, that we hear it said that "this world is a vale of tears, a weary wilderness of sorrow, a labyrinth of hopes and fears, a night that hath no dawning morrow." If we go into the mere animal world we find might prevailing over right. We find the weak overborne by the strong, and there appears to be no instinct but the use of force. But with men things should be different, for he is created for a higher and nobler purpose, and God has endowed him with reason and judgment and with a soul responsible alone to its Creator. And man has the written law of God to instruct and guide him in the way of truth and righteousness. And he knows what his duty is and what is required of him. And he knows the penalty of his disobedience. He knows the golden rule, that he should do to others what he would like them to do to him. But, notwithstanding all this, man lives to himself alone. And he knows no one but himself and cares for no one but himself. And so he goes on until the end, and the grave closes over him and he is seen no more. And what good to him now are all his selfish strivings and all his accumulations? He has had to leave them all behind, and very likely he wishes that he had lived differently and done differently, now that it is too late. Every one knows what mankind ought to be, and knows how we find them. They ought to be just and honest, and we find them unjust and dishonest. They ought to be generous and kind, and we find them ungenerous and unkind. They ought to be grateful for God's mercies, but they are not grateful. They ought to be greatful for men's goodness and kindness, but they smite the hand that helps them and they refuse to acknowledge favors freely bestowed, or to confess their wants or their dependance upon their fellows for any purpose whatever. They take all they can get, no matter how it comes to them, and when they have got all, they show their baseness and their ingratitude by ill-using or persecuting their victims, and by abusing their benefactors and their friends. This is how men act and live. This is how we find them. And, therefore, little wonder is it that the world seems so dark and dreary, and is so full of unhappiness and misery. No wonder is it that it is called a hard, cold world. No wonder is it that we see so much wickedness, so much uncharitableness and so little kindly feelings. And little wonder is it that men seek to make money and grow rich upon the ruin of the bodies and souls of the masses, caring nothing for them only insofar as they may give more of their scanty means, and then pass their lives in poverty and want, and in the end die in neglect and misery. We see the same things happening in every relation of life—in things religious as well as in things purely civil. The same dogmatism and the same pride and selfishness. And the same neglect of the wants and the same denial of the rights of others. The primitive Christianity, which was introduced and practiced with so much simplicity and consideration and kindness upwards of two thousand years ago, is ignored and laid aside as unworthy of the age in which we now live. And he who is now the most courted and the most thought of in the churches nowadays is the rich man who dresses in fine clothing and who gives of his money freely, while the once poor disciples and fishermen are forgotten and their examples of poverty and self-denial are looked down upon and despised. Religion, as practiced now, is not for the poor and needy, and they would be considered trespassers if they ventured into the luxurious, cushioned, ornamental churches, where everything around would be telling them that they were not wanted there. And not only in the churches, but outside of them as well, they are made to feel their humble life and their poverty. For those who claim to represent Christ on earth, and to follow in the footsteps of his self-denying apostles, would feel terribly out of place in the cabin of the poor man, and would draw up their skirts close around them if by any chance they strayed into one of these places. People love to say the world is getting wickeder as time goes on. They like to look down upon the millions of neglected and oppressed beings whom they never help to make better, but who instead are crowded down still lower in degradation and misery and sin. These Pharisees hypocritically turn up their eyes towards heaven and exclaim against sin and wickedness, and thank God they are not like these. As if the great, and the good, and kind Creator would approve of such meanness and cruelty. The worthy poor belong to the Lord, and all such as can be made good and worthy, and many could be made so if those who can do so would but take them by the hand and lift them up and make them better. The world is wide enough for all and is capable of supporting all. But from the very beginning of creation the few managed to usurp power and wealth, and they have managed to retain these until the present day. And the result is the setting up of class interests and feelings, and the practice and perpetuation of oppression and wrong. But it looks as if a better day was dawning and as if mankind are now striving to place themselves upon a higher level and to obtain their rights. No doubt the battle will be a long and a hard one, but in the end truth must and will prevail. If the down trodden people would but exercise moderation and wisdom and would put away the curse of drink and other bad habits they could not fail, within a reasonably short time, to make themselves the equals of those who now feel above them. The days of aristocratic exclusiveness have well nigh gone by and honest labor is taking its place. And when the middle and working classes rise a little higher, as they can do and are doing, they will be recognized as the great moving power of the world, and it will no longer be said that one man is better than another man, simply because he does not work and can live in extravagance and idleness. Yes, the world is moving on, and all men will yet be free and equal, such as God made them to be.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

Mr. Rogers to be Re-Examined by the Combines Committee.

OTTAWA, April 20.—Bishop Clut of the Peace River country gave interesting evidence before the Schultz Committee this morning. He said gold existed in large quantities in many of the rivers. He knew places where miners had made $16 a day, but the winter was long and water so high, and the period in which they could labor was short. Gold and coal deposits were known to exist in abundance in the country. The whole country could be opened up by building a railway from Calgary, 400 miles, to Fort McMurray, where steamers could ply to Fort Smith. Then another railway link, 20 miles, would connect with the Mackenzie River, where navigation was excellent to the Arctic Seas.

At the Combines Committee this morning a letter was read from Elias Rogers, coal dealer, Toronto, expressing surprise at some of the evidence given before the committee on the subject of the Toronto coal ring. The committee decided to re-examine Rogers next Tuesday.

R. E. Macdonald, manager of the London Mutual Fire Insurance Company, Toronto, was examined. He said an arrangement between certain companies did exist, but it did not affect his company. Such an attempt was made by the companies in the ring to force agents of his company to resign, and a circular was sent out by the association with this object. He was opposed to joining the association, because he did not like it. A good company, by a combination like that, completely lost its identity. A poorly managed company might do just as well as a good one, and he was opposed to the thing on principle.

Robert McLean, Secretary of the Canadian Fire Underwriters' Association, denied that the association interfered with outside companies, and contradicted the statements made by the previous witness.

In the Banking and Commerce Committee this morning the following bills were considered and passed: An act to incorporate the Dominion Plate Glass Insurance Company and the Keystone Fire Insurance Company.

The Committee on Railways met to-day. An act respecting the Ontario and Quebec Railway Company was allowed to stand, as were also an act to incorporate the Upper Ottawa Improvement Company and the act to incorporate the Ontario, Manitoba and Western Railway Company. An act to confirm a mortgage given by the Central Railway Company to the Central Trust Company of New York to secure an issue of debentures was referred to a select committee.

There will be a general reorganization of the Cabinet during the coming recess, and the aspirants for first place at the winning post are training with great care and industry. Two of the most promising pacers are Mr. Cockburn of Centre Toronto, and Mr. Brown of Hamilton.

Cameron's Fate on Trial.

WINNIPEG, April 20.—There are no new developments in the Union Bank robbery. The trial proceeded to-day, but nothing of importance was elicited. Beverly Robertson, the solicitor, who secured the money from McKitrick's hotel for the bank, will testify to-morrow. The prisoners express confidence in being acquitted, and a telegram from Pembina says Cameron assets they are not implicated.

Married Eight Times.

CARTHAGE, Ill., April 20.—John A. Delano of La Harpe was jailed here to-day in default of $1000 bail for alleged bigamy. It is said Delano has been married eight times.

"Ah me"! sighed Potts, "I'm tired of living,
The world is hollow, ambition's vain."
"Come now"! said his chum, "I know the symptoms;
It's all your liver—that's very plain.

You need not suffer, for help is easy;
Pierce's Pellets go right to the place.
A friend to the 'bihous,' I well might call them—
There's nothing better, they'll suit your case."

Potts ceased his sighing and bought the "Pellets."
No more he mourneth his hapless lot!
His face is cheerful, his heart is lightsome,
His melancholly is quite forgot!

THE BEHRING SEA DISPUTE.

Negotiations Now Going on at London Upon the Seizure of Sealing Vessels.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Some interest is excited in the news which has come from London that negotiations relating to the seal fisheries are proceeding there. The Russian Ambassador, Baron de Staal, the acting American Minister, Mr. Henry White and the British Premier, Lord Salisbury, have already held a conference on the subject, and the question arises whether our diplomacy in regard to American interests in Behring Sea will be more commendable in regard to American interests than that relating to the shores of Nova Scotia and the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

Not long ago Collector Hager of San Francisco sent a telegram to Victoria, in British Columbia, saying that he had received instructions from Washington to warn all private sealers from renewing their industry in Behring Sea. Thereupon one of these sealers sent a communication to Mr. Baker, member of Parliament for Victoria at Ottawa, demanding protection. The Deputy Minister of Fisheries has now replied to a communication from Mr. Baker that the whole subject has been submitted to a negotiation now going on. He adds this information as to the Canadian claim:

The Dominion Government has earnestly and repeatedly represented to the British Government the gravity of the wrong to which Canadian citizens have been subject in Behring Sea, and has urgently pressed for a reparation of such wrong. The authority of the Government of Canada is limited to the protection of its territorial waters. It has no power to send armed vessels on high seas to defend its subjects or their property.

It is clear from this official statement that at least Canada does not propose to send out cruisers to do battle with our revenue cutters in Behring Sea; but perhaps she would not object to having the British fleet in the North Pacific undertake that task.

The claim of our Government to the ownership of Behring Sea is by no means as well established as the rights of our fishing vessels to commercial privileges in Canadian ports on the Atlantic. Since it seems to have been assumed as a matter of necessity that there should be some concessions to Great Britain and Canada in order to prevent the late fishery negotiations from perishing, even in the Joint Commission itself, it has often been a subject of surprise that the seal fishery dispute was not also brought into these negotiations as a possible basis for the compromise thus deemed essential. Congress had most emphatically declared against any concession of the plain rights of our New England fishermen, and had even sanctioned a declaration of non-intercourse with Canada rather than yield an inch of these rights. On the other hand, it had never assumed so uncompromising a stand in regard to the Behring Sea dispute. Many people hold that we are making extreme claims in Behring Sea, solely in the interests of a monopoly, the Alaska Commercial Company, the Government's tenant in the Pribylov Islands. It is in defence of this company's exclusive grants of seal fishing at St. Paul and St. George that, whether lawfully or unlawfully, we are seizing and confiscating vessels and cargoes hundreds of miles from those islands and hundreds of miles distant from any land.

What has actually been done thus far in our diplomacy is to separate the two subjects of contention and to agree upon a treaty in regard to the mackeral fishery which sacrifices the commercial rights of our New England fishermen. That having been done, the Behring Sea question now comes up solely on its own merits, and not as a possible basis of compromise in connection with the other dispute. The chances are that so far as our diplomacy is concerned we shall get the worst of both sets of negotiations, but as to the final decision Congress has has yet to be heard from.

The Canadian Government has not only charged our authorities with flagrant violations of international law in Behring Sea for the purpose of aiding a private corporation from which it derives an income, but has filed a claim for pecuniary damages. This included, up to ten months ago, $36,000 for the arrest and imprisonment of officers of seized vessels; $10,400 for the skins forfeited; $23,000 for the captured vessels; $1700 for the wages of crews, and even $68,000 for the seals the vessels might have caught had they not been interfered with. No excess of modesty has prevented the Canadians from adding to this bill their own legal expenses. Since last May another lot of seizures has been made, and now it is hard to say how high the damages claimed have gone. Perhaps a quarter of a million might cover them. Meanwhile no offset could well be based on concessions made in the cod and mackerel treaty now pending, because the official statements of the president and others have already represented this to be a concession on Canada's part, and a gain for us; and by its terms this treaty is cut loose from the seal fishery matter.

Kidd's Treasure.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., April 20.—A Highland Falls correspondent writes that Mr. Jacob Blanche, of that place, is in possession of information leading to the secret hiding places of Captain Kidd, the pirate. Mr. Blanche discovered the secret some years ago and now feels confident of reaping the reward of many years of faithful labor. He claims that one man who received the secret from him last month, visited the spot on Thursday of last week and took $15,000 in gold from the place. A party has been made up to accompany Mr. Blanche, and whatever is the result of the search will be published in due time.

Reported Adversely.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—In the Senate to-day Mr. Morgan (Ala.) from the Committee on Foreign Relations, reported back adversely Mr. Riddleberger's (Va.) resolution to suspend the rules as to executive sessions during the consideration of the fisheries treaty. The report was ordered printed.

Water Filters.

To insure good health it is absolutely necessary to have pure water, and no water is entirely free from floating matter and disease germs without thorough filtration. The majority of cases of typhoid, and other low fevers are in a measure caused from unfiltered and impure water, so that every family who values its health should have a reliable filter. Numerous filters are offered to the public varying in points of excellence, but for cheapness, efficiency and durability, our filters cannot be surpassed. No corroding substances are used in construction. The packing material is the most powerful specially prepared granulated carbon. It will last for years with the ordinary use of a family, and the material may be obtained from us at any time for replenishing at small expense. Sold in Peterborough only at China Hall. dw

The Growth of the Hair.

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic the scalp will be kept in a clean and healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

A New Hose Scandal.

Our town councillors are perpetually in hot water, a series of burning questions, one after another, keeping it up to the boiling point. They are now struggling with the chief of police matter, and though the hose scandal of two or three years ago was covered up, a new hose deal crops up. This time it is a serious matter, no less than this—that the golden lion has the finest supply of ladies' hosiery and the finest stock of splendid gloves ever offered to the ladies of Peterborough. The Visiting Regiment.

The joint Queen's birthday demonstration committee met Friday afternoon and considered the advisability of inviting the Queen's Own Rifles, of Toronto, to Peterborough on the 24th. The "crack city regiment" is anxious to visit Peterborough, the "hub" of the Midland district, this year. Last 24th, it will be remembered, they were invited here, but they preferred a trip into the country and so visited Napanee. This year the almost unanimous choice seems to be in favor of Peterborough, and as their demands are modest, requiring only a large camp ground, a building for the officers, plenty of water and free transportation of their luggage to and from the station, it is probable their desire will be gratified. The committee decided to forward an invitation to the Queen's Own at once, which will likely be voted on at their weekly city drill Wednesday evening. They would prove a great attraction to a celebration, and it is to be hoped satisfactory arrangements will be made. The committee meets again Monday afternoon.

Ah Cheung.

Ah Cheung is the name of the Chinaman who is about to start a "washee washee" business in the Snowden block. He is the first man of his tribe to locate in town, and as such will be quite a curiosity until the novelty of his appearance wears off. Ah Cheung was seen by a reporter this morning at a vacant store in the Snowden block, where he was giving orders to the carpenter for the internal arrangement of his proposed laundry. Ah Cheung, in person, is anything but a prepossessing type of the Mongolian. Nevertheless he wears a suave, smiling expression, and talks readily, though the reporter couldn't understand more than one word out of ten he said. Ah Cheung was dressed in loose navy blue cloth blouse and baggy trousers, that had evidently been made more with a view to economizing in the matter of a tailors' bill than in the amount of cloth used. His head was adorned with a slouch felt hat that almost hid his queue, which when allowed to hang at full length almost touches the floor. The reporter first asked his name. For answer he was greeted with a series of guttural grunts from the Celestial that he could make neither head nor tail of. Several times he essayed to repeat the name, but dismally failed. Then the Chinaman drew an indelible pencil from his pocket and wrote on a card with a sprawling hand, "Ah Cheung," which he afterwards pronounced as "Otoh-yung." He then went on to tell the reporter he was born in Hong Kong and came out to Victoria, B.C., a few years ago. He drifted on to New York, and came to Toronto a few weeks ago, and finally decided to try business here. "Ty and see how biz. is here, maybe biz. good, maybe bad, "he said; "Do washee cheap, all a samee." Ah Cheung has a partner with him who went back to Toronto last night. He will return next week though, and help in the business. Ah Cheung repeated his friend's name too, but its polysyllabic profundity was too much for the dense understanding of the reporter, and he didn't attempt to retain it. Ah Cheung isn't very well up in his English yet; he doesn't "catch on" any too readily and can scarcely be understood when he attempts to speak it. He will improve, though.

Mr. Paterson's Funeral.

The late Mr. Walter Paterson, sr., having been one of our prominent citizens and business men for fifty years, it is proposed that, as a mark of respect, business places will be closed on the afternoon of his funeral, which takes place at 2:30 o'clock p.m. on Monday.

Real Estate Notes.

Mrs. Gilmour's residence was withdrawn at the sale yesterday, $4,000 being the highest bid offered. Mr. G. W. Elliott purchased the lot, 43x120, on the corner of Park and Gilmour streets, for $620. Mr. J. R. Stratton purchased the half acre east of the residence of Mr. J. Stratton for $710. The balance of the property was not disposed of.

A Way out of the Difficulty.

Belleville Ontario:—"There is a dead-lock in the Peterborough council between Acting Chief Adams and George Rossell, of St. Catherines, for the chiefship. This undesirable dilemma was brought about after several weeks' labor by the council and yet some people advocate the abolition of police commissions."

Officially Gazetted.

Among the list of recent appointments made by His Honor the Lieut.-Governor, are the following:—F. J. Bell, of the township of Smith, farmer, clerk of the first division court of Peterborough, vice R. W. Krratt, resigned. Joseph Griffin, bailiff of first division court of Peterborough, vice C Stapleton, resigned.

Dropped Dead.

Mr. John Drake, and old man between 50 and 60 years of age, died suddenly at noon today. He was leaving home after dinner when he suddenly dropped to the sidewalk unconscious and expired in a few moments. Dr. King was hastily summoned, but the old man was dead before he reached the house, on Rubidge street near Dalhousie.

The Original Survives.

Mr. C. B. Smith, the founder of "Smith's Market," is preparing to open up a similar establishment in the old post office block, George street. Mr. Smith understands the business and will, no doubt, present strong claims to public patronage.

A New Union Jack.

A new Union Jack, but the same old colours. Peterborough Lodge of the Sons of England have had made for them a large Union Jack—the largest in town—by Mr. J. J. Turner. It is 6x12 feet and large enough to roll up goat, candidate and all at the initiation ceremonies in which it occupies a prominent place.

A Real Picture.

Passers on George street stop to admire the beautiful reproduction of Harnett's oil painting "The Violin," now on view in the window of Prof. Doucet's music store. It is a remarkable bit of realism, the old Cremona violin hanging from a nail, over a dog-eared, smoke stained piece of sheet music, the bow beside it and all the accessories of the picture are worked out with rare skill and success. The picture is well worth seeing.

Orillia's Railway Trouble.

Orillia is always in hot water over her railway connections and has just now a fresh trouble. The Times says a deputation waited upon the Midland authorities at Peterborough on Wednesday to ask them not to close the Northern R.R. track from the "diamond" to Atherly. They report having received assuring promises from Mr. Macklin. It is said the closing up of this road would seriously injure the trade of some of the merchants. The Times says: "The chances are that the station will be closed, the same as the one at Port Hope."

The Big Bargain Brokers.

This name may be fitly applied to Gough Bros.—they deal in bargains. That is, they present goods of the best quality at the very lowest prices. Read their new advertisement on the second page of this issue, and notice that the biggest bargains on this continent are there offered, and you will find at their store on George street a liberal verification of all their offers. Their prices are so low, that Lazarus, if he were living, could afford a new suit every three months. Go to Gough's.

Obituary.

The Late Walter Paterson, Sr.

The public will learn with deep regret of the death of Mr. Walter Paterson, sr., who peacefully passed away to his rest—gathered like a ripe sheaf by the grim gleaner, death—on Friday, April 20th, at the venerable age of 80 years.

The deceased gentleman was a native of Berwickshire, Scotland, where he was born on February 29th, 1808. In 1834 he came to Canada, all alone and without means except such as a robust physical strength, an industrious disposition and a character of integrity supplied. His first year in this country was spent in farm work in North Monaghan. He came after this to Peterborough and found employment from time to time until he engaged with the late Sheriff Hall as a workman in his tannery. After spending many years in this position, having become thoroughly conversant with the business, he leased the tannery from Mr. Hall, and conducted the business with great success till 1856, when he purchased the entire business and premises, and carried on the tannery by himself till 1867, when his son, Mr. Walter Paterson, jr., was admitted as a partner. Mr. Paterson has taken an active part in the business up to within a few years, although till within a fortnight his mind has been clear and he has been perfectly competent to transact business, although a body actively employed for eighty years, naturally demanded rest and leisure. The deceased gentleman's business career furnished a pattern which all might follow. It was characterized by energy, enterprise, industry and an unvarying integrity and fairness of dealing, such as few business men carry into practice. He carries to his grave the same high degree of respect as a business man as he does in regard to all the relations of life.

In 1836 Mr. Paterson married Miss Agnes, daughter of Mr. Robert Richardson, and the result of the union was the birth of seven children, all of whom died in infancy, except Alexander, who died at the age of about twelve years; Robert, who died about fifteen years since; and Walter, the only surviving son. Mrs. Paterson died thirty-nine years ago. Mr. Paterson subsequently contracted a second marriage, his wife being Miss Petrie. Of this marriage the only surviving offspring is Mrs. Harry Grandy, wife of the Deputy Registrar of this county.

Mr. Paterson was an active member of the Liberal party. He took part, as a volunteer, in suppressing the uprising of 1837-38, and was connected with the commissariat. In religion he was a devoted Presbyterian, zealous in the promotion of the interests of that church, and a regular communicant and attendant at St. Paul's. He at one time filled the position of deacon. As a good citizen he took an interest in public affairs and was at one time a member of the town council. About a month since the weight of years began to tell and bodily health to fail, and he has been gradually sinking, not from any specific ailment but a general failure of bodily powers. Life gradually ebbed away and the end was peaceful to both soul and body—the hope of a reward beyond the grave cheered his last moments, and the weary wheels of life stood still.

In the death of Mr. Paterson the community loses one of those old familiar landmarks which are becoming fewer and fewer. He moved in the community nearly half a century worthily enjoying the high degree of respect which his character, in all the relations of life, commanded. He dies full of age and honour and he leaves to his children the priceless legacy of the memory of an unblemished character, distinguished for its rectitude, associated with an affectionate solicitude and kindness as a parent, and to his case applies with peculiar force the saying of Holy Scripture—"The memory of the just is blessed."

Still More Chief of Police.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

DEAR SIR,—There is a great deal being written about the chief of police matter, and a great deal made of the point of importing an outsider. Why is the case of Mr. Adam's singled out? There was no particular row raised when Mr. Pope was imported from the country and appointed over the heads of local men with good claims to the position, and constable Stewart was appointed under similar circumstances. Not that outsiders cannot fill their positions, but I do not see the consistency of making the outsider objection apply in the case of Mr. Adams when the principle has been violated in the past. It strikes me that there is more in this matter than appears on the surface. Our councillors have a way of not doing things openly and squarely. We had our town stable deal, which should last a lifetime. We were told the stables were just the thing wanted, but now they have proved to be a failure and something else is proposed. If there was a "dark horse" in the old town stables before, during and after they were built, I am afraid there is another "dark horse" ready for the new wrinkle. I think it is about time that our town business was conducted on business principles. I am not the only one, by a thousand or so, that is dissatisfied with the peculiar management of our public affairs.

Yours truly,
FREEHOLDER.

Peterborough, April 21st, 1888.

Hon. O. Mowat, Premier of Ontario, will celebrate the Queen's birthday by sailing for England on that date. He visits the Old Country to maintain before the Privy Council the right of the province to the timber and minerals in the once "disputed territory."

The many friends in Peterborough of the Hon. Thos. White will regret to learn that his condition is causing his friends the most serious alarm. The Globe's Ottawa correspondent in his Friday despatch, says that he has inflammation of both lungs, with high temperature and frequent pulse. He has been delirious part of to-day. On the advice of Dr. Wright, the attending physician, Dr. Howard, of Montreal, was sent for and arrived here at midnight. He and Dr. Wright will consult upon the case. There is grave anxiety in Parliamentary circles over the reports circulated to-day, and on all sides sincere sympathy for the suffering Minister is felt and expressed.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

HON. T. WHITE A VICTIM OF LATE HOURS AND BAD VENTILATION.

Biographical Sketch of the Late Minister of the Interior—The Names Mentioned in Connection With the Office—A Cabinet Council—Prorogation Prospects.

OTTAWA, April 22.—Hon. Thomas White died at 9.45 o'clock on Saturday night. He was delirious during the greater part of the day, and suffered the most intense pain almost to the very moment of death. From midnight on Friday his physicians entertained no hope for his recovery, and the hundreds of anxious friends, Senators, Commoners and pressmen, who visited his residence during the day to read the bulletins displayed came away saddened and depressed by the discouraging nature of the reports. As evening approached the fear that he could not live grew into a mournful conviction that the Minister's career had reached its premature close, and a night of sincerer mourning in Parliamentary circles has rarely been known at the Capital. It has been felt ever since the opening of the session that Mr. White was not in his usual vigorous health, but the fact was attributed to overwork, and no fear of a serious collapse of the Minister's strength was entertained.

The history of Mr. White's illness and death can be briefly told. The Minister of the Interior passes away from his sphere of usefulness on earth a victim of overwork and of a barbarous custom of social dress as applied to our rigorous, raw and treacherous climate. This latter matter has been pretty freely discussed by the medical gentlemen, and they are some thirty in number, who sit in the House of Commons. That Mr. White was "run down" by a too close application to the duties of his department all his friends admit. His sole ambition was to master the office in its most minute detail and he had, all will admit, attained this object to an eminent degree.

An idea of the amount of business transacted at the Department of the Interior may be formed from the fact that an average of 2000 letters are received daily. Mr. White, as a rule, made himself familiar with the contents of a majority of these, and to keep pace with the immense amount of work the dead Minister was an early riser and a late worker. By 7 o'clock he had been refreshed by the bath, at 7.30 he was at breakfast and an hour later he was in his office in the Eastern Block. This daily strain on his robust physique, albeit it was fortified with the most regular habits of living, soon began to make its marks, and at the end of about 2½ years as the head of the department he succumbs to an overtaxed system, overtaxed to such an extent that it could not withstand a sudden chill and subsequent attack of pleuro-pneumonia.

A week ago last night Mr. White dined at Government House. He returned home feeling in good health and spirits but unconscious at the time of the fact that the conventional evening dress of society, so devoid of warmth and covering in the vicinity of the chest, had permitted the chilly winds of Rideau Hall grounds and the drive to the city to penetrate and inflame the delicate membranes of the pleura.

Early Sunday morning he was seized with fits of copious vomiting. The family physician, Dr. H. P. Wright, was absent in Toronto and Dr. Hornsy was called in on Monday. At this time it was not thought that his illness was of a serious nature. However, his condition grew worse, and by Tuesday the doctor had to contend with a well-developed case of pleuro-pneumonia, the right lung having become almost completely involved. Dr. Wright returned home on Thursday, and it was then found that his condition was very serious. The patient was suffering intensely, and he was delirious at times. By Friday Dr. Wright became so alarmed that he telegraphed to Montreal for Richard White and Robert S. White, the brother and eldest son of the sick minister.

At 3.30 in the afternoon the Montreal doctors said there was no hope whatever and they prepared to leave for home. At 4 o'clock, just before their departure, they hung out this bulletin:

Mr. White's condition still unchanged. As serious as possible.

Carriages filled with anxious friends rolled up to the door and the occupants read the fatal announcement. Many people on foot also came to read it. The patient from this hour grew rapidly worse; he made the most painful gasps for breath. At 9 o'clock in the evening he suddenly regained consciousness. He told the attendants to telegraph to Montreal for Richard and Robert, not having been apprised that they were in the house. He also asked for Mrs. White and his children, seven daughters and three sons. They all entered the fatal chamber. To his brother Richard he gave some brief business directions. He told them he was going to die. Archdeacon Lauder of St. George's Church was also on hand. The dying man continued to talk to those around him until just exactly 5.45, when amidst their choking sobs he made his last gasp and all was over.

Mr. White's is the fifth death this session, the other four being Senator Plumb, Senator Holland, Mr. Clayes of Missisquoi, and Mr. Robertson of West Hastings. It is not surprising that the deaths should be so frequent. The long night sittings, the perpetual draughts and wretched ventilation of the chambers, tell with terrible effect upon the health of members, and the slaughter will go on until the night sittings are abandoned, or until some heroic attempt is made to improve the ventilation or a new chamber is provided. Already there is speculation as to Mr. White's successor in office. The names most frequently mentioned are Mr. Geo. A. Kirkpatrick of Frontenac, and Mr. Peter White of Renfrew. Either would be fairly acceptable, with perhaps the objection that it would bunch in one district nearly all the Ontario representatives in the Cabinet. A hunt for available men shows that there is a decided lack of Cabinet material among the Conservative members from Ontario.

There was a Cabinet Council on Saturday, lasting nearly all day. It is understood some features of the budget speech, the matter of canal tolls, tariff changes and the Franchise Act were considered. The tolls will remain the same as last session, and it is expected that notwithstanding the statements to the contrary some tariff changes will be proposed. These, the assumption of the Lake St. Peter debt and the sum to be appropriated for the deepening of the canals, if that work is gone on with this year, will probably be announced by Sir Charles Tupper in the course of his financial statement. There will hardly be any important franchise legislation introduced, but the work of preparing the voters' lists will be gone on with during the recess. The Cabinet is in poor shape to push through important measures. Mr. White's death will prove a very serious obstacle to the progress of legislation affecting the Interior Department. Hon. J. H. Pope is still in precarious health, and in consequence the Railway Bill will be abandoned. Sir Charles Tupper is anxious to return to England at the earliest moment, and Lord Lansdowne wants prorogation at least by the end of the third week of May. It is becoming rather the practice of Parliament to govern itself by the convenience of the Governor-General. Last session prorogation was hastened in order that he may go fishing. This year it will be rushed in order that he may leave for home on the date he has selected. The Opposition have few important motions to bring forward. There are few important Government bills, and, if as good progress is made with public business as during the last week it is still quite possible that prorogation may be reached by the Queen's Birthday, and that Lord Lansdowne may be able to preside at the closing ceremonies.

At a Cabinet Council this afternoon the Bucket Shop Bill was considered.

Judge Henry suffered a relapse yesterday, but now evinces a disposition towards improvement.

On Monday Mr. Chapleau will introduce a bill to amend the Civil Service Act, and also the act to amend the Electoral Franchise Act.

The supplementary estimates will be brought down on Monday and the budget speech on Tuesday. Sir Richard Cartwright will reply.

Elections in the Northwest Territory will be held before Lieut.-Gov. Dewdney's withdrawal from office.

Voting in Stanstead on the repeal of the Canada Temperance Act is fixed for May 31.

The act to establish a Court of Appeal from the summary decision of magistrates, passed by the British Columbia Legislature, has been disallowed.

It is learned that all colonial bishops have joined to request from Lambeth Conference in June the establishment of colonial archbishoprics in Canada and Australia, and that an effort will be made to have Ottawa erected into an archdiocese.

MRS. WHITCOMBE WAS INSANE.

The Hamilton Suicide—Labor Notes—The Y.M.C.A. Building Fund Completed.

HAMILTON, April 22.—There is nothing to add to the facts stated in The World on Saturday in connection with the lamentable suicide of Mrs. Whitcombe. There is not the slightest doubt but that the deceased was temporarily insane. There is insanity in the family, her father, the late Alex. Milne, of Ancaster, having suicided while suffering from temporary derangement, about eighteen years ago. Rev. Mr. Whitcombe is still completely prostrated by the dreadful shock he received. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon to Ancaster cemetery.

The arbitration committee of the Laborers' Union and the Master Builders' Association met last night to sign the agreement of settlement. The Bricklayers' Union deny that any resolution was passed threatening to fine any members who worked on the city hall while Buscombe is employed by the city. On the other hand, it is claimed that the resolution was obtained from a member who was at the meeting, and left as soon as it was passed. Five non-union masons, also stone cutters and laborers, are working on the city hall, and more are expected on Monday.

The directors of the Young Men's Christian Association have succeeded in raising, by means of a guarantee fund, the remainder of the amount necessary for the completion of the building fund. They will immediately make the necessary arrangements for the purchase of a site and the erection of the building. New plans will be got out and the building will be erected on a site somewhere near the center of the city.

THE HANDICAP TO BE REMOVED.

A Concession to Graduates of Protestant Colleges in Quebec Province.

MONTREAL, April 22.—Sir William Dawson, principal of McGill University, has added another to the many services he has rendered to the cause of Protestant education in Quebec Province. During his stay in Quebec at the meeting of the Council of Public Instruction he had a long interview with twelve Catholic bishops, representing the Catholic section, in reference to the long-standing grievance of Protestant educators whereby graduates of English colleges were discriminated against on entrance to the liberal professions. Sir William urged that the fact of a man having taken the degree of B.A. at either McGill or Bishop's should be taken as evidence that he had received a liberal education, instead of making him conform to the same regulations as graduates of Catholic universities. After a lengthened discussion the point was conceded, and hereafter graduates of English colleges will not be handicapped as in the past. Premier Mercier has promised to embody the concession in an act the coming session.

On 'Change in London.

LONDON, April 22.—There was less demand for discount during the past week. Three months was quoted at 1⅛, and short at ⅛. On the Stock Exchange business was inactive, with a downward tendency, speculators for a rise closing accounts, and the public not dealing. The gloomy foreign outlook is the chief cause of the dullness.

A DESPAIRING ENQUIRY.

THE GERMAN EMPEROR'S ANXIOUS QUESTION YESTERDAY.

His Life May be Prolonged for Two Weeks and He May Follow His Father at any Moment—German Hostility to Queen Victoria.

BERLIN, April 21.—After a paroxysm of difficult breathing, preceding a discharge of pus this morning, the Emperor wrote on a slip of paper, "How much longer of this?" For the first time since the final crisis set in the sufferer yesterday and to-day displayed signs of restlessness and an irritable temper, questioning the doings of the doctors and attendants and giving and countermanding orders. The question the Emperor put is on everybody's mind, and the attendants and doctors are assailed on every hand with the enquiry, "How much longer?" The physicians are studiously silent, but it is permitted to be known that the Emperor's life may be prolonged for two weeks, though any moment may bring the last phase of the malady—death by suffocation.

Empress Victoria watches closely at the Emperor's bedside. Besides curtailing the interviews with other members of the family, she will not permit any officials to have access to the Emperor unless he especially desires it. To-day the Emperor was able to write a long note to Prince Bismarck, which it is surmised was intended for presentation to the Ministerial Council held this afternoon, over which the Crown Prince presided. In a long interview between the Crown Prince and his father and mother on Thursday, the Emperor referred to the position of the Empress after his death. Prince Bismarck and the Empress appear to have become reconciled and the Chancellor never fails after leaving the Emperor to hold a long conversation with the Empress. A report which is current obtains credence that the council of ministers has already discussed the terms of the proclamation to be issued by the coming Emperor.

The Empress Augusta, the Grand Duke and Duchess of Baden, and the Duke and Duchess of Saxe-Meiningen came to the castle this afternoon and were permitted to see the Emperor for a short time. The only report made to-day was that of Gen. Von Winterfield.

The Emperor's appetite is not great, but he consumes a sufficient quantity of specially prepared food. His brain remains clear and his capacity for business is not lessened. Professors Lyden and Senator, on returning to Berlin to-night, reported that the patient was quieter.

Queen Victoria during her visit will pass all her time in Charlottenburg Palace, except when she goes out to drive and to attend a reception which will be given in her honor by the Crown Prince in the Berlin residence. Her stay in Berlin is certain to be marked by popular abstention from any notice of her presence. The papers which predict a mob demonstration against here are utterly out of touch with the temper of the people. All classes from the highest to the lowest share the common feeling that the English royalties have steered their way through the circumstances attendant upon the Emperor's illness with more regard for personal gain than for German interests. This has become a conviction since it has been ascertained what is the nature of the settlement upon the Empress arranged during the current week. Besides the 12,000,000 marks allowance as the widow of the Emperor, the Empress acquires the right of succession to the Empress Augusta's residence as fixed by the will of Emperor William. This is a small matter, per se, but, taken in conjunction with the baffled intrigues to overturn Prince Bismarck, gives the masses a settled sentiment of antipathy to both Victorias. The people, however, are too self-restrained and well-bred to show any disrespect to the Empress or her mother.

The Empress at first ordered the historic rooms of Queen Louise in the Charlottenburg Castle to be refitted for her mother's occupancy. The rooms have hitherto been preserved with the furniture and everything intact, as they were left at the death of Queen Louise, as a place of pilgrimage for the people. The intention of the Empress getting abroad led to private protests against touching relics known to be reverod throughout Germany. The Empress has now ordered rooms to be prepared on the ground floor of the castle, in the right wing, which was built by Frederick the Great. These have been swept clear of many articles which the Germans would like to have seen preserved. Three hundred workmen are employed night and day in renovating the rooms in which will be reproduced interiors of Balmoral Palace, Queen Victoria's Highland residence. An English architect directs the work and this gave rise to the general belief that all the workmen were English and all the new furniture had been bought in England. This was incorrect. The workmen are all Germans and all the furniture that could be had in Germany was obtained here. The style of the renovation does not suit the taste of the Berliners and shows want of tact on the part of the Empress or an imprudent disregard of the popular feeling.

A Pathetic Injunction.

BERLIN, April 21.—The Emperor's appetite is failing. His temperature throughout the day has been over 39 degrees Celsius. His breathing is hard, and he has occasional shivers. It is not expected that his lungs will remain long unaffected.

The Emperor recently wrote to the Crown Prince on a piece of paper, "Learn to suffer without complaining, that is the single thing I can teach you." This afternoon the Emperor received the whole of the Imperial Family. Empress Augusta and Prince Bismarck came into his apartment at 7 o'clock and remained an hour.

The pus discharged from his throat continues to thicken, and the doctors consider this a bad symptom.

The following bulletin was issued at 6.30 this evening: "The Emperor's fever has been distinctly less to-day and his general condition is somewhat improved."

The Sunday Bulletins.

BERLIN, April 22.—The following bulletin was issued at 9 o'clock this morning: "The Emperor passed a more quiet night. His fever has moderated and his general condition is better."

The bulletin issued at 9 p.m. said that the Emperor had passed a pretty good day with less fever than on former days, but his temperature began to rise toward morning.

FRENCH POLITICS.

Boulanger Will Remain a Deputy for the Nord—Proposed Retaliation.

PARIS, April 21.—The Committee having in charge Gen. Boulanger's political affairs, has issued a statement that the General will remain a deputy for the Department of Nord.

In the lobby of the Chamber of Deputies to-day, a group of deputies charged the Prefect of Police with ill-treating persons who participated in demonstrations against Gen. Boulanger, while showing leniency towards the General's supporters. The Prefect denied the charge, and asked leave to raise the question in the House.

M. Goblet, Minister of Foreign Affairs, informed the Chamber of Deputies to-day that he had protested against England's proposed duty upon bottled wines. If the protest was disregarded France would not be helpless, she could retaliate by withdrawing "the most favored nation treatment" extended to England.

In the Senate to-day Premier Fisquet, replying to M. Travieux, member for the department of the Gironde, said that in order to carry out the proposed revision of the constitution, an agreement with the Senate would be necessary. He continued: "We shall have to explain the subject; we understand by revision the perfecting of the constitution where in certain views have been indicated."

Question—"What views?"

The Premier declined to enter into details. He said in conclusion: "To struggle against the existing dangers we must display democratic energy and must show that a free exercise of parliamentary institutions can give the satisfaction sought in a dictatorship. We must undeceive the masses so that they will regain their confidence in us. Our task will then be an easy one. I have taken office determined to oppose a dictatorship with the principles of republican rule."

The order of the day agreed to by the Government was then adopted, 135 to 108.

Students and Boulangists Rioting.

PARIS, April 21.—There was a renewal of the conflicts between the students and the Boulangists to-night. The police charged on the rioters and in the scuffle that ensued many persons were injured, some seriously. The Boulangists assembled at many points, intending to march to the Boulevard St. Michael. The police, however, dispersed them and prevented them from carrying out their intention. The city became quiet about 11 o'clock.

To Consider the Question of Revision.

PARIS, April 21.—On the re-assembling of the Chamber of Deputies to-day a committee was appointed to consider the question of revising the constitution. The committee consists of eleven members, four of whom oppose a revision, while two are in favor of an immediate revision and five desire a revision, but are willing to accept the proposal of the Cabinet to postpone action upon the question. The Cabinet has decided that President Carnot need not postpone his tour to the south of France. He will therefore proceed as contemplated.

THE GREAT MACKENZIE RIVER.

Additional Evidence Before Senator Schultz's Committee—Mining Regulations.

OTTAWA, April 21.—Bishop Clut gave additional evidence before Senator Schultz's Mackenzie River Committee to-day. This venerable prelate from that great district, said the Mackenzie River was the finest stream in the world for its length, its depth and also its navigation in summer. Steamers leaving Fort Smith cross the Great Slave Lake and can descend as far as the Arctic Sea. They can also ascend Peel River. The Mackenzie is deeper, and contains a larger volume of water than the St. Lawrence. The great river flowed to the Arctic Sea through an unbroken wide channel from Great Slave Lake; above that lake it was known as the Great Slave River, and it was broken at Fort Smith by rapids, alongside of which was a good road extending for twenty miles. Then there was a stretch of clear navigation southward to Athabasca Lake. South of this lake the Mackenzie was known as the Athabasca River. There was a break above Fort McMurray, down which barges could go, but could not ascend. A road seventy miles in length would overcome this difficulty. From here the river was navigable to Athabasca Landing, ninety miles by wagon road to Edmonton. There were only two interruptions to navigation between the source of the Mackenzie and the Arctic Ocean.

Other interesting information was given by His Lordship, and he was warmly thanked by the committee. He will return to Montreal on Monday.

The New York Brewers' Strike.

NEW YORK, April 21.—The locked-out journeymen brewers to-night report great progress in the "boycott" movement. They have had non-pool beer cards printed, which are given to saloonkeepers who apply at their headquarters with an order from the agents stating that they use none but union-made lager. A number of the men who had been out of employment previous to the lock-out were paid the strike benefit to-day.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE LADIES OF PETERBOROUGH AND VICINITY.

We have a word or two to say to you. In these times when money is considered rather scarce, you would be studying your interests by buying at close Cash Prices, and at Reliable Houses. There is in our midst a First Class Dry Goods House that meets every requirement. Rowse's Trade Palace is established in the interest and for the protection of those who pay ready money for their Dry Goods.

Their prices are very low. Look in their Show Window to-day, and you can get any article there at Five Cents. This is a curiousity. Novelties in Fine Dress Goods are exhibited on their counters at Twelve and a-half cents. A Lady told Mr. Rowse the other day that she had been around town looking at Silks and she saw some that she thought were cheap, but she could not depend on the reliability of the houses she had visited. She bought her Silk at the Trade Palace. Rowse's Silks at Fifty and Sixty cents are wonderful value.

In conclusion we respectfully ask you to look through the Elegant Display of Dry Goods at the Trade Palace.

Faithfully yours,
ONE WHO STUDIES YOUR INTERESTS.

MONDAY, APRIL 23, 1888.

HON. THOMAS WHITE.

In no other town in Canada will be heard with deeper regret of the death of Hon. Thos. White, Minister of the Interior of the Dominion of Canada, than in the town of Peterborough, where he is so well known and so highly respected. Older residents of the town will remember the active, handsome, stirring young man who was so prominent a figure in the community, and who so impressed his personality upon it as to be a well remembered figure. Hon. Mr. White was of mixed Irish and Scotch parentage, born at Montreal on Aug. 7th, 1830, his father having come to Canada in 1826. His mother was a Scotch lady, a native of Edinburgh. His father carried on a business as a leather merchant in Montreal, and here Mr. White received his education—at the high school in that city. After leaving school, he devoted his attention to mercantile pursuits, but these were not congenial to his tastes and he was given a position on the editorial staff of the Montreal Gazette, now owned by himself and his brother Richard. This position was given him, it is said, in consequence of an address on temperance delivered by him in the city of Quebec some time before, which had attracted great attension. About the year 1849 or 1850 he removed with his father to Peterborough, where the former opened out a boot and shoe store in the shop of Benj. Green, George street. In 1854, in connection with his brother Richard and Mr. Robert Romaine, his brother-in law, he started the publication of the Weekly Review. At the beginning the Review was published in the Reform interest, but only for a short time. The Review became Conservative about the time of the return of the Conservatives to power, the McNab-Morin Ministry succeeding Mr. Hincks. The office was at that time, and some time after, in the shop, now Professor Doucet's Music store. Mr. White was a prominent figure in town even at so early an age. He was active energetic and ambitious, fond of public speaking, and here, it was doubtless, he laid the foundation of that finished oratory which distinguished him in after years. He took every opportunity of public speaking that offered. He was a highly valued "local" preacher of the Methodist church at one time, filling vacancies in the pulpit of the old wooden George street Methodist church and often filling appointments at country schoolhouses in the vicinity of the town. He was an earnest advocate of temperance, taking a leading part in the first Sons of Temperance organization in Peterborough, serving the first terms as secretary or scribe of that organization. Mr. White "had a hand," in his younger days here, in almost every public affair. He was ensign in the old Peterborough Rifle Company and was actively connected with an amateur dramatic company which gave its performances in the old Music Hall and also in the third story of the Review office, at that time a hall also. In connection with one R. A. Patterson he published an evanescent local satirical journal, The Chevireri. He was also captain or lieutenant of the local hose company, and on the occasion of a ball, in the interests of the company, composed and published a stirring poem beginning thus:—

"O did you ne'er hear of the hose, the hose
Which cheers eve y heart as it goes, it goes,
If a fire should occur, and the wind it blows,
it blows,
And sparks fly around and enclose, enclose,
There is nothing to fear when our boys they appear
With their pretty new cart and their hose, their hose."

In fact he was "one of the boys" in the better sense of that term, not at all in the dissipated line—he was always steady and moral, and personally very popular; still he ever kept in view his higher aspirations and steadily wrought for the goal he at length reached with so much credit to himself and the town of which he was once so prominent a citizen. While in Peterborough he was a member of the Grammar School Board of the town for some terms and also a member of the town council, being deputy reeve at the time, we believe, that Mr. Conger was reeve. He was an unsuccessful candidate for the mayoralty against Mr. O'Beirne. In 1853 Mr. White was married to Miss Vine, of Montreal, and during his residence in Peterborough lived in the house on Rubidge street now owned by Mr. C. W. Sawers, just south of the old Clurton residence. While in Peterborough conducting the newspaper, Mr. White is remembered by old-time printers as a good employer, kind and considerate to his hands. In 1860 Mr. White entered the law office of Hon. Sidney Smith, at that time in the building now occupied as Croft's Hotel. He then removed to Hamilton and, with his brother, Richard, purchased the Spectator newspaper, which they conducted with great energy from 1864 to 1870. About this time they removed to Montreal and assumed control the Gazette. It is difficult to define the beginning of Mr. White's political career. While in Montreal he was undergoing a training in civic matters which helped to fit him for the brilliant political career which opened. He was an unsuccessful candidate for South Wentworth in the Ontario Legislature in 1867, also for the Commons in Prescott county in 1874, and for Montreal West in 1875 and again in 1878. But Thomas White knew no such word as fail. In 1878 he contested Cardwell and was returned for that constituency which he has continuously represented from that time. In 1885 the complication in Northwest affairs caused the retirement of Hon. David Macpherson, Minister of the Interior. Sir John at once selected Mr. White to fill the vacancy, the fitness of the selection was universally conceded, and the industry, ability for organization, and the capacity of the new Minister were recognized. Mr. White at once proceeded to the Northwest, and made himself master of the situation by diligent and painstaking investigation, and since he assumed the portfolio of Minister of the Interior, the country has seen very little of the mismanagement and blundering which unfortunately marked the previous administration of Northwest affairs. He has made a capable administrator, and his death has made a vacancy in the Dominion Cabinet, which it will be exceedingly difficult to fill. His death leaves a great blank both in the administrative and oratorical strength of the Ministry. He was probably the foremost debater and orator in the Ministry, and not only in the House but on the platform was his eloquence a source of strength to his party. Those who heard Hon. Mr. White in the Opera House in the fall of 1886 and winter of 1887 have lively remembrance of his ability as a speaker. He was a graceful, polished and telling speaker, always conveying the impression of being master of his subject, never becoming confused when he got upon his feet. He was a faithful supporter of the policy and projects of his party. As a public man his loss will be severely felt in Parliament, and with public regret will be mingled, especially in Peterborough, personal regrets for a man of great geniality, charming personal presence and very many excellent personal good qualities. Apart from political considerations, Peterborough is proud to claim as a one-time citizen a gentleman who, by force of character and ability, has raised himself to almost the highest position in the gift of the people—an honor all the more to be valued because Hon. Thomas White was not only a born Canadian, but a Canadian statesman in aspiration and practice.

A Secret Worth Knowing.

A lady in town when visiting a friend discovered a secret worth knowing, especially at this time of the year. In the course of conversation the following remarks were made.—"How lovely your room looks now, since you got it papered; what a lovely border; where did you get it?" "I got it this time at A. L. Davis & Co.'s and found that they had borders to match all their papers as well as a tremendous lot of papers to choose from, and when I asked their prices, I discovered there were just as low as anybody else's." Ladies, this is the reason why we sold more paper last year than the previous one and why we have sent our papers in the past beyond Toronto and as far east as Ottawa. Our prices in cheap paper are especially advantageous to those not requiring the higher priced papers. dw

Fraternal Condolence.

At an emergent meeting of Peterborough lodge No. 155, A. F. & A.M, Friday evening, the following motion was passed:—

"The members of Peterborough Lodge, No. 155, A.F. & A.M., have heard with deep regret of the death of Walter Paterson, Esq., father of V.W. Brother Paterson, an honored and respected member of this lodge, and hereby desire to place on record their deep sorrow at the affliction that has fallen on him by the death of a kind father and a citizen universally respected, and whose character was without stain or reproach. We sincerely trust that the G.A.O.T.W., the disposer of all events—may give you consolation in this the hour of affliction."

[Notice.]

When Dr. Chase, author of the famous Chase's Receipt Book, died two years ago, he left the manuscript of what he said was his "Crowning Life Work." It has been published in a magnificent volumn of nearly 900 pages. It contains more than six times the valuable matter that his old book did, and is the result of his whole life experience and observation. If the value of this book, having more than six times as much in it and thirty-five years of additional experience, can be measured by the value of the old one, it is a book that no home should be without. The publishers offer a rare opportunity to agents. See advertisement in another column. ld

THE SPRING DIET.

In the Spring a young man's fancies may "lightly turn to thoughts of love," but the fancies of older people more commonly turn to what they shall or can eat.

The "Spring appetite" is flagging and fickle. The keen relish of the sharp winter weather is dulled or gone. It is Nature's hint for a change in the quality and a let-up in the quantity of food consumed.

The golden rule of living is to adapt the diet to the season and to the needs of the system. For this reason

THE TORONTOS' FIRST WIN.

CUSHMAN'S TEAM DEFEATS THE ALLENTOWN NINE BY 18 TO 6.

Baseball Games Saturday—The Championship Record—Death of a Famous Trotter—The Lacrosse Team in England—Spots of Sport.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., April 21.—The Torontos by big batting and daring base running won the game from the Allentown team to-day. A slight drizzle of snow up to nearly noon was succeeded by raw weather, which made the spectators uncomfortable and rendered good fielding next to impossible. Doyle started in to pitch for Allentown, but on account of a lame arm allowed too easy a mark, and Zell was substituted. The individual features were Gunningham's batting and fielding for the home team, and Decker's great work behind the bat and Smith's pitching for the visitors. Score:

Ball Players Before the Mayor.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 21.—Both Esterbrook and Sullivan were arraigned before the Mayor to-day, charged with disorderly conduct at yesterday's game, but were released with a reprimand.

Esterbrook ran into Pfeffer to-day while the latter was covering second, knocking him down. It looked very breezy for a few minutes. Sullivan came in from his field, a few words passed between the men, but Sullivan was ordered to his position. It is reported that the majority of the Chicago players endeavored to get at Sullivan during last evening to resent the insult of the afternoon, but the two men were kept apart. The Chicagos started the trouble by rude base running, and upon Sullivan's attempt to over-run Esterbrook was met with a shoulder hit.

The Championship Records.

BUFFALO, April 21.—As Chicago, Pittsburg and Boston won again yesterday, their percentage is still that very rare 1000. As New York lost her percentage is now the same as Washington's, 000 each, having won and lost a game. Detroit, Philadelphia and Indianapolis have no percentage as yet. In the American race Brooklyn and St. Louis have still their percentage of 1000, the Athletics and Cincinnati have 667 each, having won two games and lost one. Baltimore and Kansas City lost two games each and won one, hence their percentage of 333. Louisville and Cleveland have yet to win their first game.

Southern League record is as follows:
Birmingham won 4, lost 2, percentage 666.
Memphis won 3, lost 2, percentage 600.
New Orleans won 4, lost 3, percentage 444.
Charleston won 2, lost 6, percentage 250.

The English Turf Scandal.

LONDON, April 21.—The Board of Arbitrators appointed to arbitrate in the matter of charges made by Lord Durham against Sir George Chetwynd at the Gimcrack Club dinner at York, in December, of improper turf practices during the racing season of 1887, are the Right Hon. James Lowther, one of the stewards of the Jockey Club; Right Hon. Henry Chaplin, a member of the Jockey Club; and Lord Herschell, who was Lord High Chancellor in Mr. Gladstone's third Ministry. Both Lowther and Chaplin are active racing men. Lord Herschell has no connection with the turf. This method of trying the case was agreed upon at a meeting of the Jockey Club held at the London residence of Lord Hastings, senior Steward of the Jockey Club, on Feb. 3.

Death of Dexter, the Famous Trotter.

NEW YORK, April 21.—Dexter, the famous trotter, died this morning at the stable of Mr. Robert Bonner, in this city. He was just 20 years old, having been foaled in April, 1858. He died of old age and exhaustion. The body will be taken up to Mr. Bonner's farm at Terrytown, where it will be buried. Dexter was the greatest trotter of his day. He was the first horse to trot a mile in 2.17½. Mr. Bonner paid $33,000 for him in 1867.

The Best, Cutting Winds

Bring to the surface every latent pain. A change of even a few degrees marks the difference between comfort and pain to many persons. Happily disease now holds lonesway. Science is continually bringing forward new remedies which successfully combat disease. Polson's Nerviline—nerve pain cure—has proved the most successful pain relieving remedy known. Its application is wide, for it is equally efficient in all forms of pain, whether internal or external. Ten and 25 cents a bottle, at druggists. 6dw17

High Praise.

Water Filters.

To insure good health it is absolutely necessary to have pure water, and no water is entirely free from floating matter and disease germs without thorough filtration. The majority of cases of typhoid and other low fevers are in a measure caused from unfiltered and impure water, so that every family who values its health should have a reliable filter. Numerous filters are offered to the public varying in points of excellence, but for cheapness, efficiency and durability, our filters cannot be surpassed. No corroding substances are used in construction. The packing material is the most powerful specially prepared granulated carbon. It will last for years with the ordinary use of a family, and the material may be obtained from us at any time for replenishing at small expense. Sold in Peterborough only at China Hall. dw

The Growth of the Hair.

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic the scalp will be kept in a clean and healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

I SUFFERED from a very severe cold in my head for months and used everything recommended but could get no relief. Was advised to use Ely's Cream Balm. It has worked like magic in its cure. I am free from my cold after using the Balm one week and I believe it is the best remedy known. Feeling grateful for what it has done for me I send this testimonial.—Samuel J. Harris, Wholesale Grocer, 119 Front St., New York.

The Four Cardinal Points.

The four cardinal points of health are the stomach, the liver, the kidneys and the blood, any failure of their action brings disease and derangement to the whole system. Regulate their condition with Burdock Blood Bitters to secure perfect health. 2w16d

Without A Doubt.

There is no doubt that Hagyard's Yellow Oil is the best remedy for Sprains, Bruises, Sore Throat, Colds, Rheumatism, Croup and all Aches, Pains, Lameness and Soreness. It is used externally and internally, and should always be kept in the house. 2w16d

Make a Note of This.

Pain banished as if by magic. Polson's Nerviline is a positive and almost instantaneous remedy for external, intenal, or local pains. The most active remedy hitherto known falls far short of Nerviline for potent power in the relief of nerve pain. Good for external or internal use. Buy a 10 cent sample bottle. Large bottles 25 cents, at all druggists. 6dw15

His Friends Can Testify.

Mr. C. H. Vought, of Peterboro, Ont., says that his friends can testify to his being cured of Indigestion, Constipation, and Torpid Liver by using two and a half bottles of B. B. B. "It seems to act like magic, and I heartily recommend it" are the closing words of his letter. 2w16d

The Foresters of Toronto are preparing to run a big excursion to Peterborough on the Queen's Birthday. At present prospects are that the town will be crowded as it seldom has before, on the 24th May. The Trent Valley Canal.

The Commission Held Their First Meeting—A Start Made.

Three days of last week—from Thursday to Saturday—the Trent Valley Canal Commission held sessions at Montreal. The Commission is composed of Judge Weller' Mr. Frank Turner, C.E., and Mr. Kennedy. No material evidence was taken, Mr. Carnegie not being fully prepared, but in order to begin work it was decided to issue circulars throughout the province. These circulars comprise twenty-five questions regarding the importance and desirability of the canal, in relation to Canada in general, and its benefits upon certain sections along the route. The Mayor of every town and city in the Province, boards of trade and other public institutions, will receive these circulars, and by this means the Commission hope to get a reliable consensus of opinion.

The Commission will meet in Montreal again in May, on a date to be decided later. They will then make some examinations for which they had not time at the last sitting. About July 1st they will begin a series of district sittings along the route of the canal, for the purpose of receiving evidence.

The first practice of the Riverside Lacrosse Club takes place this evening on Riverside Park. They too will get in trim for the 24th. There is nothing like hard, regular practice to give efficiency to a team's play, and realising the importance of the precept that "practice makes perfect," the local clubs are determined to make the most of the time at their disposal.

Horticultural Society.

A meeting of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society was held at the Toronto Bank Saturday afternoon. There were present—President J. H. Roper, and Messrs. J. Stevenson, J. R. Stratton, Jno. Burnham and Rev. W. C. Bradshaw. Messrs. Dumble, Burnham and Roper were appointed a committee to wait upon the town council and solicit a grant for the parks this year. Peterborough Dairymen.

Annual Meeting of the Peterborough Cheese Board—The Officers Elected and the Appointments of Milk Inspectors and Other Subjects Discussed.

About twenty-five dairymen of Peterborough county attended the annual meeting of the Cheese Board in the old Music Hall on Saturday afternoon at three o'clock. There should have been a larger attendance, but, owing to some misunderstanding in issuing the notices, all the members were not notified, as the Secretary explained to the Board. This matter came up for discussion during the meeting, and it was suggested that in future the meeting be advertised in the newspapers.

President Drummond occupied the chair. The Secretary, Mr. Warren Taylor, read the minutes, which were adopted. The report of the Treasurer, Mr. Samuel Edwards, showed the receipts to have been $57.28, and the expenditures $24.50, leaving a balance on hand of $32.78.

MILK INSPECTORS.

Messrs. M. E. Sanderson and J. W. Moore who had attended the meeting of dairymen at Campbellford, made verbal reports. The chief object in attending the meeting, they said, was to see what would be done about the appointment of inspectors for each division. Both gentlemen favored the project but said that at the Campbellford meeting no feasible or definite plan had been proposed. They understood the meeting intended charging each factory $10 a year to pay the inspectors, and would appoint two inspectors for the district east of Kingston and two for the west. Mr. Sanderson wanted first to know who was to be appointed before the project was adopted in this district.

Mr. Moore said Prof. Robertson had announced that he would send out circulars to the different factories asking their approval. The number of inspectors to be appointed, as he (Mr. Moore) understood it was to be regulated according to the number of factories entering into the arrangement. Prof. Robertson had also said that he would himself have control of the inspectors, and if anyone should prove incompetent he would be at once dismissed. Mr. Moore favored the scheme, but said he had not yet received one of the circulars, though he believed some of the factories had.

Mr. G. J. GALVIN thought it would be better to know who the men were that were to be appointed before they were given the position. He understood the Executive of the Eastern Dairymen's Association would appoint the men, and would they make competent appointments?

The President enquired if it was milk or cheese inspectors they were talking about. At present the Board had a capable cheese inspector in Mr. Wrighton.

Messrs. Sanderson and Moore replied that milk inspectors and cheese instructors were referred to—men to not only inspect the milk but competent to instruct makers on weak points.

PAYING THE PIPER.

The Secretary read one of the circulars mentioned by Mr. Moore, asking the co-operation of the factories in this scheme of appointing inspectors—four for each division; factories making less than 50,000 lbs. to pay $5, and factories making over that amount to pay $10 per year for their maintenance.

The question then arose as to who should pay this sum—the patrons or proprietors. Mr. Moore said it was understood at the Campbellford meeting that the patrons should pay it, they being the ones directly benefitted.

Mr. D. Pilkie said as he understood it each of these inspectors would be compelled to pass an examination at the Guelph Agricultural College before Prof. Robertson, who would also have control of them afterwards. They might then be relied upon.

Messrs. Galvin and Thos. Johnston expressed willingness on behalf of their factories to enter into the arrangement.

There was a little discussion on this point the opinion being expressed that if an incompetent man was appointed it would be the means of killing these cheese boards and associations.

WHO ARE MEMBERS?

Before taking a vote, the right of cheesemakers as well as sellers to take a part in the proceedings at these meetings was discussed. It was moved and carried that cheesemakers be admitted to full membership.

A PRACTICAL TOKEN.

A motion was made to present Mr. Taylor, the Secretary, with $15 as a token of recognition of his valuable services during the past year.

Mr. Taylor declined the gift, but it was pressed upon him and the motion carried.

THE OFFICERS ELECTED.

All the old officers of last year were re-elected as follows:—

PRESIDENT—J. H. Drummond.
VICE-PRESIDENT—G. J. Galvin.
SECRETARY—Warren Taylor.
TREASURER—Samuel Edwards.
INSPECTOR—W. H. Wrighton.

It was decided to make the membership fee this year $1.00, the same as last year.

The first sale of cheese will be held on Tuesday, May 29th.

Mr. Bickle appeared before the Board and asked orders for cheese boxes as early as possible.

The Board then adjourned.

A Boy Choir.

A pleasing innovation in church music, was introduced at St. Peter's Cathedral Sunday morning. At the eight o'clock mass a choir of 30 boys, under the direction of Prof. Doucet, rendered all the choral selections and solos with credit to themselves and their instructor. The boy choir was indeed a pleasant surprise to the congregation. The idea originated with His Lordship Bishop Dowling some time ago, and has been brought to a successful issue by Prof. Doucet. It is understood the boy choir will continue to sing every Sunday for some time yet, at least.

Fell From a Bridge.

He came staggering down Bethune street Sunday afternoon, wishing with all his might that the planks would remain quiet until he got safely home. He was a young man, very drunk, Sunday though it was, and when he got to the bridge bestumbled and fell over into the shallow creek below. He was badly cut and bruised by the rocks, but his fall was fortunately noticed by a neighbor, who rescued him and saw him safely to his home. He will have sore remembrances of his Sunday drunk for a couple of weeks to come.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

TRIBUTES TO THE DEAD MINISTER BY MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE.

Sir John Macdonald too Deeply Moved to Speak—The Opposition Leader's Eulogy—The Funeral Arrangements—The House Adjourned Until Wednesday.

OTTAWA, April 23.—On the Speaker taking the chair, Sir Charles Tupper presented the supplementary estimates for the year ending June 30, 1888, which were referred to the Committee of Supply.

Sir John Macdonald then arose, evidently under the influence of the deepest emotion, made some ineffectual attempts to speak, and finally waved his hand towards Sir Hector Langevin, who sat at his right.

After a moment or two of hesitation Sir Hector, who was completely unprepared to address the House on the sad subject, said:

MR. SPEAKER: I expected that my hon. friend and leader, the First Minister, would have been able to announce, as he wished to have done, the death of our worthy colleague, Hon. Thomas White, Minister of the Interior. His taking off was entirely unexpected and is a terrible blow to his colleagues, and especially to the First Minister, whose intimate friend he was. I have noticed that both sides of the House sympathize with the bereaved family and deplore with us the great loss which this House and the country have met in the death of Mr. White. For many years our dead friend had been an active member of the press, and in that capacity had rendered great service to the country, and especially to his party. He was a good orator, and he was also a good friend, and although he fought his opponents vigorously he was, nevertheless, always ready afterwards to shake hands with them. He was always careful so to conduct his controversies with them that he could afterwards be their friend again.

During the last ten or fifteen years during which he has occupied a seat in this House, my dead friend showed that he was worthy of his position, and when, by the suggestion of the First Minister, he was called to take a place in the Government, I knew that on our side everybody approved the choice. His opponents likewise recognized that he was worthy of the honor. Mr. White has lost his life in the service of this country. He was entirely devoted to his duties, and in order the better to fulfil them faithfully he visited the North-west and undertook a long voyage through that country in order to make himself perfectly acquainted with the needs and requirements of that vast region, the affairs of which were under his charge. Hereafter I shall perfectly feel with pride, the House of this Capital. During the past year or so he was in a position to render those services that were expected of him, and now, in the midst of his great labors, he has been taken away and thus leaves a great void in the Government of the country.

I have no doubt the country at large will mourn his loss and will say with us that a good and able man has disappeared. It is not for me to dwell upon the consequences of this loss, or upon the losses which this and several preceding sessions have entailed upon us. I hope, however, I shall not see a single empty bench or corridor of this House. Although his opponents and our opponents found that sometimes he was a very formidable adversary, on the other hand they will recognize, he always tried to avoid such expressions as might wound their feelings. For myself, at all events, the lesson I draw from his example is that we must always remember that although we are called here to perform a duty, nevertheless we must be lenient towards others if we would have others be lenient towards us in the performance of such duties.

The Leader of the Opposition's Tribute.

Mr. Laurier then paid this pathetic tribute to the memory of the dead minister and to the Premier's overwhelming grief:

I can scarcely find words to give expression to the very sad emotions which this occasion arouses. Engaged as we are in daily strife, divided as we are in time and purpose, struggling as we are every day, sometimes bitterly struggling for our convictions, we are too apt to forget what we readily realize to-day—that after all there is a universality about us, and when a man of Mr. White's eminence is removed from amongst us, we all individually feel that we have suffered a loss, and perhaps for the first time we can see the full measure of the man's worth. It is, however, a misfortune of man's nature that we never appreciate fully what we have until we have lost it, and this feeling comes forcibly to-day. In Mr. White's death the whole nation has suffered a great loss, but I realize and understand that to his friends the blow must be almost unbearable. His untiring energy and industry, his vast and wide knowledge of all political questions, his aptitude for business his great administrative ability, his skill in debate, his eloquence, all were the happy combination of varied qualities which made him a tower of strength to those with whom he was associated. We, on this side of the House, can never forget, as has been said by the Minister of Public Works, what upon all occasions, whether on the floor of Parliament or whether in his department as an executive officer of the Crown, he was always civil, courteous and obliging.

But I am sure that great as the blow must be to the country at large, to his party and to his family, there is no one who feels it more deeply than the veteran Premier. We can all sympathize with him and we do sympathize with him now, and much as we differ from him in politics or on various questions, we all understand that at his time of life the death of a long trusted friend must deal a severe blow. Death with us has been of late unusually cruel. Mr. White is the seventh of our colleagues we have lost since the last election. Death has been unsparing, striking alike on all sides and sections, and this last blow, coming as it does so suddenly and so unexpectedly, after so many others, recalls very forcibly the words of Burns: "What shall we see and what shadows we pursue."

From the "Friend of His Boyhood."

Mr. Adam Brown, of Hamilton, then made this touching allusion to Mr. White:

MR. SPEAKER: We meet to-day under circumstances different, perhaps, from any which have ever marked the assembling of the representatives of the people—the death of a Minister of the Crown during a session of Parliament. The occasion, Sir, hushes all party strife, and a feeling of profound sorrow fills every heart in this chamber. As a supporter of the boy-hood days of the departed Minister and a close and warm friend of his later years, it is becoming that I should say a few words on this sad occasion.

Mr. Brown then referred to the deceased's early

DUMPED IN THE DITCH.

An Erie Express Train, Running 60 Miles an Hour, Leaves the Track.

CAMDEN, N.Y., April 21.—As train No. 13 on the Erie road came thundering through this place about 4.30 o'clock this morning, running at about 60 miles an hour, without a word of warning it was dumped into the ditch upside down just west of this place. It is the Erie's fast express and carried nothing but express goods. The engine and train left the track and turned over. None of the train hands were hurt excepting the engineer and fireman, who are slightly bruised.

The train was drawn by engine No. 94, Engineer Coffee of Wellsburg, with Fireman Ducey from Susquehanna. It consisted of six express cars, the first five being through cars for the west, and the sixth the local car. Behind these six express cars at the very end of the train was the postal car filled with valuable mail matter and six clerks, but none of them were hurt.

A wheel flew off the forward truck of the engine as it passed the depot, knocking the signal post to pieces and landing out in a field a hundred yards away. The train continued over 300 yards before it left the track. The engine finally mounted the rails and plunged off to the left at full head of speed. The five express cars followed. Luckily no one was in any of these. The express car containing the railroad and express employees and the postal car with all of the postal employees remained on the track. The engineer was dead, one of the wreck by Chief Clerk Miller, who happened to be on the train. He was badly bruised, and fastened beneath the wreck by the bob resting on him. The fireman was found near the wreck.

The American Exchange.

LONDON, April 21.—The re-hearing of the petition for the liquidation of the affairs of the American Exchange in Europe (limited) came on to-day. Counsel acting under instructions of two English shareholders asked that the hearing be again adjourned. The petitioner's counsel said the application purported to be made by the company, but was really made by the managing directors. It was an American company, having only one English shareholders, eight of whom were officials of the company, and dependents thereon. The two whom he appeared for were independent of the company, which had been formed to conduct four businesses. It made profits on its ordinary business, but seriously failed as a bank. The memorandum of association did not empower the company to conduct a banking business. The company kept two separate sets of books which were worked together—one not bearing the managing director's initials, while the other bore the company's names. The whole thing was ultra vires. The company was insolvent as a bank, but not in its other kinds of business. His clients wished for an opportunity to communicate with the American shareholders with a view to the reconstruction of the company, which had a larger number of correspondents than any similar company in the world. An order for the winding-up of the affairs of the company would be ruinous to the business which, if separated from the banking department, would be profitable. Counsel for the creditors stated that the claims did not exceed $50,000. The hearing was adjourned until April 28.

Shooting to Women Instructors.

NEW YORK, April 22.—The Woman Suffrage party's State Committee have received advices from their colleagues in Great Britain of the election of seven women on local Government boards of Edinburgh and the voting of large numbers of women at the Scotch parish elections.

WENTWORTH ASSIZES.

A Judge Who Doesn't Believe in the Scott Act—Day Criminals.

HAMILTON, April 21.—The Spring Assizes opened before Judge Rose this morning. The grand jury was selected and sworn in. In speaking of the Scott Act Judge Rose said he was glad that it had been remanded in a manner of counties, because the act had done much to lower the tone of the law. In Harper v. Glover, on motion for judgment, his lordship ordered a postponement until Thursday. Gabriel v. Rosenstein was postponed until next autumn. The next case called was Marshall v. Wallace, an action arising out of a patent of a machine for manufacturing needles shoes. The plaintiff sues for the remuneration of an agreement with nailmaker to the patent and for $5000 damages for wrongful detainment.

On Saturday after[illegible] Messenger Smith was engaged in destroying the redeemed interest coupons and paid up debentures for the year. They amounted to over $500,000.

John Higgins and Thomas Yelland, two very small boys, were charged with having in their possession a tool or some kind, which was supposed to have been taken from the sheds of the Northwestern Railway, near Barton-street. The lads claimed that they picked it up along the track. Yelland is a smart looking little chap, and has no home, and a charitable woman had adopted him. The lads were convicted of taking the coal, and fined $1 each or 30 days.

George T. Kent died at his residence in this city yesterday afternoon at three o'clock.

Working the Check Racket.

BUFFALO, April 21.—A spruce looking young man who gave his name as Harry Thorn and his age as 19 years was arrested on Saturday on a charge of defrauding Patrick Nicholson, the Main-street saloon keeper, out of $20. The sleek young chap worked a neat little game on the unsuspecting Pat. He got him to cash a valueless check on the Bank of Buffalo for $30, made payable to the order of William Fortier. Several other orders were found in his possession, two on the Bank of Toronto. His case came up in the Police Court this morning, but was remanded until to-morrow.

Democrats and the Treaty.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Democratic Senators held a caucus this morning to further discuss the fisheries treaty. It was proposed, in case the Republicans evinced an unwillingness to ratify the treaty, to suggest that action be delayed until the fishermen should have a chance to test the new provisions in actual practice, but to support the treaty whenever it shall come up, and if possible to secure its immediate ratification. This policy seemed to find general favor in caucus, but was not formulated into a resolution and no vote was taken.

A Wasting of Heart Disease.

HALIFAX, April 21.—Wm. Kelly, 25 years old, went into the European Hotel last evening and ordered a meal. He was under the influence of liquor and when a waiter brought his meal his head was lying on his arm, which rested on the table as though he was sleeping. His presence in the house was forgotten until early this morning, when he was discovered in the same position, cold in death. A jury rendered the verdict of death by natural causes. The deceased, who was a harness maker, was a victim of heart disease and asthma.

The Behring Sea Seal Fisheries.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—In the House to-day Mr. Dunn (Ark.) submitted a resolution directing the Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries to fully and thoroughly investigate the fur seal fisheries of Alaska, and also to report the nature and extent of the rights and interests of the United States in the fur seal and other fisheries in Behring Sea, whether and to what extent the same have been violated, and by whom, and whether any legislation is necessary for the better protection and preservation of such rights and interests.

A Child's Fatal Fall.

NIAGARA, Ont., April 23.—A little girl 9 years of age named Nellie Bevan, living with Mr. James Aikins, Niagara Township, lost her life yesterday evening. She was climbing in the window from the outside, and it is supposed her foot had slipped from a block of wood underneath and let the window down on her neck. She was quite dead when found. Her parents live in Niagara.

A Gigantic Canal Scheme.

BERLIN, April 21.—Among the projects under consideration by Berlin, Frankfort and Vienna capitalists is a gigantic canal scheme to link the Danube with the Neckar, Elbe, Oder and Vistula, thus piercing the continent from the Mediterranean and Black Seas to the Baltic and North Seas.

Steamship Disasters.

LONDON, April 23.—The American ship Continental, from New York for Calcutta, which went ashore at Palmyras Point, has become a total wreck. Her crew was saved.

The American steamer San Pablo, from San Francisco for Hong Kong, before reported ashore at Turnabout Island, is a total loss.

A Steam Bylaw Carried.

ST. MARY'S, April 23.—The bylaw to grant a bonus of $30,000 for the removal of the Maxwell Manufacturing Company's works from Paris, Ont., to St. Mary's, was carried here to-day by 664 majority, only 34 votes being polled against it.

To Complete the System.

ORILLIA, April 23.—The bylaw for raising $14,500 by debentures for the purpose of completing the electric light and waterworks system was carried to-day by a majority of 82.

Max Strakosch's Serious Condition.

Empire and Association Games Yesterday—The Championship Record—The Niagara Lacrosse Club's Annual Meeting—Election of Officers—Spoils of Sport.

LONDON, April 23.—We smoked the world's mercuvials this morning after a most delightful and rapid run from Manchester, and will play Cambridge University this afternoon on the Queen's Club grounds, Kensington. We have put up at the First Avenue Hotel, Holborn, and are splendidly accommodated. Our improvements of London we pen ensuing.

Friday was a day when everyone was left much to himself. Most of the members of the team visited Punch, it's great humorative works and one of the players contained a severe shock in discovering the the cleverly comedian whom he had offered to "tip" was a gentleman's son paying $300 a year for his practical education. Irvine and Garvin, jr., passed the day in Chatfield, looking shyers through several of the lonely cloisters, churchyards and manufactories there. In the evening that great Hist on American civilization, Buffalo Bill's "Wild West," was patronized.

On Saturday afternoon we played what proved to be the finest game so far played in the series. Against a team picked from the clubs in Manchester and district we scored six goals to one, but we were forced to work for every point and were not on before obliged to hold our hands in order to interest the spectators. Just how much more we could have stood I do not know. The individual members of the combined team did wonderfully good work at times, and occasionally profited so much from their observation of our tactics as to indulge in some most effective team play. In every regard they showed themselves worthy foemen. Here are the names of the contestants and officers.

MONTREAL, April 23.—A six-day, 12 hours a day, "go-as-you-please" race has been arranged to take place here in the Victoria Rink, beginning Monday, May 21. The affair is in good hands and promises to be a success. The management hope to have Littlewood enter as well as the following, who have already paid their entrance fee: Geo. Cartwright, Geo. D. Noremac, Gus Guerrero, Sam Day, Frank Hart, Robert Vint, Norman Taylor, Daniel Harry, Anton Strokal, Peter Golden, J. C. Adams, Peter Panchot and Peter Hegelman. This is the first venture of the kind in Canada.

Spoils of Sport.

New York Sun: Union Manager Phillips changed his mind, Silas Smith signed a confidential contract with the Travelers. The understanding was that he was not to be reserved next fall, in which event the Pittsburgs will lay claim to him, provided he shows up well. He has done good work so far.

Allentown is disappointed at the first showing of its club in exhibition games, and the Board of Directors say that unless the boys do better in the championship games they will all have to go.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE LADIES OF PETERBOROUGH AND VICINITY.

We have a word or two to say to you. In these times when money is considered rather scarce, you would be studying your interests by buying at close Cash Prices, and at Reliable Houses. There is in our midst a First Class Dry Goods House that meets every requirement. Rowse's Trade Palace is established in the interest and for the protection of those who pay ready money for their Dry Goods.

Their prices are very low. Look in their Show Window to-day, and you can get any article there at Five Cents. This is a curiousity. Novelties in Fine Dress Goods are exhibited on their counters at Twelve and a-half cents. A Lady told Mr. Rowse the other day that she had been around town looking at Silks and she saw some that she thought were cheap, but she could not depend on the reliability of the houses she had visited. She bought her Silk at the Trade Palace. Rowse's Silks at Fifty and Sixty cents are wonderful value.

In conclusion, we respectfully ask you to look through the Elegant Display of Dry Goods at the Trade Palace.

Faithfully yours,
ONE WHO STUDIES YOUR INTERESTS.

Milk Supply to Factories.

An Act Aimed at Adulterated and Impure Milk.

The following is the text of the Act introduced by Mr. T. Ballantyne, M.P.P., South Perth, Stratford, and passed into law at the late session of the Ontario Legislature:—

An Act to provide against frauds in the supplying of Milk to Cheese or Butter Manufactories.

Her Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, enacts as follows:—

1. No person shall knowingly and wilfully sell, supply, bring or send to a cheese or butter manufactory, or the owner or manager thereof, to be manufactured, milk diluted with water, or in any way adulterated, or milk from which any cream has been taken, or milk commonly known as "skimmed milk," without distinctly notifying, in writing, the owner or manager of such cheese or butter manufactory, that the milk so sold, supplied or brought to be manufactured has been so diluted with water, or adulterated, or had the cream so taken from it, or become milk commonly known as "skimmed milk," as the case may be.

2. No person who in the course of his business sells, supplies, brings or sends to any cheese or butter manufactory, or the owner or manager thereof, to be manufactured, the milk of cattle, shall knowingly and wilfully, in the course of such dealing and business, keep back any part of the milk known as "strippings," without distinctly notifying, in writing, the owner or manager of such cheese or butter manufactory, of his having so kept back such "strippings."

3. No person shall knowingly and wilfully sell, supply, bring or send to a cheese or butter manufactory, or the owner or manager thereof, to be manufactured, any milk that is tainted, or partly sour, without distinctly notifying, in writing, the owner or manager of such cheese or butter manufactory of such milk being tainted or partly sour.

4. Any person who by himself, or by his servant or agent, violates any of the provisions of the preceding sections of this Act upon conviction thereof before any justice or justices of the peace, shall forfeit and pay a sum of not less than $5 nor more than $50, together with the costs of prosecution, in the discretion of such justice or justices, and in default of payment of such penalty and costs shall be liable to be committed to the common gaol of the county, with hard labor for any period, not exceeding six months, unless the said penalty and the costs of enforcing the same be sooner paid.

5. It shall be lawful for the owner or manager of a cheese or butter manufactory to require the owner or custodian of any cow or cows whose milk is being bought for, or supplied or sent to, the manufactory, to submit each cow or cows at his farm, or other premises, where such cows are usually kept, to such milk test, by persons named by such owner or manager, as may be necessary for the said persons to ascertain the quantity and quality of the milk of each cow or cows, on any day, and at such time on any such day as may be appointed by said owner or manager, and in case the owner or custodian of the cows refuses to so submit them, or obstructs in the execution thereof the persons engaged in making the milk test, or interrupts the test, or interferes in any way with the test, or the application of its result, he shall, on complaint before any justice or justices of the peace, forfeit and pay for every such offence a sum of not less than $10 nor more than $100, in the discretion of the justices of the peace who may hear such complaint, together with the costs of prosecution, if so ordered, and in default of payment of such penalty and costs, shall be liable to be committed, by such convicting justice or justices of the peace, to the common gaol of the county, with hard labour, for any period not exceeding six months, or until said penalty and the costs of enforcing same be sooner paid.

6. It shall be lawful for the owner or manager of any cheese or butter manufactory, who suspects any person of selling, supplying, sending or bringing milk to the manufactory, of any offence under this Act, to enter upon or to appoint some person or persons to enter upon, and such appointed person may enter upon the premises of the suspected person, with or without notice, and take samples of milk from the cow or cows, from which the supposed offender was or had been immediately before then procuring the milk or part of the milk to sold, supplied, sent or brought as aforesaid, and any such suspected person who obstructs or refuses to permit the taking of any such sample shall, on conviction thereof, be liable to a penalty of not less than $10 nor more than $50 with costs of the prosecution, and in default of payment thereof, shall be liable to be imprisoned in the common gaol of the county in which the offence has been committed, for a period not exceeding three months with hard labour.

7. For the purpose of establishing the guilt of any person under the first three sections of this Act, it shall be sufficient prima facie evidence to show that such person, by himself, his servant or agent, sold, supplied, sent or brought, to be manufactured, to any cheese or butter manufactory, milk substantially below the standard of that actually drawn, or by the accused represented as having been drawn, from the same cow or cows within the then previous week, provided the comparison or test is made by means of a lactometer and cream gauge, or by some other adequate means of making the comparison.

8. Any penalty imposed under this Act shall, when recovered, be payable one-half to the informant or complainant and the other half to the treasurer of the local municipality in which the offence has been committed.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Hurrah for the New Bridge.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

DEAR SIR,—Your correspondent, Thomas M. Willan, takes exception to my writing over an assumed name and says I do so because my position is untenable. What is his position? He assumes to speak for the company, and declares they will make it hot for somebody, because they do not sustain a wrong. What is my position? This: that in the past a mistake was made, a wrong was done, and that the time has come for it to be made right. Those that justice was done, that unnecessary waste of the public money was stopped and that the people of their corporation had the bridge placed in the proper position. My position is impregnable. What if the company made an agreement with the counties and WRONG was done—must that wrong last forever? Must the thousands of the ratepayers of those counties be continually made to suffer and travel hundreds of miles over bad roads for the convenience of two men? We are told that the company hold the counties responsible. On what authority is the statement made? None whatever. Certain men speak as if they were the company, when it is only bluster and bunk; they are merely wind bags. Let the people of those counties up aboard, place the bridge on the proper site, give trade its natural outlet, use good roads when we have them, save unnecessary expense, and the wind-bags will soon exhaust themselves and be thereby relieved of themselves besides. I have talked with quite a number of the original stock holders and they are willing for the bridge to be given up—indeed many are the ones that fear the law, as they are afraid the bridge will be saddled upon them again. I would advise to let by-gones be by-gones, place the bridge on the proper site, relieve the foolish company from their obligations, and generally turn over a new leaf.

Yours truly,
MERVIN.

The Bridge is Moving.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

DEAR SIR,—Last week it was "One Who Knows"; this week it is Thos. N. Willan, who says the bridge shall stay; and he says so in the name of the company, which he declares is not defunct. When did the company say so? Who represents the company, Thomas N. Willan or the stockholders in the Wallace Point bridge? I, as a stockholder, declare his statement to be untrue. Thomas N. Willan, take good advice—stand from under.

SOLOMON.

P. S.—Does "Thomas N. Willan" stand for Thomas M. Willan—the big, burly reeve of South Monaghan, the great friend of the people—the man who will have the bridge built instanter?

NOTE.—In the signature to Mr. Willan's letter in last week's issue, the initial letter "N" was by clerical error, put instead of "M."

Honoring His Memory.

TORONTO, April 23.—Ald. McMillan, seconded by Ald. Baxter, moved the following resolution at the City Council last night, and it was carried unanimously:—

That the death of Honorable Thomas White, Minister of the Interior in the Cabinet of the Dominion Government, on the 21st inst., in the prime of his life and usefulness, is regarded by this Council with sentiments of no common emotion and sorrow. That in which all party feeling is hushed, and every differing political sentiment is merged in the recognition of eminent talent, high patriotism, and a position proudly earned as one of the foremost of Canada's public and representative men. This Council desires to record in his death a national loss of the greatest character, and to offer to his sorrowing widow and family an expression of heartfelt sympathy and condolence in their great and irreparable bereavement.

Resolved further, that a copy of this resolution be fittingly engrossed and presented to the family of the deceased.

Thief Arrested.

The news was received with the utmost satisfaction by the community that he had terrorized; but the arrest of a disease that is stealing away a loved and valued life, is an achievement that should inspire heart-felt gratitude. Dizziness, cold extremities, depressed spirits, and extremely miserable sensations, with pale, wan features, are the results of disordered kidneys and liver. Arrest the cause at once by taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is a purely vegetable detective, that will ferret out and capture the most subtle lung or blood disorder. Druggists. b

[Notice.]

When Dr. Chase, author of the famous Chase's Receipt Book, died two years ago, he left the manuscript of what he said was his "Crowning Life Work." It has been published in a magnificent volume of nearly 600 pages. It contains more than six times the valuable matter that his old book did, and is the result of his whole life experience and observation. If the value of this book, having more than six times as much in it and thirty-five years of additional experience, can be measured by the value of the old one, it is a book that no home should be without. The publishers offer a rare opportunity to agents. See advertisement in another column. 1d

Remove The Cause.

To remedy an evil the cause must be removed. It is by opening the clogged avenues of the system and thus removing the impure poisonous and worn out matter which is the cause of disease that B. B. B. is so uniformly successful in overcoming all diseases of the Stomach, Liver, Kidneys and Blood. 2w16d
